EVANGELISM FIELD SCHOOL—Participants in the San Pedro Sula, Honduras field school in evangelism, July 19 to September 14, sponsored by the SDA Theological Seminary, include from left: front, Salim Japas, featured speaker for the series; Raul Gonzalez; Juan Navarro; Ron Jolliffe; and Joel Sarli; back, Ramon Mercado, Adalberto Alarcon, and Robert Toncarolo.—Andrews University.

NUTRITION SCHOOLS IN SOUTH CARIBBEAN—During the first few months of this year, five Nutrition and Cooking schools have been conducted in Woodbrook, Rio Claro, Point Fortin, Carriacou, and St. Vincent in the South Caribbean Conference. A total of 335 persons have graduated from the courses given in these places. Naomi Modeste.

NURSING DEGREES GRANTED—Six students of the 87-member graduating class received the Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing at the largest graduation in the history of West Indies College on June 2. Course work for the degree program, which started four years ago, is done at the WIC campus and at Andrews Memorial Hospital. The degree course in Nursing is affiliated with that of Loma Linda University. President Fletcher also conferred degrees in Theology, Education and Business Administration.—I. B. Benson.

FREE TIME FOR VOP—Prof. Dagoberto Barrios, departmental secretary for communications in the Honduras Mission has just obtained free time for the Voice of Prophecy radio program on a San Pedro Sula station. The same station was charging $150.00 monthly some months back.—Prof. D. G. y Poyato.

COLPORTEUR WINS 18 SOULS—Brother Felicito Moreno began his work as a literature evangelist in the Panama Conference after attending an institute held in Costa Rica last year. Eighteen persons have already been baptized as a result of the literature ministry of this one man.—L. A. Ramirez.

RETIRED COLPORTEUR LEADER HONORED—At a banquet held at the Mayaguez Hilton in honor of Colporteur Week, the West Puerto Rico Conference honored Elder Fred B. Moore who spent 17 years in the Antillian Union as head of the Publishing Department. In the photograph Brother Sadiasept Guillont of the conference Publishing Department is presenting a plaque to Elder Moore while Mrs. Moore and Elder Felix Rodriguez, president of the Antillian Union look on.—Oscar Gonzalez.

STUDENT COLPORTEURS IN WEST INDIES—A total of 431 student colporteurs was recruited in the West Indies Union during the recent promotion trip made by I. B. Benson of the Inter-American Division and G. J. Wilson of the union. At West Indies College 120 students responded to the challenge of colporteur work for the summer. The remaining 311 were recruited from the high schools and junior high schools in the three conferences in Jamaica.—I. B. Benson.

LAYMEN IN ACTION—The first sixteen souls were baptized as a result of lay efforts conducted by the enthusiastic members in Guasave, Sinoloa, Mexico in a place called "El Burrion". Under the leadership of their new pastor, Brother Fermin Olguin, the laymen plan to hold three more campaigns in that area and we are sure that these efforts will produce the desired fruit.—Jaime Castrejon.

FORTY-FIVE SETS OF THE BIBLE STORY SOLD—The accompanying photograph shows East Puerto Rico Conference colporteur Pedro Juan Gutierrez (left) and Adventist Book Center manager Dagoberto Castro (back, right) with the 45 sets of The Bible Story that Brother Gutierrez sold to the Department of Education of the Puerto Rico government. This contact paved the way for the large order the government recently placed with colporteur Miguel Chollet for La Enciclopedia Medica Moderna.—Carlos Ramirez.

SACRED CONCERT—The Central American Vocational College choir gave a sacred concert recently at the hospital in Alajuela, Costa Rica. Both the patients and the staff of the institution greatly appreciated the inspiring music.—From "The Church in Action".

MISSIONARY MAILMEN—This group of missionary mailmen attended the course given recently in the Sabana de Torres district in Santander, Colombia. As soon as they finished their training, they launched into the work of enrolling people in the different Bible correspondence courses.—Raimundo Pardo Suarez.

EVANGELISM '74 IN PANAMA—Elder Aristides Gonzalez, president of the Panama Conference, (see photo below) recently baptized 23 souls at the close of his first evangelistic campaign for this year. At present he is conducting a second crusade with the help of personnel from the conference office and the Adventist Book Center. Elder Magdaleno Bartuano, new publishing secretary for the conference, baptized 11 persons during his effort at the second church in the city of David, Chiriqui.—Mercedes Williams.
