Men's Dormitory

We are glad that we can report the first fifteen squares taken in the men's dormitory. East Michigan and Chicago are the conferences to report this week. You will note that this takes just one-sixth of the squares on the block. One hundred and twenty-four young men are waiting for these rooms to be completed and 1,000,000,000 heathen are waiting for the gospel till we get the men trained for service. Up to this date only one man has taken a room in this dormitory. We will place the name of the

For what can you spend your money that will be of more value than the preparation and training of our youth? The Master said: "Suffer little children to come unto Me." And to Peter He said If you love Me, feed My lambs. Let us not place our money in bags with holes.

[Concluded]

How shall you develop faith? I give you no occult formula. I tell you a very simple, a very practical process. It is, Live with your Bible. Read your Bible as a pastime, study your Bible as a duty. Come to know it intelligently, not as a jumbled mass of ethics, but as it is indeed, a varied library of very different parts and subjects. If you do not as yet like it all, if you can not appreciate every part of it, read those parts that do appeal to you, those that you do like,—the stories perhaps, or the orations, the parables or the mystic symbols, the sermons or the searching proverbs. Some things there are to suit every mind and in every stage of its development.

This is your drill, your manual of arms. I warrant you that if you become familiar with it, you will gain skill with it in fighting the devil and all his imps of unbelief. With this practice every day, you are fit to meet the enemy; without it, you are as helpless as an unarmed fresh recruit before the bayonet charge of an experienced foe.

You will not have to look for trouble. The fight will come to you; and God grant that you may be ready for it. And after you have fought your own battle, you will have other men to help, you will have campaigns against unbelief and infidelity in places high and low. And by the same power you will conquer.

When your own soul has passed through its ordeal, you will have skill to find other souls wretched and in trouble, and you will know how to minister to them of your own faith and salvation. Again I say to you that the great business of life is not to solve the riddle of the universe, but to satisfy the longings of the human soul.

I stood one day with a crowd in Nashville that was watching the man they call the Human Fly, climb outside the great tower of the union station. Skilful and daring, he climbed up and up, from window-ledge to cornice, clinging to the rough projections of stone, where it seemed no human hand could hold. He held that great crowd with hypnotic spell. "Ah!" they breathed with bated breath, "ah, what nerve, what daring, what wonderful skill!" But I thought, "Of what use is all this? How is that man doing anything to touch and help his fellowmen?" Down below him in the station flowed a stream of life, people coming and going from every quarter of the land. They were engaged in the great business of life; they were accomplishing things worth while; some of them were helping one another. But he, the human fly, high up, detached, could not if he had wished have reached a hand to help a single person in distress. So one may climb up the cold, detached heights of philosophy, with wondrous daring and undoubted skill, and yet be so far away from his fellowmen that he is nothing to them but a daring, speculative human fly, wondered at but useless.

Human lives are starved and wounded, human hearts are suffering for love. And all the cruel casualness of evolutionistic philosophy can never answer nor assuage the sorrow of one lone orphaned lad as he stands by the grave of his mother and looks for the last time upon the form of her who taught him what love is.

But Christianity does answer that sorrow and those longings. It links the earthly love between father and son, between mother and child, with the heavenly love of God for His children. There is no mere aimless happening in the social relations we find upon this earth: there is design, the design of the great Creator to show us His existence and His nature. Christianity reveals Him as Creator, Redeemer, Father; and in so revealing Him it answers the vital needs of the individual and of the race. Whosoever will may have this relationship, may know his Heavenly Father. And the greatest human argument is the life of the man or the woman who does know Him. All the reasonings and the deridings of pagans can never answer that simple, solid argument, that the life of him who knows God is sweet and sound and ministrative to the necessities of man. It is the prevailing argument, the overwhelming force, with which the heroes of faith have met the enemy for six thousand years.

Young men and women, you and we today are called upon by our Captain, our King, as His last reserve. We are the Last Legion of the glorious army of Jesus Christ; for we are living in the last days of time. And we are privileged not only to see but to join in the great culminating movement of God to clear the universe of the forces of evil. Let us answer to His bugle call. Let us be true to our trust. Let us remember that we are the successors of the heroes of faith of all ages, of that heroic band who from Abel to Noah fought against the wickedness of a young and arrogant infidelity, of those prophets from Moses to Jeremiah who strove to uphold the banner of truth amidst apostasies, of those apostles of our Lord who carried His cause into the remotest parts of the ancient world.

And what shall I more say? for time would fail me to tell of all that immortal band, martyrs and reformers and apostles, of Polycarp and Felicita, of Savonarola and of Huss, of Luther also and Zwingle and Knox, of Latimer and Bunyan and Wesley, of Carey and Judson and Livingstone, and of those heralds of our coming Lord, Irving and Wolff and Miller and Bates and White; who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, put to flight the armies of the evil one.

"And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, obtained not the promise, God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

"Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight and the sin (of unbelief) which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race which is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God."

Christ grant to you that as members of His Last Legion, you may so hold fast, and so prevail, and so for eternity triumph.

The Book Work

The book sales for the month of May in the Lake Union Conference amount to $12,800.35. If it were not for our six camp meetings that are in session during June we would go far beyond this amount.

Our camp meetings so far have been a real inspiration to the field workers. Much interest was manifested in the colporteur work at the Indiana camp meeting. There will be about forty colporteurs at work in that conference soon.

Excellent reports are coming in from our workers throughout the field. One young lady from Cedar Lake Academy reports having taken orders for $163 worth of books in 45 hours. This was her first week's work. Her brother took $78 worth of books during the same week. We are glad to note that Sister Drury, who is working in the Illinois Conference, has again passed the $300 mark in one week. This encourages us for we can see the hand of God being manifested in our work more than ever before. The report of sales for the Illinois Conference for the month of May amounts to $1,707.45; the report for the entire Union for week ending June 7 is about $4,000.

At the bookmen's convention held at Washington last spring it was voted to have a big week this summer during which time every worker would be asked to put forth a special effort and a little more than full time. The date for this big week is set for July 13-19. I trust all the workers will take notice of this and plan accordingly. The Lake Union should make a good showing at this time.

Central Music Hall Effort

Two weeks ago we were compelled by unforeseen circumstances to transfer our meetings from Central Music Hall to Kimball Hall which is a little more than a block away. The man who has charge of Kimball Hall is a prominent business man and bank director of the city. He hires musical talent from all over the world such as Caruso and McCormick to appear on the Chicago concert stage. He is widely known and a wealthy man. It seems that he is very careful of the reputation of his hall, as he has a right to be, and asked us many questions concerning our beliefs and methods of work. He manifested an unusual interest, finally calling in his office help to hear what we had to say concerning the outstanding features of our faith and our world-wide missionary program.

He asked for books explaining our doctrinal views and giving the history of our work. We brought him the "Great Second Advent Movement," "Daniel and Revelation" and "Great Controversy" for which he paid, gladly. He said, "I must say I like the sound of your religious teachings. They seem so sane and sensible," this, too, after we had mentioned the Sabbath, state of the dead, tithing and health reform. He said further that he and his wife would attend the next lecture. They have been present the last three Sunday nights and manifest a keen interest.

This experience has convinced us that sometimes what looks like almost a calamity—as changing the place of meeting in the midst of an effort—may be providential after all.

Our attendance apparently has not suffered by the change of location but rather increased. Last Sunday night we presented "God's Sign of Loyalty" and asked those to stand who were convinced that the Seventh-day Sabbath was the sign and seal of God and who were resolved to bear that sign by keeping God's Sabbath, even if it cost them a job or more serious inconvenience. We were quite happily surprised by the response of this invitation. Some one counted forty-seven standing but did not finish counting before they were seated again. We have already baptized fifteen adults not included in the above number. It is quite probable that not all who stood will keep their resolution but the prospect is hopeful for a goodly harvest for which the Lord be praised.

The measure of success we have had thus far is largely due to the earnest cooperation in visiting the interested ones by our company of workers, Elder E. W. Webster, Sister Helen Jarvis, and Sister Rosa Kozel.

We earnestly solicit the continued prayers of all who read this report that the work of God in this cosmopolitan center may go steadily forward.

Chicago Items

By the time this article reaches you the pitching of the camp of the Chicago meeting will be well under way. In order that you may experience no difficulty in finding the ground we will give further instruction. Those coming on the railroads will take any north bound surface line transferring to Grand Avenue, taking the car marked Harlem. This car passes the grounds at Sixty-fourth west. Those having baggage will bring their checks to the grounds and arrange there for the handling of the same.

Elder and Mrs. A. G. Daniells called at the conference office on their way East.

Our magazine girls are working hard and all seem to be of good courage. Satan is working hard to discourage and in some cases is using human agencies. Rome is not pleased with the number of our good periodicals that is being placed in the hands of the people. We would be glad to have all of our people remember in their prayer these girls.

Plans are being laid for one of the best displays of our literature at the coming camp meeting that has ever been shown in this conference. There will be special discounts and we trust that all of our people will come prepared to take advantage of this opportunity. A good supply of the World's Crisis series and Present Truth will be available; also a good supply of foreign tracts and books.

All mail for camp meeting should be addressed to us as follows: Care S. D. A. Camp Ground, Grand Avenue and Narragansett St., Chicago, Illinois.

Danville Meeting

On Sabbath, June 28, a special meeting will be held with the church in Danville. We are arranging to have the Sabbath school at 9:30 A. M., preaching at 10:30 and a meeting in the afternoon. We hope many of our brethren who live in the vicinity of Danville will make it a point to attend this meeting. When this notice reaches the reader we will have held seven special meetings with our churches. At most of these meetings Elder P. C. Hanson has accompanied the writer, but on June 28 he will hold a similar meeting in Ottawa with Elder Drews' assistance. We have just returned from a splendid meeting in Aledo. Aledo church is located very near the center of Mercer County and they have volunteered to work the entire county, placing Present Truth in every home, and they plan to follow up this work through the fall and winter. At the rate our people are volunteering to do home missionary work, we shall soon have over 1,000 families on our list that are being visited regularly each week.

We shall not be able to visit all of our smaller companies and isolated brethren in this campaign. I therefore urge that all who read this report consider most earnestly the call of God to this important branch of the work. We believe it is really the eleventh hour call. "And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the laborers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny." Now who will volunteer to labor in the vineyard of our Lord? Send your name and the number of families you are able to visit each week to Elder P. C. Hanson, Home Missionary Secretary, 304 W. Allen St., Springfield, Ill., and order your papers through your home missionary secretary or if you are isolated, order direct from the office.

Moline and Rock Island

It is with pleasure that I send in a little report of the work in this part of the harvest field. The Lord is surely working for those who are desirous of knowing the truth.

Last week as we laid away one of our dear sisters to await the resurrection morning, there were some who attended the funeral and heard the words of truth who became very much interested, and as the result of that one service we shall begin a series of cottage meetings in that neighborhood next week. One person was baptized last week and others are awaiting baptism. With the force of workers that are now on the ground we hope to see a great work accomplished in these two cities.

The Swedish brethren begin their tent effort this evening. The weather is ideal, and we hope to see the tent well filled.

Our weekly prayer meetings are well attended, which is a good omen, for we are told that the prayer meeting is "the pulse of the church."

We held our Sabbath school rally yesterday, and it will be a day long remembered by the Moline church. At the close of the afternoon session, the entire congregation pledged themselves to be more loyal to the Sabbath school work.

Our worship hour and Bible classes at the sanitarium are most precious seasons. We want the Spirit of God to come into our hearts and make us ready for the coming of our Saviour.

Pray for the work in Moline and Rock Island.

Illinois Camp Meeting

We have now made final arrangements with the managers of the Peoria District Fair, to hold our annual camp meeting on the beautiful and shady fair-ground of Peoria. We are very fortunate in securing this desirable location as it will enable our brethren in the northern part of the state to be strongly represented at our camp meeting, and it is not so far north but that most of our people from the southern part of the state can attend, and we urge that all our people, both north and south, begin now to lay definite plans to attend this important annual gathering, August 28 to September 7.

W. H. HOLDEN

Cairo

Our corps of workers, consisting of Brother and Sister Benjamin of Detroit, Mich., Sister Beatrice Lennard of New York City, and the writer, arrived at Cairo May 14. It was two weeks before we could pitch our tent because of the heavy rains. We held our first meeting May 27, and have a fine attendance every evening. Many seem interested, and we are looking forward to a harvest of souls.

This city has never heard God's truth for this time and we are glad to have a part in giving them the message that is to prepare a people for the soon coming of the Master.

Ottawa General Meeting

There will be a special series of meetings in the Ottawa church, Sabbath and Sunday, July 5, 6, in the interest of the home missionary work. Members of the near-by churches are invited to attend. The meetings will be conducted by the writer and Elder L. O.

Drews. Come and let us have a spiritual feast together and organize for service for the finishing of the work.

North Michigan Conference

The following workers attended the general meeting at the Wilson church: Elders Nethery, Wood, Harris, Bellows, Dexter, F. Wright of North Wisconsin, Brethren Hannon, Neilsen, Paul Ford, Stearns, and Carolyn Rasmusson.

Five new Sabbath schools have been organized during the present quarter. They are at Lyle, Mecosta, Marion, Wolverine, and Munising.

Elder Wood spent Sabbath with the company at Cheboygan. He left Saturday evening for Gaylord expecting to conduct baptismal service there.

Mr. Neilsen is attending the West Michigan camp meeting at Allegan this week.

We are receiving many excellent reports of the success of Sabbath School Rally Day. From the enthusiasm manifested it seems impossible for any one to remain longer outside the fold of the Sabbath school.

Wm. Coleman, in his first week of canvassing, reports orders valued at $239.

Our church schools are all closed for this school year. We are glad to report that in spite of the influenza epidemic practically all of the pupils made their grades.

Last week Robert McPherson delivered $558 worth of books, losing but one order.

Six Weeks at Marshfield Elementary School

The past few weeks have indeed been busy ones at Marshfield. Upon the first visit of our new educational superintendent we learned that our school scored only 308 points of the 475 required for a standard school. This was an increase of 33 points in seven months (and we thought we had done well to improve that much) but that meant we were "only a school" as our Union secretary would say. It seemed that every one was doing all he could to keep up the running expenses of the school and when the question of reaching at least 475 points was raised we were told "it could not be done, at least not without conference help."

It was presented to us as a school and we considered our needs and decided to try to raise at least enough to get a set of wall maps which were so much needed. Our start was made during the home missionary convention when they gave us $2.35, the proceeds from a few hours' work with our smaller books.

We at once put in an order for seventy of the "World Peace." There were other of the World Crisis series on hand and the children started to work after school that first evening. The children divided into two bands, the "Red" and "Blue," each side working to raise $8—the entire sum to be used toward the maps.

It seemed rather difficult at first for us to accomplish very much. Believing that it was the Lord's desire that our school should improve we made it a subject of prayer daily. The following Sabbath it was mentioned to the church people and they voted to give five dollars to every one dollar raised by the school. Then is when our real work began. Every dollar earned seemed of more value. A few letters were written to friends not located where they had the privilege of helping church schools, and we appreciated the gifts sent in return.

Every one had a part in the money raised—uncles, big brothers, and all were solicited for some donation. Books were sold before school, at the noon hour, and after supper. One little six year old boy disposed of seventeen books. Children brought from their own savings. A little girl found a quarter, and upon being asked by her mother what she was going to do with it remarked, "Why, give it to the map fund of course." She seemed surprised that her mother would think it could go any other place.

Our fund grew gradually, and upon the date set for Church School Rally Day our chart showed $42.33 as the amount raised by the school. The church manifested its appreciation of the work by putting enough with it to purchase the needed equipment. As a result more than one hundred dollars has been spent on our school the last six weeks.

Among the things Marshfield has added the last six weeks are a sand table with kindergarten chairs, teacher's desk, organ, set of wall maps, stove jacket, ninety library books (over half of these are new, costing about fifty dollars), drinking fountain, window ventilators, and playground equipment.

After again scoring our school last week, Mrs. Jorgensen told the children if she had the doorplate it would go on that morning. It is needless to say they were pleased and they have reason to be.

When the campaign started they heard many times: "You can never do it this year."

Now that we have passed the 475 mark we are anxious to reach the 500 points and are working toward that.

What Marshfield has done with twelve enthusiastic children and twenty interested church members can be done elsewhere.

Walderly Notes

We quote from a letter received June 11 from Miss Jewell Hanson who is canvassing with Miss Rafferty near Chippewa Falls, Wis. Miss Hanson says: "Wednesday morning we started work. By Friday I had put in over thirty hours and the Lord had helped me to secure eleven orders for 'Practical Guide,' valued at $50. It rained every day, making the roads bad. I suppose you people are enjoying the quiet vacation. I miss Walderly and the privileges I had there. Each day as I study the Morning Watch I think of morning worship there. Every evening I long to sit again with the other girls and listen to Miss Adams' quiet words of instruction. I am helped each day by the remembrance of some word spoken to me by a teacher, a fellow student, or by some helpful thought obtained during the study of a lesson."

The Misses Eliza Hummel and Lillian Kirschner, who are also canvassing in North Wisconsin, send us encouraging reports of their work for the first week. Miss Hummel took orders valued at $158 in four days and Miss Kirschner, $66.

Mr. Thure Wiik writes: "It seems strange not to hear the old rising bell, and see the hurrying to and fro of students and teachers. I am inclined to think that I shall be back at dear old Walderly again in spite of the glittering prospects of advancement elsewhere. The Lord will direct all to His glory."

Mr. Wiik was one of our most faithful students the past year, and I am sure that he will receive a warm welcome when he returns to school next September.

The school bought two fine horses during the past week. These will be a great aid to our work of building this summer, as the other two teams will be needed for farm work.

Professor von Pohle visited the Superior church last Sabbath and gave a talk on the educational work in general and also the advantages at Walderly for all our people in the North Wisconsin Conference who desire to give their boys and girls a training for the work. He emphasized the admonition given through Paul:

"But ye, brethren, are not in darkness that that day should overtake you as a thief. . . . Therefore let us not sleep as do others; but let us watch and be sober."

Clifford Murray writes us that he attended the Kentucky camp meeting at Louisville, and is now canvassing for his scholarship at Cadiz, Ky. Mr. Murray plans to be back at Walderly next year to finish the twelfth-grade work.

The summer issue of the Walderly Echo will come out sometime after July 20. We wish to hear from all the old students within the next few weeks.

The officers for the Walderly Missionary Volunteer Society until school begins were elected as follows: F. Enos Parish, leader and Miss Ella Hummel, secretary. An assistant leader and assistant secretary were also appointed.

Does It Pay to Conduct Our Church Schools?

The school year is closed and our attitude toward this branch of God's work, both morally and financially, is recorded in the books of heaven and constitutes a part of the record which will seal our destiny for eternal life or oblivion.

My brethren, are you satisfied with your record? Do you feel secure to rest your case on the way you have supported the school at your church or in your community? Does this record testify that you have cooperated fully with your teacher thus assuring her that she had an earthly friend to whom she might come for counsel and advice? Have you the assurance that this record when reviewed in the investigative judgment will bring forth the exclamation from the divine Judge, "Well done thou good and faithful servant . . . enter thou into the joy of thy Lord"?

Dear fellow teachers, have we, to whom God entrusted the most noble as well as the most delicate work ever given man, been true to our trust? Have we at all times exhibited that meek and quiet spirit which would bind the boys and girls to us and to the Lord? Has God's cause been properly advanced by our connection with it or have we been somewhat indifferent, not placing the proper value on a soul? May the Lord help us as parents, patrons, and teachers to appreciate the magnitude of the great trust committed to our keeping.

A summary of the year's work done by the Union school at Indianapolis reveals the following facts: All academic work completed and up to the standard of the state board. Our pupils have, therefore, lost nothing from this point of view. Along the missionary line there were 18 letters written from which 11 answers were received which means that eleven people had their attention directed to the Lord. There were 28 missionary visits in which personal work for the salvation of souls was conducted. Subscriptions for 8 periodicals were taken which brings the message regularly to these homes. There were 521 papers sold and 5,866 given away which means that some phase of the message went to 6,387 persons; 34 books were sold and 45 lent or given away which carried the light of the third angel's message to at least 75 families. Twenty-one tracts were given away bearing their message of truth. Many hearts were made glad and the way opened for future endeavor by the 556 hours of pure Christian help work rendered by our boys and girls. Eight articles of clothing were given away, two meals provided, and 19 bouquets rejoiced the hearts of as many people, and such was the spirit of sacrifice that out of their meager store $139.18 was contributed to help in the foreign work.

To God be the glory for this good work and may His blessings continue with it. Brethren, does it pay? Do you think the increase justifies the investment, not taking into account our duty? My brethren who are patronizing the public schools, will you please kindly inform us through the columns of the HERALD what missionary work your boys and girls did during the past school year and for what particular branch of God's work the public schools are fitting them?

Three of our boys surrendered to the Lord, were baptized and joined the church. Of the thirteen large enough to have much of a conception of the future, eleven have definite plans to enter some part of the work, have selected their field of labor (subject to the Lord's will), and are bending every effort for the accomplishment of their aim. Does it pay? "With such an army of workers as our youth, rightly trained, might furnish how soon the message of a crucified, risen, and soon-coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world! How soon might the end come—the end of suffering and sorrow and sin!"

Indiana Items

The local committee is busy investigating land propositions for the new academy. Farms at Lebanon, Frankfort, Martinsville, Ingalls, Shirley, and Greenfield have been visited, and on Sunday, June 22, the committee will meet to further consider these locations.

It is requested that all those who made pledges at the camp meeting for the educational work, should send these in as quickly as possible, so that we may have enough money to make our first payment on the land. It is hoped that by July 15 we shall have the proper location for our new school.

The following persons are the faculty for next year: Prof. C. W. Marsh and wife; Gladys Machlan, preceptress, daughter of Prof. B. F. Machlan, former principal; H. J. Halvorsen, preceptor, and his wife as teacher; Mary Crampton, matron.

The tract society is busy straightening up from camp meeting.

The Twenty-third Street church is making definite plans to enlarge its school quarters so to accommodate all the children. Two teachers will be employed.

Sabbath school officers, kindly remember that July 5 is Rally Day.

"Of speech unguarded
Man doth oft repent
But not of keeping silence."

Just So

When everything goes crooked
And seems inclined to rile,
Don't kick, nor fuss, nor fidget
Just—you—smile!

It's hard to learn the lesson,
But learn it if you'd win;
When people tease and pester,
Just—you—grin!

When someone tries to "do" you
By taking more than half,
Be patient, firm and pleasant;
Just—you—laugh!

But if you find you're stuffy
(Sometimes, of course, you will)
And cannot smile nor grin nor laugh,
Just—keep—still!

Notice

We desire to ask all the church elders to assist in getting the LAKE UNION HERALD into every home in this great Union Conference. We ask that you take this matter up in your church Sabbath, July 12, and if there are families in your church who are not receiving the LAKE UNION HERALD send us their names and addresses and we will send them sample copies of the HERALD. Do not send names of any who are now receiving the paper but please take great care to send us the name of one person in each family where the HERALD is not now received.

WM. GUTHRIE

Education

It will be of interest to the readers of the HERALD to learn that the question of the education of our youth is receiving more than usual attention in both Indiana and East Michigan. There was a good interest manifested at both these camp meetings. There was more than $7,000 worth of pledges taken for the Educational Fund at each of these camp meetings. One hour has already been devoted to the consideration of our educational work in West Michigan and further consideration will be given tomorrow (Thursday) when an offering will be taken to help put up the buildings for the training of our youth for service. We expect a good response in this conference. We trust we may have the prayers of our people in behalf of this phase of our work as we visit the other camp meetings. We look for large returns for our educational work from these camp meetings.

Broadview Theological Seminary

Broadview Theological Seminary closed a very successful year on May 27. The total enrollment this year reached the number of one hundred and twenty-five. This is about six times the total enrollment during the first year, 1910.

This year is especially noteworthy because of the fact that it is the first year of the institution as a senior college. Six students were graduated from the sixteenth grade, receiving the degree of bachelor of arts.

These college graduates with a number of the seminary and academic graduates and many of the undergraduate students are entering active missionary work this summer. A total number of seventy-one students are actively engaged in the Lord's work. This is considerably more than fifty per cent of the student body.

Just prior to the graduating exercises six students were baptized. These six practically brought all the student body into fellowship with Christ and membership in the church.

The work on the new building was progressing rapidly at the close of school. The walls were all laid and the roof was being constructed at that time. The students and patrons of the school have given generously to the funds for this building. A total sum of $2,500 has been given by teachers and former students of the school.

The school exhibits a progressive spirit in many of its departments. Plans have been laid for new courses of study. Additional laboratory equipment will be put in and a fine library room is provided in the new building. The student body is carrying on a campaign for a large organ for the new chapel.

Probably one of the most important things of interest is the missionary work done by students in the city of Chicago. Several of the students go to the city every Sunday and sell magazines in the foreign districts. Young boys and girls have sold as high as a hundred on several Sundays.

The wide field that is occupied by the graduates of the school demonstrates that there is a work for students of the Broadview Seminary. Some are going as far east as Massachusetts and others are going to points in the West where there are Swedish communities to be warned.

Attention, Church Elders

At the last meeting of the Lake Union Conference Committee, held May 14, at Berrien Springs, Mich., an action was taken recommending that the first Sabbath in July be observed as Review and Herald Day in all the churches of this Union.

We trust that all our churches will take notice of this special day and will have a part in celebrating the seventieth anniversary of our beloved church paper. A program for this day will be found in the Church Officers' Gazette for the month of June.

It was first intended that this program be held on the fourth Sabbath of this month. However, in order that all our churches may hold this program at the same time, we have requested that this day be arranged for the first Sabbath in July.

A special Anniversary Number of the Review will be issued in July, which will be one of the most attractive and inspiring numbers that has yet been published. Its record of seventy years' growth will bring joy to every heart, and we trust none will miss the inspiration it will give.

The publishers are making a special anniversary offer good for the month of July only. We trust that all of our church members will share in this generosity and have a part in the anniversary celebration by either subscribing or renewing their subscriptions to our church paper. The special offer that has been arranged for is fourteen months' subscription for $2.50. If you are already a subscriber to the Review and wish to take advantage of this special offer, you can do so, and your new subscription will be added to your present subscription.
