How To Sell "World Peace."

Read your book and know what it contains.

Commit yourself to God for this special work, and pray earnestly that His blessing may rest upon your labor.

Do not forget to pray, as you work, that God will touch the hearts of the people whom you visit.

Make your canvass short and to the point.

Show confidence in your subject. Do not act as though you were ashamed of the work you are doing. You have a message of life and death; present it as such, and you will have no difficulty in arousing an interest.

Be enthusiastic. Enthusiasm is contagious. If you are intensely interested in "World Peace" yourself, you will reveal this interest in your words and in the manner in which you work and it will be reflected from your very countenance and those for whom you are laboring will unconsciously catch the spirit, and sale will follow in rapid succession.

Do not go out to see how much money you can make, but remember that there are those who date their conversion to the truth from the day that someone placed in their hands a 25 cent pamphlet.

How often do we hear our colporteurs tell how true they have found this to be. Just as soon as they have lost sight of the true object of their work and allowed their eyes to be fastened upon the dollar, their work has gone down; but when they began to pray for a burden for lost souls, and to labor not to get gain, but to catch men, God has verified His promise that angels would attend them in their work of mercy. And then only would they begin to realize true success. Almost invariably their sales are multiplied as the seeds of truth are thus sown.

E. R. Numbers,

Canvass For "World Peace."

Good Morning. I have called to hand you a copy of "World Peace in the Light of Bible Prophecy." (At the same time handing them a copy.) It explains present-day events in the light of God's Word. Page 17. Bolshevism and Anarchy with all their terrible results that follow are plainly predicted in the Bible. Page 37. The League of Nations,—It also deals with this subject in the light of inspiration. Page 103. It points to the second coming of Christ, the Prince of Peace, as the one great remedy for the present state of cruelty, suffering, bloodshed, and crime, and closes by portraying the glories of the world to come when sin with its terrible fruits will be banished from the earth and love will reign supreme.

This little book contains 128 pages, and is full of beautiful engravings. (Leafing through the pamphlet rapidly.) It sells for 25 cents. Nearly one-half million copies have already been sold. I hope you will read it carefully.

"World Peace" Big Week in Ohio.

"World Peace in the Light of Prophecy," surely this title alone will sell this wonderful little book. Notice the cover design, the clear cut rays that seem to disseminate from the touch of prophecy. This book can also send, as it were, clear cut rays to every corner of the earth and then it will be that the prophecy of Sister White saying that, "the message which we possess is to shine forth in clear distinct rays, which become brighter and brighter as the earth nears its close" will come to pass.

In the "Review and Herald" of July 21, 1896 there is a statement that should stir every Seventh-day Adventist in Ohio to action. "The great out-pouring of the Spirit of God, which lightens the whole earth with his glory, will not come until we have enlightened people who know by experience what it means to be laborers together with God." The question is, how many of us really know what it is to be a laborer together with God?

The campaign for the "World Peace" will take place during the week, July 6-13. The goal for Ohio is about 40,000 copies for the year and the individual goal is fifteen copies. I am confident that every Adventist in this great state can dispose of that many copies. So far Ohio has used about 9,000 copies of this work and following is a list of the churches which have used this book:

Have you ordered any?

Watch it grow.

Brethren and Sisters our time is short to finish the work in this conference and this is our opportunity to do our part and fruit will be born into the Kingdom as the result. I hope and pray that this little poem will be worked out in the hearts and experience of every member in Ohio.

Perhaps you cannot preach like Paul
In language clear and plain;

But you can do the best you can

And work in Jesus name.

Perhaps you cannot do great things at all;

And all your efforts have ceased,

But you can lift one soul to God

With just one "WORLD'S PEACE."

News Notes

Elder Heckman visited the Newark Church, Sabbath, June 14.

Elder J. J. Marietta, who has been working in Hamilton, is moving to Newark where he will have charge of the work in that district.

Elder Sivak will conduct an effort in Cleveland this summer among the Hungarian people. There are quite a few Hungarians in that large city, and we certainly wish Elder Sivak the very best of success in his work for them.

A week ago Friday, Elder Heckman and Elder Ashton went to Zanesville to conduct the funeral services of sister West. We extend to Sister West's family our deepest sympathy in this dark hour.

A Home Missionary Convention was held in Cincinnati, June 20-22. Elder Heckman, Brother Cassell and Brother Hackman were in Cincinnati where, assisted by Elder Behrens, a splendid convention was held.

Have you ordered your Sabbath School Quarterlies for next Sabbath?

Earl F. Hackman has just returned from a visit among the churches in the interests of the "World Peace" Campaign.

Miss Vera Behrens, since her school is out, has been working with "World Peace" in Cincinnati. She is having splendid success and has just sent in an order for 500 more.

Miss Earline Trapp, a student of Mount Vernon Academy, sold 125 "World Peace" in two hours. "World Peace" sells so rapidly that the Tract Society has found it necessary to wire orders for as many as 1,000 at a time to keep a supply on hand.

We have 1000 July WATCHMAN on hand and we can supply all orders at once. Send in your orders early and avoid the "rush."

The Virginia Camp-Meeting.

Our meeting was held this year in the beautiful hill city of Lynchburg. We had ideal weather every day of the meeting except one which was somewhat wet. The meeting was a success from the start. Everything went on with the greatest harmony.

A slight change was made from the usual camp-meeting program. The first meeting being held at eight o'clock. This change met with the approval of nearly all present. At these meetings the Spirit of God came very near, and hearts were melted and new decisions taken. The key note of victory was sounded and many took a new start for permanent victory in the Christian life. We expect to see many come up to the next camp-meeting still sounding the same note of victory over sin in the daily life.

Only two short business sessions of the Conference were held. These were made necessary by the legal requirements of the "Agency," but the opportunity was improved of receiving into the Conference three new churches that had been organized during the year. They were the Harrisonburg, the Mayberry and the Lynchburg No 2 churches. This last one was organized by Elder F. H. Robbins on the night before it was received into the Conference.

The speakers from outside the Conference were Elders C. S. Longacre, of Takoma Park, D. C., and F. H. Robbins, president of Columbia Union Conference. Elder Longacre gave some very timely sermons, which were much appreciated by those of the camp and by the attendance from the city, which increased from night to night.

One of the features of the meetings at night was the stereopticon views presented by Elder Robbins. They always drew a full tent with many seated around the outside.

We heard some very favorable comments upon the good singing which was led by Brother T. H. Bar-ritt who came over from Ohio to help in this branch of the work. We would always be pleased to have Brother Barritt with us more; as his kindly, courteous ways are a real inspiration to Christian living.

Many testified that it was the best meeting they ever attended, and some of these people have been long in the Lord's service. This shows that we are in the time when God's people are receiving increasing showers of his blessings. May it always be so, and may the triumph note sounded at this meeting continue to swell till all shall join in the great victory song on the sea of glass.

J. A. LELAND.

Experiences in Virginia.

How good it is to have a timely little book like the "World Peace" to present to the people at this time when so many are anxious to know what the Bible has to say about peace in the future. Many of our good people here in Virginia are acting a part in selling this book and are gaining rich experiences in the Lord's work.

Several of the students sold this little book to earn their way to the camp meeting and pay expenses while there. On Thursday, June 3, almost the whole camp went out to sell "World Peace" in Lynchburg. It is needless to say we had a good experience meeting when we returned from this special campaign. The most encouraging feature of the whole experience was the willingness with which the work was taken up and that the leading brethren from the Union and General Conference did not say "go on" but "come on."

We were all made to feel that the man or woman who shrinks from the cross bearing in this work can never hope to share in the crown wearing a little while from now. Quite a number took a good supply of "World Peace" as well as other small books home with them.

Remember the experiences of many at the camp meeting as you go out with these books,—how they were tested and tried at first but by being persistent and keeping at it apparent failure was turned into success. All of our people can take a part in this great work. It is not necessary to learn a lengthy canvass about the small books. In fact they are all on subjects that the people are anxious to have explained to them, and they are so well illustrated that they almost sell themselves, but remember they will not quite do that yet and the Lord needs a medium. He says in "Thoughts from Mount of Blessings," that he accepts O so gladly every agency that is surrendered to him. These little books are doing a mighty work for God in Virginia, both in warning the sinner and in winning them to Christ. Do not say you have no time to work, for Christ looks at this matter as you will wish you had when probation closes. "Our time belongs to God and we are under the most solemn obligation to improve it to his glory."

July 6 to 13 has been set aside as BIG WEEK with "World Peace." Now do not be a slacker, but do what you can at this time and order your books in plenty time."

D. W. Percy.

"World Peace" As A Guide.

Anything that causes men to pause in the great rush of today and think seriously and sanely is of value at the present time. A book or paper that causes men to stop and think seriously and sanely along right lines is of special value just now. There are many books and papers that cause men to stop and think hard and seriously, but not sanely.

"World Peace" grips the attention of thinking men and directs their minds to the great world events and places them in a new setting, directing their thoughts to the meaning of the great world movements in the light of God's Word thus leading them safely and sanely to eternal things.

We have come to the time when our publications should be scattered like the leaves of the autumn. Sometimes we pride ourselves in the fact that we have sold a good many thousands of dollars worth of our books and papers. But the figures of one Field Secretary for the past year show us that there are a great many homes to be visited yet. These figures showed that for the last year, which was a banner year, literature was placed in the homes of only one in six in that conference. And the amount in money divided up among the different inhabitants would give only a very few cents, less than ten, to each person.

So we see that there is a great work yet to be done before we scatter the publications like the leaves of the autumn. We are just waking up to realize that we have a great work to do in the homeland before we can hear the "Well done" said. Let us, then be up and doing. "World Peace" is an excellent eye-opener and nerve steadier for those who will read it, so let it circulate liberally that we may reap the reward of those who sow bountifully.

Shenandoah Valley Academy

The halls of the Academy buildings seem so quiet since school closed. The tick of the clock can be heard more distinctly. The dinner bell has lost its attraction, and the dining room its merriment; nevertheless, the beautiful red Rambler speaks of nature in all its beauty. Improvements will be made during the summer vacation which will be a welcome to all the old students, and also to the new ones.

Four auto loads from New Market went to the camp meeting at Lynchburg, a distance of 132 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Parrot and family of Chicago are visiting at the home of C. V. Woods. Mrs. Parrot is a sister of Mr. Woods.

Elder W. C. Moffett gave his farewell sermon at the Lynchburg camp meeting. While we regretted to see him leave the Virginia Conference, still we are glad to welcome Elder J. A. Leland. We believe he has already taken a deep interest in his work, and we are looking forward for great results.

A large number of the young men and women, who attended the Academy during the school year have gone into the canvassing work during the vacation. We are glad these young people have learned to be self-reliant, and believe success will attend their efforts.

Orion Lawrence, a student from the Academy earned one scholarship during the week between the closing of school and the camp meeting.

Miss Myrtle Neff has gone to summer school for teachers. Miss Neff taught the primary grades at the Academy during the past year and has excellent success. She will return to the Academy for another year.

Mr. D. Percy and family are moving from Harrisburg to New Market. Mr. Percy has charge of the home missionary work of Virginia.

Miss Anna Tucker, who has been teaching in Richmond during the past year, has been spending a few days with her mother and other relatives. Miss Tucker expects to attend the summer school at Washington.

Between twenty-five and thirty dollars worth of articles of the Students' Union were sold at the camp meeting. The proceeds go toward the electric lights. We are glad to spend our recreation time in making these articles and we thank those who help us by purchasing them.

Six new chemical fire extinguishers have been purchased for the Academy.

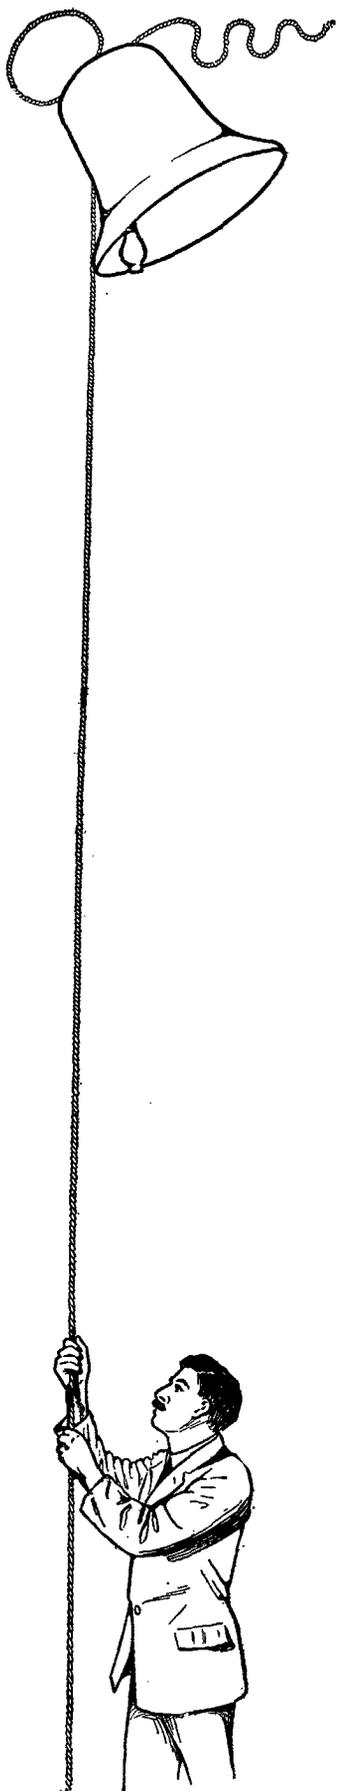

The office has been a busy place since camp meeting, as there were so many letters to write and calendars to send out. Any one interested in school work, address the principal, H. M. Forshee, New Market, Va.

Cheering Words.

Did you ever work in the harvest field, binding the golden sheaves of grain under the burning sun, and long for the sun to sink in the west that you might lay down the work for the day and rest your weary limbs? And feeling thus, did you ever have some one speak an encouraging word to you to cheer you on, and did you feel inspired with new strength and hope by the kindly word spoken, until you almost forgot your tired condition and hastened on to finish your work?

Thus it is in the great harvest field of the world. The sun of mercy is sinking in the west, and the day of probation will soon be ended. We need to hurry, though we may sometimes feel weary, for the gospel work is not yet completed; our task is not yet done. It must be completed before we go home. But let us listen to the sweet words of encouragement spoken to us by the Lord of the harvest, and let these words cheer us on until we forget the thorns that wound our hands and the rocks that bruise our feet, and we hasten on with glad hearts to do the work He has appointed for us.—N. P. Neilsen, in "Northern Union Reaper."

REVIEW AND HERALD.

SEVENTIETH ANNIVERSARY ANNOUNCEMENT.

July 1919 Completes the Seven- tieth Year of Publication of Our Church Paper.

This paper was brought into existence by divine appointment. Seventy years ago Elder and Mrs. James White were living at Rocky Hill, Conn. While living there Elder White was impressed that it was his duty to write and publish the present truth. He was greatly encouraged and blessed as he decided to do this, but being penniless he thought it impossible to publish a paper, so became discouraged and gave up his plan.

Sister White was then shown in vision that he (Elder White) must walk out by faith and write and publish the present truth.

Seventy years ago in July the first number of the first paper was published. Those papers were directed to all whom it was thought would read them. When they were ready for mailing those sturdy, consecrated pioneers gathered around the little pile of papers, and with earnest prayers mingled with tears entreated that God's blessing might attend the silent messengers. Very soon letters came bringing means to publish the paper, and the good news of many souls embracing the truth.

Through all the years the Review has been an important factor in the development of this message, and in helping the believers to maintain a bright Christian experience, beset as they have been with trials and temptations especially designed to discourage and disheartened those keeping God's Commandments.

The Review asks every believer in the Columbia Union Conference to join them in celebrating the completion of seventy years of service, and to assist in helping our church paper to become of greater service in the future.

During the month of July, 1919, the publishers offer to send the Review Fourteen Months for $2.50. This offer is good for both renewals and new subscriptions.

If you are not a subscriber send $2.50 during July and the Review will be sent to you for fourteen months.

If you are a subscriber to the Review, (no matter how long in the future your subscription may be paid) send $2.50 during July and your expiration date will be set forward Fourteen Months.

All orders for subscriptions or renewals should be sent to your conference tract society.

Establish Your Confidence.

It is frequently remarked that those who have become members of our church through reading themselves into the truth make the most stable members and are difficult to shake out. It is equally true that those of our people who are regular readers of the Review and Herald are hard to shake out and the reason is not far to seek. No one can read the reports from all parts of the world of the progress of this movement and the wonderful providences of God in opening up the way in the foreign fields without having his confidence established in this message and movement. The carefully prepared articles on various phases of the message are calculated to establish the reader in the faith and the timely editorials filled with encouragement and the needed admonitions, as well as practical instruction concerning every day Christian living, are well calculated to strengthen every believer in these testing times.

For nearly a quarter of a century the writer has made it a point to read the Review every week even though every other periodical published by us may have to be passed up on account of the pressure of work.

W. C. Moffett.

Ten ways in which the Review helps:

1. Helps in attaining a higher spiritual experience.
2. Inspires to greater services in the cause of God.
3. Contains reports from mission fields.
4. Has good illustrations picturing conditions in mission fields.
5. Reports conferences and council meetings.
6. Cites instances of the fulfillment of prophecy by current events.
7. Gives practical instructions in home making.
8. Reports work done by our various institutions and departments.
9. Gives studies on Biblical themes and the Testimonies.
10. Strengthens one's faith in the message.

Send orders for your subscription or renewal to your conference tract society.

The League of Nations and World Peace.

All the world is focusing its attention on the Peace Conference at Versailles where the best statesmanship of the world is engaged in an effort to establish a peace that will prevent another world war, knowing that the failure of the effort to establish a lasting peace will mean the destruction of modern society and of the civilization that has developed through centuries of progress.

The present is the opportune time to place in the hands of the people the little book "World Peace" which is up to the minute. Those who have tried it, find that the book sells itself. Because of the intense interest in this subject, thousands of people, when they are told the Bible has something to say on the question, are at once anxious to know what this is. When the book is read an interest is frequently aroused in the message for this time and the way is paved for further work. Every Seventh-day Adventist ought to secure a supply of "World Peace" and see that our neighbors and friends have an opportunity of reading it

W. C. Moffett.

The "World Peace" Campaign.

The present time of peace calls for unparalleled activities on the part of every believer in the Third Angel's Message. This lull of hostilities among the nations is a loud call from our God to arouse and work while comparative quietness prevails upon the earth. We are told in "Testimonies for the Church," Vol. V, p. 463, that, "the work which the church has failed to do in a time of peace and prosperity, she will have to do in a terrible crisis, under most discouraging, forbidding circumstances." Does it not seem strange that we, knowing this fact, should postpone our efforts until the present golden opportunity is gone forever?

While the so-called great and wise men of the earth are promising "assured peace," the sure word of prophecy is fulfilling and the world is rushing to "sudden destruction." How can we, "whose souls are lighted," calmly sit down and let the sword come and destroy the people, when by faithfulness we may save save ourselves and them that hear us?

The book "World Peace" sets forth in a clear and strong manner the Bible teaching relative to present and everlasting peace. It tells us what we may expect from the Peace Conference and the League of Nations. It is the very book for this time, and desired when only the title is seen.

A few weeks ago, our tract society secretary, desiring to see this book widely circulated in this conference, sent a letter to the head of each family, calling their attention to the importance of owning and circulating it. Then the Home Missionary Secretary wrote a letter to the elders, asking them to take up this matter with the churches. I also visited most of the churches and asked that our people unite in the effort to place thousands of copies of the book in the homes of New Jersey. In every place, a response was given. Some of our churches have taken 1100 or more copies. One church of about ten members has taken 525. Orders have come in from isolated members, from members in the cities, and from churches to the amount of over 10,000 copies.

I was out one day with a sister in Newark. It was her first effort. That day she sold nineteen books and enjoyed it very much. While with another sister, we sold a book in each house for five houses running. While waiting a few minutes for a person one morning, I sold eight books—three in one house.

Here is word from the field:

"Yesterday three of us went out for about two hours and canvassed "World Peace" and sold nearly one-half our hundred, so I immediately ordered another hundred. We expect to sell them on through the summer as long as we can have territory. The Lord certainly does open the hearts of the people to receive them. They are very anxious to get the book."

Sure the distribution of this timely light must result in the salvation of many souls. I am glad that July 6-13 inclusive has been set apart as BIG WEEK with this book, and I feel that New Jersey, will, in addition to what she has already done, join the rest of the Union in this glorious effort. "There shall be delay no longer."

lies and other Sabbath School supplies THIS WEEK, for we cannot plan to give much attention to orders which come in during camp meeting.

The workers are all on the grounds making preparations for the Camp meeting. We plan to have everything in readiness on the camp when our people arrive. Judging from the number of tent and room orders which we have received, we feel sure this will be the largest camp meeting ever held in New Jersey.

Five church school teachers from New Jersey are attending the Summer School in Washington. They are: Mr. Robert Sparks, Misses Susanna Haynal, Florence Duff, Anna Wrigley, and Ruth Sterner.

Elder Moffett arrived in Trenton last week with his family. They hope to get located in their new home before camp meeting begins.

We trust all the church clerks and church treasurers will be prompt with their reports for the month of June and quarter ending June 30th.

Experiences in Chesapeake.

Listen; While I know you are handling a goodly amount of literature of all kinds, still I know that we can do still more along this line so during the week July 6 to 13, a special campaign will be launched in the Columbia Union for the sale of the up-to-date little book. "World Peace," which finds a ready sale everywhere.

Will you see how many of the "World Peace" you can sell during this special campaign? It sells for only 25c and you can receive the usual discount of fifty per cent using the profit as you desire.

Many of the sisters and brethren in Chesapeake are already having some wonderful experiences with the sale of these little books. One sister who is a member of the Baltimore No. 1 Church has sold one hundred of these little books a day on several occasions, and her sales have reached $125.00 a week.

Some of the sisters of the Baltimore No. 3 Church find no difficulty whatever to sell twenty-five of these books on Saturday night on the streets. Reports are coming in from different parts of the conference of the experiences of those selling the small books. One sister from Baltimore, while visiting in Cambridge, sold forty books Saturday night and said she could have sold more if she had them with her.

In a number of cases, an interest in the Third Angel's Message has been awakened by the reading of our 25c books. I can assure you, dear friends, that "World Peace" is the book of the hour, and you will receive your reward by doing your part in the circulation of this excellent little work. I would suggest that even though you may be selling a larger book, or magazines, that you take the "World Peace" along with you, and do your part. Our goal is twenty books per member for Chesapeake.

"World Peace" Experiences.

Many a golden opportunity has been lost because we have not heeded the instruction given concerning the scattering of truth laden literature. July 6 to 13 will be an opportune time to scatter some of this literature in the form of "World Peace."

Some are already having good experiences selling "World Peace." Two young ladies in Pittsburg have been selling copies of this book on the streets. They have been able to sell fifty copies in one evening.

A gentleman, who purchased a "World Peace" from a colporteur, said it was the best help on that subject he had found.

A member of the Indiana Church attempted to sell "World Peace" in the stores. She was successful in selling one in almost every store.

It seems that the way has been prepared. We hope every church member will join in this campaign and that each one will be successful in disposing of at least twenty copies of "World Peace" during the BIG WEEK.

To Contributors

It is our aim and desire that the Columbia Union Visitor reach its readers in good season each week. To accomplish this, it is necessary that the paper be made up Friday afternoon, and this cannot be done unless the copy be had by WEDNESDAY MORNING. We request, therefore, that all contributors send in their weekly reports typewritten, double-spaced at the time specified, and that the reports be short and frequent, rather than long and far apart.

school. He reports that he has found several who are planning to be in the Academy next winter.

Brother E. A. Manry is visiting some of the northern churches in the interest of the educational work. He is planning to have several new church schools this fall.

The Johnston Church has been selling magazines to help raise funds to remodel their church. On Saturday night $20.00 was raised by selling the Signs monthly. Two of the sisters called upon some of the business men and in a few hours had secured $50.00. Their plans for remodeling include a neat room for church school purposes.

News Notes

Here is a report of the work of one of our church school pupils as you read it, think seriously of the Lord's counsel to place all of our children in Christian schools. First of all we are given a picture of a play hour, naturally school being uppermost in the minds of the children, that is the game played; but little Mary is using her own books, and the story of creation is told and retold to her playmates as her teacher told it to her, her Gospel Primer being the text book for the occasion. Next comes some of her Home missionary reports. Would you like to have the following credited to your account? These were sold by a little girl only seven years of age outside of school hours.

100 Tracts—"Why Not Found Out Before?"

100 Tracts—"Court Week in Heaven."

100 Tracts—"Third Angel's Message."

Two "Shadow of the Bottle."

One "Our Lord's Return."

One "Christian Sabbath."

One "World's Peace."

She also gave away 100 memory verse cards and 45 paper. This is a record of six weeks. Is she not a little missionary? Truly the Lord understood when he said the church schools were ordained to prepare the children to help finish the work that must be done quickly so that He may return.

The book "Christ's Object Lessons" will be used as a help on next Quarters Sabbath School Lessons. The price of this book in cloth binding is $1.50. You can obtain one from the Tract Society at a special price of ninety cents.

Elder Friess has now pitched his tent in Philadelphia and expects to commence his meetings July 5th.

Elder McCord, who will labor with Philadelphia, is now on his way from Florida.

Elder W. T. Knox visited the office last week.

Brethren F. H. Phelps, M. C. Spencer, W. Spencer and Elder Detwiler visited the office last week.

Elder Charles Baerie is still searching Easton for a site for his tent. Several places have been found but nothing definite.

The Conference Committee have decided to have W. H. Frizell as Assistant Field Secretary to Brother Reichenbaugh. He is now getting hold of the advancing work in our Conference.

"As the siege of Jerusalem by the Roman armies was the signal for flight to Judean Christians, so the assumption of power on the part of our nation, in the decree enforcing the papal Sabbath, will be a warning to us. It will then be time to leave the large cities, preparatory to leaving the smaller ones for retired homes in secluded places among the mountains. And now, instead of seeking expensive dwellings here, we should be preparing to move to a better country, even a heavenly."—Volume 5, 464-465.
