I Will Trust and Not Be Afraid

BY MRS. L. D. AVERY-STUTTLE
FOR LAKE UNION HERALD

Sing the gospel of good cheer,
Sing, "deliverance is near;"
Soon the warfare will be done,
Conflict o'er and victory won;
Sing, and trust, and never fear.

O to trust His care is sweet,
Trust His righteousness complete;
He will never turn away,
He will never say thee nay,
He will guide thy wandering feet.

If at last my day is done,
And shall sink life's westering sun,
Let me lay me down and rest
Quietly upon His breast,—
Warfare past and victory won.

But should I be spared to see
Him who gave His life for me,
Ere I yield my flickering breath,
And my eyes are closed in death,
He will give me victory.

I will trust, for He is strong,—
Trust through violence and wrong,
E'en through Jordon's whelming wave,—
Trust,—for He is strong to save,
Till I sing the victor's song.

A Special Call

"Honor the Lord with thy substance and with the firstfruits of all thine increase: so shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine." Prov. 3:9, 10.

The blessings of the Lord are substantial and real. Even the gift of the Holy Spirit results in material benefit to mankind. The Lord is not in need, for all things are His; but He has so arranged it that man may receive of His substance; and God regards Himself honored when man freely returns to his Creator a portion of that which he has received, to be used for the benefit of the less fortunate. The power to get wealth is from the Lord. The return of a little is a recognition of the power loaned by the Lord. According to the above text, the more man returns to the Lord the more he will have to give.

How good the Lord is! He does not require offerings of His children first of all, and then give them blessings; but He bestows, and then says, Now honor Me and I will give yet more that ye may honor Me still more with substance. The special call for honoring God with our substance is that missionaries may be provided for. The plan of calling for large funds, such as the $300,000 Fund, was abandoned as such; but it was understood that the same liberality would be shown by men of means toward the weekly mission fund. That is to say, those that were able would be moved to give their tens, fifties, hundreds, and thousands into the mission fund in order, not merely to give support to missionaries, but to continue to provide homes and facilities; for that was only just begun by what was raised of the $300,000 Fund.

God has blessed the people of the Lake Union Conference with bountiful crops and prosperous times far beyond those of other sections of the country. How can we better show our love and reverence, yea, our worship of the Creator, than to bring liberal gifts to the Lord out of that which He has bestowed. Now during the Harvest Ingathering, while the people of the world bestow small gifts because they do not fully recognize God's claims, we may add our liberal ones and claim the promise, "So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine."

Appointments for the Week of Prayer

Feeling that our people are anxious to know what is to be done in the conference during the week of prayer, December 13-20, I will publish an action of the conference committee held November 6, in regard to the appointments. It has been planned that all our churches and leading companies in the conference shall receive some help, and we have tried to arrange the appointments in such a way as to make the expense as little as possible, and still give each church some help.

It was therefore decided that A. J. Clarke meet with the churches at Champaign, Peoria, Dallas City, and Farmington; E. F. Ferris—Sheelbyville, Kingman, Stewardson, and Bluford; H. M. Kelley—Martinsville, DuQuoin, Carterville, and Herrin; J. P. Hanson—the two Springfield churches, Decatur, Bloomington, and Foosland; C. F. Woertz—Quincy, Maestown, and Upper Alton; J. O. Ferris—Woodburn, Centuria, Brownstown, and Noble; Durward Williams—Mattoon, Charlestown, and Lovington.

It was also decided that each worker should make his own arrangements with regard to what days he would give to the companies assigned him, and no doubt the brethren and sisters in the conference will soon hear from these workers. Let us begin now to pray that Heaven's richest blessing shall attend our workers as they go from place to place, and be with our brethren and sisters in general that this season of prayer may be the best that we as a conference have ever had. We are nearing the end, we know not how many more of these occasions it will be our privilege to enjoy. Let us make the best use of this one.

A. J. CLARK.

Harvest Ingathering Experiences

I have been in the truth but a short time, and as I had never sold anything before, I was almost afraid to make an effort with the Harvest Ingathering Review. The first day I resolved to collect one dollar. I soon procured this amount and then I said I must have four more. I collected four dollars and forty cents and was not out all day.

I came home with such a missionary heart and such wonderful experiences that my husband wanted to go too. The next afternoon we were out about three hours. He collected $5.50 and I received $1.25. Our little boy is a missionary too; he has collected forty cents after school hours.

We sit by our fireside and tell how the Lord has helped us in this great work, which we enjoy more than we can express. Up to the present time we have received $19.50 from fifty-eight papers. I sincerely hope all of God's people will get interested in this Harvest Ingathering work.

MRS. AARON ANDERSON,
Kingman Church.

Notice

The elders' meeting of the Southern Illinois Conference will be held at Herrin, Ill., February 3-7 instead of Jan. 12-15 as previously reported.

Harvest Ingathering

I suppose each one is wondering what the other people are doing with the Review special, so I will give a brief report.

During the week set apart for all to work with the papers, I worked four small towns, the places of business and from house to house. I had interesting talks with many people, some who were prejudiced, some who were sick, others who were discouraged, and a few who were much interested in our work; as well as with ministers, doctors and lawyers. I am now sending reading matter to two persons, interested in further study of present truth.

I visited an ex-judge who was on his death bed, and had the privilege of comforting him with the promises of the Word. I put out two hundred fifty papers and received $37.60 for missions.

I was in Janesville a few days last week holding meetings, and joined the few believers there one day in the paper work.

We may never know all the results of this good work, but the Lord will bless every effort put forth in His name. Let none be discouraged, but labor on in faith and hope,

W. H. THURSTON.

Milwaukee, North Lake

On a recent Sunday, I had a very interesting Bible study on "The Lord's Great Prophecy," with two readers that I have on the east side of the city. In the library I was glad to notice the books entitled, "Desire of Ages," "Great Controversy," "Object Lessons," and "Bible Footlights."

In the evening I spoke in a chapel on the West Side of the city where two members of the church live. A woman from Wauwautosa who has been at our Sabbath meetings and is now thoroughly convinced of the Sabbath, attended with her husband.

November 12 I went to North Lake, thirty miles from Milwaukee, and in the evening spoke on the "The Reward of the Righteous." Excellent attention was given to the presentation of the truth. A lady said: "I have learned much tonight, and have received an inspiration to believe that I may obtain the reward of the righteous." We have four adult Sabbath-keepers there who are striving to walk in the light that they may be a light to others. I need the prayers of God's people.

H. W. REED.

Almond German

Accompanied by my family, I went to Almond from Bethel to hold quarterly services with the church on the 8th. About fourteen attended the Sabbath-school which was held at 2 P. M., and this was followed by the quarterly service which was attended by nearly all the church-members. A good time was enjoyed at this meeting, also at the social service which followed, the Spirit of the Lord being present.

Brother Petersen of Plainfield was with us. The day being stormy it was thought best to postpone the business meeting until the week of prayer. All the members of the Almond church are of good courage in the Lord and in the work. Some efforts have been made with the Harvest Ingathering Review; one brother gathered over five dollars. Others are planning to do some work with the paper.

Eau Claire General Meeting

The general meeting at Eau Claire opened Thursday evening, November 13, with a discourse by Elder W. H. Thurston. A goodly number of delegates were present. Friday forenoon and afternoon were devoted to the consideration of conference and departmental work. Elder P. C. Hanson occupied the pulpit Friday evening.

The regular Sabbath services began at 9-30, A. M. The first session was given over to a study of the Sabbath-school lesson, which was a very interesting one. Elder Thurston occupied the hour of service. The church was quite filled with the Eau Claire members and the visiting brethren.

In the afternoon Mrs. Mary Howell and the writer took charge, and presented the first part of the program of the joint Sabbath-school and Young People's Convention held in connection with this meeting. The program was continued in the evening, each paper given meeting with a free discussion and many interesting and profitable points were brought out.

Sunday forenoon conference work was resumed, W. J. Walter, conference secretary and treasurer, occupying the first hour, with instruction pertaining to the financial phase of the work. Elder Thurston followed him with discussion regarding health and temperance and other lines of work.

The afternoon session opened with a Bible study conducted by Elder P. C. Hanson. Following this the work of the convention was again continued and concluded.

Dr. W. T. Lindsay lectured in the evening to a large and appreciative audience. We were glad to see many not of our faith among the listeners at this and other evening meetings.

This closed the work of the general meeting, for which many words of commendation were spoken. Each evening session was preceded by a song service, and special music lent variety and interest to all the meetings.

FRANCES L. CASE.

News Notes

Elder Thurston spent a few days at Milton Junction recently.

H. W. Johnson visited New London, Clintonville, Royalton, and Underhill last week.

A Sabbath-school of about forty members was recently organized in a logging camp at Leona, Wis.

The report of one of our home workers, who in nine hours sold $24 worth of our small books, should, and we believe will inspire many others in our conference to go out with the Home Workers' Prospectus. Other encouraging reports are also coming in from this work.

Harvest Ingathering

We are rapidly nearing the close of 1913 and our offering for missions is far below what we expect for the year. Our aim has been and still is $13,750 for 1913. Up to November 1 we had raised $7,667.59 thus leaving $6,082.41 yet to be raised if we reach our mark.

Because of this lack on the part of some, there can be no more workers sent to foreign fields till our offerings increase, as it requires more than has been paid in to care for those who are already in the field. Now brethren, what shall we do about the shortage on our mission fund? God has blessed our conference greatly during this year. Crop failures have come to many parts of the country, but in nearly all parts of our conference good crops are in evidence. Has God blessed us for naught that we may consume more than is meet on ourselves? I trust not. Let us bring a thank offering from our own store and then with papers in hand go out and gather in from our friends and neighbors enough to make up the shortage.

Up to November 1 we had received at the office $170.60 as the first returns from the Harvest Ingathering campaign. Our aim for this campaign is $2,500, and if each one will take hold faithfully till the end of the year we can do even more than this. A report from Washington shows that when the week closed, the 14th of November, the East Michigan Conference had taken 10,560 papers. This is a larger number than has ever before been taken by this conference. Naturally we shall expect our returns to be the largest we have ever had.

From the treasurer's books I learn that for the month of October the churches reported as follows: Detroit, $3.95; Saginaw, $9.00; Otter Lake, $6.24; Jefferson, $6.08; Vassar, $9.25; St. Charles, $6.60; Oxford, $1; Jackson, $13.19; Sandusky, $5.60; Pt. Huron, $15.50; Lansing, $7.05; Holly, $21.35; Flint, $23.00; Colman, $9.78; Arbela, $4.60; Fairgrove, $1.60;

Bay City, $21.35; Individual, $1.00; Exeter, $1.87; Adrian, $2.59.

You will see that we have received reports from only nineteen churches and these have sent in small amounts as a rule. Only three have reported more than $20 each, while all the rest except two have sent in less than $10 each. This indicates that we have but made a beginning. We are satisfied that larger and more numerous reports will be received for November. I cannot believe that there is even one church that will be found wanting when the final report is made up. If our names are not on the list as workers here on earth, where will they appear when the Lord makes out His report of those that have been laborers together with Him? Perhaps we have all labored in some line, but why not have a part in this also? Let us make December the banner month of the year for missions. Let the Harvest Ingathering for December be at least $1,000.

When we consider that the Lord's house lies waste while we dwell in ceiled houses, is it not time to awake out of sleep?

What church will bring in the largest amount as the result of the Ingathering during the month of December? Ask the Lord to help you and press forward. He will give you success.

WM. GUTHRIE.

Among the Churches

In company with Brother E. E. Franklin, field agent of Indiana, I visited several churches in the interest of recruits for the book-work, and everywhere we went we were happily surprised to see a goodly number at the meetings, although it is a busy time with the farmers.

At Anderson we were glad to find that the church has a regular old-time weekly missionary meeting, and they are using a large amount of literature in their work.

At Middletown a hearty welcome was given us, and we hope to see some from this company join the army of workers.

At Muncie we were pleased to see some who are now engaged in selling out large books in that city. They are meeting with success, and there are others whom we expect to join their ranks soon.

We were permitted to make a brief visit at Hartford City, where we had the privilege of talking to the company assembled, and learned of one who will take up the book-work in the spring.

We had some difficulty in finding the new place of worship at Logansport, where we were glad to meet the brethren and sisters. Several years ago I assisted in an institute here in which two took their stand to keep the Sabbath.

The past year has been one of victory through faith in the One who will "never be discouraged." "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." It was the faithless one who thought he dared not put to the Master's use the one talent given him. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." "Look on the fields white already for the harvest" and hear their need speak to you saying, "Come." J. B. BLOSSER.

News Notes

Elder Lauda called at the office Wednesday on his way to the Linton church.

The teachers' institute will be held at Beechwood Academy, December 19-21.

On Thanksgiving the office was closed, and the workers spent the day at the academy.

Most encouraging words come from our loyal company of home workers over the conference. Sister Pryor of Elwood sends in her order for one hundred forty-seven books. Sister Ketchum of Indianapolis has already sold more than sixty dollars' worth of books. Our people are finding this a most enjoyable way of doing self-supporting missionary work.

On Sabbath, the 22d, a young people's convention was held at the Wabash Valley Sanitarium. Prof. C. A. Russell, Elder Bristol, and Miss C. M. Rasmussen were present from the outside. Two sessions were held. The sanitarium furnished special music. The two anthems given by the chorus were especially enjoyed. A goodly number of our people from the city and Soldiers' Home attended, and a most profitable time was spent together. The sanitarium now has a strong working society of young people. Several have enrolled as members of the Standard of Attainment. After leaving La Fayette, Professor Russell visited the Twenty-third Street church in Indianapolis, speaking there Sunday evening.

It is clearly shown by the orders that are still coming into the office that our people are in earnest in making this Ingathering campaign last until the first of the year. Brother L. L. Anthony, librarian of the Logansport church writes: "Our fifty extra of the Ingathering Review came. We are still getting donations. I have taken in $3.75 for seven papers. Was out two hours this morning and secured $1.25 for three papers. One sister received one dollar for a paper which she mailed to a friend." We cannot mention all the good letters we receive daily in regard to the experiences our people are having in this good work, but we are glad so many are having a part in it.

Mrs. Paul Pressnell and Thomas Turner from Indianapolis visited our school over Sabbath and Sunday.

New radiators have been installed throughout our building, so we are now prepared for cold weather.

On the evening of November 25 the faculty were pleasantly entertained at the home of Prof. E. A. von Pohle.

We were pleased to have some of our conference workers and the friends and patrons of the school from the neighborhood with us Thanksgiving day.

We were very glad for a visit from Dr. Joshling of the Madison Hospital. She gave an interesting talk in chapel Monday morning, telling of her trip through Arabia, and her experiences while there.

Though we were busy entertaining friends Thanksgiving, the poor of our neighborhood were not forgotten. The Young People's Society purchased food and clothing which were distributed among those in need.

Wabash Valley Sanitarium Notes

Among the late arrivals at the sanitarium are: Mr. E. J. Fitzgerald of La Fayette; Mrs. Jas. B. Hagel of Grand Rapids, Michigan.; Miss Dora Thomas of Middletown, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Everingham of Chicago, Ill.; Miss Lillian Gihson of Indianapolis.

Those who have recently returned to their homes, rejoicing because of the help they received here: Mrs. Alma Bassett of Kendallville, Ind.; Mr. Kline and wife of La Fayette; Mr. Bryce Reed, city official of Elkhart; Rev. Miss Ada Hollingsworth, who said, "Their wonderful success in their surgical work is due to their earnest praying."

The Delphi Journal of recent date says that many of its readers will be "glad to hear that Mrs. John W. Kerlin expects to be home and around in the very near future." From her letter to the Journal it quotes as follows concerning the work here: "These people are carrying on a great work, doing so much for the sick and suffering and giving every one special attention and study, which means so much. I have been here the most of my time for twenty-one months, coming soon after my injuries in the explosion, and have undergone two serious operations, but by the watchful care of both doctors and nurses I am able to sit up and expect in the near future to be able to care for my home. . . I am interested in this place, and too much cannot be said in praise of it." She went home the 17th instant.

Aurora Convention

All our workers except three—one minister and two Bible workers—attended the meeting. The church elders were not so fully represented.

The Spirit of God was present. The key-note was struck the very first service. One man, not identified with us before, arose and stated, "When ministers and workers confess their faults and pray for help from Heaven as they do here, I can't longer resist the Spirit, I must have your prayers." The testimony of all was, "Surely, it is good to be here." The meeting was a source of great strength to all. The lessons from Elders Olsen, Moon, McVagh, Bristol, Russell, Dr. Kress, and others were much appreciated.

The Sabbath-school and Young People's convention were well attended.

The new Aurora church was in readiness for us when we arrived. Tables were arranged in the basement and spread with linen clean and white. Sister J. C. Harris from Joliet had charge of the culinary department.

A real missionary spirit was manifested in getting the truth-filled literature in the hands of the people. Over 2,300 of the Harvest Ingathering Review were taken, and book sales amounted to $75. The Sabbath-school offerings amounted to $38. Fifteen dollars was contributed to the church for heat and light.

Many words of praise were heard for the new Aurora church, and its location. Elder J. M. Burdick and wife are located in Aurora and will begin evangelistic meetings immediately.

Several requests for general meetings were handed in and it is planned by the conference committee to hold more meetings where two or three churches may gather together conveniently, after the week of prayer.

The Lord is still leading His servants and His care is over all His people. Good reports are coming from the Harvest Ingathering campaign.

Laborers for Week of Prayer

It was voted at the last committee meeting held at Aurora to ask the laborers, as far as possible, to meet with the following churches, and to arrange the time with each church, and where there is another worker to visit the same church to arrange with that worker so as not to have appointments

Nurses' Graduation at Hinsdale

The sixth annual graduation of the Hinsdale Sanitarium Missionary School took place on the evening of November 3.

The services were held in the large sanitarium gymnasium which was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and a profusion of yellow and white chrysanthemums. The school colors, blue and white, appeared in the illuminated class motto, "He Leadeth," which hung among the leaves above the platform.

But the greatness of the occasion consisted not in the display of art in the setting of leaves, flowers, and motto, or even in the array of spotless uniforms, but in the lives of ten young people who having received training in the Jesus art—that of ministering to suffering humanity—are now ready to step out into a larger field of activity.

Several of this class have already distinguished themselves as burden bearers while taking their course. Among the number is Miss Stapp who led out in founding the Hinsdale Nurses' Center on the west side of Chicago and the influence of whose work of faith and sacrifice has extended far and wide.

Miss Hibben was efficient matron of the sanitarium surgical department for some time and has recently been matron of the Life Boat Rescue Home. Others of the class have distinguished themselves as successful bed-side and surgical nurses. All have a useful future before them. Mr. Willmann and Miss Erickson will go to Pontiac, Ill., to engage in medical missionary work. Miss Sutton expects to prepare for a foreign field and others will engage in some branch of the work nearer home. We feel sure that every member of this class will be heard from later, and God grant that not one may ever be found burying her talent for selfish gain.

We were fortunate in having Pastor Meade MacGuire of Washington, D. C., give the graduation address. The high ideal on which he based his remarks was found in that master speech of the apostle Paul, "For I am determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ."

Miss Stapp read a paper portraying in story form, based on her experience in ministering to the sick and needy in Chicago, the high ideals that the entire graduating class uphold. Appropriate music was furnished by Prof. Wm. J. Osborn of Galesburg, Ill., and the class song, "He Leadeth Me," was sung by a men's trio led by M. H. Serns.

Our Church-Schools

Since camp-meeting I have spent most of the time with our church-schools, and I thought our HERALD readers might enjoy hearing of this trip.

Our first school to open was Streator with Hattie Smith as teacher. A boy who recently learned the truth and was baptized at camp-meeting has become so anxious to get a Christian education that in spite of working nights in a bakery he attends this school a few hours each afternoon.

Pontiac was next visited. C. A. Stebbins started the school with five pupils. They now have eleven. Sister Odell assists a few hours each day with the kindergarten work.

Last year's teachers returned to the Chicago schools. The Misses Rank and Reefman have over fifty pupils in the South-Side school. Wednesday of last week the parents were invited to visit regular school work from two to three. A parents' meeting followed and a splendid spirit of cooperation was manifested.

The North-Side school is in charge of Mabel Boo. The children are doing good work. The Danish-Norwegian school, taught by Bertha Christensen, has nearly doubled its membership over last year. It is a busy crowded room; the teacher and pupils are looking forward to a larger and pleasanter schoolroom in the new church.

A new school of ten members has started at Joliet with Ella Foreman as teacher. Many perplexities faced our small company at this place as they began planning for the school, but the parents' meetings paved the way to success. Several outsiders have become interested and are aiding financially, one buying the seats. One was won to the work by examining our Course of Study and excellent books.

Fay Miller is teaching a family school near Rockford. Several neighboring children are attending their Junior meetings. A neighbor's child is attending the Rock Falls school which is in charge of Faith Potter. The seventh and eighth grades especially at the Aledo school are doing excellent work. A library of more than fifty volumes has been collected. Ruth Wilcox is teacher. Mary Marsh is teaching again at Stockton. Two mothers are doing excellent school work. Mrs. Harris at Freeport and Mrs. Wolfson at Hinsdale. We would gladly correspond with others who may desire help in teaching their children.

Each school has a wide-awake Junior Missionary Volunteer Society. Most of the children are doing some definite missionary work; all are working splendidly for the African-Student Fund, and taking an active interest in the Junior meetings which are held weekly.

My visit to Fox River Academy was very pleasant. The faculty and students were doing hard and aggressive school work.

We are very thankful for the pleasant cooperation in the school work this year. Parents and church-members are beginning to believe God when He says "Nothing is of greater importance than the education of our children and young people."

We enlist your prayers that the schools may be an honor to the cause, and that each one attending may find the Saviour.

EDITH SHEPARD.

News Notes

The Central church had a Harvest Ingathering program last Sabbath. The children and young people took an active part and made it interesting by recitations on missions and foreign lands. Their offering was $54. This is very good considering that $49 was given when Elder Armistage was here two weeks before, making a grand total of $103 for missions.

Last Sabbath Elder G. E. Langdon visited the Harvey church. While there he took a club of thirty-five of Signs of the Times Weekly. Two people are awaiting baptism there. The little company is of good courage and have had some excellent experiences in the circulation of the Harvest Ingathering Review. They will mention several of these in a later paper.

The Ravenswood church had a Harvest Ingathering service for the church and Sabbath-school last Sabbath.

The children brought in $40 which they had saved during the year in pennies and nickles. Instead of spending their money for candy and gum they gave it for the winning of souls. Their total donation amounted to $90. An interesting program was rendered by the children, young people and other members.

Two-Per-Cent Seems to Be Taking This Time

We all believe in the two-per-cent plan. We are on record that we do. We have twice passed a conference resolution that we do. Some of us have practiced it from the start, but it did not take hold of all in the same way. For instance, the first year one very small church paid nearly sixty dollars two-per-cent, and the same year a large church paid about three dollars two-per-cent. Naturally when the financial report was published in the LAKE UNION HERALD this had a discouraging effect upon some in the small church. And then because all did not take hold we had to continue sending out special calls and those who paid two-per-cent helped again on the local calls.

The plan is now to relieve from local calls those who sign the pledges and pay the two-per-cent during 1914. The pledge slip shows just what the two-per-cent will amount to from all our people and what funds will be benefited by it so that all may know just where the money is going. Most people were surprised to know how much could be accomplished by it. Some have said, Is it possible that if we pay two-per-cent it will amount to all that? Yes. It only means a small amount regularly in addition to your tithe, but it certainly makes a splendid accomplishment for the Lord's work and one well worth working for.

I am glad to report that the pledge plan for one year is receiving general support. I was at Benton Harbor the Sabbath the pledges were distributed and every member present signed the pledge. The clerk of another church writes, "Fourteen of our members signed the two-per-cent pledge last Sabbath." This is very encouraging. Surely our larger churches will not fail to do as well. Every pledge signed is a vote to help the funds named in this equitable way. This is not being urged as an obligation, but as a freewill offering. Everyone, however, should feel responsibility for the influence that is cast for or against this plan. Unless the great majority now line up solidly for it, we shall have to return to the special-call plan from Sabbath to Sabbath. Let every church take hold of it all together for one year. We will let you know a little later how many pledges have been signed, and we call upon church officers and conference laborers to lay this matter before the people and rally to its support.

Dedication of the Church at Holland

Having been accorded the privilege of attending the dedication on November 8 of the church recently purchased at Holland, I am pleased to report that we all have reason to rejoice with them in what, by God's directing hand, has proved a marked success.

Cleora Green Webster, laboring there while a substantial part of the price was raised, with the other members of the church took an active part in this work. And inasmuch as all the churches of West Michigan had the opportunity of assisting in this worthy enterprise, I am sure that all would have enjoyed being present on the Sabbath mentioned.

Following the Sabbath-school in the morning, Elder Wm. Reefman gave a practical talk.

Sabbath afternoon Elder McVagh gave the dedicatory sermon in which he explained what makes us a distinct people and the purpose of our message, basing his remarks on Rev. 14:6, 7. The motto which was before us, "Fear God and Give Glory to Him for the Hour of His Judgment Is Come," gives silent testimony to a fundamental part of our message to the world in this generation.

On Sunday afternoon Brother A. L. VanFossen spoke on the nearness of our Saviour's second coming, Heb. 10:37 being used as his text. He brought out the thought that as Jesus said, "Go ye," He has made no other plan for "this gospel of the kingdom" to be preached "in all the world." He is counting on us!

Elder Reefman spoke in the evening, and although the weather was very stormy some friends from the city worshipped with us. Bauer and Douglas were represented at this meeting; others were kept away by the unfavorable weather.

It was about a year ago that the brethren and sisters began to plan for raising funds to provide a place of worship in Holland. Previously the Sabbath services were held in private houses.

The building which has been dedicated to the furtherance of the cause which we all love, is on the corner of River Avenue and Third Street. It is a modest structure, free from debt, and an honor to the work of God.

Elder Reefman and wife are locating in the city. He plans to hold services for Holland people Sunday afternoon, and English services Sunday evenings.

Sister Jennie DeYoung, with her parents, has made her home here since camp-meeting. She has begun Bible studies with several interested truth-seekers. She plans to conduct young people's service on Sunday afternoon.

Many in the vicinity of the church show an interest in our coming into their midst. Surely the Lord's hand has guided in the location selected. May He continue His blessings upon His work and workers in Holland, should be our earnest prayer.

News Notes

Elder U. S. Anderson has been conducting meetings at Hastings.

Elder McVagh spent the last Sabbath in November with the church at Cedar Lake.

The school at Otsego gave a very interesting program in the schoolroom the day before Thanksgiving.

Remember the price on "Bible Readings" quoted in last week's paper. Order at once if you wish to take advantage of this, as the supply is limited.

There appears to be quite a religious awakening at Berrien Springs, and it has been decided to make a public effort at that place during December.

Myra Hodges, the church-school teacher at Kalamazoo, called at the office in Otsego recently for a supply of school books, helps, and other literature.

Less than a month now in which to make up our full quota of mission funds. Some churches have completed theirs. Let us all continue to work and pray faithfully and do our best.

Mrs. Flora H. Williams, our educational, S. S. and young people's secretary, has been ill for nearly two weeks, but is recovering and expects soon to be doing her regular work again. Her daughter Elizabeth was called home from her school work at E. M. C. on account of her mother's illness.

Up to the present writing thirty-six churches have reported a vote on the question of Conference headquarters. Of these, thirty-three are for Grand Rapids and three for Otsego, or no move.

Be sure that none of the Harvest Ingathering Review are left to waste at the church or in your own homes. Put them where the Holy Spirit can make them channels of blessing to honest hearts and bring in something for missions.

Let every Sabbath-keeper who can possibly do so plan to attend the meetings during the week of prayer. Not many more such seasons of refreshing shall we enjoy. We all need the help of more definite consecration to the work. Bring your own offering together with that which you have gathered from your neighbors and lay it on the altar with earnest prayer that God will direct the work at home and abroad.

The Morning Watch Calendar for 1914 has just come to hand. This little help has been a great blessing, and the number availing themselves of it is increasing every year. This one for 1914 is an improvement over all previous ones. It gives the sunset calendar for all parts of the country, a verse to be memorized each day in the year, and suggests a systematic course of Bible reading. Send in your orders to the tract society early.

Forty have ordered the Home Workers' prospectus and many good reports are coming in. The long evenings are coming on ushering in the most favorable season of all the year for doing missionary work with our Home Workers' books. We trust that all are busy improving the time and that many others will take up this work. We must not be idlers in the Master's vineyard.

Cedar Lake Academy Items

Mrs. Amelia Goff and Mrs. Eastman visited their sons recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Swartout, the father and mother of our preceptor spent a few days here recently. We were glad to have them with us.

Our corn is husked and the fodder shredded and in the barn; the fall plowing is very nearly done. As a whole this has been a good year for the farm.

Our enrollment continues to grow. Three have been added since we last reported to the HERALD; others expect to enroll at the beginning of the winter term.

Thursday, the 13th, was spent by us in the Ingathering campaign. The students worked the country near the academy and the surrounding towns. All had excellent experiences and most of them quite good success. In all about eight hundred papers were distributed.

Special "Review"

In looking over our last week's report of Ingathering Review, we discovered that our faithful Lake Union Conference has a star opposite each Conference name in the report, and also opposite of the total of the Union. Northern Illinois won its star in the report. This conference had ordered so generously last year, it had a greater task before it to surpass it this year. With the exception of West Michigan and Wisconsin it had the largest number of orders for last year. The entire Lake Union Conference, therefore, has a clean, clear record in this year's report. It stands ahead of the Columbia Union, Chesapeake Conference in the Columbia Union having not yet won its star. They declare they will, however, within a short time.

Appreciating what Lake Union has done for us this year, and hoping every conference in the Union will be able in the near future to report at least $1.54 per member collected for missions, we remain.

Sincerely yours

Some of the leading articles in the December Watchman are: "The first Advent of Christ Compared with the Second Advent," "Two Continents stirred," "Moody on the Second Advent," "Dangerous Days," (Relating to the settlement of the Eastern Question.) "An Attack on the First Amendment to the Constitution." The recent experiences of our people during the tent efforts in Montreal, Canada, and Albany, N. Y. show that the time will be short in which we can work under such favorable circumstances as at present. To make your friends a most pleasing present, you cannot do better than to send them a year's subscription to the Watchman.

Opening of the Winter Term at Emmanuel Missionary College

The winter term opens December 3. At that time classes will be organized in Journalism, Advanced Bible Doctrines, History of the French Revolution, Commercial Law, Pedagogy, Civics, Elementary Bookkeeping, and many other classes, such as Bible and History classes, can be entered to advantage by those who have not been in school during the fall term.
