WE CROSSED OVER JORDAN . . .

BUT ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE RIVER WE HAD NO HOME.

We had no Mommy or Daddy either. All were taken by a war that caused us to flee. When we reached the bank of the River Jordan a kind man carried us across, but now we have nowhere to go.

Won't you care enough to give a liberal Christmas gift on Thirteenth Sabbath, December 21, when the overflow offering goes to the Middle East Division to help build an orphanage for us?

THANK YOU!

Do Professional People Enjoy Telling Students About Their Careers? Certainly!

During Andrews University's first Career Day, November 21, the student lounge looked more like a convention hall than an area of study and recreation. Poles with signs designating professions and counselors in that area dotted the lounge like street signs in a large city. For three hours in the morning and three hours in the afternoon the lounge sounded like a large crowd before a concert begins, as 34 professional men and women—alumni and friends of Andrews—counseled with students about different professions that could be open to them.

According to Don Prior, vice-president for student affairs, it is estimated that 700 interviews took place. The students asked questions, read brochures, watched moving pictures, observed displays, listened to answers, explanations, and experiences of counselors in their field.

To begin the day's program, Dort Tikker, vice-president of Corporation Development for Nationwide Industries, Chicago, addressed the students during the chapel period. In his talk, "Some Comments on Selecting a Career," he told the students that a person needs to find a profession that he enjoys. "The more you enjoy your work, the better you will do, and the greater contribution you will make to society."

by Edwin Shafer

Photos by Ted Hewlett

Planning for Career Day are James Barclay, president-elect of the Andrews University Alumni Association, and Don Prior, A.U. vice-president for student affairs.

Deane Wolcott, Student Association president, introduces Dort Tikker, guest speaker for the Career Day program held at Andrews November 21.

He also told the students that young people should expose themselves to a wide range of career possibilities before selecting a profession. "Ask men and women in different professions what their work involves. They will be happy to talk with you."

"In the end," he concluded, "the ultimate return is the knowledge that you have helped improve the situation of mankind and that the world is better off for your having been here."

The Career Day program was under the direction of James Barclay, president-elect of the A.U. Alumni Association; Don Prior, A.U. vice-president for student affairs; Deane Wolcott, A.U. Student Association president; Dr. Earle Hilgert, A.U. vice-president for academic administration; Dr. Warner McClure, dean of the college; and Dr. Cecil Gemmell, A.U. director of counseling. The program was designed to give students opportunity to counsel with successful persons in various professions and vocations. Counselors came from as far as Omaha, Nebraska; Mount Vernon and Kettering, Ohio; Chicago; and Indianapolis; and as close as Berrien Springs and Niles.

The counselors represented the following professions: William Wolf, M.D., anesthesiology; Aarlyn Williams, architecture; Leonard Graf, biochemistry; Clare Luke, chemistry research; Winslow Randall, civil service; Judy Larson, commercial art; Julian Ulloth, data processing and computer technology; Robert Sundin, D.D.S., dentistry; Mrs. Ralph Howard, dietetics; J. R. Shull, education; Dean Davis, engineering; Opal Young, free-lance writing; John Freeman, graphic arts and commercial photography; Frederick Brown, industrial relations; Richard Huff, law; Arlene Marks Grimley, library science; James Barclay, management and tax consulting; Charles Boothby, medical technology; Luther Johansen, M.D., medicine (general practice); Louise Venden, ministry; Esther Hoen Caviness, occupational therapy; Ralph Howard, O.D., optometry; Bruce Oliver, D.D.S., M.A., orthodontics; B. H. Van Horne, Ph.D., physics; Harold May, physics research; Dort Tikker, professional money management; David Wolcott, professional piloting; Charles Anderson, M.D., psychiatry and psychology; Floyd Costerisan, C.P.A., public accounting; Mrs. Arthur Moffit, public health nursing; Wayne S. Doran, real estate development; Jann Zerrenner, social welfare; and Jacque Neff, D.V.M., veterinary medicine.

Students asked questions not only about the opportunities and pay in the professions, but also questions such as, How much advanced schooling do I need? What courses do I need for a good background? What schools

Stan Detweiler, sophomore physical education major, and Wolfgang Struntz, junior psychology major, ask Cecil Gemmell and Don Prior where they may locate counselors on education and psychology.

Steve Knable and Debbie Russo confer with Dr. Charles Anderson about what psychiatry as a profession can offer them. Steve, a junior, and Debbie, a freshman, are both psychology majors.

Opal Hoover Young tells Dave Antor, sophomore history-English major, that free-lance writing offers many opportunities to the ambitious writer. Mrs. Young, managing editor of "Focus," is also currently directing and writing news releases for A.U. public relations. She has been a free-lance writer and editor of various journals.

Mrs. Arthur Moffit, Berrien County Health Department, told many of the four-year nursing students that public health nursing offers the qualified nurse opportunity to be her own boss and to use her knowledge to better the community where she works. It is a field that has almost unlimited opportunities because there is such a shortage of nurses for these jobs.

Counselors and personnel responsible for the A.U. Career Day pose on the steps in front of the Campus Health Center. The counselors gave over 160 hours of their time to give personal counsel to A.U. students.

are good for advanced study? How many students is Loma Linda accepting this year? What employment possibilities are there for me if I have only a B.A. degree? Can I succeed in this field? Is part-time summer employment available in my field? How do I get started in this profession?

The counselors spent as much time with each student as was necessary. Many of the students visited several counselors in order to obtain information about different or related professions. Sometimes the counselors talked with one person and sometimes with a group. The sessions usually lasted 15 minutes, although some lasted much longer.

During a noon luncheon for the guest counselors, Dr. Earle Hilgert, vice-president for academic administration, reviewed the growth of Andrews University since 1958 and outlined future plans for the university. In 1958 Andrews' net worth was $2.7 million; in 1968 the school has a monetary value of $14.85 million. In 1958 the college offered 20 different majors; in 1968 the university offers 30 majors and 10 graduate programs. Enrollment has increased in the past 10 years from 943 to 2,059.

Future plans for the university include two new buildings (a science complex and a fine arts center), strengthening of the existing educational programs, full accreditation in three national associations (National Association of Schools of Music, National League for Nursing, and American Association of Theology Schools), and the establishment of chapters of National Honor Societies.

Near the end of the day of counseling, one student was overheard asking another student, "Well, did you find out what you want to be?" Whether or not the students discovered what they wanted to be, the Career Day program gave them opportunity to visit and discuss career possibilities with people from many different professional areas.

James Barclay of Western Springs, Illinois, president-elect of the Andrews University Alumni Association, counsels with Wendell Cooper, a freshman math major, on the possibilities and opportunities in management and tax consulting.

BIAFRA'S AGONY PORTRAYED ON DECEMBER F.F.T. TELECAST

Biafra's agony, with famine and starvation striking multiplied thousands, is portrayed on a December 29 Faith for Today telecast, as Pastor and Mrs. W. A. Fagal interview Dr. S. A. Nagel, veteran missionary to Nigeria.

Dr. and Mrs. Sherman A. Nagel (right and second from left) visit with Pastor and Mrs. W. A. Fagal in Faith for Today's recording studios. The Nagels vividly described Biafra's need and their own missionary endeavors to meet it, while filming the program "This Century's Nightmare."

Nagel points out that 5,000 are dying daily from starvation, with hundreds of others being killed or maimed by the ravages of war. He tells the tragic story of little children dying even as they call for food; of families being divided in the tragic aftermath of war and a political situation so turbulent it defies analysis.

Nagel describes a brighter side, too. He tells of food and clothing and help afforded by Christian missions. He describes men and women risking their lives to bring help to those facing desperate need and privation.

Pastor and Mrs. Fagal skillfully draw from Dr. Nagel a magnificent picture of heroic self-sacrifice in this situation. The program is a portrayal of unstinting sacrifice and Christian nobility against the stark background of man's incredible inhumanity to man.

For an unforgettable documentary, plan to view "This Century's Nightmare."

"From Bethlehem to Calvary"

If you ever wanted to travel to the Holy Land, but haven't had funds to do so, here is your chance in the program "From Bethlehem to Calvary." Dr. W. A. Fagal, a careful Bible student, takes you to significant scenes in Palestine that constitute a documentary on the life of Christ. You will appreciate his perceptive observations. The environment of Jesus 2,000 years ago comes alive in this program to be released December 22.

STUDY SHOWS GRAND LEDGE TO HAVE DENOMINATION'S HIGHEST OPERATING GAIN

The quadrennial session on secondary education was held at Adelphian Academy November 24 to 26. Considerable study was given to financing our academies. Most schools showed financial losses, but Grand Ledge Academy had an operating gain of $72,221.92, the biggest for any school in the denomination, large or small, academy, college, or university.

NEW HEARING ORDERED ON POSTAGE STAMP SUIT

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The U.S. Court of Appeals has ordered a new hearing on a suit which last year attempted to halt the sale of postage stamps having religious motifs. Americans United for Separation of Church and State contested the issue of a stamp showing part of a painting which showed Mary enthroned as the Queen of Heaven, holding the three- or four-year-old Jesus on her lap.

Last year the U.S. District Court in Washington dismissed the suit, claiming the initiator had no standing before the court. On June 10, however, the U.S. Supreme Court, in Flast vs. Board of Education, ruled that New Yorkers had the right to sue in a case involving public spending and the First Amendment guarantees of religious freedom. This precedent opens the way for a hearing on the stamp case and similar suits involving public spending.

FALL FESTIVAL DRAWS HUNDREDS

Over 800 persons joined in the fun and games at the annual Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital Fall Festival held Sunday, November 3, in David Paulson Auditorium.

Various hospital departments designed and built the booths that lined the walls of the room, and in the center was the popular cider and doughnut stand. Almost everyone, it seemed, held a colorful "San" balloon on a string, and even the ceiling had its fair share of them.

The dunking booth, engineered by the heating and air conditioning department, received the trophy for being the best booth. It was a major attraction because it consisted of two brave participants perched uncertainly over water tanks, and two white-dot targets at which people happily pitched balls. A bull's-eye ball meant "splash-down" for such courageous men as Chaplains Willis C. Graves and Gordon T. Hewlett, H. H. Hill, assistant administrator for employee relations, and Durward B. Wildman, personnel director.

Other attractions were various skill tests; a movie, sponsored by the hospital Flying Club, which flew its viewers to various western national parks; clowns having an anonymously good time; and guessing games.

In the door-prize drawing, Aubrey Rhicard, head of the carpentry shop, won a Kodak Instamatic camera, and Betty Rushing, secretary to Associate Administrator William H. Wilson, received a transistor radio.

Clowns, like this one, added a spirit of liveliness to the Fall Festival atmosphere.

HEFFNER TO ATTEND SEMINAR

The Board of Directors for the DuPage County Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association has voted to send Lenard H. Heffner, M.D., to New Orleans.

Dr. Heffner, a member on the active staff of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, will attend a pulmonary function seminar at Tulane University School of Medicine in New Orleans, Louisiana, from December 9 to 12.

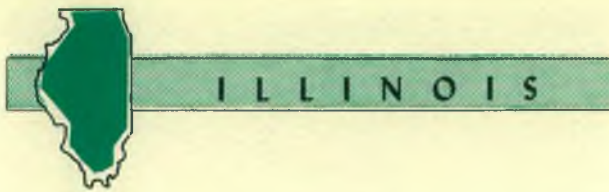

In 1964 Dr. Heffner graduated from Loma Linda University School of Medicine, Loma Linda, California, after which he interned at the San. He is now in the practice of general medicine in Downers Grove, Illinois.

NURSING SCHOLARSHIPS GIVEN TO NINE A.U. STUDENTS

Nine Andrews University nursing students were each presented with a $100 scholarship by the president of the Medical Distaff at the Annual Tea held in Tupper Hall at Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, Hinsdale, Illinois, November 18.

The members of the Medical Distaff are a group of wives of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital doctors. The funds for the scholarships were raised last summer when the Medical Distaff sponsored an old-fashioned ice cream social on the grounds of the hospital. Hundreds of people, both old and young, came to see the clowns, visit Teen Town prepared by the nursing students, and to be served ice cream and home-baked cookies by the Medical Distaff ladies and their husbands.

Those selected to receive scholarships are, according to Valerie Rudge, chairman of the A.U. Department of nursing: Patricia Gatz, Linda Jones, Sharon Mosher, Mary Penny, Bonnie Shadduck, Barbara Struzik, Linda Swann, Linda Saylor, and Pearl Wout.

QUARTERLY WORKSHOP AIDS SABBATH SCHOOL TEACHERS

The first quarter of 1969 will be outstanding for children in the Sabbath School. Over 70 teachers and leaders of children's divisions packed the classrooms of the West Central church Sunday, November 10, for instruction.

At the church entrance, a full display of felt, equipment, and salable items was laid out on large tables. Elder Eston L. Allen, Sabbath School secretary of the conference, and his secretary, Merle Rosenthal, were so busy waiting on the browsing customers that starting time was almost forgotten.

Once the program was in action, Elder Allen introduced Mrs. Darlene Ecklund, director for the quarterly workshop, who in turn named the ones leading out in the various divisions. They were Mrs. Thelma Moon and Terry Daniels, junior division; Mrs. Dolores Jones and Mrs. Betty Heller, primary; Mrs. Diane Blaese and Mrs. Muriel Rogers, kindergarten; and Mrs. Darlene Ecklund, cradle roll.

The entire program was planned by the West Central group. After prayer the groups dismissed and went into their various departments. Those who wanted to copy and cut patterns stayed after class. This was a most rewarding experience for our children's leaders and teachers. Those who instructed put many hours of work and much money and time into this program.

Groups from as far out as Decatur, Bloomington, and Ft. Atkinson, Wisconsin, were in attendance. Plan to be present at our next meeting and take advantage of every opportunity for improving your Sabbath School program.

The second quarterly workshop for 1969 will be under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Randolph and her staff at the Villa Park church. This will be held on Sunday, February 16, so be on the lookout for all detailed instructions. They will have devices for every part of the Sabbath School program and for each department. Full instruction for the entire quarter will be given.

Terry Daniels displays the new three-year felt set to help junior leaders teach the story of creation.

Mrs. Betty Heller teaches leaders songs for primary children.

Mrs. Darlene Ecklund brings Christ in focus to cradle roll leaders.

"Encore" Staff Meets First Deadline

The week of November 9 to 15 was a very busy time for B.V.A. Encore (school yearbook) staff members. On Saturday night and Sunday morning they worked on material to be sent to the publisher for inclusion in the 1969 yearbook.

Sunday evening the Italian church provided spaghetti and trimmings for an Encore benefit supper in the B.V.A. cafeteria. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Macri, Mr. and Mrs. Tony DeMarco, Mrs. Vincent Caporale, Miss Gloria Caporale, Mrs. Nicholas Giancana, and Miss Pam Heckman came to the academy to prepare the food Sunday afternoon. Other members of the Italian church did their part by donating ingredients that helped to make the supper a success.

Dessert, drink, and salad were provided by the academy. The yearbook received a benefit of $274 as a result of the evening's work. This amount, along with the profit from the sale of pizza at the B.V.A. Fall Festival, will enable the 1969 Encore to be published without advertising.

For the rest of the week Encore staff members, along with Mrs. John Odom, their advisor, spent every available minute putting together copy in order to meet the first of the publisher's deadlines, 25 pages by November 15. By Friday morning 26 pages were completed and were mailed by Lynda Macri, editor. Thus, the first big step was taken toward bringing out a spring edition of the Encore in 1969.

Prayers Needed 365 Days a Year To Reach Conference Membership Goal

The all-out soul-winning offensive of the Indiana Conference (with a goal of 500 baptisms during 1969) will embrace the total cooperation of the ministry, church officers, and laity. The program for the year ahead will include the constant awareness of all our members on the true mission of the church—soulwinning.

Elder R. S. Joyce declares, "Absolutely nothing is more important than evangelism. The first and main responsibility of the remnant church, as a whole and as individual members, is to win souls."

Elder H. F. Otis, publishing secretary, points to the program which will be followed during the year ahead to make our members daily aware of the complete commitment of all our people to our goal—winning 500 souls to Christ in 1969.

Please note in the picture the theme song to be sung in all our churches on Sabbath mornings and the theme of the worship service prayers.

At eight o'clock every morning, 365 days in the year, all our people are being encouraged to say a prayer in behalf of all soul-winning ventures for that day, and to further ask God to help each individual to witness positively for God during that day.

In the years ahead we shall maintain a guardianship program to help new converts remain in the church. The work of the church is not only to win, but also to hold its members for God.

Let us work and through constant vigilance and prayer make the times ahead the finest soul-winning years of our history.

Dr. George Akers from the education department of Andrews University delivers his lecture, "Seven Steps to the Throne."

TEACHERS MEET FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

Indiana teachers exchanged ideas and experiences at their convention held at Bradford Woods, November 10 to 13. This was a time when the teachers participated in school as students instead of the usual role of teacher.

Elder G. E. Hutches, secretary of education, Lake Union Conference; Dr. George Akers and Dr. W. W. Liske from the department of education, Andrews University; and Mrs. Anne Patterson, Teacher Education Certification, Indiana State Department of Public Instruction, were guest speakers from outside the conference and urged the teachers on to the higher goals in education.

Speakers from the Indiana Conference included: R. S. Joyce, president; Dale Anderson, Book and Bible House; W. A. Geary, MV and temperance; M. D. Oswald, ministerial and public relations; and C. L. Newkirk, principal of Indiana Academy.

Mrs. Pansy Platt and her three daughters kept the teachers well fed during the convention.

Indiana teachers enthusiastically responded to the challenge given by Elder R. S. Joyce to "Come Up Higher."

TERRE HAUTE CHURCH OPENS AT ALL-DAY CELEBRATION

Sabbath, November 16, was a day of rejoicing for the members of the Terre Haute church. More than 200 persons attended the all-day celebration. C. E. Bradford, conference president, spoke at the eleven o'clock service, and M. C. Van Putten, secretary-treasurer, spoke for the official opening meeting in the afternoon.

The mayor of Terre Haute, Leland Larrison, took part in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies that preceded the 3 p.m. meeting. Mayor Larrison brought greetings to the congregation and stayed throughout the service.

Guests came from as far away as Indianapolis and Evansville, Indiana, and Chicago.

For many years the members of the Terre Haute church have needed a suitable church home. The former building, on the same site, was totally inadequate. Those who were acquainted with the old structure and who remembered it when they entered the new church, exclaimed, "It's like going from gloom to glory."

Building operations were begun under Elder Samuel Flagg of Indianapolis. Joseph Lewis, recently employed as a ministerial intern, has been assisting in the district since September 1. These brethren worked long and hard to have things in readiness for the opening ceremonies.

Members of the Lake Region Conference will be happy to know that they have had a part in this project through the Operation Great Lakes offering for 1966.

C. E. Bradford, President

Elder C. E. Bradford and Mayor Larrison cut the ribbon officially opening the new Terre Haute church. Elder Samuel Flagg and brethren of the church look on.

NEWS NOTES

• The Orleans company, with a membership of five, had their faith and works rewarded on Sabbath School Visitors' Day. Fifty-five friends from the community were present for the services. Each year the Orleans company seeks to improve on the past year's Visitors' Day results. Elder M. C. Van Putten, conference treasurer, was guest speaker.

• Miss Anita Pike will always remember her first summer in the colporteur ministry. During the summer of 1968 she sold over $3,000 worth of Message magazines and distributed over 600 tracts. A second-year nursing student, she is the only Adventist in her family. Miss Pike is a student at Atlantic Union College. At the close of her summer of canvassing she was presented with a check by the publishing department secretary, Elder T. S. Barber, for $1,621.98.

UNIQUE EVANGELISM TRIED OUT BY BATTLE CREEK PASTORS

A unique evangelistic series is currently being held at the Battle Creek Tabernacle by the pastors, John Hayward, Glenn Hill, and their assistant, John Glass.

The program, entitled "SEEK," is conducted in the form of a dialogue, an informal method of teaching rather than preaching the message. Elders Hayward and Hill enter into an open discussion on the subject of the evening, inviting audience participation in the form of questions and comments. Two roving microphones are kept busy during the program, insuring a most lively and interesting service. Announced guidelines for the audience response maintain the purpose of the meetings—seeking the Scriptural teaching on each subject.

Nonmembers in attendance at the series appreciate the relaxed atmosphere in the study of the Bible through this method. Following the open discussion, the pastor summarizes the important points of the evening and leads into an appeal for decision.

Elder Hayward, who had used this approach successfully in Texas before coming to pastor the Tabernacle, made the following observation: "Our people find this evangelistic dialogue an interesting and refreshing change from the ordinary approach. Although we do not believe it should replace the preaching-type program entirely, we do recommend it as an effective method of teaching our wonderful message. It provides a most enjoyable experience for minister and congregation alike."

FORMER STUDENTS HONOR MISS PEARL DRUMB

Former students and friends of Miss Pearl Drumb met at a Home and School meeting in the Glenwood Union school recently to honor her.

Miss Drumb taught the Glenwood school from 1918 to 1922 and from 1944 to 1948. Some who could not attend sent letters and cards of greeting. Those in attendance recalled school days under Miss Drumb.

The picture shows Miss Drumb seated with some of her former pupils, Janet Scribner-Larimer, Jennie Mullar-Crawford, Harold Sibley, Beverly Hill-Velting and her mother, Violet Springsteen-Hill.

Miss Drumb has been an active church worker since she retired from teaching and practical nursing. During the holiday season Miss Drumb will move to Texas, where she will make her home with a niece.

AUXILIARY BUYS TOURNIQUET

On November 4 the Women's Auxiliary of the Battle Creek Sanitarium and Hospital presented to that institution a check for the purchase of an automatic rotating tourniquet, for use with patients having heart conditions.

Demonstrating the equipment for the group is Gary Nie. Avon Kierstead acts as the patient and Mrs. Larry Crow, director of nursing, watches. To the extreme left is Philip S. Nelson, M.D., of the General Conference Medical Department, who was a guest speaker at the occasion.

Elder Arthur Covell, left, presents a gift to Homer Hills at the senior citizens' banquet in the Jackson church school.

Banquet Held for Jackson Senior Citizens

Nearly 100 persons attended a banquet given in honor of their senior citizens on Sunday, November 10, in the Jackson church school.

The spaghetti dinner was followed by a program of musical numbers and a reading. Mrs. Anna Gordon, one of the senior members honored, gave a short history of the Jackson church and school.

Gifts were presented by Pastor Arthur Covell to Homer Hills, for being the eldest guest honored, and to Mrs. Olive Backus, for the longest membership in the Jackson church. William Moors was master of ceremonies for the program.

MOON SPEAKS AT DEDICATION SERVICE

Recently Boyne church members had dedication services for their newly purchased church home.

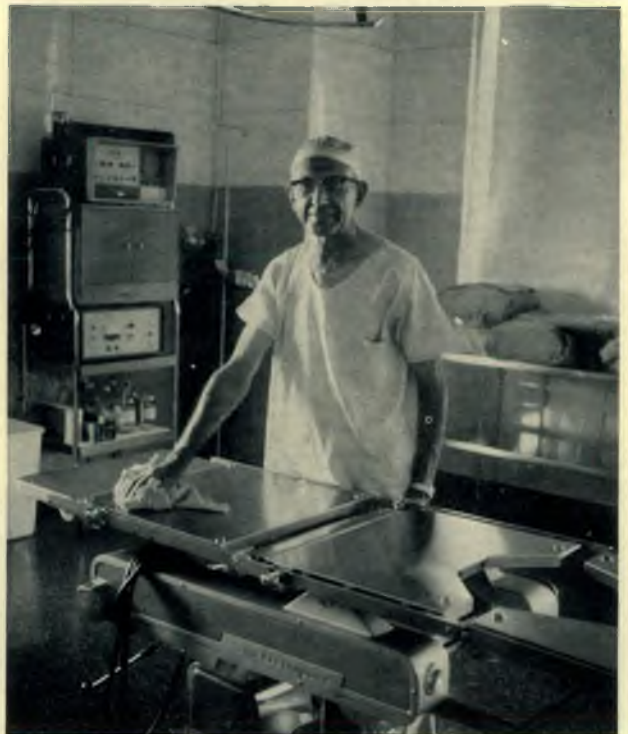

Pastor Walter Earle, Jr., reports that the building was acquired from the Free Methodist church a year ago. It has been remodeled and refurbished by the members since then. The new home of the Boyne City congregation is on the corner of Southeast and Cedar Streets.

Elder R. D. Moon, Michigan Conference president, was the principal speaker for the occasion.

WELFARE CENTER ADDITION GETS PAINTED

The new 80- by 40-foot addition to Pontiac's welfare center has received its first coats of paint. According to the local pastor, Elmer Malcolm, 1969 will see an updated welfare program in the Pontiac area.

The new addition, made possible by a $12,000 grant from the Kresge Foundation, will also, because of increased room, make possible more emphasis on health. Community cooking schools and Five-Day Plans will become a stronger part of the health and welfare work. Plans are also being made to lighten the load of the leader of the center.

SAN'S HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT RECEIVES COMMENDATION

Each year all hospitals in Michigan are inspected by state and local county health departments. Usually the only items reported on are those which need correction in some way. Comments to indicate excellent conditions are a rarity.

Thus the Battle Creek Sanitarium administration was especially pleased to find on the report of their recent inspection the following comment: "While the operating room may be old, the housekeeping in this area is excellent." The commendation was passed on to Bob Krohn of the housekeeping department, who puts the shine on the operating room.

WISCONSIN

Wisconsin Welcomes a New S.D.A. Dentist

Stoughton, Wisconsin, is a good place to practice dentistry if you have a good Scandinavian name. Dr. Virgil Erlandson has been in practice there since July, 1968. His modern, attractive office and up-to-date equipment make a good impression on visitor and patient alike.

Doctor Erlandson, a native of Baraboo, is a graduate of Wisconsin Academy, Andrews University, and Loma Linda University School of Dentistry. He taught at Loma Linda Academy for three years prior to taking his dental training.

Doctor Erlandson lives on an acreage on the edge of town with his wife Cheryl and their one-year-old daughter Laurie.

Welcome to Wisconsin, Doctor and Mrs. Erlandson!

Dr. Virgil Erlandson

Herman Utecht

HE USES HIS VOICE TO THE GLORY OF GOD

From the last two years at Christmas time, he has sung Christmas carols from an airplane over Merrill and Wausau, Wisconsin. The plane was equipped with a loud-speaker system, and the residents were pleased with the idea. This year, the Lord willing, Herman Utecht will do it again.

Utecht, 73, has been singing in hospitals and homes for the elderly in his home town of Merrill, Green Bay, Chippewa Falls, and other towns along the way.

He keeps three reading racks filled with literature, and he has enrolled many in the Bible correspondence course.

The Jess Nephews pause by one of the many clumps of birch trees at Camp Wahdoon.

CAMP WAHDOON HAS CARETAKER

Jess Nephew and his family have taken up permanent residence at Camp Wahdoon, where he is caretaker of the camp and pastor of the Ladysmith and Prentice churches.

The Nephews are well acquainted in Wisconsin, since they have been active in working with our young people for the last 10 years. Mr. Nephew has taught school at Eau Claire, Wausau, and Green Bay. He and his wife have been most helpful in the summer camp program and with the junior division at camp meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Nephew have been busy finishing up their house, which is being built at Camp Wahdoon, and getting acquainted with the people in their churches.

Now that there is a permanent caretaker, camp facilities will be available on a more permanent basis for church groups and other activities.
