Camp Meeting

The time is rapidly drawing near when the Indiana brethren and sisters will be gathered in annual conference and camp meeting. The date of our camp meeting has finally been settled to be August 8-18. Through some misunderstanding, a premature announcement appeared in some of the papers, saying that the date would be August 15-25, but on account of some unavoidable conditions this has necessarily been changed to a date one week earlier. The meeting will be held at Frankfort, Ind. This place is one of the most accessible of all cities in our conference, having five steam railroads and two interurban lines. It is located about twenty-five miles southeast of Lafayette, and forty-four miles northwest of Indianapolis.

The Commerical Club of Frankfort has given us a very cordial invitation, has supplied us a magnificent fair ground upon which to place our camp, and has extended to us many other courtesies. Frankfort is one of the thriving smaller cities of our conference, and we have no doubt that besides being of easy access to our people, it will from all angles be a splendid place for the holding of our meeting.

I trust that our brethren and sisters are now making plans to attend this important meeting. Developments in the last twelve months have caused many of us to wonder whether these opportunities will be extended to us much longer; in fact, if conditions in the world grow more serious as rapidly as they have during the past year, it is a grave question whether or not we will be able to hold another meeting. Reports are coming to us from the earlier camp meetings of the outpouring of the blessing of God, of a large attendance of our people, and of excellent results obtained from the efforts. Every Seventh-day Adventist man and woman actually needs the experience that this camp meeting will bring. We have the promise of a good supply of help, and inasmuch as there are no other camp meetings in the Lake Union Conference which overlap these dates, we are encouraged to believe that the help that comes will stay with us and give us their counsel.

Delegates should be elected at an early date from all the churches. The representation is one for the organization, and one for each additional fifteen membership.

I trust that fathers and mothers will arrange for their children to be present, and that every one in the conference will make a very earnest effort to be present. Besides the election of officers, and the laying of plans for the coming year, there are many things of vital importance that seem to make it absolutely

Suppose

Suppose that we knew that Christ was to return next month, or even a year from now, would we be leading any different lives today than we are? Would we be doing any more for the salvation of the souls around us than what we have been doing during the past month or the past year?

Suppose some one were to offer us a thousand dollars for every soul that we might earnestly try to lead to Christ this year? Would we work any harder than we have been working during the past year? If we knew this was a straight bona fide offer, I wonder if some of us would not be endeavoring to make about ten thousand dollars a day! But would we do for money, for ease and luxury and plenty of this world's goods what we would not do in obedience to God's command? Is our love for money stronger than our love for souls?

As Seventh-day Adventists we are not doing a hundredth part of what we should be doing and what Christ expects us to do for the salvation of souls. In Volume 9, page 38 we read: "Were we thoroughly in earnest, even now we could multiply the resources a hundred fold."

The time has come when God's people should be devoting more and more of their time to His work, and a little less of their time to worldly cares, investments, and amusements. God's work requires the very best there is in us, and we ought not, and must not, be satisfied with just a small effort.

"Human beings have no right to think that there is a limit to the efforts they are to make in the work of soul-saving.

"Wherever we see work waiting to be done we are to take it up and do it, constantly looking unto Jesus. If our church members would heed this instruction, hundreds of souls would be won to Jesus. If every church member were a living missionary, the gospel would speedily be proclaimed in all countries, to all peoples, nations, and tongues. . . . If Seventh-day Adventists will now arouse, and do the work assigned to them, the truth will be presented to our neglected cities in clear, distinct lines, and in the power of the Spirit."— imperative that we have a larger representation of our churches than we have ever had in the past.

Begin to plan now, brethren and sisters. Come expecting the blessing of God, and you will not be disappointed.

Junior Academy Chair Fund

Twenty-nine boys and girls have reached the fifty cent goal for this fund, while the following have earned one dollar or more: Laura Bish, Edna Hosier, George Jones, Irene Cottrell, Ernest Jones, Mildred Sigler, Roy Mellinger, Emerson Sigler, Ora Unthank, Willie Lutenberg, Lola Cooper, Dale Holland, and Maurice Nash.

The stamp cards are making a good drive for chairs. We hope all the Sabbath school boys and girls will boost the Academy Chair Fund.

Kokomo: This Sabbath school has made a splendid record for missions this year. The first quarter the goal was set at 15 cents per church member, while this quarter is 15 cents per Sabbath school member.

A mission ladder with thirteen rounds stands near the Sabbath school flag of service. Each class is represented by a little man, or missionary, who climbs a round every Sabbath that the class makes the 15 cents per member goal. The primary division of fifteen members is determined to place its man in the mission field too, so the little folks earn money by selling magazines, running errands, and so forth. The school endeavors to register a star on the flag of service each month.

This school is also working for a perfect attendance this quarter.

We hope every Sabbath school will set a high standard and by heaven's help strive to reach it.

Cassville: A branch of the Kokomo Sabbath school is located here. A number are interested in the truth. Let us pray that this light may get brighter and brighter each week. It was a pleasure to meet with those who had so recently learned the truth.

Peru: This company is wide-awake on every line of Christian activity. The Sabbath school is growing. The church school, taught by Miss Faye Ellis, closed a successful year, and plans are being laid for a stronger school next year.

President, W. H. Holden

The Educational Campaign

Upon laying down my duties as president of this conference, I began work under the direction of the Lake Union Conference. After getting our household goods disposed of preparatory to going to South America, upon the counsel of the Union committee, I began field work among the churches in the interests of the Educational Campaign and especially to raise the Southern Illinois quota of the $75,000 fund being raised in the Union. Elder P. C. Hanson was asked by the local conference to take up this work and we together have visited several of our churches and to date have secured cash and pledges to the amount of $4,216.50. This money has been received in amounts varying from one dollar up to five hundred dollars from one individual. Several have given us one hundred dollars, and one hundred fifty, and many fifty and twenty-five dollars.

We have visited a few of our isolated members and families and they have responded liberally toward this fund.

We have presented this matter in the light of getting the needed workers trained to finish the Lord's work in this generation, and at the same time to save our young people, the best asset we have, as a result of attending our schools. When we realize that ninety-five per cent of our foreign missionaries today are the products of our schools, it helps us to realize the value of the training given in our educational institutions. We must save the young and prepare them for service to finish the Lord's work in the allotted time given us by the Lord.

It has been very gratifying to note the liberality on the part of our people everywhere we have visited, and we have never been in a campaign where so much enthusiasm has been shown. Surely God is setting His hand to the finishing of His work through the liberality and consecration of His people.

The other churches and members in the conference will be visited by Elder Hanson and Elder Holden within the next few weeks, so that the entire amount required by this conference, namely $5,500 which is divided as follow: $4,500 on the Lake Union fund of $75,000 and $1,000 to be used for educational work in the Southern Illinois Conference, may be raised.

Besides the money given, we have found young people who are anxious to give themselves to the Lord for service wherever He may call after they receive their training. These young people should be encouraged and helped in getting the needed training for service in the homeland and regions beyond. I expect when I get to South America that I shall find many openings for teachers and evangelists, and I shall no doubt ask for some of the young people of the Lake Union Conference to fill some of these needy calls.

We trust that the churches and members which have not yet been visited will come up to the help of the Lord against the mighty at this time by contributing liberally of their means. The money pledged is to be paid in between now and the close of 1919. It is preferable that some should come in this year, as improvements are to be made at the College which will necessitate considerable funds to be raised so that the expense incurred may be promptly met.

I have enjoyed this campaign very much. I have been asked to go to Wisconsin to assist in this work there for sometime before sailing for South America. I am glad to know I could have a part in this great campaign which is to help save the young people in this Union Conference and train them for service in the vineyard of the Master.

Danville Church School

Our first year of church school in Danville is now in the past. God has blessed our efforts and we feel to thank Him for His many blessings to us.

School opened in September with only ten pupils enrolled the first day. Others soon came in until our enrollment reached eighteen. The attendance throughout the year was very good, and the interest of the children grew continually. All grades except the sixth were taught.

Our equipment was not complete, yet the school board and patrons did well in securing many needed articles.

Our Junior Missionary Volunteer Society was alive and ready for work. I have found this line of work to be most helpful to the church school. It is the means by which the children grow up in the service of their Master. Our report of missionary work done during the year is as follows: Letters written, 45; letters received, 31; missionary visits, 60; subscriptions for periodicals, 3; papers sold, 496; papers given away, 1,980; books sold ("World War"), 1,461; books lent or given away, 39; tracts sold, 14; tracts given away, 997; hours of Christian help work, 171; articles of clothing given, 63; meals provided, 21; bouquets given, 14; scripture cards given, 3; offerings to foreign missions through church, $43.54; offerings to missions through Sabbath school, $35.03; tithe paid to church treasurer, $37.62; amount raised on 1918 goal, $6; number of Junior Reading Course Certificates presented, 11; number Junior Standard of Attainment, 3.

On Sunday evening, June 2, a closing program was given at the schoolroom which was well attended by patrons and friends to show their interest and appreciation of the work done. Our exhibit showed work done in wood-work, sewing, drawing and painting, penmanship, manumetal arts, etc.

My prayer is that God may bless all efforts put forth in the future for the continuance of this line of work in Danville that the children there may receive a proper training to help finish this great work begun in the earth.

News Notes

Mr. E. C. Wood, Home Missionary Secretary for the Eastern New York Conference, was a welcome caller at the office one day last week. He had been visiting friends and relatives at Bluford.

Elder Holden spent one day last week at the Northern Illinois camp meeting.

Miss Anna Benton of Madison, Tennessee is now connected with the conference office as stenographer and Tract Society assistant.

Brother Clayton Keiser and wife have joined Elder Sargeant in the tent effort now being conducted at Decatur.

Four new colporteurs are added to our list this week. Mrs. L. F. Harrison, Miss Merle Hewlett, and Mrs. Cecile Young are located at West Frankfort and are canvassing for "Our Day." Miss Laura Drury of Carbondale is also handling the same book.

Elder Sargeant has located with his family at 1755 North Church Street, Decatur. We learn that they have secured a very advantageous location for their tent and we are looking forward to the first reports of their meetings with interest.

Elder Holden in company with Brother R. B. Craig visited Sullivan this week in the interest of the camp meeting which may be held at this place. Definite announcement of the location will be made soon.

East Michigan Conference

Office Address, Holly, Mich.

President, A. J. Clark

News Notes

Elder H. B. Westcott, who has been connected with the work in East Michigan for a number of years, has accepted a call to unite with the work in the West Virginia Conference and will leave soon for his new field of labor.

Edwin R. Thiele has recently connected with the work in this field, acting in the capacity of home missionary secretary. His address will be Holly, Mich.

While on the camp ground, Elder L. T. Nicola received word that his wife had suddenly passed away. Elder and Mrs. Nicola have many warm friends in East Michigan who extend to the bereaved relatives their sympathies in this trying hour.

The East Michigan Tract Society has taken over the business of the Adelphian Mercantile Company, and can now supply Snowdrift and cooking oil at the lowest market prices. We shall be glad to quote you prices.

Professor Thurber and family have arrived at the Adelphian Academy, where Professor Thurber is to be principal for the coming year. Professor Steen is making preparations to leave for his new field in South America.

Mrs. A. J. Clark has returned home from the sanitarium at LaFayette, and is gaining rapidly.

Faithful Workers

This may be called a sample of a letter that I want to get out every week. It will consist of the experiences of those in the work, but in order to get it to you by Sabbath I must receive your reports promptly. We will call our weekly "The Northern Illinois Colporteurs' Weekly." Be sure to mail your report Friday evening, Saturday night, or as soon as possible.

Misses Lillian Gibson and Hazel Strickler, located at Galesburg, Ill., General Delivery, are hard at work. Miss Strickler writes: "I came to a tiny, dirty, little tenant house. A big dog was standing in the door, so I passed that house. Then I got to thinking that I wished a dog would bite me, then I would have some excuse to go home; so I turned around and went back. But the dog refused to bite, and I sold a book. Then I did very well this week, too, by selling $116.65 worth of books. The Lord is certainly blessing me."

Miss Gibson writes: "I find the people just lovely, and I am so happy that I am permitted to help in spreading the truth." Her sales amounted to $79.20.

Mr. A. J. Balkins, 224 S. Horace Ave., Rockford, Ill., writes: "One lady said angrily, 'That's along the line of Adventists, isn't it?' A careful and courteous answer soon ended our talk. I thought of Jezebel. But my comforting juniper tree was a home from which I picked a $5 order. I have found that after the most discouraging experience comes the brightest." His week's sales amounted to $90.

Mr. Donovan Johnson, same address as Mr. Balkins, reports sales to the value of $67. He writes: "I have come to the conclusion that the only way to successfully reach a good canvassing goal is to get your orders before breakfast— alone with God."

Brother K. G. Riseter, Lee, Ill., one of our faithful regular workers reports sales of $61.50. He says: "Yes, when the moment comes that the work is finished, I can think of nothing better than to be found persuading men to read truth-filled literature."

A. M. Tatton, St. Anne, Ill., reports a large delivery of $415, losing just four books. This should give the students courage.

Misses Gladys Adams, Esther Upson, Anna Mast, and Effie Upson are located at Aledo, Ill., General Delivery. This happy group of four are enjoying their headquarters. Miss Adams sales amounted to $97; Miss Upson, $32; Miss Mast, $40.40; and Miss Svenson, $40.

Mr. James Labrasco and Mr. Orville Endriss are located at Moline, Ill., care Tri-City Sanitarium. After having some difficulty in getting located they finally succeeded and are now ready for earnest work. Their hopes are high. The sales of Mr. Endriss amounted to $32.25; Mr. Labrasco's were $34.

Misses Carrie Butcher and Elizabeth Johnson, who have joined our ranks from the Hinsdale Sanitarium, are located at 1221 No. Mill St., Pontiac, Ill. They are planning to attend Emmanuel Missionary College next year. Both are enjoying their work selling "Our Day." Miss Butcher's sales last week amounted to $89 and Miss Johnson's $61.

E. A. Clough, Joliet, Ill., handed me a report on the camp grounds of his delivery, amounting to $194.50, which he made in one day. The next day found him back in his field, securing $12.50 in orders.

Mr Wilmer Lyons sent in his first report. He writes: "I received much help in an educational way this week. I had several good experiences which helped me to a higher plane."

Miss Ruth Anderson of the Swedish Seminary is just getting located in her headquarters at Rock Falls, Ill., care Charles Puels.

Mr. Russell Brownell could not resist the temptation of getting back in the canvassing work for the summer, giving up his position in Chicago. He is just getting located at Princeton, Ill., 511 E. North St.

Now let us put our shoulder to the wheel and push. Keep smiling, praying, and talking. Learn to love your work.

Does It Pay? Will It Pay?

Does it pay? Will it pay? These are questions that are often asked. In many instances it is perfectly proper and all right to ask such questions, and then again, it is altogether improper. It is expressive of a doubt as to the outcome of some project, plan, enterprise, or purpose in mind.

A great many business transactions are often contemplated, and those that are most vitally concerned would do well to ask, "Will it pay?" Very often the cost is not reckoned, as well as many other things that usually enter into all business transactions.

When sin first made its appearance in this world, we all agree that it had to be dealt with. The plan and means employed meant much to the human family. What should and could be done was the great and all-absorbing interest of heaven. "Will it pay?" could well have been asked, but it would have been altogether improper to even consider such a doubt for a moment.

With the future happiness of the whole human race, and the great and glorious plan of God for man at stake, it would have been criminal to have stopped and asked, "Will it pay?" Praise and honor to His holy name, this question was not asked! Instead of this, a tender, loving Heavenly Father, and a willing and obedient Son at once entered into the beautiful plan of rescuing man from his lost condition. The best gift heaven could afford was planned and given for man's redemption; never was a gift so freely bestowed.

Man, being wholly at fault, hopelessly lost, and without help, surely needed some one to rescue him. Help was provided in the precious gift of Jesus. Should men and women who have accepted of the gift so freely given, hesitate to spend and be spent in loving service for Jesus? Should a man that has been saved from sin by faith in the blood of Christ say, "Will it pay?" When he sees men and women sinking deeper and deeper in the quagmire of sin, should he not attempt to help them by personal effort, by giving of his means, or by giving his sons and daughters for the service of God? Any investment, no matter how small, made for the saving of men and women from sin will prove a good and wise investment and will pay a good dividend.

There is no enterprise or business in the world that will yield greater returns for the time and money expended, than that which is invested in the preaching of the gospel of Christ. It does save from sin. Men and women are day by day sinking deeper and deeper in sin, and will be lost unless some one makes an investment of money, time, or a son or daughter to take them the gospel.

Usually when a person is drowning and sinking perhaps for the last time, great and determined efforts are made to save him, and no one thinks of asking, "Will it pay?" Some one will plunge in and make the effort to save, possibly at the hazard of his own life.

There will be some that will cling to their money until it will be too late, for the decree will have gone forth, "It is finished." Some one plunged in, and the work of saving men from sin is finished. What about the one who asked, "Will it pay?" and by so delaying, some one was lost who might have been saved? There is but one answer to give. By the time these doubting persons have listened to some one relate how gladly those who are in slavery accept deliverance through the gospel, they are ready to say, "It does pay."

May the spirit of liberality come into the experience of God's children and may we each give in a systematic way as He has blessed us. The Lord's work needs men and means. Shall we not see much better reports as to mission and Sabbath school offerings from the churches of the South Wisconsin Conference. Our deficit for the first four months of 1918 is $4,876.45. We have raised less than half the amount which we as a conference are supposed to raise on the twenty-five-cent-a-week per member basis. Shall we not expect to see a big gain in mission funds from now on, so we can reach the full amount and more by the time appointed—January 1, 1919?

North Michigan Conference

Office Address, 510 Petoskey St., Petoskey, Mich.
President, E. A. Bristol

Educational

Are you working for the Big Educational Drive? A copy of the Christian Educator magazine is being sent to every home in North Michigan. In each copy will be found a subscription blank. Send in your order, please. August 10 is Educational Day. Begin to plan for it now.

June 14 our last church school closed for this year. Several of our boys and girls who are finishing eighth grade this spring are planning to attend Cedar Lake Academy the coming year. Some of these young people will canvass during the summer. At the close of school four of the children of the Wilson school were buried with their Lord in baptism.

CAROLYN RASMUSSEN

Colporteur News

Brother I. E. Emerson, who is working in Mecosta County, sends in a good report for last week. It was the first one of the year for fifty-four hours. He says: "I am giving the all-wise One the praise and glory. I am meeting a number of people who believe the prophecies."

Brother I. V. Joseph is meeting with wonderful success in Newago County. Listen to him: "I went about three and a half miles out of my way. I came to a settlement where I took two orders at the first house and stayed over night with them. The next morning I took an order before breakfast, and the Lord gave me an order at every house in that neighborhood, except three. I ended my day's work with two three dollar orders in one house. I am glad that the Lord leads us in His way, not ours."

Sister Clara Greve has gone into Iosco County with "Our Day," where she is having splendid success. Last week's report was thirty-four hours, and $55. She writes: "I have been richly blessed in my work these few days. I will work, talk, pray, walk, and act as if my life depended upon it."

Brethren Friday and Coleman are working the Soo with "World War," and they report good success. Brother Friday writes that he is finding many interested persons. Brother Coleman has delivered almost $1,000 worth of our books this year.

Brother L. Schmidt began in Midland County last week and the Lord blessed his efforts with $49.50 for thirty-seven hours of work.

Brother Toney Konechny is taking up work in Grand Traverse County with "Our Day," and we wish him success.

Sister Emma Gooden is working in Gladwin County and reports almost $2 per hour.

Sister Katherine Schmidt is back in the same County where she made her good records last year. As we view her reports it seems that a rest during school days helped, for the reports show over $3 per hour.

Sister M. Bracebridge has had the grippe for the last two weeks. We hope she will soon recover. She says, "I am getting the blessings I have been looking for so long here in Cadillac."

Six more will soon be in the work, and this will complete our list, unless others respond to whom the Spirit of God is saying, "Go work for Me in My vineyard today and whatsoever is right that ye shall receive."

All wishing to answer the call of the hour will write me at 315 W. 12th St., Traverse City, Mich.

Your Help Is Needed

Summer is here, bringing in its train all its radiant beauties. The opportunities were never better for an aggressive summer's campaign. Encouraging reports are coming in from the battle field.

Sister Wearner, who has been assisting in starting the lady student canvassers, writes: "I have just had some real colporteur experiences here in Hines. Miss Rafferty and I were traveling in the country, and became drenched with the rain. Nevertheless six hours brought $23 worth of orders."

Sister Rafferty has been selling "Practical Guide," and although as she says, "Almost every house I visited had Dr. Chase's book or some other large doctor book," she succeeded in securing in twenty-nine hours $52 worth of orders.

Brother Santos, working Price County with "Practical Guide," has just made a successful delivery. He says, "I shall try to be a faithful watchman, ready to give the alarm, when the foe advances. I want to fight to the last with my face to the foe." Let us catch the inspiration in these words and awaken.

Sister Derwae, working in Ironwood with the good book, "Our Day," writes: "I was talking to a young lady Friday who said that if she ever belonged to any church it would be the Seventh-day Adventists. She believes we have the truth, and wants to know about it so she can tell her mother." Sister Derwae has had some difficulty getting located, but is now ready for the pleasant task of pointing people to our Saviour.

Sister Hummel writes from Dallas that she has met the enemy and conquered. She says, "God is with me. I know that I could do nothing without Him, and I am so glad that I have learned to trust my Saviour."

Here is a report from Sister Anderson in Taylor County: "I feel that I can do nothing of myself, but trust my dear Saviour to help me." I am sure the enemy forces will have to retreat in Taylor County this summer.

Brother Horace Wheeler of Clearwater Lake reports a splendid week's work amounting to $82. In view of the fact that Brother Wheeler is not able to move about as lively as some of us, we can see a marked evidence of our dear Leader's help.

The consecrated student canvassers from Walderly and other near-by schools are nicely located, and making advances toward their goals.

A noted general in addressing his forces asked for volunteers to perform a particularly hazardous piece of work. They were to signify their willingness by advancing one step from the rank. Just at that moment the attention of the general was diverted, and on again viewing his troops he noticed that they formed an unbroken line.

In sadness and disappointment he asked if there was not one who loved his general enough to step forward.

One of his subordinates stepped forward, and saluting replied: "Sir, you are mistaken; the entire line advanced one step."

Our Master is saddened because of our indifference. Dear ones of the ranks, are you willing to take the necessary step forward? Do you love your General to the extent that you are willing to leave all and press forward in this work? He is calling you individually. Some have heeded the call, and have stepped out and forward. These forward moves are what will take us "through the gate into the city."

In this most portentous time of all history, when millions are upon the brink of eternity, and crowding over in thousands and ten of thousands each day, can we lie dormant and let them go on to destruction? No, we surely will not.

Have you the least desire to help warn the teeming millions through the printed page? If so, foster that heaven-sent desire, and plan at once to help. Write me at Ashland National Bank Bldg., Ashland, Wis., Room 5.

Items

The Lord has been very near to His people in the conference sessions thus far.

Both East and West Michigan have had splendid weather and a large attendance up to June 18.

A deep interest is being manifested in missions and the educational work. The first Sabbath at Holly $1,000 was given to missions, and the last Sabbath about $16,000, making $17,000 in all. Besides this nearly $1,100 was given to the College fund to prepare for the training of more workers to finish the work.

West Michigan gave $1,112.69 as the first Sabbath's offering. Eighty-five sets of the Testimonies were sold Sunday at Allegan. Literature is being sold as never before.

Elder T. M. French, who has had a number of years experience in the mission field, has been secured to head our evangelistic department at E. M. C.

Brethren F. A. Wright and Lyle Shepard were ordained to the sacred work of the ministry at Allegan, June 16, and Elder Wright goes Monday, June 24, to North Wisconsin, his future field of labor.

On June 12 Brethren Dudley, Ferris, and Patzkuw-ski were ordained at Holly. Thus God is calling men to His work and endowing them with power to carry this message to all the earth.

Elder H. B. Westcott has been called to take up work in West Virginia, and Elder L. T. Nicola to the pastorate of the Grand Rapids church. East Michigan loses two tried and loved workers to other parts. Elder F. A. Wright is lost to West Michigan, but we trust that God will greatly bless him as he helps to warn the dear people in the North Wisconsin Conference.

College News Notes

Mr. Walter Murray visited the West Michigan camp meeting last week in the interests of the Student Movement. He reports an enthusiastic crowd there securing subscriptions.

Elder E. E. Andross and C. L. Rogers, his secretary, spent a day with Professor Griggs at the College last week.

Mr. Clarence Elliott left Thursday evening to visit the South Wisconsin camp meeting to help push the Student Movement work at that place.

Sunday, June 23, was picnic day at the College. All work was stopped at eleven o'clock and the whole Sabbath school turned out to the picnic. Dr. Magan was with us and related some of the experiences of our boys in the camp, and some of the results of their work. He stated our position in regard to the war. The day was spent in playing interesting games. The big event of the day was the ball game between the married men and the young boys.

Miss Grace Morrison has returned to the College for the summer after a ten days' vacation.

Those attending camp meetings from the College and vicinity were Mrs. Lou K. Curtis, Professor Haughey, Mrs. R. R. Ford and children, Daniel Halvorsen, John Yocum, Opal Daisy, Mrs. Russell, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Walker.

Important Notice

It is important that our people know that it is a violation of the Postal Laws for any one to deposit papers in a rural mail box without the required postage attached to the papers. One cannot deliver missionary papers by placing them in these boxes without subjecting the paper thus used to having its entry as second class matter revoked.

By What He Did

I ain't much on religion, an' I can't expound
the creeds,
But I guess the Lord will judge us at the finish
by our deeds,
An' I reckon that He'll ask us when our flag of life is furled
To count the contributions that we made unto the world.

I don't fancy that He'll bother when we're gathered with the dead,
With the fine and fancy phrases an' the pretty things we said,
He will strip us of our poses an' the shams by which we hid
A lot of selfish dealing, an' He'll ask us what we did.

I ain't figurin' on bluffin' when it comes my time to go;
I ain't makin' calculations that perhaps the Lord won't know;
I ain't riskin' my salvation on the theory that I May keep my sinnin' hidden from His ever watchful eye.

I want to hold my head up when His hand on me is laid
An' say in simple language that my way on earth I paid;
That I bore my share of burdens, an' I did my share of work.
I don't want to come before Him with the record of a shirk.
