

The Educational Messenger

VOL. 5

COLLEGE VIEW, NEBRASKA, SEPTEMBER 16, 1909

No. 23

Editorial

Since the MESSENGER constitution provides for only twenty-five numbers a year, there will necessarily be two times of issuance when no paper appears. One of these times fell last spring, at Commencement; and there being an unusual amount of work at the beginning of the school year, the other time will fall now. The duration of the six weeks for two numbers, however, will be split as before. So our readers may look for their papers on October 7th, then again on October 28th.

Get the Helpful Habit

Drummond tells us that when we look back upon our lives, the moments which stand out, the moments when we have really lived, are the moments when we have done things in a spirit of love and helpfulness.

The beginning of the school year is with all of us a time of resolution making. Our most determined resolution, is to so think and act that at the end of the school year we may look back with as few regrets as possible.

Will not this suggestion of Drummond's, then, be a good guiding thought for our conduct in college this year? We may begin to show our "spirit of love and helpfulness," very soon, by assisting new students who we know are going to enter school, in making their final preparations. We may even arrange our journey so as to be with them. Let us keep in mind the time when we were new students in a strange place. We may talk cheerfully and kindly to them about their work, or show them, to the best of our ability, what to do next to get comfortably settled in their new surroundings. How often we have seen some one standing around in the halls looking as though he were not finding just what he wanted. By a tactful question or a friendly smile we may win him to allow us to help him. It may be hard for us to do it, but in nearly every case the proffered help is acceptable and appreciated. He who gave it will find it easier the next time.

It is not only a kind thing to do; it is our duty.

Let us start the year by getting into the "helpful habit" right away. Then, indeed, may we look back and see "moments that stand out, moments when we have really lived."

A Departing Thought

Of course some of us are feeling joyful that we are going back to old Union. Some are going as a result of their own efforts and earnings this summer, and these deserve high commendation. But some of us have parents who are making sacrifices that we may go. Let us not forget to spend the last days before leaving home in showing to them our love and appreciation, and let us plan a year's work that will honor them. That is the best way we can help them while we are in school.

Do you wish to be free? Then above all things, love God, love your neighbor, love one another, love the common weal; then you will have true liberty.—Savonarola.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Union!

J. Johnson went to Hastings to spend last Sabbath.

Miles Ferguson is down from Omaha this week.

L. J. Graves came in from Omaha Tuesday morning.

Page Tucker and Henry Kaltenberger came in from Denver, Colorado, Friday.

Friday, Sept. 10th, Miss Ruth Jacobson returned to Council Bluffs after a week's visit with friends. She expects to start Monday for her home in Minnesota.

Prof. M. E. Kern let some one have his Spanish textbook (De Tornos) and also a dictionary several years ago. He would appreciate very much if the party that has them would return them immediately.

"I may be late but hope this reaches you in time. I'm canvassing again here at Lewistown in the state in which a good many Union College people think books can't be sold—Illinois. The last week I canvassed, I sold $62 worth of 'Great Controversy'. Will be in Union College again this year."—W. H. Teesdale.

"I am glad to report to you that I arrived safely at Hamburg two weeks ago. I have since visited the Friedensau school. I was indeed greatly surprised with the progress the school has made. It has grown far beyond what I anticipated. I almost felt as if I had came back to "old Union" again. The grounds and even the buildings are decorated with flowers. In fact, most every dwelling house here in Germany is surrounded with these beautiful flowers in their different colors. Wishing you God's richest blessing, I remain."—I. C. Schmidt.

Grindelberg 15a, Hamburg, Germany.

We regret that Lora Smith will not return to school this year, as she informed her friends at the camp-meeting.

"I have been canvassing at McCook, Nebraska, this summer and I feel that it is the kind of work for me. I am of good courage. The Lord has been my refuge and strength. I am now working on my second scholarship. I expect to attend Union College again this fall."—Mina Mathiesen.

In the deepest night of trouble and sorrow God gives us so much to be thankful for that we need never cease our singing. With all our wisdom and foresight we can take a lesson in gladness and gratitude from the happy bird that sings all night as if the day were not long enough to tell its joy.
—Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

"It seems almost like a dream yet real that I am here at Washington Sanitarium. I can not help but think what those years spent in Union College mean to me in my work here. The beginning of each school year thrills my heart as I am not there, but I have a new courage to advance in my line of work. I enjoy my work very much and I am ever ready to recommend a nurses' training course to those who are planning to be missionaries. Indeed it is the best education to 'knock off the rough corners.' I want the MESSENGER to visit me as long as I live."—Beatrice Baharian.

Takoma Park, Washington, D. C.

Union now offers twelve good courses.

Marie Eden was in College View last week.

Miss May Surber and Mrs. Emily Lull-Rockwell, former Union College students, are on the faculty of the Hemingford Intermediate School, at Hemingford, Neb.

Among the Union College students at the Iowa camp-meeting were: Esther Anderson, Georgia Ferron, Mary Johnson, Harry Hilliard, Chas. Foss, and Lawrence Anderson.

N. Rosella Smith reports fine success in selling the Life and Health magazine this summer. She has made the best day's record with our magazines of any known at the present time.

"I am now at Mt. Calm, Texas, holding a series of meetings with Eld. U. R. French. We have just begun our meeting here, and have secured the use of a large pavillion."—J. W. Field.

"I don't see how I could have passed through this summer without the MESSENGER. We almost count the hours until the next one will be here. . . . Yes, I am very glad that I am going back to Union, and will room in No. 5."—Alfreda Emerson.

Walter Harris is in Austin, Oregon.

Gladys Shufelt will attend the Colorado University the coming year.

Miss Grace Mitchell is a member of the Senior nurses' class at Boulder.

Ethel Collie says she is enjoying her work in the Boulder Sanitarium store.

H. O. Olson has been assisting in the tent meetings at St. Paul, Minnesota, this summer.

Florence Peterson is stenographer for the Northern Union Conference, at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Fred Bolton is having splendid success canvassing near Huron, South Dakota. Several weeks ago, he was working on his third scholarship.

Miss Anna Anderson has been spending the summer with her parents at Gladstone, Minn., but expects to return to Union College again this fall.

W. W. Ruble and wife are at home at Alexandria, Minnesota. He is Missionary Volunteer and Educational Secretary, also Vice-President of the Minnesota Conference.

W. J. Maxson and wife, nee Louise E. Stirman, are living at 2915 Clinton Ave., Minneapolis, Minnesota, where they are always at home to their Union College friends.

Mrs. Ura Spring sends greetings from 2770 Cuming St., Omaha, Nebr.

Miss Elta Smith is keeping house for her father at Lake Minnetonka, Minn.

Miss Wavie D. Tubbs will teach in Maplewood Academy, Maple Plain, Minn.

Mrs. David Kinney, nee Eunice Kelley, a former student, is living at Winnipeg, Canada.

Arthur Christensen and wife, nee Ella Hoffman, are on a farm near Dodge Center, Minn.

Bessie Christensen commenced a nine months' term of school at Roseau, Minnesota, last week.

Ellen Nelson has been connected with the Scandinavian tent work at Fergus Falls, this summer.

Miss Gertrude Burghart has been engaged in the Bible work at Duluth, Minnesota, this summer.

Mrs. A. W. Kuehl, nee Clara Webster, is living in Minneapolis, where her husband is pastor of the English church.

The Union College Canning Factory, which is now in operation, boasts of having lost only three out of the two thousand cans of tomatoes they have put up so far.

For some reason the particulars of C. A. Critchlow's marriage have slipped the notice of the MESSENGER news-gatherer. However we learn he was so fortunate as to find a life partner in his assistant teacher, May 30th. They have been in the tent work this summer, but return to their school in Yazoo City, Miss., this fall. The MESSENGER extends tardy but none the less hearty wishes.

Luther Shufelt is farming at Boulder. George McNay is in College View again.

Mrs. B. M. Emerson has returned to College View.

Winifred James starts this week for her home in California.

Mrs. R. M. Wallace is visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. C. Nethery.

Allen Thorp was called home last week by the sudden death of his brother.

Josephine Schee has gone to Hastings, Nebr., where she will teach this year.

Iva Wren will attend school at her home in Kincaid, Kansas, the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers will soon connect with the Tract Society Office in Topeka, Kansas.

Curtis Rentfro will remain on his claim in Montana this year. Clarkson will be with him.

Earl Seaward spent a few hours visiting in Wichita not long ago. His home is in Shattuck, Okla.

Mrs. Nellie Cross, nee McWilliams, lives in Nevada, Iowa. Her spare time is spent raising chickens.

Walter Carrick will attend the Friend's University at Wichita this year. He and his brother, Loyd, were at Union in '05.

Sidney Smith and his brothers and sisters enjoyed a visit from their father and mother lately; also from their brother Wilbur, who has been pursuing medical studies in Philadelphia, Pa.

Charles Sutton, Albert Segebartt, Herschel Ard, Wm. Cramer, Myrtle Strobel, Wm. Mohr, and W. I. Morey were among the old Union students at Kansas camp-meeting this year. Mr. Morey will teach church school this year. Fred Miller had charge of the singing at that meeting.

Chris. Norgard has returned from Kansas.

Stella Parker is in Longmont at present. She expects to be back at Union this winter.

Eld. C. R. Kite was elected president of the Eastern Colorado Conference at the recent Colorado camp-meeting. The Sanitarium will be sorry to lose him, although they realize that their loss is others' gain.

A. D. Dick passed through College View last week on his way to western Nebraska where he will teach school the coming winter. He has been making an extended visit with friends and parents at his home at La Harpe, Kans., and later with relatives at Edgerton, Mo.

The Colorado Union College Reunion

At the Boulder camp-meeting, a meeting was called for all those who had ever attended Union College or were planning on attending the coming year. The meeting opened with song and prayer, and then a short characteristic social meeting was held from which the following excerpts were taken:—

"I am thankful for lessons of truth learned in Union College."

"I shall never regret one short year spent in Union College."

"Union College will make a man or woman of anyone who goes there desiring to be made into a man or woman."

"The greatest blessing of my life is the year I spent in Union College."

"I am thankful that the Lord permitted me to attend Union College for a while; its memories and lessons are dear to me."

"I look back to the days spent in Union College as the days when my really practical Christian experience began."

"I am thankful for Union College and the influence that goes out from there."

After this part of the meeting President Lewis told of the changes and plans for the coming year. Then a short time was spent in getting acquainted.

Prof. E. E. Farnsworth, Prof. G. A. Grauer, and Prof. B. E. Huffman were present, and in addition to these there were fifty-six others; the following forty-six handed in their names:—

Edith Rigby, '02-'08; Luther Shufelt, '01-'02, '04-'05; Hazel Harvey, '07-'09; Bertha Barker, '07-'08; Hattie Mulder, '06-'07; E. G. Hills, '07-'08; Fanny Johnson, '04-'05; J. F. Stenberg, '99-1900; Sam C. Mathiesen, 1900-'05; Paul R. Branch, '08-'09; V. D. Vandewalker, '08-'09; Fred U. Maas, '08-'09; B. Berglund and wife, '07-'09; L. A. Carr, '06-'07; Sean Record Hedgecock, '98-'99; Grace E. Mitchell, '01-'04; Lillie M. Rigby, '06-'07; Pearl Jenkins, '01-'02, '04-'05, '08-'09; Edith Hochschorner, '07-'09; Mamie Boyd, '08-'09; Wayne Barker, '92-'93; Bertha Hill, '07-'09; Stella M. Parker, '07-'09; Esther M. Anderson, '08-'09; Chas. E. Rice, '93-'95; Eva M. Shively, M. D., '92-'94; F. C. Mathiesen, '05-'06, '08-'09; Peter Mathiesen, '99-'06; Martha Jensen, '04-'06; Lotta Talmage, '04-'05; Edna Bronson, '08-'09; Gladys E. Shufelt, '03-'07; H. F. Neumann, '03-'08; W. D. Williams; Norris Clement; R. E. Hay; Clarence Allen; J. F. Richards and wife; Ruby McGee; Marian Johnson; Anna M. Johnson; E. S. Hamilton; Lester G. Stock.

Three of the above names have finished courses: Edith Rigby, B. S., '08; Gladys Shufelt, B. S., '07; H. F. Neumann, German, '08.

Several other Union College students were on the grounds and in the city, but were unable to be present. Among these were Earl Austin and wife, Ethel Collie, Mabel Andrews, Oscar McNay, Lulu Pearson, Nannie Parker, and Elder Svenson.

A. R. S.

Paul Branch is among the early comers to school.

Edgar Welch has gone to Berrien Springs, Mich., to school.

Earl Rentfro is planning to go to school in Colorado this year.

Miss Gracie Hankins, from Sigourney, Iowa, is visiting Mrs. Aurilla Rentfro.

Miss Clara Underwood is recovering from an operation at the Sanitarium.

Ralph Emery has been elected treasurer of the Eastern Colorado Conference.

Prof. and Mrs. E. E. Farnsworth are connected with the Campion Academy again this year.

Emily Johnson writes from Ute, Iowa, that she thinks she will enjoy her church school there this fall.

Mrs. Floyd Bralliar, nee Mertie Boynton, a former student, attended the Iowa camp-meeting. Professor Bralliar is conducting a self-supporting colored school near Nashville, Tennessee.

A personal letter from Prof. T. French to Mr. Emerson contains the following:—

"I assure you I was glad to see Elder Babcock return from General Conference; for while he was away, I had the burden of the Mission, school, and Freetown church. I will give you my weekly program so you will know what it means to do mission work. From Monday to Friday I attended to our school work, business of the Mission and tract society, holding prayer meeting Wednesday evening. Sabbath morning I had to fill the eleven o'clock appointment at church, and a social service Sabbath afternoon. Sunday I had the church missionary work in the city to oversee, the Mission books to keep, the correspondence to do by hand, and a public service for the city people to conduct at the church in the evening, alone. Nothing but the special power of God enabled me to hold up under this for three months,"

Ernestine Hochschorner has been canvassing in Colorado.

Adolph Kurtz is living on a fruit ranch near Palisades, Colo.

Mr. Siebert is assisting with the building of the new Sanitarium at Nevada, Iowa.

Mrs. Vinton Hamilton, nee Caldwell, and her little daughter, Pearl, attended the camp-meeting at Boulder.

Fred W. Mass and Oscar McNay are enjoying their work at the Boulder Sanitarium. They are members of the Freshman class.

The Iowa camp-meeting was the largest held in that state for many years, there being about three hundred tents on the ground.

Sunday evening, Aug. 29th, Prof. D. E. Huffman began holding Bible Readings in the home of Mr. Armstrong, of the Armstrong Clothing Co. They were quite free to ask questions. The subject of the first reading, by their choice, was on the Second Coming of Christ. This was the third regularly appointed reading held that day, besides distributing a few thousand pages of literature. Thursday afternoon he was reading with a family on O Street. At the end of an hour they were not ready to quit, the interest continued another hour, and at the end of the third hour they very reluctantly consented to stop, but then only on promise that he would come again and teach them more of the Bible. This is the most blessed work any one can engage in. "Every day I find some one literally starving for the word of life. The work I am doing could be done by scores of our consecrated young people if they will prepare for it." One family was disappointed because he could not make an appointment to read with them Saturday evening, Aug. 28th, but they were too late he, had already appointed for another place at the same time.

Ethel Fankhouser is visiting in College View.

Maude Affolter is in Mason City, Iowa, with a tent company.

Fanny Johnson is on a farm at Greeley, Colo. She expects to teach this winter.

On Sabbath, Sept. 4th, at the Oklahoma camp-meeting, eighteen of the living tents and all the meeting tents were blown down by the wind. There was but little damage done, however, and meetings were held as usual in the evening.

"At present I am out on the ranch making up some back work in agriculture under the direction of A. Successful Farmer. My assignment is to shock one hundred and sixty acres of grain in the least possible time."—Arthur R. Smith, Monte Vista, Colorado.

Gleanings from Experiences in Bible Work

D. E. HUFFMAN

Last Sunday afternoon I saw a young man and his wife sitting on their front porch. I said to them, "I have some excellent religious readings here. As I read the headings, if you would like to see any special one, please let me know." I read half a dozen headings and came to "The Sabbath Question." The young man sprang to his feet saying, "That ought to be good, let me have that please," and he reached for it with an eagerness that was surprising to me. I gave him two different tracts on the subject of the Sabbath. I am praying especially for the seed sown there, and hope to have a good talk with them next Sunday, Aug. 29th. There are other experiences that could be told and hundreds as good waiting the students of Union College the coming year. If you would like a part in it, write me early.

Edith Shively expects to teach her home public school again this fall.

Lawrence A. Carr conducts the gymnasium classes at the Colorado Sanitarium.

Miss Katherine Runck, of Republican City, Nebraska, and Mr. Herbert Campbell, of Berrien Springs, Mich., were united in marriage, August 10th, 1909. Mrs. Campbell attended Union College in '06. She will attend school at Berrien Springs the coming year.

At the Oklahoma camp-meeting held at Enid, Oklahoma, Aug. 26th to Sept. 6th, the following Union College students were in attendance: Misses Marie Riffel, Faye Eagle, and Edith White; George Jenks, Mrs. Etta Oppy-Jenks, E. L. Neff, Mrs. Cora Hiatt-Neff, Mr. and Mrs. John Neufeld, U. B. Dake, David, William, and Bernard Voth, T. A. McFarland, Otto Owen, Louis Ritzhaupt, A. G. Wagner, J. F. Brandt, Herman Martin.

Dr. Harriet Goodman Kurtz and her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Goodman Williard, who attended Union College 1895, 1896, recently spent a few hours at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Potter. After leaving Union College, they took the nurses' course at the Nebraska Sanitarium, finishing in 1900. From the Nebraska Sanitarium Dr. Kurtz pursued her medical studies, and graduated from the Rush Medical College in Chicago. She is now practising at 1136 O St., Lincoln, Nebraska. Mrs. Williard took post-graduate work at the Battle Creek Sanitarium, and was a witness of the burning of that institution. She also nursed some in the new sanitarium after its dedication. Later she established treatment rooms in Sioux Falls, S. D., which were successfully conducted for four years. In 1907 she was married to J. C. Williard, and now makes her home on a claim eight miles southwest of Wibaux, Montana.

Crowds of people come out from Lincoln every day to enjoy our beautiful campus.

Miss Mertie Wheeler, of Marsland, Nebr., has returned to take up her work in the College.

Mr. and Mrs. P. MacMahon, who have been visiting in Colorado, have returned to College View, stopping off at Hastings.

Announcements are out for the wedding of Miss Nellie Dymond to George W. Covey, Wednesday evening, September 22d.

"We are home again from an enjoyable trip across the Continental divide in Colorado. Our courage is good."—W. J. and E. C. Eden.

"I expect to be here at Springfield, for a few days and will then go to start some schools; after that I leave for home."—Lillie George.

"We leave Sioux Falls and start for Lacombe, Alta, Canada, to-day. We are employed by the Lacombe Academy Board to act as teachers in the Academy and ask the MESSENGER to visit our home at Lacombe, Alta, Canada, Box 173, instead of Sioux Falls, S. D."—Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Ortner.

Mrs. Cora M. Richards-Abbott, '91-'96, wife of Dr. Geo. K. Abbott, president of the Loma Linda College of Evangelists, is about to take the examination of the California State Board, and hence writes for a statement of the work which she took at Union. In her letter she says: "I always rejoice to hear of the prosperity of Union College, and should be very glad if the way were open to return long enough to secure a B. S., which will mean much to medical people in the future, as their standard is continually going higher. That the coming year may be filled with prosperity and God's blessing for Union, is my wish and prayer."

Noburn Nosay spent a week with W. H. Teesdale at his home at Pontoosuc, Ill. From there Mr. Nosay went to Iowa where he spent sometime with friends at different places.

Andrews-Benson

A beautiful home wedding occurred in College View, Monday, Sept. 13th, at 5:30 p. m.—that of Elsie B. Andrews and Prof. Clem L. Benson, at the home of Eld. R. F. Andrews, the bride's father, who performed the ceremony. The bride's brother, Gordon G. Andrews, precluded the ceremony by a vocal solo. Miss Della Smith played the wedding march. Those who know or have seen the bride and groom need not to be assured that she seemed the very type of womanly sweetness and grace, and he of noble manliness, as they took their places for the sacred ceremony. Little Paul Mohler, the bride's nephew, was the flower boy. A lunch was served to the guests after the wedding.

The event was attended only by the families and near relatives of the bride and groom, the out of town guests being the groom's mother and sister, Ethel, of Plateau, N. Mex.; J. A. Andrews, of Abilene, Kansas; and Mrs. Mattie Andrews-Mohler and her three children, of Hamilton, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson are worthy and much loved teachers in Union College, and will continue their work the following year, he being at the head of the History Department, and she having part of the English classes. Both have long been active missionary workers, and have many friends far and near who rejoice with them in their happiness, and join the MESSENGER in wishing for them years of happy usefulness for God.

They will be at home in College View on Seventh Street.

Hoiland-Stevens

The marriage of Miss Inez L. Hoiland and Mr. Harley U. Stevens took place Wednesday evening, Sept. 15, 1909, in the Seventh-day Adventist church at College View, Nebr. The participants need no introduction, he being at the head of the Science Department of Union College, and she being an able History teacher in the same institution.

As the several hundred guests assembled, Prof. Nevison Roberts played softly on the organ hidden in the tapestry behind a network of greenery and white astors. As the melody changed to Lohengrin, Elder Burg advanced from the south vestry to the front of the church, where he stood and awaited the coming of the bridal party, which was preceded by Alphonso N. Anderson, a cousin of the bride, and Robert S. Irvine, who stood on either side to allow the groom, attended by Mr. Geo. McNay, to pass to the left of the minister. With expectant hearts, they then awaited the bride, who slowly advanced with her sister, Miss Olive Hoiland, and they passed to the right of the minister, thus completing the group. A more beautiful picture cannot be imagined. The bride showed her usual good taste and distinctive manner of dressing by her simply made dress of elegant white lansdown, and she carried a bunch of great white rosebuds. The maid of honor wore a champagne colored messaline princess and carried pink rosebuds.

After a moment's impressive silence, during which the organ's tones died down to a soft, beautiful melody, Elder Burg began on the solemn words which made the bride and groom one flesh. Such a scene of true love, sanctioned by the law and will of God, is a solemn and impressive yet joyful expression of God's desire that His children shall be "holily happy." Many hearts were touched and made better by the uttered vow of love and allegiance to each other and to God.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the music burst forth into the joyful strains of the Recessional, and Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Stevens walked happily down the aisle, followed by the attendants. Irving Blue and Alfred Adson then formally dismissed the guests, row by row.

About fifty of the relatives and intimate friends then went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stevens, the groom's parents, to the reception.

THE RECEPTION

After congratulations, an informal, delightful evening was spent, beginning with a program of unusual talent. Prof. Roberts rendered Mendelssohn's Wedding March most appropriately. Eugene Rowell, in his original way, gave some advice to the young couple, founded upon his own one year's experience, and read one of his original poems which he has the skill to produce on great occasions. Mrs. Sydney Smith sang, "Home, Love, is where the heart is." Miss Agnes Lewis then read Everard J. Appleton's "The woman who understands" to the delighted listeners. Knowing the worth of the bride, the poem seemed to have been written expressly for Mrs. Stevens. Prof. Roberts again favored the audience, this time with Listz's Love Rhapsody. The guests then observed the many wedding presents, each one a loving remembrance and not merely a material gift for outward show. The guests were made to feel at home and passed the time pleasantly on the porch and lawn, where they were served with a simple course of cake and cream. The bride cut and passed the bride's cake with her own fingers, in a charming manner. When the guests started to bid the bride and groom goodnight,—lo! they were not to be found. Some fun-lovers, who had planned to "help" them get away, felt completely baffled. However, it is queer how steps may be traced on the darkest of nights, and it is reported that the chauffeur, who took them to the city, did a good bit of grumbling at the amount of rice a dozen people can fling into an automobile in half a minute.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left Lincoln early Thursday morning for "somewhere." They will return a day or two prior to the opening of the school year, and will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stevens.

The heartiest best wishes that can be expressed will go with them through their happy future, from every friend, including the MESSENGER staff.

Union College Reunion at the Nebraska Camp-meeting

At 7:00 p. m. about sixty-five students and teachers met in the young peoples' tent in response to the announcement of a Union College reunion. The college spirit seemed to be revived as the familiar faces began to file into the tent.

We all joined heartily in a short song service after which President Lewis gave a short address of welcome, reminding us each of the place we had filled at school. A secretary was then appointed to forward the news to the MESSENGER family.

After this the meeting was thrown open for all to speak who desired to do so. All were much interested to learn that Dr. Jones, of the Hastings Sanitarium, and Eld. Mortenson, Superintendent of the Swedish work in the United States, were of the "Original Seventy" who registered at the opening of Union College. We intently listened as they told how, on that memorable day, all joined heartily in singing "Sunlight on the Hilltops," while without the weather reminded one that the days of Noah were again being almost realized; and the freshly plowed sidewalks furnished abundant evidence of the tenacity of Nebraska mud. Several experiences of the early days of the school were listened to with much interest. To that early date was traced the vogue of using "Home, Sweet Home" as the song for morning worship during the second week of the school year, supposedly to awaken in those who had recently left the parental roof for the first time, interest and love for the new home. All present seemed competent to testify to its effectiveness.

Others told experiences of battles and victories of which space will not permit mention.

After this experience meeting we enjoyed an informal meeting and a hand shake for a few minutes.

We learned many new experiences in the lives of our fellow students, and felt a closer union because of the similar difficulties we each meet. We felt better acquainted with each other because of our short meeting, and realized we had been much blessed. Our hearts were encouraged, and in each was deepened the determination to pursue more earnestly the work of preparing for a greater reunion bye and bye.

C. C. Lewis, Chairman,
Elmer Blue, Secretary.

Miss Ella Lull will teach church school the coming year at Sheldon, Wyoming.

Where am I and what am I doing? Just now I am at my home in Keene, Texas, busily preparing for another school year. All summer I was away selling magazines, The Watchman principally, in the meantime getting many pleasures and experiences from a trip through the southwestern part of this state and a portion of Mexico.

Besides the good the papers may have done—and that was of course the chief consideration—I think the good that I received was the most valuable result of my summer's work. Fair success attended me, my average sales being 100 papers per day. I know now what it means to get out and "bump the bumps." However, the bumps do not hurt long, and when the soreness goes out, they leave firm places in one's make-up that he can not obtain in any other way.

The MESSENGER has been eagerly read each fortnight. May its prosperity and popularity continue.
