

The “Three Angels” Message

Volume XLVIII, No. 11, June 7, 1979 Oshawa, Ontario

Even freezing and losing two toes in the cold Canadian winter could not chill the love that Brother Bill Grimshaw has for the Lord and His imminent return.

What, No Wind?

Adam Bujak

Pastor, Belleville S.D.A. Church

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grimshaw

It happened in 1974 when Brother Grimshaw caught a vision of purchasing an old tug boat, "Helen S", rebuilding and equipping her with four diesel engines. "The first winter on the new 80-year-old boat without heat was the hardest," he says, "that's when I froze my two toes." Five years later "Helen S", whose new name will be "Three Angels" (Rev. 14) is almost ready to take off for her first missionary voyage along the coast line of the Georgian Bay of the Great Lakes, as a summer pilot project.

Brother Grimshaw, member of the Belleville S.D.A. Church, Ontario, asks his fellow believers, "What are WE doing to hasten Christ's return? If we believe what we preach, we had better put our lives out on the line, leave our comfortable dwellings, those who can, and let the people know that HE IS COMING SOON." Plans are presently being finalized for a three months' summer voyage along the coast line of the Georgian Bay. On the boat there will be ten to twelve student literature evangelists, going from port to port. Inhabitants at each port will be contacted with our message filled literature. The presence of such a type of boat itself will be an attraction to people who will be invited on board for weekend Singing Revivals.

These student literature evangelists are being recruited by Elder Tom Knoll, Ontario Conference Publishing Department Director. They will earn their scholarship during the summer living on the boat, thus eliminating boarding and commuting expenses.

A small church of under one hundred members cannot underwrite the expenses connected with such a missionary venture. The Ontario Conference is one of the fastest growing conferences in the North American Division. Its progressive leadership is interested in this project "for areas in our province unentered with the Third Angels Message," says Elder E.C. Beck, the conference president.

Missionary endeavour will be the sole aim of the canvassers. "Selling books, yes," says Sister Sirpa Grimshaw, "but what we will be mainly concerned with is enrolling people in Bible courses." She adds, "If no S.D.A. pastor is available in that area — Bible Correspondence School will be the answer." Their marriage in July 1978 completed their missionary team.

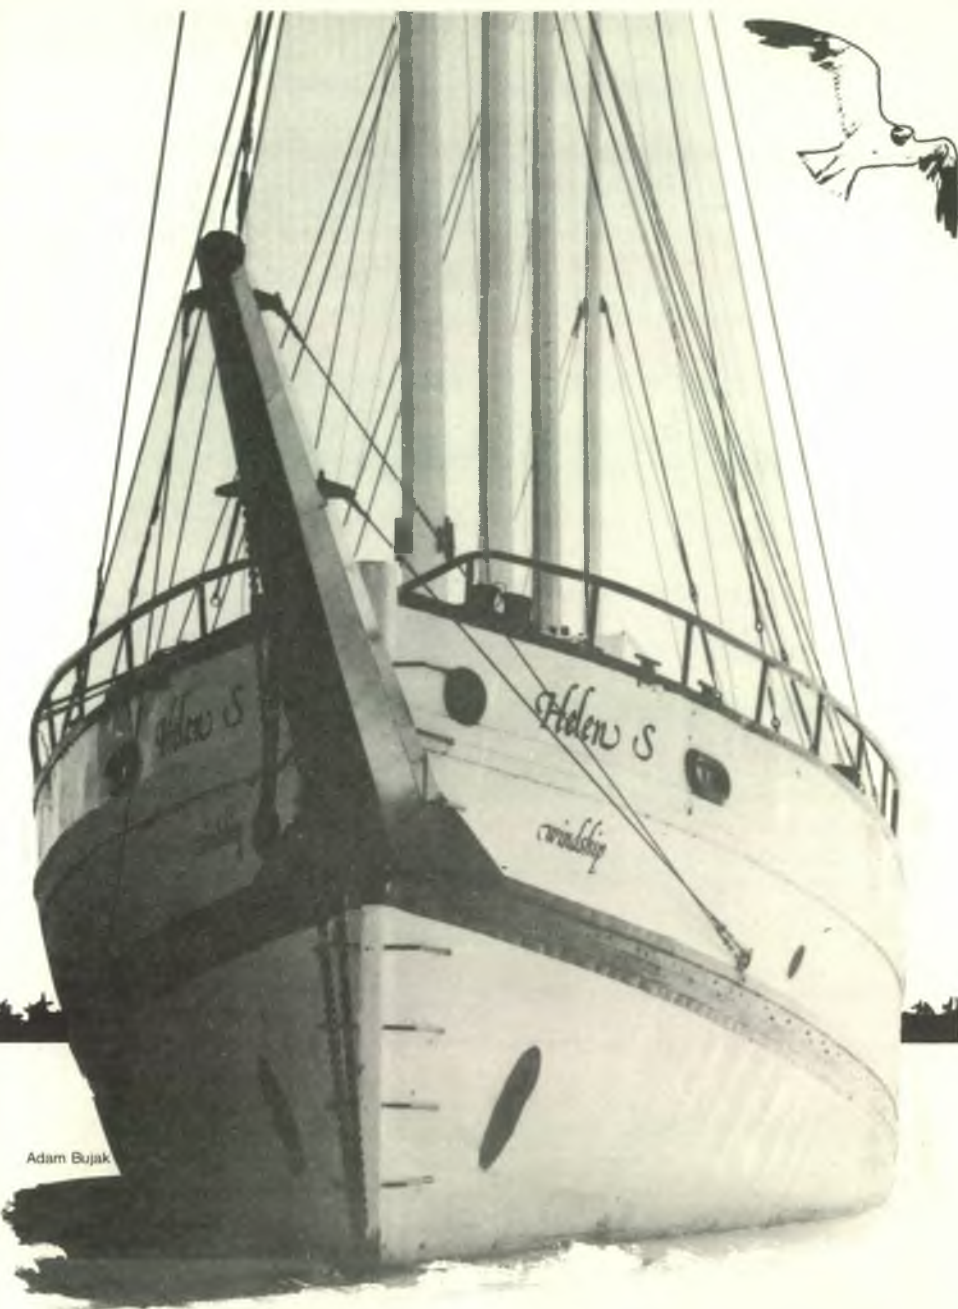

Even before they were married they were involved in all kinds of missionary activities; sending boxes of church periodicals like These Times, Signs of the Times, old Reviews, Guides, Little Friends, Sabbath School lessons and picture rolls to the mission field while giving Bible studies and training Pathfinders.

Built in 1899, the 81-foot-long vessel was originally a steam tug boat. Today after being rebuilt, the "Three Angels" will be the oldest steel ship in Canada and the only four masted schooner with 15 sails. She can also go without wind as she is equipped with four specially installed powerful diesel engines.

Brother Grimshaw poured nearly every penny he had into the project. So far he has invested $68,000 including labour. The ship has been valued at $250,000, but he believes "at today's prices of steel the cost would be $680,000 to build one like her."

The Grimshaws live and work on the boat presently. A recent visit on the deck of the newly renovated vessel found her looking sleek with four bare masts pointing into a spring sky. Below, in a master salon, panelled and floored with knotty pine, are to be found all kinds of missionary books and magazines. Visitors and friends attracted by the boat were reading them and discussing vital issues of life eternal, while a radiant fire was glowing in the fire place. All other cabins are heated by electricity. A galley (kitchen) lined with more gleaming pine, could be the dream for any housewife: walk in freezer, microwave oven, besides all the other equipment you would expect in a well established household. The comfort of this missionary team will be assured by three heads (washrooms), two showers and air-conditioning in the radio room and the main salon.

Recently Brother Grimshaw has been finishing an eight by ten foot year-round greenhouse on deck that will supply the team with fresh vegetables. Surplus will go into the deep freezer. In explaining the function of the greenhouse, Brother Grimshaw maintains that it will be a completely non-waste system. "We will be able to recapture the methane gas, which will be used in cooking," said Brother Grimshaw.

The effort and imagination that has gone into this project may seem almost unbelievable, unless you have met Brother Grimshaw. His long term plans include a year-round missionary ship with a team of skilled individuals, e.g. doctor, dentist, nurse, carpenter, teacher, mechanic, pastor-evangelist, singers. Bill himself is an electrician and his wife a teacher by profession. "It's not an adventure that we are seeking" says 44-year-old Bill, "but service for the Lord."

"We want to become a radio broadcasting ship and a part of the Adventist Radio Network. We envisage in winter months broadcasting Quiet Hour or It Is Written tapes all day long from the shores of places like Bermuda, and in summer returning to the Great Lakes. The boat could be a floating Adventist Book Centre supplying canvassers."

The Grimshaws are looking for ways to be of service to the church and they would like to get in touch with older dedicated church members, perhaps retired professionals, who want to do something for the Lord. Their address is P.O. Box 163, Desoronto, Ontario, K0K 1X0. Brother Grimshaw has read about single missionaries meeting many obstacles but he believes "a team makes the difference."

Wind or no wind, the boat will move according to plan, for when one hears the Spirit of God say "Go," one must obey.

Chase Visits Communication Facilities in Canada

by L. R. Krenzler, Director Communication Department Canadian Union Conference

Elder James Chase, Director of the Department of Communication at the General Conference, spent three days in Quebec and Ontario in April. Elder Chase was asked to take the late Carol Hetzell's place a few months ago.

Elder Chase came to Montreal while George Hermans was taping new French It Is Written (Il Est Ecrit) programs. He was very much interested in the French population of Canada and the challenge it presents to the Adventist church.

He was also able to visit the display of books by the Quebec Publishing Department at a Ladies' Fair in the Velodrome, one of the buildings of the Olympic Stadium Complex.

Sabbath morning was spent in Toronto at the Portuguese Adventist Church where H. M. S. Richards, Sr., was the special guest speaker. Pastor Henry Feyerabend took Elder Chase through the ARTS facilities in the church. Elder Chase is very much interested in the gospel work via the mass media and commended Pastor Feyerabend for the fine facility and equipment, and the good programs being produced and aired.

Elder Chase was also interested in other Adventist institutions in the area. Canadians are pleased that he is taking a keen interest in the gospel work here and in the whole world field. The world church has one objective, finish God's work on earth and go to Heaven. The challenge in Canada is: Looking and Hastening. — 2 Peter 3:12.

New It Is Written Programs Added to Canadian Series

by Suzanne Hula, Assistant Public Relations It Is Written

A more effective television ministry in Canada will result from the addition of 26 new It Is Written programs produced April 23–27 in Montreal. They join a repertoire of 40 telecasts created last December, for a total of 66 new shows to air in Canada in 1979–80.

On these two occasions, 29 English programs featuring George Vandeman and 37 telecasts for the French Il Est Ecrit series with George Hermans were taped at Champlain Productions, CFCF-TV Channel 12, according to executive producer David Jones and his associate Warren Nelson.

Among the new shows created during the recent April session was "Altars Aren't Finished", taped in both French and English. It examines the sanctuary service and illustrates it with an actual model one-third the size of the original, set against a backdrop picturing the camp of Israel stretching out before Mt. Sinai.

Commenting on the crew's expertise, David Jones said, "We worked with a highly-trained group of TV professionals, about half of whom have been with us since the first taping session in Canada in 1973".

English programs must be taped in Canada in order to qualify them as Canadian-content productions. Since the number of programs broadcast in this country but produced elsewhere can be no more than 40% of the total, It Is Written has a better chance to air and to gain more favorable release times if it's taped in Canada. There are now 96 English Canadian-content programs in the series.

"While the set is up for the English telecasts, we do double duty and produce programs in French with George Hermans," David Jones said, "and there are now 110 programs in the Il Est Ecrit series." Pastor Hermans translates and adapts scripts into French. "Like the English shows, the French series began in the fall of 1973 and have aired continuously since January, 1974," Jones said.

Plans are now underway to begin release of the French series in Western European countries, and perhaps in some Central and South-American areas for the benefit of other French-speaking peoples.

ARTS Hosts Pastor and Mrs. H. M. S. Richards

by Craig Johnson
Communication Intern
Ontario Conference of S.D.A.

Pastor and Mrs. H. M. S. Richards were the special guests of ARTS (Adventist Radio Television Services) at five weekend rallies in Toronto April 27-29 to promote the funding of Canadian-produced Seventh-day Adventist television and radio programs.

Upon their arrival at Toronto International Airport, the Richards were presented with flowers and were officially welcomed to Canada by a large crowd made up of members from several area churches.

The exciting weekend began Friday evening at Toronto Junior Academy with special music provided by world famous musician Ivan Romanoff and his wife Lesia, an opportunity to join the ARTS club, testimonials by members of the Toronto Portuguese church as to the tremendous power of television; and concluded with an inspirational sermon by Elder Richards. Similar programs were held in Toronto area churches.

A highlight of the weekend was an address by Elder Richards to nearly 1,000 people at the Kingsway College Alumni Homecoming in Oshawa.

The city of Oshawa is dear to the hearts of Pastor and Mrs. Richards as they were married there nearly 60 years ago. Many old acquaintances were renewed and many memories relived.

A Sunday tour of the ARTS studio facilities in Toronto gave interested persons an opportunity to see for themselves what a tremendous potential exists for Canadian produced television and radio programming.

Director of ARTS, Elder Henry Feyerabend, was on hand to introduce the activities at each rally and felt the weekend was a success.

"This has really been a tremendous boost for our fundraising efforts," Elder Feyerabend stated. "We are just so glad that Pastor and Mrs. Richards could help us in our efforts here in Canada."

The entire weekend was planned by ARTS associate director, Pastor Frank McMiller.

Health Approach, Health Evangelism or HEALTH MINISTRY

by G. D. Strunk, Director
Adventist Health Ministries

The words we choose to describe our work are important; important in what they portray to the community, important in their reflex action on the church.

I am hearing the terms "health evangelism" and "the health approach". The terms I hear frequently imply only a means of getting an ear and often without sufficient concern for the person's present needs or of ministering to them whether or not they follow on to hear the 3rd Angel's message. They can imply just a "c'mon" to get an evangelistic audience rather than being a service that has merit in itself.

When Jesus healed He used it as an opportunity to impart spiritual truth but He did heal them. He met their present felt need and left them thoroughly recovered. Many of them did not become His followers. He still felt a genuine compassion for suffering humanity and sought to relieve their physical affliction.

"Christ, the Great Medical Missionary, is our example. Of Him it is written that He went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sicknesses and all manner of disease among the people. He healed the sick and preached the gospel. In His service, healing and teaching were linked closely together. Today they are not to be separated."
—Manuscript quoted by D. A. Olson Review and Herald Oct. 29, 1914

It is not the program itself that catches the people's hearts. It is the personal friendship, concern and love that wins. The program simply provides opportunity for contact. It is similar to our restaurant work which "should be established as a means of bringing those who know the truth into touch with the people of the world, and of providing opportunities of reaching these people with the message of present truth." The Health Food Ministry, p. 66

When the term "health evangelism" is used, and the same concept is embraced in "the health approach" it becomes terribly transparent to the community that the only purpose for our health programs is to get converts for the church.

There is certainly nothing wrong with seeking converts for the church because it is presumed that every convert has submitted himself to God and His way of living. There could be no healthier lifestyle and no greater favor that could be done for that individual. It is the highest level of health education and service that could be done for the community.

That is why we are told, "We should ever remember that the object of the medical missionary work is to point sin-sick men and women to the Man of Calvary, who taketh away the sin of the world." Counsels on Diet and Foods p. 458.

But if the terms "health evangelism" or "the health approach" are used instead of a term like "health ministry" (and these phrases do leak out) the prejudices and fear of the community will preclude their opportunity to be benefitted even by the physical benefits of our programs let alone by Christ.

There is an internal reason why the term "health evangelism" should be avoided. It gives to the Seventh-day Adventist who is involved in the program the wrong posture. Even though his ultimate desire and goal for the people is honorable he easily becomes manipulative, even exploitive and fails to truly meet the needs that the people feel. He may be so anxious to present 3rd Angel's message with its warnings against the mark of the beast that he begins answering questions that the people aren't asking, and loses their confidence. Or he may only be seeking numbers to baptize rather than ministering until they come seeking baptism.

True ministry to the needs of the people, sowing seeds of truth and stimulating inquiry is a much more protected process than a quick contact with the people, a rapid harvest campaign and a "get what we can while the getting's good".

Health ministry is a continual ministry by the local church to the community. It does not grow weary in well doing. It seeks out in order to uplift. With home visitation and genuine personal concern a local church can in 1 or 2 years have a larger congregation outside the church and in the community than in the church. They will look to the Adventist pastor who cares about them as their pastor.

The work of health ministry is to be a gentle nurturing of souls in search of better living. It is more the work of the pastor who dwells with the people for a long time rather than the short-time evangelist. It is the winsome service of the local church. It does seek for souls but progresses at the rate that each soul is able to grow. This is true ministry.

"We shall have success if we work on practical lines. Ministers, do not confine your work to giving Bible instruction. Do practical work. Seek to restore the sick to health. This is true ministry. Remember that the restoration of the body prepares the way for the restoration of the soul." —Medical Ministry, p. 240

Health-Care Update

by A. George Rodgers, *Consultant
Healthcare Institutions
Canadian Union Conference*

William Olson
Administrator
Park Manor Personal Care Home

Our annual survey of healthcare facilities, all operating under the auspices of local conferences, will soon be extended to the Maritimes where Rest Haven Memorial Nursing Home, Saint John, New Brunswick, is scheduled to open later in the year.

It is a blessed commentary that conference executive committees, through the years, have felt constrained to identify with the hallowed prescription, delineated by the pen of inspiration, to initiate and operate a discipline of such truly divine concept, and so near to the heart of God.

As we maintain liaison with our executive directors engaged in the ministry of healing, and the compassionate, humanitarian provision of shelter and security for the aged, we are impressed by the recognition and respect accorded our Adventist-philosophy-oriented associates.

Basically, our operational motivation and undeviating attachment to our Great Exemplar should, and indeed does, project to the world an Adventist administrator equally proficient and professional as his counterpart but essentially "different" in lifestyle, commitment and philosophy.

Perhaps an appropriate case in point and sustaining the foregoing premise, is the intelligence recently to reach our office from Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. Kenneth Reimche, Sunnyside's energetic administrator continues to magnify his office as concurrently he checks on the concrete externalization of the enriched senior citizens' housing project adjacent to the nursing home.

Since 1975 Reimche has had a close and active involvement with the Saskatchewan Association of Special Care Homes. Through the years he has chaired a number of the Association's standing committees and his prowess in this discipline has recently culminated in his election to the Vice-Presidency for '78-'79. As a member of the conference executive committee, this young man's dedication and accomplishments will evoke the congratulations of his associates and the conference administration.

Another item of much interest to us, as Adventists, is the information placed in our hands by William Olson, Administrator, Park Manor Personal Care Home, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Administrator Olson has a flair for public relations through which his institution has received federal and provincial prominence and recognition. Recently, in these columns, we reported the visit of former Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Trudeau to Park Manor where he was received by the conference president and the administrator of the home. This was truly a memorable date on the calendar of outstanding events associated with our work in Winnipeg.

And now a provincial bouquet delivered personally by Wilson Parasiuk, M.L.A. for Transcona. In his column, "View from the Legislature", and appearing in the Transcona News, Parasiuk refers to, . . . "the excellent Park Manor Personal Care Home". He continues, "I pushed hard . . . for additional personal care beds for our own Park Manor facility operated by a dedicated non-profit religious group that values the health and dignity of senior citizens".

Administrator Olson is to be congratulated on his cultivation of contacts at the local government level, and as a member of the Transcona Rotary Club it is sure he will persist in his dedicated endeavours comprehended in Rotary's motto, "Service above self".

Paul Harvey and "THESE TIMES"

ABC news commentator Paul Harvey dedicated a weekly newspaper column, a television broadcast, and the first five minutes of his noon radio program on April 21 to an article published in the March issue of These Times. The article completely disproved the claims of modern-day psychics and astrologers to knowledge of future events.

In his three-page news release, which went out to some 300 newspapers, and was read over 800 radio and 400 television stations, Paul Harvey quoted several times from the feature story on the cover of the March issue.

The author of the article, Paul Harvey said, "collected all the predictions of our nation's 30 leading psychics and astrologers for the year 1978. Then he carefully compared what they predicted with what happened."

After listing many of the unfulfilled predictions given in the article, Paul Harvey added: "Out of 250 specific predictions for 1978 only six came to pass. That's less than 3 percent accuracy. They were 97 percent dead wrong!"

Paul Harvey concluded his five-minute discussion of the article by stating, "Before Ralph Blodgett began his research he believed that psychics had to be led either by God or by the devil. Since his research he has concluded that they are led by no one at all."

This year as you order your missionary magazine subscriptions from the four journals available nationwide (These Times, Signs, Message, and El Centinela), remember that people all over the world will be influenced toward heaven by the truths they read in these publications each month. Only eternity will reveal the full impact they have had on their lives.

Seventh-day Adventist Child Care Centres

(Second in a series)

by George P. Babcock,
Associate Director

Education Department, General Conference

At the time of the Annual Council of 1972 the church took an official action which recognized that day-care centres were becoming an important aspect of our over-all thrust of providing good quality child care. It was voted that the General Conference Department of Education be requested to prepare the needed syllabi, and that any materials developed give emphasis to spiritual and moral values.

It took several years to complete the assignment given by the Annual Council; however, it is now finished. In the late fall of 1978 Guidelines for Child Care Centers, written by Dr. Kay Kuzma of Loma Linda University, was published. This volume is available through the General Conference Department of Education for $8.00 per copy plus postage.

Good quality child care is an urgent need in today's society. Parents are primarily responsible for providing this care, but for the majority of parents, there are times (due to a variety of socio-economic factors) when they need to be away and must call on others to substitute for them. Perhaps both parents are forced to work outside the home. At these times it is vital that parents be able to find the best care possible for their children.

Guidelines for Child Care Centers talks about the church and child care, types of child care programs, how to start a child care program, administration of the program, understanding children, the learning environment, and working with both the parents and the community. The information is basic for any church or school wishing to have such a centre.

Today, we must reason from common

- to affection, love, and understanding.
- to adequate nutrition and medical care.
- to free education.
- to full opportunity for play and recreation.
- to a name and nationality.
- to special care, if handicapped.
- to be among the first to receive relief in times of disaster.
- to learn to be a useful member of society and to develop individual abilities.
- to be brought up in a spirit of peace and universal brotherhood.
- to enjoy these rights, regardless of race, color, sex, religion, national, or social origin.

sense, as Ellen White insisted they do in 1904 when she spoke so earnestly and decidedly for some type of program for the younger child. (See "Counsel on Early School Attendance," Review and Herald, April 24, 1975.)

"Churches must assess how the children in their church and community are being cared for. If parents need more information to do their job better, then this need should be filled. If parents need help caring for their children during the hours they are away, then this need should be filled. If parents need support and encouragement in their parenting task, then this need should be filled. The needs of members in different churches will vary, but in churches where there are parents and young children, the church should be open enough to find out just what services families need, and with God's guidance, including the Bible and the writings of Ellen White, try to plan a child care program to meet those needs." (Guidelines for Child Care Centers, p. 7).

Thirteenth Sabbath Offering to Aid Three Projects

by Paul Sundquist, Director, Sabbath School Department
Northern Europe — West Africa Division

On June 30 the thirteenth Sabbath offering will be taken to help in three areas of the Northern Europe — West Africa Division. An assembly hall is badly needed for Stanborough Secondary School, Watford, England; those at Togo-Benin Mission in West Africa have long hoped for a medical centre and at the Ekebyholm Junior College in Sweden the offering will aid in the building of a gymnasium/assembly hall.

We are hoping and praying that dreams may come true through this offering as they have many times in the past.

Let us give the Ekebyholm Junior College choir in Sweden reason to sing a real "Hallelujah" chorus after June 30, when the Special Project Offering will be received.

Students finding out something new about enzymes in the biology class at Stanborough Secondary School, Watford, England. They will find out something about the global love and concern of church members as help is given for a much needed assembly hall at the school.

This is the kind of medical mobile which we hope to obtain for the Medical Centre in the Togo-Benin Missions, benefiting from the Sabbath School Special Project Offering on June 30.

"Ye Are My Witnesses"

by M. Graham, Director
Department of Education,
Canadian Union Conference

Church schools stand as testimonies to the world of God's love of His people and of the believer's response to and faith in God's divine leadership. Church schools show the world that there are people who respect divine counsel, who have defined values, goals and objectives, who have an identity as sons and daughters of God, and who take seriously the mission of teaching the commandments, the statutes, and the judgements of God to their children.

Christian education programs constitute a major evangelistic thrust of the church. The results are positive and result in many baptisms of future church workers and faithful supporting members joining the church. Church schools, generally under the direction of the local pastor, conduct yearly weeks of prayer and ongoing baptismal classes. The school serves as a vital link between the home and the church. In addition, schools serve as an outreach arm of the church for service and witnessing activities in the community. Under the direction of teachers and pastors, students engage in church and Sabbath school activities, ingathering programs, temperance demonstrations in malls and in public schools, music festivals, literature distribution, community service projects, sunshine band visits to shut-ins and a host of other activities.

New Churches—New Schools

No. 2 in the Guidelines series —Feasibility Study
by Ray A. Matthews, Secretary Building Committee

When a church group decides upon building a new church or a new school they have many questions that need to be answered. They wonder how large a church should be built? Where should that church be built? How can a new church best serve the community?

The following guidelines were adopted by the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada concerning these questions:

Any conference contemplating the construction of a school, church or other building is to conduct a feasibility study of the proposal, taking into consideration the following:

A. NEEDS

- (a) How large a population needs to be served?
- (b) What portion of the present membership of the church is involved in the project?
- (c) Could present facilities be modified, repaired, etc.?
- (d) If the proposed undertaking is a new venture in Christ, maybe it would be well to use temporary facilities, such as a mobile chapel, or rented facilities.

B. LOCATION

- (a) Is it a place where people can see it and easily get to it?
- (b) Is it near the people to be served?
- (c) Is it on a main road? Is the road paved, and is it plowed in the wintertime?
- (d) Is the land high and dry, and not too sloping?
- (e) Is there convenient and ample off-street, off-road parking?

Remember that usually your conference has personnel that can give you real help in the above mentioned guidelines. Be sure to co-ordinate your efforts with your local conference as you proceed with the building project. Again remember that through your local conference and through the Canadian Union Conference you can get material to help you plan your project.

New Minas Church Holds Opening Service

The New Minas, Nova Scotia district was chosen to be recipient of help in the 1975 Adventure in Faith Offering. A company has been struggling for several years to gain a foothold. Property was purchased and the company began to save for a new church. The possibilities looked uncertain until Adventure in Faith came to the rescue. The brick was just completed on the outside on Friday, April 27 and on April 28, the first services were held.

Moncton Farewell

On May 13, 1979 the members of the Moncton S.D.A. Church gathered together for fellowship and a farewell dinner in honor of Elder Gerry Karst and family who will be leaving for Newfoundland. Elder Karst has been the Maritime Conference evangelist.

Also receiving farewell wishes was Robert Matthews, who is leaving for California, where he will be married this summer.

May God's richest blessings attend these friends as they take up their new duties.

Oldest Fox Point Resident Celebrates Birthday

Sister Manuella Coolen celebrated her 96th birthday on May 7 at a party given in her honor. She was presented with a money-tree, the first one she has ever seen and was the recipient of many congratulatory messages.

Arthritis and failing eyesight are her enemies, but she still continues to inspire her visitors with good cheer, interesting conversation and loving concern for all.

Listening to cassette sermons and sacred music is her favorite pastime. She finds this a real blessing in her sunset years.

Fox Point "Enthusiastic" With Literature

Literature distribution is being conducted enthusiastically from the Fox Point church. Lay Activities leader, Robert Conrad, assisted by Katherine Shatford, heads up the workers and the beautiful Seventh-day Adventist message is going into the homes "right around home".

The "Friendship" issue of the Review, and Bible Answers are two of the half-dozen publications in use. Small plastic sacks, with handles, are used for easy carrying, and if the doorbell is not answered the handles fit over the doorknob and the literature is left safe from wind and weather.

In most cases a warm welcome is received, and an invitation to return soon. Adventist youth members are the most willing workers. Paula Newton and partner Karen Coolen have given out more than a hundred pieces to date.

This program is designed to prepare the community for evangelistic meetings being planned for in the new Fox Point church early next year.

University Hosts Cooking Classes

The ladies of the Fredericton church recently held their first National Living cooking classes on the University of New Brunswick campus. Between 35 and 50 people attended each night of the four-night series. The classes were held as part of a recent Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking which was held on the campus.

The ladies were pleased with the response from those attending the lectures as well as the enthusiasm for the project from the public media. Articles in the local paper, campus paper and interviews on local radio along with the C.B.C. gave the program a promotion.

Jane MacLeod, of the University Health Department worked along with members of the local church in helping to make the classes a success. The New Brunswick Council on Smoking and Health as well as the University Health Department put their support behind the church members.

Second It Is Written Crusade In Moncton

As the second It Is Written crusade came to a close in Moncton, N.B. we look back on several highlights. Elder Gerry Karst conducted the crusade along with Pastor Bruce Atkins, pastor of the Moncton S.D.A. Church. Each weekend the junior choir delighted us with special music under the direction of their teacher, Patricia Graham. Each evening, along with the service, colorful slides emphasized the subject presented. At the conclusion of the series Daniel Richards was baptized by pastor Bruce Atkins. Five others stood to dedicate their lives to the Lord and will be baptized at a future date.

Five-Day Plan in Sydney

Twenty-three of the twenty-eight enrolled in the Five-Day Plan held at the Sydney Addiction Centre were able to kick the habit. Sponsored by the Drug Addiction Centre and the North Sydney church the Five-Day Plan was conducted April 22 to 26. All advertising was done by the Drug Addiction Centre through TV, radio, posters and newspaper articles. Dr. Robb, a local physician, helped one evening during the program.

Follow-up will consist of a weekly phone call for the first month. A follow-up meeting will be held in two weeks and this could be continued each month if successful. In six month's time it is planned to have the Five-Day Plan offered again as a refresher for all those who kicked the habit. To qualify for attendance though each "graduate" must bring one other person who wants to quit the smoking habit.

Ordination and Dedication At Barnesville

Wesley Hodgson, Malcolm Baxter and Mark Floyd were ordained as deacons of the Barnesville church on April 7 by Pastor Werner Seidel and Pastor Gordon Blandford, who was visiting from Calais, Maine.

Peter and Mary were presented to the Lord in dedication by their parents Roy and Lena Totten on Sabbath April 21. In this the Year of the Child it is particularly fitting that parents take seriously their responsibility in training their children for citizenship in Heaven.

Soloniuks Honoured at Banquet

Ministers of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference and their wives gathered at the Bessborough Hotel in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, on the evening of April 23, for an appreciation banquet honouring Elder W. G. Soloniuk, former conference president, and Mrs. Soloniuk.

Olaf Falsnes, pastor of the Thompson, Manitoba district, officiated as master of ceremonies and presented the Soloniuks with an Arctic wolf pelt, a gift from the conference pastors. Mrs. Frances Schander, wife of Saskatoon Central Pastor Ken Schander, offered a tribute to Mrs. Soloniuk and presented a bouquet of flowers on behalf of the ministers' wives.

Also honoured during the evening were Elder Stan H. Gallant, former Sabbath school and lay activities secretary; Michael Manchur, former manager of Angwin Distributors; and Jim Eiseman, youth activities and education secretary. Gallant will be leaving shortly to assume duties as pastor of the Edmonton Ukrainian Church, Manchur has retired, and Eiseman will be leaving the conference in August to continue his education at Central Washington University, Ellensburg, Washington.

Ministers Meet at Chalet

Don MacIvor, newly-elected president of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference, met with conference ministers at Blackstrap Chalet, Dundurn, Saskatchewan, for a workers' meeting on April 23 and 24.

Principal speaker for the two-day session was Elder Robert R. Johnson, lay activities secretary of the Potomac Conference. Johnson emphasized the importance of the pastor's role in the recruitment, motivation, training, and assignment of lay persons in soul winning.

The ministers, meeting in small discussion groups, recommended that the lay activities secretary spend concentrated periods of time with pastors and their congregations in intensive lay training programs.

Also discussed was the great need for a clear, unified understanding among both clergy and congregations of the doctrine of righteousness by faith.

The session closed with a communion service in which conference staff and pastors recommitted their lives to God's service.

THE BELLEVILLE CHURCH

Church Vital Statistics:

	1968	1978
Total Membership.....	38	93
Baptisms (1968-1978).....	46

Age of Church: Having been organized in 1959 with 12 members, the church is now 19 years old.

Location and Facilities: Belleville is a small city of approximately 35,000. The Seventh-day Adventist Church is on one acre of level land, located to the edge of town on Highway 2, a principal artery of travel. The present red brick church building was begun in October, 1964, and occupied by May, 1965. This building has become a very real asset to the continued growth of the membership. The beautiful Bay of Quinte serves as a backdrop. An acre of city park land adjoins the church, adding to the beauty of the setting. A large well-lighted sign marks the church and informs everyone that there is a Seventh-day Adventist Church in town.

Present Pastor: Adam Bujak, 29 years old was born in Austria, raised in Poland and has been serving this congregation for approximately one year. He has his B.A. from Newbold College and his M. Div. from the Seventh-day Adventist Seminary at Andrews University. He is described by the members as a minister who encourages feedback from his people, delegates authority and responsibility, is accessible and warmly human, a Bible-believing and evangelistically-minded pastor.

Membership: The average age of this congregation is somewhere between 35 to 45, with a considerable number of school-aged children. It is a very cosmopolitan mix of middle-income people. Attending services requires considerable motivation for a sizeable portion of the congregation because so many of them live outside the city limits. Some must drive to church from as far away as 25 or 35 miles.

Visitation: Shut-in and absentee members of the church receive a great deal of attention in Belleville. The deacons visit members once a quarter as a part of their duties. Some of the other members have their own visitation programs. A sermon cassette library ministry is a new addition to the church's efforts to keep contact with absentees. This has helped keep membership losses down to a minimum.

Lay Activities Ministries: The members are active in many different ways. Evidence of their effectiveness can be seen in the fact that four or five visitors are usually found in Sabbath school each week. About ten Bible studies are given weekly by the membership and a Singer Instaload projector helps with this effort. This throws the Bible texts and illustrative pictures on a television-sized screen and accompanies these with an explanation from a cassette tape. The "Encounter" Bible lessons are used with this.

worker, came to Belleville and conducted classes together with field training, introducing a Gift Bible and lesson study plan. This is still being used by the members. Interests are found from the friends and relatives of the members, the It Is Written telecast, literature evangelism, and from Five-Day Plans.

Sometime ago the congregation made a strong effort to distribute Steps to Christ throughout Belleville, door to door. Thousands of copies were given away. The church also carries on a vigorous literature program with These Times (170 subscriptions) and other denominational literature. They will tell you that they have always met or exceeded their goals in these annual conference-wide campaigns.

Community Services are also emphasized by the Belleville church members. Considerable space is devoted to this work in the basement of the church and regular hours are advertised for their weekly ministry to the poor. "Meals on Belleville Church — regular attendance — no sitting room.

Wheels" is a program widely used in Ontario communities to provide hot meals for the elderly and shut-in people. This has become a part of the community services of the Belleville church.

Add to all of these activities the ministry of a Christian physician named Dr. Mati Patel, who makes a great number of Christian contacts through his practice, and you begin to get a picture of a strong Christian witness. Adventist literature is kept available in his office. Frequently Dr. Patel invites interested people to his home for dinner and gives Bible lessons to them individually or in groups of up to 15. He can be seen studying with interested parties in the hospital cafeteria. Said one of the members of the church: "Everyone at the hospital knows of his Christian experience and that the Adventist church has a member who is a doctor. He prays before every operation." Surely this adds to the total witness of a growing congregation.

Additional Comments: What has happened in Belleville is the result of a team effort, the work of many of the members in concert. Sharing the burden for souls and providing a stabilizing influence in his leadership is also the head elder, Brother Orville Matthews. He drives 75 miles from Oshawa to attend in Belleville. Matthews is on the faculty at Kingsway College.

Why do people join the Adventist church in Belleville? Let me quote a few of those whom I have talked to: "This is a Pastor Bujak ministering to the needs of younger members of his congregation "Children Story Time".

Photo Credit: Adam Bujak loving church. . . I got the answers to my questions about the Bible. . . It felt just like home. . . I saw an ad in the newspaper which said they were going to study Revelation, and I have always wanted to learn more about that book in the Bible." Shouldn't such comments be typical of all Adventist churches today?

Oshawa Students visit Northwest Territories

Early in May a group of eighth-grade students from College Park Elementary School and ninth-graders from Kingsway College visited the Inuit Town of Rankin Inlet on Hudson Bay. The exchange will be completed in June when the Inuit visit Oshawa. The tour was arranged by history teacher Mrs. Alvena Dunhill of Oshawa and Gary Lafoy, a former Kingsway College teacher presently teaching at Rankin Inlet. Funds for transportation came from an Open House Canada grant sponsored by the Secretary of State.

The Oshawa group, which was accompanied by Mrs. Pat Edsell, principal of College Park School, and by Mrs. Dunhill, spent Sabbath in Winnipeg as guests of church members there. In Rankin Inlet they were billeted in Inuit homes, where the warmth of the hospitality made up for the cold temperatures outside.

The snow banks were still higher than the heads of the exchange students. Although temperatures were well below zero Celsius, the days were very long, and sunburns showed the strength of the sun. Rankin Inlet is about 250 miles south of the Arctic Circle.

N.W.T., it was not uncommon to see caribou heads or carcasses on the roofs of houses, and fox or wolf pelts drying outside. The chief means of transportation for the students was Komatiks (sleds) pulled by snowmobiles. Dog teams are very seldom used anymore.

The Inuit had never met Adventist young people. In a very short time friendships were made as the Oshawa students participated in Inuit family life and community happenings.

The Oshawa students had a first-hand opportunity to experience life in a differ-

Health Ministry at Camp Meeting

The health emphasis at camp meeting will feature 3 major activities this year.

An early morning exercise session.

FITTEST from the Ontario Ministry of Culture & Recreation.

Health classes in the morning and afternoon.

The 6:00 a.m. Physical Fitness classes will include warm-up exercises with instruction, a stand-up devotional, and 4 cardiovascular groups: 1. walkers 2. fast walkers 3. interval trainers 4. continuous runners.

The FITTEST Van from the University of Toronto will be on the grounds all week to conduct fitness screening. Each test costs $15 and includes a step test with electrocardiogram monitoring to test one's heart responses under exercise conditions, a measurement of lung capacity, blood pressure, percent body fat via skin-fold calipers which may be a more important measurement than your body weight, a test for flexibility, and a test for muscle strength. Individual counseling and an exercise prescription follows. Each test lasts about 1 hour.

This FITTEST Van recently spent a week at the College Park Church where those tested felt it was well worth the investment of time and money. If you have never had this battery of tests you should have it now. Even if you are not staying during the week you can make arrangements to drive in and be tested. Appointment times for tests will be made Sunday, July 1 and 15. You can get on the list in advance by writing to Adventist Health Ministries Department, Box 520, Oshawa, Ontario L1H 7M1 and indicate whether you will be at first or second camp meeting.

Camp meeting will feature classes in different subjects. The health class for the first camp meeting will feature Doctors Bernell and Marjorie Baldwin formerly of Loma Linda University School of Health lecturing and demonstrating simple home remedies with emphasis on hydrotherapy. The second camp meeting will feature Dr. K. I. Burke from the Department of Nutrition at Loma Linda University lecturing on some of the questions characteristic of Adventist audiences.

A Vision in Reality! Church School in Orillia

A dream is coming true for the five-year-old Seventh-day Adventist church in Orillia. Christian education will be available for its children beginning with the 1979-80 school year.

God has richly blessed this little church located in the "Sunshine City" made famous by Canadian humorist Stephen Leacock. One of the blessings was the acquiring in 1975 of a former school facility at the edge of town that provides building and grounds for both church and school. Acquired with the school were two swing sets and teeter-totters with a replacement value of over $1,500.00 which will give a good base for playground activity.

A dedicated and experienced teacher had been provided in Herb Sormin, presently principal in Kitchener. Mr. Sormin has his masters degree and will bring a wide background of experience to the fledgling school.

With fourteen students projected to date for the 1979-80 school year and others coming up in the next few years, the church is anticipating God's blessing on a strong school program for the future.

For anyone living within commuting distance of Orillia or planning on moving into the area and would like further information regarding the school, write: Pastor Robert DeForest, Box 578, Orillia, Ontario L3V 6K5, or call: 705-487-3118.

Yugoslavian Church Aids Earthquake Victims

Members of the Toronto Yugoslavian Seventh-day Adventist Church donated $2,500.00 and six hundred pounds of clothing and blankets to victims of the April earthquake in Montenegro, Yugoslavia.

The tragic event devastated the poorer parts of the region and left one hundred and fifty persons dead and one thousand and two hundred wounded. Fifty miles of the Montenegro highway and coast line disappeared into the Adriatic Sea.

Four quakes only hours apart, demolished approximately eighty percent of all buildings, leaving the elderly and children out in the rain for days. The Seventh-day Adventist church in Zelenik, Montenegro, with a membership of approximately fifty, was very badly damaged.

Dedication of Nakusp, B. C. Church

Sabbath morning, April 14, dawned bright and clear, a day of dedication for the Nakusp S.D.A. Church. Just under one year had passed since the ground had been broken and construction started. With only a few dollars in the building fund the company stepped out in faith and began proceedings to purchase 3 residential lots in Nakusp. The lots were purchased for half their original value since on one of them a huge hole had appeared which required 800 yards of gravel to fill. Believing that God had led them in this purchase and would provide additional funds, work commenced on the church building. The Lord who owns "the cattle on a thousand hills" did indeed furnish the finances and a scant eleven months later His house was completed, debt free.

Eight ministers presided on the platform for the 11 o'clock service. Elder Glen Maxson, President of the British Columbia Conference, led out in the church organization. Twenty-two charter members publicly signed the church book and officers for the 1979 year were voted in. Following this, Glenn Hanson and Orel Rader were ordained as elders. Mr. Hanson had been appointed as Pastor-Colporteur Intern on January 1, 1979. Graham Maxfield was ordained as a deacon.

The Dedication service followed in the afternoon. Elder L. L. Reile, President of the Canadian Union delivered a challenging sermon regarding the mission and message of the church. Solemnly and prayerfully, the church and its new members were dedicated to the Lord and His work.

Following the dedication, Mrs. Osborne Lee provided an inspiring slide presentation on the four seasons. Approximately 100 people who had come for the day, stayed to view this program.

The new church will also be operating a church school beginning this September.

And now this beautiful memorial in Nakusp, British Columbia, stands as a monument to the miraculous workings of God.

Bella Coola School — A Mission Outreach

The Bella Coola Seventh-day Adventist school is a vital part of the growing mission outreach of the church in the Bella Coola Valley of B.C. This area is historically significant to Canadian history and to the development of the British Columbia Conference. In 1793, near Bella Coola, the great explorer Alexander Mackenzie painted these words on a rock overlooking Dean Inlet, "Alexander Mackenzie, from Canada, by land, . . ." Homesteaders in the valley organized one of the early S.D.A. churches in B.C. It was voted into the B.C. sisterhood of churches in 1908.

The present school is an outgrowth of the conference's medical/dental missionary program to isolated coastal communities. Five years ago, the school traveled with the dental clinic and served the educational needs of the doctor's family. Today the school meets in a new, permanent structure built mainly by volunteer help working with building materials donated by church members who operate sawmills.

Forty-three students presently are enrolled in grades 1–10. Ten of the students are from S.D.A. homes. The majority of the students come from the native Indian community. Three full-time teachers, one half-time teacher, and volunteers work under the principalship of Mr. Leslie Bergey.

The school program emphasizes spiritual, mental, and physical development. Practical courses to be added to the curriculum for the 1979–80 school year include typing, personal finance, carpentry and building, including plumbing and electrical wiring as it relates to home construction; auto mechanics, and greenhouse agriculture. Further community service will include a pre-school program with the prime objectives of teaching correct social habits and of awakening in the students' minds an awareness of God.

The new Bella Coola School addition constructed during the summer of 1978.

Diamond Anniversary

Brother and Sister Clarence Anderson celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at a reception and open house given by their children and families. Most of their immediate families were present, forty-one in all. The church was privileged to have these as guests on the Sabbath morning preceding.

The Andersons were born in Nebraska, married and lived in Alberta until twelve years ago when they moved to Summerland, B.C. Now they have moved close to the Penticton church. Both have been Adventists all their lives, and have held most of the church offices throughout the years.

Congratulations were received from the Queen, Prime Minister Trudeau, Lieutenant-Governor Mr. Bell-Irving, Premier Bill Bennett and James Hewitt, Minister of Energy and Mines.

For a thrilling project, about one and one half years ago, they financed an evangelistic effort in India. Now there is a new church there with some fifty members. This sparked an interest in an adjoining village which then needed a lamb shelter. The Andersons again responded, providing the necessary funds. They hope to support similar projects in the future.

British Columbia News

Members of the Trail church have just distributed, 3500 printed brochures inviting local residents to view the It Is Written telecast. A significant number of favorable responses were received as the members went house-to-house.

Members of the Nelson company have purchased, and paid for, a 2-acre lot for their new church building. Currently they are renting inadequate facilities. Building plans are being finalized and construction is expected to begin immediately. Maranatha Flights, B.C. Chapter, is planning on a workbee, June 17–30, to assist the 12 local members in completing the building this summer.

A Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking was conducted in Grand Forks, April 1–5, by Pastor Zinner. He was ably assisted by local members, Sheila Ludwar, Ruth Goertzen, Heidi Snyder, and Ken Schockenmaier. At least six of the participants enrolled in a Voice of Prophecy course.

One hundred dollars was presented to the Omineca Lodge (a home for the elderly) by the Vanderhoof church who were the first group to challenge the community to raise funds by stopping smoking.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sunderland unlocked the church doors earlier than usual one Sabbath morning making certain that all was in readiness for Sabbath school and church. A young mother with a 3-year-old daughter asked if she might come in and when she was kindly assured that she was most welcome she introduced herself as Shirley Ann Mirage.

Shirley had become convinced that Jesus' coming is very near and she wanted to study with the Adventist people and become a member of this church.

Mrs. Sunderland began Bible studies with Shirley and a beautiful friendship developed. Shirley and her little girl drove twenty miles every Sabbath for Sabbath school and church.

On February 24, Shirley was baptized and her decision to follow her Saviour resulted in serious difficulties in her home. The members of the Vanderhoof church ask your prayers on her behalf.

The Vanderhoof church held a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking through the College of New Calendonia. The session not only gave Pastor Bob Bradley and his assistants, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Moore, the thrill of helping people stop smoking, but those in attendance were very interested in the work and beliefs of the Adventist denomination. Several of the evenings closed with a discussion about the love of God and the beliefs of the church.

The Powell River Company raised $805.73 for Sabbath School Investment in 1978. This small group of less than one dozen baptized members who attend regularly, had set as their goal for last year $700.00 but, with the Lord's blessing, far exceeded this amount.

The goal was exceeded by selling handmade articles, baked goods, house plants, miscellaneous, produce and by self-denial projects.

On April 28, Fred and Carol Caston were honoured guests at a farewell luncheon in the Fellowship Hall of the Kelowna church. They have been members of this church for the past ten years. Both are most active in visiting and giving Bible Studies. They often bring interested neighbours or friends to church.

Last summer, while they were visiting relatives in Nova Scotia, they felt impressed to help a small and struggling congregation in the area. The people were building a church with very limited means and Fred helped with some brick laying. Fred and Carol have decided to move there and witness to their relatives also.

Fred and Carol will be missed by the members in Kelowna who wish them God's blessings as they work for the Lord in New Minas, Nova Scotia.

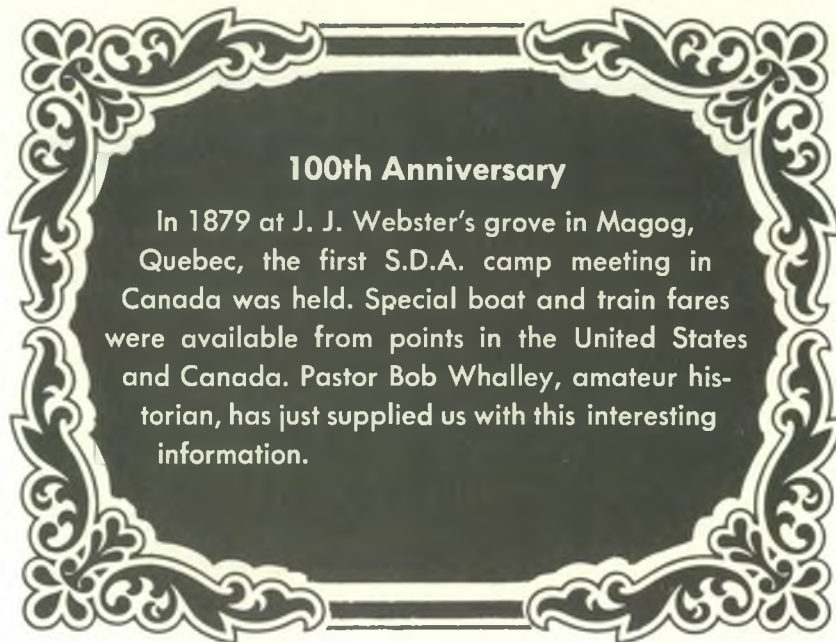

Sisters B. Gabel and M. Dreger with Carol and Fred Caston at their farewell.

Homemade pies, buns, table centre-pieces were sold by Kelowna ladies to aid the kitchen and fellowship hall fund. Directed by B. Gabel, assisted by Mary Dreger, S. Hyde and others, this project has fully equipped the kitchen and fellowship hall so that 150 can be accommodated comfortably.

Sabbath, April 28, was designated as Education emphasis day. At the Nanaimo church Pastor John W. Popowich stated that the home is the object of Satan's attacks. By keeping up-to-date with the statistical trends it must be conceded that Satan is very successful.

At the close of the message a call for consecration and dedication was made. Brother and Sister Glen Hudkins responded by bringing their new-born daughter Karin to be dedicated.

Others in the congregation requested dedication for their children at the next service. Yet others indicated a desire to join the Adventist family.

BOOK REVIEW

THE KEY TO VICTORY

3rd Quarter

Sabbath School Study Book

by Fernando Chaij

How will the redeemed be able to endure through the final days before Christ's return? What spiritual preparation will they need to make? What must the church do to get ready for the latter rain?

KEY TO VICTORY discusses the spiritual growth and maturity each must have to withstand the final crisis. Dr. Chaij deals with such topics as the Laodicean message, the shaking, the sealing, the importance of the Holy Spirit in the lives of the redeemed, and the nature of true righteousness by faith.

Dr. Chaij is the author of the popular Preparation For The Final Crisis, and The Impending Drama, companion volume to THE KEY TO VICTORY.

Tom Knoll Conducts Corner Brook Crusade

by Don Johnson, Pastor
Corner Brook S.D.A. Church

On April 7 there was great rejoicing as the members of the Corner Brook church welcomed twenty-eight new members into their midst.

Elder Tom Knoll, Ontario Conference Publishing Secretary, with the help of the Newfoundland singing evangelists, Pastor and Mrs. Jim Sharpe began a series of meetings in Corner Brook on March 17. This was a very cold and stormy evening and most of the other community activities were cancelled because of the blowing snow that blocked city streets. Attendance was lower than everyone had expected but considering the weather it was surprising that anyone was there.

After this rather inauspicious beginning it was hard to imagine that the meetings would have much success but the baptism was the joyful culmination of much work and many prayers on the part of various members of the church.

Two of the new members, Fraser and Patricia Dwyer, had enjoyed many years of friendship with the Moyst family, members of the Corner Brook church, who have a cottage next door to them at Steady Brook. Off and on, Patricia had attended prayer meetings or Sabbath vespers services that were occasionally held at the Moyst's cabin. She became friends with other church members and enrolled her daughter, Heather, in the Seventh-day Adventist school. But it was not until Mrs. Sharpe became ill during the meetings that the Dwyers made their decision. Mrs. Dwyer felt that Mrs. Sharpe should not be left alone while her husband was out visiting in connection with the meetings so she kindly offered to keep her company. While she took care of Bonnie Sharpe there was much opportunity to discuss the way the Lord leads each of His children. So it was that Bonnie's problems became another of those things that work together for good to them that love the Lord and are called according to His purpose.

For Bill and Judy Weber, another exciting result of the meetings was seeing fifteen of their friends from Pasadena, a little town about fifteen miles from Corner Brook, take their stand and unite with the family of God. Two years ago when they moved into a new home in Pasadena, Judy and Bill began afternoon Bible Story Hour for the neighbourhood children. This very quickly grew into a Branch Sabbath School with up to twenty-five people in regular attendance. Cottage meetings followed. The Branch Sabbath School was incorporated into the regular Sabbath School in Corner Brook although the cottage meetings in Pasadena were continued. It was a real thrill for everyone to see these good friends become church members.

Mrs. Renouf who, a year ago, joined the church inspite of opposition from some of her family, was delighted to see three of her children and two of her grandchildren follow her in obedience to the Lord.

There are other wonderful stories that could be told. After Jesus comes we will have the endless ages of eternity to share our experiences with each other. Every conversion is a miracle.

New President of Church in Newfoundland

Elder Gerry D. Karst, formerly evangelist in the Maritime Conference, has been elected to succeed Elder James Campbell as President of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Newfoundland and Labrador. Brother Karst is a native of Cymric, Saskatchewan. He graduated from high school in Quill Lake in 1960 then attended Canadian Union College in general studies. From 1961 to 1963 he took the course in X-Ray technology offered at Branson Hospital and after registration served at Branson for two years. While there he met Verna Moores from Nova Scotia who was taking the nursing course and shortly after her graduation they were married. The Karsts attended Atlantic Union College and Andrews University where Gerry received a B.A. in Religion and a Master of Divinity degree.

After five years in the Alberta Conference as pastor and evangelist the Karsts were called to the Maritime Conference.

Elder and Mrs. Karst, with Julie, almost nine, and Jeffrey three and a half, will be living in St. John's, Newfoundland.

Witnessing at Montreal's Fair for Women

From April 26, to May 6, 1979 one of the largest women's fairs ever was held at the Olympic Velodrome in Montreal entitled "Le Salon De La Femme". This fair featured all the public has to offer to women: fashion, beauty, health, nutrition, interior decorating, educational and cultural projects, arts, publications, travel, recreation. More than three hundred societies and companies displayed their products and did their very best to draw the visitors' attention.

Women and men of all ages and classes came from every part in the Province of Quebec to see and enjoy this large multicolored panorama. The Quebec publishing department under the title "Service de la Sante et des Foyers du Quebec" (Home Health Service of Quebec) took the opportunity to display the best books in the world coming from Seventh-day Adventist publishing houses.

As people came to the H.H.S.Q. they could not help but notice the big sign saying: "The destination of many men depends upon the library in their home". As they stopped, they were attracted to the magazine on How to Stop Smoking in French and were very impressed by the health books and the Bible Story set. More than one thousand dollars worth of literature was sold right on the premises. Over 50 French Bibles with the Metcalf Bible Study Helps and a free Bible course offer were included. Thousands of tracts were distributed.

Before the end of the Fair responses by telephone, letters and reply cards were coming to the office. One lady said: "I have been looking for you for three years". Another visitor commented about the Bible Story this way: "We need these books, because it is high time for us to go back to the source".

This shows that the doors are still open in Quebec for the spread of the gospel seed.

Kingsway COLLEGE DAYS Attract Over 150 Prospective Students

College Days, one of the highlights of the school year, was held on May 6 and 7. 130 students came from Ontario, 10 from Nova Scotia, and 13 from Quebec. Most of the students who visited our campus were impressed with our program and expressed their desire to become students for the 1979-80 school year.

Each department sponsored a booth at the Educational Showcase which was held in the gymnasium on Sunday afternoon. This interested many visitors as they saw the scholastic possibilities of a student at K.C.

On Sunday night a special banquet, sponsored by the student Association, was held in the dining room. The room was very tastefully and beautifully decorated, and the meal was delicious. Kingsway's talented student body was well represented during the program, giving the visitors just a glimpse of the unique and exciting opportunities available to them when they become students at Kingsway College. Kingsway's Concert Band gave a short program in the afternoon and the Symphonic Choir sang several secular numbers in the evening.

On Monday, classes were conducted as usual and for those visiting the campus, special guided tours and classroom visitation. That afternoon, softball and soccer games were held on the field, generating a great deal of enthusiasm and school spirit. A spaghetti supper concluded what proved to be a very successful and enjoyable College Days weekend for all those concerned.

Andrews Airpark Opened

Two buildings at the Andrews Airpark in Berrien Springs, the centre for the largest mission aviation program in the world, were dedicated and officially opened in public ceremonies Sunday, May 6.

The airport terminal building, which contains the receiver and transmitter for communication with aircraft, offices for airport personnel, a maintenance shop, Cessna dealership, air taxi (charter) operation and flight service, was named the J. L. Tucker, after the founder and speaker of The Quiet Hour. With the help of the program, J. L. Tucker and his son LaVerne, associate speaker, have been responsible for the purchase of 51 of the 120 aircraft operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The building in which the Andrews College of Technology offers courses in airplane mechanics was named in the memory of Robert E. Seamount, who was active in the mission aviation program of the church until his death in 1976. Seamount was an Adventist pilot and pastor in Puget Sound, Washington, as well as a member of the King's Heralds Quartet. He later served as a mission pilot in South America.
