The Tally

It isn't the job we intended to do,
Or the labor we've just begun,
That puts us right on the ledger sheet;
It's the work we have really done.

Our credit is built upon things we do,
Our debt on things we shirk;
The man who totals the biggest plus
Is the man who completes his work.

Good intentions do not pay bills;
It is easy enough to plan;
To wish is the play of an office boy;
To do is the job of a man.

An E. M. C. Summer School

EMMANUEL MISSIONARY COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL

FREDERICK GRIGGS

For years Emmanuel Missionary College has conducted a summer school for the particular benefit of the elementary schools. A large number of teachers is required for the elementary school work in the Lake Union Conference, and the summer school is thus made necessary.

This year the school opened Tuesday, June 28. About fifty were in attendance. This number has increased during the first week until the enrollment at present is 68. The different conferences in the Union are represented as follows: Chicago, 2; East Michigan, 6; Illinois, 6; Indiana, 7; North Michigan, 5; North Wisconsin, 12; South Wisconsin, 11; West Michigan, 12; from outside the Union, 7.

It is apparent to any one at all acquainted with the church work of our Union Conference that this number of teachers is altogether insufficient to meet the needs. Quite a number of schools that were held last year are as yet unsupplied with teachers for this coming year, and the number of our elementary church schools could be greatly increased—and they should be increased. It is a great mistake that our work is not organized and carried forward so that every child in our ranks may have the privilege of a Christian education. The work that lies next the church is the care of its children and youth, and our responsibility in this matter is an unmeasured one. It seems as though even now a special effort should be put forth to increase the number of teachers in attendance at this summer school in preparation for work next year. We have scores of good public school teachers who believe this faith and yet who for some reason best known to themselves have not connected with our teaching work. Financial considerations should play no part in this matter. Our church schools may not be able to pay as much as can be obtained from the public schools, but the reward is infinitely greater when a person conscientiously engages in the church school work—the work of winning souls into the kingdom of God.

The spirit of this summer school is an unusually good one. Every student seems to be here with a definite purpose. There is a sober, earnest, Christ-like spirit here, and the atmosphere is a good one to be in. This is the spirit which should characterize not only the summer school but all the effort of Emmanuel Missionary College. We are engaged in a serious work. The men and women who are to train minds for service in God's cause should live in a godly atmosphere, and this is the atmosphere which should permeate the College at all times, and this we endeavor to have.

The weather during the opening of the summer school has been excellent. There is abundant shade on the grounds, and the College chapel is so open that if there is any breeze stirring whatever the students have the benefit of it, so altogether it is a comfortable place for summer study. The opening of the school gives large promise of a good time during the weeks before us.

Elder W. H. Wakeham is acting as principal of the school and is teaching general history, Bible doctrines, and Revelation. He has associated with him the following persons:

Prof. H. E. Edwards, school management, history of education, Christian education; Dr. O. R. Cooper, general science; Miss Mary Lamson, preceptress, physical culture; Miss Hazel Gordon, primary reading, language and arithmetic, observation in training school; Miss Bernice Webber, geography, grammar, intermediate Bible, intermediate reading and language, nature; Prof. S. A. Smith, agriculture; Miss Rena Klooster, home economics; Miss Grace Evans, arithmetic, United States history, physiology, civics; Prof. F. S. Everest, civics review, history of missions, woodwork; Miss Ardenne May, clay modeling, blackboard sketching, drawing; Prof. Birt Summers, voice, piano, sight singing, Prof. E. A. von Pohle, child study, hygiene.

We look for the total enrolment of the summer school to approximate seventy-five, and with the spirit of the school taken into the field we believe that this summer-school will be of great benefit to the cause of Christian education in the Lake Union Conference.

Fifty-Cent-a-Week Fund Statement

The following is a letter just received from Brother Knox, treasurer of the General Conference. Anything that I might write could not add to this urgent appeal for our brethren and sisters to arouse themselves to the necessity of pushing the campaign for mission funds in the Lake Union Conference, therefore I am giving it complete as it came to our office. The difference between the amount in our fifty-cent-a-week fund statement and the amount mentioned in Brother Knox's letter will be explained by the fact that one of our conferences did not report to us in time for it to get to the General Conference office and be included in their statement, though it came in time to be included in our statement thus showing a difference of a little over $2,000. This, of course, makes our showing a little better than the General Conference has it, but surely we are far enough behind to stir our very souls with the need for action.

"I am writing you today concerning the mission offerings as shown in the enclosed report, which is for the first five months of the year ending May 31, 1920. I trust that you will take time at once to give this consideration, not only as to the showing made by the Lake Union, which of course I take it for granted you are already familiar with, but also the general showing for the entire field of North America.

"You will notice by looking at the summary that instead of our having received in the neighborhood of a million dollars called for during these first five months, there is a shortage shown of almost $400,000; that this shortage is contributed to by every union conference in North America, and by almost every local conference. This situation is a most alarming one, for the shortage is so great that it cannot be overcome by the usual increase in offerings resulting from the Mid-summer and Annual offerings and the Harvest Ingathering Campaign. Some extra and continuous effort must be put forth, and this should be begun at once in order to retrieve the heavy loss we have already sustained.

"During the month of May the deficit created in the offerings amounted to considerably over $100,000. We have no reason to believe that the month of June will make any better showing, and if this conclusion is correct, we will then be confronted with six months of the year past with a shortage of a half a million dollars.

"In glancing over the statement submitted to me, from our accounting office showing the condition of our funds, I find that our operating fund is being rapidly reduced, and with this reduction, and an ever increasing deficit, we are confronted with extra and very urgent calls for appropriations coming to us from almost every section of the field, Europe included.

"Now, my brother, you of course are aware of the extent to which the Lake Union has contributed to this shortage. I notice by glancing at the report that there should have been received from your conference $147,732.03, but that we have received only $67,403.81, so that your territory has contributed to this deficit almost $81,000, making the amount per week per capita a little less than twenty-three cents. I am sure that this is not a situation that you will be pleased with, but now can you not, and will you not take this matter up at once with the local conference men and every one who can in any way help in this matter, and bring about a reformation?"

"I am going to take the liberty of sending out a letter on this subject to the ordained ministers and local church elders, trusting that by this means I can arouse their interest and bring about a change for the better. I think that the situation is desperate enough so that no effort should be spared to bring about a change.

"In considering the information placed before you in this report do not lose sight of the fact that the full fifty cents a week if received from all our constituency in America, making no difference between the white and colored membership, would give us only $2,390,934, and our appropriations for the year already amount to $2,260,000 with urgent requests still coming in."—W. T. Knox.

H. K. PRESLEY

"Where Is Thy Flock?"

Many of our children and youth are in a most pitiable condition. Satan is playing the game of life for their souls. He has had six thousand years experience, while they are playing the game for the first time. Everything, so far as they are concerned, is at stake in this game. Fathers, mothers, brothers, and sisters in the faith, what are you doing to help your young people; those whom God has placed in your home and in your church? Without your aid, cooperation and counsel most of them will be lost.

What can we do? "It is time for Sabbath-keepers to separate their children from worldly associations, and place them under the very best of teachers, who will make the Bible the foundation of all study."—Testimonies, Vol. 6; p. 109.

Let me quote further from the same volume: "Work as if you were working for your life to save the children from being drowned in the polluting, corrupting influences of the world." p. 199.

"There ought to be many whose hearts are touched by the pitiable situation in which our youth are placed, who realize that Satan is working by every conceivable device to draw them into his net. God requires the church to arouse from its lethargy, and see what manner of service is demanded in this time of peril.

"The eyes of our brethren and sisters should be anointed with the heavenly eyesalve that they may discern the necessities of this time. The lambs of the flock must be fed, and the Lord of heaven is looking on to see who is doing the work He desires to have done for the children and youth." p. 197.

With the condition as it is, with our duty so plainly pointed out, and with the eye of Jehovah looking down upon us to see who is doing this work, what excuse can we offer for failure of duty when the Great Judge asks, "Where is thy flock, thy beautiful flock?"

Then let us work as we never have worked for the salvation of our children. Let us place them under Christian teachers now for the doors of our schools will soon be closed.

The last offers of mercy to the inhabitants of this world will be presented by our children and youth. Our church schools are ordained of God to prepare our children for this great work. So let us place our children in God's ordained training centers. If they miss the opportunities that are offered this year, who can assure us that they will ever again have a chance to get the needed preparation? GARLAND W. BOGAR

Report of Walderly Academy Given at Camp-Meeting

Our academy has been under the direct control of the conference now for four years and reports of its work, progress and growth have been rendered periodically, but a short sketch at this time will be in order.

Four years ago, we started our school work with no finished buildings, no school equipment, about fifteen acres of land under the plow, very little farm machinery, and no horses. Our first two years were years of organization and a period of getting acquainted with the people, work, and conditions. During this time we believe that the academy gained the confidence of the people in North Wisconsin, and this confidence has been manifested in the strong support which our people have given the school, both in sending their young people there for training, and in moral and financial support.

During the past four years our enrollment has steadily increased and we have each year been forced to refuse admittance to young people because of lack of dormitory room. Our attendance for the four years has been as follows: 1916-17, thirty-eight; 1917-18, fifty; 1918-19, sixty-three; 1919-20, eighty-three. By the effort of students and teachers and help from others, we completed, during the first two years, a principal's cottage, partially completed the boys' dormitory, improved the part of the girls' dormitory then built by putting in a water system and other work, cleared a number of acres more of land, and added a number of items to our school equipment. During this time the members of our conference began to realize that Walderly had a large work to do in carrying the message in North Wisconsin and in training our young people for a place in the great fields beyond.

Each year an elders' meeting has been held at Walderly and our church leaders have taken an active interest in the work of the school and no advance work has been done, but with their consent and advice.

During the summer of 1918, applications for entrance were so numerous that we were forced to remodel our school building to make additional room for chapel and classes. Two weeks before school began, we started to tear our old mill building to pieces and to make it over entirely for school purposes. School opened that year in the boys' dormitory with sixty-three in attendance. This number was also beyond the capacity of our dining room and dormitories, necessitating a great deal of inconvenience and crowding. We continued school under these conditions until we were forced to close for several weeks because of the influenza. When school started again, we were able to use our remodeled school building. This building provided chapel and class room facilities for about one hundred students, but we were lacking in dormitory room and when our elders and representatives came for their annual meeting and found as many as twelve students in one room, they voted that we build the addition to the girls' dormitory. This we started in the summer of 1919, but because of lack of means we were unable to complete it, and were again forced to refuse admittance to a number of young people though our enrollment this last year was eighty-three. During this time we had fully furnished our academy with laboratory, library, and other equipment for carrying twelve grades of school work and during the past school year, conducted and graduated our first twelfth grade class.

Most unfortunately on the night of April 2, during a heavy gale, our academy building, for which teachers and students have worked so hard to build and equip, was totally destroyed by fire, together with all of its contents. Only those who have labored as we have and lost, can appreciate what this meant to us and to our work, but in spite of this terrible calamity, we did not lose one day of school. We are thankful for a body of teachers and students whose training and spirit have prepared them to rise above a calamity of this kind and in face of obstacles to go on to the completion of their work.

Our school burned Friday night. Monday morning, in the girls' unfinished dormitory, without seats, without library, without any equipment whatever, not even a piece of chalk, we took up our school work and began the work of reconstruction. One of our greatest losses was the library, but by the close of school this year, we had a thousand volumes of well-selected books on our shelves and many more promised. We expect by the beginning of the school in September to have equipment to continue our full academic work without inconvenience, aside from lack of dormitory room for the number of students who may wish to attend, but we will have more room than in any previous year.

At the close of the year we graduated our first class from Walderly Academy. Nine bright, energetic, young people finished their course and will enter some line of our work. Two more will probably receive their diplomas some time during the summer upon completion of a minor subject. We sincerely hope that every year Walderly Academy will be able to turn out a class of young people for the work of God or to go on for further preparation.

Permit me to review some of the work done by the academy during the last four years and to tabulate its growth: Forty acres of land placed under the plow by students and teachers in four years; forty more acres brushed and made available for pasture; ten head of high grade Holsteins as a start for a dairy herd; over $4,000 worth of work to students each year; over twenty baptisms of students or neighbors who have been brought into the truth by students; enrollment growth—38, 50, 63, 83; six or eight student canvassers each summer; $4,727.25 worth of books sold by students last summer; eleven receive diplomas at the end of first four years; over fifty thousand pages of literature distributed last year by the school; eight church school teachers sent out; one minister; several nurses; 200 lives given a lasting influence for good; 1,000 library books secured in six weeks; successful planning and financing of a student paper, "The Walderly Echo"; value of property 1916, $13,000.00, value of property 1920, $35,970.19, increase in valuation, $22,970.19; increased valuation in face of fire loss, $22,970.19.

Superior and Surrounding Churches

We closed our church school this year with the most pleasant record and successful results. For the last three months we have employed two teachers on account of the extra work of such a large school. Miss Marion Engleburt and Mrs. McLean are to take up the work the coming year. During the vacation the brethren are repairing the room and adding some features which will make for a better school another year.

Our evangelistic work in the church this spring has been broken into somewhat by several calls to visit other companies and churches, but we have had the blessing of gathering out five new converts to the message since my last report in March. At the present we have five others who are keeping the Sabbath and expect to be baptized soon. I expect to be engaged in following up the various interests already established here in Superior and among some of the nearby churches this summer.

As I visit among the churches I find that our brethren have been faithful in living out the principles of the message and there are usually a number of interested ones coming to the light as a result of their faithful efforts.

I have done some work in Iron River since our effort there and we find the believers all faithful and working hard in the different lines of missionary activities. Some of the young people are planning on entering Walderly Academy this fall and others are going to teach in our schools. These are from the new members who came in last summer. How glad we are that we have these saving stations to which we can direct our young people when they begin to wonder what they are going to do after they accept the Sabbath and are separated from the world. I expect to go again to Iron River to baptize some others who were not fully established at the close of the effort last year.

A few weeks ago I spent a few days with the brethren at Bone Lake. Two worthy brethren who were to take up the work of elder and deacon were ordained. We had a most enjoyable time as these brethren took their positions and we gathered to celebrate the ordinances of humility and the Lord's Supper. It was at this place that there were some interested ones as a result of the faithful work among the lay members. I hope to see them come into full fellowship with their brethren.

I was at the academy just before camp-meeting. The work in the girls' dormitory was moving along and they were nearly ready to plaster the rooms on the first floor which will be used for a time at least in the school work. The library is growing nicely and if all the people throughout the conference will remember to send in their good reference books that they can spare I am sure that we will have as good a library as we had before the fire. I am pleased to see the loyal spirit among the young people throughout the conference to stay by the school as it is passing through some trying hours and I hope that none will cease their efforts to encourage our boys and girls to come this fall. We will have a better school this year than ever. Parents, just make a visit to the school and settle it for yourselves.

Time is lent us to be laid out in God's service to His honor, and we cannot be too diligent in it, if we consider that time is precious, short, passing, uncertain, irrevocable when gone, and that for which we must be accountable.

Always make it a rule before retiring at night to thank the Lord for having kept you through the day.

Upper Peninsula Meeting

We have decided to change a little the program of the Upper Peninsula meeting this year. Instead of six days' meeting at one place we will hold for three days each in two places.

The first meeting will be held at the Cooks church, beginning Friday evening, July 30, holding over Sabbath and Sunday, the second meeting at the Harris church, beginning Friday evening, August 6, holding over Sabbath and Sunday.

Elder Guthrie and Mr. McConaughy, Professors Fattic and Elliott and others will be with us. Where the brethren and sisters of other places can possibly come in to these meetings we would urge them to do so.

We believe the Union brethren will have some specially good things for us which no one can afford to miss.

Remember the dates—at Cooks, July 30, 31 and August 1. Harris, August 6, 7, and 8.

Central Lake

We began our meetings here, Sunday evening, June 20, with about eighty-five in attendance. During the week the attendance has been smaller, varying from thirty to forty. The second week began with the tent comfortably filled with a good class of people. The people of the community are friendly and we believe that the Lord has honest souls here to be gathered out for His kingdom. We have already seen evidences of His guiding care. We are of good courage and solicit the prayers of our people throughout the conference.

Elkhart

This is the third consecutive effort for Elkhart. Our meeting started here, Sunday evening, June 20. It was a cold, damp evening and the attendance was poor. Our tent is not located in as good a place as we would like to have it but it was the only place we were able to secure. Our attendance here is consequently not as good as we had last year. The attendance ranges from seventy-five to one hundred and twenty-five during the week and runs well over two hundred on Sunday evenings. Each Sunday evening our tent has been filled with many outsiders. One encouraging feature is that we see the same faces each evening and the interest is running high. Many are asking for the Sabbath truth as early as this. Questions are being asked, books sold and hearts seem stirred. We are planning for a shorter effort this year. We find here the speaker is well known and we were spotted immediately when the name appeared on the posters. It is likely then that prejudice is keeping many away. We are hoping big things and are of good courage and beg of our brethren and sisters everywhere who have an interest in the work to seek the Lord most earnestly for our efforts here.

ORVA LEE ICE

Ionia

Our tent effort here began Friday evening, June 25. Our crowds were good from the beginning and have increased up to the present time. Sunday evening, July 4, four hundred and twenty-five people listened attentively to a sermon on "Spiritualism." We have on our list a number of interested people, among them a young man who is the chorister of one of the churches here. He came and offered to assist us in the music each evening. His horn is a great help in our song services. Our brethren and sisters in Ionia are showing a deep interest in the meetings and are ready to do all they can to help. The editor of the daily paper here has shown an interest in our work and has asked us to report the sermons in the paper, daily. This of course we are more than pleased to do. The first Sunday night of our meetings the Protestant churches of the city united and began open air services on the court house lawn about a block away from the tent. In spite of this we are getting good crowds, and many from their meetings are coming to ours.

We solicit the prayers of our brethren and sisters.

Adieu

Two years I have been laboring in East Michigan in the Home Missionary field. They have been two of the most enjoyable years of my life. During this time many friends have been made. But on this earth, sooner or later, partings must come. While in a way I am loathe to leave you, I am glad to be able to give my life for service on the other side of the sea. My home with all its tender memories is here but my heart is over there. July 24, we sail for China. These words are being written on our way to the coast.

We thank our dear people for the splendid interest they have manifested in their missionary work, and for their kindness and hospitality extended to us wherever we have been. Our parting wish is that you who remain at home may also continue to serve until our common task shall be finished and we all shall be gathered home.

Our address in China for the present will be, Box 523, U. S. Postal Agency, Shanghai, China. A two-cent stamp will take your letter there. We bid you adieu.

Roseland Tent Effort, Chicago

We began our tent meetings in the above place, June 6. In beginning early we expected to hold two efforts during the tent season. As our attendance has been much smaller than we anticipated, we may move sooner than had been planned. There are only a few of our people in this part of the city and while these have been very faithful in attending and helping in every way they can, it has been very difficult to bring up the attendance satisfactorily. Our last meeting, however, was much better attended than any previous one and the people that do come show a marked interest. We are not discouraged but see the need of God's help to make the effort a success. For this we are praying and would also ask to be remembered by the earnest and God-fearing believers as they approach the throne of grace. THE SWEDISH TENT COMPANY

On Friday evening, June 25, we began our meetings with the tent quite well filled. There was a good attendance also on Saturday night and Sunday night, every seat being taken, and a number of people on the outside. We feel much encouraged with the prospects thus far. Our company of workers consists of myself, Mrs. Allen as Bible worker and San Deter as tent master.

"The shouter is often the pouter."

Join the "Big Week"

At a time when the publishing work was going through the valley of humiliation the Lord said to us, "The canvassing work will be revived." Since 1900 we have made a gradual increase year by year, but a great deal larger one of late years.

The last few weeks have shown some excellent reports. Some of our conferences are making extremely large reports with only a few who are not doing so well.

Next week, July 11—17, is "Big Week" all over the world. I wish it were possible for every Seventh-day Adventist within the borders of the Lake Union Conference to have a part in this week. The plan, I think, is an excellent one. Write at once to your field secretary and join us for the largest sales that any one week has ever produced. I believe there are hundreds of old colporteurs throughout this field who would be very glad for a new experience in the canvassing work. We urge you to come and join us, and if you have never had an experience we believe it will be worth the effort. Remember the date, July 11—17.

J. W. DAVIS

College Notes

Next week, July 11-17 is "Big Week" in the Lake Union Conference. We hope to see all conference laborers, with many of our lay members selling our message-filled books. Elder J. W. Davis, our union field missionary secretary is going to sell books in Indiana.

Mr. J. L. McConaughy left Wednesday morning, July 7, for Denver, Colorado, where he is attending the General Conference Home Missionary Council. His wife and children accompanied him as far as Chicago on their way to her home in Missouri.

Elder S. B. Horton stopped at the Union office a few hours on his return from the South Wisconsin camp-meeting to his home in Kalamazoo.

Elder H. T. Elliott moved his family to Berrien Springs this week where they are now permanently located.

Elder J. W. Mace stopped at the Lake Union office a few hours on his way to visit the South Bend branch of the Review and Herald Publishing Association.

Miss Alma Hill of St. Thomas, Ont., who was a student at Emmanuel Missionary College about three years ago, is visiting friends at the College this week.

Does It Pay?

Many have sown the seeds of truth in the form of books, papers, and tracts for years without seeing any results from their efforts. This has caused some to slacken or even cease their efforts. That is just what the devil wants us to do—become discouraged and quit.

Let us take courage and redouble our efforts in placing the printed page in the hands of each one in our field. In Eccl. 11:6 I read, "In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good." So we are not to slacken our efforts because of the uncertainty of all the seed growing. We must be faithful in sowing and God will water the seed by His Holy Spirit.

A few weeks ago I met a sister who had begun the observance of the Sabbath through the reading of Present Truth. Some one had taken the time to sow the seed in a great many homes and this sister who was seeking for the light found it in one of our little papers. Is it worth while to spend many hours and give away hundreds of papers for one soul? Jesus would have given His life on Calvary's cross to save one individual. The worth of a soul cannot be measured in time and effort.

There are souls in your community hungering for the light of truth. Will you carry the gospel message to them? Take some tracts and Present Truth leaflets and go out among your neighbors praying that God will bless your efforts to win some one. It is our duty to warn out neighbors. God forbid that we should shirk it.
