

NO. 29

But for His goodness, I fain would despair,
Though I believe that He loves even me.
Unworthy of even the lowest place
there,
I shall strive in His kingdom to be.
—Mrs. K. L. Davis.

WE all need the spiritual uplift. Anciently the feasts of trumpets ushered in the Day of Atonement and Feast of Tabernacles. We are living in the time of the blowing of “Some will say, ‘It is expensive to travel, and it would be better for us to save the money, and give it for the advancement of the work where it is so much needed.’ Do not reason in this way; God calls upon you to take your place among the rank and file of His people. Strengthen the meeting all you possibly can by being present with your families.

Plan to come. Don't say, "I may" but, "I will", and you will be there. The trumpet must be sounded in Lenoir City. Will you do your part? The seventh, and last trumpet is blowing; the mystery of God is being finished. Do not miss the meeting. We need the blessing, that we may be a blessing to others.

CYRUS SIMMONS.

"We will close up tonight. We now count eleven in all, for this last meeting. Baptism next Sabbath, after which we will leave here.

"It would have done the whole State good to have heard the old infidel give his first testimony yesterday. He was a bosom companion of Bob. Ingersol for many years. His conversion was a triumph for the truth certainly. I suppose he was one of the most noted infidels in the United States one month ago; now he says 'Brethren and sisters', and says he has had a change, and will obey the truth. Yesterday was a happy day for him, and his wife, and the church."

A letter from Dr. Lydia E. Parmele last week announced her arrival in Washington, D. C. After paying a pleasant visit to the home of the Review and Herald, and meeting many former friends and acquaintances, she visited the Sanitarium, and there met some of her medical colleagues, which made the occasion a most pleasant one.

While there, she was invited to witness a serious operation. She writes that because of her visit, with the privilege of seeing the management of the work in general in the Sanitarium, much has been suggested that would be of value to incorporate into our Florida Sanitarium policy.

Dr. Parmele is now at the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., and is busy doing post-graduate work.

Dr. J. E. Caldwell arrived home July 20, after an absence of six weeks in the North, where he did post-graduate work. The Doctor looked refreshed, and at once resumed his duties as medical superintendent of our Sanitarium. He bore a look of pleasure and satisfaction on seeing the advancement made on the new sanitarium building during his absence.

Elder Parmele is spending the last two weeks of this month with the Miami church. Nothing preventing, he will be with the Daytona church the first Sabbath and Sunday of August.

Why We Should go to Camp-meeting

OUR camp-meetings, like the holy convocations of ancient times, bring us in closer touch with the Lord and with each other. They give us broader views of the work of God, and make one feel that he has part in the third angel's message,—the biggest thing carried on by the Lord in the earth, among men. We get at these meetings a fitting up, a preparation to go forward in the finishing of the work which the Lord has given us to do.

Some excuse themselves from attending these annual gatherings because they are too busy; but we should go, for here is where we get our spiritual strength renewed. The converting power of God is manifested at these meetings, possibly as it is nowhere else. Here parents see their children give their hearts to God; this is worth a thousand times more than the expense. Many of our young people who are baptized at our camp-meetings are those who were drifting toward the world before they came. Come, brethren and sisters, and enjoy with us the blessings which God will give to us at our camp-meeting. Come praying that your own hearts may be touched, and the hearts of your children also.

P. G. STANLEY.

A War on in Newbern, North Carolina

WE are very grateful to God for His manifest help in gathering the people to the tent in such large numbers, and for the spirit of wisdom in timing our message to meet the demand of the hour. Our health and temperance lectures have aroused the people, and a reformation has begun with quite a number; while the strait testimony against the questionable and dangerous methods used in raising means for the church has stirred the people, and touched a responsive chord in the hearts of those who moan in Zion, and who believe God is raising up witnesses for the truth.

The ministers are getting alarmed at the loss to their congregations, and some are lining up against us; but we are meeting the situation with a regular, old fashioned revival effort to offset the old familiar charge, that "We tear down, but do not build up Zion in laboring for the unconverted." Light on the second coming of Christ is making all see the need of true preparation to meet Him in the beauty of holiness. The canvassers have done a good work here and as the people in possession of our literature compare it with our discourses, they rejoice in the beauty of the truth. Many have begun to observe the Sabbath and are waiting for the call to come out of Babylon—the third angel's message with power.

Sabbath and Sunday, July 22 and 23, will long be remembered as two remarkable periods in the work of giving the third angel's message to this interested city. On Sabbath, seventy-eight men, women, and children gathered to spend the glorious Sabbath in honor of their Creator. Some, for the first time in their lives when under the power of the Holy Spirit, gave testimony in words that seemed to burn in our hearts. The spirit of love and peace brooded over the assembly and the beauty of holiness was seen in the faces of these devoted souls. The service concluded with an appeal to the unconverted. The children responded to the call of the Spirit with tears. The faithful band who had accepted present truth years before, numbering eight, viewed the gathering of new believers with great astonishment.

Sunday night there was held the greatest meeting since coming here. Over a thousand people crowded every nook and space available to hear the subject, "Sinning against the Holy Ghost." In vain the jealous preachers tried to stampede the flock. In the morning they labored hard to convince their audiences that the Sabbath was done away. Their conspiracy to hinder our work was openly revealed. Thousands of pamphlets gotten out to ridicule and slander our work, were distributed among the churches and handed to the congregations. This method of the enemy only served to advertise the truth. When the time of our service came, the largest crowd ever assembled at our tent to hear the evening discourse, was present. After the song service ended, the offering was taken, and ten dollars were received in about as many minutes. The discourse followed and created a deep impression.

If our large tent arrives in time we confidently expect that it will be taxed to hold all whom the Lord will send. Our receipts from collections for the months of June and July will reach nearly $125. Our expenses have been heavy, yet we shall be able to turn in nearly one third of our receipts to the mission treasury. Truly our hearts are encouraged, and we can not but speak the praises of God, who has, so wondrously wrought for us, and whose love is unspeakable.

Finally, brethren, let your prayers ascend unceasingly at this time. The enemy is aroused, and is planning to hinder the work if possible. Some have gone to the city authorities to have us leave the town; but so far, the mayor has given them a deaf ear. Rom. 8:28 is comfort to our souls.
