

Medical Missionary Day

January 28,

New packaged programs are emerging. The FIVE-DAY PLAN has had widespread usage because all the parts were present; lectures, control booklets, films. Now a cooking school manual and a Stress Control Program are packaged for use by the church in its health ministry.

The Physician – A Medical Missionary

G. D. Strunk, Director
Adventist Health Ministries

"Okay Doc, so the lab tests are negative. You can't find anything wrong with me. Therefore, I'm not sick. But I'm not well either! What's wrong with me, Doc?"

And once again the physician is faced with a weighty decision. "Shall I tell him what is wrong with him? Shall I tell him he is not living right? It will probably offend him. He didn't come for a lecture but a diagnosis. He probably won't change his habits anyway. And preventive medicine isn't nearly as glamorous as life-saving surgery. But I remember reading something once, so what choice do I have?"

"When a physician sees that a patient is suffering from an ailment caused by improper eating and drinking, yet neglects to tell him of this and to point out the need of reform, he is doing a fellow being an injury. Are they benevolent and merciful if they do not teach strict temperance as a remedy for disease?" — Testimonies, vol. 7, p. 74, 75.

In that moment on a one-to-one basis, a personal ministry of healing and teaching can be accomplished that is on a parallel with Christ and the infirmed man at the pool of Bethesda. Part of his instructions were, "sin no more, lest a worse thing come upon thee." John 5:14.

"Christ the great medical missionary, is our example. He healed the sick and preached the gospel. In his service, healing and teaching were linked closely together. Today they are not to be separated." — Manuscript, quoted by O. A. Olson, Review and Herald, Oct. 29, 1914.

Last-Day Medicine

Today with heart disease in epidemic proportions, post coronary care is receiving unusual attention. Cardiac rehabilitation is really prevention on highly motivated subjects against a recurrence of the disease. Many subjects don't have a second chance because "in about 25% of persons who develop cardio-vascular disease, the first symptom of the illness is sudden death."

"Too little attention is generally given to the preservation of health. It is far better to prevent disease than to know how to treat it when contracted." — Ministry of Healing, p. 128.

The physician motivated by the counsels of God seeks to put himself out of business by making people so healthy that they no longer need his cures. But just as the poor you have with you always so will we always have the sick. And there will always be not only opportunity but a demand for education in healthful living.

In these "last days" when life is characterized with unintended surfeiting and dissipation, degenerative diseases have stolen the show from infectious diseases. It is a result of ignorance of the laws of life. People in developed countries maintain a lamentably small advantage of personal health knowledge over those in developing countries. Through the Spirit of Prophecy God has given light to this generation appropriate to every culture and counterculture that will lift the quality of life. This grand and noble mission beckons to the heart of every devoted Seventh-day Adventist.

"As he thus instructs the people in the principles of true temperance, and as a guardian of souls gives advice to those who are mentally and physically diseased, the physician is acting his part in the great work of making ready a people prepared for the Lord. This is what medical missionary work is to accomplish in its relation to the third angel's message." — Testimonies, vol. 6, p. 233.

Combined Disciplines

It is not alone to the physical needs that we are to minister. "The physician who knows that Christ is his personal Saviour, because he himself has been led to the Refuge, knows how to deal with the trembling, guilty, sin-sick souls who turn to him for help.

"Let him learn to repeat the comforting words that Christ spoke during His earthly ministry, when giving His lessons and healing the sick. He should talk of the works of healing wrought by Christ, of His tenderness and love. Never should he neglect to direct the minds of his patients to Christ, the chief Physician." — Ministry of Healing, p. 120, 121.

The minister and the doctor are united in the same work. Each have their separate disciplines but there is much overlap when done properly.

"We shall have success if we work on practical lines. Ministers, do not confine your work to giving Bible instruction. Do practical work. Seek to restore the sick to health. This is true ministry. Remember that the restoration of the body prepares the way for the restoration of the soul." — Medical Ministry, p. 240.

"A minister of the gospel who is also a medical missionary, who can cure physical ailments, is a much more efficient worker than one who cannot do this. His work as a minister of the gospel is much more complete. . . ." — Medical Ministry, p. 245.

Teaching to Teach

But there is a yet higher level of education to be conducted by both the medical worker and gospel worker. It is that of teaching others to teach. It is not enough to simply teach others the laws of their moral and physical being. These educators are responsible for teaching and training fellow believers how to instruct others. To educate, educate, educate is a high and holy calling.

There is no extra pay. There isn't time allowed for it in the schedule. But it is a must if the work is going to be finished along God's lines. . . and it is, by His mercy.

Medical Missionary Day

January 28, 1978

By A. George Rodgers, *Consultant,
Health Care Institutions (Canada)*

The significance of commemorating this special day, by the General Conference, is indication of the world administration's official recognition of this important date on the church calendar.

In a world church, such as ours, pulsating with a diversity of departmental activities — all conceived and co-ordinated towards earth's crowning climax — it is administratively difficult to accord special priorities without the risk of invoking the invidious. Suffice it to say that the Adventist family around the globe are enamoured of our medical missionary program, and evocative and enthusiastic regarding this heaven-ordained plan.

And so, today, most appropriately we present this hallowed phase of Christian ministry with its doctors, nurses, and paramedical personnel, in professional profile, and as an indispensable aspect of the Great Second Advent Movement.

When invited by Editor How to write for this special occasion, my mind went back many years. More precisely, to half a century of privileged service in both hemispheres. The "right arm" of the message has consistently made such a compelling and convincing impact for good, through the humanitarian services of Adventist men and women who have given exhaustively, and unremittingly, of themselves in the name, and the service, of Almighty God.

By those unfamiliar with our spiritual motivation, and untutored in our philosophy, the question might well be asked: "Why is it that such brilliant and intelligent young people forsake the ease and affluence and comforts of the homeland, and elect exposure to hardship, pestilential swamp and treacherous jungle? May be motivated, and inspirationally influenced, by the intrepid adventures of a David Livingstone! Or maybe some other man!"

In reply, we would say, "Yes, there is another man — Our Hope, our Inspiration: The Man Christ Jesus!" And because of His Divine imperative "Go ye into all the world. . . ." members of our church communion unhesitatingly penetrate the four corners of the earth in response to the Divine Commission, to take the ministry of healing to. . . "every nation, kindred, tongue and people."

The motivational stimuli, in the God-direction, derives from the Adventist unique system of education, where teachers in classrooms encourage and inspire as they inculcate into hearts and minds, the ethical and the moral standards that inspire great and mighty deeds for God.

From our colleges and universities, year after year, we hear the resounding footsteps of youth on the march, and emblazoned upon each of their escutcheons, . . . "the love of Christ constraineth us".

This magnificent array of Adventist youth is possessed of an irresistible urge. They display their ill-disguised impatience. They are philosophically attuned. They are medically oriented. They are spiritually mature and highly motivated. They are possessed of incandescent zeal, and they loftily aspire to their "high calling in Christ Jesus".

As we momentarily meditate upon Medical Missionary Day, and our universal penetration to earth's remotest bounds, we are convinced that we do not need to confine ourselves to "faraway places with strange-sounding names". Greatly blessed of Providence, and earth-encompassing though our health discipline may be, with its triumphs for the cross, and its soul-winning instrumentality, augmented by its alleviation of human suffering, this blessed ministry is not practised, nor is it a proprietorial prerogative, limited to an exotic clime of some foreign shore.

Right here in North America, and more particularly, within our own national jurisdiction, goodly, Godly men and women highly trained and deeply devoted, some generalists, others specialists, some in the sub-specialties are making an outstanding contribution, and with their colleagues overseas, they are dedicated to unified, elaboration and ultimate collaboration, culminating in the finishing of the work.

The year '78, under God, promises to be outstanding. It may well be unprecedented in the annals of the Canadian Union.

Particularly will this be true of the operation of our healthcare facilities administered at conference level and well nigh from coast to coast.

Quite a number of well-contemplated and institutionally-complementary re-assignments have eventuated in '77 with gratifying results accruing throughout this new year. Keith Heinrichs was posted in Swift Current Nursing Home. Ken Reimche is now fitting very well in the institutional setting of his preceptorship in Saskatoon. And our most welcome newcomer, Bill Olson, is settling down very nicely at Park manor.

This re-locating of executive directors reflects the Executive Committee's keen awareness of organizational re-alignment, originating with the funding and directive of government hierarchy, together with a lively and intelligent awareness of local government and community demands for continuing changes and improvements in all health-related disciplines.

Our experienced, and well-qualified Ed Gallant continues to head up that lovely retreat designated, West Park Manor, whilst Allan Fowler magnifies his office and enjoys the affectionate appreciation of "his charges" at Sherwood Park, Edmonton.

A few weeks ago, at Rest Haven, we met with our Administrator Laurie Dunfield, and were well-briefed on his delicate, diplomatic negotiations with the provincial government. He demonstrated a keen awareness of the current situation — with a new community hospital now in operation — and in this connection, some of us had audience with administrative officials of the Ministry of Health. It is our ardent prayer that settlement commensurate with our heavy investment and fifty-six-year operation of Rest Haven will eventually result from our spirited deliberations.

Perhaps the most gratifying and indeed exciting intelligence comes to us from the Board of Branson Hospital, Toronto. According to Administrator Lloyd Bell, it is hoped construction on the multi-million expansion of service and clinical areas, so long overdue, will soon commence so that the hospital can relate more meaningfully and adequately to their growing community. Upon each and everyone may God bestow His richest blessing.

The Health Education Centre Story

Medical missionary work has been the focal point of the Health Education Centre in Victoria, B.C., for more than seven years since its opening, March, 1970.

Whether a physician, a dentist, a teacher, a lawyer, a social worker, and occupational therapist, a builder, an accountant, a secretary, a minister, a housewife, a nurse, a hospital administrator, a retiree, a musician; all of these and more have made health education a very real part of their outreach to the community through the Health Education Centre.

An average of 500 contacts are made every month in the community, hundreds of adults attend classes every year, and several thousand school children have received instruction on healthful living. Thousands of calls a month come through the telephone ministry.

Hundreds of hours of volunteer work are given by the local church members. The workshops and cooking schools, the fairs and telephone evangelism, the television series and stop smoking programs all are made effective by the volunteer personnel. The only regular staff are the two health educators, Ron and Arlene Whitney.

Vegetarian Cooking & Nutrition Classes have been of top interest in Victoria. Sonja Gudwer, Marilyn Melashanko, and Marilyn Pond, have organized and presented the most recent series. Kathy Piper and Dortha Van Gundy-Jones have previously given a series. Members of our church family from many walks of life with adequate training in nutrition and presentation, and with homemaking skills can present the special message we have for these times. This is so much a part of medical missionary work.

Another service to the community of the Health Education Centre was the hypertension screening program using the B.C. Conference mobile health unit. Carol Dunfield, nurse and Resthaven Hospital administrator's wife, coordinated many nurses and assistants, keeping the van in operation for 10 weeks.

The Victoria Health Education Centre is a positive and well known institution in Victoria. Recently the city college program director for adult education classes called to express his appreciation for what the Centre was offering and stated that they do not want to offer anything in the city that would compete with Health Education Centre programs.

The regular staff and the volunteers working as a team have helped to establish this image to the glory of God. The telephone tape library volunteers, the health professional lecturers, the homemakers who demonstrate how it's done, the receptionists and servers whose inner spiritual life shines through and the board members who plan how best to keep the Adventist lifestyle before the public all cooperate in winning the hearts of the people.

Frequently are heard remarks like these from those enrolled in classes:

"What is it that makes you people so at peace?"

"You know, the best thing about this program is seeing you people who give it."

"I want to be as pure and clean looking as the people at the Health Education Centre. How do you get that way?"

"What is it that motivates your young people to stay with this way of life?"

"I'm ready for anything the Health Education Centre has to offer."

And so we see the results of the medical missionary work at the Health Education Centre: a blending of many of God's people giving a blended ministry, serving those in need.

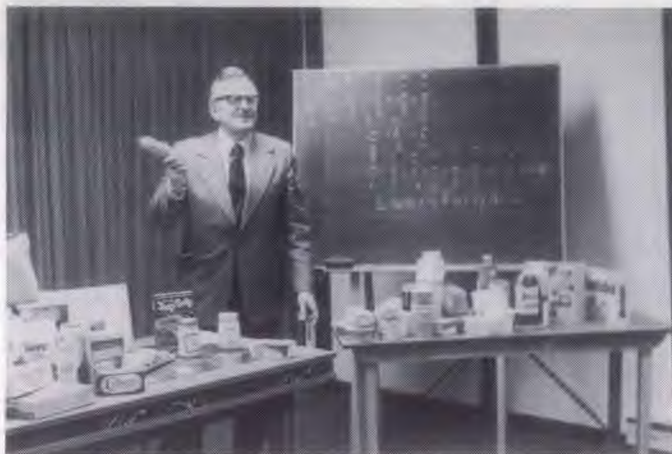

One of the best known programs is the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking, offered monthly at the Centre. School children are also taught the hazards of smoking. Ron Whitney, health educator and minister and executive director of the Centre holds programs for students in the schools and at the Centre. As many as 200 students have come to the Centre in one week for these programs.

Shown is Arlene Whitney, health educator and assistant director at the Centre, manning the telephone tape library electronic answering service. The Health INFO Telephone Tape Library (opened in Victoria in 1975 and in Vancouver in 1976) is based on documented health information. It receives up to 5000 calls a month in the Victoria and Vancouver libraries. The Vancouver library has two toll-free lines that serve the entire province of British Columbia. Beginning in early 1978 a new faith library will be opened to the public phone lines.

Reuben Matiko, physician, lectures in the Weight Control Program, Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking and Nutrition series. Dr. Matiko is one of the many medical professionals who are on the volunteer staff of the Centre. Other lecturers include Herb Domke, physician, Carol Domke, nursing instructor, Bob Hillock, dentist, Malinda Hillock, occupational therapist, Martin Martz, dentist, Ed Oakley, dentist, Shirley Oakley, dietician, and Athol Piper, physician. The Health Education Centre maintains a professional image in the community through high quality programming with qualified instructors.

Dr. & Mrs. Raymond Moore of Hewitt Research Center, presented a workshop on early childhood education. It awakened much interest and received provincial government education department recognition with a request that they return to the province to help in an in-depth study on the subject.

The Health Education Centre is located at 3019 Shakespeare St., Victoria, B.C., close to one of the major shopping centres in Victoria and easily seen from Hillside Avenue (one of the busiest thoroughfares in the city).

Crowds of three and four hundred attended the workshops sponsored by the Centre and held in the local church and new Cedar Hill Community Centre in Victoria.

Merrilee Wright, teacher, serving samples at the Food Fair during the workshop with Dr. & Mrs. U. D. Register.

Frances Matiko, physician's wife, and Pat Penner, builder's wife, designed and presented the In-the-Kitchen Cooking Classes for enrollees at Centre programs who wished to learn how to prepare vegetarian meals. The classes were held in their homes.

Shirley Oakley, dietician, contributes to the television series, the Vegetarian Cooking & Nutrition series, and also has a Basic Nutrition and Advanced Nutrition Series. Two of her programs are offered in cooperation with the city college and have received outstanding community response and recognition.

Shown is the Health Education Centre display at the 1977 Health Fair. The 3-day Fair has become an annual event in Victoria. Begun by the Centre and annually organized by them, it is held in Victoria's newest shopping centre mall. Each group has a display featuring some aspect of healthful living.

One of the Health Education Centre board members, Gilbert Murray, a lawyer and college teacher, is program host for the television series "Lifestyle", sponsored by the Centre. The half hour program features interviews of prominent health and education professionals and government leaders in health-related areas. Each program emphasizes a different aspect of the Seventh-day Adventist lifestyle.

Pictured are four of the six University of Victoria physical education students hired by the Health Education Centre this past year, to develop a physical fitness book. Over 100 walking and jogging trails were made, calibrated, and mapped for the publication. The book was published late 1977 and within 6 weeks 500 copies were sold. A professor of the University of Victoria physical education department wrote the forward for the book entitled "Happy Trails". It has received enthusiastic positive reviews in the newspaper and was mentioned as being prepared by the Health Education Centre, "an organization of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, well known for its interest in health."

FIVE-DAY PLAN AT ALBERTA BEACH

The Alberta Beach church sponsored a Five-Day Plan at the Alberta Beach Agriplex in November. Pastor Davies instructed the class on how to overcome the tobacco habit; Clarence Grosso, area coordinator of the program, was present for the final evening; Elaine Ohlmann, from the Royal Alexandra Hospital's Intensive Care Unit, was in attendance on two evenings to help answer questions; Wayne Adams, lay activities secretary, organized and publicized the plan and assisted nightly by running the film projector.

Over twenty people attended with the majority completing the program successfully.

Belleville Five-Day Plan

The Trenton Air Force Base, 7 miles west of Belleville, was the scene of another successful Five-Day Plan To Stop Smoking.

Major Baines, (Retd.), resident at the base, was so impressed with the program conducted a few months ago, that he determined to make all necessary arrangements to have another one as soon as possible.

Sixty-five eager and enthusiastic smokers registered. At the end of 5 days forty had stopped smoking.

Dr. Matti Patel, Temperance and Health Secretary for the Belleville Church and Brother Merrill Dales, Lay Activities Leader, conducted their series of studies each day, while Pastor Adam Bujak added the spiritual dimension, pointing to Jesus the Source of all strength and victory, and the One who could best help them.

Many were the expressions of gratitude and admiration for the Five-Day Plan, which not only helped their immediate need of giving up smoking, but also for opening new vistas to healthful living.

Toronto Newspaper Encourages Nutrition Seminar at Branson Hospital

By a phone call to the Branson Hospital to inquire when another nutrition workshop would be conducted, the Toronto Star (newspaper) actually initiated the idea that led to a recent seminar emphasizing Nutrition, Health Education, and the Practical Use of Vegetable Proteins. Because of the Star's interest in the type of community nutrition work done by the Branson Hospital Dietary Dept., as well as the increasing number of requests from different individuals, the Dietary Department directed by Mrs. E. Sokol, conducted a "mini condensed" course on the evenings of November 14, 15 and 16, in the hospital auditorium. The series was entitled "Foods, Facts, Fads & Fun!"

Numerous comments of thanks were forthcoming in appreciation for the meaningful educational help. The interesting varying style of presentation was a much enjoyed feature each evening. Many requests for more meetings were received.

Latest From Leduc

Recently the members of the Devon, Leduc and Warburg churches were invited to come to the new Leduc church, which has recently been completed, for their district rally. The church was filled to capacity as Sabbath School began. More than 200 people assembled in the church.

For the Sabbath School program Mission Spotlight was shown which certainly was an inspiration to all present. The associate conference treasurer, Elder E. E. Littman, gave the lesson study. He brought out points from history and experience which made the lesson applicable to us today. After the Sabbath School, for our lay activities period, we had a film entitled, "No Choice", which inspired the church members to dedicate themselves to the finishing of the task.

Elder John Howard, who has recently come to Alberta as the Sabbath School and Lay Activities Secretary was the speaker for the church service. Everyone enjoyed the experiences he related concerning witnessing for Christ in Zaire, Africa.

The newly finished Leduc Seventh-day Adventist Church.

When the service was finished we realized there were too many people to be able to serve dinner in the church as planned, so we had the wonderful fellowship dinner on the picnic tables in the park. We realized then, that this was a miracle; a gift from God — That He had provided this beautiful day on His holy Sabbath where we could have our district meeting.

In the afternoon the Devon Church dramatized the story of Queen Esther.

The costumes and memory work indicated that a lot time and effort had been invested in the production of the play, directed by Fred Rogers of the Devon Church. Also, there were many musical numbers. Our members went away that Sabbath afternoon, inspired to be as faithful as Queen Esther in working for the Master.

Caroline Walters, director of the afternoon program, invited some of her voice students to attend.

Evangelistic Meetings For Edmonton's Koreans

The Edmonton Korean Company was privileged to have with them Elder K. Choo from the Washington, D.C. area for a series of evangelistic meetings which lasted for three weeks. The meetings were well attended and many Korean people in Edmonton were again introduced to the Three-Angels' Messages and related truths as taught by our church.

Elder Choo's ministry brought inspiration to the hearts of those in attendance and four precious souls were baptized at the conclusion of his series.

The Korean group is growing and Brother Keith Chang will be the Bible worker as of January 1, 1978.

Dedication Service at Acme

A blessed experience came to the little Acme congregation when Mr. & Mrs. Rene Litke, Mr. & Mrs. Barry Litke, and Mr. & Mrs. Douglas Straub presented their dear little children to the Lord in dedication.

As the congregation sang the well-known hymn, "When He Cometh", the parents and grand-parents made their way to the front of the church for their special service for the children.

It Is Written* Seminars

"Unique" and "exciting" describes the experience that is coming for the first time to the following areas of the Alberta Conference. It can change not only your life, but the lives of your family, friends, and particularly your It Is Written interests.

Four areas of the conference will now benefit by this unusual experience when George Vandeman, director and speaker of the It Is Written television program, and his seminar teaching team, come to these four places for the first time to hold their REVELATION SEMINARS.

Scheduled immediately for the Alberta Conference are the following seminars:

Edmonton area	Edmonton Plaza	January 21, 1978
Calgary area	Calgary Inn	January 22, 1978
Lethbridge area (evening)	Holiday Inn	January 24, 1978
Red Deer area (evening)	Black Knight Inn	January 25, 1978

"It was the greatest day of my life!" is typical of the grateful responses from the thousands who have participated. You will learn what they mean when you join in this exciting new adventure for the Adventist Church. Here is how it works —

Church members are welcome, and urged to attend. The only requirement, aside from the registration fee, is that each member bring a non-member with him. You may bring as many non-members as you wish. If you bring as many as five, you may attend free of charge.

All churches, even those from as far away as 75 or 100 miles, may develop a delegation to attend. Here is your opportunity to bring interested friends into a soul-winning atmosphere of which you can be proud. It is a plan that brings results. Churches are reporting substantial baptisms from the non-Adventists who attend.

Watch God work during this unique eight-hour exposure to truth — 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. There will be breaks during the day, of course, but the one most appreciated is the full-course vegetarian dinner served at noon.

The registration fee for the seminar is $15.00 per person; $12.50 for an evening seminar, and $12.50 for youth under 20. This covers the cost of a special seminar Bible, notebook, study materials and the full-course dinner. This charge, by the way, covers 70% of the actual cost — the remainder is subsidized.

More than 120 seminars such as these have been conducted to date, in more than 30 conferences in Canada, the United States and Australia. Among the 35,000 participants thus far, scores of denominations have been represented; 36 at just one seminar. The many non-Christian and non-churches are also eager participators. Ministers of other denominations, archbishops, priests and nuns have taken part. Attendance at these seminars usually averages about 40% men, 65% couples and an encouraging percentage of youth and young marrieds.

It Is Written is being aired over CITV, Channel 13 in Edmonton; CFAC-TV, Channel 2 in Calgary; CJOC-TV, Channel 7 in Lethbridge; and CKRD, Channel 6 in Red Deer, and from these telecasts many interests have developed. Those of your non-Adventist friends who have been watching these programs will want to know of these coming seminars. These same people, after the day-long exposure, are determined to hear more. Local follow-up week-night seminars continue in your home area and your pastor will have the details.

Between now and seminar time, urge everyone you know to view It Is Written over these channels. Work with your pastor to build up the most representative delegation possible. Pray daily for the people you want to bring, and Expect a miracle!

Public Relations Department

Maritime Banquet at C.U.C.

On December 5 at 5:30 p.m. the Maritime students attending Canadian Union College met with their conference president for supper and fellowship together. Guest of the Maritimes were Pastor and Mrs. H. Heghesan, Mrs. Heghesan being a Maritimer. Good food and a lovely setting was provided by Mr. Brooks, director of Food Services, in the cafeteria.

After the supper the students heard reports of the work that is going on in the Maritimes at the present time. Questions were answered regarding friends and relatives, and greetings were exchanged. We are happy for the eighteen students who are presently attending Canadian Union College. Ministerial students who call the Maritimes home are Robert & Juanita Turnbull, and baby Paul; Barry & Marilyn Hubley and their children; Paul & Terry Boudreau and family; Jim & Carol Ryan and their children; Jerry & Kathy Connell

Lamplighters Sing for Christ

In 1974 six girls from the Silver Creek Church formed a sextette for the purpose of witnessing for Christ through music. Since that time they have been singing for churches, nursing and extended care homes, as well as private homes of sick and elderly persons. They have also presented programs at camp meeting.

The girls now have a repertoire of over one hundred sacred songs which have been committed to memory. Preparations for a program begin three weeks in advance with practise sessions of 30-60 minutes every day.

Brother Hans Svendsen was 101 years of age on November 12, 1977. Brother Svendsen attends church every Sabbath at Mission, B.C. where he is presently living in a home for the aged.

We congratulate Brother Svendsen, and, with him, look forward to that eternal land where time will not mar nor decay.

Freedom - It's Up To You

Jules Simon expressed the sentiment that "Liberty is never safe". In this connection have you ever heard the statement "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty"? How vigilant are we in maintaining our freedom? For instance, what have we done about pending legislation that will possibly bring about a controlled Sunday for the entire province of British Columbia? Did you know that those who are opposed to joining a labor union because of personal religious convictions, may be granted exemption from membership, by a provision of the Labor Code known as Conscience Clause, but these same employees are compelled to support, financially, in the form of union dues the labor union which they cannot conscientiously be members of?

Freedom, what a beautiful word! Bondage, what a terrible experience! Stealthily like a thief in the night freedoms pass from us one by one. There are multitudes in our generation who are in bondage. More and more we hear the sound of people crying for freedom, their plight has reached the heart of our merciful God. The cause of freedom is the cause of God, but freedom is only a word until you have either come close to losing your independence or have lost it altogether.

Have you ever stopped to think that every department of the church would cease to function if religious liberty were taken away. Thank God for the liberties we enjoy, which enable us to work freely in promulgating the gospel of Jesus Christ. At the same time we are fully aware that Bible prophecy, (Daniel 12:1 & Revelation 13:11-18) has predicted a time in the near future, when these liberties we now delight in, will not longer be enjoyed by freedom-loving people.

Daniel Webster wrote that "God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it". The servant of the Lord has similar advice for us: Testimonies, Vol. 5, p. 714: "We are not doing the will of God if we sit in quietude doing nothing to preserve liberty of conscience."

With your help, here is what the Religious Liberty Department has accomplished:

1. Presented a brief to the Government of British Columbia in regard to compulsory payment of union dues.
2. Personally contacted M.L.A.'s and Mayors in respect to Sunday laws, etc.
3. Sent individual letters to every legislator in our province regarding Sunday laws, labor unions, and personal freedoms.
4. Included every member of legislative assembly on the mailing list for Liberty.

This is what we are asking you to help us accomplish during 1978:

1. Pray earnestly for a continuation of the freedoms we now enjoy, so that the work of the Lord be not hindered.
2. Send an up-to-date list of all the thought leaders of your community to the Conference office so that they may receive the journal Liberty.
3. Give a very liberal offering in support of Liberty when it is taken in your church on January 21, 1978, so that we may achieve item number 2.
4. Encourage your pastor and your church religious liberty representative to become personally acquainted with the Mayor, Alderman, Municipal Councillors and Pastors of other churches.

We covet your prayers during 1978 as we shall come to grips with the proposed Sunday legislation in our beautiful province of British Columbia.

A. Lennox, Director
Religious Liberty Department
B.C. Conference

The Lord Has Surely Led The Way

Competitive sports seems to be a way of life today. I became involved in baseball and hockey (peewee) at about 10 years of age. After finishing school I played hockey and badminton several times a week, increasing the hours spent in entertainment. In summer, baseball kept my evenings and Sundays filled with action. I felt that by taking part I was keeping my body physically fit and helping the community. I could also witness to my teammates.

From the years I have spent in competitive sports I've gained physically two separated shoulders, a broken thumb, sprained ankles, scars, stitches and sore legs. I am very thankful that I was associated with Pastor Johnson this summer. Because of his example and counsel, I was impressed to read the Spirit of Prophecy and what Ellen G. White says about competition. The worldly gain in the form of trophies that I won have lost their attraction along with the games. Books have taken their place on the shelf.

To be a Christian, self-interests and self-gratification must go and Christ must become the centre in our lives. Happiness comes in sharing Christ with others. We realize that our purpose in life is not winning games but seeking souls for Christ. Everyone can be a winner through salvation in Christ. As Paul says, "So run that ye may obtain. . .". (I Corinthians 9:24)

Through the Lord's leading it is now my intention to win trophies for Him in full-time literature evangelism.

Roger Oslund,
Literature Evangelist
Man-Sask Conference

Trophies won in competitive sports by Roger Oslund, who is now a literature evangelist, winning trophies for Christ.

Reile Present For Glovertown Organization

L. L. Reile, President of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada, attended the organization ceremonies of the Glovertown, Newfoundland Church, Sabbath, November 12, 1977. Pastor George Lanto led the nineteen charter members who inscribed their names in the church register. R. R. Janes, Secretary of the Newfoundland Conference Church, led in the establishment of the membership and J. M. Campbell, reviewed the great Adventist heritage of truth and welcomed the new church into the sisterhood of 7 churches in Newfoundland.

Pastor John Gilbert, now pastor of the Botwood District, came with a bus load of his members to witness the Glovertown organization. He had served in the development of the congregation from 1972-1976. Sister Frances Rose, the earliest Seventh-day Adventist in the area, directed the adult Sabbath School.

Ordained to serve the new church were Wilfred Blackmore as elder with Arthur Oram and Max Rose as deacons.

Pastor George Lanto, left, stands in dedication with the 19 charter members of the Glovertown church.

Botwood Opens New Church With Revival Series

The Botwood congregation in central Newfoundland opened its new church building with a week-long revival series beginning with the opening service of the annual week of prayer, October 29, 1977. Speaker for the week was L. A. Shipowick, director of Lay Activities for Canada. Present for the opening service was R. R. Janes, Secretary-Treasurer of the church in Newfoundland. John W. Gilbert is presently the pastor although Richard Warman was pastor during the early stages of the building program.

The building's main sanctuary is completed with carpet throughout. The lower floor is yet to be completed. Layman Gerald Mews is chairman of the building committee.

During the revival week, Elder Shipowick preached nightly to an audience, more than half of whom were visitors from the community.

Kingston Baptism

"I have just been waiting for someone to ask me" replied Brian Allen when Pastor A. J. Webb asked him whether or not he was about ready to be baptized. Brian had been studying the "Bible Says" and Daniel and Revelation lessons and attending church for over two years. Elder Webb, pastor of the Kingston-Brockville district, says that Brian was actively engaged in sharing his new-found faith even before he was baptized.

Kenneth Plane, a former Adventist, was baptized at Kingston on November 26. "He had been thinking about coming back into the church for quite some time", states Pastor A. J. Webb. Cottage meetings were held in Brother Plane's home. He made his decision to return to the church during these meetings. There are others who participated in the cottage meetings who are planning to be baptized in the near future.

St. Catharines Hosts Federation Meeting

The Fall Community Services Peninsula Federation meeting was held in the St. Catharines church, November 20, 1977 with fifty delegates and workers in attendance.

In charge were Elder E. J. Parchment, Lay Activities Director for the Ontario Conference, Mrs. Barbara Trupp, Federation President for Ontario, and Mrs. Lillian Dodd, Peninsula President.

Sharing the devotional period were district pastor, Elder Kenneth Wiebe, and guest speaker Elder G. D. Strunk, Director of Adventist Health Ministries for Ontario.

Mrs. Dodd welcomed all and introduced the Peninsula Federation officers. The Federation Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Pauline Hey and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Kathleen Bissett. The Communication secretary, Mrs. Bernice Black, displayed a number of clippings which have appeared in the press featuring Adventist Community Services.

In answer to the roll call many inspirational reports were presented by the 14 societies composing the Peninsula Federation.

Elder Parchment's good counsel was much appreciated. All were pleased to learn that the increase in dues will build up the Federation fund so that assistance can be given should a disaster occur beyond the financial ability of the local Community Services organization. The announcement that every second year a combined workshop will be held at Keswick for all the Federations of Ontario was greeted with enthusiasm.

Mrs. Trupp's helpful talk centred around the seven "P's" — Purpose, Prayer, Prepare, Prudence, Praise, Pass the word along and Persevere.

Elder Strunk emphasized the growing importance of the health work as the entering wedge for the message and the most effective in reaching the affluent class who have no need of our welfare ministry. He outlined the many courses which we are now able to offer the public. The Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking, Stress, Weight Control, Nutrition Classes, Cooking Schools and Better Living. Statistics show that those who continue to attend these courses become excellent candidates for cottage meetings and eventual baptism.

Appreciation was given the members of the St. Catharines church for the hospitality shown and the delicious luncheon served.

Bernice Black

Senior College Advisory Committee Meets

One hundred and fifty-four delegates, representing Canada coast-to-coast, met at Canadian Union College on Sunday, December 4, to consider the Senior College project voted by the Union Session in 1976. For many delegates this was the first time they had ever had the opportunity of visiting the campus. Several comments were heard about the beauty and suitability of the location, even though it was snow-covered at the time.

The new Physical Education complex, although not completely finished, is fully functional and some visitors were able to avail themselves of a "Physical Fitness Evaluation" on the special equipment provided for that purpose.

Dr. I. D. Higgins, Academic Dean, gave a report of first semester enrollments for the past seven years, which indicated a good increase for 1977-78. The report indicated that this term Alberta had the highest enrolment with 55 students, and Ontario was next highest with 37 students enrolled. The totals were:—

71/72	72/73	73/74	74/75	75/76	76/77	77/78
93	108	98	123	96	122	170

Reports from the industries indicated that the farm, Parkland Furniture, Parkland Color Press and Parkland Construction were performing well and making a contribution to the college in net profits and just as importantly, in student labor.

Mr. Jack Cookson, M.L.A. for the Lacombe area, spoke briefly of his own happy association with the college. He mentioned that several other M.L.A.'s had visited the campus and all were prepared to support the application for free-standing, degree-granting status as it was presented in caucus and in the legislature.

President Matthews advised that the brief for presentation to the Minister of Education was almost in its final stages. It should be presented before the end of the year, then it will be just a matter of time before it is considered by the legislature. Hopefully this will be during the spring sitting.

At a meeting of the Canadian Union Conference Executive Committee held on the following day an action was taken designating Sabbath, January 7, as a day of thanksgiving for the progress that has been made on the Senior College project, and of fasting and prayer for a favorable decision by the legislators of Alberta as they give consideration to amendments to the Universities Act which will permit the establishment of a Canadian Adventist University to serve the young people of Canada.

Are You A Practising Christian?

"As a Christian layman I have, on examining myself in a duty-bound manner, discovered that I and most persons who claim to be Christian in thinking, are very weak in acting out the part of a true Christian." This is what a viewer of the It Is Written program in British Columbia stated in a recent letter.

Could this be true of Seventh-day Adventists? We think we are Christians, but how do we live? What do our friends and neighbors see and hear? Could it be that we are lacking that inner experience needful for the full infilling of the Holy Spirit?

The life of Jesus Christ as recorded in the Gospels is the true example of Christian practice. He had a real interest in the welfare of people. That is the reason for His coming to this earth. He visited the poor and associated with the outcast. He fed the hungry and healed the sick. He taught the willing and preached to the multitude. He gave the thirsty water from the eternal fountain of truth.

The remnant church has the same commission as that which characterized the life of Christ. Pure religion is to visit the fatherless, the widows, feed the poor and care for the sick. The greatest and most important part of the commission is to point people to Jesus Christ as their Redeemer and Lord. The Christian deeds of kindness are to help open the door of the soul so that the Gospel may enter into the life and change it.

We are to carry the Gospel to every man's door. Radio, television, literature and personal contacts are the methods at our disposal. Thousands of people respond to the Radio and TV programs every year. We have the responsibility, as ministry and laity, to contact every person who has responded to try to cultivate that initial interest.

We also have the responsibility of supporting the complete church program, including Radio, TV, newspapers, literature, with our money with which God has blessed us.

I appreciate the support of Adventists in Canada. You have done well. We still have a great task to do but I know you will continue to arise to every occasion to finish God's work in Canada. God bless all of you.

Voice of Prophecy Offerings Decline

A report from Voice of Prophecy headquarters shows that during the first 10 months of 1977, gifts from Canadian members and listeners totaled one-sixth less than during the same period of 1976.

This is a serious decline in income for the radio ministry of the church. If this trend continues, it will be necessary to begin dropping the Voice of Prophecy broadcast from some stations in Canada beginning in January. As many as 27 stations may have to be cancelled.

The goal for radio coverage in Canada is to have a primary signal for every local area. Up until three or four years ago, it was impossible to even come close to this goal. However, because of the liberality of members and other listeners across our country, the Voice of Prophecy has nearly reached the goal of full coverage. It would really be too bad if it were necessary to cut back now.

Unfortunately, a similar financial situation presently exists for the Voice of Prophecy in the United States, so it is impossible for the international headquarters to subsidize the programs in Canada to a greater extent than is already being done.

As you perhaps know, every dollar given to the Voice of Prophecy by members and listeners in Canada goes to pay for radio time here or for follow-up materials (books, Bible lessons, radio logs, etc.) to be used within Canada. None of the administrative or general overhead expenses of the radio ministry are charged against the Canadian budget.

Gifts to balance this year's budget for Canadian radio time are needed before the end of December. Everyone is encouraged to prayerfully consider this matter and to help if it is possible.

All gifts from persons in Canada are acknowledged with a Canadian receipt that is good for tax-deduction purposes. Gifts may be sent to: Voice of Prophecy, Box 3800, Vancouver, British Columbia V6B 3Z1.

As we see signs around us that Christ's second coming is drawing nearer, let us work together to reach every person with the gospel message.

Why?

The Canadian government department of Health and Welfare reported that the 1974-75 sales of tobacco products amounted to over $716 million. According to the November 1 issue of The Journal, published by the Addiction Research Foundation, in Ontario alone during 1976, 54 out of every 100 drivers killed in collisions had been drinking.

As born-again Christians, we have been placed in the world not to condemn the wrong, but to make right. Not to cry "unclean" but to point the way to the fountain for cleansing. Not to damn but to save. He came not to call the just but the sinners.

It is our privilege to offer a better way, and then let the truth conquer by its own might.

The lawmakers of our land, the professional offices in our towns and cities, institutions of correction and learning should receive Listen. Would it not be a good investment to supply our own academies and colleges with the Journal of Better Living?

The 1978 campaign rate for Listen is only $5.85 per subscription in Canada.

Welcome Back, Elder Weis

Elder C. C. Weis is well-known by many of our members. He is returning to his native Canada to help develop the Senior College.

Brother Weis' home was at Leader, Saskatchewan. He attended Battleford Academy, then later what is now known as C.U.C., from which he graduated, before entering the ministry in British Columbia.

He has served his Master and church in various capacities in Canada, the United States, as well as in overseas fields. His recent ministry has been with the world headquarters' office, the General Conference in Washington, D.C.

Now Elder Weis has responded favorably to our invitation to serve as Development Officer for the Canadian Senior College project. Brother Weis comes well-prepared for this heavy responsibility.

We invite your prayers in his behalf for there is a great work to be done.
