"Could It Be That You Prayed for Me?"

If you grew up without any religious training—belonged to no church—had no fellowship with Christians—lacked any spiritual foundation of any kind—how fast would you progress in a Bible Correspondence course?

You would have to learn a whole new vocabulary of religious terms—fumble through the Bible trying to locate texts—reorient your entire thinking—
if you were to try to fit God into the pattern of your life.

None of this would be easy, especially since your guidance would come only from a printed lesson. Small wonder if you would become discouraged. Actually, it would be a miracle of God's grace if you were to persevere and continue to the end of the course. How much more a miracle, were your life to be transformed by so simple a means as a printed page!

A Connecticut viewer is going through this experience at the present moment.

Our religious teaching is strange—the terms in the lessons are strange—the whole Bible is strange—but the Lord Jesus is no stranger. He knows how to touch human hearts regardless of how religiously ill-formed they may be.

By the time this Bible student had finished eight lessons with 16 yet to study before the one on Bible health principles—all on her own—she gave up smoking.

Pathfinders Demonstrate Skills at Grand Ledge Fair

Over 1,000 eager Pathfinders and leaders transformed the peaceful campus of Grand Ledge Academy into a beehive of activity on Sunday, October 12. The occasion was the annual Pathfinder Fair.

Activities got underway at an early hour, as members of the 23 clubs present prepared exhibits and put last minute touches on their floats, which were entered in the afternoon parade. Lunch was served at many of the Pathfinder booths and all had an opportunity to stroll about the large auditorium and view the exhibits and demonstrations in the various booths.

The next point of interest was the ball diamond where the three field events took place. These included knot tying, fire building, and tent pitching. The knot tying was a contest of skill and speed and found the Kalamazoo team coming out first, followed by Hillsdale and Pontiac.

Fifteen clubs participated in the fire building. The contestants were each given a piece of wood and were to build a fire under a stake which had a suspended balloon. The wood had to be chopped up and the fire built hot enough to pop the balloon. First prize

Adventists Make News Around The World

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Seventh-day Adventist church will mark the 100th anniversary of its program of giving based on the Biblical tithing principal in 1959, according to an announcement from the Adventists' world headquarters here. Since the beginning of the program Adventists throughout the world have given (through 1957) $636,035,214 to support the church's ministry. North American Adventists gave $471,203,924 of this total.

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA—A sparkling new sea-going mission ship is joining a fleet of 38 vessels of the Seventh-day Adventists' Australasian Division as the result of a world-wide offering received in Adventist churches. The vessel will ply the Pacific on a multi-purpose mission—to transport mission personnel and supplies, to respond to calls for aid on land or sea, to carry the seriously ill to adequate medical facilities, and to bring simple medical help to isolated villages of the Pacific's islands.

AUCKLAND, NEW ZEALAND—Nationality-wise, a Seventh-day Adventist band here seems quite unique. It is composed entirely of Samoans except for one person. He is a Cook Islander.

JESSELTON, NORTH BORNEO—Seventh-day Adventist doctors holding traveling clinics in native villages here have an unusual complication to deal with in treating patients. Once the medicines are distributed, the patients compare them by passing the bottles and packages from person to person. Often, say the doctors, the right medicine fails to end up with the right medical problem. Best remedy, they find, is to give no more than one large dose of medicine and administer it themselves.

Adventist "Hams" Organize

Members of the amateur radio fraternity, popularly known as "hams," are a unique group brought together by participation in a hobby that demands mechanical knowledge, technical skill, and an interest in progress. They come from all walks of life; and almost without exception they have one attribute in common, a willingness to share their knowledge and to help the other fellow.

It is traditional that in times of disaster, when communications are disrupted just when they are most needed, the "hams" come to the rescue. At no expense to the public for either equipment or time, they have served on countless occasions to bring relief and comfort to those in distress, their only pay, a "Thank you," and even this is not always given in the press of emergency.

Many of us have hoped for years to see the day when Seventh-day Adventist amateurs could have the opportunity to become mutually acquainted, and to organize for service as well as pleasure. Some years ago The Youth's Instructor took the first step in this direction, when they began the annual publication of a list of SDA amateurs.

Now the Voice of Prophecy Amateur Radio Club has taken the initiative, and, supported by other groups, has begun the publication of a small quarterly paper, which is dedicated to furthering the message over the air, tactfully, as opportunities are presented. To date there is a mailing list of over 550 names of licensed amateurs who receive this publication. A pamphlet of interest to people of a scientific turn of mind has been prepared by Elder R. F. Cottrell, entitled "Dazzling Frontiers of Science." This is available on request, and on the back cover thereof is a place for enrollment in a Bible Course sponsored by the Voice of Prophecy broadcast or by the Faith for Today TV telecast. Many have responded by enrolling in one or another course. At least one has already been baptized, and is now a church deacon and a Sabbath school teacher.

WARN, standing for World Amateur Radio News, carries many items of interest from other lands. The forthcoming issue will present a letter from Floyd McCoy, who operates a radio station on Pitcairn Island, and whose picture appeared in the December, 1957, issue of The National Geographic Magazine. Technical articles are also included. For more information, you are invited to write WARN, care of The Voice of Prophecy, Box 55, Los Angeles 53, Calif.

Perseverance in Prayer Wins Entire Family

Miss Marie Bourgainville was a young lady of about 18 in a rural section near the little town of Lorrain, Martinique.

Marie had never known anything but the Catholic faith. However, she had been invited by our young lay preacher, Brother Eric Toussaint, to attend Adventist meetings being conducted by laymen in the little Adventist chapel. Night after night she attended until she was convinced that the Adventists were preaching the truth.

As Marie entered her home one evening after the meetings her mother began to beat her, making a large gash in her head. Blood streamed down her face. Marie did not fight back. Instead she quietly left the home, in her heart praying the prayer that Jesus prayed, "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do."

The church members provided a little room for Marie under the Adventist chapel in Lorrain. She earned her food by sewing and crocheting.

A year or so later as I was shaking hands with members there one Sabbath after the service, the pastor presented a young man to me. "This young man," he said, "is Marie's brother. He was baptized last Sabbath."

Two years ago, shortly before I left Martinique, I spoke again at the Lorrain church. At the close of the

FORMER CONFERENCE WORKERS SEND GREETINGS FROM

Konola Mission in Fast-Growing Liberia

The following article comes from across the ocean, sent by Brother and Sister J. D. Johnson, former members of the Shiloh church in Chicago. Mrs. Ida Johnson served as principal of the Shiloh school and Brother Johnny Johnson was on the teaching staff before their departure to the mission field.

Greetings to all of our friends and members of the Lake Union constituency!

It has been one year since we left the shores of America for a new experience of Christian service in the mission field of Liberia. We feel that it was the Lord's plan that we come to this part of His world vineyard to labor. This conviction seized us soon after our arrival and we beheld the great burden resting upon the shoulders of Brother and Sister Cantrell, our co-laborers here.

It was apparent that new energy was needed to carry on the spiritual, physical, and educational duties of the mission. With our increased working force, and the Lord's blessings, Konola mission has made substantial progress in the past year. As we look back over a year of accomplishment, we think it only fitting to share our feelings with those back home who keep the home fires burning that the support of foreign missions will not flicker out.

During the past year, our inadequately sized kitchen was enlarged, with the help of student labor, to meet the needs of preparing meals for 123 dormitory students. A cafeteria system was started, and the dining hall was fitted with much-needed screen windows and doors.

Other improvements in this area included a better system for disposing of kitchen refuse which was a major threat to sanitation. On return from their summer vacation, the students were impressed and pleased by the sanitary and decorative improvements in the kitchen area, dormitories, washhouses, and toilets. These features, in addition to a well-cut campus, likewise made a discernable impression on visitors and the local native community who are very much aware of mission activities.

We were able to obtain some of the school's needs such as desks for the students. Other general improvements were made in the physical development of the building.

Most significant, this year was our first year of having a senior academy. Although we have only a few students in the upper grades, we feel that the Lord is preparing a future place of training for future native leaders.

In connection with our senior academy, an intermediate Bible evangelistic course is offered as a means of preparing young men to do evangelistic work among the bush natives. Workers are greatly needed in this respect because special assignments and native dialect barriers make it most difficult for overseas workers to work as effectively as trained native evangelists.

Liberia is an energetic, developing country. Civilization and American influence are having a great impact on the youth of Liberia. Young Liberians have a desire for skilled and technical training which may have their beginnings in secondary vocational education.

In order to prepare our African youth for service to God and to their country, we have started the development of a vocational training program at Konola. Cabinetmaking is being offered to our students under the instruction of one of our local brethren who is a finished tradesman in this field.

All that we achieve at our institution, of course, will be of no value if we cannot lead boys and girls to Christ; for Christian character development is the primary objective of our work.

"For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" Matt. 16:26. This scripture applies to the African as well as to the most devout Christian elsewhere. Therefore, we are not only preparing our students for a place in this life, but more important, for a place in God's Kingdom to come.

In behalf of the mission's spiritual needs, the superstructure of a long-needed chapel has been erected, and we hope to finish it in the coming year. Last year two students were baptized. In the first half of this year 26 went down into the watery grave.

Our school library is sorely in need of books, and we look to the Lord that a way may be opened to obtain some books. Along with our greetings, we send a request for your prayers that the work here may continue to grow. It is our desire for the Lord's blessings to accompany His people around the world as they gather in the earth's harvest of souls.

J. D. AND IDA JOHNSON

Free-Lance Writing Contest Sponsored by Youth's Instructor

The editors of the Youth's Instructor are pleased to announce a new division of the annual Pen League in its thirtieth year.

Heretofore, Pen League has been limited to students enrolled in writing classes in Seventh-day Adventist academies and colleges of the United States and Canada. This first year of the Free Lance Division is on an experimental basis. It is believed that instead of diminishing the regular flow of manuscripts from free-lance writers, it will provide the incentive to submit even more manuscripts, with emphasis on materials especially desired by the editors.

One first award of $100 and two second awards of $75 will be made, if manuscripts submitted merit them under the standards for judging. In addition, authors submitting nonaward manuscripts that are acceptable for publication will receive payment at a rate within the 1959 free-lance payments scale.

Authors receiving neither award nor acceptance, but whose manuscripts give evidence that they might be rewritten for later consideration, will be notified. If such authors indicate to the editors their desire to do a rewrite, an editorial criticism will then be given to guide their work.

Standards for judging are:

1. Suitability of subject and treatment for Youth's Instructor use.
2. Interest appeal to readers in the 15- to 30-years-of-age range.
3. Freshness of writing style and originality of subject handling.
4. Accuracy in use of facts, quotations, and footnotes.
5. Attraction value of introduction, and degree of sustained interest from introduction to climax.

The four general sections include: Class A—Adventure, Class B—Providence, Class C—Conversion, and Class D—Miscellaneous. The deadline has been announced for February 5, 1959.

For contest rules and detailed information write: The Youth's Instructor, Review and Herald Publishing Association, Takoma Park, Washington 12, D.C.

Stewardship

"Take ye . . . an offering unto the Lord: whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it. . . ." Exodus 35:5. "And they came, every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom the spirit made willing, and they brought the Lord's offering to the work of the tabernacle. . . ." Exodus 35:21.

There was no compulsion in connection with this offering. It was all based on the voluntary action of the givers.

Note the stress placed on the attitude of the givers in both above quotations, "whosoever is of a willing heart," and "every one whose heart stirred him up." This shows us clearly that the impulse to give came from within. These ancient men of Israel wanted to help construct, furnish and operate the tabernacle as an expression of their worship and service to God.

When one contributes because he must (taxes), or because of the pressure of his friends and members of his group and not because his own "willing heart" has "stirred him up," his gift may have beneficial results but he himself will miss the greater part of the spiritual uplift that comes from giving generously and enthusiastically from an eager heart.

If we find ourselves giving grudgingly to the work of the church and to the spreading of the gospel, we need a mountain-top experience, a renewed vision of our place in God's plan and a renewal of our consecration of His service.

The cheerfulness with which we give to advance His Kingdom is a good measure of the spiritual life within us. If we dislike to give, it is a danger signal flashing its warning across the path of life. It should send us to our knees in renewed searching for that which is most significant, most worthwhile and most closely attuned to God's plan for our highest fulfillment and greatest satisfaction.

NEW CHURCH ORGANIZED AT TECUMSEH

A new church company was organized Sabbath, Oct. 4, in Tecumseh, Mich. Eld. C. B. Newmyer gave a challenging message to the 31 people who were present. For the time being they are meeting at the Seventh-day Adventist Benedict Memorial Church School.

The Lord surely has blessed in all the plans and is guiding forward in the spread of the gospel in the Tecumseh-Adrian area.

The new teachers' house at the Benedict Memorial School near Adrian is nearly completed. The Slabachs, teachers at the school, are living in the one apartment and work is continuing on the other apartment.

V.O.P. Music Program to Be Aired

Sister E. L. Garrett has arranged with the management of the Niles Radio Station to broadcast the Voice of Prophecy program, "A Time for Singing." This program is scheduled for each Sunday morning at 8:15-8:30, WNIL, 1290 kc. Since the station is doing this for us as a courtesy without charge, a hearty listener response would be fitting.

Bente-Simmons Wedding

Mrs. J. Ray Simmons, of 188 Howland Street, Battle Creek, announces the marriage of her son, James C. Simmons, to Mrs. Phyllis J. Bente, of El Monte, Cal., on Sept. 11 in Covina, Cal.

After a short honeymoon at Camp Cedar Falls in the San Bernardino mountains they are now residing at 11244 Rosarita Dr., Loma Linda, Cal. Mr. Simmons is a deputy sheriff at the Loma Linda Sanitarium and Hospital.

NEW CHURCH ORGANIZED AS A RESULT OF BRANCH SABBATH SCHOOL. Mrs. Ferris Britton, left, and Mrs. Clayton Kinne sign their names to the roster of the newly organized Morrice church. Meeting in a former Township Hall, three miles from Morrice, the new congregation plans to erect a new church building on a lot donated by Oren Roys, a promoter of the branch Sabbath school.

"SUN" AND "MOON" COMING TO MICHIGAN!

Yes, the General Conference "sun" in the person of Miss Louise Meyer, and the Lake Union "moon" in the person of Eld. Vernon Flory will be in Michigan from Nov. 7-22. Miss Meyer will be here during this period, and Elder Flory during part of it. The following program has been established:

Ferndale—Friday, Nov. 7, 8:00-9:30 p.m., Miss Meyer, Cradle Roll and Kindergarten technique.

Ferndale—Sabbath, Nov. 8, forenoon Sabbath school and worship with Miss Meyer.

Afternoon, 3:00-5:00, H.O.A., for ALL Sabbath school officers and teachers.

Grand Rapids—Sunday, Nov. 9, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Miss Meyer, Cradle Roll and Kindergarten technique.

Grand Rapids—Monday, Nov. 10, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Miss Meyer presents an actual workshop for Cradle Roll and Kindergarten division workers.

Pontiac—Tuesday, Nov. 18, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 19, and Thursday, Nov. 20, same time, Miss Meyer's technique instruction and workshops for Cradle Roll and Kindergarten, and Elder

PRESENTATION OF A PLAQUE for public service was made to station WXYZ-TV, Detroit, by Faith for Today. Accepting for the station is John Pival, center. Eld. Howard D. Burbank, left, made the presentation and was accompanied by the district superintendent, Eld. W. W. White.

Faith for Today Awards Plaques Honoring Stations

An outstanding example of public service is the cooperation of the television stations in Michigan in carrying religious telecasts without cost.

Flory's workshops for Primary and Junior workers.

Lansing—Friday, Nov. 21, Miss Meyer instructs on Cradle Roll and Kindergarten technique, and Elder Flory on Primary and Junior technique.

Grand Ledge—Sabbath, Nov. 22, 3:00-5:00 p.m., Miss Meyer and Elder Flory lead out in Lansing Area Teachers Exchange.

Please note that THREE TEACHERS EXCHANGES, Detroit H.O.A., E.M.C. AREA, and LANSING AREA, will meet on the three Sabbaths during this itinerary. YOU ARE LUCKY to have General Conference and union help for them!

Bring an offering to help defray the expenses of the materials YOU will use in making devices in these workshops. Bring your questions, too, and a friend. ALL 1959 Sabbath school officers and workers should take note of these meetings and plan to attend. Come and see the "sun" shine and the "moon" light! It's great! M. F. GRAU

Most stations set aside a number of hours each week for this purpose.

Among the programs benefiting is our own telecast, Faith for Today, carried on four stations in Michigan which give good coverage in the lower peninsula.

Recently Faith for Today has been making presentations in the form of a plaque to the stations for their public service. These presentations are made by the Radio-TV secretary of the conference along with the local pastor. Awards in Michigan have been made to WXYZ-TV, Detroit; WWTW, Cadillac; WOOD-TV, Grand Rapids; and WPBN-TV, Traverse City.

Viewers Urged to Write

It should be remembered that since the stations carry the program as a public service, the response from listeners helps to determine which programs are carried. You can help keep Faith for Today on the air by distributing program logs and inviting others to watch the telecast. Probably most important, when you see a program that you like, send a letter to the station manager thanking him for carrying the program on his station. The listener response is gauged by the number of letters received and you can make a vital contribution by a letter.

What Do You Do --

When your teen-ager doesn't know how to cook?

PARENT 1: Teach her. No girl is ready to think of marrying until she knows how to prepare good wholesome meals for her family. Some wives wonder why everyone in the family is so cross and crabby. If the facts were known, it might be because of poor cooking. Sweet dispositions don't come from sour stomachs.

PARENT 2: I have two teen-age daughters and we have many a delightful hour together in the kitchen. I began when they were very small teaching them to cook and to bake. Now when they learn a new dish at school, they come home and teach me. The older girl is an artist at baking good whole-wheat bread. At first it was rather slow and at times I was tempted to send them out of the kitchen so I could get through quicker. But I would remember that as a mother I was first of all a teacher and the happiness and welfare of my children came before my own convenience. Now as teen-agers they are a source of comfort and joy to me.

PARENT 3: Cooking is an art. It is more than defrosting foods or using a can opener. I want my daughter to know not only how to prepare an appetizing meal but to know the importance of a balanced diet. Then, too, I think she should know something about the cost of foods and how to serve nourishing meals on a limited amount of money. At times I have turned over the grocery money to my daughter and let her select her own foods and prepare them for a week at a time. She seems to enjoy it.

When your child wants a gun?

PARENT 1: Guns are not toys. They are instruments of war and bloodshed. Therefore we do not allow our children to have a gun. There isn't anything in a gun that teaches a child to love his enemy, to do good to those who mistreat him. As Christian parents we cannot feel that we can allow our children to play with anything that would tempt them to sin.

Too much emphasis on grades may tempt children to sin. Let's encourage them to do thorough work.

Try This

MOTHER: "You need more time for your homework. We shall turn the radio off and let you have this corner where you can study quietly."

Not This

MOTHER: "Your teacher tells me you copied on the last test. What do you mean by cheating?"

SON: "You told me I had to make an A no matter what."

There is religion in good cooking, and I question the religion of that class who are too ignorant and too careless to learn to cook.

—Child Guidance, p. 374

PARENT 2: No normal person can be happy when he is hurting someone else. We want our child to be happy, therefore we teach our son to play happy, delightful games.

PARENT 3: After all, the pattern formed in childhood play usually appears in adult living. If a child plays fighting, he is likely to fight through life. If he learns to play WITH others, he is more likely to be friendly and neighborly in his adulthood.

Did You Know?

That it is more fun to be a Christian than to be a sinner?

That a smile accomplishes more than a frown?

That a child responds to love but not to scolding?

That you will enjoy the Home and School program,

"You Can Take Them With You"?

Hints to Mothers

Does your baby object to having his face washed? If so, instead of going for him "head on" why not approach him from the rear or side? See that the water is warm and be sure to dry him thoroughly when you are through.

Faith for Today

Sharing her victory over tobacco she wrote, "You will be glad to know I have given up smoking, but with all the heartaches I have I don't know how I did it." Then, realizing that it took more than human power to overcome the habit she asked, "Could it be that you prayed for me?"

Of course the office staff prayed for her as they do for every student.

And we invite you to join our TV Fellowship of Prayer that thousands more will be led to break the bonds of sin.

went to Kalamazoo, followed by Midland and Jackson. The tent pitching contest entrants were graded on their neatness in the pitching and striking the tents. The prize winners here were Prattville, E.M.C., and Kalamazoo.

Soon after these competitions, the parade began at the ball diamond, wound up at Location Street and terminated at the reviewing stand across from the information booth on the grounds. The floats were graded on originality, craftsmanship and effort. Top winners were Muskegon, Hillsdale, and Midland.

Clubs eagerly awaited the results of the day's activities which took into consideration their booths, demonstrations, field events, and parade. Points were also given for pre-fair merits. These included Pathfinder reports being in on time and field trips that were taken by the clubs. High among the clubs for pre-fair points were the Ferndale Busy Beavers. The final tally showed the top ten clubs at the Pathfinder Fair to be: Midland, Kalamazoo, Flint, Ferndale, Pontiac, E.M.C., Hillsdale, Holland, Prattville, and Muskegon.

Voice of Hope Meetings Draw Hundreds

A very successful series of meetings was conducted in Marshfield, Wis., by Eld. Kurt Kurz and W. H. Hessel. Entitled the VOICE OF HOPE, the meetings started Sunday night, Sept. 28, and brought God's messages of truth and hope to hundreds for the three-week period.

On the last night when a call was made many took their stand for present truth. Others opened their homes for Bible studies.

A spirit of revival has swept through the near-by churches as God's Spirit was manifest in winning souls to Christ. The support given by our own people was wonderfully shown when they came out night after night.

Special thanks go to Sister Herman Lucas, the organist, and the usherettes, Genevieve Zalabok, Karen Wolfe, Darlene Brandenburg, Jean Fillner, Patty Sabin, Susan McCray, and Cheryl Flugstad. Brother Leslie Breitlow was the projectionist and Sister William Hessel the pianist.

The Bethel church provided many musical numbers. Eld. Loy Foll led the congregational singing on a number of occasions. Eld. R. E. Finney showed his color pictures, "Inside Germany and Behind the Iron Curtain," to a packed hall of 225 persons the night of Oct. 5.

From the beginning attendance of 130 the number climbed until on the closing night 200 were present to hear Eld. Kurz bring a stirring message entitled, "The Sin God Cannot Forgive." We know that the angels in heaven rejoice for the victories won in Christ's name.

SCHOOL COURSE DOUBLES AS HOME MISSIONARY PROJECT

At Clear Lake Junior Academy students in the upper grades take a course in masonry, but the joy of the course comes from actual participation in the erection of buildings as seen above.

Teacher of the upper grades, Clarence Williams, is pictured with the group of boys who are taking masonry. They have almost completed the erection of this garage for Stanley Sickler. They have also rebuilt a chimney and are presently engaged in building an outdoor fireplace. The Clear Lake congregation is proud to see this emphasis on the learning of a valuable skill early in academy years.

Ground Breaking Ceremony Launches Academy Administration Building

As the academy band played some spirited numbers, the student body and staff gathered on Oct. 8, 1958, for a brief ceremony inaugurating the construction of the new Wisconsin Academy administration building. The program was under the direction of Principal F. W. Bieber. After some well-chosen remarks by Eld. R. E. Finney, prayer was offered by the writer. When the official ground breaking was over, souvenir hunters descended upon the upturned clods for precious pieces of mother earth and grass to be carefully and safely stowed away in beloved scrap books.

Wisconsin Academy has been known as an academy without class rooms. Of course, we have had rooms in which to hold classes, but no rooms actually built as such. The chapel in the girls' dormitory has long since become too small for comfortable and reverential worship. The old Smith house, which has served as the music building, is creaking at its joints.

It was felt that the time had come when something had to be done to remedy the over-crowded conditions and the lack of adequate room. The architects have drawn up a long-range plan which provides for the construction being done in sections. The present plan is to build the chapel, music department, offices, and some classrooms in the first section.

The conference committee has recommended that between now and July 1, 1959, the churches raise $50,000. This amount is based on a per membership goal of $10.00. With funds that have already been turned in through the third Sabbath offering, plus funds which the conference already has in reserve, a good share of the present section can be built. We are not planning, however, to build any faster than as funds are available.

We feel assured that the constituency of the Wisconsin Conference will again support this expansion program as they have in the past. We are grateful for your hands that have held the plough and not looked backward during these years of construction at the Wisconsin Academy.

The men from the office as well as some from the school have been assigned to visit each church in the conference before Dec. 1 in behalf of this building project. If perchance some have been absent when this matter has been presented in your church, will you not prayerfully consider the amount you can contribute? Give as God has prospered you. Send your contributions either to your church treasurer or directly to the Wisconsin Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, Box 512, Madison, Wis.

THREE BAPTIZED AT PLAINFIELD

On Sept. 27 three souls were buried with their Lord in baptism at Plainfield, Wis. Two of the candidates, Brothers Carl Brickner and Clarence Ravy, were from the district of W. H. Hessel and the third candidate, Miss Dorothy Miller, was from Eld. Kurt Kurz' district. Elder Kurz conducted the baptism.

Surely there is no more joyful occasion than when men and women show by this public sign that they have taken their stand for Christ and His truth.

W. H. HESSEL

Youth Activities

The youth department of the Shiloh church in Chicago is currently conducting a Voice of Youth effort in Robbins, Ill. They are enthusiastic about this endeavor and are looking forward to greater things for God.

To facilitate the fall and winter recreational program, the Shiloh youth are painting the gymnasium. According to the MV leader, Henry Flowers, it will be well done when completed.

The Motor Cities MV Federation of Detroit, Mich., will hold its final meeting for 1958 on Sabbath, Nov. 29. All youth of this area should plan to be present. The officers for 1959 will be elected at this meeting. Plans are also being developed to enroll a large number of young people in the Voice of Prophecy Bible correspondence course, "Bright Horizon."

Speaking of "Bright Horizon," reports on the enrollment of this new course are most favorable and the youth are responding well. Our first report on enrollments comes from Dowagiac, Mich., one of our smallest societies, where Mrs. Priscilla Scott is MV leader. This energetic group enrolled 41 persons. Do your part today and help save a youth!

News Notes

★ Eld. C. M. Willison was the guest speaker at the Converse church on Sabbath, Oct. 18.

★ The Kokomo Pathfinders enjoyed a week-end camp-out Oct. 18 and 19. Elder Willison was their guest and reported that everyone had an enjoyable time.

★ The Indianapolis North Side church school has added the fourth teacher to their teaching staff because of the large enrollment. Miss Joyce Beatty has accepted this position.

TITHE

Embezzlement to Be Repented Of

"When men withhold the one-tenth, they rob God. . . . Such defraud their Creator; and when this sin of neglect is brought before them, it is not enough for them to change their course and begin to work from that time upon the right principle. This will not correct the figures made in the heavenly record for embezzling the property committed to them in trust to be returned to the lender. Repentance for unfaithful dealing with God, and for base ingratitude, is required."—Testimonies, Vol. 3, p. 394.

"Upon many God has bestowed His gifts with a lavish hand. . . . Will they make corresponding returns? . . . Strict honesty toward God . . . will meet the divine requirements. . . . Remember that if you have robbed God in tithes and offerings, it is all registered in the books of heaven.

"Let those who have committed wrong give proof of their repentance by seeking to make full restitution. Let them in their after life give evidence of genuine reformation, and they will assuredly enjoy the peace of heaven."—Eastern Tidings, Dec., 1916.

Tithe—Wrong Use

"A very plain, definite message has been given to me for our people. I am bidden to tell them that they are making a mistake in applying the tithe to various objects which, though good in themselves, are not the object to which the Lord has said that the tithe should be applied. Those who make this use of the tithe are departing from the Lord's arrangement. God will judge for these things.

"One reason that the tithe may be applied to school purposes. Still others reason that canvassers and colporteurs should be supported from the tithe. But a great mistake is made when the tithe is drawn from the object for which it is to be used, . . . the support of the ministers. There should be today in the field one hundred well qualified laborers where now there is but one."—Testimonies, Vol. 9, p. 248.

★ Eld. Arthur Kiesz, Eld. D. E. Caslow, Eld. Harold Otis and Brother Carson Adams attended pre-council meetings at Washington, D.C., this past week. Elder Kiesz stayed to attend the Fall Council meetings.

★ Eld. N. J. Johnson is conducting the fall Week of Prayer at Indiana Academy. The meetings started Sunday night, Oct. 19, and ran through Sabbath, Oct. 25.

★ Eld. C. M. Willison and Brother W. E. Wasenmiller visited the woodshop at Indiana Academy and report that they are coming along nicely on the addition.

Salem Homecoming Held Oct. 4

Friends from far and near gathered to enjoy the inspirational services Oct. 4 at the Salem church near Sullivan. Salem, one of the oldest churches in Indiana, was erected in 1891. Many workers in the cause of God have gone out from the little church.

Eld. R. T. Heiner from the New Albany district spoke at the eleven o'clock worship hour. He reminded us that we all must appear before the judgment seat of Christ. In the afternoon Eld. N. J. Johnson of the North Side Indianapolis church spoke on the soon coming of Jesus.

We returned to our homes with a new determination to do our part in spreading the gospel and preparing our own lives for the judgment and Christ's coming.

The Literature Ministry— A Soul-Satisfying Work

In calling back on some of my old customers, I visited the home of a lady who belonged to the Wesleyan Methodist church. She had previously given me a fine recommendation for Bible Stories. I was impressed to show her Bible Readings and told her it was published by the Seventh-day Adventists, just as the Bible Stories are. I explained that it covered the Sabbath question as well as the change of the Sabbath, in fact it covered two hundred subjects in all. I told her it was a doctrinal book of our church but many ministers of other denominations had purchased them for reference.

I pointed out various features of the book, including table of contents, topical index, etc., and closed with the part on eternal life and the home of the saved. I mentioned how children ask so many questions such as, "What is heaven going to be like? Will we know each other?"

I told her how my son had asked if we would have anything to eat. Immediately she asked me what I told him. I turned to the text, Isaiah 66:22 and 23, and emphasized that we would be real tangible beings in the new earth. She was so impressed she reread the text to her friend who was about to leave. I read other texts concerning the new earth.

She finally asked if I thought the book would confuse her. I assured her she would have the Bible answer for all of her questions and it would prove a real blessing to her ministry. In closing I showed her the Bedtime Stories and Children's Hour, telling her how many ministers use the stories in their sermons as well as for special stories for the children. Before I left we knelt in prayer and I asked the Lord's guidance and blessings on us.

Your continued prayers will be coveted in behalf of this child of God and all other honest-hearted souls that we literature evangelists contact every day.

Surely this is an important work.

In places where ministers never have the opportunity of going we contact many souls, talking to them about the truth.

"The intelligent God-fearing, truth-loving canvasser should be respected, for he occupies a position equal to that of the gospel minister."—Colporteur Ministry, p. 44.

"God looks upon the faithful evangelistic canvasser with as much approval as He looks upon the faithful minister. Both workers have light, and both are to shine in their respective spheres of influence."—Id., p. 45.

Surely the Lord is good to us. Besides giving us souls for our labor and the peace that passeth all understanding, He blesses us with a good income. The best paymaster anyone can have, who faithfully puts in honest time every day, is the Lord. In the last seven years I have put in rather faithful time and the Lord has blessed me with nearly $100,000 in deliveries, six souls baptized, another one looking forward to baptism, and many taking the Bible course who are yet in the valley of decision. This is a soul-satisfying work. My prayer is that I may be worthy of His calling.

New Workers Join Conference

Because of the recent death of Eld. Carl Pruitt, and the transfer of Eld. M. G. Johnson to the Colorado Conference and Brother Edwin Wilson to North Dakota, we have had three vacancies to fill.

Your executive committee gave immediate and prayerful study to getting new workers. We found it difficult to get all three openings filled. Men are hard to get, but we are happy to welcome three new worker families to Indiana.

Eld. E. W. Amundson, who has been pastor in St. Paul, Minn., for a number of years, will be the new pastor for South Bend and Plymouth. Eld. Richard Necker, from Texas, will fill the vacancy in the Logansport district, and Eld. Paul Muffo, from Michigan, is the new pastor for the Shelbyville district.

These men are all experienced and we know they will be a real strength to our conference. We welcome these three families to the Hoosier state and wish them God's blessing as they join us in finishing the work of God in Indiana.

Sideline Listeners at Bible Studies Baptized

An interesting baptismal service was conducted in the Marion church at 3:30 p.m. Sabbath, Oct. 18, by Eld. W. H. Grotheer with the writer assisting.

The two candidates from Marion were led to a full acceptance of the truth through a series of Bible studies conducted by Brother and Sister Bernard Miller. Before the baptism, Brother Miller related the experience which led to this baptism.

The first studies were held for two people who failed to continue attending. But Mrs. Iva Goodwin and Mr. William Allen Price, who only planned to listen in on the studies, continued until personal victories were won and they were ready to join God's remnant people.

An important sidelight to the story was the joining of Mrs. Regina Sloderbeck of Cicero with her brother, Mr. Price, in baptism. It was a happy day for their mother, Sister Price, who was too ill to be present to see her prayers answered for her children.

May God continue to bless consecrated laymen who hold Bible studies and godly mothers who never stop praying for their children.

HOW CAN WE REACH OUR GOAL BY JAN. 31?

In the last HERALD article we gave the reason for launching the Ingathering Campaign early this fall and how we here in Illinois can join the trend to a fall campaign. We closed with the old adage, "Where there is a will, there is a way." I am sure that you are interested in learning the way to reach our conference goal by Jan. 31, 1959. We shall list ten suggestions.

1. Early in October and November contact all businesses who did not give or were not contacted earlier this year and appeal for a liberal donation.
2. Contact those businesses during December that were solicited in January and February of this year, informing them that we are consolidating our campaigns and will not be coming back until the fall of 1959.
3. Cooperate in all caroling programs beginning Thanksgiving, Nov. 27, and continuing through Christmas night, Dec. 25. Last year some churches even found it profitable to carol through New Year's eve.
4. Contact in January those who gave last spring and those who may tell you to come after the first of the year, so that complete victory may be celebrated as a conference by Jan. 31, 1959.
5. Solicit the farms so often untouched before the holidays.
6. We appeal to each member of the church who does not go out in solicitation to give at least his individual Minute Man goal of $24.98.
7. Letters should be written at once to members who have moved away but who have not transferred their memberships, urging them to send at least their Minute Man goals ($24.98) before the holidays.

This $50,000 check was presented to A. C. Larson, Sanitarium administrator, at a presentation ceremony held Thursday morning, Oct. 2, at the Community House in Hinsdale.

BENEFIT PROJECT RESULTS IN

$50,000 Gift to Hinsdale Sanitarium

For the second consecutive year a check for $50,000 has been given to the Hinsdale Sanitarium by the Travelers' Market, a project of the Benefit Committee of the Women Service Board.

The Sanitarium management has expressed its appreciation to these women who have themselves originated the unique idea of a "Travelers' Market" and managed and directed the project which has come to be an annual affair.

Plans are to continue the market on a regular day-to-day basis from a location in the shopping district of Hinsdale. Here again it should be pointed out that while the management is in no way responsible for the direction and management of this volunteer project, the hospital is truly grateful for the unselfish efforts of these friends of the "San."

Special credit should go to Mrs. James Hurd and Mrs. Robert Nissen, co-chairman of the benefit, to Mrs. Eugene Kettering who with several other volunteers was the principal buyer who purchased the many items to be sold while on their extensive trip to all corners of the globe, and to the hundreds of volunteer workers who made this success possible.

No announcement has been made as to the use of these funds except that they would apply on the possible future expansion of the present hospital building. Last year's $50,000 was used for the expansion of the maternity department on the fifth floor.

8. Solicit by mail NOW. Write letters to old acquaintances, business friends, and other prospects. Duplex envelopes are available for this purpose.

9. Work for the foreign speaking friends in your midst. They will give liberally, if approached wisely with papers in their own language.

10. Courage and determination with a cheerful optimistic outlook and confidence in yourself and fellow members will give your church an early victory.

Klute-Witzel Wedding

A simple but lovely wedding took place on June 15, at the Brookfield church when Miss Irene Klute and Eugene Witzel joined heart and life in holy wedlock.

The bride is the daughter of Eld. and Mrs. Edmund Klute, pastor of our Polish church in Chicago, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Witzel of Arpin, Wis.

Officiating minister was Eld. Cliff L. Witzel, principal of Auburn Academy in Washington, an uncle of the groom. Many guests from different parts of the country were present at the wedding, but the most distinguished ones were two visitors which came as delegates to the General Conference from Poland, one of them an uncle to the bride.

Irene is a graduate of Emmanuel Missionary College; Eugene is an agricultural senior there. After completing his course at the college he hopes to work as farm manager at one of our academies in the West.

A job of great magnitude confronts temperance-loving people—

- Alcoholism on the rise (5,000,000 reported as alcoholics).*
- Vast numbers of youth innocently developing the drink habit.
- Increase in crimes and traffic fatalities resulting from drunkenness.
- Apathy and indifference of churches.
- Tremendous expansion of unscrupulous advertising of TV and radio, in magazines and newspapers.
- Rising costs of law enforcement, rehabilitation, and expenses of treating diseases resulting from consumption of alcohol.
- Appalling increase in narcotics traffic.

BROADVIEW ACADEMY VICTORY MONTH

The literature evangelists in the Illinois Conference, along with the large army of Broadview Academy auxiliary workers, are setting aside the month of November as Broadview Academy victory month. This is the month when the literature workers are going out, some for the second, others the third and fourth pledge, for the Broadview Academy.

We read that those who sacrifice the most for the cause of God in this earth will sit closest to the Throne of God in heaven. We also read that he who loves his fellow man will go beyond the call of duty. This is the month when our literature evangelists, along with that army of auxiliary workers for Broadview Academy, are going to go beyond the call of duty.

We are going to break the sales records of the past and just do our very best for the Lord and for His cause. We are anticipating that many of our former literature evangelists will join us this month and we are also looking forward to a new group volunteering to have a little part in this important program.

Meeting Held

The week end of Oct. 18 and 19 the literature evangelists from the northern section of Illinois met for a special program and training class in the beautiful new Waukegan church. Eld. Williams and his members were wonderful hosts and all enjoyed a profitable time.

SPECIAL TRAINING CLASS IN WASHINGTON D.C.

On November 3 to 6 there will be a special training class in Washington, D.C., for all beginners in the literature ministry. This is the time when all the new workers who have joined the Illinois Conference on a full-time basis are invited to Washington, D.C., at conference expense. We anticipate that the good number who attend this important meeting will help swell the ranks of the Illinois literature evangelists.

The latest report on the desk in the Publishing Department shows that the cumulative deliveries for 1958 now stand at $184,740.

service a new individual was presented to me, an elderly lady. "This," said the church elder, "is Marie's mother. She was baptized a few Sabbaths ago." Marie had not retaliated in kind when beaten and abused by her mother. Her prayers were heard. In addition, her brother, her sister, her sister-in-law, and several neighbors now serve the Saviour as a result of her patience and faithfulness under persecution.

What a lesson to all of us to be more kind and to be persevering in our prayers.

C.M.E. To Offer Special Course For Medical Mission Appointees

The College of Medical Evangelists has announced a course to be offered especially for physicians and nurses who are going to the tropics as mission appointees. The course, "Tropical and Public Health (N-194)," carrying two to four graduate quarter units of credit, will be offered from March 30 to May 22, 1959.

It is aimed at acquainting students with problems encountered in giving medical assistance to people in underdeveloped areas.

For detailed information, write: Director, School of Tropical and Preventive Medicine, College of Medical Evangelists, Loma Linda, Cal.

CME Classes Organize

LOMA LINDA—Three of the beginning classes at the College of Medical Evangelists have recently elected officers for the 1958-59 academic year. They are the freshman classes in the schools of Medicine and Dentistry and the junior class in the School of Physical Therapy. One of those chosen is a beginning physical therapy student from the Lake Union Conference. Jerry Schaumburg was chosen president of his class. Other physical therapy officers are Billie Harmon, vice-president; Vicki Jennings, secretary-treasurer; and Victor Sossong, chaplain. The class sponsor is Ralph Alway.

Students Work at E.M.C.

a training that will make them practical,—men and women who can cope with emergencies. They should be taught that the discipline of systematic, well-regulated labor is essential, not only as a safeguard against the vicissitudes of life, but as an aid to all-round development."—Education, pp. 214, 215.

The instruction is plain and pointed, yet we as individuals sometimes become blinded to the total positive, worthwhile objective by our own plans and inclinations. The youth of today who attend our academies and colleges were born and reared during the years of World War II and have come to adolescence and young manhood and womanhood during the inflationary boomtime years following the war.

Few, if any, of these youth have experienced what it is to be truly hungry or what it means for father and mother to have no job, no money, savings (if any) all gone, no shoes or clothing for the children, homemade toys, no job at any price, no prospects for the future.

Only those who have personally experienced such things know the beneficial lessons gained from such hard experiences. Yet, easy money, full employment, and a standard of living rising higher and higher have dimmed or practically erased them. Never for a moment would we wish upon our children those hardships, yet how diligent we should be in maintaining, molding, and directing the proper attitude toward work and its attendant blessings.

Occasionally we find a few students, yes, and even a few parents, who temporarily overlook or do not appreciate the marvelous opportunities that are available to them on our campus. The desire for freedom from responsibility, freedom for weekend leaves, freedom to take advantage of every possible opportunity for a vacation, freedom to arrange a program for personal convenience, sometimes causes students to freely pass by the blessings that result from thoughtful, sacrificial management and use of their personal time.

Seldom is there any lack of correlation between a good student and a good worker. However, we frequently observe that a poor worker is also a poor student.

If students have not learned self-discipline and application necessary to accomplish work, this lack of self-motivation becomes evident in scholastic performance. Parents should begin early to train their boys and girls, even at their own personal inconvenience, to understand the desirable attributes of work. Parents must give of their time and energy to enter into the menial commonplace tasks of the home, the garden, or the farm with their children to cultivate and reap the character-building attributes for their children of honest, productive labor. Parents who do this place themselves in line to receive the full and rich benefits of the student work-study program that God has inspired our leadership to establish in our academies and colleges.

Emmanuel Missionary College is proud to have such an important part in cooperating with parents in the training of youth. Education prepares men and women for the responsibilities of life. Christian education prepares men and women for the responsibilities of life on this earth and eternal life in the world to come.

"Seest thou a man diligent in his business? He shall stand before kings." Proverbs 22:29.

EARNING AND LEARNING MAKE LIFE BUSY AT E.M.C. WHERE

83 Per Cent of Students Are Employed on Campus

by WILSON TRICKETT, Assistant Business Manager

Since the beginning of registration this fall, 784 students have been given part-time employment on our campus. This represents approximately 83 per cent of our entire student enrollment of 949.

Practically every student engages in productive employment of some kind, at least one hour each day and many average two to three hours per day, an average of 10-20 hours a week. In general, we observe that approximately half of the students earn half of their expenses while about one-fourth earn less than half and one-fourth earn more than half.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION. Construction of the new Bindery-Laundry building will give added opportunities for student workers.

There are always a few who work little, if any, while others stay at the school summer and winter earning their entire way.

The stupendous task of harmonizing part-time programs with widely varying class schedules and the organization of a school industry within limitations of governmental red tape pertaining to labor often is taken for granted and almost passes unnoticed in the routine of every-day college life.

E.M.C. has more than twice the industrial capacity to give work to students than any of our sister colleges. This increases the need for teachers and work superintendents to deal with students on an individual basis.

Each student must have opportunity to secure classes of his choice in proper sequence to fulfill scholastic requirements. Work superintendents must have sufficient blocks of time to make it financially feasible to employ a part-time student worker. Teachers must have balance in the size of their classes so they can give proper attention to each student. Work superintendents must have sufficient blocks of hours distributed throughout the working day and the working week so as to maintain a stable working force of the proper number.

All of this requires considerable managerial planning, patience, and adjustability on the parts of teachers, administrators, and students. A word of appreciation is in order for the consecrated Christian patience exhibited by the majority of those who participate in this program and who have helped accomplish this.

Often advance planning, reaching as far ahead as a year or two, is necessary to lay the ground work essential to build a successful student labor force. Because of the very nature of our work and study program, the life blood of the institution sometimes depends upon having consecrated student workers of ability who have been trained to accomplish certain work responsibilities.

Several industries employ students in areas where months and even years of training are required. Each year E.M.C. graduates some of these students and sends them on to larger responsibilities just when they have reached a height of productivity and performance which is of real value to the employing department. These skilled, dependable senior links in the chain are replaced by inexperienced, unproved, yet ambitious, optimistic freshmen.

We thank God for having given us the example of the schools of the prophets established by Samuel as the blueprint of Seventh-day Adventist Christian education. Each year, as we see young men and women train for life in harmony with Christian standards, we are convinced anew of the value of maintaining the opportunities provided by the work-study plan.

"At the creation, labor was appointed as a blessing. It meant development, power, happiness. The changed condition of the earth through the curse of sin has brought a change in the conditions of labor; yet though now attended with anxiety, weariness, and pain, it is still a source of happiness and development. And it is a safeguard against temptation. Its discipline places a check on self-indulgence, and promotes industry, purity, and firmness. Thus it becomes a part of God's great plan for our recovery from the fall.

"The youth should be led to see the true dignity of labor. . . .

"The youth need to be taught that life means earnest work, responsibility, care-taking. They need
