Nearer Than We Dream

A few more paces then the journey ended,
A few more trials and the triumph won,
A few more darksome hours of patient waiting
Until the rising of our glorious Sun.

Much nearer than we dream the heavenly city,
And close at hand our Father's kind embrace,
When passing the triumphal arch of glory
To dwell within the radiance of His face.

Upon the threshold of our joys eternal
Why linger long amid the gloom of grief?
Our hope, our life, our surety are supernal,
And earth's short day for praise is all too brief.

A Visit

Because of a business trip which took me to Washington and then to New York, I was privileged to spend two days at the sessions of the Atlantic Union Conference. This privilege gave me an opportunity to see something of how the work is conducted in this conference of cities, and all the more since the meeting was held in New York City.

I wish to mention as features that especially impressed me, three things. First, the work they are doing to train all the members of their churches in Greater New York. Elder Jayne has fitted up an apartment in which this instruction is given. A trained nurse is in charge and lessons have been prepared so that actual class work is done. This school has produced already forty-eight graduates, persons so trained as to pass the Red Cross examinations, and ready to go out and do service for humanity. These are the mothers in our homes and not our young people only.

The next thing that impressed me was the result of the "field day" staged Monday, November 10, when all the people left the conference session for a time and went forth to scatter the truth and gather money for missions, thus giving a real object lesson of what can be done when all the people work. As the result of this effort many of the people reported excellent experience and the total results in cash were a little more than $2,000.

During the next few weeks the Lake Union will give this field day plan a trial in the five conferences holding elders' meetings during the remainder of this year. These conferences are Indiana, North Wisconsin, North Michigan, Chicago, and Illinois. We expect these field days to produce most excellent results. Elders R. D. Quinn and G. B. Thompson will give aid in these meetings.

The third thing, and the one that impressed me most, was the report of the young people's society of the Brooklyn English church. These young people set a goal on the Harvest Ingathering at $500. They organized and went to work. The time they gave themselves for this task was three weeks. The time was to expire at midnight. At two o'clock on the last day this band of young people found they had gathered over $800, and decided to make their goal $1,000. They went to work and before twelve o'clock that night had passed their goal. I feel like saying in the language of the scripture, "Go, and do thou likewise."

Look for the report of the Harvest Ingathering for October in the LAKE UNION HERALD. It will be both interesting and inspiring.

Elders' and Workers' Meeting

The conference committee of the Illinois Conference has now arranged for our annual elders' and workers' meeting, which will be held this year at Moline, Ill., December 15 to 21. The first meeting will be Monday evening, December 15. Special effort is being made to make this meeting a complete success. The General Conference has promised to furnish us good help. Elder R. D. Quinn, formerly president of the Atlantic Union Conference but now connected with the General Conference, will be with us. We also expect one other minister from the General Conference, and Brother C. V. Leach, General Conference Home Missionary Secretary. Besides this excellent help, Elder Guthrie of the Lake Union Conference and his associate secretaries, will be with us to render efficient help.

will attend the meeting, and it is expected that the elders and leaders of all our churches will be there. We wish to say to the church elders and leaders that the success of the meeting depends largely upon your presence. We cannot have an elders' meeting unless our elders are there. Arrangements have been made whereby your carfare and entertainment while at the meeting will be free, providing you arrive not later than Tuesday, December 16, and remain through the meeting. We are arranging a program for this meeting, which will be mailed to our elders and leaders a little later.

Tithes and Offerings

I am glad to report to the readers of the LAKE UNION HERALD that the Illinois Conference is making excellent progress in tithe and offerings for the year 1919. During the year 1918, the churches which now compose the Illinois Conference, paid into the treasury $40,542.18, and on October 31, 1919, the churches of the Illinois Conference had already sent in $39,443.99. Now brethren, we have been earnestly praying for a large increase in tithe this year, and I believe the Lord is going to answer our prayers. Let us put forth a strong effort to make the tithe for 1919, $50,000. If every one is faithful in sending in his and her tithe promptly, and possibly some have back tithe to send in, we shall easily go over $50,000, and, brethren, we need this amount to run the work as it stands in Illinois. Two or three times the tithe has gone over $5,000 a month during the year, and if we can boost it a little over $5,000 for both November and December, we can easily make the $50,000.

Our offerings to missions are also looking well. At present we are only $674.53 short on the Twenty-five-cent-a-week Fund. We are very sure that with the faithful cooperation of our people in the Harvest Ingathering work and in our Annual Offering, that we shall clean up this deficit, and once more pass our goal in our offerings to missions. I think, however, we are a little slow in the Harvest Ingathering work. With no influenza in the field and but very few drives for money as compared with last year, it would really seem that we ought to be far in advance of where we are in the Harvest Ingathering campaign. If you have a single paper left, please go out at once and dispose of it, soliciting a large gift for missions. If you have papers that you absolutely refuse to use in this way, we wish you would return them to the office at once, so others can use them. I have written letters, asking those who have papers on their shelves to either use them or return them to the office, and I really believe we shall have very few papers returned.

Last year the churches which now comprise the Illinois Conference, raised $4,408 for missions in the Harvest Ingathering campaign, and up to November 1 of this year we had obtained only $2,602.11, leaving us a balance of $1,797.89 to raise for our goal of $4,400 which we set at camp meeting. I am glad to tell the readers of the LAKE UNION HERALD that I have raised my goal of $60, and a little more. I believe most of our workers have reached their goals and some have doubled their goals.

I wish you the blessing of the Lord in your efforts for Him, and thank you for your faithful cooperation which you have given during the year 1919.

News Notes

Elder Holden visited the academy, also the sanitarium last week, and spent Sabbath, November 22, with the members at Fooseland.

Miss Etta Young is still detained at her home in Michigan on account of the illness of her father. However, all communications with regard to her department of the work should be sent to her at this office.

We are glad to hear that a Swedish Sabbath school of sixteen members has been organized at Moline.

Elder P. C. Hanson and wife recently returned from their old home at Poy Sippi, Wis., where they buried Mrs. Hanson's aged mother.

Elder E. N. Sargeant recently began a series of meetings at Duquoin. His presence and help in the work there is much appreciated by the members of our church at this place.

We are now prepared to fill orders for our new 1920 Morning Watch Calendar. It is a beautiful production. The price remains the same, five cents each, postpaid.

We have just received an advance copy of our new book, "Astronomy and the Bible," by L. A. Reed, whose articles on this subject have been read with much interest in the Signs Magazine. This will make a beautiful gift book. It is attractively bound, and the price is $1.50 postpaid.

There will be a general increase in price of a large number of our books and some of our periodicals. It will be well therefore for any desiring our publications soon, to secure a catalogue and supply their needs before January 1, in order that they may take advantage of present prices. Write us for a catalogue if you do not have one.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Drury, who have been selling "Bible Readings" in the vicinity of Newton, have now established their headquarters at Effingham. They plan to do a thorough work in this part of the vineyard.

Harvey

After unsuccessful attempts to secure more than a dozen different tent locations in three different towns, we felt impressed to locate in Harvey. The most ideal location in the town was the first one we saw, the first one we bargained for and secured. Brethren Lane and Thompson of the Chicago Forty-sixth Street church have been of real assistance to the little company here in keeping the torch of truth burning.

Brother Willis Lewis of Aroma Park assisted in the summer's effort. We sought the Lord earnestly for the people who assembled at the tent night after night. We had a question box. Besides the many questions received, we had the names of many people to visit.

As a result of the meetings, eight have already gone forward in baptism. We shall have another baptism soon when a few more will follow their Lord in this rite. Our courage is good. The work is onward, as it most surely will be as long as we work and pray. W. J. HARRIS

Convention at Milton Junction

A Missionary Volunteer convention was held here October 24-26. Professor Fattie, Elders Butterfield and Ferris and Brother McConaughy were present. We were stirred by the earnest appeals.

The Sabbath day brought us rich blessings. Many renewed their consecration to God and were willing to give up all to Christ.

Sunday was spent in discussing important topics relating to our duty in missionary work and the growth of our church society. The question box was very helpful.

A number were present from near-by churches. MAUDE CARR

News Notes

At their session in Madison last week, the South Wisconsin Conference Committee spent a little time in looking over the records of what has been done in the Harvest Ingathering work, and were especially well pleased with the efforts put forth and results accomplished this year by our people throughout the field.

Begin preparing now for the next Thirteenth Sabbath. By placing a dime or quarter now and then in that envelope you can easily make it Dollar Day. The offering is to build homes for our missionaries. It means conservation.

Brother and Sister L. Jorgensen went to North Michigan last week to the home of Mrs. Jorgensen's sister, where we trust our educational secretary may recover her health and strength after her recent severe illness. She will probably remain for two weeks. Brother Jorgensen returned last week.

Brother C. C. King is making quite an extended trip among some of the churches in the northern part of the conference.

Miss Bell visited the Milwaukee English church recently, in the interests of the Missionary Volunteer and Sabbath school work. The Sabbath she was there the church raised its Harvest Ingathering goal from $700 to $1,000. She also visited the German church.

Elder P. M. Hanson held five meetings with the church at Sparta last week. He reports a good interest. The few believers are doing what they can to advance the message in that city.

Waldery Academy

Brother T. S. Copeland visited the academy last week and made arrangements for the teachers' institute which is to be held here November 19 to 23.

Our coldest weather so far this fall came last week, when the thermometer dropped to five below zero. Now we often hear the jolly voices of the boys as they hasten to the place of skating on Middle River.

The new steam-heating system which was recently put in the girls' dormitory is a grand success. Thanks to the faithful efforts of those who carried on the work and the burden of it. Several of the boys stayed out of school a whole week in order that this work of installation might be done with dispatch. This was truly a seasonable act, as the recent cold snap might have brought a great deal of suffering to the girls in their cold, unfurnished rooms. Ask them if they dread zero weather now.

Mr. Thure Wiik is acting as preceptor for the boys while Mr. Gunderson is away in Minnesota.

Mrs. Lucas, who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. E. A. von Pohle, returned to her home in Boston. She was accompanied as far as Kentucky by her daughter, Mrs. Hilda Searle, who also visited relatives here during this fall.

Some work is being done in the Harvest Ingathering campaign, but our goal has not yet been reached. It is planned to keep the good work going until we go over the top.

Brother H. J. Griffith left last Friday for the canvassing field in this conference. We wish him success.

Cedar Lake Academy

Cedar Lake Academy is one of our schools that I have wanted to visit but until recently have not had an opportunity to do so. Not having been acquainted with the school before, I can not fully appreciate the improvements that have been made this summer in the enlargement of the main building and many other improvements about the place.

The school now enjoys a splendid chapel and additional classrooms, also pleasant rooms for the primary grades.

Situated miles away from a city, Cedar Lake Academy appeals to me as being one of the very best places our young people can go to secure their academic training.

The boys are happy and enjoying school life, even if some are living away up in the attic where it is impossible to stand up straight on account of the rafters.

I am glad to see the school full of healthy, happy, energetic young people, preparing to have a part in the closing up of this great message.

A Call to Service

The call to service reaches all. The commission has been given, the hour has come for the speedy proclamation of the gospel. God's call to Isaiah, "Whom shall I send and who will go for us," is the same today. "The end is near, stealing upon us stealthily like the noiseless approach of a thief in the night. May the Lord grant that we shall not sleep as do others, but that we shall watch and be sober. The truth is soon to triumph gloriously and all who now choose to be laborers together with God will triumph with it."—Volume IX, p. 135.

God "will call men as of old, He called the humble fishermen, and will Himself give instructions regarding their field of labor and the methods they should use. He will call men from the plow and from other occupations, to give the last note of warning to perishing souls. There are many ways in which to labor for the Master, and the great Teacher will open the understanding of the workers, enabling them to see wondrous things in His word."—Vol. IX, p. 170.

"Not more surely is the place prepared for us in the heavenly mansions than is the special place designed on earth where we are to work for God."—"Object Lessons," p. 327.

During the Civil War a soldier who had lost his place in the company timidly said to General Sherman as he came up behind the lines, "Where shall I step in?" "Step in?" said the General, "step in anywhere; there is fighting all along the line." And this is precisely true of the great battlefield where we are fighting. Step in and work for God. What is your answer?

My dear brothers and sisters of West Michigan, we certainly have a great field to be warned in our cities.

Write to me at the office for supplies and territory. Box 55, Grand Rapids, Mich.

C. P. HALL

Teachers' Institute

Our annual teachers' institute for North and West Michigan was held at Cedar Lake, November 5-9, being the fourth institute of its kind to be held there. A spirit of earnestness was manifested from the first of the session and continued throughout. Each one seemed determined to receive a personal blessing, and I believe none were disappointed.

The academy teachers and students and the people of the vicinity showed their interest in the institute by their good attendance at the different programs. School was closed on Friday that all might attend the exercises of the day.

Elder Horton brought to our attention the call of the world for a richer moral education; not so much new moral ideals, as more power to apply them under new and rapidly changing conditions. Elder Searns appealed to us to attempt greater things in these days when the Lord is expecting great things of His people. His lesson on tithing was greatly appreciated by all.

Professor Russell's talk at the Friday vesper service inspired each of us to put forth greater efforts for "Others." "Life's Climax" was the theme of a stirring discourse given by Elder Guthrie at the Sabbath morning service. Professor Griggs could be with us but a short time, so he talked to us twice Sabbath afternoon. The parents and teachers were especially benefited by his talk on "The Teen Age."

One of the programs of particular interest was the musical given by Professor and Mrs. Summers of Emmanuel Missionary College, evening after the Sabbath.

Miss Ruby Boyd of Emmanuel Missionary College Training School gave valuable instruction to the teachers in primary methods. We were also glad to have with us Professor Fattic, Miss Alma DuBois, head of the educational work in Kansas; Miss Meleen of the Illinois Conference, our two educational superintendents, and the teachers of the two conferences.

We go back to our tasks with a spirit to make our work as strong as it is possible to make it by cooperating with the leaders and with the divine Teacher who said, "Higher than the highest human thought can reach is God's ideal for His children."

message is going to take a wonderful part in helping to prevent these terrible epidemics which are sweeping the world, and I do not know of a better time to canvass for our health books than now." These brethren have delivered 442 books in Arenac County.

E. J. Peterson has $1,470 worth of "Our Day" orders which makes an average of $2.07 an hour.

Harry Pierce reports the longest week (65 hours) and he writes, "I saw a lady who ordered a book from me last spring who is keeping the Sabbath. (She said, 'You could not buy it back.') I am having wonderful experiences and every one seems to be ready to hear this message."

M. J. Pierce says, "The Lord is blessing me at every turn, and I never enjoyed canvassing so much before. Remember me in your prayers, that I may not forget that it is through the Lord that I am blessed."

Brethren Baker, Friday, London, Peterson, and Chalker will soon be at the battle front, and I'm wondering if there are not others whom the Spirit of God is calling into the vineyard. The very conditions of the world are calling every Seventh-day Adventist to service.

We know by looking at the records of the colporteurs above that God gives good wages as far as dollars and cents go, but, looking beyond the temporal, what does the colporteur get? My brother who is working for the temporal things does not get any more an hour than the faithful colporteur. But think of the priceless souls that he could be instrumental in saving by taking up the colporteur work. All who are looking for a place to work, can find it in God's open field which is white already for the harvest. "Come and join the bookmen's army."

Notes from the Canvassers

Brother Wm. Freeman is leading the colporteurs here, with over $2,000 worth of sales, or an average of $2.04 per hour.

Wm. Coleman took enough orders to amount to $1,961 in 473 hours during vacation, or an average of $4.14 per hour.

R. A. McPherson has $1,929 worth of "Practical Guide" orders, averaging $3.03 an hour. He writes, "The Lord is blessing me every day and I am having some good experiences."

Wm. McPherson is canvassing for the same book and his sales amount to $1,619, his average is $2.66 per hour. He says, "The right arm of the

Since my last report six more precious souls have been added to the church by baptism, and three have been received on former baptism, making in all twenty-one additions to the church since we took the tent down. Others are keeping the Sabbath.

There is still a good interest in the Sunday evening meetings held in the church. Sister Alger, our faithful Bible worker, is studying with twenty-two interested people each week. God is working for us. R. C. GARDNER

East Michigan News Notes

Brother Flick is in Detroit for a few days assisting some of our colporteurs and helping some who are new in the work.

Brother Sanborn of Flint has purchased property in Holly and plans to move in the near future.

Brother Ben Kinsey, who has been living in North Michigan this summer, has again returned to East Michigan and will live in his old home in Holly.

Brother Bennett of Carson City has moved to Holly.

The new book "Epidemics" is selling well. How many do you wish? Every Seventh-day Adventist in East Michigan ought to use some of these in spreading the gospel of prevention and cure of contagious diseases.

Miss Esther Frank has resigned her position as assistant in the Tract Society office and goes to Emmanuel Missionary College to act as book-keeper in the business office.

Adelphian News Notes

Genevieve Reed enrolled today.

The teachers' institute is in session.

On Armistice Day the school as a body participated in the exercises at the village. The schools unveiled a tablet for the honored dead.

Anna Nickle of Flint has returned to school. She was compelled to withdraw for six weeks for an operation.

The students are glad to have Elder Poole with them. He consented to stay after the Board meeting to do the tinning work on the sinks in the new kitchen. When we consider the difficulty with which men and materials have been secured for the work here, we can see much has been accomplished since the first sod was turned for the buildings.

The growth of the school makes the water supply inadequate. At the recent Board meeting it was voted to repipe to meet this need.

A blacksmith's equipment is to be installed for the use of the school. This will furnish additional work for the students.

It was with evident satisfaction that the news was received that the big boiler had been put to use, and heat turned on the twelve new students' rooms of the Girls' Home. Perhaps, those who appreciated it most were the girls who had been living in unheated rooms for days.

The third floor is finished now; the second is all in readiness except for the last coat of varnish for the assembly room. The school family expects to be using the new dining-room and kitchen by the time this paper reaches its readers. Then the workmen will remodel the basement for treatment-rooms, bath and laundry.

The added part for the Boys' Home provides seven new student rooms, besides making provision for an assembly room. The plasterers are at work there now, so these rooms also will soon be ready for use.

Five churches have responded royally to the request for furniture for these new rooms. There is abundant opportunity for other churches to help along this line, and have a furnished room in one of the Academy Homes.

Carpenters Needed

I have just returned from the academy and found that Brother Arthur Cox, the superintendent in the erection of the girls' dormitory, is in great need of more carpenters and wishes to have me mention through the columns of the LAKE UNION HERALD, that if there are any carpenters who would like to help on the erection of this building, kindly notify him at once. Or you can come to Cicero and he will be glad to give you work. His address is Arthur Cox, Cicero, Ind.

C. S. WIEST

Our Academy

Our academy has for various reasons been kept from organization and work in the Harvest Ingathering campaign, but last Sabbath, November 15, it was my privilege to be with the students and faculty there and assist in their organization.

All the students, of course, are young. With most of them this will be their first year in the field. They will be working in a community in which our truth is not known, yet we have faith to believe that these courageous young soldiers for God will do big things in this pioneer field. But they will need, and ought to have, the prayers of our people. Nearly every part of our conference is represented by some boy or girl there. Shall we not all earnestly seek the Father, that He will guide and bless their efforts to the end that the last-day message may go to those who are living in the vicinity of our school?

There are thirty-five students and seven teachers. These were divided into six bands—two of girls and four of boys. Each band set its own goal. The goals of four bands was $200. The other two bands had not reported when I left. A field day will be held very soon, probably before you read this, when the goal of each band will be raised.

You wonder why the above words are in italics. It is because we want you to know with us, that it will be done. We want you to believe with us that there is no doubt of it. I am sure that you would do this if you could have witnessed the scene that brightened our eyes and made glad our heart the day the school was organized for Ingathering work.

It was between the hours of the morning and afternoon service. With one of the teachers I had walked from the tent that is now being used as chapel and dining-room, to the place where the girls' dormitory is being erected. There we found a prayer band composed of seven young men, boys—your boys, down in the basement where the new dining-room will be, with one of their number as leader, reading God's Word, and then engaging in earnest prayer that He would direct and help them in the forthcoming effort. No one had asked them to do this. No teacher had urged it upon them. Guided only by the Holy Spirit, they were taking Jesus into partnership with them. Is there any way for them to fail? No, a thousand times no! Your boys and girls are being led by a Captain who has never lost a battle and in this fight He will bring them off more than conquerors. Expect success of our academy. O. B. HALL

Reading Courses

"Let no man despise thy youth. . . . Till I come, give attention to reading. . . . Neglect not the gift that is in thee." I Tim. 4:12-14.

This is the advice of a brave old hero to a young Missionary Volunteer.

I wonder how many of Indiana's young people are profiting by it,—and how many of her older people as well?

Every good soldier studies the lives, the tactics, the strategy of the world's great generals. Likewise every good Missionary Volunteer will find it necessary to fill his mind from the great treasure-house of good books with a knowledge of "how others fought and won the prize."

Tennyson says, "I am a part of all that I have met." So are all the books you read a part of you. They will mould your character. They shape your ideals.

If you haven't read the books in this year's Reading Course, you've missed something. They are intensely interesting books. They are the kind that thrill you. And they are what you need.

Do you admit the Reading Course is a good thing? Then why don't you take it? If it is a good thing, it should find a place in your program.

You are busy? The busiest people are the ones who find time to do things worth while. And if you aren't, you are without excuse.

The present Reading Course is the best that has ever been offered. Every Missionary Volunteer should get a certificate this year. There is absolutely no reason why he shouldn't.

Don't forget to send your Certifying Cards to your Conference Missionary Volunteer Secretary as fast as you complete the reading of the books. If your local secretary has none, the writer upon request will be very glad to see that you are supplied. M. V. SECRETARY

Not Too Costly

When this issue of the LAKE UNION HERALD comes to you, the church officers' meeting will have been for some time a thing of the past.

Out of the many problems relative to church work discussed during that time, I wonder if anything said regarding the relations sustained toward each other by the church and the Missionary Volunteer society, in your church has remained with you?

As I write this before the meeting takes place, I dare not hazard a guess as to how much prominence will be given the crying needs of this department there, but I pray that the multiplicity of other affairs will not have crowded out entirely a discussion of the salvation or conservation of Indiana's young people, her most precious heritage.

The Missionary Volunteer work is not a spectacular work. It is not established for the prime purpose of bringing in money. But after all, you do not know how much our young people do give. They do not receive credit for it, because it is given almost wholly into the Sabbath school and the church.

Are some disposed therefore to think our Missionary Volunteers are too costly? God forbid that anyone should harbor such a thought!

Too costly—your sons and your daughters! O—"what shall it profit" the church if she "gain the whole world and lose" her own children?

The church must be thrown open to them at least once a week; they must have supplies,—Reading Course books for their library, and the Testimonies; perhaps the church elder must take time once a week to conduct the Standard of Attainment class; and twice a year to hold the Standard of Attainment examinations; and once a year your Missionary Volunteer Society comes to the church asking for aid in providing the sinews of war for definite needy mission fields—only once a year. You never think of calling the Sabbath school an expensive institution, when forty-eight Sabbaths in the year you pass on to it your usual offering, and four Sabbaths in the year you give cheerfully, as you should, your dollar to it.

Two men were talking about it. One said, "They are always wanting something more." The other replied, "When my lad was a boy, he was costly; he always wanted boots and shoes, stockings and clothes, and wore them out fast, and the older and stronger he grew, the more money had to be spent upon him,—but he died, and now he doesn't cost me a nickel."

Yes, a live Missionary Volunteer Society always wants money. When the young people, through the lack of interest shown them, or the cold water thrown upon them in their endeavors by their seniors, have drifted out into the world and are become spiritually dead,—then they will not be troubling the church longer, or wanting its cooperation. Then the church may desire to give it, but it will be too late.

Let me entreat you as elders in behalf of the young people of this state, the Missionary Volunteer societies in your churches, in behalf of their continuance in the grace of God,—if you really love them, will you not lift them up by your prayers, your cheery encouragement, your kindly commendation, and your cooperation in their activities?

"Very much," says "Christian Education," page 222, "has been lost to the cause of God by lack of attention to the young."

This very hour marks a crisis in the life of our young people in Indiana. The week of prayer is coming. It will leave them either better or worse. It will leave them higher or lower in the scale. It will leave them near God or farther from Him. It may leave them saved or lost.

"The cement of life is soft and plastic. Somebody's hand will mold it for time and eternity. Whose hand shall it be? You plan to help mold it according to the divine pattern. But do not forget that opportunity does not wait your leisure. It comes with youth, and with youth it takes its departure. Each year the plastic cement becomes harder, until at last it becomes well-nigh impossible to make an impression upon it.

"The church that fails to make the most of her opportunity to save her youth and to enlist them in Christian work, should neither wonder nor complain if she finds nothing to nurse but her own desolation; for as a church soweth, so shall she also reap." LEWELLYN A. WILCOX

Colporteur Work

Many realize that they are not called to enter the pulpit, and yet they feel, as did the apostle, "Woe is me, if I preach not the gospel." So they are following the instruction given by the servant of the Lord in Volume VI of the Testimonies, pp. 813-15: "God has ordained the canvassing work as a means of presenting before the people the light contained in our books, and canvassers should be impressed with the importance of bringing before the world as fast as possible, the books necessary for their spiritual enlightenment and education. This is the very work the Lord would have His people do at this time. All who consecrate themselves to God to work as canvassers are assisting to give the last message to the world.

"Let the canvasser remember that he has an opportunity to sow beside all waters. Let him remember as he sells the books which give a knowledge of the truth, that he is doing the work of God, and that every talent is to be used to the glory of His name. God will be with every one who seeks to understand the truth that he may set it before others in clear lines."

We can readily see from the above quotations that God has a high regard for the book work as a means of heralding the "gospel of the kingdom" to all the world quickly. During the last few weeks we have seen marked evidences of God's guiding hand in behalf of the colporteurs in Indiana. Good gains have been made each month.

From a recent letter from Brother Verne Payne I quote the following:

"I had some good experiences last week. I canvassed a woman who was starting to town. She became interested in Spiritualism, having recently attended one of their meetings. When she found that the book would give her light on the subject she ordered one in the half-leather binding. A man told me that he had vowed he would never let another agent in his house, but after I had showed him the book he ordered one in the half leather. One Methodist woman would not look at the book, and said some unpleasant things, but while we were talking her husband came in and I showed him the book and received an order from him."

Our colporteurs' institute convenes December 19-28, at Kokomo. This will take in part of the holiday season, and while others are making merry we can be studying the best methods of presenting this last message of mercy to a dying world. Good help will be present from the Union and General conferences. Eighty counties in Indiana are crying to us for the truth; nearly three million people stretch out their hands to us. Decide now to come and help us finish the work. Those who are coming will please write me so that arrangements can be made for your entertainment. Address me at the conference office.

Indiana Academy

The Indian Summer weather of the last few days, has proved a great help to the masons and carpenters who are working on the new buildings. Every day has brought new surprises for those who are eagerly looking on. The power house will soon be ready for the heating plant. The second story of this building will also provide room for chapel and classes. The "heating plant" at the present academy quarters consists of eleven coal stoves which are distributed more or less equally among the buildings, namely the girls' cottage, the boys' barracks, the office building, and the dining, chapel, and kitchen tent.

Since the opening of school, the academy has been privileged to have for visitors, Prof. O. M. John of the General Conference Educational Department, Prof. C. A. Russell, Miss Edith Shepard, O. B. Hall and L. A. Wilcox. Elder Wiest and family spent the Sabbath, November 5, with the teachers and students.

Miss Eva Pitcher, who has been engaged in Bible work in connection with Elder B. J. White, has come to take the work of preceptress which place had been temporarily filled by Miss Helen Woods. Miss Pitcher is a former student of the academy.

The enrollment here, thirty-seven at present, is gradually increasing. The latest arrivals are Mabel Misner, Mildred Sigler, May Zirkle, and Harold Fattic. Although accommodations are limited, there is yet room for one more.

Professor Marsh returned from a business trip to Michigan, Sunday, November 16. He spent a few hours at Adelpia Academy, bringing back an encouraging report of the work there.

Sunday's beautiful weather brought several visitors, namely: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fellow, Mrs. Paul Legg, Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Edwards of Kokomo; Mrs. Priddy and Mrs. Marvin of Battle Creek, Mich.; Mr. Sigler and Mr. Stimson of Berrien Springs, Mich., besides other friends from the village.

100,000 Subscriptions

This is the goal for the Signs Weekly campaign which begins with the fourth Sabbath program in November and continues throughout the month of December. All are acquainted with the efficacy of this periodical in bringing men and women into the truth. It never grows weary in well doing; all it asks is that we send it along on its errand of love. Only recently a letter came to my desk telling about a Harvest In-gathering worker finding a lady who has been receiving the Signs for 30 years and she is now ready to take her stand for the truth. Someone has been patient in sending this silent minister so long. How many times we give up if we do not get results in from five to ten weeks. Perhaps you, dear reader, have discontinued the work you began a few months or weeks ago, feeling that it was no longer worth while. As a church you may have dropped your Signs club, feeling that the weekly visits of the little messenger were not appreciated. If you for any reason have become discouraged in your missionary work, take heart and begin again. You may be just as sure of results in the end as the farmer is when he confidently expects the seed to germinate that he places in the ground at the proper season. The promise never fails. "He that goeth forth and weepeth bearing precious seed shall doubtless come again with rejoicing bringing his sheaves with him. Ps. 126:6. All seasons are proper with the Signs Weekly.

One of the best ways to interest people in the message is in personal visitation with the Signs Weekly.

"We shall do so much in the years to come,
But what have we done today?
We shall give our gold in a princely sum,
But what did we give today?
We shall lift the heart and dry the tear,
We shall plant a hope in the place of fear,
We shall speak the words of love and cheer,
But what did we speak today?"

I do believe the common man's work is the hardest. The hero has the hero's aspiration that lifts him to his labor. All great duties are easier than the little ones, though they cost far more blood and agony.

College News

Pastor Guy Dail, who has had charge of gospel work for the Seventh-day Adventists in Central Europe for the last eighteen years, paid a short visit to E. M. C. recently. The regular Saturday evening program was set aside and Pastor Dail told of conditions in Central Europe during the war. He spoke of the suddenness with which the war started and closed. "Nobody in Germany expected the war to close when it did," he said. He also spoke of the living conditions especially the rationing of food, which, though conducted fairly, did not supply each person enough food to keep in health. According to his account, profiteers are less popular in Germany than in America. In one case, a profiteer and all his employes were mobbed and marched through the streets as a public example. Pastor Dail expects to return soon to Europe.

Pastor W. C. White, son of James White and Ellen G. White, visited the College Saturday, November 8, and spoke at the 11 o'clock service. Pastor White for many years accompanied his mother in her world-wide travels in behalf of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Professor Justus Lamson, from the Hinsdale Sanitarium, visited the College Wednesday, the 12th, the occasion being the birthday of his sister, Miss Mary Lamson, the college preceptress. His talk at the chapel service was much appreciated by the students. In the evening a delightful birthday party was given for Miss Lamson in the ladies' dormitory.

One thousand one hundred and fifty subscriptions were pledged to the Student Movement last Monday evening, following a program entitled "As We Go To Press." The first scene showed the printing office in the morning, and the second scene the Student Movement office the same afternoon. After the program the College band played.

Fred Green, business manager of the College, left Monday for California, where he will spend a six weeks' vacation among his relatives.

Along with the general expansion of the College, the Normal Training School is to come into its own. Two additions to the present building are under construction, one measuring 12x24 feet and the other 24x48 feet. The building is being lengthened 12 feet to join the larger addition.

Mrs. Walter Mellar and child arrived at the College Nov. 18, joining her husband who expects to attend school.

Mr. Felix Lorenz of the Missouri Conference has come to the Lake Union to assist Mr. J. W. Davis in the field work.

Mrs. M. E. Kern is visiting her daughter Geneva for a few days.

Mrs. Lou K. Curtis spent last week in Chicago with friends.

Hinsdale Sanitarium News

Captain Edward Page Gaston with his mother and sister paid the sanitarium a short visit last Saturday. His mother will remain for some time at the sanitarium. Saturday evening, Captain Gaston gave a most interesting lecture in the sanitarium parlor. He was on duty in London, England, at the breaking out of the war and for some months was the only worker for prisoners and refugees, assisting in getting the people out of Germany and Belgium. Captain Gaston was arrested five times by the Germans and came very near being executed. The story of the prisons, and prison life were thrilling indeed. Those who were in Germany at the outbreak of the war and had to leave so rapidly as to lose their baggage, if they received it afterwards undoubtedly owe it to the faithfulness of Captain Gaston, as he recovered over two thousand two hundred pieces of baggage besides many other kinds of property for those who had to leave the war countries hurriedly. He also related interesting experiences that came to him in his acquaintance with royalty as his work was recognized by the kings of England and Belgium as being most important and praiseworthy.

Professor Frederick Griggs, president of Emmanuel Missionary College, and Mrs. Griggs made the sanitarium a four days' visit last week.

Elder W. H. Green, secretary of the Negro Department of the General Conference, paid the sanitarium a visit last week. He spoke Sunday evening to the sanitarium family.

Attorney A. D. Gash of Chicago gave a very interesting lecture on the "Music of Life", November 13. The preceding Tuesday evening, Mr. Julian B. Arnold gave a stereopticon lecture on "Egypt—the Mother of Empires." Both of these lectures were well received.

Walton C. John of Washington, D. C., made the sanitarium a call last week.

The sanitarium, according to conference report, has now to its credit $1,442.17 on Harvest Ingathering. This is over double any other church in the conference, while there are three other churches larger in membership. Hinsdale church is $9.81 per capita, being exceeded by only one other church and that is Broadview with ten dollars per capita, and money is still coming in.
