Somebody Cares

"Somebody knows when your heart aches,
And everything seems to go wrong;
Somebody knows when the shadows
Need chasing away with a song;
Somebody knows when you're lonely,
Tired, discouraged, and blue,
Somebody wants you to know Him,
And know that He dearly loves you.

"Somebody cares when you're tempted,
And the world grows dizzy and dim;
Somebody cares when you're weakest,
And farthest away from Him.
Somebody grieves when you're fallen,
Though you're not lost from His sight;
Somebody waits for your coming,
Taking the gloom from your night.

"Somebody loves you when weary;
Somebody loves you when strong:
Always is waiting to help you,
Watches you—one of the throng
Needing His friendship so holy,
Needing His watchcare so true.
His name?—We call His name Jesus.
His people?—Just I and just you."

Fix the Price

How much are they worth? Fix the price. But before you do this, count the cost—to you, to them.

Indiana's broad acres are worth $200, $300, $400 per acre. Indiana's thoroughbreds are worth $200, $300, $400 each. How much is your boy worth? Affix a value upon your girl. Search the country east, west, north, south and find, if you can, brighter, better, nobler boys and girls than our Hoosiers. Large-heartedness, unselfishness, generosity are their inherited birthright. Save the boys; save the girls; they are worth the price—any price you may be asked to pay.

Few, if any, local conferences have ever struggled under a heavier financial load than rests upon the shoulders of our Indiana people. But they are loyal. The load will be lifted, carried. A home will be built for our heritage. They are worth it. Not an elaborate, extravagantly furnished home—just a home. A school home where Indiana's sons and daughters may be gathered and sheltered from the appalling dangers which menace them from without. A school home where the angel of the Lord holds the front door key, and has access to every cozy corner. A school home where nobler Christian ideals will be constantly held before them; where the needs of the message make their own appeal.

Just such a school home is being built.

For more than a dozen years have I had the privilege of being directly connected with the educational work of this people. I have visited nearly a score of our higher schools, but I must say that the advantages of Indiana's new academy, when completed, will be second to none.

A productive farm of ninety-five acres; not too near nor yet too far from the metropolis; excellent transportation facilities—auto, electric, and steam; perfect drainage—a living stream and never-failing springs; only one mile from the quiet rural village of Cicero; a magnificent building site, as though made to order, upon a point of high ground backed by two beautifully wooded ravines converging so as to form almost a right angle, thus inviting a semi-circular arrangement of the buildings—these are some of the many advantages of the location for the new academy. I believe Providence directed the locating committee to this ideal spot.

The pillar of cloud has rested. Already may be heard the sound of saw and hammer. Already may be seen a demonstration of the faith of Indiana's believers. And even now, amid confusion and discomfort, the happy faces of nearly a half hundred of her boys and girls look up smilingly from their desks. The air castle of former years is no longer a dream. It is fast becoming a reality. Discomforts count for nothing in the assurance of a school home in the near future of which Indiana may justly be proud; which will be a monument to the truth and a credit to its adherents.

Fix the price which you are willing to pay for one consecrated, trained young man or woman who may thus be enabled to answer the call, the call of a perishing world.

From millions of broken hearts in the homeland; from multiplied millions of crushed and bleeding hearts across the seas is ascending a cry, an unutterable cry of human woe and anguish. How long, O Lord! How long?

For the sake of the lost; for the sake of your own; for the sake of your brother's own; for God's sake, remember our school. Remember it morning and evening at the altar of prayer. Remember it by self-denial in expenditures. "Let all share the expense." Some must give in thousands; some in hundreds; some in tens.

The talent of Indiana's heritage must not be hidden in a napkin. This monument to the cause of Christian education must be built.

The Work in Indiana

Sabbath, October 25, I visited the believers in the vicinity of Monticello, where Brethren Williams and Bish held their tent effort during the summer. Five converts have already been baptized, others are keeping the Sabbath, and many are still interested in the message. The brethren have taken down their tent and it is being shipped to Indianapolis. They hope to have meetings on Wednesday and Sunday nights and on other evenings hold special Bible readings at the homes. I was indeed very much pleased to note the spirit prevailing, and the excellent interest still existing in Monticello, and believe that by further effort there will be a strong company raised up in this town.

Sunday, October 26, we had a Sanitarium Board meeting, and all the members of the board were present. Elder Guthrie, president of the Lake Union Conference, also met with the board. Many of you have heard that Dr. Dunscombe resigned as medical superintendent of the Wabash Valley Sanitarium. After considerable deliberation the doctor felt that his call was to remain with the institution. The board at no time desired to have the doctor leave, and was indeed very reluctant to release him. He withdrew his resignation. We are very glad to announce, therefore, to the constituency, that Dr. Dunscombe will remain as medical superintendent of the sanitarium. We believe that the sanitarium has an excellent future. There is need for small improvements, but after the necessary improvements in bath-rooms and dining-room, we think the sanitarium will have sufficient housing room to make it a sixty or sixty-five room sanitarium. We are having an excellent patronage, and it is practically crowded all the time. There is in process of construction an eight-room building which will be known as the Annex to the sanitarium. This we hope to have finished in the very near future. The outside work of this building is practically finished, and all the plastering is done.

When I last visited the school, I found that the foundation was fully completed for the girls' dormitory, and also the foundation for the heating plant. The brick is being laid which requires a base of five and a half feet, after which the frame will be rapidly erected. We have been waiting for the brick a few days, but the carpenters have prepared the lumber so that as soon as the brick is laid it will take but a short time to erect the frame. We have been very fortunate in the drilling of a well. We went down forty-eight feet and found an abundance of water which comes within about four feet of the surface. There prevails an excellent spirit at the school. There are still other calls and prospects of students coming.

Remember, that during the months of November and December we want to put forth special effort in the raising of every dollar for the girls' dormitory. We ought to raise about $10,000 during these two months in order to meet every financial obligation in the erection of this building. Send in your donation either to the office or to your local church treasurer.

A letter just received from Mrs. F. M. Roberts states that Elder Roberts, now living at Clearwater, Fla., has had a serious operation and is in a critical condition. She asks for your prayers.

Greetings from Maple Crest Academy

The people of Indiana will appreciate, even at this late date, a short account of the opening days at the new Indiana Academy, at Cicero. In the rush of work incident to the opening, this has been neglected, but we promise frequent notes from this time on.

Our goods from Beechwood were a little late in arriving and a number of students were present on the day before the formal opening with no place for the night, but fortunately the trucks arrived that evening and there were beds in abundance.

School opened with 29 students enrolled in grades 8-11 inclusive, and our enrollment is now 33 with still a few to come. The girls are living in the farm cottage and the boys, 21 in number, are housed in a building 16x32. As one looks in at bedtime, he could imagine himself in a railroad pullman, with upper and lower berths. This is used also for study hall. The camp meeting dining tent is pitched and is used for dining-room, kitchen, chapel, and for part of the classes. We have had rain in abundance since school opened, and the reader can imagine and appreciate some of the difficulties under which we labor. As I write, the rain is beating down and teachers are conducting classes amid the din.

You might expect to see downcast faces and a general feeling of depression and dissatisfaction, but not so. Our students and teachers wish it understood that we are enjoying our work, willing to contend with these difficulties because of the knowledge that with the financial cooperation of you who read this account, another year will see our new academy well on the road to completion, and equipped for the training of the young people of Indiana for the work and kingdom of God.

Our teaching force consists of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Parfitt, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Halvorsen, Miss Helen Woods, Mrs. Marsh, and the writer.

An Important Matter

There is one condition that has prevailed year after year in our Harvest Ingathering campaign, to which our attention needs to be called.

Ministers and conference workers who visit our churches report seeing large numbers of Ingathering magazines that have never been used, lying about our places of worship—in the desk, behind the piano, piled up in a corner, and in fact almost everywhere they have no business to be. This condition should not exist. It shows failure—failure to do our work, or misjudgment on the part of the home missionary secretary.

At the beginning of the campaign, each church membership was multiplied by five and the amount in magazines sent to our churches. If with these magazines you have reached your goal of $5 per member, and still have a surplus, then the secretary has erred; his judgment has been poor and he ought to pay for his mistake. All right, I am willing, if you have reached your goal of $5 per member with the original papers sent you, and still have some on hand, write to me and I will come and use them in your community and turn in the money I receive to your church. That is fair, isn't it? On the other hand, if you have not reached your goal and your church still has Harvest Ingathering magazines in stock, be faithful and see that every paper is made to count. Each of these magazines cost the church about seven cents. Why should any of them be wasted?

Courage

"There is unconquerable strength which begins with the confession of weakness."

The weakest point in my five years' experience in the colporteur work has been in lightly passing over and neglecting the cities. Recently I resolved to conquer on this point, but it took more courage than I had realized. The following experience proves that "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

Before entering the first house, I seemed to be walking in darkness. The city's reputation, as being the most wicked city in the state of Indiana, arose in my mind. I thought, Is it possible that there are souls seeking for truth in this wicked city to which I have been lead? Just then Satan was out with his hunting dogs, the little imps of human weakness. He said to one, "Get him for me." Quickly the imp crossed the street and whispered in my ear, "You are discouraged." I said, "No, I am not discouraged." He said, "You are discouraged." I replied this time, "I do not think I am." Louder and more decidedly the little imp said again, "I tell you you are discouraged." I dropped my head and said, "Well, I suppose I am." Quickly the imp carried the news to Satan, "I have him." I then breathed a silent prayer to God for help. My prayer was answered immediately. With head erect I entered a near-by house and came out with an order for "Great Controversy" in the full leather binding.

"Christ will give strength to all who seek it. No man without his own consent can be overcome by Satan. . . . The fact that Christ has conquered should inspire His followers with courage to fight manfully the battle against sin and Satan."—"Great Controversy," p. 510.

The Year 1919

Several weeks still remain in the year 1919, but as we think of passing events, it does seem that the old year has gone by very rapidly. Many of our aims and ambitions have not yet been fully met; some of our pledges and vows remain unpaid, and we have been disappointed in many of our hopes and ambitions. Yet, when we compare our disappointments and our defeats with our victories, our success, and the joys and prosperity which the year has brought us, our hearts are caused to rejoice, and we can heartily praise the Lord for His many blessings to us, collectively and individually.

It is a good thing for us to pause at this point in the calendar, and earnestly consider our relationship to God's work during this year, and put forth one strong effort to accomplish much during the few remaining weeks, which has thus far been left undone. We can yet enlarge greatly upon the success of the year's work. November and December are good months to work for the Lord. The days are now very short, and the evenings long. What a splendid opportunity these long evenings give us for home missionary work! These are days when whole families sit around the table and read books and papers, and in some cases many, many hours are practically wasted in reading light and frivolous fiction. How much better it would be in these cases if we could interest our neighbors in the reading of good, substantial literature, such as is contained in our own books, papers, and magazines! If we take hold of the home missionary work in earnest, we can yet reach many hearts this fall, and cause the salvation of many souls. Let us buckle on the armor anew, and through prayer and faith, seek to add a few stars to our crown.

Then there is the Harvest Ingathering work. We are receiving many splendid reports from our churches, and hope in the next week's issue of the LAKE UNION HERALD to publish again a complete list of the churches and the results obtained through the Harvest Ingathering. Since attending the Fall Council, I have visited a few of our people, and wherever I have been, I have found an active interest in the Harvest Ingathering work. I do believe that our next report will cause our hearts to rejoice.

It may be that during the next few weeks some will find that they are back on-tithe, which should, of course, always be sent to the treasury of the Lord promptly, when it falls into our hands. If any have been delinquent in this, let us pick up the broken threads and the missing links before December shall close, so that all that belongs to the Lord may be given to Him during this year.

The week of prayer will be held December 6-13, and I am arranging to have our ministers meet with as many of the churches as possible. In some cases it will not be possible to send a minister this year, because we have so many churches to visit, but whether a minister calls on you or not, be sure to remember the week of prayer. If you do not take the Review and Herald, you ought to subscribe for it at once, so you can get the Week of Prayer Readings, and then do not miss a single one of the readings. If you do not have the privilege of church service, call your family around you each evening during the week of prayer, and read the reading for that day to your family. Then bow before God and commit yourselves anew to Him, praying for His prosperous hand upon yourself, your family, your home, your church, the conference, the nation, and the cause of God throughout the entire world.

The events in this old world indicate that we are rapidly approaching the great day of God, and somehow I feel a longing desire to have a larger part in this week of prayer than I have ever had before. We need more of God's sustaining grace; we need much more of His keeping power, and greatly do we long for the full baptism of His Holy Spirit for the finishing of the work. The reports given at the Fall Council indicate that the work in all lands is fast drawing to a close, and what we do for the Master must be done quickly.

If you are a member of a church and live where you can meet with the company of believers, do not absent yourself from a single meeting. It may be at that very meeting the Lord will graciously bless your church with a fresh baptism of the Holy Spirit. Your church should not wait for a local minister to come and help them, but they should meet together and some one should give the reading, and then all should engage in an earnest season of prayer.

Let us begin now to plan for the Annual Offering which will be taken up on the last Sabbath of the week of prayer. Remember this may be the last offering you can make for the cause of God. Before another year passes, some of us will doubtless be laid away in the tomb, and while we live is the time to give, as while we live is the time to work. Let us work while it is day, and let us earnestly pray that we may so live that we may have a home in the kingdom of God when Jesus comes. We are living in a great and important field. The Illinois Conference is one of the largest conferences in the Union. We have three and one-half million people to tell of Jesus' coming, and about fifteen hundred believers to do the work, and oh, what a wonderful work we can do, if each soul is consecrated to this work! Let us be faithful and diligently cooperate with one another for the finishing of the work.

W. H. HOLDEN

The "Lake Union Herald" in Every Home

The Lake Union Conference has adopted the policy of placing the LAKE UNION HERALD in every Seventh-day Adventist family. This policy has led many to think that we intend the HERALD to be free to all subscribers, but this is not strictly true. We desire the LAKE UNION HERALD in every home, because of the important reading matter which it contains. You who are reading it understand the value of the paper. You can see at a glance how each conference endeavors to keep the people posted in regard to what is being done throughout the field, and you will agree with me that without having a knowledge of the work, there is danger of our losing interest in the spread of the gospel in our home field.

You also understand how hard it is to keep any publication in every home continually, year after year. Some people will delay their subscription, and the publishers will stop the paper, thus causing them to lose several issues. The heads of some families are not especially interested in the paper, and therefore will not subscribe for it, though other members of the same family would greatly appreciate the paper. We might enumerate many causes why it is difficult to keep up a regular subscription list for the LAKE UNION HERALD, but the importance of the paper is so great, and the need of keeping in touch with all of our people each week is so vital to the upbuilding of our work at home and abroad, we have resolved as a conference, to send the paper to every Seventh-day Adventist family in our conference, whether they keep a paid-up subscription or not.

We hope, however, that this effort on our part to keep our people informed in regard to our conference work will not lessen the weight of responsibility on the part of our people to keep their subscription paid annually. The year 1919 is drawing to a close, and now is the time for every one to send in his subscription for the paper. The regular subscription price for the LAKE UNION HERALD is only fifty cents a year, but at our last Union committee meeting, we discovered that the paper actually costs nearly one dollar a year.

It is the policy of the Union Conference to publish all the reports that are sent to the paper by the various conferences in the Union, and if it is necessary to make the paper larger than the regular issue, they will do so. For instance, you will note that the HERALD for September 24 contained twelve pages, then the next week, October 1, it contained only eight pages, while again on October 8 it contained twelve pages; October 15, sixteen pages, and the last issue of October 22 contained twenty-four pages, the size of the paper varying to meet the demands of the local conferences that send reports for publication, and thus far during the year 1919 the paper has cost the publishers much more than fifty cents a year per copy.

Twice a year the publishers send a bill to the local conferences for the balance due on all papers sent to each conference. Just a little while ago we received a bill for $434.34, for the first six months of 1919. This is an indication that the LAKE UNION HERALD sent to the Illinois Conference will cost a total of nearly one thousand dollars for the year. I am sure the readers of the HERALD do not want the conference to bear this expense. The majority of our people appreciate this weekly visitor, and are willing to pay for the same, rather than lose their subscription. I am, therefore, placing this notice in the LAKE UNION HERALD to let you know that it is time to pay up your subscription. In a few cases, individuals have paid-up subscriptions which have not yet expired, but in most cases it is now time to renew. I understand from the office that only a few have sent in subscriptions this year, and inasmuch as we are insistent on sending the paper to every family, we do not feel like sending a personal notice to each subscriber, telling him to pay up his subscription. Therefore, we must leave it with our people largely as a conscientious, freewill, voluntary act on their part, and we believe our people appreciate the paper sufficiently to warrant their paying for the same without much urging on our part.

Suffice it to say, that if the people who read the LAKE UNION HERALD do not pay for the paper, it means a financial loss to the conference of from fifty cents to one dollar for every family that forgets to send in their remittance. Whereas, on the other hand, if each person receiving the LAKE UNION HERALD will promptly send to the conference office at least fifty cents for his own subscription, and for value received in the many excellent reports found in the HERALD from week to week, it will be a burden to no one, and a blessing to all. The LAKE UNION HERALD is the first paper I read, when several come together in the same mail, and I often think that I would rather be deprived of any paper we have than our own local union paper.

I trust this notice will be sufficient to bring in money enough to clean up the deficit on the conference subscription list.

Church Notice

We now plan to hold a general meeting in the church at Carterville, Sabbath, November 8. We wish to hold two meetings, one in the morning at ten o'clock and one in the afternoon, therefore those attending the meetings should bring basket lunch for dinner. A year ago we planned a similar meeting at Carterville, but because of the influenza we were able to hold only one meeting. Those who were there will remember what a beautiful day it was. Let us pray that the Lord will give us another beautiful Sabbath, and that we may not be obliged to break up the meetings because of sickness. Let every one, far and near, who can possibly meet with us, put forth an effort to attend this meeting.

Colored Work at Mounds

We closed our meetings here Sunday evening, September 28, with a crowded tent. Eight have taken a definite stand to keep the Sabbath, and many others are very much interested. We are now conducting studies in the homes of fifteen families.

We are very thankful that we shall have the assistance of Brother and Sister R. A. Benjamin of Detroit, Mich., in our evangelistic work this winter in Illinois. We have already made plans for an aggressive campaign, and have secured a nicely located hall. Pray for the work among the colored people in this great needy field.

South Side Chicago German Work

First of all we are obliged to give thanks and glory to the Lord, the living God. A fine interest was manifested in our tent meetings and a number of precious souls took their stand for the truth. Nine of these I baptized in the name of the Lord on September 6. There are a number of others who will surely follow.

For all this we are glad. But one of the most essential things we did not have and that was a place for Sabbath worship. We had outgrown the old place and as our membership increased it could not be taken into consideration. But where should we go? Wherever we went and asked about places we thought we could use we met with failure. Out of five churches and some stores only one church was not entirely closed to us. That church had no pastor at the time, but the members could not do anything about renting the church without bringing the matter to the bishop. With the well-known prejudice of the bishop we could expect nothing. But God in heaven knew we must have a meeting place. The last Sabbath in our tent came and I had to announce a place of meeting but knew not where. So trusting the promise of Jesus, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world," I announced that we would meet next Sabbath at the church just mentioned. My dear brethren, you can imagine that those were days of wrestling with God. Sunday morning Sister Mueller, our Bible worker, and I went to that church and the members rented it to us for three weeks. God is good to us. We have now rented this church for a longer time. It is a beautiful church, on the corner of Forty-fourth Place and Princeton Avenue. "The people which sat in darkness saw great light: and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up." We are of good courage. We are all glad to belong to the class spoken of in 1 Peter 2:9: "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light."

We continue the good work by holding meetings two nights a week at the church. May the blessings of God come upon His people, and will you all mention the German work in your earnest prayers, is my wish.

P. H. HERMANN

Chicago Italian Work

I have been requested to write a report for our paper, and I gladly do so for it has now been quite a long time since I have said anything about the progress of the work of the Lord among my people. We prefer to do our work quietly for we are sure that we have the prayers of God's people back of us. We know that God has been with us.

We organized our Italian church here in Chicago six years ago, and up to day, thank God, we have baptized 114 souls. Eight of this number are now engaged in the Lord's work in other cities, namely: New York, Philadelphia, Milwaukee, Denver, and Reno, Nev. Some have returned to Italy, and others have taken their transfer, so now we have a membership of 94.

Our people are mostly common day laborers, having large families, yet they are faithful in tithe and offerings. To prove this I will give the financial report for last quarter: Tithe, $939.55; Sabbath school, $232.85; church expense, $79.18; poor fund, $70.29.

Although this is not much, it shows the spirit of consecration and self-denial of those who give their hearts to Jesus.

The work among the Italians is not easy, especially in America where we have to deal with ignorance and superstition and with people who came to America to seek money and better position, and not to change religion. Nevertheless, there are honest souls who belong to God and He is willing to give them to us if we search for them.

We started our church school this year with two teachers and fifty children. We wish your prayers that these children may be educated for the Master's service. Besides the regular school work, we are teaching the Italian language two hours a week to all above the third grade.

There is a great work ahead of us and we feel very incompetent to do it; still it must be done and we pray God to fill us with His Holy Spirit so we may know how to work for the advancement of His kingdom.

Our Bible workers, Sister Vesta Cash and Brother T. Catalano, are staying faithfully by the work, and we are thankful for their faithfulness, especially in doing house-to-house work.

As winter is approaching and the high cost of clothing makes matters worse, if any of the readers have some good clothes, shoes, or overcoats for men, women, and children, and would like to send them to us, we are sure we can use them to good advantage for we meet many in need. Please send them prepaid to 1213 W. Gilpin Place, Chicago, Ill.

May God bless and help us to finish His work. We request the readers to remember us at the throne of grace.

R. CALDERONE

Sabbath School Items

The Mount Claire school was organized at the close of the Danish tent effort with a membership of twenty. We welcome this school to our number.

You will be glad to learn how many foreign Sabbath schools we have in the Chicago Conference. They are as follows: Czecho-Slovak, Polish, Hungarian, Rumanian, Italian (two schools), Swedish (three schools), German (two) and Danish (two). Classes are taught in different languages in the Brookfield school. We hope soon to have schools in the Russian and Greek languages.

The report for the third quarter has gone to Washington and we are sure that you are anxious to know what it was. So here it is: 28 schools, membership 1,519, average attendance 1,401. Home Department members 64. Twenty-eight had a perfect record in attendance and daily study, 338 were perfect in attendance, and 51 studied the lesson every day.

Nineteen schools reached the goal of fifteen cents a week per church member. Twenty-four schools reached the goal of Dollar Day on the thirteenth Sabbath. The birthday offerings amounted to $98.90. The Home Department members gave $139.27 in offerings.

The Thirteenth Sabbath Offering was $2,520.47 and the total was $4,849.49. The reason that the Thirteenth Sabbath Offering was more than that for the twelve Sabbaths is because our members all through the quarter plan for a large offering on that day. Some give as high as fifty dollars and we do not have many that have much of this world's goods, either. We thank the Lord that He is giving us willing hearts in the day of His power.

The Italian school, with a membership of 120, gave over $93 on the thirteenth Sabbath and they say that they are going to pass their goal next time. May the Lord help them in this, is our prayer.

The Colored church with a membership of 170 (counting their Home Department members) gave $194.36 on the thirteenth Sabbath and $334.53 for the quarter. This was very good for the quarter when there was such a terrible riot here, and several were thrown out of employment. These dear people are very loyal to the cause of God. The kindergarten division has set its goal for $50 for the next thirteenth Sabbath. The twelve Home Department members gave $41.20 during the quarter.

The intermediate division of thirty children at the South Side church gave $50 last thirteenth Sabbath and the kindergarteners did fine also. The school raised $295.84 for thirteenth Sabbath and $436.63 for the entire quarter.

West Central with a membership of 144 had $340.88 for the thirteenth Sabbath and $595.14 for the quarter. The expense of these large churches is very great but they surely do their part in raising means for the fields beyond. The North Shore school with a membership of 57 reached the amount of $336.89 on thirteenth

Sabbath which averaged $4.15 per member.

We would be glad to speak of all the schools, but it will be impossible this time. Nearly all are doing their best, for which we are very thankful to the dear Lord.

Church Dedication at Appleton

Sabbath, October 25, was a good day for the believers at Appleton. It was the day their church was dedicated to the service of God. This splendid little church was built some time ago at a cost of $3,500, but not until this fall were they able to entirely lift the burden of debt.

Elder G. P. Gaede and the writer had charge of the special services which began Friday evening and closed Sunday evening. The dedicatory service took place Sabbath afternoon, the church being filled at this time. Many of our people were present from Green Bay, New London, and Neenah churches.

Meals were provided in the basement of the church by the sisters for all the guests. Their hospitality was greatly appreciated by all.

The Spirit of God was present in all our meetings and gave evidence of acceptance of the gifts presented. All seemed to feel that the time had come to give ourselves and all we have to the finishing of the work of God in the earth. May God bless the Appleton church in days to come, and may it ever be a bright and shining light for Him.

Elementary School Notes

The following items will be of interest to those workers whose heart is in the educational work.

Oshkosh—I found twelve happy, busy children in the new school which was just started. The schoolroom, which is attached to the back of the church, is well lighted, and the two small rooms in connection with the schoolroom afford good cloak rooms. Miss Frances DeVinney, the teacher, realizing her lack of equipment, had secured enough subscriptions for the Educator to entitle her to the premium globe. We feel sure that the interest shown by the board and patrons will materialize in some much-needed equipment. The children were enthusiastically working toward their Harvest Ingathering goal.

Sheboygan—It seemed, even up to the last week before school should open, quite impossible to secure suitable quarters to open school in Sheboygan. The children here had waited so long for a school it seemed that surely the Lord would provide a place. After much seeking and prayer a good location was secured at the eleventh hour. Prohibition had made room for us. We found a well lighted, clean, spacious saloon, which the proprietor seemed glad to rent us for the small sum of fifteen dollars a month. He repapered and repainted, and even installed a sanitary water bubbler for the children's use. There was in connection with the room quite suitable playground. By partitioning off the large room a living room for the teacher and Bible worker was provided. There are fourteen children enrolled and thirteen more expected later. The children are enthusiastic over the Harvest Ingathering work, besides raising an equipment fund for the school. Miss Flora McChesney writes: "I am happy in my work; wouldn't be any place else in all the world." They have recently organized their Parent-Teacher Association.

Green Bay—It was indeed a pleasure to step into the clean schoolroom at Green Bay. The schoolroom walls had been repainted, the woodwork and seats revarnished, and the floor oiled. The teacher, in her clean white dress, suggested that she responded to the nice clean room, which had been decorated with a row of bunnies and squirrels above the windows. Of the twenty-one pupils enrolled six are in the eighth grade. It was gratifying to learn that actual results were being reported from the school gardens the past summer. More than eighteen dollars had been turned in and there was more produce yet to be marketed. This money is to be used to equip their splendid basement for manual training. The children set their Harvest Ingathering goal for fifty dollars, and both pupils and teacher—Helen Johnson—were devotedly working. This school had added an organ to its equipment, and at the school board meeting definite plans were laid to bring the school up to standard in every point. They have organized their Parent-Teacher Association.

Oneida—The next school visited was on the Oneida Indian Reservation where Miss Helen Hansen presides over a happy company of eighteen children, mostly Indians. The closing of the government school has increased the attendance from nine, of last year, to its present number. To our surprise we found that some of these little Indians were not at all familiar with the story of Jesus and the cross, yet they seemed to get the idea when I explained the Harvest Ingathering work, and they set their goal at twelve dollars. The next morning four came quite late to school but they felt justified for they had collected a nice offering for the Harvest Ingathering. During my visit there a giant stride was put up, and two teeters, which were being put to good use when I left. A parents' meetings was called for Sunday night and in spite of a drizzling rain almost every family was represented. One Indian mother walked almost a half mile carrying her infant papoose and a lantern through the rain. Plans were laid to hold parents' meetings every six weeks, and officers were elected.

Milwaukee—The next school visited on the trip was Milwaukee. Here I found the two teachers, Alice Wehner and Bernice Howard, busy and happy in their work. Miss Wehner teaches grades six, seven, and eight, and has an enrollment of seventeen. Miss Howard has grades one to five, and an enrollment of twenty-five. The separation of the one large room into two was a great improvement. Also the space on each side of the partition afforded place for the much-needed blackboard. The installation of bubblers in both of the cloakrooms and a new set of wall maps, were much appreciated by the teachers. The forty-one pupils have set their goal at eighty-five dollars for the Harvest Ingathering, and at the latest report they had more than half of it. On Sunday evening a Parent-Teacher Association was organized, with Elder H. H. Hicks as leader. From the interest shown we feel sure this association will do much in uniting the interests of the school and the home, and in bringing the school up to the standard.

Because of sickness, I have been unable to visit the rest of the schools as planned, but hope to be able to do soon.

Goal Passed at Sheboygan

The Sheboygan church passed its goal of $300 in three weeks. We were late in getting started as the German papers came late.

At the beginning of the campaign several sisters went to the near-by town of Sheboygan Falls and returned with $20. Recently five went to Plymouth where we received about forty dollars. At the beginning, I set my personal goal at $25 and I have already doubled it.

The people seem more willing than ever to give, although those opposed seem to be growing more bitter. Several have been found who are looking for light; three Bible readings have already been held with one family and they are eager for more.

Our contact with the people has encouraged us to press on, not only seeking offerings but also endeavoring to find gems for the Master's kingdom.

The girls who responded to the call from the farm department for potato pickers were rewarded by having a lot of fun, sore muscles, double pay, and a compliment from Mr. Wohlers. He said they picked up twice as many potatoes as the boys. Two hundred and thirty-three bushels were gathered in less than two hours. The school has about three hundred bushels in the cellar for winter use.

Six hundred and fifty bushels of grain were threshed October 17. The silos are filled.

"The enrollment is now one hundred and twenty," announced Professor Elliott in chapel October 20. The last to enroll was Buford French, son of Elder A. F. French who has recently moved to a farm near the school.

Harvest Ingathering is set for the last week of October. The students expect to reach their goal.

The new dormitory is nearing completion on the inside, and as soon as the material for the heating system arrives and is fitted the boys will move to their new home. It is hoped the building will be ready for dedication soon.

Neta Wilson and her brother, who has just been released from service, visited friends at Bethel recently.

Since the fall crops are harvested and the farm work is well out of the way for this year, there ought to be a number of students who can be free to attend school now who were not able to come at the opening. Even though it is somewhat late, it is not too late to come. The teachers will assist every one who comes to get a good start and to catch up with the work of the classes. Everything will be done that we can to aid the progress of the student who has been unable to enter until now. We wish to encourage you to come. Do not put it off, saying, "It is too late." Muster up your courage and the Lord will be with you.

We expect to have the chimney for the new dormitory finished this week, and then we can have heat in the building. As soon as the heat is turned on the varnishing can begin, and when this is done we are ready to use the building. At this writing we are finishing the first floor. The second floor is done.

The new wood-working machine has arrived and is daily being put to good use. The benches for the manual training class in school are ready to be set up.

Not wishing to hire a mixer for our cement work from now on, Mr. Weaver showed his ingenuity again by making one.

Come to Bethel, "to the school where the students do things."

News Notes

Word from the principal of Bethel Academy shows that building operations there are moving on splendidly, but as he says, "none too fast," as all available space is crowded with students until the dormitory is completed and ready for occupancy. October 20 their enrollment was about one hundred and twenty, with many more young people in the conference on the point of deciding to attend.

Elder Bristol left Tuesday, October 28, for Broadview, to attend the meeting of the Swedish Seminary Board.

In passing through Madison from Bethel on his way to LaFarge where he has an effort in progress, Elder French spent a few hours with Elder Bristol at the home of the latter.

H. K. Presley, our Union auditor, audited the books of the South Wisconsin tract society and conference last week.

G. R. Fattic and J. L. McConaughy were here for a brief but pleasant call last Monday. They had just been attending the Missionary Volunteer convention held by Miss Bell at Milton Junction, rendering able assistance while there.

Miss Bell returned Sunday night from Milton Junction. While there she conducted a Missionary Volunteer convention, a report of which will appear.

After the tent was taken down, meetings were continued in a church building in this place. There is still a good interest and some have taken a firm stand for the truth. I have visited this company and held meetings each week since we discontinued our tent meetings. Pray for the work here.

Professor Simpson attended a conference committee meeting in Grand Rapids last Friday.

Mr. Butterfield spent two days in Chicago last week looking up grand pianos. He turned the list he secured over to Professor Summers of the College, and he will go to Chicago Tuesday to examine these pianos and choose the best one for the academy.

Our ten-day campaign to raise funds for a grand piano has closed. We more than doubled our goal in less than the given time, raising six hundred and five dollars in cash. There are a few pledges yet to be paid.

Students continue to come. We are over our goal now, and know definitely of a number more coming this week. We are crowded to the limit.

The Harvest Ingathering campaign for the academy and church is being pushed now.

We are shipping another car load of potatoes to the College this week.

Our literary society gave an interesting program last evening after the Sabbath. This was the first program given this year by the society. Among other things we enjoyed a lively drill in parliamentary practice.

A chorus of forty-three voices was organized last Saturday evening. We are working on the Cantata "Ruth" by Gaul.

Wanted at Once

Ten young men and women to sell "Practical Guide," "Our Day," "Bible Readings," "Great Controversy," "Daniel and Revelation," "Heralds of the Morning," and other books. None but Christians need apply. Faithfulness is required in serving the Lord.

"Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before Him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon His name. And they shall be Mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up My jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him." Mal. 3:16,17. What will it mean to be counted among the redeemed, when the Lord makes up His jewels? We would all like to be there. The door of heaven will be open to those who are faithful here.

"And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine; His Lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant. . . . Cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness." Matt. 25:25, 26, 30. Dear reader, let me ask you a question. What are you doing with the talent God has given you?

Notice the reports as they appear in the HERALD from week to week. Are you ready to join us in the canvassing work? The Lord has a place for you. I am ready to help you get started. Don't fail to write me. God must have workers. Who is willing to heed the call?

Watch this space next week for information in regard to the new book, "Epidemics," which is just off the press.

Brother Thiele reports that the society at Elkton is actively engaged in missionary work. He held a meeting with this society October 25, and also visited the Elmwood society on his return.

The first edition of Harvest Ingathering papers is exhausted. The publishers are running a second edition and these will be ready in a few days.

Wells

For some time meetings have been held twice a week in a commodious union church here. The attendance has fluctuated, due to various causes. A number of honest souls are deeply interested, especially since our special points of faith are being presented.

Wells is a suburb of Escanaba,—the metropolis of the Upper Peninsula,—where only three or four witnesses for the third angel's message are to be found. Escanaba has always been considered a difficult field and it probably is. But through the interested ones at Wells, doors are being opened for work in Escanaba. The writer has just begun a series of lectures in a Protestant lodge or secret order. Some of the best citizens are thus reached. Besides the regular members being present, their families and others are permitted to attend the lectures. In the same manner it has been suggested that another series be given in the Escanaba Baptist church in the absence of a regular pastor. These openings are bound to result in the formation of a wide circle of acquaintances, thus affording plenty of apparently fertile soil in which to sow the precious seeds of life.

Your prayers are greatly needed for the success of the work at Wells and Escanaba.

A Valuable Book

A small book has recently been issued which describes the action of the various prevailing epidemics and also gives the treatment for them. This book is so moderate in price that your neighbors will want one. I believe that this little book will have a more ready sale than "World Peace." Help humanity combat the terrible enemy, disease. Order ten of them for the benefit of your friends and neighbors. Ten for $1.35, postpaid.

Our first snow of the season came October 25. About 1 P. M. the feathery flakes began to fly. A baptismal service had been announced to take place in Middle River soon after dinner. At 2:15 P. M., while standing in this beautiful shower of snow, we witnessed the baptism of Mrs. Florence Zinzer by Elder H. P. Anderson, our Bible teacher.

Work on the new dormitory is progressing rapidly. The preceptress and several of the girls have moved into the new building. The installation of the new furnace and steam is being done by Professors von Pohle and Parish, aided by several of the men and larger boys. Soon our girls will be enjoying as comfortable quarters as any one could ask here or elsewhere.

Elder J. J. Irwin visited the academy last Thursday, returning to Ashland a few hours later. He seemed greatly pleased with the progress being made in all the different lines of work at this place.

Mr. Gunderson, our preceptor, entertained the students with his victrola in the chapel last Saturday night.

News Notes

Elder Wright reports starting another series of meetings in the church at Superior, with a good attendance.

Our Harvest Ingathering work is progressing nicely. The Pound church set their Harvest Ingathering goal at $85, and have already passed this, and have a new goal of $100, that they will doubtless pass in a short time. The Ashland church-school children have averaged over one dollar each in their Harvest Ingathering. The church has over $75. Many other churches are reporting good success with the Harvest Ingathering, and we hope to go beyond our goal of $2,000.

Elder Irwin and Brother Copeland visited the Clearwater Lake church over Sabbath and Sunday, and presented the two per-cent as a partial solution to raising the Educational Fund, which met with a ready response with the people there.

Brother Schebo reports that he has a fair attendance at Grantsburg, and hopes to raise up a good strong company there.

Brother N. C. Peterson is now located at Antigo and will work in that vicinity this winter.

Brother V. R. Hillman has moved to Marinette, Wis., and will work there in the interest of the Scandinavian work.

Some have asked if they could deposit money with the conference. A few have already done this, some charging no interest. As the pledges for the Educational Fund are not due, we could receive a limited amount at a low rate of interest. Should any one desire to place money here, please write J. J. Irwin, 523 Beaser Ave., Ashland, Wis.

The November number of the Watchman Magazine, now on sale, is especially attractive. Among the articles that you will want your neighbors to read are "The Kingdom That Shall Not Be Destroyed," "Shall We Mourn Forever?" "The Judgment of the Church," "Red Lights Ahead," and an editorial, "What Think Ye of Christ?"

Running Away from God

Our prayers often resemble the mischievous tricks of town children, who knock at their neighbor's houses and then run away. We often knock at heaven's door and then run off into the spirit of the world. Instead of waiting for entrance and answer, we act as if we were afraid of having our prayers answered.
 —Williams.

Smile

There's a wondrous lot of power
 In an honest, wholesome smile;

For it often starts a blessing
 That will travel for a mile.

And when hearts are sad and heavy
 And the days are dark the while,

You can notice that things brighten
 From the moment that you smile.

—Selected

"Unwillingness to forgive is the most convincing evidence one can give of narrowness of mind and smallness of soul."

What this poor sinning world longs for is mercy, not judgment; love, not hate; spirituality, not intellectualism; heart religion, not ceremonialism. The church that meets this need will most nearly fulfil her divine mission. The common people are sick and tired of cold, dead formalism and stern law. Let them have a little of the gospel of divine compassion.
—Liberty.

"Strength of character consists of two things—power of will and power of self-control. Many youth mistake strong, uncontrolled passion for strength of character; but the truth is, that he who is mastered by his passions is a weak man. The real greatness and nobility of the man is measured by his power to subdue his feelings, not by the power of his feelings to subdue him. The strongest man is he who, while sensitive to abuse, will yet restrain passion and forgive his enemies."

One of the most attractive front page covers of any magazine is found on the fourth quarter Liberty Magazine. This will be a great seller. Send in your orders early to your tract society office, and avoid disappointment.

talks but he makes the chalk talk and he talks while the chalk is talking. His last picture of the mount of the holy cross, exhibited wonderful skill in the use of the crayon. His audience was delighted.

October 23, the "Uniscope" people exhibited a new machine for the production of moving pictures. It can be attached to any electric light socket. Four films were used in the parlor that evening—one illustrating magazine articles, one of the Yosemite Valley showing the water dashing over the precipices, one showing the modern cartoonist at work, and the other exhibiting the "wild duck farm" at Kingsville, Ontario, showing thousands of wild ducks just as much at home and as tame as the domesticated variety because the owner of that ranch has refused to permit the ducks to be injured on his place. These educational films are exceedingly interesting and instructive.

Elder W. C. White of California is making a short visit at Hinsdale Sanitarium, and the inspiring messages he brings will long be remembered. Last Wednesday evening he gave us some of those intimate pictures or side lights of the Colorado General Conference Council which people can not read in the papers nor will they know at all unless some kindly disposed delegate brings the information to them.

The large power concrete mixer was set at work October 28 to pour the forms for the new main addition to the Sanitarium. Large quantities of material are being hauled to the premises and as soon as the foundations are in, the work of the erection of the superstructure will be pushed with great zeal. Another crew of men under another contractor are busy making the additions to the bath-rooms, dining-rooms, and offices, and they are now arranging for the construction of a large addition to the kitchen and helpers' dining-room.

Dr. H. C. Nelson made a short trip to Indiana last week.

Hinsdale Sanitarium Intermediate School now numbers twenty-five, all the students being engaged in connection with the Sanitarium work.

Professor W. J. Osborn of the Swedish Theological Seminary, with his mother, spent Sabbath at the Sanitarium. It is a great pleasure to us to have Brother Osborn with us at our services for he is always willing to assist us in our music.

Last Sabbath a portion of the old orchestra brought out their instruments and assisted in the music at the Sabbath school.

Mrs. J. G. Lamson, besides her work as social matron, has now a class of eleven in bookkeeping. There is some talk of the organization of a class in shorthand.

Hinsdale Sanitarium Notes

Mr. Geo. E. Colby of Chicago gave a very interesting entertainment Tuesday evening, October 28. Mr. Colby is a chalk talker. He not only Brother H. H. Hall of Mountain View, Calif., gave his interesting talk on the progress of the gospel in foreign fields October 26. Brother Hall tells a very interesting story of our work in China, Japan, and the Philippines, and both patients and the Sanitarium family were delighted with this service.

A glance at our register shows guests from as far west as Portland, Ore., from as far east as Boston, Mass., from north as far as Montana and Dakota, and from the south, Memphis, Tenn. October 21, Yokohama, Japan, was registered. As usual Illinois guests are in the lead, with Iowa and Michigan tied for second place.

The recent lull in the crowded condition at the Sanitarium has made it possible for several of the nurses to engage in city work, and a strong effort is being made to accomplish something for the people in our near-by metropolis. Miss Hibben is leading out in this work and is also planning several schools of health for this winter.

Just at present, a large number of the patients at the Sanitarium are surgical cases. Four very serious operations were performed last Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Kanavel of Chicago being the surgeon.

The College Harvest Ingathering Campaign Campaign Day

The College was closed Thursday, October 16, for Harvest Ingathering day. As was stated last week, a goal of $2,000 had been previously set. The day promised to be very unpleasant. In fact, it rained until seven o'clock in the morning, but nearly all of the students that had planned to go went out. They were divided into twenty-eight bands, each with a leader. Twenty-two of these bands were to solicit funds while the other six were home workers' bands and did necessary work about the place and turned the proceeds in for the Harvest Ingathering work. It was decided the night before that the large band booked for South Bend ought not to go to that city owing to the fact that there was a large drive on there that week for the raising of charity funds. This city never fails to yield from one to two hundred dollars each year toward the goal. But this band was divided into several small bands and went into the country.

It was necessary for the students to spread out over more territory this year than ever before. The distance covered from north to south was fully 75 miles, from Watervliet, Mich., to Michigan City, Ind. The interurban and autos were used to convey the bands to their territory. The day proved to be pleasant and all seemed to enjoy their work.

A very enthusiastic meeting was held at eight o'clock in the evening. The College orchestra played. After a song and prayer, each band leader gave a report of what had been accomplished. The total report of all that had been received showed the good sum of $1,681, leaving $319 yet to be obtained to reach the goal. Five of the bands were not back and ready to report at this meeting. About $600 of this sum had been previously obtained by the members of the College church.

After the reports had all been given, a very interesting experience meeting followed. This is always one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year. Many spoke of how they had been very graciously received by the people. The people of this vicinity do appreciate the work of Emmanuel Missionary College. Many of them were looking for this annual visit by the students.

Results

The results of the day were very gratifying indeed. As was stated by Mr. Green in the opening of the campaign, the primary object of this work is not money, but to get the truth before the world. One or two experiences of the day may serve to show how there can be results other than monetary.

Brother Vixie went to Cassopolis, Mich., to solicit. During the day he came to a home where they seemed to be very much interested in our work. The gentleman made an offering and immediately began to ask questions concerning our school. Of course Brother Vixie was only too glad to explain all about the work of the College. It soon developed that this gentleman had a grand-daughter whom he was desirous of having in the school. Brother Vixie left this home fully expecting to see the gentleman and his grand-daughter at the College very soon on a visit which they promised to make. Thus it may be that one more may be added to the four hundred campaign.

At Eau Claire, Mich., a lady was found who was anxious to know about the truth. Brother O. W. Maschke called at the home of this woman and introduced his work. She at once invited him in and began to talk concerning the Sabbath. She mentioned a few texts which seemed to substantiate the observance of Sunday. A few moments were spent with her in an explanation of the texts and she decided to observe the Sabbath.

At the present writing, October 30, the cash received by the church treasurer amounts to $1,865. By the blessing of God the goal will be reached. So far the College church takes the lead in the West Michigan Conference.

An Important Matter

At our late committee meeting held in Berrien Springs, it was voted to remodel our old printing office for a normal building. This was made necessary because of a large number of normal students applying for work. No doubt you have a shortage of teachers in your own community and will appreciate the needs of our making speedy preparation for the training of new and strong teachers for the work in our church schools.

This matter coming up late and needing to be hurried forward has made it impossible for us to secure funds with which to go forward before the work is done. Our committee therefore voted that the work be hastened and that money be borrowed to carry it forward until the funds would come in on our regular educational campaign. I am therefore sending this notice and asking that any one who may have money to lend will take the matter up with us at once. We shall be glad to secure a few thousand dollars within the next few days so the work may go forward unhindered. We shall be glad to have this on notes of one or two years at 3 per cent. This will be a great help to our work and our regular educational campaign fund will take care of the amount so that no encumbrance will be left on the institution. Any one being in a position to assist in this matter, write to the undersigned at Berrien Springs, Mich. I trust we may hear from a number of people in a short time that our work of training teachers be not hindered.

"The quality which you put into your work will determine the quality of your life. The habit of insisting upon the best of which you are capable, of always demanding of yourself the highest, never accepting the lowest or second best, no matter how small the remuneration, will make all the difference to you between failure and success."—Selected.

A Prayer

Give me, O God, a vision of my soul's
Great need. Help me to know and understand,
The wonders of Thy grace, Thy love sublime
Revealed in Thy great sacrifice. Refine
And purify my heart; and make me strong
To see and know and do Thy righteous will.

Give me, O God, a vision of the world's Great need. Help me to sense the sin and woe
Of poor lost men, the fateful end to which
Their ways do lead. To stay their hastening steps,
To move their hearts, and lead them to accept
The riches of Thy grace, give me Thy power.

F. M. WILCOX

Make a rule, and pray God to help you keep it,
Never, if possible, to lie down at night without being Able to say, "I have made one human being at least
A little happier, or a little better this day."
You will find it easier than you think and pleasanter.
