Just Being Happy

Just being happy is a fine thing to do,
Looking on the bright side rather than the blue;
Sad or sunny musing
Is largely in the choosing,
And just being happy is a brave work and true.

Just being happy helps other souls along;
Their burdens may be heavy and they not strong;
And your own sky will lighten
If other skies you brighten
By just being happy, with a heart full of song.

—R. D. Saunders

Harvest Ingathering

"And David longed, and said, O that one would give me to drink of the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate." It is a small thing for a man to desire water from a certain well or spring. It recalls the desires and pleasures of early life or the longings belonging to the mature mind when separated from the blessings which lie beyond our reach. In the case above mentioned, three strong men responded even at the risk of their lives and brought water to David. It was true love for the longing soul that led these men to face the enemy and bring water at so great a risk.

MISSIONARY VOLUNTEER SECRETARIES

Our Missionary Volunteer Group

Your eye has already rested upon the familiar faces of our Missionary Volunteer secretaries in the Lake Union Conference. The occasion when this picture was taken was the joint secretaries' council of the Missionary Volunteer and Home Missionary departments which convened at the College recently.

Many important topics involving the organization and functioning of these two departments were discussed which we believe will result in a better understanding of the work and a closer cooperation in the field.

As will be noted from the cut, Prof. M. E. Kern was with us and contributed much to the success of the council.

C. A. RUSSELL

Who now will carry the "bread of life" to hungry souls? Your life will not be in danger. You will have no enemy guns to face. Some may frown upon you; others may order you from their door, but there are hungry souls that will welcome you and read with interest the papers you leave, after helping you on your missionary fund.

Last year I sent out some papers, enclosing my solicitor's card. I stated that a small book dealing with the war from a Biblical viewpoint would be sent free if $5 or more was sent for missions. Good results were obtained. Some are now enquiring after the truth as a result. Who will work while it is called today? God seeks to bless you by making you a blessing to others. Let each one seek to interest at least ten persons in our work and raise at least $5 for missions during September.

Yours for the love of souls,

WILLIAM GUTHRIE

The Big September Drive

All the forces in the Lake Union Conference are being marshaled for the big September Drive. For weeks the officers and leaders have been outlining the plans of attack. Orders have already been issued from the general headquarters at Washington and have been passed down through the eight different divisions in this great Union to the different departments and churches for the marshaling of the forces. Already in many conferences and churches companies are being formed and captains commissioned, and the drilling is in progress; for this is to be the greatest united drive for missions the Lake Union has ever had.

It is the Harvest Ingathering Drive. We are calling for volunteers. No one will be drafted, but we trust that every soldier of Christ will respond and enter the front line trenches during the month of September and push the battle forward. We sincerely hope there will be no slackers, for much is at stake. "God expects personal service from every one to whom He has given a knowledge of the truth for this time." The results of this great drive, in which all branches of our great cause will be engaged, will mean life and death to thousands of souls.

The General Conference goal is $250,000. The portion of this which the Lake Union is expected to secure is approximately $65,000. That means five dollars per member. Surely during the entire month of September every one of our thirteen thousand members can bring in five dollars each. And it will rest with each one of us whether or not we shall be victorious in this great drive.

If you have not yet received your papers or the solicitor's cards and supplies, ask your church officers to secure them for you immediately so that you will be able to start in the very first of the month with all the rest. Let every church and company plan to start the campaign in their various communities the first of September, or as soon after the first as is possible. It has been suggested that every church organize into bands with a captain for each, and each band be given a certain district to work. This is a good plan and a successful one. However, whether all will be in bands or not let every one be encouraged to join in this great drive.

Let us make a long pull, and a strong pull, to go "over the top" in the Lake Union with the Harvest Ingathering Campaign this year. And let us do it during the month of September. We can if we will. Can we count on you to do your part?

"To every worker Christ promises that divine efficiency that will make his labors a success."

J. L. MCCONAUGHEY

Remember September 14

God has an appointment with His people. More than twenty years ago through the Spirit of prophecy

He especially called Seventh-day Adventist believers in the United States to come up to the help of the neglected colored race. He invited us to divide workers with them, to send missionary families into the South to live the Christ life among them, to establish schools for them, and to give of our means for teaching them the gospel and for training native workers for their own race.

During these twenty years something substantial has been done along these lines, but not a tithe of what ought to be done and what can be done if we turn our hearts and our means to the task.

Writing on the work in the South in 1895, Mrs E. G. White says: "God cares for the colored people, and if we would cooperate with Him for the salvation of souls, we must care for them too, and become laborers together with Him. We need to repent before God because we have neglected missionary work in the most abandoned part of God's moral vineyard. There needs to be a stirring up among the members of our churches. There needs to be concern created for our colored brethren at the great heart of the work."

This message is again due. Accordingly, the leaders "at the great heart of the work"—the General Conference Committee—have set apart Sabbath, September 14, for offerings to our colored work. They earnestly hope for a "stirring up among the members of our churches" to give liberally to one of the most deserving missionary enterprises we are conducting at home or abroad.

The goal for the offering has been set at "One Dollar a Member," on the average. Let every member possible make one dollar his minimum for the offering. Every cent of it is greatly needed. More about the specific purposes of the offering next week.

A Trip in Southwestern Wisconsin

On Thursday, August 15, Brother Lawrence Jorgensen, the Home Missionary secretary of the conference, Miss May Bell, the Sabbath school and young people's secretary, and the writer left Fond du Lac for an extended trip in the southwestern part of the state. We spent a few hours at Madison, visiting the people there, and then made our way to Dodgeville, where we visited the believers. That same night we reached Waterloo. Sabbath forenoon the church came together for an all-day meeting. There was preaching in the morning, and after lunch the work of the Home Missionary and young people's departments was considered. We had a full attendance of all the believers. Some came from twenty-five miles distant. Every family in the vicinity was visited in behalf of the educational work, and we found some who are planning to go to Bethel Academy. Sunday night we had another service there, but the meeting was hindered because of the rain.

Monday we left for Cassville, visiting the believers in that town, and then went on to Mount Hope. We staid over night at that place, and on Tuesday we arrived at Blue River. We had a meeting there Tuesday night and Wednesday afternoon and evening. We had some good visits, and found that an excellent spirit prevails. On Thursday morning we left for Richland Center and had a meeting there Thursday night. There is a small company in that place, but they have not been fully organized. Some of these are keeping the Sabbath but have not yet been baptized. An interest has been created there which I believe will develop into a strong church.

After that we made our way to LaFarge, and had an excellent meeting with the church Sabbath, the 17th. It threatened rain in the morning, nevertheless, there was a large attendance, especially in the afternoon, when the church was crowded. We left Sunday for Ironton, where there are a few believers, and had a profitable visit with them Sunday night.

We were very glad to note the interest which was manifested by all the churches and believers we visited, and were pleased to note the response given in the interest of the Home Missionary work, the young people's work, and the educational campaign.

Harvest Ingathering Campaign

It is necessary that all our churches immediately organize for the Harvest Ingathering Campaign. Every church should be organized into bands, with leaders. They should district the territory and work every home and visit every business man. You will remember that the Harvest Ingathering Campaign begins the first of September and every church should be ready to enter into this campaign at once. The longer you wait the less you will receive for your efforts put forth, for there are many other things which come in the fall, as a rule. I would like to hear from every one as soon as he receives as much as five dollars. This is the General Conference goal per member, and I would like to have the name of each one who reaches this goal. There are several who have already reached their goal. South Wisconsin's goal is $10,000, and every church should have a goal and work toward that goal. I am seeking the cooperation of every believer in the South Wisconsin Conference in behalf of this important campaign.

A Good Report from Milwaukee

Sunday, August 11, twenty-five more were baptized as a result of the work being carried forward here by Evangelist J. H. N. Tyndall and associate workers. Eighty-five persons have now united with the church since the beginning of this year. One died and several left the city before being baptized. A new baptismal class has been formed with more than a score of members, and in a few weeks these will be baptized.

As a company of workers, we feel very grateful to God for the blessings received and for the souls converted. We long to see a greater work done. The time has come for God to do great things for His people. We need to put away sin, be honest with God in tithes and offerings, in missionary work, and living a holy life with Christ enthroned within.

We are now in the midst of our tent effort. We are conducting an evangelistic-health chautauqua. Tuesday evening is devoted to food and cooking demonstrations, the work being in charge of Sister A. R. Satterlee. Government and city officials have attended these meetings and they are greatly pleased with the work being carried forward.

The new converts and church members are being given definite instruction in the preparation of healthful food according to the instruction given in the Spirit of prophecy. They are taught the importance of avoiding the use of tea, coffee, meat, and other objectionable things.

On Thursday evening a medical meeting is conducted by Dr. and Mrs. Satterlee and their assistants. Demonstrations of our methods of treating disease and the care of the body in sickness and in health are given. This work is much appreciated by the congregation.

Friday and Sunday evenings we have preaching services. The writer has charge of the meeting Friday evening, and Evangelist Tyndall the Sunday night service.

Several have taken a definite stand for the truth during these meetings. We need the prayers of God's children in behalf of the work and workers here. The enemy is at work, but we rejoice to know that there is victory in Christ for every soul. "Have faith in God." "Pray without ceasing." Some have been driven from their homes, for the truth's sake, others have endured persecution; but thanks be to God they are standing the test, and we trust they will wear the victor's crown.

Ironwood

I spent last Sabbath with the little company at Ironwood, where Brethren Wikander and Peterson have been working this summer. There was a nice little company out at the Sabbath school and all seemed deeply interested in the study of the word.

I was glad to see so many of them carrying their Bibles with them, showing that they were making a study of the truths they had been hearing. The brethren are moving their tent now to Bessemer where, as far as we know, no work has been done. This is only a few miles from Ironwood which will enable them to keep in touch with the work there while they are carrying on work at Bessemer.

Good News from Superior

July 4 the Superior Shipbuilding Company had the honor of launching the first ship for war purposes that was launched that day in the United States. The superintendent received messages of praise from President Wilson and General Pershing for being so patriotic as to call his men out at midnight and launch the ship at 12:04 A. M. thus being the first to celebrate the national holiday in that manner.

August 10 was looked upon by heaven as a day of infinitely greater things. Here in Superior a ship was launched, loaded with boys and girls, bound for the haven of Peace. It was the organization of a church school of thirty pupils. This is the first of its kind in Superior. The money for its support was raised at the same time. The whole church membership has a part in bearing the expenses, even some of the children contributed. We raised $450 with which to operate the school. Surely God has given His people the spirit of liberality and willingness in "the day of His power." I am sure such a victory will receive the approbation of the Commander of the heavenly hosts.

Besides this we had the joy of burying five dear souls with their Lord in baptism at the close of the Sabbath.

The interest in our meetings is increasing. We are praying that God will add to our number "such as shall be saved."

Improvements at Walderly

All are familiar with the plans of raising an educational fund for the better equipment of our schools at Berrien Springs and Walderly. Something like $1,300 has been pledged to date, and we are sure that others will give of their means for this needy work. Already we are planning for some of the improvements at Walderly, and by the time this is read some very definite changes will be made in the school building. It would be a waste of money to make repairs on the roof this year which would cost forty or fifty dollars, and then next year make permanent improvements. It was not thought wise to do this and we all felt that whatever improvements were put on the building should be permanent. So it was decided to raise the roof and place the chapel upstairs, making a twelve-foot ceiling.

This will be welcome news to all our students and will be much appreciated by the teachers. If you have not already made your pledge to the educational fund, please do so at once, and let us know here at the office how much you plan to give. The training of our boys and girls for future usefulness to the cause is worth more than any other investment we can make.

Walderly Students—Take Notice

Will all the young people who are planning to attend Walderly Academy this fall please write to me at once, stating definitely when you plan to enter and the grade you think you will be in. At present it looks as though we would be crowded, and we want to lay definite plans to accommodate those who come so that none will need to be turned away for lack of room. Remember school opens September 9. Address your letters to Principal E. A. von Pohle, Hines, Wis.

Good Experiences

Reports from earnest workers continue to come in. This is encouraging. The reward will follow. It is time to hasten to the saddened homes with this message of comfort. We have no time to lose. "The end is near; the passage from place to place to spread the truth will soon be hedged with dangers on the right hand and on the left. Everything will be placed to obstruct the way of the Lord's messengers, so that they will not be able to do that which is possible for them to do now.

"We must look our work fairly in the face and advance as fast as possible in aggressive warfare We have warnings now which we may give; a work now which we may do, but soon it will be more difficult than we can imagine."—Vol. VI, p. 22. Does not this thought quicken a desire in your heart and and cause you to want a part in the work before the way becomes more difficult?

Hear some of the reports of those who have been in the work this summer: Sister Eliza Hummel, who has been working in Barron County says: "This has been a precious week for me." In 116 hours she secured orders amounting to $190.50. I am sure the Lord has blessed Sister Hummel in a special way this summer. Brother Horace Wheeler of Clearwater Lake writes: "I had the pleasure of taking an order from a man that I gave a 'World War' to while I was canvassing. He said then that he did not need to buy books. I had a good talk with him, however, before leaving. When I met him yesterday, he said, 'Mr. Wheeler, I want you to put my name down for one of those "Bible Readings," I received more good from that little book than from any other I ever read. I would not part with it.'" We can see from this that the time has come when a great work must be done. People are intensely interested in the subjects found in our books.

Sister Bentsen, who has been canvassing for "Bible Readings" in Marinette County, sends in a report of 24 hours and $37.50 value. She says, "Will you look for territory suitable for me to canvass during this fall? I feel more and more that this is my work." I trust that there are others who feel that the canvassing field is their work.

Sister Anderson from Taylor County writes: "I was canvassing a woman who stopped me in the middle of the canvass and asked to take my prospectus for a moment. She disappeared upstairs with it. When she came back she had her sister's name in the book and her own. She told me that she had asked her minister to preach on the book of Revelation, but she had failed to get the light she wanted from him. May God give this hungry soul the bread of life, through the book, is my prayer." Oh, how many there are today who are really seeking for the truth, but where are the messengers who are willing to carry it to them?

Sister Jewell Hanson, of Plum City, sends a very interesting experience. She rapped at a door, no one answering, she started away. Something seemed to tell her to go and knock at the back door. As she knocked, a man came to the door and told her to come in and be seated while he went for the lady of the house. "Oh, I am busy," she said crossly, and looked displeased as she came into the room. By the time I had finished my canvass, the expression on her face had changed and she said, 'Every once in a while someone comes around with the nicest book and I just can't refuse it,' and then she ordered one in the half, leather binding." Sister Hanson says, "I thank the Lord for sending me back."

As we read these stirring experiences from week to week, how can we remain indifferent to the call of the Lord to this work? Let those who would like to visit some of these homes with the message, write me at Room 5, Ashland National Bank Building, Ashland, Wis.

A Remarkable Dream

Miss Gladys Shaw, who is working in Warren County, relates the following experience: "One day I stopped at a home. The woman invited me in as she expected me. After giving her a canvass, she leaned back in her chair and said, 'I had a dream about that book the other night. I dreamed that I took the book and wrapped it in a sheet to keep it clean. It was exactly the same book, pictures and all. A wave of wonder swept over me, for it certainly seemed that the Lord had been guiding affairs.'

"Although the woman was quite poor, she decided to buy the book. I feel certain that the Lord had sent her the dream so she would get the book, and perhaps to strengthen my faith."

The above experience truly indicates that the Lord is working on the hearts of the earnest. It also shows how He uses the humble efforts of the colporteur as he goes from door to door. Dear reader, do you not feel that the Lord would have you unite your efforts with those of our faithful corps of workers? Now that the students are leaving the field to again take up their work, the work will be greatly hindered unless you will fill in the gap. If interested, address the writer.

"God's Sparrows"

Doubtless there are some brethren and sisters in the country who would be glad to help in the work in the large cities of their conference. Here is a suggestion. There are in the city churches those whom we may call "God's sparrows," the needy poor. They are, by their brethren, provided with shelter and food and clothing to a certain degree. But the brethren out in the country, on farms, can hardly realize what it means to live in the city where one cannot raise anything to eat, but must pay for every mouthful. What a kindness it would be for someone who lives in the country to make a parcel of some of the good things from farm or garden and send it by parcel post to an address furnished by the church officer. I know this has been done by one or two with gratifying results. I shall be glad to furnish some addresses.

Cedar Lake Academy

We are glad to report favorably on the progress being made at the academy along the line of improvements. The new addition to the basement of the girls' dormitory is completed with the exception of the roof. This addition provides a fire-proof furnace room and a liberal coal bin which will hold over one hundred tons of coal. We have three cars of coal now unloaded at the academy, and two more in prospect, so we may disappoint the boys next winter by not letting them drop school work to cut pine stumps.

We are daily in receipt of letters from young people who plan to be with us this school year, and this in spite of the rather uncertain prospect before the farmers this fall. Many of these letters breathe of financial difficulties, but yet glow with determination to obtain an education. We believe that "the man who wills is the man who wins," and we are glad to find this spirit in many of our boys and girls. We know the Lord is calling our young people this summer as never before to speedily train for service, and we invite and urge every one who should be in Cedar Lake Academy to join us September 11. We are asking God to lead us daily in our plans and work, and to bless our sister institutions.

We have a list of students who really need financial assistance this year, and if any brother or sister in the conference feels a burden to help one or more of these boys or girls, we shall be glad to communicate with such.

Above you will find summary for first six months of year. We have made a splendid gain over last year, due in a great measure to our enormous camp meeting sales of "A World in Perplexity." Tonsils and Adenoids

The tonsil and the adenoid are lymphatic glands the function of which gives rise to much discussion. The physiological life of many tissues of the organism is not coextensive with the life of the individual. These glands are organs of childhood and like the temporary teeth serve their purpose in the early years of life.

The range of physiological life of the tonsils comprises the years of infancy and childhood. They are temporary organs. This life cycle begins at birth and ends with the advent of puberty. At the age of puberty many lymph glands directly and indirectly associated with the reproductive organs increase in size and function. And, thus, the work of other lymph glands in controlling metabolism, or the tearing down and building up of tissue is thereby relieved. The tonsils and adenoids now assume the role of age and seemingly retire from active life.

Infancy has its beginning and its end—puberty marks the beginning of adolescence. These periods stand at the extremes of child life. The range of physiological life of the tonsils lies between these two extremes. As childhood vanishes and finally fades away, when young manhood and young womanhood is ushered in, the tonsils, the organs of childhood having served their purpose in these early years of life and as the vigor of a new energy and life is taken up, which relieves them of further service, their functional activity or use vanishes and fades away.

The tonsils and adenoids are glands whose structure presents crypts, or pockets, which are exposed to the outside world. The secretion or mucus from these glands passes into these crypts which are ideal culture tubes for bacteria. As soon as a child is born it is subjected to hordes of bacteria which find their way to and lodge in these various crypts. They feast on the mucus and retained debris in the crypts and multiply. The normal tonsil will prevent bacteria themselves from entering the tonsil, but there is no provision whatever to prevent the excreta or toxins of these bacteria following the lymph stream into the tonsils and from these into the general circulation. This is what occurs in the normal tonsil, but a diseased tonsil will allow not only the toxins or poisons produced by the bacteria to pass into the circulation, but also the bacteria or germs themselves.

Tonsils which have been injured by frequent tonsillitis, quinsy, ulceration, plugged crypts, diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc. are nearly all chronic sources of infection. The tonsils drain into the lymphatic channels just below and outside, so enlargement of the lymphatic glands just below and outside the tonsil is usually due to disease of the tonsil or infection coming through the tonsil. From the nose and throat through the adenoids and tonsils we have entering directly into the circulation bacterial poisons, or the bacteria themselves, depending upon the nature and severity of the infection in these parts. Toxins and even bacteria will find their way into every part of the body and produce almost every conceivable form of infection.

The enlargement of the glands of the neck is caused principally through infection from the tonsils, and the removal of the tonsils has greatly lessened operation on the gland of the neck. Ninety per cent of these enlarged glands will become practically normal after proper removal of the adenoids and tonsils. The infection of scarlet fever is thought to enter through the tonsil. Diphtheria is contracted much less frequently in individuals without tonsils and adenoids. Acute inflammatory rheumatism and inflammation of the lining membrane of the heart most frequently follows tonsillitis. Also, nephritis, meningitis, ulcers of the stomach, appendicitis, jaundice, chorea, muscular rheumatism, and neuritis are often caused by infection entering through the tonsil. Experimentally with animals the germs of infantile paralysis have been found to be in the tonsils of the animals having the disease.

Fourth Report

In making a report at this time I must do so without having received reports except from Indiana and West Michigan. I am sure, however, that other conferences have been at work and no doubt have done well. Their reports will appear later.

We hope the money may come in fast enough so that we may get the young men's dormitory under way in order to provide for them this fall and winter. We should have this home ready by January.

Is there not some brother or sister who would esteem it a privilege to furnish us $15,000 with which to erect this dormitory? It is greatly needed and would be an act of kindness to our boys. I would like to see this building named in honor of the donor.

May God turn the hearts of the parents to the children at this time.

In behalf of the youth,

WILLIAM GUTHRIE

"Write injuries in the dust; kindness in marble."

A Rally Song

A number of requests have come in for copies of the rally song, "Win Them One By One," which was sung at most of the camp meetings in the Lake Union Conference this summer. The Lake Union Conference Home Missionary Department has a limited supply of these songs on hand which can be secured at the following prices: 2 copies, 10 cents; 12 copies, 50 cents; 25 copies, 75 cents; 100 copies, $2.50, postpaid. Send all orders to J. L. McConaughy, Drawer C, Berrien Springs, Mich.

The fine tomato patch across the track on the way to the point is keeping our cannery running long hours. They expect to have four thousand quarts canned by Sunday night. Twenty gallons of salted corn and two barrels of corn on the cob are now in store for the winter.

Professor and Mrs. Rathbun are leaving to connect with the Pacific Union College at St. Helena, Calif. Their many friends wish them continued success.

Paul Pearce has been spending several days here getting Butternut cottage in readiness. He will live there this year.

The metal ceiling has been put in the chapel and is now almost all painted. The work is being hurried to get everything prepared for the opening of school.

Geraldine Young has arrived and is assisting in the work of the cannery, and in the dining room.

Eunice Davidson and Wanda Westcott have come to work in the printing office, Miss Davidson being in the office and Miss Westcott in the composing room.

Gordon Talge is here for a few days. He registered the twenty-third according to the draft regulations.

The printing office is expanding. The whole south side of the up stairs is to be used now by the shop.

Elder Guthrie will live in the Rathbun home. The removal of the Union offices to Berrien Springs brings him here.
