

MAY 4 1950

THE KEY NOTE

Volume 13
Number 5

GENERAL CONFERENCE
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
TAKOMA PARK, WASHINGTON 12, D.C.

May
1950

EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION

To those who contributed to the fund to assist the Chinese family comes this note: "I wish to express my thanks to the members of the Keepers of the Keys for the check you sent through Mrs. Scharffenberg. It certainly was very thoughtful of you to help us in this way, and we do appreciate your kindness. My girls and I are beginning to enjoy life here in the United States. I now can well sympathize with the missionaries who go to a foreign land and how they feel during the first months. I hope we may have the pleasure of meeting you all some day. Very respectfully, Oilene M. Liu."

LITERATURE TO CAYMAN ISLANDS

For some years I have sent packages of our magazines and papers to our mission in the Cayman Islands. The people there have no newspapers, and this gives our missionaries an opportunity to place our literature in the hands of the people.

Recently I received a letter from Mrs. Orville Schneider, wife of the superintendent of the Cayman Islands Mission, in which she said they much appreciate receiving the packages of literature and expressed the wish that they might receive also papers suitable for children and young people. If any of the Keepers have extra copies of the Little Friend or the Youth's Instructor which they could send, I am sure these would be gratefully received. The address is as follows: Mrs. Orville V. Schneider, George Town, Grand Cayman, British West Indies.

Katie Farney

RADIO PROJECT

For the interest of those who contributed to the "radio project" for the elderly woman: Fifteen dollars was contributed by the Keepers, and a few girls of the Review who were interested in the project added enough to the funds so that a $25 RCA radio was possible. Frances Nowlin and Promise Sherman presented the gift to Mrs. Walker, who stood speechless with gratitude. She wishes to thank all who made this pleasure possible for her.

Ruth Williams

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Birthday surprises to Ruth Helmersen included a gift from the girls of the Temperance Department and a party given in her honor by her husband.

Marion Nyman was happily surprised on her birthday to receive a telephone call all the way from Miami--Marie Mooney wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Theodora Wirak's birthday was celebrated by receiving a surprise every hour on the hour. To complete the celebration a large group of students gathered at her office to sing "Happy Birthday."

The Medical Department girls surprised Muriel Fogg with a birthday corsage on April 16.

Birthdays were more or less quietly celebrated also during April by Thelma Wellman, Genevieve Melendy, Hazel Peter, Mary Paul, Alice Fagerstrom, and Margaret Weir.

HERE AND THERE

Eileen Robson of the Purchasing Department is going to the British West Indies Union Mission office where she will be the acting treasurer in Jamaica for six months. She travels by train to Florida and thence by plane to Jamaica.

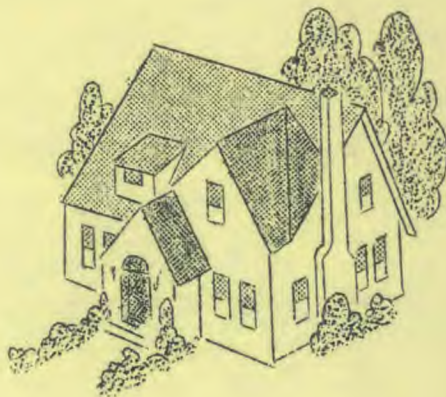

Wanda Tate has turned over her office duties to Doris Roth, whose husband is a senior at W. M. C.

Mrs. Gertrude Loewen is spending a few days in Mount Vernon, Ohio, making plans for her new home there.

Moving seems to be the popular thing these days. Miss Howard is moving into Elsie Argent's former apartment at the Ferrens' home.

REJOICE WITH US!

Moving days came with a rush during April when the famed new apartment house on Garland welcomed various of its triumphant but somewhat disheveled occupants to the luxury of homes of their own. The rigors of moving and settling are rapidly being forgotten in the joy of possession.

Recently Christine Baus came to the office with an extra smile on her usually happy face. On her right wrist was the telltale evidence of one reason for her bliss. Christine and Paul Workman are busy planning for their wedding day.

Kay Thomas and Pauline Klady have new Chevrolets--same color, but Pauline's has four doors, Kay's is complete with chauffeur.

Two new Nashes have gone into service--one for Dolly Long and her family and the other for Elder and Mrs. Buckwalter.

Betty Gray is welcomed back to part-time work after a long absence from the Home Study Institute office.

Esther Fenn is happy to be back on the job.

VITAL STATISTICS

T. Rose Curtis rejoices over the arrival of a Curtis boy in the very young generation of her family. The family name lives on!

Judith Marie, daughter of Alice Shobe who is a former employee at the Purchasing Department, arrived April 6 at the Washington Sanitarium, weighing six pounds at birth.

Friends of Zippie Franklin are sorry to learn of her serious illness following the birth of her baby in March. The baby did not live. Added to these misfortunes is the fact that Clell is not in good health.

Marjorie Hild is getting so many roses now on her monthly wedding anniversary she is passing them around for others to enjoy. We wonder if she still recommends volleyball as a hobby after a recent encounter.

Naomi Dart recently had a double vacation--the latter part being spent enjoying a case of mumps.

TRAVEL NOTES

Margaret Nettleton was called home to Columbus, Ohio, because of the serious illness of her sister. She hopes to return after two weeks with her family.

Mrs. Mathews accompanied her husband to Danville, Pennsylvania, recently for a pleasant change from office routine.

Olive Arason and her family spent a recent Sabbath in Waynesboro, Virginia. They enjoyed the blossoming redbud, peach and wild plum trees, and caught a glimpse of a red fox in the mountains.

Esther Yost accompanied her husband on a recent visit to New York. On the way she stopped in Philadelphia to see her sister who was seriously ill. Before returning to Washington she had opportunity for a short visit with former Keeper Mary Jane Mitchell.

Lillian Dickerson (and husband Richard) made a trip to the New England Sanitarium recently to visit her sister.

ENTERTAINING

The Scandinavian students now attending the Seminary and the College were entertained in the home of Elder and Mrs. Halswick one evening in April. It was a lively, interesting, and never-to-be-forgotten evening. Danish songs were sung, and a statement from the Spirit of Prophecy was read concerning the work to be done to bring the third angel's message to the Scandinavian countries. After a delicious supper, some beautiful color slides showing scenes in Norway, Sweden, and Denmark were shown. The guests - including Keepers Marjorie Bell, Anita Olsen, Ruth Helmersen, and Anita Kohler - finally reluctantly bade good-bye to their gracious hosts, Elder and Mrs. Halswick and Elder and Mrs. Lorntz.

Bertha Terry has entertained a number of India missionaries recently. Among these were Elder and Mrs. R. L. Kimble from New Delhi and Elder and Mrs. C. A. Boykin, William and Virginia Boykin, from Calcutta.

Marjorie Bell and Pat Bunch happily entertained their parents during cherry blossom time in Washington.

Mrs. La Verne Case recently enjoyed a short visit from her cousin from Memphis, Tennessee.

THE KEYNOTE

Issued Monthly By
The Keepers of the Keys
General Conference Office
Takoma Park 12, D. C.

Subscription Price $1.00

Editors: Mary Paul, Ena Manuel

Art Editor: Alice Fagerstrom

Production and Circulation: Irene Caslow, Lena Wetmore

Typists: Alice Koger, Lillian Dickerson, Helen Hambleton,
Aline Mangum

May Reporters: Eleanor Libby, Frances Sampson, Pauline
Klady, Louise Caslow, Bertha Terry,
Dorothy Morgan, Maxine Dudley