Shine Just where You Are

Don't waste your time in longing
For bright, impossible things;
Don't sit supinely yearning
For the swiftness of angel wings;
Don't spurn to be a rushlight,
Because you are not a star;
But brighten some bit of darkness
By shining just where you are.

There is need of the tiniest candle
As well as the garish sun;
The humblest deed is ennobled
When it is worthily done;
You may never be called to brighten
The darkened regions afar;
So fill for the day your mission
By shining just where you are.
—John Hay.

To Religious Liberty Workers

A recent letter to our office from a newly elected Religious Liberty Secretary asked for full information concerning his duties and desired literature on the subject of the principles of religious liberty. In our response, we told him among other things that one of the most important adjuncts to the administration of his office would be a copy of "American State Papers." When we consider the fact that American history furnishes us incidents and experiences in properly applying the principles enunciated by the Saviour on the question of the separation of church and state, it is hardly possible to over-estimate the value of this important work. "American State Papers" is just from the press after having been very carefully revised and somewhat enlarged. Referring to his work, an advertisement says that it is "a compilation of rare and valuable documents on religious legislation, which have appeared at various times during our colonial and national history, showing, by the plainest system of deduction, the attitude civil government should sustain toward such legislation."

Attention is called to this work at this time in order to emphasize all that has been said in favor of our religious liberty workers furnishing themselves with copies of the book. Our canvassers and church officers in general should see to it that this work is given a wide circulation.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY ASS'N.

Words of Cheer from North Carolina

CHEERING reports are coming from all parts of the field. Souls are rejoicing in their service for the Brother George's latest report for one week was $115.00. Such reports as this show that God is blessing this brother's efforts.

Brother J. P. Allran is also sending some good reports. We are always glad to hear from this brother, he never complains, or writes discouragingly. May others emulate his example:

Brother John Allran is acting as leader for two new canvassers: Brethren Messinger and Patterson. All three are doing good work. Brother Messinger has lately come to our conference from the Review and Herald office. He was practically inexperienced, yet his third report was $45.25. Brother Pattersonis from the Naples School. He is new in the Truth, and in the work. His second report was $46.co. These are good reports, and we wish that others would help train new canvassers.

Brother Robert Underwood is doing faithful work as a canvasser and is training three new canvassers. Brother S. F. Woodell, and his two brothers Ross and Archie. We are glad to say that Brother Woodell and "The Underwood Trio" are having good success.

Brother Logan Ingram has not been well for the past few weeks, but his father has taken his place, and is doing some splendid resident canvassing. Brother J. W. Siler has not been able to put in full time since camp-meeting, but we are expecting to receive some large reports soon.

Mrs. W. H. George is doing some canvassing work at Albermarle. Sister George is planning to go with her husband this winter and do city canvassing while her husband canvasses in the country. We believe that Sister George will make a good canvasser.

If any who read these items feel the call of God to enter the canvassing work, I will be glad to correspond with such.

W. E. LANIER.

In Psalms 37: 4, we read, "Delight thyself in the Lord, and He shall give these the desire of thine heart." As I was going from house to house with my first canvasser, after campmeeting, the brother remarked, "I feel perfectly contented as I go up and down these streets, and talk of this precious truth to these people.

My greatest desire is to put these books into their homes, so these poor souls who are sitting in darkness may have an opportunity to know the truth which has done so much for you and me." Dear reader, this brother feels a burden for souls. He doesn't want any one's blood to be required at his hand in the day of Judgement, and the least work he has done in one week is to take thirty orders for our truth-filled books to go into thirty homes.

Probably one hundred and fifty will come under the influence of the truth that these books teach, and although in dollars and cents we value this week's work at $57.22; yet, when we consider its real value, we must wait until we get to the kingdom of God to estimate it.

Another brother said, "If you think I can get one order a day, I would be willing to go out and canvass." I assured him he could, if he went trusting in the Lord for success. Last week he made his first attemp. He worked forty-eight homes, and got thirty-seven orders, amounting to $114.50. This brother writes that he did better than his fondest expectations, and he gives the Lord credit for his success.

Another said, "I dont feel like I could do anything in the book work", but when he made an attempt, the Lord blessed, and the first week, his orders amounted to $60.00.

What these young men have done, others can do if they will go out in faith. We have come to the time when this message is swelling into a loud cry, and our books containing the truth are to be scattered like the leaves of autumn. Every home must have an opportunity to hear the call, and God promises great things to those who engage in this great work.

The Lord's work needs more laborers, and to-day He is saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" Is there not one or more of those who read these lines who will answer, "Here am I, Lord, send me?" If so, send us your name, and we shall be glad to help you.

The October "Watchman"

Our October Watchman points to the "City without a church" or the New Jerusalem. This world is after all, divided into two classes; one class striving after the things of this world and the other after things eternal. This fact is vividly portrayed on the cover page, illustrating two cities. Compare the great city of Light with the great Babylons men have made and then "Choose you this day, whom ye will serve." Josh. 4:15

Our leading editorial entitled "The Eternal City" will be an excellent article to hand your neighbor to read. As you know, the popular theory places our loved ones in heaven at death, far removed from this world's troubles. Is it true? Where is heaven ?The prophet Isaiah, speaking of the new earth, says; "And they shall build houses and inhabit them: and they shall plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them." Isa. 65:21 A straightforward Bible answer to this perplexing question. G. B. Starr answers the importnat question "Will Jesus Come?" Will he come to this world to gather the redeemed? Many doubt it because of the great advance being made toward universal peace. The popular idea causes him to come into the hearts of men to reign. Is this true? The apostle says: "For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. For when they shall say peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them." I Thes. 5: 2, 3. A true explanation of the deluding peace movements that lull society today.

Will sin always exist? Will God always permit it? Are other worlds involved in the rebellion? The editor will give a very thoughtful treatise on "Our World an Object Lesson". It will be shown we are but actors great drama. enactin the ed for the instruction of God's universe, to expose to sinless beings the exceeding sinfulness of sin. final is being watched with intense interest by a heav enly audience. Soon it will close, and our world will have given its object-lesson, and sin and sinners will be no more. Excellent to show to your neighbor.

The Watchman will have a full report of the progress of the National Reform Movement. This movement held a recent convention, and its principal workings will be quite thoroughly reviewed. Is America free? Most people regard the principles of Protestantism, and free America as synonomous. Few realize they are being repudiated in this country. These principles are opposed to the broader ones of religious liberty, as vouchsafed to us by that great instrument the American Constution. Every lover of religious and civil liberty should read this article. Get a dozen and distribute to your friends and neighbors. Do you not think this is a strong number made up from the vital issues of the present hour?

The September number had an unprecedented sale. The entire edition being exhausted before the appearance of this number. We expect this edition to go the same way.

Hurry in your standing order that we may give it our best attention. Fifty cents will purchase ten, which you may sell for one dollar and buy twenty more and so on. The possibilities of this plan are limitless. Rates in quantities: five cents up to 40 copies; over that number four cents. Order today through your tract society.

Study At Home

"There's a Way"

RECENTLY a student in our correspondence school, a teacher himself, summed up in a letter to a friend what seem to him the advantages of study by correspondence, as follows.

"As far as I have studied, I believe correspondence study is not without some practical advantages. More opportunity is given to master each lesson thoroughly, There are no classes to keep up with. All the time that is necessary to prepare a given lesson may be given to it The test questions bring out every point, and it is impossible to lose a single point in that way. Often the time allotted to class study is too short and much that is important has to be neglected. Then, too, the written preparation affords opportunity for the observence of the rules of grammar and spelling. More deliberate thought can be given to the answering of every question.

"The lessons come as fast as one wishes to work them. In fact several lessons are sent out ahead so that there need be no delay in the work. All points that are not clear may be mentioned when the lesson is sent in, and a reply is made on the lesson sheet, which is returned when corrected."

This school has its third annual opening on October 2. A calendar of full information is sent on request. Address: Fireside Correspondence School, Takoma Park, D. C.

THE September-October number of Christian Education came out with a timely message for our school teachers and those associated with our educational instittions in the discussion of such topics as: First Days of the New Student-the new student's feelings, his natural tendencies, and the worker's relation to him during the first days of school; and another article "Make Ready for the Opening of School"-good and important advice for our church-school teachers-advice, which if followed, would insure success even in schools where there has been an acknowledged lack in the past.

In response to many urgent requests for assistance in teaching the children at home, our educational journai, Christain Education, begins "A Home School Department", in the September-October issue, just out. This number contains one artticle, "Child Education at Home", by a mother, worth more to any parent, with children to be taught at home, than the price of the journal for a full year; in fact, it presents successful methods that cost the mother who wrote the article, years of experience, and will bring results when applied that cannot be valued in dollars and cents.

October One

OCTOBER 1, is the first Sabbath in the month, and the first Sabbath in October is the day set apart by the General Conference to take an offering in all our churches for the work among the colored people of the South.

This appeal should come with great force to all the churches in the Southeastern Union Conference, when we consider that one-half our population is colored. This offering to us is home missionary work. We who see the needs, should contribute liberally.

I am glad to report that the work among the colored people shows evidence of life and growth. In all the conferences aggressive work is being carried forward and churches are being raised up. We always appeal with assurance when results are visible.

Brethren, if we continue a liberal support to the colored work, it will not be long until their tithe will support their ministry. Surely it is a goal to be looked forward to with pride, to see the colored work self-supporting.

We pray that God will give us all liberal hearts and that a large fund may be the result of the offering taken Sabbath, October 1.

The Nurses' Training School

The Nurses' Training School conducted by the Florida Sanitarium, Orlando, Florida, will commence the work of a new year Wednesday, October 11, 1911. The prospects are good for a prosperous year's work by a consecrated company of young people now assembling.

Most men realize that our young people are the greatest asset of our denomination. With them in our various schools receiving practical training for usefulness as missionaries, the future of the work of the church in our Union is fully assured.

If any others of suitable age and education would like to connect with the class now at the begining of another term let them open corrospondence with the sanitarium.

Our new school calender will be ready for distrubution before this notice appears in print.

J. E. CALDWELL M. D. Chairman of Faculty.

Florida Notice

We now have our supply of Sabbath-school Quarterlies, and are prepared to fill all orders promptly. Send in your orders early that you may have them in time for the first Sabbath in the Quarter, to Florida Tract Society, Drawer 28, Orlando, Fla.

Manner of Speaking.

Some of our most talented ministers are doing themselves great injury by their defective manner of speaking. While teaching the people their duty to obey God's moral law, they should not be found violating his physical laws. Ministers should stand erect, and speak slowly, firmly, and distinctly; taking a full inspiration of air at every sentence, and throwing out the words by exercising the abdominal muscles. If they will observe this simple rule, giving attention to the laws of health in other respects, they may perserve their life and usefulness much longer than men in any other profession.

The chest will become boarder, and by educating the voice, the speaker need seldom become hoarse, even by constant speaking. Instead of becoming consumptives by speaking, our ministers may, by care overcome all tendency to consumption. I would say to my ministering brethren, unless you educate yourselves to speak according to the physical law, you will sacrifice life, and many will mourn the loss of "those martyrs" to the cause of truth, when the facts in the case are, that by indulging in wrong habits, you did injustice to yourselves and to the truth which you represented; and robbed God and the world of the services you might have rendered. God would have been pleased to have you live, but you slowly committed suicide.

The manner in which the truth is presented, often has much to do in determining whether it will be accepted or rejected. All who labor in the great cause of reform should study to become efficient workmen, that may accomplish the greatest amount of good, and not detract from the force of the truth by their own deficiencies.

Ministers and teachers should discipline themselves to clear and distinct articulation, giving the full sound to every word. Those who talk rapidly, from the throat, jumbling their words together and raising their voices to an unnaturally high pitch, soon become hoarse, and the words spoken, lose half the force which they would have had if spoken slowly, distinctly, and not so loud. The sympathies of the hearers are awakened for the speaker; for they know he is doing violence to himself, and they fear that he will break down at any moment. It is no evidence that a man has zeal for God because he works himself up into a frenzy of excitement and gesticulation. "Bodily exercise", says the apostle. "profiteth little."

Paper Delayed

FOR various reasons, it was thought best to omit an issue of FIELD TIDINGS. On account of the opening of The Southern Training School, the office force has been very busy; and as fifty issues constitute a volume, last week's paper was omited.

There will be no more omissions during the present year.
