Burdens

We all must bear them. Vain regret
Love's longing for some dear lost face
Which even sleep cannot forget,
Or yet the coming years replace;
The disappointment all must know,
When hope's mirage proves but a dream,
The finding Marah's waters flow
Where tempting wayside fountains gleam.

We all must bear them. Some may smile,
And hide their burden in a song;
And others may be silent while
They learn to suffer and grow strong.
We find no balm in Gilead's vale,
No recompense for pain and loss,
And oft our weary efforts fail
To lift the pressure of the cross.

We must all bear them. Why despair?
The wine-press is not trod alone.
The promise is, that He will care,
As doth a father, for His own.
Our burdens may become our wings,
For underneath, His arms will be;
And through our sighing sweetly rings,
"Sufficient is My Grace for thee."

—Selected.

Importance and Joy of Service

"Ye are my friends if ye do whatsoever I command you." John 15:14. The tendency is to accept this promise and claim the blessings because we do a few specific acts that please us, while we may completely and entirely overlook its application to those phases of Christian life that are less pleasing and more self-sacrificing. We do well to keep in mind the "whatever." This same standard applies to all. There is no respect of persons with God. He has appointed to every man his work. "For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother." Matt. 12:50.

"In the great judgment day those who have not worked for Christ, those who have drifted along, carrying no responsibility, thinking of themselves, pleasing themselves, will be placed by the Judge of all the earth with those who did evil. They receive the same condemnation.

"Many who profess to be Christians neglect the claims of God, and yet they do not feel that in this there is any wrong. They know that the blasphemer, the murderer, the adulterer, deserves punishment; but as for them, they enjoy the services of religion. They love to hear the gospel preached, and therefore, they think themselves Christians. Though they have spent their lives in caring for themselves, they will be as much surprised as was the unfaithful servant in the parable to hear the sentence, 'Take the talent from him.' Like the Jews, they mistake the enjoyment of their blessings for the use they should make of them.

"Many who excuse themselves from Christian effort plead their inability for the work. But did God make them incapable? No, never. This inability has been produced by their own inactivity, and perpetuated by their deliberate choice."—"Christ's Object Lessons," page 385.

From the very beginning it has been God's plan to associate man with Himself in the great plan of redemption. "Laborers together with God," and there is to be no change in the plan, even in the last days. "Go ye . . . and I will be with you." "Go ye." It does not say, go Mr. Scholar, go Mr. Good-talker, or Mr. Not-afraid. No, but "go ye." This is addressed to each one of us personally. This important point must be grasped by all who would become true followers of Christ. No true joy can be known apart from Christian service.

"In our life here, earthly, sin-restricted, though it is, the greatest joy and the highest education are in service. And in the future state, untrammelled by the limitations of sinful humanity, it is in service that our greatest joy and our highest education will be found;—witnessing, and ever as we witness learning anew 'the riches of the glory of this mystery;' 'which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.' "—"Education," page 309."

"God expects personal service from every one to whom He has entrusted a knowledge of the truth for this time."—"Testimonies for the Church," Vol. IX, page 30.

"Those who do not impart the light they have received will one day realize that they have sustained a fearful loss." Id., page 32. Shall we not—every one—enter into a fuller, deeper consecration to God, and put forth the same untiring, unflagging zeal in behalf of the lost that Christ brought into His labors.

Ellen G. White Memorial Hospital

In the time of great need in the work of the Lord women have often acted an important part in helping to sustain the cause of God in the earth.

Some women, as Esther and Jael, have even risked their lives in a time of a crisis and turned the tide of victory toward the cause of God. Esther 4:15-17; Judges 5:24-27.

During the Saviour's earthly ministry, women are the only ones mentioned as contributing to His temporal needs. The names of three of this noble band are given, but the record states there were "many others" who were united in this good work. Luke 8:2, 3. Why are these women and the work they did mentioned if it is not to teach us a lesson?

At the present time when the needs of the cause are so great, it is only in harmony with the history of God's people in the past that the women should arouse and assist in the responsibility of lifting heavy financial burdens.

The women of our denomination have been invited by the North American Division to take an active part in securing money necessary to more fully equip our medical school.

The facilities of our Loma Linda Medical College must be increased if we place the school where it will meet the needs of the hour. The home and foreign fields need hundreds of godly physicians that can take the truth into the homes of the better class in our large cities, as well as to offer the gospel to the heathen.

We cannot hope to educate physicians in the schools of the world, who will be soul-winners for God. We must have a medical school of our own where all who wish to become medical missionaries can obtain their medical education from godly physicians, surrounded by Christian influences.

The servant of the Lord has said, "The medical school at Loma Linda is to be of the highest order, because we have a living connection with the wisest of all physicians, from whom there is communicated knowledge of a superior order. And whatever subjects are required as essential in the schools conducted by those not of our faith, we are to supply, so that our youth need not go to these worldly schools. Thus we shall close the door that the enemy would be pleased to have left open; and our young men and young women, whom the Lord would have us guard religiously, will not need to connect with the worldly medical schools conducted by unbelievers."

In order that our medical students receive proper advantages, we need a hospital in a large city where there are many poor people to be treated. It was decided at the Loma Linda Council last fall that this hospital and dispensary should be built in Los Angeles at an estimated cost of $61,000. A dormitory is also needed where our medical students can live while taking the last two years of their medical course.

During the last few years of the life of Sister E. G. White, she carried a heavy burden on her heart for the Loma Linda Medical College; for this reason it has been suggested that the new hospital be called "The Ellen G. White Memorial Hospital." It is fitting that our sisters should take an active part in erecting a memorial to our beloved sister.

Let every woman in the Seventh-day Adventist denomination feel that she, individually, has a part in this work. There are few who cannot, with a little careful thought and economy, make a liberal offering to the Ellen G. White Memorial Hospital. There is no other place where our offerings multiply so many fold as when we invest them in our educational institutions where workers are trained to go out as soul-winners into the great harvest field of the world.

You will never regret the sacrifice you may make in order to help furnish the facilities for training an army of medical missionary workers to act an important part in the closing work.

Mrs. S. N. HASKELL,
Chairman of the Woman's Committee,
South Lancaster, Mass.

A Victorious Defeat

Now that is a strange kind of victory, is it not? But it is the very kind every one who enlists in the great army of Prince Immanuel will have, for that is the kind He always was having, and it was the kind He tried to teach His disciples to look and work for. Here are His words, "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground it abideth alone, but if it die it bringeth forth much fruit. He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal." John 12:24, 25. The life of the Saviour was looked upon as a failure by the world, and His death an ignominious defeat. The enemy had pictured to Him a wonderful victory in receiving from him all the kingdoms of this world and their glory, but Christ turned away from that kind of a victory and took the path that led directly to the cross, and all, even His own disciples were disappointed in Him, but in the sight of heaven His was a gloriously victorious life and death. Eternal realities were before Him and the results of His victory will be seen throughout eternity, and He will be lauded as a great general. "Worthy, worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive glory and honor" will be the chorus that will make heaven's arches ring. He bids us "follow Him."

Often the apostles and reformers were brought face to face with what seemed defeat. The work of Paul and Silas in Macedonia was brought to what seemed a sudden end by their being cast into prison, but this was only the signal for success in the conversion of the jailor and his household. The death of Huss, Jerome, and other martyrs, seemed like defeat to the cause of God, but in reality it was the seed sowing that later brought forth fruit in the Reformation of the sixteenth century.

I have been watching the reports of the colporteurs from week to week, and rejoice with you in the number of books that are being placed in the homes of the people, and the wonderful success of many who are engaged in this work. I have been thinking mostly about those who have been gaining a glorious victory by being faithful when orders were not coming their way very fast. It is a wonderful victory to be able to place these books into the homes when the work is opposed by all the hosts of darkness; but to the individual who presses forward in his work when these material encouragements are not in evidence, his is a victory that heaven prizes very highly. I will quote a part of a letter from one of our colporteurs who has been gaining just such a victory. He has had years of experience in this work and been very successful in placing the books into homes, but he has as you will see gained a victory in his own personal experience that none but those who have had similar experiences will appreciate. The letter was written to one of our field secretaries. No doubt many have had like experiences, and they, too, will appreciate the letter. Some may not have gotten the victory out of their experiences as this young man has, but it may be had by faith, and faith only.

"Just now Job's experience is a great comfort to me. After a strenuous two days, or rather three days in the hot sun the past week, I felt just a little hard toward God. Then the thought flashed into my mind, 'don't feel hard towards the Father; He has a hard time getting into these people's hearts, too.' I then began to read Job; and when I read his wonderful words, 'Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him,' tears sprang to my eyes, and repentance to my troubled heart. Why God withholds the success He knows I need is something I am going to stop trying to solve. I will work hard and pray and trust."

"This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith."
J. B. BLOSSER

Examine Yourselves

"Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves." 2 Cor. 13:5.

How may we examine ourselves, and by what means may we know if we are in the faith? There may be more than one answer to this question, but the Scriptures give us one way of testing the reality of our profession which is worthy of study.

"Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. Wherefore, by their fruits ye shall know them." Matt. 7:17, 20.

It is by the outward actions of the daily life that the inward conversion will be manifested. The life of the true believer is summed up in these words. "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." Gal. 2:20.

If Christ lives in a person, the life of that person will be like the life Christ lived when on earth. "He that saith he abideth in Him ought himself also so to walk; even as He walked." 1 John 2:6. The great aim and purpose of Christ's life was the salvation of sinners, the winning of souls for His kingdom. This will be the purpose of all who love Jesus.

"All who receive the gospel message into the heart will long to proclaim it. The heaven-born love of Christ must find expression It is unnatural for any to keep these things secret, and those who are filled with the love of Christ will not do so. In proportion as the Lord has made them the depositaries of sacred truth will be their desire that others shall receive the same blessing."—"Christ's Object Lessons," page 125.

These statements make plain one way by which we may examine ourselves. Let us take our Morning Watch Calendar, and carefully note down all we have done during the past day to make known to others the love of Christ and the last message connected with His second coming. As we put these things down, and see what proportion of our thought and time has been given to soul-winning work, we will better realize what is our real spiritual standing. This is doubtless why the Lord has led to the connection of the reporting system with our missionary work. He knows human hearts and their need of something that will help them to know if the love of Christ is really working in and through them. It is so easy for us to deceive ourselves and think we are all right when we are really far from God.

I would therefore urge all our people to try this plan of daily noting down in the Morning Watch Calendar the home missionary work they do, and when it is set down, of laying it before God, and praying that the efforts that have been made, small though they may be, may be used by Him in His great work for souls. This habit has been cultivated by some, and they say it is a continual inspiration to them. It has increased their love for God and for perishing souls. What it has done for some it will do for all who will follow the plan.

News Notes

By the time this reaches you, it will be only one week until camp meeting opens. We are shipping the tents and camp meeting outfit to Cadillac this week.

Workers' meeting begins the 14th, and we will have everything ready for the opening day, August 24.

Many orders are coming in for tents, and everything indicates that we are going to have a large camp meeting this year. If you have neglected to order your tent and supplies, do so at once, for we want to have enough tents pitched to accommodate all. Advanced orders receive first attention. Order at once and everything will be ready for you when you arrive on the camp grounds.

We have a good location on the fair grounds, and the board of commerce in Cadillac is doing everything possible to make things convenient for the campers. Bring plenty of bedding and warm wraps so as to be prepared for any changes in the weather.

Those coming to the camp meeting by way of the G. R. & I. should make inquiries of their agent and conductor with reference to the discharge and receiving of passengers at the fair grounds. They should also make arrangements to have their baggage put off, as we are negotiating with the G. R. & I. company to favor us with this accommodation. Even though we should fail to secure this courtesy, arrangements have been made for the transportation of passengers and baggage from the depots to the camp ground.

As stated in last week's paper, Sister Augusta Blosser has been called to take up the Educational and Missionary Volunteer work in the Northern Illinois Conference. Miss Carolyn Rasmusson, who has been working in the Indiana Conference, will fill the vacancy here. Our prayers and good wishes go with Miss Blosser, and as Sister Rasmusson is a native of North Michigan, we are glad to welcome her back to this conference.

Niles

It has been some time since we have reported the work in Niles. We are glad to be able to send a cheering report at this time. We began meetings here the 30th of June. It was hard at first to get the people to attend our services, but the Lord helped us, and our congregation has been steadily increasing. Last evening, August 6, we had our largest attendance, there being about one hundred fifty present. Three ministers of other denominations were also present. The subject was "Who Changed the Sabbath." We have a large number who attend regularly and who are much interested. Miss Francis Goodwyn is holding Bible readings with several.

U. S. ANDERSON AND FAMILY

Benton Harbor

We are still in Benton Harbor and our courage is good. On Sunday, July 30, our little company went to Paw Paw Lake for a Sabbath school picnic, after which we assembled at the lake shore and witnessed three dear souls buried with their Lord in baptism. There were a number of spectators, some in boats, and close attention was given during the ceremony. We are striving with the help of God, to be faithful in sowing the seed, and we trust God to water it.

Rothbury and Shelby

Sabbath, July 1, was a day of many blessings. The Shelby church was invited to unite with the Rothbury church for quarterly services. Elder and Mrs. W. C. Hebner of Benton Harbor, also Elder Reefman were present. A large number of our people attended and we all enjoyed the services. While at Shelby, Elder Hebner baptized one sister who united with the church there. Such occasions as this are very much appreciated.

News from the German Tent at Milwaukee

We are glad to report that the angels of the Lord have encamped around us. Although the evil one has tried in different ways to disturb our meetings and brake up the interest. God has overruled. We have found favor with the police, and they see that things are quiet around the tent during the meetings. We presented the Sabbath truths the past week. The attendance has been very good and many have been coming regularly. We believe that about twelve will take their stand for the truth soon. We solicit the prayers of all in behalf of the work here.

G. P. GAEDE

Lena

July 28 to 30 I met with the Lena church. Some of the Oconto brethren were also present. German and English services were held and all were well attended. Sabbath afternoon four precious souls were baptized, and others will be soon. All are of good courage, and working together for the salvation of souls. Surely God's spirit is preparing the hearts of His people for that great day when our blessed Redeemer shall return to receive His precious jewels.

Jackson

Sabbath, July 29, I baptized eighteen adults and took seventeen new members into the church. Those baptized were all new converts but one, and that one was a re-baptism. This was the fruit of my Sunday night meetings during the winter and spring months. I have been faithfully assisted by Miss Katherine Dunham, a Bible worker. There are several others who are not quite ready, that I hope to baptize soon. The work here is very encouraging, and we give to the Lord all the praise.

News Notes

Notwithstanding the unfavorable effects of storm and wind, our canvassers are sending in encouraging reports. Some have perplexities to meet in their work but they are pushing ahead.

Old friends and acquaintances were glad to see Elder and Mrs. Guthrie, who were here a couple of days the first of last week.

Professor Steen and Miss Carmichel went to Berrien Springs to attend the convention there.

We are glad to see our people taking hold of the plan to send the Present Truth Series to friends and relatives. Some have already sent in lists, but many more should bestir themselves and think of those to whom this series should be sent.

Several besides those taking the senior reading course are reading that most valuable new book "History of the Waldenses."

Walderly

July 25 and 26, in company with the other members of the conference committee, I visited the school at Walderly. This was my first visit and I was much interested in looking over the grounds.

Prof. E. A. von Pohle who has had much experience in our educational work has charge of the school and is working hard to make it a success. He has an earnest band of teachers working with him, and with the prayers and whole hearted support of the brethren and sisters in the conference our young people cannot help being benefitted there.

The teachers are seriously handicapped because they do not have sufficient means to carry on the work of the school as it should be carried on. One serious problem confronting us just now is that of finishing the boys' dormitory. This must be completed before school begins. We do not want to go any farther in debt than we are now, and to those who have means we would say that donations will be very acceptable for our school at this time.

There are a number of young people working there now who are planning to attend school next winter. The prospects are good for a large attendance.

I trust that all our people will remember Walderly in prayer that it may be the means, in the hand of God, of training many young men and women for work in His cause.

News Notes

Prof. H. O. Olsen of the Swedish Seminary called at the office recently. He is visiting our churches to interest prospective students in their school.

Miss Mary Birge of Clearwater Lake has begun the stenographic work in the office.

A. N. Anderson is spending a few days here in the conference office.

H. W. Johnson left this week for Holly, Michigan. He will ship his household goods to Ashland, and bring his family back with him.

Colporteur News

The Lord is blessing the work in North Wisconsin. Every week new and fresh experiences come to the little band of faithful workers in this new field. Here are a few testimonies.

Hugh Brown.—"One day just before dinner I gave two canvasses but received no order. After dinner I started out again and the people I had canvassed called me back and both of them gave me their orders. Friday morning I had one 'Best Stories' I had carried for a week. I knelt down by the roadside and asked the Lord to help me sell it. The next house I came to I sold the book."

Brother Braman.—"I have been greatly blessed the past week. Yesterday a lady asked me to come to her home as she wanted a book. You see the Lord is sending the people my way."

Bertha Jensen.—"I called on one lady who had a

'Great Controversy'. She told me that the minister told her to burn it, but she told him she would not do it, that she liked to read it." Miss Jensen has been canvassing among Catholics.

Bloomington

On August 29 we organized a church in Bloomington with a membership of twenty-one. A full set of officers were elected. Elder E. F. Peterson, our conference president, was with us and presided over the meeting. This church consists largely of members who formerly belonged to the conference church, but some were taken in, on profession of faith. We hope that this church will be a shining light in this city, and that others will be added to it. Pray for the work here.

Field Report

Since sending my last report to the HERALD I have visited Shelbyville, Lovington, Bluford, Maestown, East Alton, and Woodburn. At Shelbyville I held six meetings and celebrated the ordinance of the Lord's house. The weather was extremely hot, but there was a fair attendance of our people, and a few outsiders.

At Lovington I held three meetings and visited every member but one. Our people are very anxious for a series of meetings to be held there.

I spent four days with the church at Bluford and held five meetings, at which there was a full attendance of our people. Most of them are planning to attend the camp meeting.

I next went to Maestown where I held one meeting. The little company at this place have been meeting with great opposition, but they are of good courage and are determined to hold firm to the end.

At East Alton I found a good interest among our people and some outsiders. I held five meetings with them. At the close of the afternoon meeting on Sabbath, July 22, Brother Wildie was ordained as deacon. There are a few here that expect to unite with us soon.

I next stopped at Woodburn. Here the Methodists kindly granted us the use of their church for three nights. The attendance from the outside was not large but a good interest was manifested by all of our people.

Sabbath, the 29th, I was at home again, with the Danville church, and had the privilege of baptising five young people. They were taken into the church.

Baggage

Arrangements have been made with our transfer firm here in the city to make two trips a day to the camp with the incoming baggage. One trip to be made about noon and the other about 5 P. M., on Thursday and Friday, August 24 and 25. We have secured the very low rate of 25 cents per trunk or box. Several of our brethren will be on hand at the interurban and steam railway stations to meet you, and they will be glad to attend to your baggage. Simply hand them your check and they will give you a claim check which you will present at the trunk tent at the camp and receive your baggage. Information as to the location of the trunk tent can be had at the book stand. The brethren meeting the trains will wear badges with "S. D. A. Camp" stamped upon them so that you will easily recognize them. Trunk checks may also be left at the bookstand and those in charge will see that your trunk arrives on the next load. If for any reason you need to have your baggage before the time of the regular trip, it will cost 50 cents per trunk or box.

D. A. BAILEY

The Book Tent

A number of new books have been published since our last camp meeting, and especially those adapted for use in home missionary work. There are also a number of new tracts, and some of these have been arranged in sets or series to be sold at camp meeting only, at reduced prices. You will find a complete stock of all our publications at the book tent, and we want you to visit us early and take advantage of these exceptional offers. Competent and experienced help has been secured to serve you at this time, and we trust you will visit us often and purchase a good supply of literature for use in missionary work this fall. Possibly your song book is nearly worn out, or your Bible, which you have had so long, will have to be replaced by a new one, buy them at camp meeting and receive a discount.

Brother J. W. Mace is planning to be with us for several days, and this means that we shall have some good missionary meetings and new plans will be presented to help you in this important branch of the work.

Remember to visit the book tent early.

On the evening of July 4, 1916 she passed away after one day of illness caused by a stroke of paralysis. She is survived by four children, three sons and one daughter. The funeral was conducted in the Methodist church at Yale, Michigan, and we laid her to rest to await the return of the Life Giver. A. J. CLARK

LUND.—Charles Lund was born in Vermland, Sweden, March 29, 1855, and died at his home in Chicago, Ill., July 16, 1916. He leaves to mourn a wife, one daughter, one son, and three brothers. About thirty-seven years ago he united with the Seventh-day Adventist people. Although Brother Lund passed through some hard trials he was a faithful member of our Swedish church in Chicago, and fell asleep in the hope of a soon coming Saviour. ADOLPH JOHNSON

BENNETT.—Harry Bennett was born in Wilkesbarre, Penn., March 17, 1894, and died near Carterville, Ill., May 1, 1916. Brother Bennett was one of our faithful canvassers for several years, and continued in the work until he was obliged to leave because of failing health. His faith and courage in the Lord was good to the end, and we believe he sleeps in Jesus awaiting that glad morn when he shall come forth clad in immortality. He leaves a wife and one child besides one brother and one sister. Funeral services were conducted at the Herrin church by the writer. C. W. CURTIS

COOPER.—Alice I. Frisbee, daughter of Elder J. B. Frisbee, was born in Washtenaw County, Mich., March 5, 1851. When eleven years of age she was baptized and united with the Seventh-day Adventist church at Battle Creek. In 1873 she was married to Samuel W. Cooper who died eleven years ago. During the last five years of her life she has lived with her only son, Dr. O. R. Cooper, in Berrien Spring, Mich. She remained cheerful during her sickness, and was ready when the summons came.

C. A. RUSSELL

LLOYD.—Wm. Yates Lloyd was born in Birmingham, England, Dec. 8, 1850, and died suddenly after he had apparently recovered from an operation, at Rockford, Ill., July 24, 1916. He was married to Miss Grace T. Robertson in 1874. They accepted present truth in Chicago, thirty years ago, and have ever been true to the cause they loved. The wife and eight children are bereaved of a kind and loving husband and father, but they have bright hopes of his resurrection to life eternal. 1Thes. 4:13-18 comforted their hearts, and was also used to point the large company of sympathizers to a better life. The church here will miss an earnest worker.

E. W. WEBSTER

HALLOCK.—Amy C. Hallock died in Hallock, Michigan, July 10, 1916. At the age of nineteen she was married to B. H. Hallock of Albion, Michigan. Fourteen years of their married life were spent in Eaton County, after which they moved to the vicinity of Gaylord, where they resided for the past forty years. To this union were born five children, one son and four daughters, two of whom are living. Her companion, two daughters, and five grandchildren, besides a host of friends are left to mourn. Sister Hallock accepted the truth in 1868 and has been a faithful member of the Seventh-day Adventist church. She died in the full hope of a soon coming Saviour.

Gorilla or God?

Strange, is it not, that so many choose the first named for their ancestor? Why is it that most people subordinate their better judgement to the visionary theories of evolutionists? Why do they follow "cunningly devised fables" and seemingly prefer to believe a lie, when the Bible so plainly and simply and satisfactorily tells from whence man came and whither he goes? Beautiful thoughts, many of them new, couched in scholarly diction, stamp this article as one of the best pen products of a well known writer. The September Signs Magazine ought to be widely circulated even if this article were the only good reason for it.
