GENERAL ARTICLES

THE WORK IN BERMUDA

I believe that a formal announcement has not been made of the call of Elder W. A. Sweany to take charge of the work in Bermuda. Brother and Sister Sweany are well adapted to this field. They have had quite a bit of experience in foreign work and have recently labored in the California Conference. We were glad to meet them at the General Conference, at which time we were permitted to talk over quite fully the plans and arrangements for the Bermuda work. They are now in Bermuda and we have reports from them and from the church there of an encouraging nature, and I am sure it will be a pleasure to all our people to know that these faithful laborers can be located in this important field.

E. K. Slade.

HARVEST INGATHERING PUBLICITY

In past years, many of our members have used the public press in calling people's attention to our Harvest Ingathering campaign, and those who have done so quite universally acclaim that it helps them in their solicitations.

We believe that many more could have articles printed in their city papers, but for the want of time and experience to write a good comprehensive article this important task is left undone. Brother Burgan, head of the press bureau of the General Conference, has prepared a four hundred word article, which can be used by any church in our field.

To get the best results, take the article to the editor asking him to put it in as a news item. This article has been duplicated at the Union office and sent to your conference Home Missionary secretary.

Write at once to him stating how many copies you can use.

F. D. Wells.

FOREIGN TRANSLATION FUND

It is highly important that we do not overlook the responsibility we have for the foreign population in our country, while we are earnestly endeavoring to reach those who are far away. There is considerable expense entailed in printing foreign literature for the various nationalities that have come to America. Splendid progress has been made, but we want to and must extend this work. It becomes necessary to appeal to the churches of America for a contribution to this fund. Sabbath, August 7, is the date set for the receiving of such an offering in all of our churches. Information has been placed in the hands of the elders and pastors and we desire to appeal to the entire membership to have this in mind.

During the last four years, well on to five thousand from among the foreign nationalities were brought into the truth in America. The finishing of the work in the earth requires that we give every close attention to the millions of foreigners that have come to the shores of America.

E. K. Slade.

HARVEST INGATHERING MAGAZINES

Our Harvest Ingathering magazines are being printed in the following languages: Bohemian, Chinese, Danish-Norwegian, Dutch, Finnish, German, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, Polish, Portuguese, Rumanian, Russian, Ukrainian, Serbian, Slovakian, Swedish, Yiddish, Yiddish-English, Lithuanian, English, Ruthenian, Spanish, Japanese.

If you have a foreign neighbor who speaks any of the above languages be sure to order a copy in his language from your conference office.

If there is a foreign community in your town or neighboring town, make inquiry as to what languages they read and order a supply for them. It has been our experience that the foreigners give more liberally than any other class.

Be watchful for individuals who can be interested in the message, following up every interest by other literature and Bible studies.

F. D. Wells.

ENCOURAGING EDITORIAL

The members in our field will take courage from the following editorial copied from the Spokane "Chronicle".

Cruelty is not Religion

"The Seventh-day Adventist church should have commendation of every denomination maintaining missions abroad for its dismissal of the missionary charged with branding the cheeks of a Korean boy for stealing apples.

"Missionaries in the foreign fields are supposed to typify American ideals of religion. A single act such as that charged against the discharged missionary misrepresents America in foreign countries and discounts the sincere efforts of all missionaries.

News Item Copied from same Paper
"Branding Cost Him Job"

"Washington, July 17 (A. P.)—Dr. C. A. Haysmer, the Seventh-day Adventist missionary charged with branding the cheeks of the Korean boy for stealing apples, has been dismissed by the Far Eastern organization of the denomination, Adventist headquarters here announced today. The mission board here approved the dismissal."

While every Seventh-day Adventist blushes with shame when he thinks of the foolish mistake of Dr. C. A. Haysmer, yet we must not let this episode deter us from courageously meeting the public and asking them to support our foreign missions program.

No reasonable man will cast reflections on the integrity and honesty of the denomination because one of its 9000 workers committed an unpardonable crime. We can yet turn this dark experience into a mighty victory for our Harvest Ingathering work by assuring our friends that the high standards of our denomination do not countenance cruelty or oppression of any kind, and the prompt dismissal of Dr. C. A. Haysmer testifies to that fact.

PROVIDENCE

The first of August, the Lord willing, Mrs Sanderson and I will leave the Atlantic Union Conference to labor in the states of the Middle West, comprising the Central Union Conference. For twenty-one years this summer we have labored constantly in this one field and we feel to thank our heavenly Father for the many blessings experienced during this time.

We wish to briefly report the progress of the work in the city of Providence during the last three years and a half since we have been in this place. Counting deaths, removals, and some who have been dropped for unfaithfulness there has been a net gain of one hundred dear souls. The work in each department is well organized, including the establishment of a strong church school. The church is a united one, and the spirit of Christian courage fills the hearts of the members.

A comparative report of the finances may prove to be interesting: The tithe of the Providence church for the last three years and a half totals $21,797.75. The tithe for the previous three and a half years totaled $7,717.93. This shows a clear gain or increase in tithes of $14,079.82 in three and a half years.

The regular church offerings for the last three years and a half total $19,242.38. The amount of offerings for the previous corresponding time was $5,465.01. Thus the report shows a clear gain in offerings during the last three years and a half of $13,777.37. The total increase of both tithes and offerings during this last three years and a half shows a splendid gain of almost $28,000 over the previous corresponding time. For all of this the church feels to thank God. But this is not all,—the church has raised with some assistance from brothers and sisters in the Rhode Island district and elsewhere in offerings during this period of time, for the building of the Tabernacle and in payment for the church building, a sum amounting to approximately $32,000. This has been raised in addition to the regular church offerings and makes a grand total of approximately $60,000 which has been raised over and above all that was raised during the previous three and a half year period. This and the ingathering of souls has been due only to the help of our God and the united cooperation of a willing and consecrated people.

In this connection we are glad to report that all church goals are being met and that the church treasurer reports no indebtedness with the exception of about $4,000 indebtedness on the church building, but this amount is covered with pledges and annuities so that the building is practically free from debt. The church building property cost $35,500, and we all praise God for the wonderful way that He has helped His people in meeting this obligation. The property is easily worth more than $100,000.00.

Elder James Shultz of Springfield has been called to take up the work in Providence, and I am sure that he will find a willing people to help him, and we earnestly pray that great success may attend his every effort to advance the cause of God in this field.

In closing we wish to bid all of our dear brethren and sisters in this field good-bye until we meet again, and we wish to assure you all that we shall remember you and the work here in our prayers, and earnestly solicit your prayers in our behalf.

A. E. Sanderson.

BOOK AND BIBLE HOUSE NOTES

The lost article department of the book tent still has in its care a large number of small articles, such as pocket books, combs, pencils etc., also two Bibles. One has the name of Chester F. Fuller and the other Alfred Simons. As there are no addresses given it is impossible for us to return them to the owners.

To those who were not on the camp-grounds and are looking for a good trade in Bibles, we take pleasure in calling your attention to No. 07523-X which we will

NOTES

Owing to the fact that the lot upon which the Worcester English tent effort was to have been held was sold for building purposes, and the other lots so situated as to justify a tent effort were either unavailable or being sold for building, Elder Howard has been obliged to give up his plans for a tent effort in Worcester this summer.

The Hudson church has just purchased a two-story school building and Brother Howard will turn his attention to converting this building into a church, the dedication to be followed by a series of public lectures in the hope of strengthening the work in Hudson.

The Harvest Ingathering English papers have now reached all our churches, and this will give us an opportunity to solicit the summer people who will be with us during the month of August. At $10.00 per church member, it will mean raising $30,000 this year. We can do it if each district leader and local pastor sets himself determinedly to the task, with the blessing of God and with the support of our people in the churches.

Last year the Harvest Ingathering campaign brought in nearly $700,000 for the cause of missions throughout the world. This year the openings are greater than ever before for giving the message in all parts of the world, and the needs are greater. We earnestly appeal to those who have taken part in this campaign in past years to do a little more than ever before this year, and would also urge those who have never taken part to make it 100%.

At the same time, we suggest that, as the papers are given out, our people make a record of individuals who manifest an interest in the truth and see that the interest is followed up by mailing literature to these people through the church missionary society and by personal visits. If in passing out several million papers this personal follow-up work were engaged in more fully, many people would embrace the truth each year as a result of our Harvest Ingathering campaign in the homeland.

This follow-up work could be taken care of to better advantage if, instead of traveling for miles into other people's territory, we would each work in our own neighborhood.

W. C. Moffett.

C. B. Haynes, President

J. K. Macmillan, Sec.-Treas.

Nothing gives rise to any greater satisfaction to the conference officers during the development of the work in recent years than the manner in which the members of our various churches are making the Greater New York Corporation the depository of their savings funds. To an increasingly large extent, month by month, our people are making the corporation the custodian of their money. This displays real confidence, for which we feel genuinely grateful.

To an unusual degree our people have withdrawn from savings banks their savings and deposited them with us. This has made it possible for us to carry the large properties that we have in this field, and has meant no particular self-sacrifice on the part of our people, for we are paying them the same amount of interest that they would receive from the banks.

Really, the savings of our people should be in this denomination, for these funds, while they are not being used by the individuals who own them, may be of real benefit in financing our large properties.

There never has been a time in the history of the Greater New York Corporation when it has been stronger financially than it is now. This is in some part due to the fact that our people have made it a depository of their savings funds. It is due also to economies which have been brought about and carefulness in the handling of the important affairs of the corporation.

The members of the board of trustees and the officers of the corporation have all joined heartily in the plans and policies which have been adopted and which God has blessed to the prosperity of the corporation.

We again take this opportunity to invite those of our people who have not yet made the corporation their bank to do so at their convenience.

Professor B. F. Machlan spoke on Christian education at the Temple on Sabbath, July 24, and at the First Brooklyn church, Sabbath, July 31. Professor N. H. Saunders spoke on the same subject at the Brooklyn German church, July 24, and at the New York Swedish church, July 31.

There was a young people's rally at the Temple on Sabbath, July 24, attended quite largely by the young people of various churches of the conference. This rally was in charge of our new Missionary Volunteer secretary of the conference, Miss Louise C. Kleuser.

Sunday, July 25, an outing of the South Lancaster students from Greater New York, together with the graduates of Greater New York Academy, and some of their parents, was held at Pelham Bay Park.

Brother J. B. Frank, the manager of the Greater New York

Book and Bible House, has left for several weeks' vacation. During his absence the work in the office will be carried on by his assistant, Brother W. A. Peterson.

THE PRICE OF A DECISION

Youth is the deciding time of life because it calls for decisions with life-long consequences. A young person's education requires a well-studied decision. This is even more true of a Seventh-day Adventist youth. He frequently chooses a school where he may receive the education he is after, while the most convenient place to get this particular phase of an education is his chief concern.

"Our ideas of education take too narrow and too low a range. There is need of a broader scope, a higher aim. True education means more than the pursual of a course of study. . . it is the harmonious development of the physical, the mental, and the spiritual powers. It prepares the student for the joy of service in this world, and for the higher joy of wider service in the world to come.

—"Education."

Unfortunately the inexperienced student frequently lacks the wise counsel of Christian parents who are thoroughly converted to God's ideals of an education. Our message calls for a decided educational reform; it urges a definite responsibility upon every parent to train the child for God. Furthermore, it points clearly to our own schools as the havens of refuge for a buffeted youth.

Then why, dear parents, make a wrong decision? Why regard this phase of our work with indifference when the precious soul of your boy or girl lies in the balance? "Get away from the shadow of the world," is the instruction given to us. With the possibilities of our denominational schools, why take a chance against divine counsel? We urge that our parents become acquainted with the high ideals of our own educational system and that they place the same faith in its divine establishment they manifested toward the doctrines of our message. This may necessitate some changes in your home; it may require a sacrifice. A right decision always costs; the price of a wrong decision in this respect, may mean the loss of a soul with whom you have been intrusted by God.

FOR PARENTS

Is the influence of your training in the home being spoiled by training received in the school your child attends?

Are the lessons of piety which you give your boy being made null and void by association on the playground with those who make a mock of religious instruction?

Are the stories of the Bible which your girl learns in Sabbath school rendered powerless through the influence of a teacher who, however much qualified to teach for the world, has no faith in the Bible as the inspired Word of God?

These questions present themselves to every Seventh-day Adventist parent for consideration, and upon the solution which we give them the eternal welfare of our boys and girls depends. The instruction of the godliest of homes may be, and frequently is, destroyed by other instruction received in worldly schools. The great majority of humanity is coming to have less and less belief in the Word of God, less and less faith in the promises of the Divine Book, less and less obedience to Jehovah's constraining law. To protect against these influences, so subtle and yet so powerful, don't you think, parents and church members, that we should avail ourselves of every means?

The church school is such a means. In our church schools in the New England Conference, besides careful teaching in reading, writing, and arithmetic, and other branches of learning such as the requirements of the state may demand, godly teachers instruct the children in the principles of piety and religion, and in those moral principles upon which life in this world and in the next is founded.

Hear the instruction given us by the spirit of prophecy: "In localities where believers are few, let two or three churches unite in erecting a humble building for a church school. Let all share the expense. It is high time for Sabbath keepers to separate their children from worldly associations, and place them under the very best teachers, who will make the Bible the foundation of all study." Gwynne Dalrymple, Educational Superintendent.

FROM VERMONT

On Sabbath, July 24th, at Cady's Falls, our Sabbath school convention, for which Brother Perkins, our district leader of northern Vermont, has been planning for some time, was held. The attendance was between 100 and 125, and the interest was excellent.

Addresses were made by Elder E. K. Slade and Elder F. D. Wells, of the Union Conference. Elder D. U. Hale also spoke at the consecration service which concluded the meetings of the convention. This was followed by a baptismal service, in which five persons, buried with their Lord in baptism, arose to walk in newness of life. This service was the result of the meetings held in that neighborhood by Brethren Perkins and Farman.

A special Sabbath school offering, to repair the deficit which was mentioned in the "Gleaner" last week, was taken, and amounted to $61.90. It seemed appropriate that in Vermont, which first devoted its Sabbath school offerings wholly to mission work, should be made the first effort to raise our Sabbath schools from what threatened to become a serious failure. Let the rest of our Sabbath schools press in to keep up the good work in which Vermont has led out!

Every one seemed much helped by the addresses delivered, which stressed the spiritual side of our Sabbath school activities. At a call made for personal reconsecration, practically all responded. We feel that God was present and blessed our meetings.

G. Dalrymple,
Sabbath School Secretary.

SUNBEAMS

We were pleased to have Brother and Sister Kilgore and Sister Thurlow stop at the office for a short time last week. They were on their way to Pine Tree Academy, where Brother Kilgore audited the school books for the past year.

Next Monday morning all the conference workers will assemble at Pine Tree Academy to begin the erection of the camp. Within two weeks from the day you receive this copy of the "Gleaner" everything will be in readiness for our camp-meeting. We need you, and you need the camp-meeting, so get ready now to join your friends at Pine Tree Academy on August 19. All roads lead to the academy at that time.

Our colporteurs are making all kinds of records these days. If our sales continue for only two weeks longer at the same rate they are now going, we shall have sold this year by the middle of August as much as was sold all last year. Just notice the $200 and $300 reports in this week's "Gleaner." Our magazine workers are also having very good success.

Elders Wells and Gram are now visiting as many of our churches as they possibly can in the interest of the Harvest Ingathering work. The campaign at Portland is already well under way. Now is the time to work. Which church will be first to reach its goal? We shall be glad to receive a card from your church when it goes over the top, so we can mention it in our sunbeams.

Brother G. Dalrymple, our educational superintendent, is spending his vacation at South Lancaster with his mother.

When you desire to make a gift to some friend, why not choose one of our splendid inspirational books? They are always appropriate. We would recommend "The Life of Victory" by Mead MacGuire. In this book the vital subject of victory over sin is presented in a way that appeals to young people. If you realize you should lead a better, holier life,—"without sin," then you too should read this book. Cloth, round corners, silk marker. Price, $1.00. Special gift edition, ooze sheep, overlapping edges. Price, $1.75.

We are glad to report that at the Sabbath school rally held at Cady's Falls, Vermont, last week, our loss in Sabbath school offerings for the six months this year compared with the offerings for the same period last year, was more than made up. This rally was attended by more than one hundred of our people.

BOOK & BIBLE HOUSE NOTES

The Big Three subscription plan is a fine one. Orders are coming in now that might not have come in under the old plan. Just a word of caution for your benefit when renewing your "Review" subscription. The publishers have, for good reasons, refused to accept orders for "Life and Health" and "Liberty" to be added to the "Review" subscription which has been sent in a week or two previous. Be sure when you renew your "Review" that you send in enough to cover the other two periodicals, for we are sure that you will say they are worth the extra 25 cents.

We will announce again that we now have stock of the General Conference "Reviews" in bound form. Surely every one will want a record of what was done in the 41st General Conference. If you were not able to subscribe before that time, now is your opportunity to get a permanent record of all proceedings. Bound in Manilla $1.00; cloth $2.00.

We are glad to welcome to the New York Conference Brother J. W. Davis from Michigan, who is to take up the district leadership at Syracuse.

Brother W. B. Maris formerly of Illinois, has now arrived to take up Brother H. A. Wright's work as field secretary. We trust that he will receive the same amount of cooperation that Brother Wright had while in this field.

The book and magazine work is still progressing, and before school opens we expect to see a number carrying off the prize of a scholarship.

THE SCHENECTADY TENT EFFORT

It was the privilege of the writer to spend a few days recently in the Albany district, and to meet the faithful members of the Albany and Schenectady churches. I find these churches loyally maintaining the same spirit of work and sacrifice that they have carried in the past.

Elder Capman, who is there now, and Miss Bamber, the Bible worker, seem to be kept very busy, especially so since the tent effort opened in Schenectady. Associated with Elder Capman and Miss Bamber in this effort are Elder Whelpley and wife. Brother Whelpley has been somewhat troubled with a form of rheumatism, but the Lord has raised him up, and we were all happy to see him assisting at the opening service in the tent Sunday night, July 18.

The location of the tent in Schenectady is on the car line and in a prominent part of the city. It is one of the finest tent locations I have ever seen. Everything about the tent is neat and attractive, and the brethren have left nothing undone to make the effort appeal to the people.

A heavy thunder shower came up, and it poured until about two hours before meeting time. In spite of all this about 200 came out to hear Elder Capman give a stirring message on the "Infallibility of the Scriptures." Brother Paul Shatley is the tent master, and the Schenectady members are cooperating in many ways. We found the workers of good courage, and we look for good results from this effort. The Lord is blessing the work in the Albany district.

J. K. Jones.

NEW YORK CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

Elementary Schools.

2. Whereas, there is a decline rather than an increase in attendance at our elementary schools in the New York Conference,

We recommend, that as soon as possible following the camp-meeting a general effort be begun in all our churches in New York to bring a much larger number of our boys and girls into our own schools, using the following means and methods:

a. That the pastor, elder, and members of the church school board each year, between Educational Day and the opening of the schools, visit the parents, in order to secure the attendance of their children.

b. That we request the conference committee in conjunction with the educational secretary and superintendent, to give thought to, and suggest means for, the promotion of our elementary schools in the local churches.

c. That the conference committee be requested to lay continuously and persistently upon all workers of the conference the same burden of responsibility for the establishment and maintenance of church schools that has been placed upon them for the great mission work.

Further, we have throughout the field a few churches where many children are found, but where it seems impossible to conduct a church school because of financial conditions, yet where one might be established if some financial aid could be provided; therefore,

We recommend, that in the four quarterly offerings for church school work, each church earnestly endeavor to provide a fund equal to at least 25 cents a quarter for each member, to be used in these needy schools; that this fund be held in the conference treasury to be disbursed by the conference treasurer in counsel with the president and educational superintendent as may seem advisable.
Combination Subscriptions.

3. Whereas, we have been instructed to "Preach the Word with determined energy, by a wise use of periodicals and books;" and

Whereas, the plan of combining subscriptions for our periodicals with the sale of our books has proved practical in various parts of the world field, both in the city and country, thus bringing these current messengers of truth into sections heretofore unreached by them; therefore

We recommend, that careful consideration be given to the plan throughout the field, and that colporteurs be taught how to use it successfully wherever practicable, thus making their work more effective in soul winning.
Mission Offerings.

4. Whereas, the signal blessings bestowed upon the New York Conference in raising its 60-cent-a-week funds in the past two years have enabled it to assume a leading place among the conferences of the world, thus furnishing an inspiring example of achievement for the redemption of lost men by a loyal constituency, and

Whereas, the importance of continuing such a program is pressed upon us by marvelous responses to the work of our missionaries and the urgent pleas of thousands to whom present facilities deny the message; therefore, be it

Recommended, that during this biennial period, the members of our churches commit themselves to a course of self-denial and real sacrifice, avoiding any unnecessary or indulgent expenditure so prevalent in the life of the world today, that God may be glorified in the extension of the third angel's message as this fund is augmented by the fruits of such a course; and further,

That those having property and means be encouraged to help supply the urgent calls of the hour by making larger gifts of lump sums to the mission treasury from time to time, as the Holy Spirit may direct, that in unity this people may do all in their power to fulfill the gospel commission and hasten the coming of our dear Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

Leidtke.—Elizabeth Leidtke was born April 1, 1907, and died at Saranac Lake Sanitarium, New York, July 10, 1926. Funeral services were conducted at the home of her parents in Manchester, Vt. Miss Liedtke was a student at the Atlantic Union College a year ago and had been taking some further work at a college near her home during the past year. She was held in high esteem by her associates there, and a very large number of her friends and the townspeople attended the funeral. She leaves a father, mother, and a brother and sister to mourn their loss. The funeral services were conducted by the writer assisted by two local pastors.

ATLANTIC UNION COLLEGE

Applications for the year 1926-7 are coming in every day.

A letter from an old student says, "I am coming back to school. I have been in the work for a number of years, and I see the need of a college education."

Now is the time to boost the scholarship sales. A college colporteur writes, "I see now is my time to make sure of my scholarship. If I let up now, I will be disappointed, but if I keep at it, I am sure to succeed."

A fine company of young men are definitely deciding to enter the College. The prospects are good for the finest company of students ever enrolled here.

"Upon Christian youth depend in great measure the preservation and perpetuity of the institutions which God has devised as a means by which to advance His work. Never was there a period when results so important depended upon a generation of men. Then how important that the youth should be qualified for this great work, that God may use them as His instruments! Their Maker has claims upon them which are paramount to all others." —"Counsels to Parents and Teachers," p. 99.

Young man, young woman, does this statement appeal to you? It means you. To work for God you must be trained. To take your place in the ranks of God's workers you must be educated. Remember if you are faithful and get the needed preparation, God will open the door of service to you.

Come along; cast in your lot with us at Atlantic Union College.

B. F. Machlan, President.

On Prohibition.

5. Whereas, the public traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage is a menace to the life, liberty, and happiness of innocent parties, increasing crime and the economic burdens of society, and destroying the moral fiber and vitality of manhood and womanhood, and consequently the stability of a nation and,

Whereas, the past seven years of prohibition under the Eighteenth Amendment of the American Constitution have brought unprecedented prosperity to the American people, a remarkable increase in bank deposits by the laboring man, a great decrease of drunkenness, a reduction in crime caused by drink, an increase of the longevity of the race in the reduction of the death list, and added joy and peace to homes that had been previously cursed and impoverished by drink; therefore,

We recommend, that it be the sentiment of this conference to encourage sobriety and the enforcement of proper regulations to prohibit the traffic in intoxicating beverages.

Recommendation on The Review and Herald.

6. Whereas, the "Review and Herald" is recognized as our church paper, giving much spiritual help and information relative to the advancement of the message, and

Whereas, it is our experience that the members of our churches who are constant readers of the "Review and Herald" are usually the most spiritual and willing lifters in all kinds of church work,

We recommend, that a special effort be made to place this good paper into every home of our conference.

Sabbath School Work.

7. We recommend, that a greater effort be made to promote the spirit of reverence in all our Sabbath schools, a. By securing greater quietness and order in the Sabbath school session and during intermissions,

b. By refraining from buying and selling lesson quarterlies or securing subscriptions for Sabbath school supplies on the Sabbath by adopting some other plan for providing them. We suggest the maintenance of a liberal expense fund, that the quarterlies may be passed out free of charge. Further,

We recommend, that we continue to promote the following major items:

a. A Sabbath school membership to include the entire conference constituency,

b. A faithful attendance of the membership,

c. Daily study of the Sabbath school lesson by old and young,

d. A continual effort to improve the teaching in the Sabbath school through the medium of the Training Course and the Sabbath School Worker,

e. Deeper spiritual life of leaders and members,

f. Larger and more intelligent giving to missions.

First Sabbath Missionary Service.

8. Whereas, the church of Christ on earth was organized for missionary purposes and the Lord desires to see the entire church devising ways and means whereby high and low, rich and poor, may hear the message of truth, and

Whereas, the soul-winning success achieved by the active church members in our conference demonstrates the effectiveness of the divine plan, therefore,

We recommend, that every pastor and church elder give more careful study to formulating plans whereby the first Sabbath service can be used more effectively in encouraging our church membership to become active soul-winners.

Home-Foreign Work.

9. Whereas, our instruction in regard to our duty to the strangers within our gates is very clear,

We recommend, that a Home-foreign Band be formed in every church where there is need of it, and that an earnest effort be made to discharge this long neglected task:

a. By systematic distribution of literature,

b. By faithful follow-up work through Bible studies and Christian help work.
