The Sabbath Sermon

MRS. J. S. WIGHTMAN spoke in the church Sabbath forenoon, November 21. Her text was Revelation 15:3. This is what she said in part: The song of the redeemed is the united song of Moses and the Lamb. It is a fatal mistake to reject either the writings of Moses or of Jesus Christ. Jesus said, "If ye believe not his (Moses') writings, how shall ye believe my words?" "If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead." The song of Moses is recorded in Exodus 15. It was the song of victory and deliverance from bondage. Those who shout victory on the sea of glass will have gained previously, the victory over sin, over the beast, and over his mark. We are fast approaching a crisis. We shall be required by law to render homage to the first day of the week, the symbol of the power of the papacy. All the world will look upon the people of God with execration. Only faith can enable us to gain the victory over the world. We are prone to depend upon our schools and our sanitariums and our organization. It is not by might nor by power but by the Spirit of the Lord that the message will triumph. We have trusted in ourselves so long that we have forgotten how to trust in God. The army of Gideon conquered through faith. The walls of Jericho fell because of the shout of victory. The people claimed the victory by faith. They shouted before the walls fell. So let us believe that God forgives our sins whether we have any outward evidence or inward feeling or not. The Lord said to Jehoshaphat, "The battle is the Lord's. Ye shall not need to fight. Stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord."

The Thanksgiving Campaign

THE campaign for the Thanksgiving ingathering is receiving much attention in College View. Thursday evening, November 19, a meeting of the church was held to consider the subject. Both of the north vestries were filled. Brother F. F. Byington gave a suggestive canvass. In South Hall for two evenings the worship hour was given to instruction and drill in preparation for the work. About 200 of the college teachers and students are going out. They are organized into bands of five each with a leader, and a portion of Lincoln and its suburbs is assigned to each. Some of the Scandinavian students are planning to visit a Scandinavian settlement ten or twelve miles from College View. Mass meetings for instruction and prayer were held Sunday and Tuesday. The college closed Tuesday and Thursday, and some worked afternoons. In the next issue we will announce the result.

A Campaign for the Book, Education

At the principals' meeting in Cleveland last summer, the importance of the book Education was discussed and our responsibility as a denomination, especially the teachers of the denomination, to place this book before the educators of the land. The more we study this book, the more astonished we become at the wisdom and beauty of the principles which it contains, and as we have opportunity from time to time to compare these principles with those contained in the books of the greatest educators, we are profoundly convinced that only the wisdom which cometh from above could have inspired the author of Education to pen these wonderful truths. We believe that the teachers of this denomination have a duty to perform to the educators of this country, and of all countries for that matter, and we are very glad to print the following letter from Professor Frederick Griggs, chairman of the educational department of the General Conference, and we hope that our readers will interest themselves in this subject and will write to Professor Griggs, or to the Editor of the MESSENGER, expressing their views on this important subject:—

"I am writing to call to your attention a matter that it seems to me should receive immediate and earnest consideration from our educational workers. It is the question of the sale and study of the book Education among not only our people but the educational workers and students of all classes throughout the country. You will remember that at the principals' meeting at Cleveland, considerable attention was given to the question of the circulation of this book, and the following resolution was adopted:

"Recognizing the great value of the book Education, both to our own people and to those not of our faith; therefore,—

"Resolved, that we ask the educational and publishing departments of the General Conference to lay definite plans for an immediate campaign for the sale of this book, and that we will do all we can to encourage our teachers to unite with us in this work."

"Now in this we have before us a large problem. Of course, we cannot undertake this work until after the Thanksgiving campaign is past; but should we not begin at once to lay plans to make a grand success of it as soon as possible thereafter? In doing this it seems that we might aim to see that the book Education is placed, first, in every Seventh-day Adventist home in the United States; second, with every student in our advanced schools; third, with just as many of the public school teachers as possible; fourth, that we seek to interest members of mothers' clubs, W. C. T. U. workers and others of like interests; and fifth, that a strong canvass be made with the book in the region round about each one of our schools—church, intermediate and advanced.

"Ought we to seek to do this? If so, how can we accomplish it? I can conceive of no work which our schools can enter into that will bring greater blessing to them than this. In the first place it will lead all our teachers to study the book in order that they may present it properly to our people. This study is bound to give to these teachers a better understanding of the principles of Christian education which will, of course, mean greater efficiency in all phases of the school work. In turn the rank and file of our people will become instructed concerning the fundamentals of our educational work and will be brought to appreciate the value of our schools to their homes. This will mean the establishing of more and better church-schools and the filling of our advanced schools, and will contribute greatly to the advancement and finishing of this message, and to the salvation of our children and young people. Furthermore, if the book is properly presented to public school teachers and to people residing in the vicinity of our schools it will give to them an understanding of and respect for the work which our schools are doing, and will tend to lead to inquiry concerning the doctrines of our faith. The thoughtful study of this book will do far more good than all the excerpts we may make from the Testimonies concerning educational questions.

"The book is God-given. No book on education that has ever been written has more clearly, more beautifully, and more forcefully set forth the principles and methods of a harmonious education than does it. We are to be leaders in the world in everything that makes for the uplifting and betterment of men and for their eternal salvation, and here is an open gate into a large avenue of opportunity and usefulness. Will we enter it? Will we bend our energies to disseminate these principles? We believe that the elements of Christian education and the plan of salvation are one and the same. We recognize that the whole reign of sin is brought into the world because of a false desire for knowledge, or of the desire for false knowledge, either way you put it, and believing these things, is it not incumbent upon us as educators to do what we can to arouse the world to the right principles? It is seeking advanced light on educational questions, and thinking people are ready to read and ponder well-written truths upon this subject, and surely we have it to give them in this book.

"I am writing to all the principals of our schools and to our union conference secretaries concerning this question and soliciting from them ideas as to how we can best organize and push such a campaign. We must teach our whole educational force to make the most of these campaigns, which we have both in paper and in book work. They have in them an inspiration and an education of large value to the school and school workers. Will you not take the time to give this matter immediate consideration and write me of what you consider the best means for carrying out the resolution of the principals' meeting? I want to get suggestions from all our leaders in the educational work. From their ideas we can undoubtedly formulate plans of work which will be valuable."

Letter from Elder Parmele

MANY Union College students will remember with pleasure Elder R. W. Parmele, who was preceptor at Union College for two years and had charge of the commercial department; also his wife, Dr. Lydia E. Parmele, who had charge of the biological sciences. Elder Parmele is now president of the Florida Conference and Dr. Parmele is one of the physicians at the Orlando Sanitarium. The following letter from Elder Parmele will be read with interest. We hope there may be some from Union College who will feel called of God to respond to the invitation to enter the Florida field:—

"I thought perhaps it would be of interest to you to know how goes the battle in Florida, so am addressing this letter to you. We had a most excellent camp-meeting in Palatka this fall. The sweet spirit of unity was there and all were greatly blessed. Not a discordant note was sounded at any time. It was a source of a great deal of satisfaction to be able to report three new churches organized during the year, three new church buildings erected and three church buildings dedicated. In addition to this we had purchased and were ready to open a sanitarium. And our conference had made a gain of $1300 during the year, so that whereas we were $854.66 in debt at the beginning of the year, we now have a present worth of $482.41.

"Our sanitarium has started off with encouraging prospects. We have a capacity of twenty patients without crowding. We have sixty-seven acres of land, heavily timbered with large long-leaved pines, with two beautiful lakes. We are right by the station on the main line of the railroad from Jacksonville to Tampa, and only two miles from the post office in Orlando. If times continue prosperous we will probably soon have a trolley line to our place.

"We are extremely short of recruits for the various lines of our work. We need teachers, sanitarium helpers, preachers and always canvassers. We have a very fine class of helpers at the sanitarium so far as we have been able to man the institution. Dr. L. N. Sickler, an old convert of mine, and a most excellent surgeon, thoroughly in line with the message, and my wife, are our medical staff. Miss Amelia Webster, whom you probably remember as an old Battle Creek nurse, later a missionary to Africa, is our medical matron. But we need a cook, and two more members in our nurses' class. We cannot support any more full-fledged preachers, but I cannot help looking with some concern upon the future of our ministry, as we have so few young men who are probable candidates for the ministry.

"In view of this situation, my thoughts intuitively turn to Union. Have you not some young people there, perhaps among your seniors, who have a real burden for this needy southland? I was much pleased to learn of the organization of a southern field band. Have you one this year? If so, will you kindly refer this letter to their leader, and if you think best announce its contents in chapel, and say that I would be glad to correspond with any who feel moved by the Spirit of God to give their lives to the work in the South, especially those who wish to consider Florida."

General Articles

Important Change

BEGINNING with next January, the Watchman will be changed from a weekly to a monthly paper, in magazine form, somewhat similar in size to Life and Health. This change has been decided upon by the Southern Publishing Association, on the advice of Eld. A. G. Daniells, and other leading members of the General Conference committee. These brethren believe that this change will greatly increase the circulation of the Watchman, thus adding to its value as an important messenger of present truth. In magazine form the Watchman will retail at ten cents per copy, which will be an inducement for many more agents to engage in its sale.

The subscription price will be reduced from one dollar to seventy-five cents per year. To make up for this difference the publishers will send Report of Progress, the conference paper for the Southern and Southeastern Union Conferences, with the monthly Watchman during the remainder of the Watchman subscription term; or the subscription term will be lengthened one-third, whichever the subscribers may desire.

The January Number

The special topic for consideration in the January Watchman will be the United States in prophecy. This subject is becoming daily of more interest and moment, and will be taken up in a brief, pointed, interesting manner. Special consideration will be given to the church federation movement which is now brought so prominently before the people of this country by the big meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, to be held in Philadelphia, December 2-8. This issue will be a standard number for agents to handle. Workers in every part of the United States will find great demand at this time for a paper dealing with this subject. The prices of the monthly will be as follows: single copies, ten cents each; five to twenty-four copies to one address, five cents each; twenty-five to 500 copies to one address, four cents; 500 to 1000 copies to one address, three and one-half cents each.

Special rates will be made on larger orders. Advance orders should be sent in at once. Plans should be laid for definite work with the Church Federation number of the Watchman. Cash should accompany all orders, unless special arrangements have previously been made. Orders should be sent through the state tract society office, or to the Watchman, Nashville, Tennessee.

Cheap Novels Alarm Germans

"TWELVE and a half million dollars are thrown away every year in Germany by the poorer classes in the purchase of pernicious penny dreadfuls," according to a statement issued by the Durer Union, which is engaged in a campaign against the growing tendency in Germany to read trashy "literature." The secretary of the union vouches for the astounding declaration that 8,000 established booksellers and 30,000 peddlers are engaged in selling sensational serials and books containing tales of a very low order.

No fewer than 750,000,000 of these wretched "stories have been sold in the course of a single year. They are hawked from house to house, from factory, outside schools, and among the peasants on every farm throughout the empire. The peddlers nearly always enter by the back door or the kitchen stairs. Servant girls and ignorant peasantry are the most fruitful customers, but it is asserted by municipal officials that even people who are in receipt of poor relief often deprive themselves of necessities in order to save two cents for a vile relish of the sensationally embellished details of a notorious crime. Time after time young people are brought before the courts charged with crimes to the committal of which it is often proved in evidence that they have been incited by the reading of the vividly portrayed adventures of some convicted criminal.

Only recently a pupil of a superior technical school in Kaiserslautern, when charged with stealing a large number of gold bracelets and watches from a jeweler, which he melted down in an apparatus stolen from the school he was attending, confessed that he had been fired with the idea of becoming a clever thief by reading the life of a jailbird. Dr. Ernest Schultze, secretary of the Durer Union, points out the paucity of good literature in school libraries, and suggests the spending of considerable sums in providing really good reading matter, to combat the spread of the evil caused by the reading of the shoals of trash spread over the country.

Letter From J. J. Reiswig

DEAR MESSENGER: First, I want to thank you for sending me the MESSENGER after it had expired. Enclose find fifty cents for its renewal. We live in Jamestown, N. Dak., but my field of labor has not been in town so far. I spent all last spring and summer south of here in Gackle, Kulm and Ellendale, and the Lord blessed us, especially south of Kulm, where a church of thirty members was raised up.

Seven of this number lived the truth when we were there, but were not organized. Brother D. D. Kurtz, John H. Seible and myself worked together most of the time. Brother and Sister Kurtz have bought a house here in Jamestown and live here.

I visited the Bowdon church last Sabbath, where I met Sister Hanna Reinhardt. She expects to teach church-school, and is full of courage. I was indeed glad to hear from her the good report of "Old Union" especially the German department. I only regret that I cannot be there to visit Professor Grauer's German Literature class, as Miss Reinhardt spoke very highly of it.

I expect to visit the churches during Thanksgiving week and the week-of-prayer. Brethren and fellow students, pray for the work especially during this season.

The Price of Whisky

AN exchange furnishes the following as representing the yearly supply of food for the whisky fiend:—

2,500 smothered babies. 5,000 suicides. 10,000 murderers. 60,000 fallen girls. 100,000 paupers. 3,000 murdered wives. 40,000 widowed mothers. 100,000 orphaned children. 100,000 criminals. 100,000 drunkards who die yearly. 100,000 boys who take the place of the dying drunkards.

Untold crimes, misery, woe, want, weeping, wailing, war, crime, disgrace, disease, degradation, destruction, death, riot, revelry, ruin, and $2,000,000,000 in cash.—Selected.

THE students of the music department of the college gave a program and reception in South Hall dining-room Wednesday evening, November 25.

THE following officers have been elected by the College Sabbath-school for the winter term: Pearl Field, superintendent; Irvin Blue, first assistant; Miss Edna Schee, second assistant; Miss Alta Wordell, secretary; H. W. Earl, assistant secretary.

THE following temperance program was given Nov. 15, 1908, at the church:—Opening song, Congregation; Invocation, Eld. J. S. Hart; Double quartet, Juniors; Address, Eld. C. R. Kite; Music, Orpheus Orchestra; Acrostic, Temperance, Ten little children; Dialogue, 'Cause I'm cross, Three little children; Recitation, Not fit to be kissed; Louisa Shaffer; Mixed quartet, Juniors; Recitation, My trumpet, Clair White-man; Blackboard exercise, Harold Davidson; Recitation, A voice from the poor house, Ethel Threlkeld; Male quartet, Juniors; Recitation, Dale Skinner; Dialogue, Poor Rosy, Six girls; Recitation, how she emptied the jug, Grace Jenkins; Vocal duet, Harold Peterson and Everet Daniels; Recitation, License to sell, Mary Mack; Recitation, Give, Zella Schmaltz; Collection; Recitation, Boys plea, Lawrence Northrup; Song, Home sweet home, Juniors.

A GERMAN club is being organized by the students of the German department.

A FEW of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Emerson gave them a pleasant surprise at their home in the village on Saturday evening, November 21.

THE department of elocution gave its first public recital Sunday evening, November 22, in the German chapel. Every seat in the chapel was filled. The exercises consisted in readings, recitations, and original descriptions. The program showed excellent work in this department. There was a freshness, originality, and naturalness about all of the parts that speak well for the instruction and training which the students have received. Good judgment was also exercised in the choice of selections. We are very sure that this new department is doing a splendid work for its students.

The Special Review

WE have just received the following interesting letter from D. W. Reavis, secretary of the General Conference Missionary Department, which will be full of interest to our readers:—

We are now over 100,000 copies behind our orders. This is really distressing. We thought all along there would be a rush right at the close of the time to receive the papers, but we did not begin to estimate the extent of this rush. Everybody wants Reviews now. They are wiring for them in large quantities. One order received this morning was for 16,000 copies. Just gave notice by wire that we could not fill this order.

Hope you will be able to dispose of all of your Hausfreunds. Wish we could substitute it for the Review. Would be glad to have this done, as it will not be possible for us to get all the Reviews the people will want.

We are exceedingly busy. We like the Hausfreund better than we can take time to tell you in this letter.

Find the average on the Reviews is going to be good. Canada seems to be making a record of from twenty-five to fifty cents per copy on all papers put out. Think in the United States we will average from fifty cents to one dollar per copy. This will mean a great encouragement to our people and a very material help to our missions.

A cheerful mind,
 A loving heart,
 Some work and strength to do it;
 A bit to eat
 A place to sleep,—
 That's life for me; here's to it.

—Bayard Bacon.
