A M E R I C A

My country, 'tis of thee
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrims' pride,
From every mountain-side
Let Freedom ring.

Our fathers' God, to Thee
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King.

Ruth Conard has been putting in half-time work at the Review until the first of July, when she takes her new position as secretary in the Editorial Department. We're going to miss you, Ruth!

Visitors in the office: Mrs. Lorna DeGinder en route from Michigan to Fort Worth, Texas, where her husband has been transferred to a new government hospital. Miss Esther Adams from Inter-America. In four months she will be leaving for South America, where she will connect with the division office. Glad to see you both!

Mrs. Dolly Long had a delightful time when she went with friends to Tolchester Beach, which is a two-hour ride by boat from Baltimore. Swimming was grand!

Miss Fleisher has returned from a visit among relatives in Pennsylvania with the complaint of too many good things to eat while on vacation.

Mrs. LaVerne Schwarz, formerly employed in the Theological Seminary, is now helping in the Medical Department and Elder Evans' office.

Harriett Richardson enjoyed her week-end trip to the Southern New England camp meeting with the Review and Herald Glee Club.

Dorothy Steinman reports that she is kept busy in her new work on floor duty in the Sanitarium Annex, especially in the vicinity of the nursery.

Are you a tennis enthusiast looking for someone with whom to discuss the pros and cons of the games? Call on Louise Meyer. She won't let anything interfere with her game—not even a sudden June shower.

The Misses Mooney and Wells accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Cobban Tuesday afternoon on a trip to Elkton, Md., for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hughes and the latter's sister.

The Theological Seminary, which began its 1939 summer quarter June 8, reports fifty-five students enrolled. Among them are 5 editors, 19 teachers, 7 administrators, 12 ministers, 2 nurses, and 3 business men. They come from 32 states and 14 foreign countries. Eleven are from Europe, 8 from California.

Elsie Winders spent June 9-13 visiting her brother, R.L. Winders, at Greensboro, N. C., and attending the camp meeting at Lake Kanuga, where her brother was ordained to the ministry.

Genevieve Melendy was made happy recently by a visit from her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Melendy, of Melrose, Mass.

THINK

In a busy office not so far from ours there hangs on the wall a motto bearing in large letters the one word THINK. At first sight I queried, Why that word in a business office? In a class room or library perhaps -- Then I began to think something like this:

If I think, I will save much time and effort--and perhaps irritation--for others. I will not interrupt a busy man in the midst of dictation by asking him to repeat a word I have not clearly understood and which may come to me in a second. I will not take another's time for an explanation of a question which I can easily think through for myself. I will not stop for a chat with a fellow worker who is visibly hurrying to finish a certain task in the shortest possible time.

If I think, I will save time for myself, too. I will make one trip for supplies do where I might make two or three. I will plan my work carefully. When I find it necessary to do some work in double-quick time, I will keep my head, "fall to," and do the best I can instead of wasting time bemoaning my fate or trying to find someone to help me.

If I think, I will help my friends instead of sometimes being merely a bother to them. I will give that smile, that friendly word of greeting that help to make our associations more pleasant. I will be tactful. I will be helpful and accommodating to those for whom I may be able to do a favor.

These are only a few of the thoughts that followed in the train of a look at that motto on our neighbor's wall. I believe it does us all good to think.

All Washington lovers of classical music are looking forward to July 12. At 8 o'clock on the evening of that day, the first of the Watergate Concerts will be given. These are the best in symphony music at the cheapest possible expense--even free if you get there early enough for the free seats. Several good conductors are invited to be our guests, and in this way we have the interpretations of more than one man.

If you are not already acquainted with the free Band Concerts given almost nightly in some portion of the city, I would advise you to read your newspaper carefully for information, and then hear one. I'm sure you will want to go again. We are unusually fortunate to have several good bands to hear.

June 27 the programs start at the Sylvan Theater on the Monument grounds. These are given on Tuesday nights. There will be an exception on July 6 because of the holiday on Tuesday.

July 6 the Washington Civic Orchestra is to play, July 18 a program of Folk Dances and Folk Songs of different countries will be given, July 25 a Gypsy Chorus will sing, and on August 15 the Temple Choral Society has the program. There are many other good programs to be given, but space does not permit listing all. Again I say, READ your newspaper, and see how much you can find, using these few pointers as a help to a summer of sunshine, rhythm, moonlight, and melody.

Harriett Richardson (Music).

SPREAD

IT ISN'T TOO LATE YET --

To get in some good strokes in tennis before those too-hot days of July and August catch you. There are still cool breezes, and the sun accommodatingly goes behind clouds--of course, sometimes those clouds may be dripping.

That reminds me--in case you have a tennis date and it rains, and you are home and wonder if the courts at 3rd and Van Buren are still too wet to play--call Randolph 7207 and get the latest court reports. Service gladly rendered any time between 6:00 A. M. and 8:00 P. M. (And--on occasion--as early as 5:00 A.M. if it is a real important date!)

Marguerite Perkins (Tennis)

P I C N I C ! ! ! !

Let us leave all care behind us,
On some afternoon at three;
Seat ourselves in cars to take us
To Great Falls in Virginny.

Will you vote for July 'leven?
Or would August one be free?
Moonlight might be shining brightly
On the latter date, you see.

There would be a picnic supper,
Rocks to climb and sights to see.
So turn in your votes to Elsie,
They will settle when 'twill be.

FRUIT PUNCH

How about having a pitcher of cold, refreshing punch to make the thermometer seem lower and you a bit cooler?

Hawaiian Punch

2 cups pineapple juice $\frac{1}{2}$ cup lemon juice
1 cup grapefruit juice 1 quart water
Sugar or honey

Mix pineapple, grapefruit, lemon juice, and water together. Sweeten to taste with sugar or honey. Chill. Serve in tall glasses with cracked ice and garnish with a sprig of mint.

Grape and Lime

4 cups grape juice $\frac{1}{4}$ cup fresh lime juice
1 cup pineapple juice 3 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
1 cup ice water

Blend the grape juice, pineapple juice and ice water with the lime juice, and sweeten with the sugar, adding more if desired. Chill thoroughly.

Frosted Glasses

If you are having company or want the glasses to be different and really attractive, try frosting the edges with sugar. Use the following for the frosting on the edges of the glasses:

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup fresh lime juice Confectioners' sugar

Prepare the glasses by dipping the rims in the lime juice to the depth of one-half an inch and then dipping in a bowl of confectioners' sugar. Allow the rims to dry. When ready to serve, fill the glasses with the grape mixture.

Hazel Peter (Household Arts).

SECRETARIAL SNAPSHOTS—

The June meeting was a happy combination of fun and much business. With a vote of appreciation to the outgoing Editorial staff, the new staff was inducted into their arduous labors. After a lively discussion as to the size of the KEY NOTE, it was recommended to allow the staff to decide.

There were just a few sad notes—the resignation of our beloved and able President, the leaving of Dorothy Steinman, and the illness of Miss Gregg.

It was considered expedient for the Gift assessment to be collected by the Keeper representing each floor—at an opportune time—rather than risk our memories! If you object, you should have been there.

A number availed themselves of the Cafeteria offer to deliver at a convenient hour, the trial hemoglobin-increasing grape nog.

Please, pretty please, come next Monday, July 3, and help elect a President.

Ora Williams, Secretary.

INTRODUCING—

Thelma M. Durrell, who has come to join the Missionary Volunteer Department stenographic staff. Thelma's home is in Lowell, Mass., and she recently received her A.B. degree at Atlantic Union College. While at College she worked in the offices of the Registrar, the College Press, and the Academy Principal. She likes flowers, books, people, pets, and most sports, and has ambition to travel, especially by plane. Thelma's local address is 23 Woodland Avenue, and she tells us she likes it here.

The paper on which this KEY NOTE is printed is a West Coast product and is shipped to the East via the Panama Canal. The Production Staff hopes you like it!

This n That

Miss Helen Stolz is no longer with us; taking her place is Mrs. Howard Porter. Elder A.E. Russell brought about this change on Wednesday evening, June 28, when he united Miss Stolz and Mr. Porter in holy wedlock. Preceding this ceremony by a few days was a shower held in honor of Miss Stolz when the girls of the office, represented by Miss Hinkhouse, presented to the bride and groom a beautiful Duncan Phyfe table and a wall mirror of modernistic design.

Dorothy Bartlett, who is acting registrar of the Seminary for this summer quarter, is no stranger to many of us, she having been a stenographer in the Medical Department before entering the teaching profession. She is on leave from the Forest Lake Academy in Florida, where she teaches typewriting and French as well as being registrar and librarian.

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Murray announce the birth of John Michael on June 17 at the Hinsdale Sanitarium. Mrs. Murray—then Betty Yearsley—several years ago worked in the Secretarial Department.

Intent on playing tennis, June's purpose was diverted by a surprise party in honor of her birthday at the home of Dr. Walton. After a merry evening of games, June thought that the calendar must have been moved ahead to Christmas, when she had a chance to investigate her packages. The guests all feel that they had so much fun that June can have another natal celebration any time now.

Friends of Edith Starr were pleased to receive announcement of her graduation from the White Memorial School of Nursing on June 11. Edith worked in the General Conference office while completing her college course at Washington Missionary College.

Mrs. Shadel from Whitewater, Wis., arrived June 18 to pay a visit to her daughter Hazel, and Wrangle.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Higgins left the week-end of June 17 for a vacation in Mrs. Higgins' home State—Michigan.

Commencement at the College of Medical Evangelists was a happy occasion for Mrs. Bert (Evelyn Homan) Ellis, formerly of the office of the Vice-President for North America, for it found Bert completing the four years of the medical course. He is to interne in San Francisco.

A bicycle party. Bicycles can now be rented on Kennebec Avenue, so we will start from there and bike around the Sligo. Further details later, but keep this in mind the second week in July.
