THE SCHOOL

THE OPENING.—Fourteen students were enrolled the first day and five have since been added. The home students seem comfortable and happy. We found a room in which to conduct the class work, so do not have to use the church building for this purpose. We expect soon to secure a place where the boys may be instructed in carpentry and where they may make tables, commodes, cupboards, desks, book shelves and other things which will be needed in the new buildings. They will also spend some time working on the buildings, siding, lathing, putting down the floor, and any other work they can do under the direction of Bro. Miller, the carpenter.

The girls will be taught sewing, dressmaking, cookery and laundry work. This much will be carried on this fall and winter with present accommodations.

EXPENSES.—The tuition for both home and day students will be $2.50 and $3.00, according to grade of work. The cost of board will be summed up monthly and shared equally among the students; and to make this as light as possible we are soliciting contributions of fruits, vegetables, meal—anything in the food line. We need, also, in the way of furnishings, clean rags which may be braided into rugs, strips of carpeting for our bare floors, muslin for window curtains, table spreads, sofa pillows, or anything that you can spare or make to give the home a comfortable and home-like appearance. We wish, also, to collect from the book-shelves of our people a library for the school. Please remember that this school is like a newly born infant. It must be nourished and provided for during the first year of its life. Next year it can raise its own vegetables and can its own fruits, and in part provide for itself.

DONATIONS RECEIVED.—Our brethren are responding liberally to the call for donations. Boggstown brought in meal, pumpkins, turnips, beans, cabbage, etc., also utensils for cooking.

There is in prospect from Indianapolis a sewing machine, school bells, nuts, cans of fruits, an organ, etc.

We have been visiting the churches at Anderson, Middletown, Mechanicsburg and Kokomo, and they, too, are preparing to send donations. On all these the freight should always be prepaid.

A flour mill near Boggstown turns out nice graham flour and corn meal, so we can use both wheat and corn.

THE NEW BUILDINGS.— Present plans will greatly lessen the expense of building. It is not expected that the buildings will cost more than $6,000 or $7,000.

We hope to save hundreds of dollars in donations of work by our brethren and student labor. By this plan some of the students will be able to meet part of their expenses.

I. J. HANKINS.

CHOICE OF MOSES

By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter. Choosing, rather, to suffer affliction with the people of the Lord, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season. It was the early training Moses received that caused him to make the choice he did. Moses received his early education from a mother in Israel. He was afterward taught in all the wisdom of the Egyptians; but the instruction he received from his mother had grown and strengthened as the years passed by. There is a good lesson for parents in the training of Moses.

I am made to wonder how parents can trust the early education of their children to men and women of the world, when we know that is the most lasting of all that is learned through life. Many expect when their children are older they will send them to one of our higher schools vainly hoping that in so doing an education will be given that will eliminate all the errors from the mind.

But how often we see disappointment in such a course.

If we want our children to have a Christian education the time to begin is at the very first. Let us cherish the home and church schools.

As a denomination we can better afford to give up our colleges than our church schools.

JOHN W. COVERT.

CHRIST'S OBJECT LESSONS

Six thousand to be sold between now and January 1, 1903.

Where are the Joshuas and Calebs that will say, "we are well able to finish this work." There is no time now to question or doubt as to whether this can be done but the only thing left to do is to do with thy might what thy hands find to do. Let neither minister nor people say this can't be done. It can. If we show a determination to finish this work before the close of this year the Lord will supply everything necessary to complete it.

The Indianapolis Church is taking hold of this work with a willingness and determination that bids fair to sell their full quota in the next few weeks.

Bro. I. S. Lloyd has charge of the work here and is responsible for the full number of books and sub-leaders have been appointed, and the membership has been divided among them each sub-leader being responsible for four books for every member under him including himself.

Our people feel a burden and an interest in this work this time when we present it to them, that they have not had before. Therefore, notwithstanding the work has gone slowly and hard in places, lets all forget the past and now work with an earnestness and faithfulness that will bring the blessings of God and we can soon rejoice seeing this work is finished. Come, brother and sister, let us complete this work. "Let all the people say, Amen." J. E. DUNN.

Since November 1st we have disbursed $1,051.83 to the Lake Union Conference and to our State laborers, but as the tithe balance for the current year was only $55.34 at the beginning of this present month, and only $198.75 has so far (Nov. 12) been received, it is clear that we have not received sufficient tithe thus far in 1902 to meet the actual disbursements by $801.74. More than this, there is a balance owing to nearly all of the Conference laborers, and it is safe to say that the tithe is $1,000 short of the amount that should have been received to equal the laborers' wages from January 1st to November 12th, 1902. Shall our other funds be thus absorbed and our publishing houses crippled, or shall we produce forthwith the Lord's tithes and offerings, heed the call to service along other lines and escape the curse of Meroz? Permit me to repeat the statement that it is "a condition and not a theory that confronts us." Who dares express satisfaction with the condition? Let all put on the whole armor without delay and see to it that the condition is speedily reversed.

There is a great work to be done—as great as that of John who baptised many unto repentance. Those who refused that baptism rejected the counsel of God against themselves.

Let us not refuse to be baptized for service.

OBITUARY

Lulu Le Fever, daughter of L. J. and Samantha King, of Greenfield, Ind., was born January 18, 1871, died at the home of her parents November 4, 1902; age 31 years 9 months and 16 days. Sister Le Fever was united in marriage last March to Homer Le Fever, of Cincinnati, O. Her married life was very short. During that period their home was in Springfield O. About ten days previous to her death she came home on a visit. Had been home but a day or two until she was confined to her bed in her last illness.

Sister Le Fever embraced present truth about twenty years ago, and remained faithful until death overtook her. So we mourn not as those who have no hope.

Services were conducted by the writer to a well filled house in Greenfield Ind. Burial in Greenfield cemetery. Text Rom. 6:23.

J. E. Dunn has been with us at Indianapolis arranging for the Object Lessons Campaign. Indianapolis church is asked to place 600 copies this time and a strong company has been selected to get the whole church to work for disposition of the entire quota.

Franklin, Ind.

At the close of the camp-meeting we pitched a tent here and began meetings. I was taken sick just as the meeting began and the work was left with Eld. Moody until Eld. Donnell arrived. The weather was rainy and cold and after about two weeks in the tent it was thought best to change our meetings to a hall.

We secured the use of a building just west of the court house.

Here we have held meetings every night with an attendance of from 30 to 100. Our company consists of Elds. Donnell, Moody and Bliss, and Bro. Anderson, Sr. Thompson, and Bro. and Sr. Niehaus. We are all busy visiting, holding bible readings, selling books and securing subscriptions to periodicals. We have obtained fifty or more names for the Signs. We are carrying a club of 100. Quite a number of books have been sold. One man and his wife, who were visiting here from Ohio, have just left us, but they carry several of our books with them and have promised to live out the truth. Our workers, however, have all pronounced this a hard field. It seems almost impossible to sell books, and the people are very strongly attached to their own churches. Revivals have already begun and several are absent from our meetings who have come regularly. Our hall rent is also high. However, we are all of good courage. Knowing we have the truth, we are confident of victory. Brethren, pray for the work here. C. H. BLISS.

SCHOOL ITEMS

Prof. Machlan's family have arrived, and we are settled in the boy's dormitory.

Harry and Eda Hankins are among the new arrivals.

Elder and Mrs. Hankins are visiting the churches in the interests of the school, and the sale of C. O. Lessons. They report that several new students may be expected soon.

Let everybody send in his pledge at once so that the work on the buildings may not be stopped; for remember that no debt is to be incurred in this work. The buildings must be hastened to completion in order to accommodate the students who desire to come.

It has been stated by one who knows that no other school in the denomination has been started so in harmony with the principles and plans given by the Lord as has the Boggstown school. The Lord's leading can be seen at every step as we advance with the work.

Every S. D. Adventist in Indiana needs for his own sake to have a part in this good work. Brethren send in your checks, P. O. orders, or cash. We must have money at once. If you cannot send money, send your note for three, six, or twelve months payable to the Indiana Conference Association of S. D. Adventists, and we can get it cashed for immediate use.

Boggstown school wants your children and your children need the advantages of the Boggstown school. Send them along. Don't be afraid. Those who have become acquainted with Sr. Kinner and Prof. Machlan frequently remark that no one need fear to trust their children with them.

UNEMPLOYED MEN AND WOMEN

It will pay you to read every word of the following unsolicited letter from one of our salesmen:—

BATTLE CREEK, MICH.
During the past few months I have been canvassing more or less in Battle Creek for the Magic Pocket Vaporizer, and have found that well-directed efforts meet with success. One prominent business man remarked, "It is the best selling thing I ever saw, because everybody wants it."

I find little difficulty in getting recommendations from influential people, having secured half a dozen testimonials from among the clergy of this city. The canvasser needs but little capital in selling this instrument, as deliveries are made as fast as opportunity affords, and in this way he will find his influence constantly increasing. A splendid opportunity is also afforded to do missionary work among the suffering, and the canvasser can make good wages besides.

I predict a large sale for the Magic Pocket Vaporizer. WM. ARNOLD.
