West Virginia Camp Meeting and Conference

The West Virginia camp meeting and conference was held in the city of Parkersburg, June 10-20. There was an attendance of about three hundred of our people, besides three hundred or four hundred not of our faith who came to the night services.

The weather was good throughout the meetings. A large tent, in which the principal meetings were held, and also a number of family tents, were purchased for the occasion. The camp was artistically arranged, and from the very first meeting there was thorough organization in every department.

The meeting proved to be a great spiritual uplift to our people, and a deep interest was created in the foreign mission fields as a result of the excellent sermons given by Elder E. E. Andross, and Elder M. D. Wood of India. Elder W. H. Branson attended part of the camp meeting. His good sermons on justification by faith, which were presented in a clear and forceful manner, were much appreciated by the people.

Dr. H. W. Miller, of the Washington, D. C., Sanitarium, spent a short time on the camp-ground, giving valuable instruction to our people in regard to health conservation. There was a full attendance of the union secretaries and those engaged in the Columbia Union Conference work.

Elder T. B. Westbrook, president of the conference, and practically all the old officers of conference, were re-elected to serve for the next two years.

Practically everyone on the camp-ground went out with the small books on field day. Those who took part in this work had some very interesting experiences to relate when they returned to the camp. The offerings for missions and the home work amounted to nearly $4,000, and the Harvest Ingathering goal was set at $5,000.

The Lord is blessing the work in West Virginia, under the leadership of Elder Westbrook. The outlook for the future is very encouraging. An excellent spirit prevails among the people, and all are of good courage in the work. F. H. ROBBINS.

Let Us Work Together

Brother, Sister, what about that friend or neighbor of yours that should be receiving Present Truth each week?

Let me tell you how it can be done. Send me their names and addresses. Send TODAY. It is the Day of Salvation. Tomorrow may be too late.

I can use hundreds of names of those you know are favorable or those for whom you have a special burden, and daily ask the God of Heaven to water the seed by His Spirit. Write names and addresses plainly and send to

Beginning July 1

Beginning July 1, the Columbia Union Conference faced the tremendous task of raising for Missions, approximately $183,000.00 in 184 days. Brethren and Sisters, this cannot be done without your substantial support. The task is greater because we failed during the first six months of the year to raise our quota for missions. There is a shortage in the Columbia Union of over $51,000.00. Will you not try during the remainder of the year to EARN all you can, SAVE all you can, and GIVE all you can for missions? The past is gone forever. Today is passing. Tomorrow never comes. Those who must lead out in the work are calling, the whiteden fields are calling, and the spirit of God is calling to us to dedicate our time, our talents, and our means to this cause. SUPPOSE the work of God should close tonight with the setting of the sun. C. C. PULVER.

Answered Prayer

At the request of Brother Siler, Field Secretary of the Chesapeake Conference, I visited some of the colporteurs on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. I was first to see Brethren Ellwanger and Tanner, students of the Shenandoah Valley Academy. I arrived in Pocomoke, a town of about four thousand inhabitants, where I was expecting to meet these brethren. But they had not received the word, so there was no one there to meet me. Realizing that I might not be able to locate them, I went to the Lord in prayer and asked him to bring me in contact with them if it was his will. I soon located the place where they were staying. It was about one mile out of the town, at the home of Brother and Sister Godwin. These brethren had started out the day before, expecting to be gone all the week, but just about the time I reached the home, Brother Ellwanger came in to get some small books. This was about 8 A. M. At the request of Brother Godwin, we returned to spend the night with him, and just before we retired, Brother Tanner came in. An automobile was coming that way and he felt impressed to return. So I was able to see both these brethren and spend a little time with each of them. I am sure the angels of God were directing our steps that day.

It was a pleasure for me to visit some of the same homes and people on this trip that I had visited several years before when I was the field secretary of this conference.

From here I went to Dover, Delaware, to the home of Elder G. A. Stevens and spent a little time with his son. In three weeks or a little less, he has secured enough orders for his scholarship. Soon these students will be returning to school. Who will volunteer to step in and fill the vacancies? Will you? Write your field secretary or myself and we will be glad to help you get started.

Columbus Church

Sabbath, July 31, there was held a very impressive burial service. Nine souls were buried by the writer in baptism, signifying to the world that they have died to self and have arisen to a new life in Christ Jesus. It was an impressive and affecting scene as these persons, one by one, went into the watery grave. A young man and his wife went into the water together, and we trust that together, with their family, they will enter the pearly gates. Five of these candidates were men. Three of these united with the Worthington Church.

God is blessing the earnest efforts of our Bible workers, as they deserve much credit for faithful service. The seeds sown are bearing fruit. There are others who expected to be baptized but were unavoidably delayed. We expect to baptize them in the near future. In fact, we have such services frequently.

May God keep all of these faithful to the end, and may it be their privilege to hear the "well done" spoken, and to live forever in the earth made new.

Lima Convention

A Sabbath School Convention was held here July 31, this being the second of its kind in western Ohio. This section has been awakened to the great possibilities of the Sabbath school work. We were privileged to have with us Miss Hixon of the Sabbath School Department to direct the work of the convention. It was a pleasure to have the members of the various churches take hold of the work and discuss the problems of the Sabbath school.

Representatives were present from Elgin, Walnut Grove, Lake View, and Van Wert. The church was full and even the children were enthusiastic, rendering their special parts well.

Only as we realize the importance of this work can we give it our best efforts. When we realize that it is in the Sabbath school that our youth receive some of their first impressions, and that these have a molding influence upon their lives, then we feel the importance of our Sabbath schools having the very best we can give to them. Some in the past have thought of the Sabbath school as a secondary affair, and have attended the usual church services only. This is a grave mistake, for a good church member will be a good Sabbath school member. Besides being a recruiting station for workers in developing the youth for the work of God we must not forget the financial side. It provides funds for the mission work and is an important factor in financing our work. Then why should it be neglected?

In 1887 the whole denomination gave, through the Sabbath schools a little more than ten thousand dollars to missions. In the second quarter of 1920 Ohio alone gave nine thousand six hundred and nine dollars to missions, or almost as much as the whole denomination gave in one year. Thus the work is growing and God is leading the way.

We in western Ohio pledge our support to the Sabbath School Department in making this part of our work the very best possible.

A Newly Born Church

Amid the beautiful surroundings of nature, where the Creator seems to have bestowed special favors, the Worthington Church of Seventh-Day Adventists was organized, Sabbath, July 17, by the writer, at the Rest Home, conducted by Dr. G. Harding, Jr.

It was organized with twenty-seven members and the prospects are that before long there will be many more. A full set of officers was chosen, and it is their determination to "come behind in no thing." It is the earnest desire of Drs. Harding and Olsen, and their associates that the truths we hold, as a people, shall be brought to those who can only be reached through the use of the "Right Arm" of the message.

We wish this new church much of heaven's richest blessings, and pray that its existence will be a great aid in the finishing of the work.

Mrs. A. E. King and Prof. E. W. Tonjes are attending the Educational and Home Workers' Convention being held in Minneapolis, Minn.

Miss Sara K. Rudolph is having her vacation which she has well earned. She left yesterday for her home in Pittsburg and will return in time for the opening of the school.

Prof. and Mrs. Miller left yesterday to visit friends and relatives. They will be gone several weeks.

Elder W. C. Moffett is here. He came in the interest of the Educational Special and to visit his family. He will remain for camp meeting.

The campus has changed its appearance entirely in the last week. It is now dotted with tents, large and small, and we wonder if this is not similar to the Feast of Tabernacles in the days of ancient Israel.

Mr. James Lippart, a former student here, has come in to attend camp meeting and is helping in the College Press.

Mr. L. B. Taylor, another former student, is here and taking charge of the cooking for the camp meeting. We have already had a taste of his savory dishes.

Newport News

The work at Newport News is progressing in the same manner that the work is going throughout the earth. After visiting with the members there for a few days, and spending some time with them in studying the great good that can be accomplished by each individual member doing his work that no one else can do, it was with pleasure the reports of two of the sisters, who had been very active in their work for the Master, were received. Sister Pearl Edwards, although having the cares of a family, in twenty-four hours in one week took one hundred sixty-one dollars' worth of orders. Sister Julian Griggs, in about the same time, took one hundred eleven dollars' worth, both selling "Bible Readings." These sisters have a burden on their hearts for the spreading of the message, as the whole church at this place has shown before this. Nine of the members sold over two thousand magazines for the month of June.

At every opportunity the members of this active church are about their Father's business. They sell truth filled literature on their way to the prayer meetings, and very definite results are being seen from their faithful work. Not only are others, who have not heard the last warning message, warned, but as they work for others their own experience deepens and broadens. If every church would work like the church at Newport News is working, the gospel of the kingdom would soon be "finished" in Virginia. Let us be about our "Father's business."

News Notes

Miss Eloise Williams spent a Sabbath recently with the Bethel Church at Ford.

Brother E. R. Numbers, the Union Home Missionary Secretary, assisted by Brother W. A. Ralls, our Conference Home Missionary Secretary, held an Institute with the Richmond Church over Sabbath and Sunday, July 31 and August 1.

W. H. Jones spent Sabbath with the Lynchburg Church recently.

Remember each church and company is to send in its Home Missionary report once each month from now on. Mail it to the office not later than the fifth of each month.

Of the twenty-six churches in the conference, sixteen have sent in their Home Missionary reports for the month of June. Of course, this is just ten short, but these ten surely do not help give a perfect report of the progress of the message in Virginia during the month of June.

Seven hundred twenty-six members in Virginia—one hundred eighty-nine reported for June. Where are the other five hundred thirty-seven? Are they working? Do they understand Matthew 25:15 and 19? The reckoning time will soon be here.

The Harvest Ingathering papers for the different churches have been ordered, and we shall again have a very definite part in foreign missionary work. Remember our conference goal—$6,000.

Brother E. H. Dye reports that they have just closed their first effort at Galax with a good interest, and a few new Sabbath keepers. They are planning to begin another effort there soon.

Elder L. O. Gordon reports a large attendance and a good interest in his meetings at Roanoke.

During Big Week, Brethren F. E. Hankins and H. A. Wright, who canvassed in the southwestern part of the state, reported over six hundred dollars each in orders.

Mrs. H. M. Forshee spent Sabbath and Sunday with her son, Clayton, at Roanoke, Va.

Elder T. B. Westbrook and family, and Mrs. Harry Westcott and son, of the West Virginia Conference, made a short visit at the Academy last week.

Before this reaches you, we expect to have two hundred quarts of blackberries canned for winter use. Peaches are just beginning to come on the market, so we will soon have our share of them.

Mrs. R. D. Hottell has returned from the sanitarium, where she went to have her tonsils removed.

Elder and Mrs. Hottell were happily surprised when two carloads of friends drove in from Washington. Elder and Mrs. Kime and family being among the number. They visited the Luray Caverns while on their trip.

Professor John Hottell and wife again have returned to their home. This time they did not come by rail, but with a new "Ford."

Mrs. H. M. Forshee and Mrs. M. M. Ouantock left Washington on Wednesday, Aug. 4, to attend the Home Council at Minneapolis.

The cannery opened last Tuesday, July 27. By the look of things, we will have all the canned beans we will need for another year.

Elder R. D. Hottell and Prof. H. M. Forshee went to Richmond to attend the special committee meeting.

Frank Butler visited the Academy family for a short time. He was on his way to his new territory.

Miss Anna Spitzer, from Indiana, and Mrs. Myra Gelink and daughter, from Akron, O., are visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Shenandoah Valley Academy

Mr. Burt of Pennsylvania recently visited the Academy.

These are busy days at the school, as we are preparing for the coming of students, and we expect to see the school filled to its limit.

The wheat raised on the Academy farm has been threshed and we are glad to say it yielded excellently.

The new seats are being installed in the chapel and soon it will be ready for the opening of school.

We are glad to see the good reports of the colporteurs in Virginia and note with interest the good success

News Notes

Professor B. F. Machlan of the Washington Missionary College and Elder C. E. Andross, visited Wilmington No. 1 Church, Sabbath, July 24, in the interests of the College and the young people's work. Wilmington Church has a number of very fine young people. Some of them will attend our schools later.

Sabbath, July 31, the Missionary Volunteer Society of the First Church in Wilmington had charge of the morning service. Several papers had been prepared by members of the society, and a splendid program was rendered.

Strong opposition has developed in South Wilmington as a result of the tent meetings being held there by Elder Collier and Brother G. Medairy. Though warned by the preachers, people continue coming to the tent meetings and are deeply interested. Many Bible readings have been given and many hundreds of tracts and other literature has been distributed in this locality, and it is expected there will be a good harvest.

Miss Anna C. Dewers, formerly connected with the work in Hagerstown, is doing Bible work in Wilmington in connection with the tent effort there.

News Notes

After visiting several of our isolated families and the churches at Cumberland and Morgantown, Elder and Mrs. Westbrook have returned to the office.

Elder Westbrook was called to Richmond, Va., on important business last week.

Elder W. L. Adkins reports an attendance of about six hundred people at his Sunday night meeting in Elkins, W. Va. The interest is intense and the health principals are receiving some consideration. Miss Katie Geisinger is conducting the health class and one hundred and ten women were present the first Thursday afternoon.

Brother Barritt, the Union singing evangelist, has been assisting Elder Harter for the past two weeks in the Huntington effort.

Elder Harter is reporting overflow meetings at his tent in Huntington. On Sunday nights and the average attendance through the week ranges from two to three hundred. The testing truths are now being presented and the attendance is increasing.

Elder Westbrook met with the Charleston Church Sabbath, August 7.

Sister Wood is now canvassing in Charleston with Practical Guide. She reports excellent sales thus far.

Brother and Sister C. E. Will have the sympathy of our people at this time. Sister Will is in the hospital where she has just undergone a very serious operation. Their baby is also very ill with typhoid fever. Let us remember this afflicted family at the throne of grace.

Brother Edmund E. Miller, one of our student colporteurs, has already passed the $2,000 mark.

We are very sorry to learn that the little child of Brother and Sister B. P. Wright is very ill at this writing.

For the Visitor

The following is a peculiar experience of a colporteur in selling a book after he had closed his canvass, been refused the order, put away his prospectus and guarantee pads, and was almost out of the house. This, with other interesting experiences, is told by J. W. Brando as a remembrance of Big Week. The story follows:

I visited the home of Mr. _____ They invited me into the house where I started to give my canvass. They were very pleasant people and treated me with great kindness. I asked them if they were Christians, but they said they were not.

I said, "You are old enough and cannot start younger and you surely ought to be."

They assented to what I said and had no excuses to make. While I was finishing the canvass, I urged more strongly for them to become Christians, as they had a small family looking to them for example and the children were entitled to a Christian example. The eyes of the woman filled with tears and the man seemed very uneasy, but withal pleasant and kind. Oh, I wish I could tell this experience as it occurred! When I finished the canvass and tried to close the deal and secure an order, they praised the book but said their expenses were too heavy to allow them to buy it.

I said, "I am sure that all you have said is true and yet you should have this work in your home, as it contains the truth for this time and if this book were the means of your salvation, what would you think?"

He replied, "It would be worth all that I have."

After further talk they still decided not to take it, and I put the prospectus in my pocket, put away the guarantee pads and rose to go. I do not know when I felt more of the spirit of the Lord in a home than I did there. I felt that I could not leave that home without an order. As I started to leave the room, I began again to talk about the book and told them, "I believe God wants you to have this book in your home," and he replied, "It is a good book."

His wife spoke up, "If you like it, why don't you get it?"

He turned quickly and said, "You get it if you want it."

"All right," she said, "I will order it if you will read it." He said he would, and she gave me the order, and I went on my way praising God that two more hearts had been touched and that the truth was in another home. Wonderful indeed was the manifestation of the Lord's presence in this home, and powerless are my words to tell you how we were all affected by it. My heart was so full that I wept and thanked God as I crossed the field to the next house.

This was only one of many interesting experiences, in which some sales were made to Roman Catholics.

J. W. BRANDO.

"There are two kinds of men in the world—those who go ahead and do something and those who sit around and ask why it was not done some other way."

"Because the Father is everywhere, wherever I am is home."

News Notes

Erection of the camp is now in progress at Reading. Brother Gauker is supervising the work with the help of some of the brethren and our colporteurs.

At present over forty orders are in for tents, and prospects are that every one will be used that the conference has to pitch. There are also a number of orders in for rooms for those who cannot tent.

If you have not ordered your accommodations for the yearly gathering, do so immediately.

The Washington Branch of the Review and Herald has shipped a large consignment of books, Bibles, and tracts for the book tent at camp meeting. Many special offers will be made on these, and we trust our people will avail themselves of the opportunity to secure our publications at the special prices.

It is difficult to get Bibles this year, but we hope to have a good assortment to make a selection from.

The publishers are perplexed over the paper situation and are compelled to make some changes in the make-up of our periodicals and the prices. The changes are as follows:

The Review and Instructor will be reduced in size. The Gazette and Sabbath School Worker will be 90c single subscriptions, and 75c each for two or more per year.

The situation seems to be getting worse instead of better. Paper used for these periodicals that used to cost a little less than eight cents a pound is now sixteen cents, and with notice that it will go higher.

The enemy is working hard to hinder the work. While we have the opportunity, let us speed on the message filled literature.

Did you read the story, "After Many Days," in the Signs Weekly? If you did, you know how to appreciate it. This is now in pamphlet form and sells for 15c. A very interesting piece of work for your neighbor. Order from the Tract Society.

Sister Slater of Pottsville, a member of the Wade Church, stopped at the conference office last week, en route from New York to her home. Even though her visit was short, it was greatly enjoyed.

One more week before camp meeting. Have you ordered your tent or room? Don't fail to be there. The enemy would have you lose the blessings. Come, praying that the Lord will meet with His people. We need His help and protection in these serious times.

Sunday, August 1, was an enjoyable day for the Phoenixville Sabbath School, when they gathered on a beautiful meadow for an outing. No sooner had they prepared tables and were ready to spread them, when a storm arose and broke upon them. All took it good naturedly, and a barn floor was secured near by where the seventy-five present enjoyed the afternoon. A short service was held for the strangers who were among them, while Elder Gauker spoke on the "Duty of Parents Toward Their Children." The mission box played a prominent part at the dinner that was served by the committee. Everything was done decently and in order. All felt that God's smile rested upon them at the close of the day.

How to Reach the Camp Ground

Arriving in Reading at the main station walk down to sixth street and take car number 15 or 15A running north. Get off at the East Penn culvert and walk through the culvert and you see the camp ground. Coming via the Pennsylvania Railroad, take car in front of the station running east and get a transfer for Temple. Change cars at Fourth and Penn Streets and take car number 15 or 15A and follow directions same as above.

NEW JERSEY

News Notes

Brother G. W. Holman reports a good attendance and unabated interest in the Millville effort.

One encouraging feature of the New Brunswick effort is that the same people are attending night after night

Brother Clark's Harvest Ingathering drive on Atlantic City is a booming success. Over a thousand dollars for missions has thus far been collected. Hurrah for H. I., 1920. We are going over the top.

J. G. Hanna, our Medical Secretary, who is connected with the Millville effort, spent a few days recently in Washington, returning with a trunk full of paraphernalia to demonstrate his health talks and for use in his classes.

Brother Mansell was away from the office all last week getting new colporteurs started.

The Jersey City Churches were glad to have Elder O. O. Bernstein back at the last Sabbath service after several weeks' absence.

Brother John Laurell of the Newark Church fell asleep in Christ Monday evening, August 2. Not only the members of his own church, but many people throughout the conference, were shocked and grieved to learn of his death. The cause in this field has sustained a very great loss, for Brother Laurell was a loyal supporter of the Third Angel's message. Such men of God are needed in our churches and in our homes today. We extend our warmest sympathy to his family and his friends; but we have full assurance that our beloved brother had made his calling and his election sure.

The reason for three-fourths of the failures at canvassing is that full time is not put in. Agents report 15, 20, and 30 hours' work in a week, and then fear that they are not "cut out for canvassing," because they do not have success. "Of no talent which God has given us will he require a more strict account than our time."—Col. Evang.

We have several new colporteurs in the field now and others to start soon. Let us who have been longer in the way set them a good example by putting in full time.

As the medical work occupied quite a prominent part of our recent camp meeting, it was decided to associate the evangelistic and the medical work together in a tent effort. So Elder G. W. Holman and the writer began tent services July 18 in the town of Millville. This is a glass manufacturing town in South Jersey of about 15,000 inhabitants. We have had good audiences from the beginning. An intelligent class of people attend regularly and appear to be quite interested in the subjects.

A health lecture is given every Monday night, illustrated with stereopticon slides and with demonstrations of treatment. On Wednesday afternoons we have a class for outside people and about fifteen are now regular attendants. We show how the various simple treatments are given and have them take part. They ask questions and this helps make the class quite interesting. Several people who have been bitterly prejudiced against our people attend the lectures and class, and are now also attending the Bible studies. They have given us their names and addresses so we can take them Present Truth, and thus again we see how the medical work is an entering wedge. We are hoping and working to save souls. Pray for us and the work.

"We must not hide the truth in the corners of the earth. It must be made known, it must shine in our large cities . . . Never lose sight of the fact that the message you are bearing is a world-wide message. It is to be given to all cities, to all villages, it is to be proclaimed in the highways and the byways." Vol. 7:35,36.

"The importance of the work of the ministry is unmistakable, this is one of God's means for enlightening the world. But He has other means also . . . God has ordained the canvassing work as a means of presenting before the people the light contained in our books . . . We cannot too highly estimate this work, for were it not for the efforts of the canvasser, many would never hear the warning." Manual for Canvassers, page 5.

We have in West Pennsylvania many cities, ranging in population from sixty to one hundred thousand. Many of these cities have never been worked thoroughly with our books—in fact we have no record of them having any work for years.

You will notice, those who have been working in some of these cities are having wonderful success. This is a work our ladies can do and are doing successfully.

Our brethren and sisters who feel the burden, will you take one of these cities and be responsible for placing the printed page of truth in these houses?

For further information please correspond with the Field Secretary.

T. M. BUTLER,
1012 W. Church St.,
Indiana, Pa.

Wanted

A man and wife to take up resident canvassing. We have a county that is thickly settled, has good railroads, and a city of about one hundred thousand in the center of it, and a nice little company of believers in this city.

This county has not been canvassed for several years. In fact, we have no record that the city has ever been worked with our books. Bible Readings, Great Controversy, Past, Present and Future, Practical Guide to Health, and other books can be sold in this county.

Will anyone who feels the burden for souls in this territory please correspond with the Field Secretary?

T. M. BUTLER,
1012 West Church St.,
Indiana, Pa.

Wedding Bells

A pretty wedding was solemnized July 21 at the home of Drs. A. D. and H. V. Jobs, when their daughter was joined in marriage to Mr. Frederick August Kaelin of New York City. The groom was formerly a student of South Lancaster Academy but now of Washington Missionary College.

The bride has been a valued helper in the Review and Herald for nearly two years.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Albany, and New York City, the happy pair will be at home to their friends at 406 Tulip Ave., Takoma Park, D. C., after August 7.
