"Surely I Come Quickly. Even So, Come, Lord Jesus."

Vol. 11 MOUNT VERNON, OHIO, P. O., (ACADEMIA, OHIO), DECEMBER 11, 1907. No. 48

THE OHIO GONFERENCE

PRAY THE LORD OF THE HARVEST

PRAY while the moments tarry— The year is turning gray— Soon with its burden heavy 'T will pass from earth away.

Pray for the Holy Spirit

To come in quickening might – Come and arouse from stupor, Come and anoint our sight:

Pray the Lord of the harvest That his work be quickly done. Pray that he send the reapers---Pray for the reapers gone.

Mount like eagles heaven ward---Strong on the wings of faith---Till out of our lukewarm dreaming We learn what the Master saith.

O for the quickening Spirit That waits our earnest cry. Not in vain shall we seek it— Pray while the days go by.

P. ALDERMAN.

THE NEW HEADQUAR-TERS AT WASHING-TON, D. C.

AT the close of the recent conference at Philadelphia, the Ohio delegation concluded to return by way of Washington, D. C., and visit the new headquarters.

We first called at the sanitarium and were warmly greeted by Dr. Kress and Sister Irwin, who took us from room to room, pointing out the advantages in the construction of the building and the improved facilities with which it is operated. Later in the day, the presence and hearty welcome accorded us by Elder Irwin made the place appear all the more homelike, and the many courtesies shown us by those in charge of this institution will not soon be forgotten. The building is a beautiful cement structure which from without and within is a credit to the cause for which it stands.

We next visited the Collège where Professor and Mrs. Salisbury, Dr. H. W. Miller, and others did everything possible to make our visit both pleasant and profitable. We greatly tenjoyed visiting Dr. Miller's class who are in training for China, and we listened with intense interest to their singing and recitations in the native tongue.

The General Conference office building located at Takoma Park was the next point of interest. Here the president of the General Conference, Elder A. G. Daniells, showed us the plan of construction which we con-The president sider an ideal one. and vice-president occupy offices side by side with folding doors between, while the different departmental secretaries and other officials have their private offices so arranged thateverything is convenient and easy of access, an essential feature in the successful administration of a work that embrases every continent and has to do with every nation, kindred, tongue and people.

The General Conference Committee room is so seated that by a slight movement of the body, without inconvenience or noise, the committee can face any part of the room. The walls are adorned with various maps of the world so that one seated here can in a moment's time get a good view of the entire field. The different color and shadings on these maps illustrate to the beholder the condition and needs of the people in all parts of the one great field. This may account, in part at least, for the enthusiastic appeals we often hear from Elder Daniells in behalf of the fields beyond. In fact it would be difficult for any lover of present truth to visit this place and not be deeply impressed, for the atmosphere of the entire building seems charged with a spirit of missionary enterprise.

From here we went to the Review & Herald Publishing House, which is located a few rods to the right. The same spirit of congeniality was as noticeable here as at the former places just visited. Passing into the press' room we found three large presses of the best and latest improved variety at work, one turning out the Youth's Instructor, another, Life and Health, the third, the good old Review and Herald. On stepping forward we picked up a copy of the latter paper, warm from the press and bearing the date Nov. 28, 1907. As we looked at both the paper and the press, we thought of the changes that have taken place since the Review and Herald made its first appearance fifty-seven years ago.

Before leaving the office building we had the privilege of seeing a bound copy of Volume 1 of the *Re*view and Herald, the first number bearing the date of November, 1850, while the last issue was dated June 9, 1851. This volume was published as a semi-monthly and consisted of thirteen numbers.

It was indeed gratifying to find this dear old friend so comfortably situated in a new home at the capital of our nation, from which it is making weekly visits to thousands of families in all parts of the world. No Seventh-day Adventist family who wishes to keep pace with the progress of the Third Angel's Message, and who desires to triumph with it, can afford to be without the visits of the Advent Review and Sabbath Herald. The stupendous task of changing our denominational headquarters is now a finished fact. And from what we have seen and felt during this visit, we have every reason to believe that this move will prove a great blessing to the cause of God and hasten the day of final rewards.

H. H. BURKHOLDER.

Killbuck

FROM November 7 to 10 I enjoyed the privilege of being with the Killbuck church. We held two evening services with a good audience, and some expressed themselves. as being desirous of more meetings. This is the first time I ever met with this church, and I believe that a short series of meetings could be held here with profit.

On Sabbath we celebrated the ordinances of the Lord's house, with most of the members present. All seemed to enjoy the service. Sister Kaser, who was baptized at campmeeting, was taken into the church and she now stands beside her husband, united with him in the faith. May she be, with him, a blessing to the church and the cause of truth.

ELDER W. D. CURTIS

FUNERAL services over the remains of Elder W. D. Curtis were held Tuesday, Nov. 26, 1907. Elder W. E. Videto offered the prayer at the house after which the funeral cortege formed and proceeded to the College Chapel where a large concourse of people had assembled to pay their respect and sympathy. The following remarks were made by Elder Lamson:— We have met this day to perform the rite of Christian burial for our brother, Will DeForest Curtis, who was born May 10, 1851, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and died, of organic heart disease, at his home at Berrien Springs, Mich., Nov. 23, 1907. He was therefore at the date of his death, 56 years, 6 months and 13 days old.

His father was an Adventist, but the son did not embrace the doctrines of Adventism until about twentyseven years ago. Giving his whole heart to the work, he soon entered the ministry, and the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, held in Battle Creek, in 1886, sent him and his wife as missionaries to Australia. They sailed in January, 1887, stopping en route for two months at Honolulu, assisted in establishing the work there, and later assisted Elder Daniells in New Zealand.

They were gone from this country six years, returning on the missionary ship, Pitcairn. On the way back, they visited the islands of Pitcairn and Tahiti. After his return to this country, Elder Curtis labored in Illinois and Indiana for several years.

Four years ago next spring, Elder Curtis was chosen Educational Secretary of the Lake Union Conference, to fill a vacancy, and at the last session of the Conference, he was elected for the full term of two years to the same position, which he held at the time of his death.

He seemed to enjoy the service of Sabbath forenoon, although no one knew that he was suffering somewhat from the exertions put forth through his earnestness. In the evening he was at home, visiting with his family and talking with a neighbor on some matters of business, when his heart refused to perform its usual functions, and in the short space of half an hour, his lifework was closed.

A wife, a sister, two sons, and two daughters remain. As one who has been personally associated with Elder Curtis along educational lines of work for six or seven years, it affords me an unusual degree of gladness to be able to witness to the earnestness, fidelity, and Christian character of our brother. Many questions of intense importance in the denominational educational work have been up for discussion and settlement in meetings in which we have been together. His remarks were always worth considering; his conclusions, as a rule, correct: but whether he was with the majority or the minority, he was the same affable, courteous, Christian man.

Elder Kauble spoke feelingly, adding his tribute to the departed in the following words:--

In offering the humble tribute of Emmanuel Missionary College to the solemn services of this occasion, were I expected to do justice to our deep feeling, I would rather invoke the expressiveness and dignity of silence than to attempt the command of words, for there are times when emotion disdains the literature of speech.

Elder Lampson officiated at the grave, the casket being lowered while the choir sang, "Nearer My God to Thee."

NOTES

THE little daughter of Brother and Sister Jump, who has been quite ill of typhoid fever, is convalescing nicely.

WE regret that it was impossible to send sample copies of last week's VISITOR to all the names received at the office. In the future we will see that the supply equals the demand.

THE COLLEGE LIBRARY

Two years ago the College made a special effort to raise some funds for the purchasing of needed books for the College Library. As a result of this effort, several valuable and much needed volumes were purchased. Since that time we have bought no new books, because the school has had many heavy obligations to meet, and has not seen its way clear to expend any of its funds for Library purposes.

We desire to thank all those who assisted us in our former effort to benefit the Library; and now we are going to renew our effort, and hope this will be a subject of much interest to you.

Our College Library is still very small, and every day our school work is hampered and the progress of the student is hindered because of our inadequate Library. We have about one hundred students this year, all of whom ought to have the very best fitting for life's work; but with a Library as small as ours, it is impossible to give these students all they ought to have. We feel sure, therefore, that the friends and patrons of the College would like to see in the institution a good library of well chosen books, and we know of no other way in which to secure this library other than to appeal directly to you. And if all whose attention is called to this worthy cause will assist even a little, much for the College and, students can be done, and we will assure you that every cent, of the money will be expended for such books as will help to make nobler and more useful men and women of our students.

Any amount you feel free to give will be thankfully received. Some can give a dime, some twenty-five cents, some fifty cents, some one dollar, and others can send still more. We fell that the school must not be hindered longer because of its lack of proper books with which to carry on its work, and we trust you will be glad to have some part in this worthy cause.

While this matter is fresh in your mind, will you not help the College and its students by sending an offering? Please do it NOW. Make remttances to C. V. Hamer, the College treasurer.
