Our Paradise Home

L. D. SANTEE

I have heard of a land up in heaven,
Of pleasures unmixed with alloy,
Where rapture unending is given,
And life is a bright dream of joy;

I have heard of the evergreen mountains
Where the feet of the weary may rest,
Sweet valleys and murmuring fountains
Are found in the home of the blest.

Oh, the darkness ne'er falls on those mountains,
And the clouds never wreathe them with storm,
But their brows like a rainbow gilt fountain
Are lit with the splendors of morn.
And those headlands are ever above us,
Where sin enters not and no stain,
Where are waiting the angels who love us,
Where death cometh not and no pain.

The mansions, in high holy places,
Will be shared by the friends that we love,
And bright eyes and fair shining faces
Will welcome the weary above.
And my heart looking up thrills with pleasure
As I dream of that city so fair,
Oh, there is my home and my treasure,
And the love of my heart is all there.

The Educational Outlook

Never were there brighter prospects before our educational workers than today. Our youth have heard the rallying call and are laying plans to fill the schools. A school can have no greater asset in its work of soliciting students than a corps of satisfied, enthusiastic young people who know from experience the benefits to be derived from actual attendance. Both the College and our academies have an army of such volunteers—each an active recruiting officer.

I write this just as I am leaving the Indiana camp meeting. Nearly every young person upon the grounds was wearing a badge bearing the significant letters "E. M. C." or the equally familiar word "Beechwood."

Interest in the church school work is growing throughout the Union. Every conference is planning from one to three or four new schools this year. For a time it seemed that it would be impossible to secure teachers to carry on these new schools together with the one hundred already established. This difficulty has been overcome and we confidently look toward a substantial increase in the number of church schools this coming year.

Arrangements have been made with the publishers of the new text-books adopted by the General Educational Department so that a liberal exchange discount will be allowed. These new texts and the grade in which they are to be used may be ascertained by reference to the Educational Number of the LAKE UNION HERALD. All texts offered for exchange must, of course, have been used in the same grade as the new book. Order your books from the tract society as usual, simply stating what books you have to exchange, and send these old copies direct to Review and Herald, South Bend, Ind. It would save expense if all the old books in one school could be collected and made into one shipment to South Bend.

Not least among the encouraging prospects is the spirit of unity and hearty cooperation among the various schools in the Union and their supporters. This spirit of seeking to unify our educational work was given a great impetus at the St. Helena council and subsequent conventions. In this connection, I am sure all will read with pleasure and satisfaction the article from Professor A. W. Hallock, principal of the Walderly School in Northern Wisconsin, found on another page in this issue. It is a matter of great satisfaction that this school is to line up with all our other schools in the matter of courses of study, terms of work, etc. The president of the Union, the president of the College, and the writer had the privilege of visiting the school recently during a meeting of the board of control. For two days all united heartily in considering the problems confronting this school which is pioneering its way, and in seeking a solution. There is surely room in the great state of Wisconsin, with its many hundreds of young people, for both Bethel and Walderly, the one in the center, the other in the north, and we confidently expect that each will be filled with students this year.

It is almost time for our schools to open. Dear brethren and sisters, remember these schools at the throne of grace. Our teachers need your support, your cooperation, and your prayers. Let all unite to make the year 1915-16 the banner year in our educational work in the Lake Union Conference, not only in number of schools and in enrollment, but in general efficiency and increased spirituality.

C. A. RUSSELL

The 144,000

"And I heard the number of them which were sealed, 144,000, out of every tribe of the children of Israel." Rev. 7:4 (Revised Version). A list of the tribal names follows. These are the identical names written on the gates of the New Jerusalem. All the redeemed host will enter the city with the twelve tribes of Israel through their respective gates, unitedly constituting the true Israel of God.

The scene of this prophecy is laid in the last days, and this company is redeemed, or purchased, not from among the dead, but from among living men. They are the first fruits unto God and the Lamb in that they are the only living saints on earth who have passed the test of the judgment, and have been accepted, never to die. Their eternal life in fact commenced at the close of probation. That of the sleeping saints will commence afterwards at the general resurrection. Those of the 144,000 who had fallen asleep under the sealing message will be specially raised to life exactly like their waiting brethren before Christ comes. They will not then be made alive like the sleeping saints, but will only be made immortal. From the close of probation till Christ comes they are the first and only living fruits of salvation in the harvest at the end of the world. Not one of the saints will die after the close of probation.

Office Address, 1214 Madison Ave., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Resolutions

1. We, the West Michigan Conference assembled in annual session deem it very fitting to thank God for His guiding hand in all departments of our work during the past year and especially for the harvest of souls which has been gathered, and we do hereby pledge our individual and united efforts to more rapidly spread the message in the future.

Believing that civil and religious freedom can only be guaranteed as long as there exists an absolute separation of church and state, and that Sunday laws abridge the free exercise of religion; therefore,—

2. Resolved, That we continue to protest against the enactment of laws by civil government for the compulsory observance of Sunday, or any other religious enactment which discriminates between the different sects as being contrary to the gospel plan and a departure from the fundamental principles of the mails beyond existing statutes.

Whereas the Liberty Magazine has done effective work among state legislatures, executive officers, and judges of state courts, in moulding sentiment against religious legislation and the enforcement of Sunday laws; therefore,—

3. Resolved, That our conference continue to supply the Liberty Magazine to the members of the state legislatures, the Governor and his cabinet and the state supreme and circuit court judges, and that the necessary expense involved in this item be taken out of the annual collection for local religious liberty work.

Whereas "The advocates of temperance fail to do their whole duty unless they exert their influence, by precept and example, by voice and pen and vote, in behalf of prohibition and total abstinence;" therefore,—

4. Resolved, That this question receive due attention and that our people everywhere prepare for united and effective action whenever the question of prohibition of the liquor traffic shall be submitted to a vote of the people in the respective communities where they reside, and that our people be encouraged to circulate our splendid temperance literature on this subject.

Resolved, That we place ourselves on record as favoring the national prohibition of the liquor traffic as the most effective measure for the elimination of this national curse.

5. We urge our Sabbath school officers to keep the needs of the field ever before their schools and to do their utmost to raise fifteen cents a week per member through the medium of the Sabbath schools.

6. In recognition of the good work of our colporteurs we extend to them as a conference our Christian encouragement, and recommend to our brethren and sisters in our churches that they make these workers a subject of their prayers, and extend to them the hospitality of their homes when working in their neighborhoods. And, further, that persons of ability and sound Christian experience be encouraged to make this a life work.

7. Resolved, That we continue our efforts along home missionary lines, by selling and giving away literature, holding Bible readings and cottage meetings, praying for and ministering to the sick and needy. And, further, not to rest satisfied until every member of all our churches becomes an active missionary, thus joining in the last rallying call, and hastening the coming of Jesus.

8. Resolved, That we endeavor to greatly extend the influences of the coming Harvest Ingathering campaign by assisting every Seventh-day Adventist to engage in this work by means of well organized and directed effort, and that we set our goal at $1.50 per member in this campaign, and that each worker spend ten days in active service.

9. Resolved, That we favor the plan of soliciting help from every church and member in the conference in order to clear all of our West Michigan Conference debts during the present year and that we fully endorse the policy of staying out of debt by conducting the Lord's business on a cash basis.

10. We recommend, That in places where we have both a church missionary society and a M. V. Society the leader and secretary of the M. V. Society become the assistant leader and assistant secretary of the church missionary society; and that in those churches where there are too few young people to form a Missionary Volunteer Society the young people shall have a secretary who shall report the work of the young people to the conference M. V. secretary. In arranging for the meetings the following plans may be used: (1) The program of the combined meeting to be arranged so as to include some feature of the Missionary Volunteer programs. (2) If the majority in the combined society is young people, the society may be a regular Missionary Volunteer Society, and the adult members report to the church missionary secretary. (3) It may be arranged for each society to have charge of the meetings each alternate week.

11. We recommend, That earnest efforts be made to increase the efficiency of our young people in personal work, (a) by placing the leaflet "Personal Work" in the hands of every active Missionary Volunteer. (b) By recommending a choice list of books on personal evangelism for the instruction of those who desire to learn to win souls. (c) By making the prayer and personal workers' bands in the local society, school, and camp meeting of major importance, giving special attention to the selection of the leaders and members, and arranging time for band meetings for prayer and the study of methods.

12. We urge the young people to remember that, as church members, they have a responsibility to help make the general church missionary meetings and the church prayer meetings a success.

Whereas our primary schools, academies, and College have been the means under God of saving many of our children and youth from being swept into the tide of worldliness and lost to the cause of God, we earnestly

13. Recommend, That a special study be made of "Counsels to Teachers," Vol. 6, and "Education." And we urge our people to carry out this instruction to the point of real sacrifice that the heritage whom God has given us may be saved to the finishing of the work.

14. We recommend, That our church school boards take under advisement the sanitary conditions under which the school is being conducted, especially regarding the lighting, heating, ventilation, toilet conveniences, and general surrounding, with a view to reaching a higher standard in these essentials.

Whereas the times demand more earnest efforts to reach the people with our subscription books, and whereas the needs demand large numbers of our best talent to do this work; therefore,—

15. We recommend, That each conference worker and church officer make a definite effort to encourage one or more from each church to enter the work this fall for a Christmas delivery, and that an institute be held for ten days beginning October 1 for the training of these workers. And further, we now ask for invitations from some church who will provide entertainment as far as possible for such an institute.

16. Resolved, That we express our sincere thanks to the Fair Ground Association, the Commercial Club of Charlotte, and to the Press for the kindness and courtesies shown in our behalf.

Harvest Ingathering

The time for beginning the annual Harvest Ingathering for missions has been fixed for October 3. As usual the first supply of papers will be sent to the churches direct from the publishers. At the same time a good supply will be sent to the tract society office so that we can furnish additional papers promptly.

Decatur

Because of the interest it seemed not best to leave the work here to attend camp meeting. We closed the tent effort August 25, having held meetings eight weeks. We had a fair attendance and a good interest all through. Two accepted the truth. One of these had been a member of the Methodist Church fifty years. He rejoices now in present truth.

We have a Sabbath school of thirteen members.

The church building is being repaired. When this work is completed the meetings will be resumed.

U. S. ANDERSON

Albion

Last Sabbath two who were baptized at camp meeting united with the church at this place. Others expect to join a little later. In all, seven have taken a positive stand for the truth here this summer. There are others who seem very much interested.

We are planning to hold Sabbath and Sunday evening services in a hall, and during the week there will be cottage meetings in different parts of the town.

The church at this place is alive and active. The members have done much to help by prayer and example. We believe that the Lord will continue to bless His work in Albion.

CLINTON W. LEE

Colporteurs' Convention

The cordial invitation so kindly extended by the Battle Creek church to hold a ten days' institute at the Tabernacle has been gladly accepted. It will begin Friday the first day of October and last ten days. A large number have expressed themselves as desirous of attending. We wish to urge that all whom God is calling to this work and expect to dedicate their lives to the giving of the message avail themselves of this special occasion. This institute is designed primarily for those of little or no experience and not for those who are established in the work. Board and lodging will be free; car fare will be refunded to and from the institute by allowing an additional five per cent on the profits as soon as $125 worth of books has been sold and delivered.

E. M. FISHELL

Notice

There will be a general meeting held at Bauer on Sabbath, September 11. We cordially invite all our people of the Bauer and Allendale churches and our isolated brethren and sisters in those parts of Ottawa and Kent Counties to attend this meeting of God's people. The first meeting will be held Friday evening at seven o'clock. Sabbath school will convene at 9:30 A. M. Services both forenoon and afternoon. Those from a distance will please bring lunch.

W. REEFMAN, Dist. Sup't

Harvest Ingathering

October 3-15, 1915

Again we are drawing near the time of the great annual effort for missions. Never before has there been a time when the needs of the field cry out as at the present for a faithful effort on the part of each child of God.

By concerted action last year we increased the proceeds of the campaign to nearly three times the amount of the previous year, gathering a little more than $2,200.

By vote of the delegates at the camp meeting we have pledged ourselves to raise at least three thousand dollars during this fall's campaign. To make this sure we need the active cooperation of each member throughout the conference. To secure this concerted action the conference committee has arranged for workers to visit and assist the churches as shown below. Each worker will arrange the time for visiting each church. However, if for any cause the worker does not call at your church you will obtain a great blessing by going forward with the work under the direction of the local elder and librarian.

I have confidence in the success of this effort because I have confidence in the people composing the East Michigan Conference.

Lansing

Sabbath, Aug. 28, was another good day for the Lansing company. We were favored in having with us Sister Mc Kee of Grand Rapids. She occupied the morning hour in relating personal experiences with God in establishing her home for girls. It is encouraging to hear how God leads those who put all their trust in Him. Another very helpful talk was given by Sister Mc Kee to the young people in their meeting. Just before this meeting we held a baptismal service and five in this way united their interests with this movement. Still more are coming. Next week we expect to begin Sunday evening services and look for a good attendance. Pray for the work here.

B. L. POST

On July 18 we opened our tent meetings at this place. There has been much rain and cold weather but we have had a good attendance most of the time. This is a railroad center and there is a large Catholic element but God has a few people at this place. Five have begun to keep the Sabbath and others are studying the truth. We have rented a hall where meetings will be held twice a week.

We have now pitched our tent at Byron, six miles from Durand, and the outlook is good for a splendid interest. As far as we can find out no work has been done here before. We solicit your prayers in behalf of our work.

Camp Meeting

The meeting, at this writing, September 2, is in session at Mt. Pleasant. The weather has been quite cool, but aside from this, it has been very favorable. There have been no storms to molest us, and the blessing of God seems to be with the camp. There are more encamped upon the grounds this year than we have had before. There are in all eighty-three tents, and the pavilion is filled with our people at practically every meeting. A good interest is manifested by the people of the city, and we look for good results from the meeting.

The officers were reelected for the ensuing year, and plans are being laid for a forward movement in the conference this fall and winter.

The offering for missions was taken Wednesday, and notwithstanding the fact of the depressing influence of the heavy frost that has visited North Michigan, over $1,300 was given to the cause.

Brethren F. E. Fenner and E. A. Piper were ordained to the work of the gospel ministry.

We have been favored with the presence of Elder A. G. Daniells for a part of two days. The brethren appreciated his words of counsel very much. The ministers outside of the conference who have taken an active part in the meetings are Elders Daniells, Christian, Langdon, and Wakeham, Professor Russell, and Brethren Blosser and Mace.

A goodly number of young people are here and an active interest has been taken in the work.

J. J. IRWIN

Estey and Star City

I had the privilege of visiting Estey in company with Brother Fenner, August 12-16. This is a company that Brother Fenner raised up last winter and spring, and I was well pleased to see the interest they are taking in the different lines of work. After counseling over the matter it was decided to organize this company into a church. A full set of officers were elected and all seem of good courage. We look for a good, strong work to be accomplished there. There were twenty-six members taken in, and some others expect to join soon who were not present at the time of the organization.

The next Sabbath and Sunday I met with Brother E. A. Piper, who did some work at Star City, a small place about thirty miles northeast of Cadillac. Here a company having been brought out, it seemed best to organize a church. The brethren are of good courage and are taking hold of the work in a substantial manner. Eighteen were received into church fellowship, and they are planning to do active work the rest of the summer.

I believe these two churches will greatly help in advancing the work of the third angel's message in the earth.

Camp Meeting Kindergarten Tent

It measured twenty by thirty and contained eight tables, around which twice each day over fifty children from four to eight years gathered for their meeting. In the afternoon they were taught a lesson, then the morning following they had hand work, the nature of which was to impress the lesson taught the previous day.

Some fruit of this work was visible each day, but eternity alone will reveal the influence of such training.

The first lesson was, "How to Keep the Sabbath." To impress this lesson, they made a paper meeting-house dovetailed neatly together. This was to remind them of the Sabbath duty—to attend Sabbath school.

At the last meeting, they were made happy by receiving booklets made up of cards upon which they had sewed lesson-reminders. Even these small children caught the missionary spirit and brought their offerings daily.

Walderly School

It has been felt for sometime that there is too much division of sentiment among the brethren and sisters in the state of Wisconsin over educational matters. Many have seemed to look at the points of difference between Bethel and Walderly schools instead of appreciating their great oneness of purpose.

An effort was made at the time of the board meeting, held at Walderly School, August 19 and 20, to get rid of the cause of this factional feeling. The president of the Union Conference, the Union educational secretary, president of Emmanuel Missionary College, and the Walderly teachers were invited to meet with the board and carefully study the situation.

Our study together was an agreeable one, and we were able to find a satisfactory basis for future cooperation. Walderly School has adopted the outline of studies recommended at the educational conventions of the North American Division Conference held this summer. It will conduct school during the same nine months of the year in which the other schools are conducted, and devote the same amount of time to the study of each of the various branches. Its industries will be maintained and strengthened, and as much opportunity as possible will be given during the summer for students, in association with their teachers, to work out the problems of the school, and at the same time take some class work and accumulate a financial credit for the winter school.

The conference committee will use its influence in helping the school financially. It began by leaving with the manager of the school a check for $200 to be used in completing the Boys' Home now being erected.

In all our school work we have one worthy and controlling purpose. It is that of assisting young men and women in their efforts to become brave, sacrificing workers for God in His gathering out of the world the last great army of loyal hearted subjects.

A. W. HALLOCK

Notice

Sister Bertha R. Wohlers, chosen for conference educational and young people's secretary, has laid down this work to connect with the Bethel Academy faculty, of which her husband had already become a member. Prof. G. R. Fattic has been selected to fill this vacancy.

It is much to be regretted that it should be found necessary for Sister Wohlers to discontinue the educational and young people's secretaryship at this time, but as she is so well and favorably known throughout the conference, this will be a most valuable help to the work of the academy.

The Wisconsin Conference will surely consider themselves fortunate in securing the efficient services of Professor Fattic. Brother Fattic is not a stranger to the people of Wisconsin, having taught three years in the Bethel Academy. For several years in the immediate past he has been connected with the Southern Training School located at Graysville, Tenn. Professor Fattic's training in our denominational schools, both as pupil and teacher, his experience in field work, together with his unbounded love and enthusiasm for the training of our youth for service, thoroughly qualify him for the grave responsibility of this important office.

I bespeak for Brother Fattic the hearty cooperation and prayers of all the Wisconsin people.

All communications intended for this department should be addressed to G. R. Fattic, Room 305, Ruh Bldg., Fond du Lac, Wis. P. A. HANSON

To Our Churches

In taking up the work in the Wisconsin Conference, I find it quite impossible to visit all the young people's societies and church schools before the opening of the schools in September. I most sincerely trust, however, that the education of the children in this conference is not being neglected, and that wherever there are enough young people to make it possible for the organization of a church school where they may be given a Christian training, an effort is being put forth to organize one.

If we believe what we profess, the time is close upon us when the only asset that we can carry with us will be our children. Nothing else can go into the kingdom with us, and a failure on our part to provide a shelter for them in this time of storm means too much. I wish to appeal to our brethren and sisters in the Wisconsin Conference to make every effort in their power to give their boys and girls an opportunity to attend a Christian school this coming winter.

The public schools are opening now, and it will be impossible for me to meet all our churches and plan with them before the opening of school; but if I can be of any service to you in any way in planning for your children, please advise me at once, and feel free to ask for any help that I might be able to give you.

Brother Hanson and I have just finished a short itinerary, including Bethel, Marshfield, Oneida, and Green Bay, and are glad to report live interest in the various departments of our work in these places.

G. R. FATTIC

A Change

When it was decided to move the conference headquarters to Fond du Lac, the committee voted that all the conference offices be located there, rather than in various parts of the state. Mr. Wohlers was already connected with the academy here at Bethel and as there was still one member to be supplied to the faculty the committee voted to release me from the conference work. This is much more satisfactory as it would have been very inconvenient to have carried on the other work from here. BERTHA R. WOHLERS

News Item

Elder Hanson just returned to the office, having had Sabbath service with the New Franken church, leaving them of good courage. Together with Professor Fattic, our new educational secretary, he spent a couple of days with our Indian brethren at Oneida.

Oh, let us fill our hearts up with the glory of the day,
And banish every doubt and care and worry far away!

For the world is full of roses, and the roses full of dew,

And the dew is full of heavenly love that drips for me and you.

—James Whitcomb Riley

"There is no argument equal to a happy smile."

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22: 6.

"Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?" Jer. 13: 20.

Only the serene soul is strong. Every moment of worry weakens the soul for its daily combat. Worry is an infirmity; there is no virtue in it. Worry is spiritual near-sightedness; a fumbling way of looking at little things, and of magnifying their value. To Mothers

Speak gently to the children, nor wound
the tender heart,
The time may not be distant when you and they must part;
So just forget the worries and the battles
you've to fight,
And in the quiet evening kiss them a warm
"Good night."

They too are swiftly nearing the battlefield
of life;
And lest they should be worsted in the fight
of sin and strife,
Oh, gird them with the armor of a mother's perfect love—
A shining pure example of faith in God above.

Ah! then the recollection of a mother's tender care,
May smooth life's rugged pathway, may save from many a snare,
And in the hush of even, as in the days of yore,
In fond imagination they'll feel your kiss once more.

'Twill cool the burning forehead, 'twill raise their thoughts to God,
When the loving lips that gave it are cold
beneath the sod;
The hardest heart will soften, the tear-
dimmed eyes grow bright,
At childhood's happy memories, and a mother's sweet "good night."

A Nice Exercise for the Children

The September Worker, in connection with the lesson notes for the review lesson, gives this exercise which can be conducted in any school, and which will be of great interest and of much value. It is suggested that one pupil learn the stanzas, and that the classes may repeat the memory verses in concert as each question is asked. Here is an example which will enable everyone to understand the exercise:

"There are two sides, and only two—

The right and wrong—the false and true.

When a man dwells on Satan's side,

How can he with the Lord abide?"

Memory Verse: "He that is not with me is against me." Matt. 12: 30.

Not only do the stanzas ask an appropriate question on the memory verses, but they teach a lesson in themselves. We hope every school will use these memory verse cards on review day.

Now Is the Time

We are sure that the students, teachers, and patrons of the College are watching with interest the reports of the $5,000 Fund in the HERALD from week to week. This is the harvest of the year. The canvassers are delivering their books, the farmers are gathering their crops. This is the time when we begin to plan our requirements for the winter.

The next two issues of the HERALD will doubtless report most of the money which has been pledged by the students. If we are to reach our $5,000 goal by the first of January, and we certainly must, the field must be more thoroughly permeated with the student movement spirit. Some have had excellent success soliciting. Everyone takes it as a matter of course that the debt must be paid, and that it is only a question of how much each individual is able to do, because each one intends to do something.

Now is the time, before you return to school, to speak to that relative or friend whom you know has money and might just as well as not help in this worthy cause. There is nothing that can defeat a just cause when it is prompted by the Spirit of the Lord and backed up by the efforts of a united people.

College

School opens September 15.

Prospects are good for a large attendance.

On the Indiana camp ground, at Indianapolis, Emmanuel Missionary College interests were well represented. The student canvassers from the College gave excellent reports of their work during the summer, and spoke of Emmanuel Missionary College as being the place where they had gotten their inspiration to go into the work.

Two hundred twenty-five subscriptions for the Student Movement were secured on the Indiana camp ground.

Cash and pledges to the amount of $279.75 were secured to apply on the $5,000 goal at the Indianapolis camp meeting.

About twenty prospective students for Emmanuel Missionary College were at the Indiana camp meeting.

The new bake-room is nearing completion. It is an addition to the Ladies' Dormitory.

Five workers are engaged in the painting crew who are rapidly improving the appearance of the rooms in North Hall.

Mr. Alvin Goff of Holly, Mich., has arrived and begun work in the painting department. He will enter school September 15.

Mr. Lynden Babcock of Darby, Montana, is working on the College grounds, and expects to enter school this year.

Mr. Arthur Jennings of Brantford, Ontario, Canada, has arrived and will enter school later in the year.

Mr. Groves writes: "I am still canvassing hard with one eye on my customer and the other toward E. M. C. The Lord has blessed me with about $500 worth of sales, and I am praying that good results may come from the books I am placing in the homes."

Katherine Smith.—"Last week was a strenuous week of delivery, my first one. It might have turned out better for me, but I am thankful for the way in which the Lord blessed. We had floods, mud, rain, and washouts to compete with, but I made it; and there is always a greater triumph for great obstacles overcome."

Edna Fitton.—"I like canvassing much better than I ever expected to. Before school closed I dreaded the work so much that I could not sleep if I let my mind dwell on it beforehand. But now I am planning on canvassing next summer again—perhaps in the Lake Union. I am sure my summer's experience will be of great value to me another year, and, as they all say, "I would not have missed it for anything."

The Power of Cheerfulness

Give us, O give us the man who sings at his work! Be his occupation what it may, he is equal to any of those who follow the same pursuit in silent sullenness. He will do more in the same time—he will do it better—he will persevere longer. One is scarcely sensible of fatigue whilst he marches to music. The very stars are said to make harmony as they revolve in their spheres. Wondrous is the strength of cheerfulness, altogether past calculation its powers of endurance. Efforts to be permanently useful must be uniformly joyous—a spirit all sunshine—graceful from very gladness—beautiful because bright.—Thomas Carlyle
