Great Excitement IN THE COLUMBIA UNION OFFICE

BIG WEEK RESULTS

There was a great deal of excitement in the office when we received the striking report of the West Pennsylvania Conference of $5,849.00. I said to some of the folks, "That is the largest report we have ever had come into this office in one week."

BROKEN

We had hardly gotten calmed down over the excitement when here came West Virginia's report of $7,106.00.

OUR GOAL

We only set our goal for $20,000 for the week, but for good honest measure the Lord gave us $24,269.00. It is easy for him to do things like that for us. Last year the Big Week sales were $17,000.00.

DIDN'T YOU REALLY

ENJOY THE WORK?

Brother Andross, Brother Barritt and I worked in the Chesapeake Conference. Really my soul was watered as I told the people of the times in which we live. Several asked what church we belong to. One lady said she had never heard of the church of Seventh-Day Adventists. She ordered a "Bible Readings." We stopped at another beautiful home and spent the night. They also wanted to know of what church we were members. They gave us our night's lodging and ordered a half leather "Bible Readings."

PLAN TO WORK A WEEK IN NOVEMBER!

UNION MEN

Nearly all of the Union men were out canvassing and had a week of blessings in field service. Those who could not go because of other duties are sorry, and are panning to go next Big Week, which will be Nov. 7-13.

COLUMBIA UNION CONFERENCE

The Virginia Camp Meeting

The Virginia camp meeting was held May 27 to June 6, in Richmond. The camp was pitched in Forest Hill Park, which is surrounded by a good residential section of the city. There was beautiful weather throughout the meeting with the exception of two rain storms.

The field day was an important feature of the meeting. Nearly the whole camp went out and were successful in placing fifty-seven dollars' worth of small books in the homes of the people. The literature sales during the camp meeting amounted to more than $700. Gifts and pledges to missions totaled $2,723 in addition to what was given to the home work.

Those in attendance besides Union and local conference workers were Elder and Mrs. E. E. Andross, who rendered valuable service. The people were much benefited by the timely sermons of Elder Andross, and the young people were strengthened spiritually by the good instruction given by Sister Andross. Prayer bands were organized at the beginning of the camp meeting, and there seemed to be a real spiritual consecration from the very first. The workers' meetings were a source of encouragement to the conference laborers.

Elder J. A. Leland, president of the conference, and practically all the old officers were re-elected for the next term. The brethren and sisters in the Virginia Conference are all of good courage, and are giving their hearty cooperation for the finishing of the work in this generation.

The Denver Convention

The Home Missionary Convention of Union Conference Secretaries opened at eight p. m. July 9 in the First Seventh-Day Adventist Church, Denver, Colorado, with a full representation of delegates and a large number of visitors. Elder C. V. Leach, secretary of the General Conference Home Missionary Department, opened the convention by greetings and inspiring remarks concerning the progress and the outlook of the home missionary work. He struck the key-note of the convention in emphasizing the thought that the home missionary movement is a soul-saving movement, and that there is no goal however inspiring, and no line of activity however important, which can take the place of the end and object of all our efforts—the salvation of men and women from the darkness of sin.

Elder R. D. Quinn followed Elder Leach by reading the Scripture found in I. Chronicles 12:32-39 and stated that he believed this was a description of the kind of men gathered in this convention; and that he was glad to be identified with such a group of men because he believes that with them rests the culmination of the movement. He added: "I see not a move, but a movement, and a movement which will never stop. It is born of God. There is no doubt but that the people are ready for the movement. They will fall to us in abundance when they see that the Lord is with us. The great trouble will be to direct and guide their activities, and enlighten them and train them, and prepare them to do efficient service. It is a great problem which confronts us. What is needed now is not so much propagandists as it is well-trained men and women who have an understanding of the times, and know what they ought to do."

Doctor B. G. Wilkinson was our next speaker. He referred to the text, "The Lord brought them forth also through the wilderness and there was not one feeble person among their tribes."

He spoke of the need of better organization for the accomplishment of greater work and said, "There is something fabulous in organization. I do not know what it is. Julius Caesar took six million men and organized them. I believe that Jesus Christ has greater power of organization than Julius Caesar. I believe if we will submit, God will reorganize us until there will not be one feeble person in all our ranks. I believe that our standards are altogether too low. Someone has said 'Make no small plans, for they have no power to stir men's blood.' We must pitch higher standards. We must make greater demands, and our faith will show that we are coupled with God when we do. I believe in the divine optimism. Everything else is going to disaster, but the third angels' message is growing stronger and stronger. May God help us to arouse the great army of valiant men and women to the task before us and that the time may soon come when there will not be one feeble person in all our ranks."

Elder J. Adams Stevens gave a very interesting talk. He brought no discouraging report from the Pacific Coast. The outlook is bright and the people are ready to step into the line of service. He said he believes that the spirituality of our work is of primary importance. We must lay the foundations deep and strong in the hearts of our people. After referring to the political agitation and the uncertainty as to the platforms of the various parties he said "The platform of our movement should be one about which there can be no question. It is to enlist the active cooperation of every one of our members. God is ready to do marvelous things for us. I pray that he will give us a large vision, strong faith, and heavenly endowment for the finishing of this glorious work."

Then followed a symposium of inspiring reports and experiences from the various secretaries, all breathing a spirit of cooperation and high ideals for the future, and a desire to profit to the fullest extent by the deliberations of the convention.

Pittsburgh to New Jersey

After more than eight years of what was termed by others as successful labors in the Jamaica (our homeland) and South Caribbean Conferences, the writer with his family, took up work

June 1, 1912, at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, among the colored people. Eight years have now passed, and we have changed our field to follow a similar work in New Jersey, where there are several small companies scattered through the state, with no permanent place of worship.

The eight years we spent in Pittsburgh were years of varied experiences, which we can never forget. They were filled with joys unspeakable, as well as with sorrows which were heart-breaking, but for the grace of God. Thanks be unto him for the victories he gave!

We found two companies of fifteen and eight members, respectively, in the conference with no place of worship. When we left in June the combined membership was about one hundred and fifty-two. At the time we took up work in 1912 the combined tithes were $25.00 to $35.00 per month, while the mission offerings were $92.00 for the year. Under the blessing of God the figures have been greatly increased. To be specific: Combined tithes for 1919, $5,202.25 and foreign mission offerings $2,040.68 or for the eight years up to June 1, 1920: Tithes $19,445.52; mission offerings $6,949.54. Besides the above, about $2,400 were gathered for home missions of various sorts, excluding the church building which was erected in 1915 at a cost of $5,500.00 and also exclusive of about $900 now in hand for a proposed church school. On the church building we received about $1,300 help from the North American Division Conference, and several of our white churches of the West Pennsylvania Conference. The indebtedness on the church has been reduced to almost $500 at present. We were delighted to see in the city church the tithe for the last month of our stay reach the highest figure for any one month—$585.98, and the last Thirtieth Sabbath Offering $181. For all this we praise God. These figures help to show that it is not unprofitable business to help foster the work for the colored people in large cities, even from the money viewpoint.

Coming from the tropics, we had to suffer with climatic conditions such as were to be expected. Severe afflictions certainly tried our faith. Our health suffered and revived. Four members of the family have had seven operations which were not simple, while pneumonia and other diseases touched us. But for the fatal accident of August 2, 1918, when our beloved ten-year-old daughter was burned to death while both my wife and I were away from home, the gracious Father has spared us all thus far. We have certainly paid the price and as we leave that grave in Pittsburgh, we feel that we should reconsecrate our lives to God, that in the gathering day, our family might be reunited.

Our association with our brethren, workers and laity has been most cordial and pleasant, so that we look back with pleasant memories almost without exception. Many cooperated most nobly to help bring about what little success we have had. I cannot refrain from mentioning how Elder F. H. Robbins, now president of the Columbia Union Conference, and then our local president, with his two brothers, donned the overalls, and laid the bricks when we built the church in the fall of 1915.

Sister M. I. Gauntlett for several years has put forth untiring efforts to help in every way as Bible worker. She also will be in New Jersey, where we hope, with God's help, to do all we can to give stability to the work among our people. We solicit the prayers of the saints.

Elder F. C. Phipps of Illinois has succeeded me in Pittsburgh and, with a work which is fairly well established, we hope for brighter days for God's people there.

A. N. DURRANT.

Calling You

"Hark! The voice of Jesus calling,
Who will go and work today?
Fields are white, the harvest waiting,
Who will bear the sheaves away?"

"Loud and long the Master calleth,
Rich reward He offers free,
Who will answer, gladly saying,
Here am I, O Lord, send me?"

While we are thankful for what God is doing for us, yet we see thousands of people in darkness. Unless God's people rally to the work of scattering the printed page, many will never hear the truth.

We have in West Pennsylvania several counties where we would like to place resident canvassers. "Bible Readings," "Great Controversy," "Our Day," "Past, Present and Future," and other books can be used in these counties.

We also have many cities where we can place ladies who feel the burden of souls. Who will respond to the call?

Address T. M. Butler, Field Secretary, 1012 W. Church St., Indiana, Pa.

News Notes

A few weeks ago Elder D. A. Rees, assisted by A. E. Holst, our Educational Secretary, conducted a series of meetings in the Carnegie Library auditorium in the Homewood district. The attendance was good. Up to this time twenty-six have signed the covenant and several others are interested.

One of our sisters who devotes much time to missionary work had the pleasure of seeing a foreign lady take her stand for the Sabbath. In every city are those whom our lay members could interest in the truth.

Beginning with the week of July 25 our conference plans to use a large quantity of magazines in home missionary work. Souls are dying for the Bread of Life, and our people need to make haste to reach those for whom Christ died.

Our colporteurs have had phenomenal success in the past few weeks. True to the promise, angels have gone before them into the homes of the people. As a result thousands of dollars' worth of orders have been taken. Satan will do all he can to hinder the deliveries. Dear Reader, will you not pray earnestly that every order can be delivered and that the books will be a mighty factor in converting souls.

The Home Missionary department is pleased with the June reports. Nearly every secretary was faithful in reporting. We trust that July missionary work will be reported by the tenth of August.

Has your church ordered its supply of Harvest Ingathering? If not, please do so at once.

News Notes

The Missionary Volunteer Societies in the Fords Store and Wilmington No. 1 Churches are one hundred per cent reporting membership societies. Has your society reached this standard?

A blind brother in the Baltimore No. 3 Church is among those who have passed the Standard of Attainment test in Denominational History. Although Brother Hayes was handicapped in his work by having to depend upon others to read the lessons to him, he passed the test with a mark of 100 per cent, writing out his paper in the laborious Braille. Should not this inspire others, who have greater opportunities, to become members of Attainment?

The Chesapeake Sabbath Schools gave $2,978.18 to missions during the second quarter of 1920, a gain of 55 per cent over the corresponding quarter of last year.

Prof. B. B. Smith of Washington, spent a few days at the office. He was touring the conference in the interest of Washington Missionary College.

Prof. and Mrs. Forshee, of Shenandoah Valley Academy, were callers at the office. A number of our young people have been attending this school, of which Professor Forshee is principal.

We were pleased to have with us for a day, Jesse R. Tanner and Paul Longfellow, two student colporteurs from Shenandoah Valley Academy.

While Sister Marchant was making a delivery she discovered that a minister had tried hard to hinder her work by talking against her book. This caused some to try to go back on their orders. She felt quite discouraged for a time but she called at the house of a minister from whom she had taken an order, and he asked how she was getting along; she told how the other minister had talked against her book. At this, he remarked, "I saw you in a dream last night, and you sat down in that very chair and told me these very words, but the Lord said, 'Go ahead, never mind the preacher, you are handling the truth.'" This brought encouragement and she had a good delivery.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Camp Meeting Sept. 2-12

Have you ordered your tent? If not, send in your order at once. The prices are as follows:

- Tent with shavings and canvass floor$5.00
- Tent with shavings only.... 3.00
- Cots with mattress 1.00
- Double springs with straw
for ticks 2.00
- Chairs10

Sister Ada Thomas was unable to canvass Big Week, as she had just passed through a very serious operation in Philadelphia, but she is recovering nicely and will soon be back to the work she loves.

Brother J. E. Jones says, "I had a big delivery for Big Week, but want some experience in canvassing this week also, so went to my field on Sunday evening and engaged a team for my work for the time it would be necessary for me to make the delivery. The man told me the horse would stop along the road sometimes, but he did not tell me he would balk. However, things went along quite well on Monday, but Tuesday the horse refused to go in spite of anything I could do in the way of persuasion. Finally I learned the man in front of whose house the horse had stopped had an automobile. I called upon him in the field, where he was busy with his farm work, and after considerable persuasion he said, 'Friend, I am very busy and very much behind with my work, and can't afford to do it, but when a fellow is in trouble I guess I will have to help him out.' He was superintendent of a Sunday school and I had every Sunday school superintendent on my list for miles around. With his six-cylinder Buick, he said he thought we could make the delivery in a day. Before sundown our work was done, and he only charged me eight dollars and kept me over night. Thus the Lord helped me to deliver $344.10 worth of books and get into the field for Big Weeg a day sooner than I would, had the horse worked as I expected he would."

News Notes

Many of the friends of Mrs. Daniel Fried will be surprised to learn of her death, which occurred Friday morning, July 23. Sister Fried, after several weeks of illness, closed her eyes in sleep to await the morning of the resurrection. Elder Baierle officiated at the services in her home at Allentown, Monday afternoon, July 26.

Our heart-felt sympathy is extended to Brother Fried and his loved ones who mourn her loss.

Elder Baierle has had no end of trouble getting his effort started at Reading. At the last moment he was unable to get electricity for lighting. He presented his predicament to the conference committee and they voted to install a lighting plant that would also serve its purpose at the camp meeting which will be held in the same city. After ordering the plant, shipping conditions were such that it would not reach him until a week or two late. Brother J. H. Ott of Phoenixville came to his help and installed a temporary plant. The meetings have now started with a good attendance and many interested. The enemy seems to object to an advancement of the cause and does all he possibly can to hinder it, but our great Leader multiplies the hindrances into blessings, and we have every reason to believe success will be the outcome of our effort this year. Remember these brethren and their co-workers in your prayers.

The following are the directions from the Philadelphia & Reading and Pennsylvania Railroad stations at Reading to the camp ground. From the Philadelphia & Reading station take car No. 15 marked Temple; get off at East Penn Culvert; walk through the Culvert to the circus grounds.

From the Pennsylvania Railroad station take car at Second and Penn Streets, transfer to car No. 15 marked Temple, and follow the directions given above. Anyone can direct you to the circus grounds. Orders are coming to the conference office for tents and we trust all who plan to be present this year will send their order immediately.

Correction

Chair rent for East Pennsylvania Camp Meeting should have been fifteen cents instead of seventy five cents.

The Tract Society sales for the month of June were more than the total for the first three months of the year. This is the result of faithful work by our colporteurs, but consideration is also given our church members, who have been loyal in circulating our message filled tracts, papers and books.

The story entitled "After Many Days," published in the Signs of the Times Weekly recently, is now in pamphlet form and can be secured from the Tract Society for fifteen cents a copy. No doubt you have read the story and would like to have this pamphlet to loan to your neighbors. Send your orders with cash immediately.

The following churches led in the amount given per member per week for missions for the first six months:

At the end of the next six months we expect to see 50 cents per week per member from all our churches.

Cleveland Colored Work

The first mortgage on our church, amounting to $2843.00 was burned on Sabbath, July 10. This amount was raised in a little less than three months during which time nearly seven thousand magazines were distributed and hundreds of the small books of the World's Crisis Series were sold. One sister alone turned in $100.00 from magazine sales and many others did almost as well. Literature is not only an entering wedge, but also the support of our work.

We are gratefully indebted to the conference brethren, friends of the cause and faithful church members and ascribe all praise for our success to God.

We postponed our tent work this summer on account of our financial campaign, yet we have found the open air services which have been conducted on our church lawn a powerful factor in reaching the people with this truth. There are many Jews living near the church, and some of them are regular attendants at the services.

News Notes

We are expecting a supply of Dr. Miller's new book, "Way to Health," within a few days. It contains over 500 pages, 17 chapters. After giving due space to general laws of health—how to live to keep healthful, the doctor enters directly into the symptoms, causes and treatment of general diseases. One feature of this book is the elimination of hard medical terms, or where they are necessary, a glossary is found in the back of the book, explaining the same. An exceptionally fine lot of illustrations—actual photographs, showing how to bandage the various parts of the body, how to give fomentations, etc., greatly add to the value of the book.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Beach, who are leaving this country soon to take up school work in China, visited friends in Academia last week. They were presented with a set of "Testimonies" by their friends, and a song book and "The Hand That Intervenes" by some of Mr. Beach's former pupils.

The new pamphlet After Many Days has arrived at the office and is ready for distribution. This is a compilation of a series of articles that was published in the Signs Weekly during the first part of the year. Being written as it is, in story form, makes it very interesting for all. Price 15 cents, postpaid.

Obituaries

TUTTLE, Mrs. Elizabeth French, was born in Manchester, England, January 16, 1845, and died at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 24, 1920, at the age of 75 years. Most of her life was spent in Cleveland and Elyria, Ohio, where she had many friends. In 1916 at Elyria she accepted present truth under the labors of Elder H. A. Weaver, and being without immediate relatives, she made her home with Elder and Mrs. Weaver until the time of her death.

Sister Tuttle was a devoted Christian woman and served the Lord faithfully to the last. We confidently believe that she sleeps in Jesus and will come forth at the last day to a life immortal. There are few who mourn more deeply than those who cared for her in her last years of life. Interment was at Elyria, Ohio. The services were conducted by Elder W. W. Miller of Springfield, Ohio. Elder and Mrs. H. A. Weaver.

Mount Vernon Academy

Mr. Roy Schoonard, who has been canvassing in the West Pennsylvania Conference, writes:

"One rainy Thursday Brother Bixler and I were standing under our umbrellas on a cross road, deciding where to go. We finally decided he should take the road to the right and I the one to the left, with the intention of meeting in the evening at a little coal mining town at a distance of four miles.

"After walking a mile and a half, I came to a house, but did not receive an order. At the next house I got an order, also my dinner, and after dinner I took an order at every house. I finally came to the road I was to take to meet Brother Bixler. I had been told that if I would go to the left I would find a thickly settled farming country and would no doubt sell many books. Near the cross road was a house where a man lived who was known to be very stingy. I did not know which way to go, for I did not want to disappoint Brother Bixler and it would be so far for me to go and return before the Sabbath.

"After seeking the Lord over the matter, I went to the house near the corner. I canvassed both the man and his wife, but could not get an order. I then talked with him of the need of studying these things in order to understand them better that we might live better lives. It seemed that God softened his heart, for he said, 'Yes, I will take one,' and gave me a dollar deposit on it.

"His order was to be the answer to my prayer if God desired me to take the road to the left, so I did. God was surely guiding me with his holy angels as I took many orders, and got my supper and a nice place to stay over night free. The next day I took many orders and the Lord prepared a way for me to get back before the Sabbath. I rode six miles in an auto and was home an hour and a half before the Sabbath.

"That week I worked forty-eight hours and took orders amounting to $251.50. Surely God blesses and takes care of those who place themselves in his care. 'Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass.' This has been my experience and I want to ever trust in him that he may always lead and bless me."

"Talents used are talents multiplied."

We are always glad to receive any news from the students who are canvassing and are glad that so many of them have earned more than one scholarship.

On Sunday evening when Mr. King and Mr. Chow returned from an automobile ride, Mr. Chow was greatly surprised to find a number of his friends on the lawn beside Professor Rockwell's home. They had gathered in honor of Mr. Chow's birthday. After an interesting program, Professor Stone presented him with several books as a token of our respect and love. Though the weather was very cool, everyone present seemed to have a pleasant time and enjoy the refreshments served.

Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. M. A. Billington, has come to the Academy to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. King.

New Territory Entered

In New Brunswick, a city of 35,000 people on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Trenton and Newark, is located one of our leading tent companies this summer. The effort is in charge of Elder W. A. Nelson, assisted by Prof. and Mrs. E. L. Parrish, Mrs. Nelson, and Miss Vera Carrigan.

For some unaccountable reason, no aggressive work has ever been done in this enterprising little city on the Raritan. Yet, lying only twenty-five miles from the conference headquarters, containing a fine, democratic class of people and being in every way thoroughly up to date, it affords a most excellent field for evangelistic work.

The meetings opened Sunday evening, July 25. The big pavilion is pitched on a beautifully situated lot adjoining the High School building, and in one of the finest sections of the city. The interest and hospitality of the people of the vicinity, the kindly co-operation of business men with whom the arrangements were made, the liberality of the newspapers, and the general courteous, inquiring spirit of the town lead us to believe that the efforts put forth there will bear substantial fruit.

Elder Nelson spoke the opening night to an audience of some two hundred fifty people, on the subject, "Has Christianity Failed?" A fine impression has been created, and both the interest and the attendance are increasing as the meetings progress. We pray that, as new territory is entered, new churches may be raised up to represent the truth.

Three members of the Portsmouth Sabbath School have completed the year's record of daily study of the lesson and perfect attendance. The General Conference Sabbath School Department sent these members the bookmark given to all who have received the Honor Card.

Miss Williams visited the Portsmouth and the Norfolk Churches last week, in the interest of the church schools these churches plan to have.

Our Sabbath school offering for last quarter was $1792.72, a gain of $164 over that of the previous quarter. One hundred thirteen seals were placed on the Honor Cards, for daily study and perfect attendance.

Shenandoah Valley Academy

Dear Schoolmates:

Perhaps some of you already know we are at Shenandoah Valley Academy this summer. We miss your happy faces and your melodious voices and have not forgotten you. We often think of the coming September, when we expect to see you again. When Professor Forshee comes back from visiting some of the homes, we are glad to hear the good reports he brings to us.

The work is progressing fine at S. V. A. The shelves in the pantry are beginning to groan as we carry the jars of fruit to their respective places. We expect the old potato bin will be filled to its utmost, as our farm manager is working untiringly to that end.

The canning factory will soon open, when we expect to fill a large number of our new cans whose contents will taste so good to us next winter when that bell calls us from those hard problems.

We would not forget to tell you we are cleaning the rooms. All we can do is to bid them good-bye, close them up and tell them some of our kind friends will visit them soon.

Now, dear friends, do not come back alone. Bring some new students with you. You know we have room now and we will not put anyone in the attic or cellar.

We are enjoying our work and have spent many happy hours, but we hope you will not forget us and that you will come back and enjoy the fruit of our labor.

Sincerely yours,
ANNA STEVENS,
VERA HEGAMYER,
ALPHEUS PURCELL.
