TOGETHER IN SERVICE

New Emphasis for Church's Eight Missionary Journals

Sweeping changes have been instituted by Pacific Press and Southern Publishing Association to mark 1979 as the year of the Church's eight missionary journals.

Signs, a Pacific Press product, will be produced for mass distribution at the lowest possible price. Sixteen pages of full color and short articles will dominate the journal on a high quality paper. Single subscriptions will be $3.30.

These Times, printed by Southern Publishing Association, will be a 36 page journal utilizing a four color cover and two colors throughout. Single subscriptions will cost $5.50.

El Centinela (Spanish) and La Sentinelle (French) will also be available at $4.00, while Oznake (Ukrainian) and Sinais (Portuguese) will be billed at $3.00. All four non-English journals are produced monthly in two colors.

Ethnic groups will continue to be served by Message and Israelite. Message, the 36-page journal for Blacks, will be printed seven times yearly at a cost of $4.00. Israelite, a quarterly journal, will be $3.00 for a year's subscription.

Bulk purchases to one address will be discounted in price, depending on the quantity ordered. Journals mailed outside the United States may require extra postage, however. Full details are available from your church lay activities secretary or the Adventist Book Centre serving your area. Prices will remain in effect through December 31, 1979.

One promotional crusade for all eight journals will be conducted in every church throughout the North American Division.

A Bold Change – A Great Improvement

A very bold change—and a very great improvement—has been made in our missionary journals for the coming year. Our 8 missionary journals will be offered in all of our churches together, so that church members everywhere may select the journals they feel will be most effective in converting their friends and relatives.

This great new missionary-journal concept was requested long ago by our new General Conference President Neal Wilson and has been urged forward by the presidents of all our union conferences.

All our missionary journals proclaim the love of God. All offer forgiveness through Christ, all announce the imminent return of our Saviour. All of them uphold Jesus on every page. And all are designed to appeal to the secular mind in these materialistic times. Now, for the first time, you can choose which ones will best meet the needs of each person on your prayer list.

It was the glorious vision of Ellen White that our literature might be "scattered like the leaves of autumn". And the angels John saw were carrying the truth about our gracious God to "every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people".

God's message for the millions. What a goal! How important that it be fulfilled with time so short!

Today, with the new 8-in-1 package, all-church promotion, and the long-hoped-for dream can be at last fulfilled.

Our missionary journals in a million homes! Let's pray God we will reach that goal and pass it this year!

A Million-dollar Offering from 400 People?

It Is Written on Prime Time Across America?

For years dreamers among Adventist leaders have prayed for and toyed with the idea of getting our message to the nation on television. And not just in the early Sunday morning religious ghetto section. What could happen if an Adventist telecast could be seen by millions in the prime evening viewing hours?

So far prime time has been out of the reach of Adventist television producers, but that is changing.

On a recent weekend several hundred people, mostly church members, came to Los Angeles at the invitation of It Is Written. The printed invitation said it would be "a weekend of Christian fellowship and challenging advance".

It proved to be exactly that. Nearly three-quarters of a million dollars was pledged that weekend. It is likely, when all of the contacts are in, the total will far exceed $1 million for saturating North America with It Is Written.

Elder R. R. Frame, head of the Adventist Media Center in Thousand Oaks, Calif., called the meeting "a first for the church". The facts substantiated his beliefs. Never before had members gotten together in this manner from such a wide area for such a purpose. They came from such diverse areas as Canada, Bermuda, Australia and from all sections of the United States.

Others, looking at the significance of the weekend get-together, called it the most important meeting of the church in the last 50 years.

Guest speaker Emilio Knechtle with Pastor and Mrs. George Vandeman.

Neal C. Wilson, newly elected president of the General Conference, unable to be present because of appointments in Europe, sent his greetings via a sound-on-film message.

Wilson pointed out problems facing communicators in the 1970s and '80s.

"One doesn't get very far in reaching four billion people in the world, or even those in the large American cities, with personal contacts," he said. "Consequently we have to use words and the electronic media. What an unusual gift God gave us in words."

Following reports from the staff members, the audience listened to Vandeman make his simple appeal. He presented a $6.6 million budget which included prime-time costs for the top 50 U.S. and Canadian markets. The figures covered costs of production and follow-up, as well as 15 percent for advertising.

"Our experience has shown that judicious use of advertising dollars for the telecast produces excellent results," he asserted.

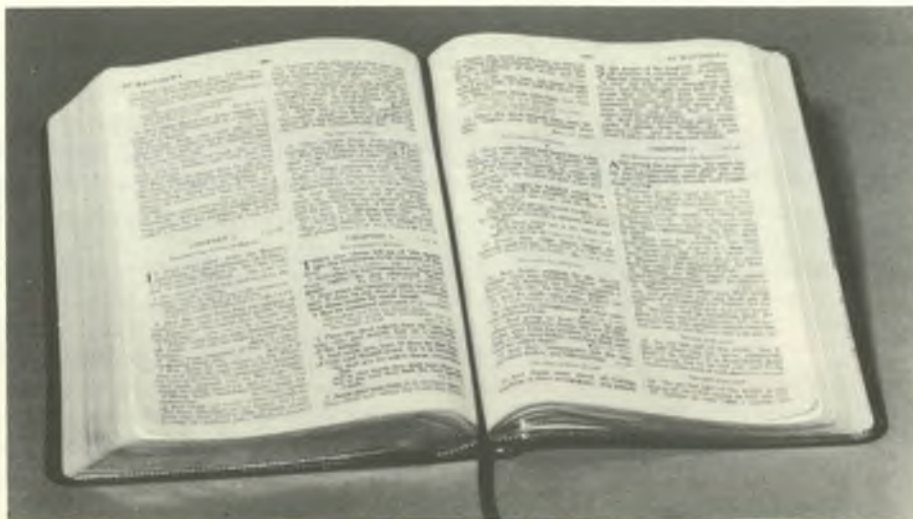

In the budget resume Vandeman said slightly over $2 million would come from General and local conference appropriations; $2.75 million from direct-mail fund-raising from members and viewers using the Heritage Bible Plan; and $1.75 million from Friends for Funding, the name given to the heavy supporters of the telecast.

The response from the group in attendance was excellent. The first steps in a program of television evangelism, unmatched in Adventist history, had been taken.

What of the future? Plans are under way to implement the actions approved by the initial Friends for Funding group. It will take many months to get geared up so all of the top 50 markets will be carrying It Is Written during the prime, heavy-viewer listening period. The saturation of all North America depends on every believer taking seriously the challenge of the Heritage Bible Plan, the details of which were recently sent to every Adventist home.

The doors are open. The funds are coming in. With the blessings of God, great things lie ahead for the Adventist Church.

Should Exercise Be a Test of Fellowship?

by G. D. Strunk, Director
Adventist Health Ministries

The Seventh-day Adventist Church takes a firm stand against smoking, and rightfully so. Persons who are still smoking are not to be baptized. Members who begin smoking are to be dealt with instantly for the sake of the church and the sake of the fallen individual. The practice of smoking reveals that the individual concerned has lost the grand sense of God's holy presence. For some reason Jesus is no longer precious to him or her. His inspiring, drawing power which ennobles behaviour and refines the taste is not felt.

But we have a blind spot. Could it be that those who are able but fail to follow an adequate exercise program are just as guilty as the smoker? Is it possible that they too are not holding Jesus high enough in their vision that they are not obeying His commands? Could they be shortening their term of service to God and polluting their own bodies with internal metabolic waste through a lack of exercise just as much, if not more, than the smoker who does exercise?

The June, 1968 issue of the American Journal of Public Health, pp. 19, 25 reveals that deaths by heart attacks are more prevalent among inactive non-smokers than among active smokers. And that if a person were to suffer a heart attack the chances of death within the first 48 hours for the inactive non-smoker is 4 times as great as the active smoker.

Exercise & Heart Attacks
Deaths for 1,000 men per year

	Inactive	Active
Total Pop.	8.5	4.2
Non-Smokers	6.3	3.1
Smokers	10.9	5.8
Deaths within 48 hrs.	3.8	0.9

Exercise has been scientifically proven to control at least eight of the ten recognized risk factors for coronary heart disease. According to the exhaustive research of Dr. Kenneth Cooper (aerobics Institute, Dallas, Texas), family history (i.e. heredity, age, sex), and smoking are the only two coronary risk factors that cannot be improved or controlled through a proper program of vigorous exercise.

It's easy to condemn someone for doing something visibly wrong, like smoking. But suppose the axe were to fall on those who "invisibly" fail to do that which is right, like exercising.

The current interest in jogging and exercising has not been in vogue long enough to have produced many hard statistics on the value of activity. But recently Dr. Ralph Paffenbarger of the Stanford University School of Medicine released the results of an impressive longitudinal study in which he determined the exercise habits of 17,000 Harvard graduates, age 35 to 74. His results were astounding. Those who had spent less than 2,000 calories in exercise per week were 64 percent more likely to suffer heart attacks than those who spent more than 2,000 calories per week.

That much weekly exercise is equivalent to walking 20 miles per week at 15 minutes per mile. That's one hour of walking daily 4-5 days per week at 4 m.p.h. Or you may run, if you are in condition, 15-20 miles per week, which will only take 2½-3 hours; e.g. 30 minutes of jogging 5 days a week. Incidentally, it doesn't take this much to alter one's metabolism and thus control weight.

The figure of 64% shows that the death rate or risk of dying of the underexercised and unbreathed is about the same as those who smoke (70% according to the Surgeon-General). or those who are 20% overweight (71% greater risk).

Could it be that those who don't exercise have forfeited their advantage over the smoker and had better not criticize smoking? No, smoking is still an unnecessary insult that people do to themselves and those around them. It is wholly unnecessary for life. But failure to exercise is also an insult to God's living machinery. It is a failure to do that which is necessary for life. Is the case for exercise overstated?

"The chief if not the only reason why many become invalids is that the blood does not circulate freely, and the changes in the vital fluid, which are necessary to life and health, do not take place. They have not given their bodies exercise nor their lungs food, which is pure, fresh air. . . .The more we exercise, the better will be the circulation of the blood. More people die for want of exercise than through overfatigue; very many more rust out than wear out." Testimonies Vol. 2 p. 526.

As Seventh-day Adventists we are not of course afraid of death. But we should be afraid of premature death brought on by our own neglect which cuts short our service for God. And perhaps more important we should be afraid of a form of life that lowers our spirituality, and reduces the quality production of our minds.

"Those who give proper attention to physical development will make greater advancement in literary lines than they would if their entire time were devoted to study. . . .Physical inaction lessens not only mental, but moral power." Education, pp. 208, 209.

"Healthful exercise in the open air will. . . .be a great help in spirituality." Medical Ministry, p. 81.

Our responsibility to exercise is not just because it is currently fashionable or popular to do so. Nor is it because we now have statistical evidence that exercise prolongs life, or helps to avoid disease or makes our spirits bright. We have a command from God in this matter whether we understand the reasons or not. If He says exercise, we should exercise. And sure enough, He does say, "Exercise!"

"When the weather will permit, all who can possibly do

World's Top Solicitor

Alexander Vickers who is presently a member of the Oshawa College Park Church, started Ingathering in the Maritimes at the age of 21. Mr. Vickers is now 84 and has been Ingathering for the past 63 years.

While Mr. Vickers was employed at Kingsway College he established a business acquaintanceship with a man whose family owned a hardware supply company in Oshawa. After having done business with this man for five years, Mr. Vickers decided to make an Ingathering call to his office. He remembers that the company's first donation was $2.00. That was ten years ago. As Mr. Vickers went back each year to see this man about a donation he used the opportunity to become his friend. He visited him often bringing him books as well as a new way of living.

Mr. Vickers made his annual Ingathering call recently, but this time the man said to him, "God has been so good to me! He has blessed my business beyond my fondest dreams." He expressed appreciation for the work of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. He also indicated a desire to be baptized and unite with the church. He then opened the drawer of his desk and handed Mr. Vickers a cheque for $15,000.00 and said, "Your church does a great work and I am happy to give!"

Elder L. A. Shipowick (right), Lay Activities Director of the Canadian Union rejoices with Alexander Vickers as they view a cheque for $15,000.00 that they received from a business friend.

Another soul on the verge of the kingdom!

This man's total donations amount to $60,000.00, half of which was given in the past two years. Mr. Vickers is very happy about his generous contributions to the Ingathering Appeal, but his greatest joy comes from having had the privilege to share the "Good News" about God's wonderful gift to the world.

Enthusiasm has never been so great at Canadian Union College as eleven students responded to the challenge "Go ye into all the world", as they committed themselves to serve as Student Missionaries in various areas of the world field.

You must believe their dedication for this group of fine Christian young people pledged themselves to raise the funds to accomplish the impossible for the Lord. Church programs have been planned with nearly every church in the Alberta Conference. The group will take the Sabbath School and Church Services in various churches to raise the much needed funds to cover the expenses of travel to the various places of service in the world field.

We invite you to rejoice and pray with us so that the biggest and the most unbelievable work might be accomplished by this representative group of our Canadian youth.

Six Staff Members Baptized At West Park Manor

West Park Manor's Chaplain, Staff, and Department Heads have a definite Christian goal while on duty. Christianity in action reaps results.

In the last fiscal year ending November, 1978, five nursing staff members and one wife of a nursing staff member joined the remnant church by baptism.

We especially thank Mrs. Rose Kwon who had a prominent part in bringing these six people to Christ.

ESTEVAN BABY DEDICATION

Melody Edith Maitland, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Maitland, was dedicated to the Lord. Pastor A. Atkinson admonished Brother and Sister Maitland to continually stay close to the Lord as they endeavour to raise their family for the Lord's service.

Moose Jaw Baptism and Dedication

Sabbath, December 16 the Moose Jaw church welcomed, with joy 3 new members by baptism, and witnessed the dedication of two children.

Last May Mr. and Mrs. Randy Larson began attending the evangelistic meetings conducted by Pastor Rudy James. When learning of the Sabbath truth Mrs. Larson was convicted and began keeping the Sabbath. Later, her husband began attending. We now rejoice with this couple in their new found faith.

Michael LaLonde was introduced to the beliefs of Seventh-day Adventists by a close friend, Janet Froehlich. Through study and prayer the Holy Spirit convicted Michael to follow his Lord through the waters of baptism. Relatives and friends present to witness his baptism were deeply inspired by his decision.

Baptism of Six at Regina Church

The Regina church is rejoicing at the recent addition of six new members to the congregation. In November Miss Freda Fiege joined as a direct result of the Christian witness of Dr. and Mrs. Ed Lambert. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Herrbrugh studied with Mrs. Mildred Abbott who made her decision in December. Four students from Curtis Horne Junior Academy baptismal class of 11 also took their stand for Jesus. Tyke Tataryn, Todd Ramsay, Cheryl Martin, and Cathy Bennett have already been baptized. These are a result of the work of the Holy Spirit, dedicated Christian teachers, and God-fearing parents. We wish to thank Pastor Al Oetman for his work in leading these precious souls to the foot of the cross.

so ought to walk in the open air every day, summer and winter. But the clothing should be suitable for the exercise, and the feet should be well protected. A walk, even in winter, would be more beneficial to the health than all the medicine the doctors may prescribe." Testimonies, Vol. 2, p. 529.

So, even if the world stops jogging, Seventh-day Adventists should keep right on moving because the Lord says to.

No, I'm not really advocating that exercise be a test of fellowship. But I do believe our posture on health matters should be consistent. Those who smoke are in a position to point a finger back at us if our way of living is not better than their's on other habits just as important.

You feel you don't have time? Then it's time to reorder our priorities so that God's commands can be obeyed, just like reordering our time and business so we can keep the Sabbath. It can be an unselfish act of love to take the time for our own physical culture if it will enable us to render better and longer and more loving service for God.

Holiday Season V.B.S. Follow-up at Bowmanville

A Holiday Season Vacation Bible School follow-up program was conducted by the Bowmanville church in the public library auditorium.

Over seventy children attended the Sunday afternoon program and over half of those attending were from non-Adventist homes. The children enthusiastically welcomed the variety of activities which had been carefully planned by the V.B.S. staff.

Invitations to the program had been mailed to each child attending last summer's V.B.S.

Highlights of the program were the singing of carols and other songs learned during V.B.S.; a story narrated by Mrs. Lloyd Reile; the craft period during which the children assembled a handsome evergreen and candle centerpiece; and refreshments reflecting the holiday season.

There was a good response from several of the parents, especially when they realized that the afternoon was provided free of charge as a community service.

Thanks go to Linda Toop, Dorothy Hayward and their staff of willing workers who readily agreed that it was a real reward to see the eager smiles on the faces of boys and girls who recognized their teachers from Vacation Bible School.

50th Jubilee for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connors

The Frank Connors and 5 of their 7 children: Bob, Gail, Frank, Arlene and Alan.

More than 100 friends attended an open house for Frank and Ann Connors in Oshawa on the night of January 3, to mark the happy occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Connors began the evening by repeating the vows of love and loyalty they had first made in Port Arthur, Ontario in 1929, at the United-Presbyterian church, two years before Frank joined the Adventist church there. Pastor Harry Sackett of the College Park church led the sentimental service, which included an adaptation of the lovely song "Because", sung by Susan Sayers, accompanied by Christine Phillips. The couple's attendants were Les and Ruth Mohns, longtime friends currently living in Lansing, Michigan.

Frank spent much of his life in the colporteur work in the Lakehead area, in Manitoba-Saskatchewan, and more recently was Book and Bible House manager in Oshawa until his retirement three years ago. Still very active in the community, he is treasurer of the College Park Church School, and maintains the book rack program for physicians in Southern Ontario. This fall he has managed three orange shipments from Florida for the benefit of the church school.

The couple was presented with a cash gift from the families of their seven children including Rose Connors, widow of their son Ken, Gail Robinson, Bob, Frank and Alan Connors, all of Oshawa, Arlene McDonald of Willowdale, and Diane Connors of Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Plaques and floral tributes were sent from Premier William Davis of Ontario, Oshawa Mayor Jim Potticary, Member of Parliament Ed Broadbent, as well as from the Union and local Conference offices of the church.

All who love and admire this fine couple thank God for the example of their faith and their love, and wish them an abundance of the mercies of Heaven in the many golden years to come.

Five Baptized at South River

Five precious souls were baptized at South River on January 13 by Pastor Orville Parchment.

Kari Palomen a native of Finland, was influenced to accept the Third Angels Message through studies given him by Pastor Orpana. Through the friendship of Mrs. Lucy Nisbett and others at Woodland Park, Jim Coles became acquainted with the message and it was the combined influence of Pastor Gordon Smedley, Pastor Parchment and the Pollett team together with the Holy Spirit which prompted Ken and Evelyn Plains to decide on baptism. The It Is Written telecast brought the knowledge of God's truth to Eric Ross who joined the North Bay group.

Commendably innovative, and indicative of the Canadian Union administration's firm commitment to the "Right Arm", was the recent invitation extended to our Adventist doctors and dental surgeons resident in the community.

The officers of the Union demonstrated their continuing cultivation of meaningful liaison with our medical fraternity and their families, and received their guests at a dinner and social evening convened at Union headquarters.

On such occasions it is heartening and stimulating to re-discover among these professionals dedication to, and identification with, the high ideals implicit in our unique approach to the ministry of healing.

These philosophically-oriented men and women, possessed of medical skills and competence, are highly respected in their communities. They elaborate and interpret, by their life style, their daily walk with their great Exemplar, the Master Physician. With compassion and prayerful concern they minister to their fellowmen and promote the aims and objectives of the strong "Right Arm" of the message. President Lloyd Reile, an ardent enthusiast and articulate supporter of our medical work throughout Canada, welcomed our visitors and spoke appropriately and appreciatively. He requested, in behalf of our guests, an updated presentation of our healthcare institutions based upon recent surveys.

We are pleased to share that report with the MESSENGER family and by way of preamble it should be stated that, in the main, our institutions are administered by dedicated men and women whose academic preparation is at university level.

It is with a sense of pride that one associates with these executives whose competence is confirmed by Canadian and U.S. universities, by provincial governments, the Canadian Hospital Association and other bodies associated with healthcare accreditation.

This pursuit of excellence, culminating in academic adequacy, is now encouraged, if not indeed demanded, by the boards of trustees responsible for the operation of our denominationally-sponsored institutions. High standards of domiciliary and clinical care are peremptorily prescribed by regulatory agencies particularly where the fiscal component emanates from government. In this vital area of concern, our record is good and our achievement commendable.

Rest Haven General Hospital — Sidney, British Columbia.

The year '78 is a sad and a memorable date for the denomination and for the British Columbia Conference in particular. After fifty-six years of Adventist direction and control, Rest Haven closed its hospitable doors, dictated by government fiat, and made way for the modern, active treatment facility, The Saanich Peninsula Hospital.

To Rest Haven, and to all who served in her we say, "Thanks for the memory!" — a blessed, a precious memory, indeed!

Sherwood Park Nursing Home — Sherwood Park, Alberta.

This 100-bed ideally-located facility, continues in its well-organized service to a grateful complement of the elderly. But adding to the responsibility of administration and nursing staff are several young people with varying degrees of dis-orientation and disability placed in custody of the Home by a department of government by no means insensitive to the constant availability of clinical resourcefulness and tender loving care.

Administrator Fowler has a penchant for "drawing boards" and "blue prints" and is enthused and excited by the beautiful church now taking shape adjacent to the nursing home. The sanctuary will seat 240 and the lower level will have four Sabbath School classrooms, a 16,000 sq. ft. auditorium (fellowship area), a complete catering facility adjacent to the auditorium, and joyfully and hopefully Administrator Fowler expects the official opening by the middle of the year.

Fowler is a Director of the Alberta Hospital Association, and Chairman of the Provincial Nursing Homes Committee whose institutional members operate some 6,500 beds. He also finds time to chair the Community Services Committee as a Director of the Edmonton-St. Cona Rotary Club.

It is commendable that in addition to his administrative portfolio, at Sherwood Park, this energetic individual is able to identify with so many other claims upon his precious time.

Swift Current Nursing Home — Swift Current, Saskatchewan.

The chairman of the board, and colleague trustees, had no hesitation in appointing Keith Heinrich as their executive officer for the Swift Current facility. His prior apprenticeship with Administrator Dave Heinrichs, allied to his own initiative, leading to the successful completion of professional preparatory university level, confirmed him as "apparent" to his predecessor.

This 70-bed "Home from home" is extremely well run and beautifully maintained.

The youthful staffers, radiate cheerfulness and confer dignity upon their tasks as they relate kindly and compassionately to those entrusted to their care. As we of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference are impressed by the painstaking planning and research of the board of trustees in locating their nursing home in ideal settings. This has eventuated without exception and constitutes a blessing to all who find sanctuary within the heart of Nature's resplendent beauty.

Sunnyside Nursing Home — Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

The designation accorded this "Sunnyside" of the street is most appropriate whether you are inside or out! There's an atmosphere here developed and cultivated over a period of years. It's difficult to describe in a few words. Maybe it's the warmth, coziness, friendliness, all generating happiness and contentment.

This, of course, reflects the dedication and devotion of both prior and present administrations.

Ken Reimche's insatiable quest for academic excellence has recently culminated in his M.P.H. degree from the University of Loma Linda. Congratulations!

If potential plans eventuate, Administrator Reimche will find his ground-level activity dwarfed and over-shadowed by an eminent Senior Citizens highrise hopeful to be operated under the auspices of Saskatchewan Conference Corporation. (See Artist's Concept next page.)

This is a tremendous undertaking, and Reimche gives consummate proof that we can overcome the mountains!

This ambitious project is to be known as the "Sunnyside" Senior Citizens' Extended Housing Development. It will offer contained units, dual occupancy, designed to accommodate either couples, singles, or singles.

West Park Manor Personal Care Home — Winnipeg, Manitoba.

"Who's Who?" in our Canadian Nursing Home system has to be Administrator Ed. Gallant whose executive direction has made West Park Manor a distinctive domicile and a much-sought-after clinical facility. This 150-bed institution — the largest in our Canadian chain — offers characteristics identifiable with active treatment care prescribed and formalized by government. Residents accommodated here represent about 50% of the Home's census.

During our survey, President Soloniuk invited our attendance at meetings of the Boards. Trustees are commended for their insistence upon the preservation of those Christian ideals and dedicated service accorded denominational emphasis throughout our world-wide system of health care.

West Park Manor, when weighed in the balance of performance, is found not wanting in this vital area of institutional responsibility.

Park Manor Personal Care Home — Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Our enthusiasm for this annual survey of Park Manor is always at meridian!

This 100-bed attractive, modern structure is located on an admirable site and measures up to the prescribed criteria relating to accessibility, transportation, public utilities and other related services.

William Olson, formerly of the administrative branch of the University of Alberta, continues to magnify his office and chart a steady institutional course as with native zeal and enthusiasm he continues at the administrative helm.

He is a man with a sense of mission. His life style and Christian example are reflected in the response of the staff as they serve with diligence and dedication and implement the aims and objectives of the Home.

Recently, Chairman Soloniuk and administrator Olson received the Prime Minister of Canada, Pierre Elliot Trudeau, and conducted him on a tour of the institution. This outstanding event represents public relations at an all-time-high and we extend congratulations!

Kingsway Pioneer Senior Citizens' Project — Oshawa, Ontario.

At this writing, erection of this accommodation is proceeding to plan. The officers of the Ontario Conference continue to merit and receive expressions of heartfelt gratitude from potential residents whose prayers will be answered upon completion of this humanitarian expression of concern of President Beck and his executive associates.

May heaven's benediction continue to rest upon the Conference administration as they provide shelter and sanctuary for those who, through the years, have borne the heat and the burden of their days of heavy responsibility in the cause of God.

Elder Ray Matthews, of the Canadian Union, as in so many building projects across the field, was also available to the brethren in this local undertaking. He has rendered invaluable service, through the years, in such vital matters of location, feasibility, structure and the many other important facets involved in a building program.

Eventually, the executive committee of the Conference will name their administrator for this facility which, it is hoped, will be ready for occupancy later in the year.

North York Branson Hospital – Toronto, Ontario.

The historical profile of Branson begins with its inception in 1957 followed by an expansion, in '60, of an additional 80 beds. In 1966, Branson's Board, with the fiscal participation of Federal, Provincial, Borough of North York and Metro Toronto treasuries, proceeded with the building and equipping of the 335-bed East Wing at a cost of $7,000,000. Negotiations for Branson's further expansion, initiated in 1975, involves additions and renovations again with a multi-million dollar tag.

During the past two or three years, the progressive Board, joined by a determined medical staff, have given strong support to an indefatigable administration. Bureaucratic insinuation of the project has resulted in unforeseen delays with the dollar component in escalation.

Lloyd Bell, Branson's astute and dedicated administrative director of this 430-bed active treatment hospital, has persisted in his negotiations with the Ministry of Health. The rewarding sequel is that it is hoped to commence expansion by the Spring, and a glance at the artist's concept of the completed complex, indicates an amazing metamorphosis of this, one of the finest health care centres in the Adventist chain.

Rest Haven Memorial Nursing Home – Saint John, New Brunswick.

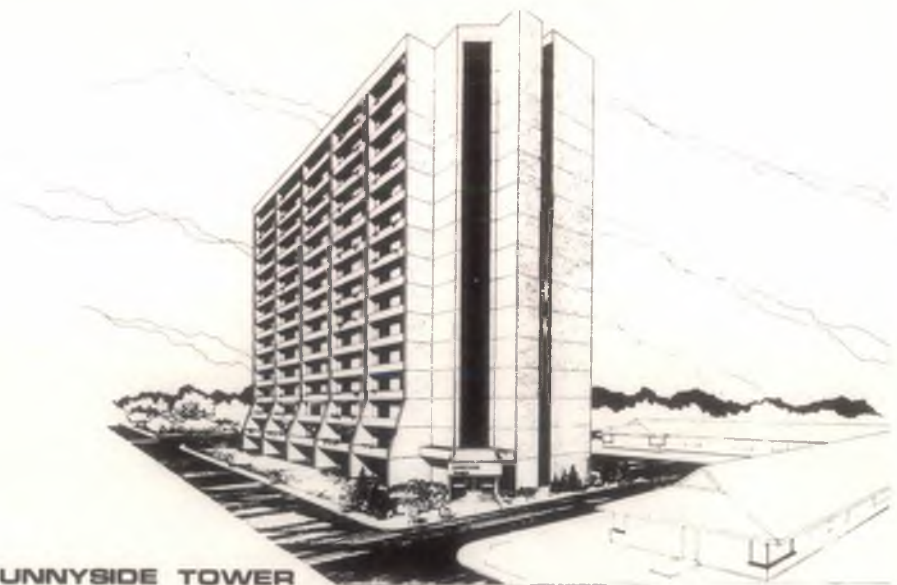

Perpetuating the fond memory of the Rest Haven facility, our first hospital in Canada, the Maritime's Executive Committee have appropriately named their new institution as a fitting memorial.

The Maritime Conference, headed by its president, Elder Gilbert Andersen, has cultivated close liaison with the government seeking permission to build an Adventist Nursing Home in the Maritimes. Based on our inspection of the site, owned by the Conference, it was frustrating not to be able to proceed with this urgent need of the field. But the waiting period has sharpened our perception and providentially the brethren did not proceed with an alternative plan. Now that the Conference has received government authorization to go ahead, the officers and the entire field are delighted and doxological!

And who better, as administrator of this brand new 70-bed institution, than the former administrator of our Rest Haven General Hospital, Sidney, British Columbia. Professionally equipped, and with experience and expertise in this phase of the health discipline, Lawrence Dunfield already is supervising, with exacting precision and meticulous care, the concrete reality of a cherished dream. In discussing the date for completion, it is learned from Dunfield that the Home hopes to record its initial census in the Fall of the year.

What a pleasure it is to contemplate our own Adventist facility offering shelter and security, peace and contentment, in the city of Saint John, New Brunswick! May God bless the administration, the institution and all who will be privileged to proffer their dedicated service in the days ahead.

Shown in our centrespread are the fine, dedicated men, appointed by the respective conference executive committees, to direct the administrative aspects of our healthcare institutions across Canada.

We are proud and pleased that a number of our administrators and their executive associates are married to graduates of our former Branson Hospital School of Nursing. Their training in this discipline constitutes a distinct advantage as their husbands, responsible for the efficient and compassionate delivery of health services, undertake, day by day their God-ordained task.

It Is Written Seminar in Victoria

The It Is Written Seminar conducted in Victoria, B.C. drew an attendance of some 200 pre-registered Bible students and regular listeners to George Vandeman's program over radio and television.

The Seminar was held at the Empress Hotel, on September 30, 1978, and included a full day of Bible searching and fellowship and a vegetarian dinner served in the Empress's dining room.

Two of the Victoria Church ladies who served as hostesses, were Mrs. Lida Okonsky, and Mrs. Eleanor Button, both having joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church through the It Is Written telecasts. Mrs. Okonsky has served the church for the last two years as Investment Co-ordinator Secretary for 1979.

Follow-up meetings have been held four times a week, two-day sessions for people working at night and elderly people who do not like to come out at night, and two regular evening meetings, conducted by Victoria church pastor, Lynn Baerg.

We are looking for some good results from these sessions. Further meetings are already in the planning stage.

Communication Secretary
Victoria S.D.A. Church

Following a recent Revelation Seminar at Abbotsford one precious soul took his stand for Christ on December 16. Bob Brown found the pamphlet "The Crucifixion Story" on his doorstep last Easter. Through the Bible Study Guides and visits with Pastors Homenchuk and Saylor, he learned of the Advent truth. More seminars are planned in the future.

Cranbrook Company Active in Witnessing

Two Five-Day Plans, Nutrition classes and a seminar are all planned for March and April by the Cranbrook Company and January has already been a busy month. With the new officers taking charge an extra thrust was put forth to unite our church and witness for Christ. The evening of the 12th we started a two-day Soul Winning Seminar, with the help of Elders Rogers, Lennox and Krenzler. After a fellowship dinner on Sabbath, the members received territories and then went out door-to-door. Many requested material and social help as well as Bible studies.

We hope to keep our new Singer filmstrip machine busy with Bible studies in the area and are thankful to Pastor Al Reimche, who has been a real help in getting us organized to do community work.

Donna Stoyanowski
Communication Secretary
Cranbrook S.D.A. Company

On January 13 the Cranbrook Company saw three members ordained. Larry Stoyanowski as Elder; also Michael Fortney as Elder of the Creston Church. Don Stoyanowski was ordained a Deacon. Centenarian Honored at Senior Citizen's Luncheon

Mrs. Ellen Chapman, who reached her centenary, was honored at a Senior Citizen's Luncheon held following the church service on December 16.

Mrs. Chapman was born in England on December 20, 1878, and, after having lived in the three prairie provinces for almost fifty years, moved to Victoria, B.C., where she has been a member of the Victoria church for 27 years.

We wish Mrs. Chapman God's blessings as she continues to serve Him.

THREE BAPTIZED IN YUKON

October 14, 1978, was a day of much rejoicing in the new Whitehorse Seventh-day Adventist Church when Wendie Puckey was baptized to show her desire to follow her Master. Six weeks later at the close of the evangelistic series by Pastor Ron Spear, Daphne Brand and Ying Kwan were also baptized.

Ying's baptism was unique—held out-of-doors in winter! Four carloads drove the two-and-a-half hour trip to Atlin, British Columbia to a "warm" spring. At least it was warmer than the Yukon River. There, with the snow-crowned mountains keeping vigil, Ying was baptized.

These three new members are a strength and joy to our church family. We thank God for their decisions and pray His Presence to be ever with them.

Position on Smoking and Health

The following statement of Position on Smoking and Health was approved by the Executive Committee of the Canadian Council on Smoking and Health at its meeting of November 4, 1978, in Calgary.

This document represents the Council's official and public position on the federal government's role in the field of smoking and health.

Cigarette smoking is the leading cause of preventable death and disease in Canada. The consumption of other tobacco products also constitutes a severe health hazard.

In order to combat this extreme menace to the nation's health and welfare, the Canadian Council on Smoking and Health calls upon the Government to strictly regulate tobacco products and actively oppose their use. This includes legislation to achieve under law:

The complete elimination of all forms of advertising and promotion for tobacco products.

The setting of maximum levels for the poisonous constituents of cigarette smoke beginning with "tar", nicotine and carbon monoxide.

The prominent listing on all packaging and in any other existing advertising of levels of "tar", nicotine and carbon monoxide and of severe warning notices regarding the harm of smoking which should be developed in conjunction with the nation's voluntary health organization.

The strict control of tobacco products similar to that currently applied to substances covered by the Food and Drug Act and the Hazardous Products Act.

The establishment of nonsmoking sections in public conveyances and areas of public and private establishments that are open to the public.

The use of tax measures to increase the price of tobacco products to discourage their use, particularly in ensuring that tobacco products do not become relatively cheaper than other commodities due to inflation.

Furthermore, existing legislation prohibiting the sale of tobacco products to those under sixteen years of age should be rigorously enforced, particularly in regard to controls on unsupervised vending machines.

Further, the Council request the Government to increase its funding for the conduct of:

Extensive campaigns in all media to discourage smoking and the development of and intensive anti-smoking program for schools.

Extensive research to investigate aspects of acquiring and giving up the habit of smoking including aspects that would aid in the development of an effective public education program.

The Council should continue its strong public education program and pursue government action through the support of its member health organizations.

BOOK REVIEW

ORIENTATION FOR NEW ADVENTISTS

by Dick Jewett

"I welcome you into 'The Faith', and pray that you will continue to live by it. The future looks bright and I wish for you a happy beginning. So it's smooth sailing from here on, right? Wrong!"

Obviously the author is no Pollyanna. ORIENTATION FOR NEW ADVENTISTS does not sidestep issues, but Jewett in colorful, conversational style encourages the new Adventist with practical suggestions for daily living the Christian life.

Dick Jewett, M.A. and B.D., is a pastor and author of numerous articles for Adventist Review, Insight, Listen, and the Youth's Instructor. He also is a monthly columnist for These Times, and hosts a radio talk show in San Francisco and directs the Lifeguard Problem Clinic—a counseling and referral centre specializing in first-aid-type treatment for people with problems.

Jewett has also authored two sets of youth Sabbath School lessons.

New Christian Leadership Seminar

After four years of successful operation in which Christian Leadership Seminars have been conducted in all the unions of North America, and several overseas divisions, R. R. Bietz, Director, has announced that the seminar has been restructured to provide even more help in the field of professional administrative growth.

"Instead of an Introductory Seminar and an Advanced Seminar each alternate year, we have combined the two, lengthened the seminar time, and will conduct an in-depth analysis of topics in the field of Christian Management. The new course will contain heavy emphasis on skills in Planning, Management by Objectives, Management of Time, Decision-Making, Communication, Choice of Personnel, and all other related areas. All participants will be challenged, regardless of whether they have participated in other seminars."

The CLS for 1979 will be held September 20 to 27 at Glacier View Camp in Colorado. This seminar is open to all who wish to attend. Those interested should write to Gloria Bowen, Home Study Institute, Takoma Park, MD 20012 before July 1, 1979. Details regarding cost and specific plans will be given to those who write in. Since the seminar has a limit on participants, an early application is suggested.

Coming to Canadian Union College? Don't Forget to Bring Some of These . .

Colleges often brag about their distinguished faculty, their famous alumni, their scholastic programs, and their rare library acquisitions. At CUC, we don't neglect academics, but we believe that a true education also involves training and using the body. For that reason we have a full physical education program with a large fieldhouse, swimming pool, skating rink, playing fields, and plenty of room to run, bicycle, and ski.

Come to CUC and work both your mind and your body.
