From the Field

It was my privilege to be with the Appleton church the first Sabbath of August. The regular Sabbath-school and morning service were held as usual, and in the afternoon we had a profitable meeting in the interest of the Sabbath-school and church work. At the close of the service 300 copies of the Harvest Ingathering Signs were ordered.

Evening after the Sabbath I went to Ashland, and remained with the tent company there until Monday morning. I found the workers there of good courage and a goodly number attending the meetings. They are visiting the people in their homes, studying and praying with them, distributing reading matter, and preaching the Word; expecting a harvest of souls.

I visited Washburn with Brother Sorenson, where tent-meetings were held last summer, and looked the work over. They have a nice little church building nearly completed, and they plan to have it dedicated next fall. The church-membership has increased to twenty-four, and a few more are expected to join soon.

From Ashland I went to Hawthorne where we held a meeting of the Walderly School board and planned the work for the ensuing year. Considerable improvement has been made during the past year in the way of clearing land, building fences, erecting buildings, and planting fruit trees, and berry plants. A very profitable addition to the plant is a small store which supplies the needs of the school and also has a good patronage from the outside. Their sales amount to from $50 to $70 a week this summer, and this is a mutual benefit. The managers are planning wisely and all are working hard for success. The work is moving forward and the outlook is hopeful. Prof. A. W. Hallock was reelected principal, and the school will begin September 18. Ten or twelve students are at work on the farm and the buildings at the present time. Let us all pray the Lord to bless our schools in preparing workers. W. H. THURSTON.

Rice Lake and Kennon

I spent several days at Rice Lake. Sister Hale has done quite an amount of work in the city canvassing from house to house. In her work she found a family interested enough to listen to the truth. I labored with them nearly a whole day, but at that time they were not quite ready to be baptized. I then went to Kennon where W. S. Morgan lives. He and his wife and C. A. Poorman and wife are the only Sabbath-keepers there. I had seven quite well attended meetings in the schoolhouse. I hope and pray that several of Brother Morgan's relatives there may start for the kingdom. My stay among them was very pleasant. I went back by way of Ashland to counsel with the brethren there about the work. I found them pleasantly located with a fair attendance at their meetings. August 2 I again came to Rice Lake Lake, and Sabbath, August 3, the interested persons before mentioned were baptized; so there are now seven Sabbath-keepers in Rice Lake. We celebrated the ordinances with these and a few from Barron church. The man and his wife who were baptized rejoiced greatly in their new found faith. They have had some trouble with their relatives, who have done what they could to hinder them, but thanks be to God who can deliver all who give their hearts to Him.

J. H. HOFFMAN.

Richland Center

The attendance at the tent-meetings has been good the past week, averaging one hundred twenty-five each evening.

A young man and his wife kept their first Sabbath August 3. Let us pray for them that they may prove faithful to the end. Several are getting anxious to hear about the change of the Sabbath. The question box is an interesting feature at the tent.

Elder H. W. Reed from the Madison Sanitarium visited us August 1 and occupied the pulpit the same evening. His address left a very favorable impression upon the people. We all appreciated his visit very much. Our Sabbath-school numbered thirty-two, with a donation of $1.35. We are all in good health and of good courage, trusting in the Lord for definite results. Pray for us.

P. C. HANSON,
T. G. LEWIS.

Stevens Point

In company with Miss Cutler I visited the Sabbath-school at Stevens Point Sabbath, August 3, and found a good school, nearly every member being present, the exception being two who were sick. After an interesting session, we studied the work of the Sabbath-school together for an hour. Before separating for the day, Brother H. W. Johnson, the local elder of the church, presented the subject of the Ingathering Signs, and those present promised to distribute about one hundred fifty of the papers during the coming campaign, soliciting, in return, gifts for our foreign mission work.

MRS. MARY HOWELL.

News Notes

We trust our people will send in their orders for the Ingathering Signs without delay.

Miss Cutler desires to announce that it is impossible for her to fill any more orders for the Sabbath-school lesson quarterly, for this quarter. No more of the pamphlets can be obtained from the publishers.

Professor Gardner held quarterly meeting service with the Merrill church not long ago, and a blessing was enjoyed by those present. On the Friday evening previous he spoke to them on the subject, "Ye Are My Witnesses."

Sister Sue Jones of Merrill recently visited one or two of the tent-meetings in Wausau, finding quite a number of outsiders present, besides the believers. The day after one of these meetings she went to Brokaw, north of Wausau, with

"Ministry of Healing," selling six copies. She wrote, "I love to sell 'Mintstry of Healing.' It just appeals to me." Miss Jones has sold more than twenty copies of the book in her own town.

A letter written August 4 was received last week at the tract society office from Miss Emma Roepka. Miss Roepka is assisting the Sheboygan tent company and wrote, "We have a large crowd every evening and some of the people are much interested. One young man has accepted the truth and attends all our meetings, including morning worship. He now wants to attend one of our schools." Sister Roepka also stated that Misses Bertha Cass and Myrtle Judd were then canvassing the city of Sheboygan with Life and Health, having good success.

Flint

The readers of the HERALD are interested in the work and it is their privilege to know how it is progressing. No doubt the last report of the tent effort in Flint looked discouraging. So many who were interested had gone away on their summer vacation that it did make us feel disappointed. The effort has now closed on account of the nearness of our camp-meeting. I am glad to say at this time that the Lord turned apparent defeat into victory. Showers of blessings were poured upon us toward the last of the meetings and ten or twelve persons, nearly all adults, took their stand for the truth, most of them for the first time.

There are others who with a little labor I am sure will accept the truth. If it meets the mind of the conference committee the writer expects to follow up the work in this city. Pray for us, brethren, that the work may go forward.

C. L. WHITE.

News Notes

Brother H. M. Kelley has joined Brother Hanson in the tent-meetings at Decatur.

Brother E. F. Ferris returned to Chatham after the camp-meeting to continue his work there.

Hollis Nelson and T. L. Price report excellent success in their canvassing work in Morgan County.

Elders Stureman and Woodford will remain at Greenup to follow up the interest awakened by the camp-meeting.

Miss Grace Lietzkie of Champaign, who has entered the magazine work for the purpose of earning a scholarship, is meeting with success. She sold fifty papers for her first day's work.

The Conference Church held their annual celebration of the ordinances while at camp-meeting. About thirty participated in the service and the occasion was one of great blessing to all.

The many friends of Brother H. A. Smith will be shocked to learn of his death which occurred Wednesday, August 7. He was injured by falling slate while working in a mine and died a few hours later. Brother Smith had been Elder of the First Springfield church for many years and will be greatly missed. Funeral services were conducted by Elder Bristol Sabbath, August 10.

Eighteen of our canvassers attended camp-meeting. These, with prospective ones, will be located for a time as follows: H. Stearns, J. R. Howard, N. Twombly, A. P. Lager, David Rodney, at Carterville; Burl Figgins, Irving Trueblood, Hugo Mitzelfelt, Bloomington; Hollis Nelson, T. L. Price, Winchester; Ivan Falconer, Belleville; S. F. Mohr, D. D. ### Field Notes

Misses Aedia and Mable Kirkpatrick from Keene, Texas, who have been staying at the Training-school home 3418 Douglas Boul., Chicago, for the summer while taking music at the Western Conservatory, returned home last Thursday.

I visited Aurora last Friday and Sabbath. The tent-meetings are well attended, some are deciding. The Aurora church voted to supply a tract, magazine, or Signs to fifteen hundred families as they distribute that number of invitations to the tent-meetings this week. I think this is a splendid plan. If they do not come to the meetings they have some part of the Lord's message to read in their homes. I believe this a good example for others after they have been for some time in a place. The collections at the tent are $74.90. They take a collection every night.

Sunday and Monday I visited Fox River Academy. Professor Steen and wife have just returned from Chicago where they have been taking studies to better prepare them for their work.

Work and improvements on the place are being rapidly pushed forward ready for school opening, September 11, under the management of C. E. VanGorder who has charge of the agriculture and carpentry departments. He has three assistants at present—Harold Langdon, Victor Olsen, and Alonzo Hall. All visitors are allowed to help the good work along by operating the lawn mower vigorously and steadily; for they have a spacious lawn.

Our matron, Mrs. C. E. VanGorder, and her assistants—Mrs. Ella Smith, Misses Hattie Smith, and Maude Williams, are planning for the comfort and necessities of the prospective students, in overhauling the rooms and storing up good things to eat. To see their storehouse, makes it tempting for one to come here to board next winter.

Professor Steen, assisted by Moses Karr, is making improvements in the plumbing work of some of the buildings. Our Fox River Academy is an ornament to the Lord's work. Its present worth is $21,388.56. This means that much hard work has been done, and much sacrifice made on the part of many, to provide such a successful institution. The institution has no ready cash, its value is all in the plant itself. If it were out of debt it would now be self-supporting. We are trying to raise the debt and have it free.

Our brethren and sisters are taking hold of the enterprise nobly; $2,750 has been paid or subscribed this summer.

Are there not others who will take a hundred dollar interest or less in this splendid institution?

The present outlook for students is better than ever before. Quite a large number outside of Illinois are applying for admittance. Make your applications now.

Professor Butcher, the principal, is visiting the Southern Illinois Conference in the interest of the academy—it is a child of the two conferences. G. E. LANGDON.

Aurora

Including tonight, provided a storm does not interfere, we have held thirty-one meetings with donations amounting to $70. The first four Sunday nights our audience numbered from eighty to one hundred; the last two Sunday nights from one seventy-five to two hundred. We find Aurora a very hard field. The truant officer told me that it was fast becoming a second Chicago in wickedness. Our health lectures every Thursday night bring out a class of people that we could not otherwise reach. The city, I am told, is over fifty per cent Catholic. The large majority of the people are wholly given over to selfish ease and pleasure; still we have individuals from about twenty families who manifest an interest. May God help us to gather in souls for His kingdom. M. H. SERNS.

A Good Example

Robbie Woodward of Chicago fifteen years of age, deprived of both speech and hearing by scarlet fever, is a good example in industry for many a boy. He sells ten copies of Life and Health Magazine each day. Half his earnings he gives his widowed mother. He does many odd jobs besides. G. E. LANGDON.

Colporter Work

One very encouraging feature of our work has been the way in which some put in the Fourth of July week. Sister Geneva Erikson sold thirty-nine dollars' worth of "Coming King" that week. Every one who worked faithfully did well.

As we go forth in faith, the Lord gives precious victories, and the reports from week to week give evidence of greater confidence in God's leading, firmer trust in Him, and greater determination to succeed. J. A. APPLGATE.

Echoes from the Field

I have had so many good experiences this week, and I thank the Lord for them. It does me good to hear that so many of our workers are doing so well. I love to see the truth advancing and prophecies being fulfilled. I know Jesus is coming soon. I want to be one of His faithful workers. I have many discouragements, but He says, "I am with you always." E. A. RIDEOUT.

Tuesday I sold a full morocco binding; it was my first, and then I sold three books in one place just as fast as I could write them down. You will notice that my sales for that day were $21.20. "O, praise the Lord for His mercy endureth forever." W. J. HARRIS.

I had some good experiences in my work last week. I am of good courage and hope to succeed. F. R. ZACHARIAS.

The work has progressed nicely this week. The Lord has been with us and blessed us. I met a lady who had "Great Controversy." She said it was the best book she had ever read, and that she could sit and read it for hours at a time. Some are willing to get the truth while others will not listen. I am of good courage. ELLEN BENSON.

On Monday I felt so bad that I did not know whether I would work or not, but I went any way. I suffered with the headache nearly all afternoon, but the Lord helped me to take four orders, so I was glad I went, even if I did not feel well. I have worked about two full townships, and the Lord has helped me to place seventy books in the homes of the people. J. C. NIXON.

Brother Fred Clausen reports an interesting experience in selling "Daniel and Revelation" to a Mormon and his wife; also another in getting a place to stay over night. The man at first refused him. The children pleaded for him. After leaving the gate he was called back. He expresses his joy for the Christian bond we are all in, and for Jesus' work in our behalf, expressing his desire to wholly humble himself before Him.

Brother Arthur Thiele writes: "'Prophecies of Jesus,' 'Here and Hereafter,' 'Coming King,' 'Marvel of Nations,' 'Patriarchs and Prophets' are some of the books I see in the homes. 'Daniel and Revelation' was sold here fifteen or twenty years ago. Many who have it appreciate it. 'Great Controversy' was sold in my territory two years ago by some young man, but this only increases the sale of our books. The more people buy our books the more they want."

Our books when rightly placed water the ground and make it easier to sell more. J. A. APPLGATE.

An Encouraging Experience

The Lord has souls scattered everywhere and He desires the canvasser to find these, and minister to them. I was not succeeding very well and was feeling a little blue. I came to a house and told the lady the title of my book; she said she did not want to look at it for she hated Satan, as it was about him. However, she permitted me to show her the book. I had not gone very far with my canvass when she asked me if I were a Seventh-day Adventist. I told her I was, and she said she thought there was something extra good about me. She said she just loved those people and wished she were one. She then told me she wanted a book. She also wants me to get her a Bible when I go to camp-meeting, and send her some of our papers. She prepared dinner for me, and we had quite a long talk. This experience gave me courage all the rest of the week, and I thank the Lord for it. J. C. NIXON.

*Lowell	*Carson City	*Belding	Benton Harbor
Dimondale	Fremont	Grandville	Muskegon
Rothbury	Trufant

Several others would be on the honor roll if their reports had reached the office in time for credit August 1. Is your church on the roll? If not try to get it on next month. Work for the star. What these have done all can do.

C. F. McVAGH.

Greenville Tent Effort

Our attendance has not been so large during the past week because of the damp, cold weather. We had a heavy rain Sunday evening so we had no service, this was quite a disappointment to us as we usually have a very good attendance on Sunday evenings.

A number manifest a good interest but none have made a move yet to obey. We are working and praying for the Lord to give us souls for our labor.

We need the prayers of God's people that we may be able to win souls. Our courage is good and we feel like pressing on. We solicit your prayers in behalf of the work here.

News Notes

The district meeting of the Otsego, Allegan, Monterey, and Kalamazoo churches was held at Otsego, Sabbath and Sunday, August 3 and 4. There was a good attendance. The reports from the churches show many encouraging features, and altogether the meeting was a profitable one.

Elder C. A. Hansen, who has served as pastor of the Grand Rapids church for the last two years, leaves the West Michigan Conference to connect with the Tennessee River Conference. He will locate at Nashville, Tenn. Last Monday evening a large number of members of the church and friends gave Brother and Sister Hansen a farewell reception. Part of the program was the presentation of a fine trunk as a token of appreciation of their faithful work. Our prayers go with them to their new field. Elder S. B. Horton from the Religious Liberty Department, Washington, D. C., enters upon his work in Grand Rapids with good courage.

To Be Read in the Churches of North Michigan, August 17, 1912

I feel deeply anxious concerning the work of the camp-meeting at Traverse City, which convenes August 26. Some are hesitating and wondering if they can afford to leave their work for the few days required. To get a correct answer to that question one is obliged to go to the source of wisdom, and in doing so what do we find? In the days of ancient Israel God's people were required to gather together three times in each year to present themselves before the Lord, and He promised them that the enemy would not destroy their property in their absence. In these last days He tells us not to forsake the assembling of ourselves together, "and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching."

It seems to me that these gatherings can well be compared to the family reunions which all families prize so highly, and parents can well understand that these reunions mean much more to them than the children can possibly imagine. How our Father in heaven must rejoice as He sees a whole conference gathered together to offer their united praises to Him.

At this meeting plans will be talked over for the work. We need to learn all we can so we can be a help to others when we return home. Able help will be with us.

The workers' meeting begins August 19, and a cordial invitation is extended to our brethren to come and help us pitch the camp. There will be one meeting each day during this time, and at the close of the week there will be several meetings. We plan to have Sabbath, August 24, an especially good day.

I hope that all will come prepared to stay on the grounds. Not only will you get more good out of the meeting, but the money you pay for the tent will help to make up the camp-meet deficit, and thus the money will be placed in the cause instead of going into the world.

Let us pray that the blessing of the Lord may rest upon us in rich measure, and much wisdom may be granted the delegates in the transaction of the business that will come before them.

J. J. IRWIN.

Loss and Gain

The question of loss and gain enters every phase of life, and when the question of camp-meeting comes up we find our brethren and sisters figuring on this ever present question. The farmer thinks he cannot leave his crops unattended, and the industrious merchant or storekeeper fears that his competitors will induce his customers to trade with them, and so on.

These imaginary losses almost convince them that it is impossible for them to go to the camp-meeting. In business life not only do we consider the losses, but we take account of the gains and decide whether or not our venture is a success by determining the greater of the two.

But before considering the gains in this matter, let us put our losses under the microscope and examine them. When Israel was commanded by the Lord to attend the yearly gatherings at Jerusalem three times a year, such questions as those mentioned above appealed to the people there. Were they not surrounded by fierce, warlike tribes who were ever ready to seize and destroy their property at the least opportunity? Was it not true that every able-bodied man had to leave the homes and villages as the Lord had commanded, despite the conditions? The Lord had said, "I will cast out the nations before thee, and enlarge thy borders: neither shall any man desire thy land, when thou shalt go up to appear before the Lord thy God thrice in the year." Ex. 34:24. And every able-bodied man in Israel went up to the gatherings as commanded. He did not consider these imaginary losses, but faith enabled him to rest on God's promised care and protection. Is not this the case with us? Have we not faith to believe that the Lord will take care of our business and our farms? I believe God wants us to manifest faith in His word. Heb. 11:6.

Well, what about the gains? Should we not consider the spiritual blessings God has promised to bestow upon us? While we are there our minds are taken away from our business and worldly interests, and we can behold the beauty and loveliness and holiness of divine truth. We learn how to work for ourselves and our children. We get an inspiration to work for the souls of our friends and neighbors, and without doubt the church of which we are members, and the community in which we live will receive through us an immense amount of good. Thus we see that our so-called losses are merely imaginary while the gains are tangible and real, far outweighing the actual loss in time and traveling expense.

But in order to get these gains on the right side of our balance sheet, we have to prepare ourselves for the reception of the promised blessings. Read "Testimonies for the Church," Volume VI, pages 41-44.

I hope that all will seriously consider this matter and plan definitely to be present at our camp-meeting at Traverse City, August 26 to September 1.

S. E. KELLMAN.

Canvassers' Notes

Sisters Goff and Burgess are meeting with success in the work at Ishpeming.

Brethren Ralph and Harry Denton and Roy Lamb of Petoskey have pitched a tent at Boyne City so that they may be near their field of labor, and thus put in more faithful time in the Master's service. They intend, with God's help, to illuminate that city and the surrounding country with the third angel's message.

Sisters Essie Burgess and Edna Evans have just started in the work at Alpena. We hope to see souls in the kingdom as a result of their work.

Sister Kirby is still sounding the alarm in Traverse City. While she has not met with many trying experiences, still she writes that she is determined so make the work a success.

We are glad for the cooperation of the brethren and sisters, and if there are those who desire to entertain one or two God-fearing workers ever the Sabbath while they are telling the friends and neighbors of the truth, please write me at once.

Sister Kirby writes: "I am of good courage and feel more like going forward with the work than ever before."

Sisters Evans and Burgess have just finished a successful delivery. They disposed of every book. They express their courage by saying: "I wish the vacation were longer." This is the testimony, I think, most students would bear.

Brethren Ralph and Harry Denton have been scattering the printed page like the leaves of autumn in Boyne City. Brother Harry Denton averaged $2.45 per hour for the week's work. He regrets that he could not put in the forty hours, thus, at the some average making his report over $100. He has earned one scholarship and is now working for the second.

Doubtless there are many young people throughout the conference who would like to attend school next year, but are not able financially. Dear brethren and sisters, if you are one of these, write me at once. You have the "canvassers' check book"—Phil. 4:19—for security, and by prayer and faithful work you are sure to succeed. Hundreds of young people are proving this each year.

510 Petoskey Street, Petoskey, Mich. B. F. WILLIAMS.

Wildwood

On Sabbath, July 20, we were favored with a visit from brethren Oscar Burt and C. Corless of the Gaylord church, who assisted in the meetings of the day. We appreciated their presence and help, and the Lord blessed us with the presence of the Holy Spirit.

We are looking forward to brighter days for this little church, as we are all of good courage, and are determined to do what we can for the progress of the message, both at home and in the foreign fields. Remember this little scattered company in your prayers. ALICE C. WINNE, Clerk.
