Memories

Let us forget the things that vexed and tried us,
The worrying things that caused our souls to fret;
The hopes that, cherished long, were still denied us,
Let us forget.

Let us forget the little slights that pained us,
The greater wrongs that rankle sometimes yet;
The pride with which some lofty one disdained us,
Let us forget.

Let us forget our brother's fault and failing,
The yielding to temptations that beset,
That he, perchance, though grief be unavailing,
Cannot forget.

But blessings manifold, past all deserving,
Kind words and helpful deeds, a countless throng,
The fault o'ercome, the rectitude unswerving,
Let us remember long.

The sacrifice of love, the generous giving,
When friends were few, the hand clasp warm and strong,
The fragrance of each life of holy living,
Let us remember long.

Whatever things were good and true and gracious,
Whate'er of right has triumphed over wrong,
What love of God or man has rendered precious,
Let us remember long.

Which Is the Better?

Most of our church schools have begun, and our academies, College, and Seminary will open this week, or next. The prospects are good for a large number of elementary schools with an encouraging attendance of our children. Some of our youth are, however, tempted to attend the schools of the world, while others are thinking of leaving this field for some distant school. It is to these undecided ones we direct the question, "Which is the better?"

Is it better for us as parents to save a few dollars and send our children to the public schools rather than to the church schools when even men of the world recognize that the training which children receive in the public schools is far from being satisfactory? One of the leading writers in this country published an article in the September number of the McClure's concerning "The Wasted Years of Childhood." He refers to several leading educators in this country who claim that our present public school system is not giving the children that training for life which they ought to have.

Is it better for us to send our young people to the high schools rather than to the academies and the College? There is no question but that it is cheaper, measured by dollars and cents. It is also far more pleasant for us as parents to have our children at home rather than to send them away where we cannot see them for months. But we are convinced that it is a very dangerous thing to permit our young people to attend the high school. The high school spirit is the spirit of the world. The patriotism and the military training of these schools are not in harmony with the divine command to love all men and to preach the gospel to every nation.

Which is the better for a young man to attend a college situated near a leading city with all the dangers of modern city life or to be enrolled as a student of a college located in a quiet, secluded place in the country with no sight-seeing beyond the beautiful sights of nature? It may appeal to young people with worldly bent of mind to get near the large city and to see the sights. But we believe that godly parents and thoughtful, studious youth will prefer the quiet college where spirituality and gospel simplicity are united with thorough research and up-to-date methods of study. The Testimonies state that "we are living in a fearfully wicked age." This applies with special force to our large cities. We run a serious risk when we send our youth to the schools of the world, whether it be the high school or the university. L. H. CHRISTIAN

Getting Ready for Harvest Work

To make a success of the Lord's work, we should think about it and plan ahead. So in soliciting last year arrangements were made in some cases for the next year.

The man who solicits for a business firm selects his route, and his customers look for him at the regular time. It is for him to keep his body and his mind up to the standard for his work.

In my manual training, I decided to make gardens rather than to enter a gymnasium and spend time training there. Accordingly I planted, cultivated, and harvested four large gardens this year, and two of these were more than a half mile from my home. This work sufficed for exercise, and also gave a good supply for our table, and about two hundred dozen ears of corn for sale. This did not hinder in the local church and pastoral duties demanded in Aurora.

Up to date, September 1, I have done a little soliciting with our Harvest Ingathering Signs and have secured $24. This was done in August about my own home before the time for beginning. This money will count toward the $100,000 which the North American Division is to gather by Harvest Ingathering effort for missions.

I trust that this little digression in starting out before the time appointed will not be regarded as wrong, for I have a promise of $100 to be raised in this way, and if this can be fulfilled in September, the month of October may suffice to provide another like sum while the regular campaign is rounding out the main pledge of the denomination.

Attending Church Service

"Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before Him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon His name." Mal. 3:16.

"Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Heb. 10:25.

In these two verses is bound up one of the secrets of success in the Christian life. An individual, when converted, should form the habit of attending church services. Excuses are made for not doing so, but a large majority of these are not valid. The more exertion one puts forth in attending public services, the greater the blessing. The value of the opportunity of coming in contact with church people is beyond estimation. The association of God's people is to be of such a character that the mind will be elevated; and the ennobling principles of life are to be brought out in one's conversation in order that not only those who are listening will be elevated, but also the one who is speaking. No words should come from an individual that will in any way lower the standard set by the Scriptures for the church.

The influence of the church may not in every case be the best, but to bring about a reform should be the aim of those who recognize the need of it in the church; and instead of absenting themselves from the association of the church and criticizing the same, their influence should be placed decidedly on the side of reform, and changes brought in through the uplifting influence of the individual. As we contemplate these things, let us not be criticizing the society; for if we are sufficiently able to recognize these things to criticize, by laying aside criticism and putting in operation radical reforms, we will see in time the results of our efforts, and the uplift will be the means of saving many people in the kingdom. Every member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church should consider himself a needed factor in the upbuilding of this cause, and though you may live miles away from church, be sure to let nothing but sickness or the unavoidable keep you away from assembling with the worshipers and exchanging ideas, and mingling your voices in praise to our Heavenly Father.

If you have not the habit of attending church, be sure to get it. The reward of the worshiper is clearly outlined, and also the reward of those who forsake the assembling of themselves together. If we are self-centered, having a greater interest in ourselves than in the worship of God, we are apt to feel it is better to remain at home. If we are mindful of our own pleasures and comforts, possibly we may think of staying at home under certain conditions. I trust that the church members will consider the reasons given for not attending church, and carefully study these with the idea of bettering our church services and our conditions individually, that the cause of God may advance.

The Goal a Possible One

It may seem at first thought that one hundred thousand dollars is an almost impossible goal. A few figures may give us some encouragement.

There are in the North American Division Conference approximately one hundred million people. Our goal means the collection of one dollar on an average from every one thousand people. This allows a large margin for the children, youth, and poor, and makes the task one that is easily possible, if only all work.

Another factor which makes success possible is that we have members all over the field, in churches, companies, and in twos and threes. This enables us to reach all the millions of people, if we look around us, and study our territory.

Every church should work its own district and the officers should see if there are cities or towns near where we have no members. If there are, parties should be made up to visit them and solicit funds.

Let us make a real business of this campaign this year, and miss no opportunities for getting offerings for this great closing work.

Conference Resolutions

1. Whereas in the providence of God peace has been preserved in our country, and the prospering hand of God has attended the various lines of work in the West Michigan Conference during the past year; we in annual conference assembled do thank our Heavenly Father for His manifold blessings, renewing our consecration to Him, and pledging ourselves to greater activity in His work during the coming year.

In harmony with the recommendations of the North American Division and the Lake Union Conference

2. We recommend, That the sessions of this conference be held biennially instead of annually.

In harmony with the plan of the Lake Union Conference Committee,

3. We recommend, That Oceania and Mecosta counties, and the sixteen townships of Newaygo County be released to the North Michigan Conference, provided that the western part of the Upper Peninsula be released to the North Wisconsin Conference.

4. We recommend, That an active Home Missionary Campaign be carried on until every church, company, and individual member is actively enlisted in some line of missionary work in harmony with the plans outlined by that department.

We recommend Every family to secure a complete line of the Testimonies or at least Volumes 6-9.

Whereas the Harvest Ingathering has proved a great blessing both in acquainting the world with this great movement, and in raising funds with which to extend the work; therefore,—

We earnestly recommend, That every individual, and church unite in a campaign this fall to raise our conference goal to the $5,000 mark.

5. Resolved, That we continue to protest against the enactment of laws by Congress for the abridgment of free speech, a free press, and the freedom of the mails beyond the existing statutes, and further, we request our conference president and secretary to draft a memorial to be sent to our representatives in Congress protesting against such bills as may now be before that body, the enactment of which would jeopardize our inalienable rights and freedom of conscience.

We recommend, That our conference, in cooperation with the other Michigan conferences, continue to send the magazine Liberty to members of the state legislature, the governor and his cabinet, the state and circuit judges, and that the expense involved in this item be paid out of the annual collection for local liberty work.

Whereas the "Lord has ordained that the colporteur work shall bring before the world as fast as possible the truth for this time," and whereas His blessings have been with these workers; therefore,—

6. Resolved, That as a conference we extend to these self-supporting workers our Godspeed, and do all we can to encourage them to be faithful, and give our earnest cooperation to the field secretary in securing strong men and women to join their ranks.

Whereas the scholarship plan of selling our subscription books by prospective students is proving a very practical way of securing an education; therefore,—

7. We recommend it to our young people.

Whereas a man's actions speak louder than his words and whereas a cooperation of all the parts is necessary for the success of the whole, and because a man who does not read the LAKE UNION HERALD and Review and Herald cannot keep abreast with the message; therefore,—

8. We recommend, That in the employment of persons by the conference and the election of church officers, care should be taken to see that the individuals are subscribers to the LAKE UNION HERALD and Review and Herald, and that they are faithful in the payment of tithe, two per cent, and offerings.

Whereas death has removed from our midst Elder A. C. Bourdeau, who died in Battle Creek, July 7, 1916; Mrs. Tina Ruth Hoyt, who passed away in Battle Creek, September, 1915; Elder A. Smith, who died in Grand Rapids, Nov. 15, 1915, and Mrs. Cassie Wilson-Dennis, who fell asleep in Jesus, August, 1916, in Argentina, South America, and

Whereas by these deaths our work has sustained the loss of faithful and devoted workers; therefore,—

9. Be it resolved, That we hereby testify to the valuable services rendered by these faithful laborers in the cause of present truth, and express our condolences to the bereaved families who have been affected thereby.

Elder A. C. Bourdeau was one of the pioneers of the message, having been born March 7, 1834 in the Province of Quebec, Canada. With his parents he attended meetings of the 1844 movement and in 1856 accepted the Sabbath of the Bible. He at once busied himself in behalf of the message, and at his own charges began to propagate it in Vermont, New Hampshire, and Canada. He organized many churches in that and other sections of the country and ministered in a successful way among the people, many of whom live to testify to the great encouragement afforded them through the labors of Elder Bourdeau.

Mrs. Tina Ruth Hoyt, wife of Elder J. M. Hoyt, earnestly devoted herself to the work of assisting her husband in gospel work. Her genial disposition and kind nature endeared her to the hearts of all with whom she came in contact. She met death triumphantly, closing her eyes with a bright hope, uttering, "He is faithful and just."

Elder A. Smith of Grandville, Mich., died at Grand Rapids, Nov. 2, 1915, aged eighty. He was connected with the work in an active way as a minister, devoting much time to writing for the Review and Herald. He often expressed the pleasure it gave him to say he attended the first camp meeting of the denomination at Wright in 1868.

Mrs. Cassie Wilson-Dennis, in company with Miss Edna L. Walker, left Michigan in 1908 for the city of New Orleans to engage in Bible work. Later she attended the Washington Missionary Seminary, preparing for work abroad. In company with other missionaries she left the United States for South America, locating in Argentina. While there she was united in marriage to Brother A. R. Dennis who was also engaged in the work of the Lord in that field.

Let us so spend our time that on the glad morning of the resurrection, we may meet with these dear workers who rest from their labors.

Temperance

Whereas instruction has come to us that by voice, vote, and pen we should earnestly labor in behalf of the cause of temperance and whereas the attention of our state and country is called to the great evils following the traffic in alcoholic beverages with the hope that in the near future the manufacture and sale of alcohol will be eliminated from the body politic; therefore,—

10. Be it resolved, That we use every consistent means of removing the liquor traffic from our midst by,

1. Continuing our educational campaign in behalf of temperance from the pulpit, in our families, and in our schools.

2. By a generous use of the Temperance Number of the Youth's Instructor, making a special effort to distribute it and other pertinent literature among the people and that the Executive Committee be authorized to secure 10,000 copies of the Temperance Number of the Youth's Instructor for the Grand Rapids campaign.

3. By cooperating as far as we can with kindred organizations which have for their purpose, the elimination of the alcohol traffic.

11. (a) We recommend, That the church elders and officers do everything possible to encourage the organization and maintenance of Missionary Volunteer Societies.

(b) Realizing that eternal life depends upon a knowledge of God, and that this knowledge comes through His word,

We urge that parents and church officers use every possible means to induce the youth to enroll as members of the Bible Year Circle and to study for Standard of Attainment membership.

(c) And since good books greatly enrich one's store of knowledge and are potent factors in influencing the life, and since many are led into wrong paths by the reading of harmful literature, we urge

That great pains be taken to place in the hands of the youth the valuable books recommended by the M. V. Department.

Since the example of the teacher or leader has such an influence over children and youth; therefore,—

12. We recommend to our churches that the greatest care be exercised in the selection of teachers and officers in the Sabbath school and Missionary Volunteer Society, only those being chosen who are living examples of the Bible standard in conversation, dress, and deportment.

Whereas there are among us many isolated ones and others who for various reasons cannot attend Sabbath school regularly; therefore,—

13. Resolved, That we put forth a special effort to take the Sabbath school to such ones by means of the Home Department.

Whereas our system of church schools has been established in harmony with the counsel of God, and recognizing their great value, as efficient agents in the salvation of our children,

14. Resolved, That we pledge our moral and financial support to these schools and refrain from harsh and unjust criticism of our church school teachers.

15. We recommend, That the West Michigan Conference assume all responsibility for the Cedar Lake Academy, financial and otherwise, provided North Michigan is willing to release all rights to the school, and further provided that North Michigan agrees to remain as Cedar Lake Academy territory.

We recommend, That the Board of Managers of the Cedar Lake Academy consist of the West Michigan Conference Committee, the principal of the academy and the president of the North Michigan Conference.

Whereas the Lord has given instruction that there should be a fund for the assistance of worthy young people in getting an education in our schools, and whereas there are those who now need such help, and there is not sufficient means to supply this need; therefore,—

16. We recommend, That each conference worker and church elder give special encouragement to those who can help in this work, and that this matter receive immediate attention, it being understood that the disbursement of this fund be under the direction of the educational secretary and the conference committee.

Whereas the city of Allegan and the Fair Association have extended to this camp meeting certain courtesies, and whereas the newspapers of this city have been liberal in giving us space to report the meetings we have held; therefore,—

17. We express our appreciation of these favors and authorize the conference officials to have this conveyed to those gentlemen and published in the Allegan papers.

Detroit

I am glad to report once more of the work in Detroit. I rejoice because after more or less patient waiting and earnest praying, and by the very much appreciated help of the conference and the Trumbull Church, the west side has secured a fine church building, located splendidly, only two blocks from one car line and five blocks from another, and in the midst of a fine residence district. The church as it is will easily seat two hundred people. A small pipe organ went with the building in the sale. It is estimated that the actual worth of the property for church purposes is around seven or eight thousand dollars, and we are getting it for $4,500. There will be an additional expense of perhaps $1,500 in placing under the building a basement fitted for church school and other purposes. This has all been provided for, the work is in progress and everyone is glad. On the east side where we have conducted Sunday evening services for some months, three have taken their stand for the truth, others are coming along, and the interest is increasing. A Sabbath school of fifteen or more members has been organized, and the outlook is truly encouraging. We are looking and praying for big results in Detroit, and surely if we do our part God will not disappoint us.

Notes from the Field

Miss Auda Boorum: "There are a great many Catholics and Jews here but they seem to be as much interested as a great many of the Protestants. Three of my orders were from Catholics."

Miss Alfreda Hanson: "One lady asked me to be sure to come back and explain the 'Millennium' to her for she did not fully understand it. Most of my work this week has been among Polish Catholic people."

Mr. Claude Morris: "I had a very successful delivery for which I feel very thankful."

Mr. Hugh Brown: "I am now making my delivery and the Lord has surely worked with me. I have lost only two orders so far and my courage is good for the rest."

Mr. Oswald K. Hanson: "My sales were low this week but my courage is good. I met a Congregational minister who took one book from me and recommended the book to several others telling them that it was published by the Seventh-day Adventists, but that it was a very good book. Two years ago I sold a book to a man. When I visited him this time, he said, 'I never spent money better than when I bought "Heralds of The Morning" from you. You told me that there would be a war and it was true.' He had read it through once and had started it the second time. This man was glad to order a 'Bible Readings' from me together with a Bible for $4.50."

A few days ago I was delivering some books for one of the canvassers. I found one lady quarantined but when I called her up over the phone she said: "I am very anxious to get that book. I left the money with my husband."

News Notes

We received in this office orders for 299 sets of the Present Truth Series, which will be sent to that many families for the next six months. Let us all pray that the Lord will bless this to the salvation of many precious souls. Our supply of Harvest Ingathering Signs is now on the shelf, and we are glad that a number of orders have already come in for these papers, and trust that every church will take up this matter, and begin the campaign on time.

Elder J. J. Irwin is attending the Lake Union committee meeting in Chicago this week.

Many of our colporteurs are now making their deliveries, and those who have reported thus far have had excellent success. They find the people waiting for their books, and anxious to receive them.

Soon our student colporteurs will be back in school, and we feel sure that the experiences they have had this summer will be an important part of their education, but the great problem now confronting us is, Who will take their place, and continue the work during the fall and winter months?

It is now time to begin planning for the fall campaign with the Home Workers' book. The new prospectus will be ready soon, and sells for fifty cents. This contains samples of quite a variety of books, and a commission of 50 per cent is given on these books.

Mr. L. C. Shepard, the missionary secretary, is spending a few days in the office. He has had a busy summer with the different colporteurs in the field, and the Lord has blessed his labors.

A Good Experince

During this summer I have been acting as chaplain at the Madison Sanitarium. Mrs. Thompson and I have returned to Bethel very much pleased with the kindness and friendliness shown us here. I also assisted Elder Hicks and Brother Peterson in the meetings at the tent.

Recently I had a very interesting meeting with the Guardians of Liberty in their hall at Madison. I accepted their invitation to address them hardly knowing anything about their numbers or influence in the city. When I met them I was surprised to find about eighty men assembled to hear me. Many of these men are influential in politics and in the local city activities. For forty minutes they listened to arguments for religious liberty. Not only did I touch upon the workings of the Catholic Church in such matters but pointed out the danger and injustice of religious laws no matter by whom they may be inspired. I appealed to them for protection for my sabbath, and acknowledged their right to their sabbath.

I believe the Lord blessed in the meeting, for these truths received the hearty endorsement of the men, and many told me that they were with me in the position I held on the subject.

The Joliet Church School

The Joliet school closed its session just before camp meeting, with an entertainment which was a credit to both teacher and pupils. Miss Edith Reynolds of Aurora was the teacher. She endeared herself to both parents and pupils by her patience, and consecration to the Master's work. Our school was small, however Seventh-day Adventists need not be reminded that the Lord's blessing is with the few as well as the many. The parents who visited the school during devotion hour and heard these little ones stand up and testify for Jesus, thank God for the blessed privilege of the church school.

We have fitted up the basement of the church for a schoolroom where the coming sessions of the school will be held. This new room has better light and blackboard, and in every way it is better suited to school purposes. We are waiting, with all loyalty and good will, to welcome our new teacher. We expect to enroll fifteen pupils in our school this year.

Fox River Academy News

By the time this reaches you school will have opened at Fox River Academy.

Applications from students are coming in every day and the prospects for a good school are encouraging. Some students have already arrived in order to be in readiness when school opens.

We are especially pleased to enroll some more mature students this year. If you have been out of school a number of years do not let that prevent you from coming. There will be others beginning under the same circumstances.

The tie-up of freight in Chicago has hindered our steam fitters but they now have their work nearly finished.

A first-class Holstein cow has been added to our herd and another is to be purchased soon.

Fenton Hibben and wife are moving to Streator where Mrs. Hibben will teach the church school.

We should be glad to correspond with interested ones.

News Notes

Elder A. J. Clark, now president of the East Michigan Conference, spent last Sabbath at Springfield. His old friends appreciated his visit very much.

Brother Lloyd Frasier succeeded in earning a scholarship in Fox River Academy by the sale of our books.

Three members of the First Springfield Church will be in Fox River Academy the coming year. They are Miss Myrtle Hill, Messrs. George David and William Brown.

Miss Grace Evans has been spending sometime in the field visiting our church schools and assisting in their organization.

Miss Mabel Hicks arrived at Springfield early last week and is now engaged in teaching the church school here.

We are beginning to receive some encouraging orders from churches and individuals for Harvest Ingathering Signs. We hope all will be well supplied with papers at the beginning of the campaign, October 1. If any lack Solicitor's Cards and Instruction Leaflets they may be secured by ordering from this office.

Elder C. W. Curtis writes that he has located his family at 1115 Morrison St., Centralia; also that a church school of eight pupils has just been organized there.

Brother and Sister Edw. Drury report a very successful delivery for the week ending August 25. They delivered $393.25 worth of books without losing an order.

Elder Peterson visited Chicago last week, attending a Union Conference Committee meeting held at that place.

Brother Cecil McMurtry is a recruit among the colporteurs in the field. He is handling "Desire of Ages."

We hope there will be many of our church members who will take up work with our literature in their home vicinity during the fall weeks. As stated before, if those having Home Workers' Prospectuses will send them to this office they will be revised and returned free of charge.

Reminder

Another annual gathering is a thing of the past. All the good experiences that come with a camp meeting are over, and cannot be exactly repeated. But we do not wish to take a melancholy view of the matter. The influences surely must remain. We had many blessings to reinforce us for service. The place was beautiful and the weather ideal. The Lord worked for us. What shall we render to Him on September thirty?

Before camp meeting we sent to all our Sabbath schools the fourteenth Sabbath leaflet and envelopes, also a letter setting forth our plan for the Indiana schools. The offering is an unusual one. We mentioned in the HERALD, as in the letter, that we need an offering of $1,000 to send Prof. and Mrs. H. G. Patchett to South Africa.

Now we know our people gave liberally at camp meeting, but we hope many kept in mind this important call, also. We have time yet to earn a good gift to this cause.

We trust parents and teachers will be faithful in planning for the little people to earn their pledges. It was not a common occurrence to see children respond to such a call as the one which moved them on the last Sabbath. Their tender hearts were moved to give with the older ones when they heard a call within their abilities. They were interested in Dr. Russell's vivid account of Korea, and they realized, too, what they were doing when they pledged dollars—not tens and fives, but what they could earn. It is incumbent therefore, upon us who are experienced to help them keep their vows.

May the Lord help us all to love His cause above everything.

Mrs. Lou Kirby Curtis Editor

Harvest Ingathering Introduction

After the salutation; presenting the paper, say:

"I have brought you a free copy of the Mission number of the Signs of the Times, (Showing front cover) (Turning to back cover and pointing to the words on the ribbon) You will remember that our Saviour said, 'Go ye into all the world and teach all nations.' This number shows that the circulation of the Bible has come to be (pointing to the first article in the paper) a 'World Wide Movement.'

"The paper contains over one hundred beautiful illustrations and letters from the world-wide mission field.

"As I said, the magazine is free. I am giving my time and am authorized to accept donations. (Pointing to the note 'To the Public,' on page 32) All the proceeds derived from the distribution of this issue go direct to missions. Any amount you wish to give will be gladly received."

We also instruct the members who go out, that if they are asked as to what others give to say, that some have given very large sums; some give sums of ten dollars, five dollars, etc.

Where the individual does not seem inclined to give anything, we instruct them to say, "Well, you want the magazine to read anyway. This one article (pointing to some article) is worth the regular price of the magazine, if we were selling it. You will surely want to donate ten cents to this worthy work."

Sunshine

It was only a ray of sunshine,
That entered a darkened room;
But the pale wan face was lightened,
And the saddened eyes were brightened,
For sunshine will banish the gloom.

It was only a loving token,
On an aching heart bestowed;
But the thread of grief was broken
By the word in kindness spoken,
That lightened the heavy load.

Then throw wide open your window,
And just let God's sunlight in;
'Twill banish the gloom and the sorrow,
'Twill bring in a glad some tomorrow,
And victory give over sin.

A new chimney, at the west end of North Hall, has just been finished. This was made necessary on tory to the basement of North Hall. A new boiler is already in place in the Ladies' Dormitory.

Professor Graf attended the Board meeting in Chicago.

Elder Guthrie and son, Burton, stopped at the College on the fifth. Burton will attend school here this year.

Professor and Mrs. Huffman lately returned from their vacation in Kansas.

Students arriving early are: Messers. R. Oliver King of Indiana, R. F. Ruf of Missouri, A. Paul Heflin, Vern Carter of North Michigan, and Clara Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nixon of Streator, Ill., came last Tuesday. They will live in the grove.

Prof. M. L. Kelley arrived recently. He will have charge of the Commercial Department.

Love

If we keep uppermost in our minds the unkind and unjust acts others we shall find it impossible to love them as Christ has loved us; but if our thoughts dwell upon the wondrous love and pity of Christ for us, the same spirit will flow out to others. We should love and respect one another, notwithstanding the faults and imperfections that we cannot help seeing. Humility and self-distrust should be cultivated, and a patient tenderness with the faults of others. This will kill out all narrowing selfishness, and make us larger hearted and generous.—Selected
