New Jewish Bible Course Enrollment Folder Available

A beautifully designed two-color enrollment folder for the Israelite Heritage Institute course entitled "What of the Present?" is now available. Designed specifically to increase enrollments in the Israelite Heritage course, its distribution is an excellent method of interesting Jewish friends in Bible study.

Elder Wesley Amundsen, in charge of evangelism for the Jews in North America, says: "We feel the time has come to enroll thousands of our Jewish friends in the Israelite Heritage Institute course. The new folder that has been designed gives an excellent appeal. Already a number of enrollments have been secured with it. Ultimately this folder should go to every Jewish home in North America. Never was there a better opportunity to acquaint Jewish friends with the Christian faith."

This is the cover of the attractive Israelite Heritage folder, designed especially for Jewish friends. To get a supply for distribution, or for information about them, write to Elder Wesley Amundsen, General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, 6840 Eastern Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20012.

The Israelite Heritage Institute course has been well received, indeed. Based on the Old Testament, it presents the health laws of Moses, the teachings of the prophets and the tremendous heritage which the Jewish people have given to mankind through the years. Its 40 lessons are designed so that students can progress at their own speed. Best of all, course material shows how Old Testament prophecies point accurately to the coming of Christ as Redeemer and King. It is one of the best evangelistic tools yet designed in working with those of the Jewish faith, who oftentimes are difficult to reach with the Christian message.

In your community there are those who should be contacted about the Israelite Heritage course. Why not invite them to enroll? Better yet, write to Elder Wesley

Little Blind Children Need Your Used Sabbath School Records

Hundreds of little blind children would be so happy if they could listen to some of the records which Adventist children have already listened to. We are thinking about the Sabbath school lessons on records and nature stories on records. Regardless of the date on the records, if you wish to send them to us, we shall relay them to these anxious little blind children. Address the records now or any time in the future to THE LIBRARIAN, Christian Record Braille Foundation, Box 6097, Lincoln, Nebraska 68506.

Kaleidoscope— Sponsored by Temperance Department

Did you know that 10% of the population are alcohol dependents and 5% are alcoholics? Every second prescription written is a drug for the mind. Lung cancer and emphysema have reached epidemic proportions.

Vital information that millions don't know can be aired to them in a newsy radio program aimed at better living called Kaleidoscope.

The program is a public service and is made available to the radio station as a community goodwill gesture.

The plan of distribution and maintenance hinges on the avowed belief that the churches and conferences recognizing the potential thrust of such a program aired by stations across the country will carry Listen magazine, its sponsor, into homes where Listen has never entered.

The program is the brain-child of the Temperance Department and is narrated by Elder J. O. Iverson, formerly with the Voice of Prophecy.

Interwoven in the project is the spirit of mission, beginning in the department itself. No better proof could be offered than the low, low price of $3.00 a reel which is

60¢ a program since each reel contains five different programs.

A month's program to the station costs only $12.00 and thousands of listeners will be tuned in each day.

Is Kaleidoscope being aired to listeners in your section of the country?

Why not get started—precious moments are being lost during the delay.

Your General Conference Temperance office, Box 4390, Washington, D.C. 20012, is ready and anxious to place Kaleidoscope in the station of your choice. We are prepared to rush four reels—20 different programs immediately to insure an uninterrupted schedule. The cost again, only $12.00 for the four reels.

A special arranged brochure puts the station on notice that it is airing the program at specified intervals, as well as to supply the information our office needs concerning the stations carrying the program.

God and Man in History

The title page calls it "A Study in the Christian Understanding of History." The author draws upon a background of more than 30 years of study and teaching in the field. The result is an outstanding treatise which places

A Recipe from the Worthington Kitchen

This is a new item that we might use from time to time in the REAPER if we think it is helpful to our readers. Diet is an important part of our lives. Our health and religious influence are affected by the proper use we make of the foods we use each day. May we each one try to only take into our bodies those foods that will help us in our daily progress up the Christian path.

GOLDEN CHICKEN CROQUETTES

12 ounces Vegetarian Entree, Chicken Style Slices, ground
1/4 cup celery, finely chopped.
2 Tablespoons parsley, finely chopped
1 1/2 Tablespoons butter or margarine
3 Tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 Tablespoon minced onions
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup rice, cooked and chilled
1/4 cup corn flake crumbs
Coating
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1 cup corn flake crumbs

Mix together "chicken," celery, and parsley.

Make a thick cream sauce of butter, flour, milk, onions, and seasonings. Add rice, corn flake crumbs, and "chicken" mix to sauce, blend well. Spread thick layers in shallow pans. Cool slightly; cover and chill thoroughly. After chilling, make croquettes.

Combine egg with milk and beat thoroughly. Coat croquettes first with egg mixture, then with crumbs. Fry in deep fat (360°). Bake in oven for 15 minutes to be certain it is cooked through. Serve with tartar sauce or Loma Linda GRAVY QUIK, mushroom or country style. Serves 10-12.

historical development in its proper perspective as it relates to divine direction.

The book is divided into two parts. The first is a discussion and analysis of the various human philosophies which have been dominant in world thought during the past few centuries—rationalism, humanism, and communism, to name a few.

The second part deals with God's involvement in history, His methods of dealing with men and nations, and the relation of human and divine natures in historical development.

Current historical literature reveals a significant lack of any material emphasizing the spiritual foundation of history. Economic, cultural, and political aspects are explored minutely, while the greatest force is ignored. The author's goal is to acknowledge this force, study it, and apply his findings to the contemporary manifestations of history.

The Christian student of history accepts as a basis for his study the overall divine plan leading to an ultimate theological goal. He also recognizes that there are human goals which may be contrary to God's plan, but which God will ultimately conform to fit into His design.

Doctor Shankel has been a college president, dean, and professor of history for over 30 years. He is one of the most eminently qualified men in this denomination to present this subject to the public. God and Man in History will be welcomed by teachers, students, and interested intellectuals.

Chadron District Highlights

★ A Modern Miracle: The protection of the angels was wonderfully realized early this Spring when three-year-old Bart Stewart of Chadron fell from the tractor his father was driving. Mr. Stewart said that when the tractor went over Bart's head it seemed he had run over a post. The ground was still frozen and looking back the father expected to see his son crushed—but was surprised to see him alive and getting to his feet. Only a bruised ear reminds Bart's parents of the love and protection of God.

★ School of Lay Evangelism: The members of the Chadron district have been involved in the good course introduced recently by Elder Schoen. Although many of the members live in the country some distance from town, a total of 19 completed the 12-week course and were eligible for graduation. Elder F. O. Sanders and O. L. McLean conducted the Sabbath evening graduation service, June 24.

★ Elder F. O. Sanders and Elder O. L. McLean conducted a Sabbath School Teachers' Training Course in the Chadron district the weekend of June 24. The course began Friday evening and continued through Sabbath afternoon.

★ Gift Bible Evangelism spreads as God leads: The pastor of the Chadron district was happy to receive a request for a Bible and lessons from a family whose visiting parents shared the experience with them. The parents, residents of Oconto, Nebraska, received a gift Bible at their home. Now the younger family, including three teen-age children, is enjoying it as well. Each member of the family studies independently and the response is thrilling! The father is a high school principal.

★ Area MV Program: What is termed the Panhandle MV was last hosted by the Chadron district. The surrounding districts of the Panhandle were well represented. The afternoon program included a singspiration with talent from all the districts and the inspirational MV program, led by Mrs. Carol Gabbert of Gordon entitled, "Because He Lives." Elder Marvin Walter, who pioneered Monument Valley Hospital, depicted in slides and narration the progress of the Indian work. The fellowship supper and evening film, "The Living Desert," concluded the program. The association was much enjoyed and will continue to do so as other churches of the Panhandle are hosts for this event.

R. E. WHITNEY, Pastor

Scottsbluff District

Gift Bible Evangelism has gotten off to a good start in this area. The three churches of the district, Scottsbluff, Minatare, and Northport, sent delegates to the Schoen meetings in Lincoln. At that time the vision that so many others caught of the vital part that this phase of the work can play in the finishing of the work was experienced by our members, also.

Elder O. L. McLean was present at the graduation exercises for Scottsbluff and Minatare when the local courses were completed. Several have received their certificates and are now putting their course into practical use. Northport finished a little later with almost one hundred per cent of the people participating and graduating.

The district had ordered 14,000 copies of "Wake Up

America." These are in the process of being handed out and with each copy goes a card of invitation to receive a free Bible. Each week's mail brings a fresh supply of requests for Bibles. A number have been placed, bringing a new experience to both recipient and giver. May God bless this program throughout our conference.

Progress at PVA

The few of us who have been on campus this summer have excitedly watched the new administration building progress toward completion. Each day brings new developments. This last week the painters moved in and began painting the classrooms and the door and window frames throughout the building. We have also seen the ceramic tile laid in the restrooms and the ceiling panels are being hung. The plumbers have completed the plumbing hook-up and the fixtures will soon be installed. Electricians are busy with the installment of the finished light units. Watching the cabinets and borrowed light partitions makes us realize that the finish deadline is not far away. On July 5 the exterior grading will commence and the landscaping will begin.

We are looking forward to the day when we can begin moving into the new building. At the same time the other buildings on campus are being made ready for the new school year. Many applications have been received and each day brings more. We are urging that if you plan to join us this coming year that you get your application to us soon. Be sure that you include your room deposit so a room can be held for you in the dormitory. If you need an application blank or a bulletin write to the Principal, Platte Valley Academy, Shelton, Nebraska 68876.

We appreciate the friends in the field who remember us in prayer. Please continue to pray that Platte Valley

Teaming for Christ

Sister Irma Pearson and Sister Lavon Holtman of the Hep'er church have teamed up for Christ in literature evangelism.

Mrs. Irma Pearson and Mrs. LaVon Holtman

These sisters will be working as regular half-time literature evangelists devoting from 15-18 hours a week.

Sister Pearson was reared in a Seventh-day Adventist home and is very active in the church. For the past 30 years she has been a strong help in business solicitation in the Ingathering program.

Sister Lavon Holtman has been in the message for 25 years. She carries several of the responsibilities in the church. Recently five individuals were baptized as a result of her active Bible study program.

"Women as well as men can engage in the work of hiding the truth where it can work out and be made manifest. They can do in families a work that men cannot do, a work that reaches the inner life. They can come closer to the hearts of those whom men cannot reach."

We feel sure that there will be many individuals brought closer to the feet of Christ by the Christian visits of this fine team.

Parsons Vacation Bible School

A carefully organized daily vacation Bible school with detailed preparation saves time and effort on the opening day, and helps to put the program into full stride at once.

In the Parsons church this year the vacation Bible school, under the leadership of Mrs. O. K. Ambrecht, had an attendance of 24, and of this number 17 were non-Adventists. Everything was in readiness the first morning, and all of the staff members were prepared to do their job, making a smoothly operated school. We commend our faithful, dedicated Sabbath school workers in our smaller Sabbath schools who courageously proceed with daily vacation Bible school efforts and successfully

UNUSUAL CHURCH SIGN

Kansas Conference churches have been making progress toward better community relations by erecting new and beautiful signs by the churches.

One of these that has been most recently constructed, is the attractive wrought iron sign installed in front of the Galena church as is shown in the accompanying picture.

The church is to be commended for this fine work of art that will be a constant testimony to the city of an active Seventh-day Adventist church in their community.

Results of Radio Evangelism

Mr. and Mrs. Oris Jackson, along with two of their children, Virginia and Christine, united with the Great Bend church on Sabbath, June 17, by profession of faith.

It was about one year ago when the Jackson family was baptized, and united with a Baptist church, but when they heard of the Sabbath truth over the radio they were convicted of the truthfulness of that doctrine; so they began to do some real serious thinking about the matter.

Brother Jackson prayed that the Lord would help him find a job that did not require Sabbath work as an indication as to what he should do. His prayer was answered, and he and his family began to think of a church home with Sabbathkeepers.

It was at the beginning of the second week of evangelistic meetings conducted by Elder B. F. Hartman in the Great Bend church during April, that the Jacksons began to attend. They attended the remainder of the series of meetings; and also began their good habit of Sabbath school and church attendance the following Sabbath. Brother and Sister Jackson also have a married daughter who has just recently started attending church and Sabbath school. She is now enrolled in the Gift Bible Evangelism program.

We know the Jacksons will be faithful stewards, for they had only attended one or two evangelistic meetings when Brother Jackson handed to the writer a money order for a large amount of tithes.

We certainly want to welcome this very sincere family into fellowship with the great advent movement.
