An Appeal

By referring to the report of our academies, found in this issue, it will be seen that nearly fifty more of our young people are attending these institutions than were in attendance at the same time last year. The attendance at the College is larger than last year at the same period, and very much in excess of the previous year. There are several more church-schools in operation than last year. All this is encouraging. It is as it should be. And it must continue by ever increasing ratio.

But the special appeal which I desire to make is to those young people upon whom God has bestowed the talent for teaching. There is much truth in the statement so often made, "Teachers are born not made." The gift of teaching is as truly a gift of the Spirit as is apostleship or evangelistic service. (See Eph. 4:11 and 1 Cor. 12:28.) In the language of Paul, in his letter to Timothy, "Neglect not the gift that is in thee."

Nothing will more quickly establish confidence in our educational system, and increase the number of church-schools, thus bringing the benefits of Christian education to the many rather than the few, then a corps of teachers of real consecration and efficiency, who can teach and govern a school. Consecration stands first, but professional ability is a very close second. And that school will surely prove a failure if taught by one lacking either of these qualifications.

"Let every church-school established be conducted with such order that Christ can honor the the schoolroom with His presence. The Master will accept no cheap, shoddy service."—Counsels to Teachers, page 151.

"The Lord would have our primary schools, as well as those for older students, of that character that angels of God can walk through the room, and behold, in the order and principle of government, the order and government of heaven."—Ibid, page 170.

From the same author note the following: "God wants the teachers in our schools to be efficient. Let none feel that having an earnestness in religious matters is all that is essential in order to become educators. While they need no less piety, they also need a thorough knowledge of the sciences. This will make them not only good, practical Christians, but will enable them to educate the youth, and, at the same time, they will have heavenly wisdom to lead them to the fountain of living water."

In spite of the fact that six teachers came to this conference from outside the Lake Union, the demand for teachers of the type described in the foregoing statements was far in excess of the supply. Several of our more experienced teachers, sensing the need of greater efficiency in their work, are this year taking normal work at the College. This has decreased our teaching force; but who would seek to keep them from this noble purpose? God bless them, and may they come forth better equipped for efficient service.

Are there not those to whom this noble work, this "nicest work ever given to men" appeals? Will you not make the very most of your present opportunities, and begin thus early to plan definitely to attend the 1914 summer school? And if possible, will you not arrange to take a more extended course of training in the normal department of Emmanuel Missionary College? God needs you. He is counting on you. You cannot afford to disappoint Him.

"Often it will seem to the teacher that the word of God has little effect on the minds and hearts of many students; but if his work has been wrought in God, some lessons will linger in the memory of the most careless. The Holy Spirit will water the seed sown, and it will spring up after many days, and bear fruit to the glory of God."—Counsels to Teachers, page 435.

CLIFFORD A. RUSSELL.

The Teacher

He shapes a soul and fashions a life,
And molds a character mild
Into everything he would have it be
Who teaches a little child.

He gives his best to the work he loves,
And himself with his best must go,
If he fails the world is quick to hear,
If he wins no man will know.

He may not shirk for he knows his work
And the path that is his, he trods;
He may not plead for there is no need;
His work will speak to his God.

He is held to account by all the world
For the hope in the child's frail reach,
And the hand of God is heavily laid
On the shoulder of him who would teach.

For he who teaches a little child
Much more than his books must know,
For he takes the frail little life in his hands,
And shapes it in the way it must go.

And crooked or straight, however it be,
If bright be the mind or dim,
The glory will be to the child himself
But the blame will be to him.

Though a thankless task seems the teacher's lot;
Yet the blessedness few may know,
To feel the touch of a child's white soul
To shape it and watch it grow.

—Marie Everett.

"The Great Teacher calls for every youth to learn the true philosophy of education,—what shall I do to be saved?"

"Education is but a preparation of the physical, intellectual, and moral powers for the best performance of all the duties of life."

Field Notes

October 31 to November 2 inclusive, Prof. W. E. Straw was to join me in a series of meetings in the Plainfield church. I arrived there on Wednesday, visited some of the people, put the church in readiness for services, and just before the first meeting I was called home on account of sickness in my family. One of my boys was very sick for nearly a week, but is well now and in school again. Professor Straw conducted all the services at the Plainfield church. The attendance was very good and much interest manifested in the study of the Word.

We believe that through holding meetings there occasionally and the faithfulness of the believers, others will be brought into the fold. Years ago they had a large membership, but owing to removals by death and to other parts of the field, the membership has been diminishing from year to year. Faithfulness on the part of those who remain, and the truth imparted by their lives, will do much in bringing others to the Saviour of the world. "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." So may it be.

W. H. THURSTON.

Harvest Ingathering

Some good reports are coming in from the work with the special Review. One of our ministers reports that he collected $30 for missions in a certain city. He had good talks with the people, and gathered together the few scattered, inactive believers for worship on the Sabbath.

Another reports that he devotes some time to this work each week, and intends to continue doing so to the end of the year. Still another reports that he has not yet done anything with the papers, but that he is going to do his part soon. Let none be discouraged in this work, but try again, put out a few more papers, give others an opportunity to become informed, and gather a little more money for missions.

This is the Lord's work, and He will bless every faithful effort put forth in His name. Do all feel clear that they have done their duty? If not, go forth once more in hope.

W. H. THURSTON.

Rice Lake, Barron, Spooner, Prentice

During the last three weeks I have visited the above named places. With few exceptions, all members were visited in their homes and prayed with. At Spooner we celebrated the ordinances. The Lord came precious near. Our hearts were sad because a brother and sister have lately forsaken the good way, but we rejoice because another brother has started to walk in obedience to God's commandments. Brethren and sisters, it is poor policy to let go your hold on God now, when we are almost to the end of the race. Can you afford to lose eternal life?

At Prentice we also had quarterly meeting, the first, owing to the absence of their elder, they have had in nearly two years. We had excellent meetings at Prentice. One Swedish sister has lately begun to study the truth, and there seems to be a little interest among the Swedes which I shall try to develop as soon as arrangements can be made.

JOHN HOFFMAN.

Field Reports

Leaving the office October 10, I went direct to Clear Lake, where I spent the next few days and had the privilege of holding three meetings with the brethren in the interests of the young people's work. Monday I visited the church-school there, conducted by Miss Sylvia Bossert.

Going on to Cumberland, I met the church on Wednesday evening. I then returned to Clear Lake, going from there to Chetek accompanied by Miss Childs. I spent Sabbath and Sunday there and Monday assisted in installing Miss Childs in the Bear Lake church-school for the coming year.

Leaving Chetek Tuesday morning, my next stopping place was the Walderly school, where I found everything progressing nicely and the school rather larger than usual. Several new buildings are in course of erection, which they hope to occupy before cold weather comes on. I had the privilege of holding a business meeting with the patrons of the little church-school there at Hines. This school is held in the home of one of the patrons and is conducted by Mrs. J. H. Hoffman. Those little homes hewed out of the northern forests constitute a partial fulfilment of the instructions given by the spirit of prophecy, calling our people to leave the large cities and make themselves homes in the country. A new road has recently been put through from the academy grounds to the main highway, and other improvements have been made.

I spent two or three days at Superior. Brethren Sorensen and Edwardsen are holding meetings there every night with a good interest. Sabbath evening I met with the Scandinavian church at Ashland and the next forenoon crossed the Bay to Washburn, where I held a service in the church, the English and Scandinavian brethren uniting in the service. Leaving Ashland Monday morning, I stopped at Rhinelander where the church by previous notice came together, and I had an interesting study with the young people there.

Going on to Clearwater Lake I stayed there one day, visiting the school. I found Miss Judd of good courage and enjoying her work. Some changes had been made in the school, much to the improvement of all departments. The attendance at the academy compares favorably with that of other years and the church-school has an attendance of twenty-seven.

Leaving Clearwater Lake Thursday morning, I reached the office in the evening of the same day, feeling that I had found much to encourage, both in the young people's and the educational work, at the various places visited.

News Items

The visitors to Merrill report an interesting Sabbath-school there.

Miss May Lewins of the West Michigan Conference office is enjoying a few vacation days at the home of her friend, Mrs. H. W. Johnson here at Grand Rapids.

Elder H. C. Graf is visiting the German churches in the conference and was at Grand Rapids and Bethel November 11-15, holding two public services in the Grand Rapids church and three at Bethel. The German believers were much encouraged by his visit and the study of the Word.

Brother J. B. Blosser called at the offices since our last report, and in company with Brother H. W. Johnson went the same day to Bethel. They visited the academy and gave a talk to the students along the line of the book work and from there went to Milton Junction in the same interests.

Brother F. Passer, one of our former successful canvassers, has again taken up the work with "Great Controversy." He called at the tract society office last Wednesday and transacted some business, going from here to his field of labor, Buffalo County. We are glad to see this earnest laborer once more free to take up the book work.

The children of Bloomville Sabbath-school raised, by missionary enterprises during the summer, over $9 for the thirteenth Sabbath offering, to help pay the expenses of the new missionaries. Brother Rice, of that school, stated that the children are laying still more plans for next year, aided and encouraged by their parents and other older workers there.

Conference News

The elders' meeting has been announced to take place at Petoskey December 3 to 7. For the success of this meeting all are asked to pray.

The readings for the week of prayer have been mailed to each elder and isolated Sabbath-keeper in the conference.

Any not receiving their copy should notify this office so that another may be mailed to them.

Elder Irwin left this week for a visit among the churches in the Upper Peninsula. He expects to be absent for ten or twelve days.

Elder Bellows made the office a short call last week on his way to the Gaylord church, at which place he is holding a series of meetings.

Brother Williams spent a day of last week delivering some books for Harry Denton. He is now visiting isolated Sabbath-keepers at Boyne City, and while there will solicit funds for the Harvest Ingathering.

A letter appealing for funds to wipe off our deficit on the missions appropriation was mailed to each family in the conference. This was accompanied with a pledge card, the signer of which promises to make an earnest effort to realize a certain sum before the end of the year. We hope every one will pray over this matter, and that all will have something to send in for the Master. If any names have been missed, we should be glad to mail a copy of the letter and a pledge card to them.

Organization of the Brinton Church

As has been reported from time to time, Erethren Fenner and Piper labored at this place several weeks the past summer, and the writer was there and baptized six persons (two from Wademan) on July 20. With Brother Fenner, Mrs. Webster and I spent twenty days there in October. Mrs. Webster having meetings with the sisters to instruct them in healthful dressing, cooking, and housekeeping. During this time we gave careful instructions on church-membership, duties of officers, organization, and missionary work, and had two baptisms, seven being buried with their Lord October 12, and three later. On the 18th a church of sixteen members was organized. Officers were elected, and an elder ordained; then the ordinances were celebrated—the first time that some of them ever witnessed the ordinances. It was a blessed day for the believers there. The Lord came very near by His Holy Spirit.

They take the name of the Brinton church of Seventh-day Adventists, with the following officers: Elder, Chas. E. Butler; clerk, Miss Lillie Gilbert; treasurer, Mrs. May Butler; deaconess, Mrs. Sarah Martin; librarian, Mrs. Ruby Field.

Twelve of these charter members are new converts to the truth, as are the three baptized later and soon to unite with them. Four were received by letter from churches in West Michigan. We believe this new church will be a light to the world. Though poor, they are paying their tithes, even the children taking hold of this with deep interest. They are turning their Sabbath-school and other offerings to missions.

Aurora, Pontiac, and Streator

In harmony with the recommendation of the conference committee, we moved to Aurora early in September and since have been binding off our work in Pontiac and Streator and getting hold of the work here in Aurora.

Through the united efforts of church-members and workers, seventeen dear souls were baptized and united with the churches at Pontiac and Streator during the year we were there. Sister Odell is still laboring in Pontiac, and Brother Stebbins is teaching the church-school there and doing evangelical work. The same spirit of earnest service continues and the new members are now laboring to build up the work; so the way seems bright before these churches.

We find the same united purpose to win souls manifested here in Aurora and are enjoying the work here. The Aurora city council has recently been asked to commit itself on the subject of Sunday legislation, by passing a Sunday closing act making it unlawful for any one who "works for a living" to labor on Sunday unless he or she observes some other day as a day of rest.

We were aware of the approaching ordinance, and by the request of our conference president I visited the mayor and aldermen inquiring as to the purport of the ordinance and giving our view of religious legislation; also leaving copies of Liberty with them. I had a good experience in meeting these men. The council however, is composed of eight Catholics to six Protestants. The mayor said he considered the bill silly and that he thought the council was reasonable and the bill would never pass. One of the aldermen said the bill was similar to the "blue laws" and would never pass the council.

However, it did pass, and hereafter it will be unlawful to work upon Sunday according to Section 1—"It shall not be lawful for any person, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, to keep open, or permit to keep open, his place of business, or pursue his daily labor or occupation, within the city of Aurora; provided that this section shall not be applicable to persons who conscientiously observe some other day of the week as the Sabbath, or in case of necessity, nor to hotels, eating-houses, theaters, drug stores, tobacco stores, livery stables, and street cars."

As a people we understand the tenor of such legislation. May the Lord help us to be such examples of Christian living that none may be able to find fault with us except it be regarding the law of our God.

J. M. BURDICK.

News Notes

Brother J. A. Applegate has returned to the office after a three weeks' tour among the canvassers and churches.

Word received from Brother H. B. Weaver of Onarga states that he plans to be in the field with our good books in the near future.

Reports from the home workers continue to come in, and we are sure that everyone who purchases these books and works with faith and courage will see blessed results.

Brethren Chas. Anderson and Will Harris send in encouraging reports from Galesburg. Brother Andrews writes that each succeeding week's sales has been an increase over the preceding, and is determined to press onward.

We are in the midst of our convention at Aurora at this writing. The meetings have been the best we have ever attended. All say that they have been greatly helped. Surely the Lord is with us and better fitting-up for God's work is being received by us all. About fifty are in attendance and no doubt over Sabbath and Sunday this number will be doubled.

Elder Frank Armitage from Africa held meetings Sabbath, the 8th, in the South Side, Central, and German churches, and Sunday in the Central church. These meetings were very interesting. His experiences were encouraging and helpful to all, as was indicated by the liberal donations that were given for foreign missions; $100 was received in collections at the meetings.

Elder Louis Sheaf of Washington, D. C., on his way to California, will stop at Chicago and hold meetings in the following churches: Dearborn Street evening of the 27th and 28th, South Side church Sabbath at 10:45 A. M. and Central Church at 3 P. M. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come to these services. Saturday evening he will speak in the North Side German church, corner Roscoe St. and N. Clairmont Ave. Arrangements will be made for the Colored church to meet with the South Side church after their Sabbath-school.

Tri-City Sanitarium News

Dr. F. J. Otis is spending the week in Chicago attending the Clinical Congress of Surgeons.

Mr. W. C. Foreman, our business manager, is attending the ministerial institute at Aurora.

Dr. A. E. Kidd of Quincy brought his wife to the sanitarium Sunday for rest and treatment.

The helpers and nurses are spending many pleasant hours getting settled in their new dormitory home.

Mr. A. C. Jenks of Rock Island, a conductor on the C. B. & Q. Railroad is at the sanitarium taking treatments.

Miss Bessie Seitz of Little Rock, Ark., has assumed the duties of bookkeeper in the business office of the Tri-City Sanitarium.

Miss Cecil Burchard of Dayton, Tenn., and Miss Eunice Cannard, of Oswego, Kans., have recently joined the new class of nurses.

Miss Hannah Flessner, one of our former nurses, recently returned to the sanitarium from Galesburg, bringing a patient with her.

The nurses of the institution have taken it upon themselves to buy a $100 victrola and are relying upon the generosity of their friends to pay for it. Donations will be thankfully received.

An Appeal

TO THE BRETHREN AND SISTERS OF THE INDIANA CONFERENCE: I am sure you will all be interested to know of the progress which is being made in the work in the Indiana Conference. At the present time, as most of you know, the laborers are working among the churches, helping them to distribute the Harvest Ingathering number of the Review. I am receiving some very encouraging reports from them, and, while the money is not coming in as fast as we should like to see it, there seems to be a spirit of liberality and co-operation on the part of the people in taking hold of the raising of funds for the foreign fields.

Owing to the failure of our people to raise their quota to the foreign mission fund, it will be impossible to send out any more missionaries the coming year. All that can possibly be raised is needed to support those in the field. The fact that this last message of mercy and warning is having to be withheld from a perishing world seems to be a very sad condition, and especially serious. We read in Matthew 24:14: "This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached to all the world for a witness unto all nations and then shall the end come." When we so consume our time and means upon ourselves and home interests that it is necessitates the discontinuance of the work in foreign fields, it certainly is time that we seek God for the spirit of consecration until all shall be laid upon the altar.

The first six months of the year, Indiana gave an amount equivalent to five cents per member, and it should have been fifteen cents per member. The last four months, we have given at the rate of ten cents a week per member to foreign missions, and it should have been twenty cents. At the present time we are over seven thousand dollars in arrears, and will have between ten and eleven thousand dollars yet to raise between now and the first of January. Many people and many churches have as a slogan, "We will raise our quota to foreign missions." Indiana is abundantly able to do this. It will amount to only about six dollars per member from now on. Some of the churches have paid out their quota at the present time, yet we do not want to lose our zeal and energy until the full quota of the conference has been raised.

The special work of the Harvest Ingathering number of the Review is soliciting funds and gaining favor from the world. We have a beautiful example of what may be done in the book of Esther. She earnestly sought the Lord for favor among the enemies of the truth; and so we, if we plead with God and lay ourselves upon the altar, will be given wisdom to know how to approach the people and obtain from the Gentiles that which will supply the means for carrying forward this message. That you may know that this may be accomplished at the present time, I wish to relate the experience of a sister who spends her spare time working with this missionary paper. Every since the campaign was started, she has brought in three dollars or more every Sabbath as a result of her work. It matters not what your vocation in life is, you can do something in the cause of truth.

A traveling man recently told an experience which he had in handling the Harvest Ingathering number of the Review. He has been using the paper every since we have been raising money in this manner, and has found that he has not only been able to bring in many dollars for the foreign field (as he continues to work with it all through the year) but he has also found it to be an asset to his business. There was one man whom he never had been able to reach with his mercantile goods. One day after he had finished his work, leaving his samples, he took the paper and went over and called on this dealer. He told him that he was representing the Seventh-day Adventist denomination; that he was soliciting funds for foreign missions, and that he had a little journal which they were putting out to show what was being done in the world by this people. The merchant looked at the paper and handed him a quarter. The brother showed him the paper a little further, calling his attention to the illustration and what was being accomplished. The merchant asked him if he had resigned his position with the firm for which he was formerly traveling. He told him he was still connected with that firm, but in as much as he had never been able to sell him any goods he had brought him something better. The man looked at the paper carefully, and told his cashier to give the brother a dollar and charge it to the missionary fund. The dealer told him to call the next time he came around, and possibly he would give him a small order. The result was that on his next trip he received an order amounting to several hundred dollars, and has been selling goods to this man ever since. It pays to serve God in our business.

E. A. BRISTOL.

Tell City, Hartford City, Jonesborough

During the latter part of October I spent one week at Tell City in the interest of the Young People's Missionary Volunteer work and the church-school. On November 26 I organized a good working society. All seemed willing to do their best toward making these meetings interesting. Last week I received word from the secretary of the society saying, "Yes, we had an interesting young people's meeting and hope to have many more."

On October 1, I visited the Hartford City church. Here a hearty response was given when the question of a Y. P. M. V. Society was raised. Every individual present seemed enthusiastic and many expressed their desire to see this work carried on in the Hartford City church. The society unanimously voted to take up the study of the Standard of Attainment. Hundreds of our young people are pressing toward this goal, and we hope to see many more taking this course this year. Sister E. R. Lauda was elected leader and she plans to make this a growing society. After the organization of the society, Elder J. Tindell gave an interesting talk on the importance of our young people taking our missionary reading courses and the Standard of Attainment.

At Jonesborough I met with another church of a missionary spirit. Here a missionary society was organized. All seemed to cooperate heartily in this work. Several brothers and sisters spoke on the importance and desire of such a band in the Jonesboro church. And again nearly every person present declared his desire to take the Standard of Attainment course, and be ready to take the March examination.

Such a harvest of newly-organized societies can not fail to stimulate missionary interest and endeavor. Let us remember these new missionary bands in our prayers.

CAROLYN M. RASMUSSEN.

News Notes

Brother R. W. Gipson joined the company of canvassers at Greenfield last week. He is selling "Heralds of the Morning."

Brother E. E. Franklin visited workers at Muncie, Richmond, and Connersville last week. Cheering reports are coming in from the field.

Elder Bristol left Indianapolis on Wednesday, the 11th, for Wolf Lake where he will join Elder Sanders in holding some meetings with the church.

At the close of the week ending November 7, as a conference we had ordered 13,132 of the Harvest Ingathering Review. Let the good work go on.

Brother W. E. Bailey spent Sabbath, the 8th, with the members at Elnora. Two of the brethren are planning to go out with the Home Workers' Prospectus this week.

Writing from Hartford City, Elder C. N. Sanders sends us twelve subscriptions for Liberty from that church. We have also received a good list of subscriptions for this magazine from the Marion church.

While visiting the members of the Mt. Vernon church near Winamac, Elder T. F. Hubbard held some well-attended meetings at the Christian church near there. He also reorganized the Mt. Vernon Sabbath-school.

There has come to our notice a sixteen page tract entitled Seventh-day Adventists, the Reason for their Existence as a Denomination. Elder F. M. Wilcox, editor of the Review is the author. We heartily recommend it as filling a long-felt want. Price one cent. Order of the tract society.

One of our brethren who has always taken a great interest in foreign missions, writes the office that he expects to give a total of $25 for the foreign work before 1913 closes, although he does not have an overabundance of this world's goods.

Writing from Coal City, Brother Martin S. Grim says that he has returned to Indiana on account of the illness of his mother. He will remain in the conference and is now out with the Home Workers' Prospectus and expects to handle a larger book after a time. We are glad for this addition to the ranks of the workers.

If you never had any previous experience in selling books, and if after your first twenty-four hour effort you had taken fifty-four orders for our small books valued at $36.50, you would think you had done well, wouldn't you. Well, that is what one sister in Indianapolis did last week. She says that she sold as many as six books in a home.

Among the Churches

"The Lord hath made bare His holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God." Surely this scripture is being fulfilled in behalf of the remnant people of God.

I am glad to be able to report again of the good work that the Spirit of God is doing for His faithful people. Since my last report, it has been my privilege to visit a few of our churches.

At Owosso I baptized three who had taken their stand for the truth. Meetings were held nearly every night during my stay there. A spirit of earnestness prevailed, and all sought God with deep convictions of heart, putting away sin and confessing wrongs.

The last Sabbath, during Sabbath-school while the review was being given, it was turned into a praise service and consecration meeting. It was a day long to be remembered by all present.

At Oxford I found the company of good courage. After remaining with them for several days and spending the Sabbath with them, one precious soul was buried with his Lord in baptism. All expressed themselves as receiving a spiritual refreshing.

I was pleased to meet with the Otter Lake church again since its reorganization. At the time of its reorganization we gathered on the banks of the beautiful lake where four were baptized announcing to the world their allegiance to the King of kings. Three more during this last visit followed their Lord in baptism.

After camp-meeting I was asked to follow up the work in Bay City. Two were baptized and there are three more who will soon be ready for baptism.

After visiting Saginaw and assisting in the Review campaign, I went to St. John and Greenbush churches. At St. John I found some who said a minister had not visited them at their homes for twelve years. How eagerly they listened to the precious truths presented. At the Greenbush church a little company of earnest believers gathered for Sabbath-school and quarterly meeting. We had a good service.

I went from here to Elwell, where I found a very earnest little company of believers. They have been organized only about three years. The instruction given was gratefully received.

Our people here took an active part in sending to the Detroit mission fifteen hundred ten pounds of vegetables, fruit, beans, etc. All were very glad that they could do something to assist in the work of God. I know that it will be greatly appreciated by the mission. If all our loyal people will help in all these lines, it will relieve some of the financial embarrassments our mission workers are placed under.

All took hold of the Two-per-cent Fund with a hearty response.

If every one of our churches will come into action in this systematic way of benevolence, there will be plenty of funds in the treasury for tent supplies, the poor, and our academy. I remained here eleven days. The second Sabbath I baptized three. We had meetings every evening. Many outsiders came to the services. The Lord came near to all and blessed in the instruction given from His word.

The work is onward to its consummation. Let us all be faithful and soon we shall hear the "Well done" said unto us.

College

The fall term closes December 3.

John Reynolds of Elkhart, Ind., has entered College.

Miss Ethel Armstrong of Indiana has entered the normal department of the College.

Mrs. Calkin's lecture on the "History of the W. C. T. U." was very interesting and much appreciated by all.

Mrs. M. E. Cady and daughter Margaret of College Place, Wash., have located here for the winter. Miss Margaret has entered the academic department of the College.

Elder Frank Armitage addressed the Missionary Volunteer Society Sabbath afternoon. He related many of his thrilling experiences in the "Dark Continent," and presented the great dearth of workers. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter. They are now returning to Africa.

Prof. J. L. Shaw, educational secretary of the General Conference, spent a few days with us the past week. As he told of the great needs of the work we were inspired to make ourselves more proficient, that we may have a part in carrying the gospel to the ends of the earth. Professor Shaw has spent ten years as a missionary in India. Evening after the Sabbath he gave the second number of the Lecture Course, it being an illustrated lecture on India.

"There are men who are always absolutely on time; they
