Quarantined

Anchored just outside the harbor,
Lay a great ship of the main,
Like a restless steed close haltered,
Tugging at her cable chain;

But she moved not from her moorings
'Till a week passed without change;
Where she came from, why she lay there
Idly waiting seemed so strange,

That I asked a passing sailor;
He replied in friendly mien,
"Do you see that yellow flag sir?
She is under quarantine."

She had come from far off India
And had braved the storms without,
And the hidden shoals passed safely;
There were souls aboard, no doubt,

Who this moment viewed their homeland
And were sighing for release;
But the dreadful plague checked all things
'Till its ravages should cease.

'Twas a sad thought, and yet sadder
Came this after thought to me;
Like the ship am I not sailing
O'er a troubled, restless sea,

Toward a port, the heavenly homeland?
What if I, like her, should ride
Safely o'er each gale and tempest,
Battling wind, and wave, and tide,

'Till about to enter heaven,
Jubilant with life's success,
When way down within my bosom
Somewhere to my sore distress,

Christ should find a lingering plague spot,
Putrid with the germs of sin,
And I'd stop in sight of heaven
For a work of grace within!

Quarantined outside the city!
Where the gates are all of pearl,
Where the gates are all of jasper,
And the streets transparent gold.

Quarantined in sight of heaven!
God forbid it, cleanse me now.
'Till my soul reflects thy image
As before thy throne I bow.

Items from the General Conference

In addition to the $1,000 contributed by a lady visitor in the congregation, not a Seventh-day Adventist, mention of which was made in a previous report in the HERALD, there has been taken in collections on the three Sabbaths since the opening of the meeting, about $1,300. Considerable of this was given by people outside of the Seventh-day Adventist Denomination.

The presentation of the work in the dark lands has been not only deeply interesting, but affecting, and many in attendance at the conference have felt like giving themselves to missionary work, to devote their lives to the advancement of the gospel in heathen lands.

Further reports will be presented from time to time.

ALLEN MOON.

Supplement to the General Conference Report for the Lake Union Conference

A word further in regard to the finances of Emmanuel Missionary College. During the last four years the plant has been put in a good state of repairs. Much in the way of improvement has been done, and at the same time the financial condition of the College has also improved. Each year of the past period has shown a substantial gain in receipts over expenditures in operation, as follows: in 1909, $1,500; in 1910, $2,700; in 1911, $500; and in 1912, $5,400, after allowing for $700 depreciation that year. Two years ago, or more, the managing board became convinced that insufficient depreciation of the plant had been recorded in the early years. Arrangements were made for a complete estimate of values, which, when executed, resulted in cutting down the value of the entire plant ten thousand dollars. This, of course, should be spread over the entire history of the school up to, and including, 1911. As already stated, the year 1912 showed a gain more than sufficient to cover the balance of the ten thousand dollars' depreciation that appeared in the one large sum.

At present, the Lake Union Conference has no secretary of the Sabbath-school department; consequently, no statistics have been obtained of the work done. However, we have secured the following: there are 425 Sabbath-schools in the Lake Union Conference, with a membership of 10,525. The contributions to missions, during the year 1912, were $27,197, a little less than one half of the total contributions to missions in the Union for that year.

ALLEN MOON, President.

News from the Camp

The attendance has largely increased during the week. The actual number present at the Sabbath-school on May 24 was 2121, 283 of these being in the children's divisions. The missionary spirit prevailing the camp was shown by the offering of $412.20, or an average of nineteen and four-tenths cents per member.

The reports from our mission fields all over the world are of the deepest interest to all. Elder F. A. Allum occupied the 8:30 hour on May 20, telling of the work in China. When he first went there it was thought advisable for our missionaries to adopt the Chinese customs including the queue. This he did. He told of experiences with this appendage which he called "painful," but which were rather amusing when related here; such as turning to look at something while eating, and then finding his queue reposing in his soup; attempting to go through doorways and being brought to a sudden halt by his queue getting caught on the rough casings; etc.

Although these things brought a smile to many faces, the other side of life in China moved all hearts to sympathy. Brother Allum told of an insane woman who was restored to soundness through the power of God. Her heart is so full of gratitude that every week she fasts from sunset on Friday till sunset Sabbath, and three times each day she kneels and thanks the Lord for what He has done for her.

He also told of a very wealthy man whose son causes him great sorrow, as he is a very dissolute and wicked young man. The father fasts every Sabbath, and prays that his son may be led to feel his need of a Saviour and be converted. Many other interesting experiences were related which show how loyal these people are after they are converted.

In describing the roads, Brother Allum said the only vehicle which could get over the roads comfortably was a flying machine.

Brother Allum also gave a little glimpse of what our missionaries have to endure. He said they had great difficulty in getting good water. They dug wells and felt pleased because the water seemed good; but after drinking it for a time they began to have serious trouble with their stomachs. So they were obliged to resort to river water for drinking purposes. They often see dead bodies floating in the river, but they have to close their eyes to such conditions and drink the water just the same.

It is not uncommon to see Chinese children all broken out with smallpox playing in the streets. They even come in sometimes and play with the children of our missionaries before their condition is detected, but in spite of these deadly surroundings the Lord has preserved their health so that none of Brother Allum's family have been stricken with disease.

The afternoon of May 28 was a most enjoyable occasion. All foreign delegates were seated on the platform. After appropriate opening exercises, Elder Boettcher called the names and each responded with a few words about his or her experience in connecting with the mission work. A social hour followed when all had an opportunity to renew old acquaintances and form new ones with these faithful workers in far off lands.

One most interesting feature of this meeting is worthy of mention. As one of our ministers was passing through the tent, a lady, not of our faith, stopped him, and told him that she had been so interested by what she had seen and heard, that she desired to help forward this mission work, and she handed him a check for $1,000. This surely is in harmony with the statement made long ago, that the wealth of the Gentiles should flow into the treasury of the Lord before the end comes.

A grand temperance rally was held on the afternoon of the 29th, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. of the District of Columbia. About two hundred white ribboners were present. Addresses were given by several of the national officers, all of which were much appreciated.

Mrs. Blaine, the national organizer and lecturer, said that all white ribboners are good home-makers. They teach the principles of temperance to their children till they become part of their life. She spoke of the value of cooperation in any work. This was illustrated by the result of the recent presidential campaign. She quoted President Wilson as saying that this was not because of a victory of the Democratic party, but because of a division of the Republican party. She said, "We shall win by cooperation, by education, and by legislation. As the lioness battles for her little ones, so we go out to battle for our children and our homes, and we shall win because God is on our side."

Margaret Dye Ellis told of some experiences in getting bills through Congress. She said there are in the United States today, forty-six million people under prohibition. Thirteen thousand saloons have been closed during the past year.

Dr. Lauretta Kress spoke of the cigarette evil, and the increase of this habit among women.

Major Merwin, a veteran of eighty-three years, and once a close friend of Abraham Lincoln, quoted the latter as saying, "Saloons mean drunkards as surely as grist mills mean flour." He paid an enthusiastic tribute of praise to the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Be sure to read the General Conference Bulletin. All the meetings are reported quite fully, and you cannot afford to miss them.

Emmanuel Missionary College Reunion

Among the many pleasing features of the General Conference have been the several reunions held by the teachers and students of our various training schools. On Wednesday afternoon, May 28, all who had been connected with Emmanuel Missionary College at any time during its history, were invited to gather in the spacious chapel of the Seminary building for friendly greetings. Prof. O. J. Graf presided. On motion of Elder W. H. Thurston, C. A. Russell was chosen secretary. All joined most heartily in singing, "Wake the song," and an earnest prayer was offered by Prof. J. G. Lamson. The number in attendance was seventy-seven. Of these it was ascertained that fifty are now directly connected with our work in some capacity. There were eight members of the Managing Board present, and fifteen who have been, or are, teachers in the College.

A very pleasing feature of the reunion was the giving of one-minute speeches by several of those present, who were called upon by the chairman. Professor Lamson spoke of the pleasure it gave him to welcome again the friends of former years. He stated that during his term of service as teacher in the College, the first class was graduated. C. M. Christiansen, who was a member of the first Board, said, "Professor Sutherland and I were the first to set foot on the farm later purchased by the College." Brother Christiansen came to the conference from the state of Washington. The first student to be enrolled in the College was the next speaker, Elmer Cardey. He said, "I started in the school with but fifty cents in my pocket. I worked upon the buildings, doing carpentry work, plumbing, etc., and came out in the spring two dollars ahead." W. D. Ford, pastor of our colored church in Chicago, said, "The inspiration of Emmanuel Missionary College led me to 'attempt great things for God; expect great things from God.'" Prof. E. F. Dresser stated that he came to the school shortly after accepting the truth, and that the experience gained there led him to connect with the educational work of this denomination. Prof. J. H. Haughey, who has been longest upon the faculty, said, "I believe in a man's being where he is and not where he is not. In spite of the pleasant memories of Battle Creek and South Lancaster, no spot on earth is quite so sweet to me as Berrien Springs." Elder Allen Moon, the chairman of the College Board, arrived and was next called upon. He said, "I have been a member of the board ever since the founding of this institution, and have been its chairman for ten years, and the school has become very precious to me. I think of it by day and dream of it by night. I like to think of it as a place where angels delight to dwell. I believe it and its work will come up for consideration in the counsels of heaven." Sister Druillard, who was connected with the school during the first three years of its existence, spoke feelingly of her college days in old Battle Creek College where she had as class mates Brethren Daniells, Hankins, Olsen, and others. She also spoke of the many, many young people who have come directly under her teaching, and of their place now out in the work.

Professor Graf spoke of attending the General Conference, which was held in Battle Creek in 1901. There he heard considerable talk of removing the college from that city to a location more in harmony with the instruction given to us concerning the location of our educational institutions. He was present when the vote was taken to move the college to Berrien Springs. Upon call it was found that twelve were present who participated in this vote, all voting in favor of the move.

An especially pleasing feature of the reunion was ten minutes spent in handshaking and the renewing of acquaintances. The chairman suggested that every one present shake hands with at least ten old acquaintances and ten new ones. Some present, including the writer, could not find ten strangers in the room.

This pleasing gathering closed by all heartily joining in the beautiful hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," followed by the benediction by Elder Moon.

O. J. GRAF, Chairman,
C. A. RUSSELL, Secretary.

Educational Councils at the General Conference

The various departments of the General Conference are taking advantage of this great gathering to hold special councils regarding the work of these departments. Because of the crowded condition of the daily program, it was found necessary for the educational department to alternate its council meetings with the Missionary Volunteer Department. These meetings are held at 4:30 P. M.

The first educational council of the session convened on Friday afternoon, May 16, with Professor Salisbury in the chair. Upon the rostrum, on either side of the chairman, sat Prof. C. C. Lewis and Prof. J. H. Haughey, who are probably the two oldest educators among us now in active service. Earnest prayers were offered by these tried veterans. After a few general remarks from the chairman, he called upon the heads of our higher schools who were present, to make brief verbal reports.

The first one called upon was Prof. M. E. Kern of the Foreign Mission Seminary. He spoke briefly of the unique position of this school among its sister institutions, and of the noble work it is doing in fitting young men and women for the foreign field. He was followed in order by Professors Griggs of Union College, Graf of Emmanuel Missionary College, Machlan of South Lancaster Academy, Lewis, who in the absence of Professor Irwin who had not yet arrived, spoke for Pacific Union College, Hughes of Keene Academy, and Stone of Graysville Academy.

The next regular meeting of the department was on Monday afternoon. Prof. Frederick Griggs gave an inspiring talk on "Our Schools and Our Message." "Our schools are at the heart of our message, our teachers are at the heart of our schools, and let us hope that Jesus is at the heart of our teachers." Prof. M. E. Cady followed with an able paper in which he urged the importance of the Bible as an educator, and its place in our system of schools. "Let the cross of Christ be the center of all education." Professor Kern spoke of the spiritual uplift to the student body where the Morning Watch is observed, and where a careful and prayerful preparation is given to the students' meetings, evening prayers, and other devotional exercises. "A previous, prayerful preparation for a devotional meeting will invite the spirit's presence. The teacher must prepare for every spiritual exercise in the school by study, meditation, and prayer."

It will be impossible, within the scope of this brief report, to go into detail in the matter of program arrangement, but the following will give some idea of the importance of the topics considered: "How Can We Lift Our Advanced Education to the Desired Standard?"—Prof. W. E. Howell, discussion led by O. J. Graf; "More and Better Trained Teachers for Our Elementary Schools"—Sarah E. Peck; "Relative Importance of the Academic and Professional Studies"—Myrta Kellogg; "Home Schools"—Edith Shepard; "How to Extend and Improve Our Church-schools"—C. A. Russell; "Selection and Distribution of Church-school Teachers"—Flora H. Williams; "Report of Committee on Science Equipment"—L. H. Wood; "Report of Committee on List of Books for Colleges and Academies"—J. N. Anderson; "Report of Committee to Formulate and Plan for Encreasing the Efficiency for Bible Teaching"—W. W. Prescott; "Subjects to be Taught in Our Summer-school"—W. W. Ruble; "Report of Committee on Industrial Education"—C. B. Hughes; "How shall Social Culture Be Taught?"—C. C. Lewis; and "School Sanitation"—Dr. G. H. Heald.

C. A. RUSSELL.

Greetings to Our Canvassers

At the General Conference now in session, each afternoon at 4:30, there assembles in the large dining hall of the Seminary from 150 to 200 earnest, enthusiastic, and withal determined men and women who are engaged in giving this message through the publishing work in all lands. The topics presented cover all phases of the work. The reports given show progress in all lands. The opening providence of God for the circulation of the printed page in heathen lands is a source of great joy. It also is a trumpet call for many more to enter these fields. As the leaders review their experiences in overcoming difficulties and enduring hardships, and how the providential hand of God is with them, we are reminded that it is the same story as it is with you in the home field. We would like to relate to you these things, but can only refer you to the brief reports found in the Bulletin. We will mention as one of especial interest to the Illinois people, Brother and Sister J. S. James. Brother James labored as Field Agent in Illinois several years ago and has now been in India for a number of years. His story of efforts to reach the teeming millions with the printed page would be too long for this article.

I am sure you would all enjoy being here, but if you but realize it, yours is the greater opportunity. While going from door to door you are imparting blessings, and you know "it is more blessed to give than to receive." You will scan the reports of your efforts during 1912 with interest, and I trust with profit. These figures stand for far more than dollars and cents. The hours stand for faithful effort to reach as many as possible with the truth. The hours lost will be a source of regret, but let us not stop too long to repine, but with true repentance take hold to do better and more faithful service. The records for 1913 thus far, as they have come in, show a large gain over last year. The ever swelling figures show us we are hastening on to the time spoken of by the Spirit of Prophecy when our literature shall be circulated "like the leaves of autumn." This means the end.

Camp-Meeting

As before announced our camp-meeting will convene at Grand Rapids, June 19, the first meeting to be held on Thursday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

This camp-meeting being the only one held this year, we hope that our people from all over the state will make a special effort to attend.

A few words regarding the location of the grounds, etc. The grounds we selected this year are close to the city stand-pipe which is visible from all parts of the city. While some one will be appointed to meet the trains, yet for the benefit of those who come late and do not care to take a bus, this information is given. Ask to be directed to the Lincoln High School, which is very close to the grounds. Then call at the book tent for information regarding the locating committee.

A special bus will meet all trains with a cut price of ten cents, and baggage will be hauled to and from depots at usual rates, 25 cents round trip or 15 cents one way, while suitcases will be carried for a round trip rate of ten cents each.

It will be necessary to bring plenty of wraps and bedding to be prepared for chilly weather.

Meals will be served on the European plan, which has given universal satisfaction the last few years.

A. BELDING.Camp-Meeting Book Tent

Since our camp-meeting is to be held here at Grand Rapids, conveniently near to our warerooms, we are making a special effort to have a complete supply of all our books for the bookstand, including many special bargains. Both trouble and postage, the latter no small item, will be saved by purchasing your books and tracts at this time.

The camp-meeting affords a special advantage to those in need of Bibles. Come and select from our large stock of Oxford Bibles. It will be much easier and pleasanter than to attempt to do so from a catalogue. A discount of 20 per cent will be given.

We are very desirous that more of our people have a complete set of the Testimonies and therefore, as a special inducement, a discount of 10 per cent will be allowed on these books. As usual, the 40 per cent discount will be given on all subscription books.

Don't forget that our stock of tracts is to be much greater than for several years.

The lesson quarterlies for the coming quarter will be here. Before leaving for camp-meeting please find out, without fail, how many quarterlies your church will need, that you may take them home with you.

We earnestly request all librarians to be present, because we desire, if possible, to have a few special meetings with you.

We will have a good supply of our magazines, and as usual, will be glad to take your subscription or renewal for them or any other of our periodicals.

In planning your financial needs for camp-meeting be sure to add plenty of extra money for books, for we feel sure when you see our large and interesting display of the old standbys and also of many excellent new publications, you will desire to supply yourselves. Come to camp-meeting and be sure to visit the book tent. MABEL CUTLER.

Portage

Since our last report we have sold another hundred of the Signs Magazine and the Watchman. With the help of the church-school children we have distributed about seven hundred copies of the Signs circulars. These are neat, attractive booklets and several people have spoken to me about them as I shewed them the Signs. We have a large club of this magazine which we are using in connection with the Family Bible Teacher. We are finding many who will read, and the question now is whether we will be able to cover the city before camp-meeting. We have been somewhat hindered in giving Bible readings this month as so many had extra work.

I was interested in the reports of work done in other places, and you may be interested in a report of the work done here this month. The number of papers distributed was 387; the number of Family Bible Teacher used, 256; the number of visits made, 181; the number of Bible readings held, 50. This includes work done by the church.

In the house-to-house work many have had their attention called to the coming of Christ. Though some refuse to study some seed may have been sown which will yet bear fruit.

HENRIETTA SCHARFFENBERG,
MABEL WAMPOLE.

Sabbath-School Notes

A Sabbath-school secretary writes very encouragingly of the growing interest in the Sabbath-school. Two of the members, a man and his wife, have recently made the right decision and are awaiting baptism. She also writes, "The younger members of our school seem to be taking hold with new zeal. A deeper interest is manifested in the study of the lessons. The Spirit of the Master is surely working, and God is answering prayer in His own good time and way. I think as our school progresses, it has a greater influence over the community." Reports from other places show that the same Spirit of Grace is working.

God longs to visit all our schools with special outpourings of His Spirit and says, "According to your faith be it done unto you." Let us all pray more earnestly than ever, and have faith that God will answer our prayers for the unconverted and indifferent members of our schools, and let us seek for opportunities to show personal interest in their salvation.

All who have the Review and especially the Bulletin know that most excellent departmental meetings, including the Sabbath-school department, have been held at the General Conference just closed. Practical and wise plans have been laid for bringing the Sabbath-schools up to the exalted position God designs they should have in evangelizing the world, but if these plans are to achieve what they should, there must be an individual work of preparation and consecration in every school. Never was there a more opportune time for parents, officers, and teachers to consecrate themselves to the Lord and His work; and let Him use them to lead the young people and the children into paths of peace.

Notes

Several of the churches have not yet sent in the credentials for their delegates to camp-meeting. All who have not done so are urged to send them in at once to the conference office.

Professor Bunger, who has been connected with Bethel Academy as one of the instructors for the past three years, left last Monday for his home in Iowa where he will make a short visit and then go on to Lincoln, Nebraska, to attend a summer school at the university. He plans to connect with one of our schools in the Northern Union Conference next year.

Canvassing Notes

Brother John C. Heidenreich, of Chicago, has begun canvassing in this city for "Great Controversy."

Brother Herman Boling, a young man in Moline, expects to begin work with "Practical Guide" soon.

Brother Harry Lee, a new member of the Chicago Central church, will be in the field with our good literature soon.

Brother E. A. Rideout and wife write that they are nicely located at 323 West Exchange St., Geneseo, and that he will begin work June 9.

Brethren Chas. Andrews and J. C. Nixon are making a delivery, after which they expect to go to Marshall County.

The city of Chicago offers excellent opportunities for three or four consecrated young ladies in the magazine work. Who will respond? J. A. APPLGATE.

Herrin

We plan to begin a tent effort here as soon as the tent arrives. It was shipped from Springfield, May 28.

This seems to be an opportune time for us to begin an aggressive work in Herrin. The other churches have just closed a large union revival during which over eight hundred people professed religion. Thus the minds of many have been turned to the Lord and it may be that they will accept God's special message for the world at this time.

We are having some opposition from a few individuals, but the people at large are friendly toward us. We had no trouble in securing a lot for the tent in the center of town. Some have expressed an anxiety to attend the meetings and we expect a good attendance from the first.

The editor of a paper here says he will do all he can for us. By the aid of the Holy Spirit we hope to lead many precious souls into the light of the third angel's message.

H. M. KELLEY.

Canvassing Notes

The canvassers motto for the next four weeks is $4,000 worth of books in the homes of the people of Southern Illinois.

Last month Brother R. J. Watson of Mattoon sold $259.80 worth of books which is the best record made by any of our canvassers during the month of May.

Since there were five weeks in May our canvassers we required to put in 200 hours in order to have their names on the "honor roll." Brother Harry Bennett put in 224 hours, which is more than any of the other canvassers put in.

Brethren Phipps and Wood who are canvassing in Christian County will make Springfield their headquarters.

Sister Grace Thomas writes, "You can see by my report that I have not been in the field alone this week. The Lord certainly has been with me."

On Wednesday, May 28, Brother Mitzelfelt took $48 worth of orders. He said it was the best day he ever experienced in the canvassing work.

Brother F. E. Wall writes, "I can say that the Lord is giving me success in spite of the dry weather." It seems that in many parts of our conference rain is needed badly. Let us pray that this will not hinder the work.

The Springfield church-school closed Tuesday, June 10, after a very successful year.

Frankfort and Traverse City

Thursday, May 23, I was called to Frankfort to take charge of the funeral services of Brother David Taylor. He will be greatly missed in the Frankfort church as he was an active worker in the Sabbath-school.

I remained over Sabbath in this place to hold meetings with the church. God came near in a special manner at the Sabbath service, and when a call was made for those who had never given themselves to the Lord, and for those who had become discouraged, to come forward, ten young people came, weeping, to take their stand for the Lord. This caused great rejoicing among the brethren and sisters at Frankfort.

Our church members in Travers City are of good courage. A young peoples' society is being organized, and all the brethren and sisters are striving to do what they can in the different lines of our work.

M. C. GUILD.

Gaylord

Knowing the readers of the HERALD are always interested in the advancement of the message, I wish to tell them something of the work at Gaylord.

About a month ago a Latter Day Saint minister moved into the neighborhood and began a series of meetings in the district school-house. As soon as he found that many of the people were Seventh-day Adventists he began making many false statements concerning our denomination, and what we believe. After having a few private talks with some of our people he stated that he would preach on the Sabbath question. In this sermon he challenged any Seventh-day Adventist to prove from the Bible that the seventh day was the Sabbath, and said he would meet any of our ministers in a debate.

Some of the people said the Adventists were afraid to give their side of the question. We hardly knew what was best to do, but after praying earnestly over the matter it was announced that the Adventists would occupy the hour Sunday evening, May 17.

The other minister had only had an audience of from five to ten, but this evening the school-house was packed and the Lord truly blessed us. The Sabbath question was presented so clearly that even the young people and children said they saw it plainly. The minister, himself, finally admitted the seventh day, according to the Bible, was the Sabbath. His arguments were so weak and he has had so little influence with the people that we all feel he was sent here to stir us up and get the truth before our neighbors and friends.

Brother Kellman was with us at the close of that week and public meetings were held Thursday and Friday evenings. An audience of about seventy listened to the discourses on the "Two Covenants" and the "Change of the Sabbath." At the close of the last sermon Brother Kellman asked all to arise who believed the seventh day to be the Sabbath. Nearly every one present arose.

Since then we have received invitations from two other districts, one south and one north-east of us, for Brother Kellman to speak in their school-houses.

The meetings held with our own people on Wednesday evening and Sabbath were much appreciated. The Spirit of the Lord came very near on Sabbath. Brother Kellman dwelt much upon the power of an indwelling Saviour to keep us each day from sinning. All seemed to realize their need of this power, and reconsecrated themselves to the Master for service.

We are all planning to work with papers and tracts, hold Bible studies, and in every way possible get these important truths before the people in our vicinity.

Pray for us that souls may be born into the kingdom of God as the result of these efforts.

Camp-meeting

After laying the matter before the Conference Committee, I am authorized to change the date of our camp-meeting to Aug. 21 to 31. I trust this will meet the mind of our people, generally, and that all will begin at once to plan to make our camp-meeting at Hastings the best ever held in West Michigan. Pass this word along to the people in the churches.

Gleanings from the Field

Mr. Carl Pruitt sends in his first report, and with it an encouraging letter stating that he intends to engage in the canvassing work all summer.

Brother O. O. Richardson has just finished a delivery in Delaware County, and will start work again next week in Madison County.

Miss Irene Pressnall writes; "I am enjoying the work, and am having many good experiences."

Brother John Klose sends in the following interesting experience. "Last Monday I had an experience that proved to me that the Lord is really preparing the hearts of the people for the canvasser. It was a rainy day and I was about ready to turn back, but I felt impressed to go on, and soon found a young man who had been waiting two weeks for just the book I was selling. His heart had been prepared by some tracts which he had been reading, and he was anxious to know more of the truth."

Brother Loren Shepard sends the cheering word that the battle is onward, and that his courage is good.

Brother Walter Fisher started work last Monday in Tipton County. Our prayers go with him as he takes up the work for the summer.

The magazine company have started on their tour through the largest cities of Indiana. This company is composed of Miss Ruth Meleen, Miss Bina Moore, Miss Dorris Cutts, and Miss Ruth Walters.

Mr. Walter Coppock and Mr. Earl Lawson are now in the field working with "Heralds of the Morning." Mr. Coppock took four orders the first few hours.

New recruits are entering the field from week to week, and the Lord is richly blessing them. Are there not others who desire to join the ranks?

Obituary

STEADMAN.—John Steadman of Shelby, Michigan, died May 24, aged 75 years, 4 months, and 7 days. Brother Steadman was a faithful elder of the church in Shelby, and he will be greatly missed. A large audience of friends were present at the funeral. Words of comfort were spoken from Revelation 14:13.

Look at Your Wrapper Address

The attention of all the readers of the HERALD is called to the manner in which the wrapper of their paper is addressed.
For over six months we have been doing the addressing by machine instead of by hand, as we did formerly. The change was made for a number of reasons. As the matter of working up the subscription list is left with the conference tract societies it is necessary to keep them supplied with the list of their local conference corrected up to date, and this was a difficult and expensive matter under the old system.

When the addresses were written by hand each week, there were more or less errors, and consequently many complained of not receiving their paper regularly.

Another and a very important reason for the printing of the addresses on the wrappers is that it enables us to print the date of expiration on each wrapper. This enables our subscribers to note weekly when their subscription expires.
The date is printed in the lower left hand corner immediately following the initials of the conference which received your subscription, thus; EM DEC31 13. This means East Michigan, paid until December 31, 1913.

Sometimes another number follows the date as above.
That is for our convenience in referring to the original order in our files, and also for the convenience of the tract society in checking up our reports.

If the date on your wrapper says JUN30 13, or any date before that, your paper will be stopped at the end of this month unless we receive your renewal before that date.
