IT IS WRITTEN Revelation Seminars

This Spring marks the beginning of a new era of evangelism for It Is Written with a new approach to soul winning proven successful in Australia, England, and Canada.

Beginning with seminars in San Diego, California, and a special Easter Seminar on the Queen Mary in Los Angeles, the seminar approach with George Vandeman, speaker of the telecast, and other staff members, is also being initiated in Pennsylvania, Maine, and Georgia and will soon be made available to other selected conferences.

Based on a seminar or teaching approach to message presentation, the It Is Written Revelation Seminar follows the popular approach also used by the church's Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking clinics.

While the program is new in format, the message contains all the traditional evangelistic elements, plus an hour and a half on healthful living and vegetarianism.

Because of the one-day approach, churches some distance from the area in which the seminar is held may benefit from the event with delegations attending the seminar with lay members and pastors with whom they have been studying. These delegations may then return to their various local church areas for their own evening follow-up seminars still using the Revelation Seminar materials and format.

Those who attend the day-long seminar will receive a seminar Bible, study materials, and a vegetarian luncheon for the price of a small registration fee. Activities throughout the 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. one-day seminar will include chain Bible marking, Bible survey, discovery of the Book of Revelation, as well as questions and answers.

The seminar plan is an ideal one for many types of Seventh-day Adventist lay member interests. Physicians, professional and business people find the opportunity an excellent chance to spend a full day with their non-Adventist patients and business associates in Bible study.

Many find the approach is a natural with youth and young adults. The neighbors of all members are excellent prospects as well. Asking them to attend for just one day as well as the uniqueness of the plan appeals to many who would not be ready to attend a nightly full-scale evangelistic series.

The program which begins with the day-long seminar and extends through a series of evening follow-ups, concludes with an invitation to join the pastor's Bible class of each local church. It will feature, from the very first hour, each of the pastors from the areas in which the seminar is held.

"It is the local pastor that must become the center of our approach if our soul-winning efforts are to become successful," Elder Vandeman says, "for it is the pastor who leads the interest through regular Christian growth to decision and baptism."

For information about the seminars or application materials, write: Michael D. Fellows, Seminar Manager, Box 0, Thousand Oaks, California 91360.

Andrews University offers high quality training of professional nurses. A nurse is prepared to help people physically and also emotionally. She is qualified to help make changes in people's environment as well as in their individual health. Not only does a nurse become a change agent, but the people's advocate as well. See story on pages 4 and 5.

SUPREME COURT DENIES PAROCHIAID IN TWO STATES

The U.S. Supreme Court affirmed decisions by two lower courts denying tax credits to parents whose children attend nonpublic schools in California and upholding Missouri's prohibition against providing transportation to students in parochial school.

The California case, decided by a 6-3 margin, involved a State law enacted in 1972 providing a tax credit of up to $125 for parents who choose to send their children to nonpublic schools. A similar New York statute was struck down by the High Court last year.

TWO CHURCHES—SAME BUILDING

Outside, the sign in Canada's suburban Don Mills reads: "Flemington Park Catholic Presbyterian Worship Centre." Inside, the same building serves the two congregations separately. There are no common, regular church services planned. However, there are joint committees for finance, maintenance, booking of space, and social service. Confessions and mass are on Saturday afternoons and on Sundays. While the Presbyterians operate their church school in the basement hall, a 9:30 mass is going on in the sanctuary. The main Presbyterian worship service begins at 10:30 in the morning and the last mass starts at 12:15.

ROMANIAN BIBLES ARRIVE SAFE AND SOUND

Romanian Pentecostal officials have confirmed that a shipment of 2,500 Bibles has arrived safely in Bucharest. The confirmation letter was sent to United Bible Societies offices in Switzerland by the Romanian equivalent of the Assemblies of God. The Bibles were shipped legally and with the full knowledge and permission of the Romanian government. In the past four years United Bible Societies has distributed more than two million Bibles and Scripture portions in Eastern Europe.

STATE FUNDING CONSIDERED BY U.S. SUPREME COURT

The U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to hear an appeal questioning the constitutionality of a Maryland law providing nearly a half million dollars a year to four church related colleges. A lower federal court had okayed the funding, ruling that the grants did not "create a substantial danger of political entanglement." It also noted that the colleges in question—one Methodist and three Roman Catholic—are "substantially autonomous." The aid program is based on a $200 grant for each associate of arts degree and a $500 grant for each bachelor of arts degree awarded by the college the previous year.

BRITAIN'S MAJOR CHURCHES BEGIN TALKS ON MOVEMENT TOWARD UNION

Britain's church unity movement reached its most momentous phase yet when the Churches' Unity

Commission, representing all the major churches, held its first meeting in London. The session was held in the context of a resolution which said the churches affirmed their belief "that God wills the visible unity of all Christian people." Its meeting was "private" but a statement circulated later by the Anglican Church said it brought together some 25 representatives of the Church of England, the Roman Catholic Church, the Methodist Church, the Baptist Union, the United Reformed Church, the Churches of Christ, the Moravian Church, and the Congregational Federation, a body which refused to join the United Reformed Church.

HEALTH INTERVIEWS SCHEDULED

Better nutritional habits will be the topic for special guest Mrs. Geraldine Foote of Loma Linda University and V.O.P. director-speaker H.M.S. Richards, Jr., during a week-long series of interviews on the daily broadcast, April 27 to May 2. Agreeing that prevention of health problems is better than the best cure, they note that the programs will consider what kinds of foods are best for balancing one's diet, how to plan eating habits in such a way that snacks will not even be desired, how to find time for breakfast and to feel like eating a full meal early in the morning, and how nutrition and one's disposition interact.

COMMUNICATIONS CENTER ELECTS TV MANAGER

Philip Moores is the new manager of television operations of the Adventist Radio, Television, and Film Center in Thousand Oaks, California. He was formerly president of the Ontario Conference.

Elder Moores brings to the Center a rich background of 25 years of administrative leadership as well as an active interest in radio and television ministries of the church.

Recently Pastor Moores had experience with the Faith for Today program in Ottawa, and saw changes in the Canadian government's regulations toward television produced outside the country and gave his support to the production of Canadian content programs both in English and in French.

A Professional Nurse

by Zerita Hagerman, D.N.Sc.

Professional nursing has evolved into one of the most exciting of the medical services with opportunities for men and women to work in scores of areas. Only the professional nurse responds to the total health needs of the patient in his family and community system. This role is unique among the health disciplines, and the nurse's education must be equally distinctive in order to prepare for this role.

The Andrews University nursing department offers the educational opportunities necessary to prepare for professional nursing, and the department has grown in the past eight years to accommodate 160 students with 46 graduates in 1975. The nurse graduating from this program receives a bachelor of science degree and the right to sit for the State Board of Nursing registration examination.

Part of the unique educational experiences begins in the sophomore year after a full year of liberal arts courses. The student studies and receives practice in making physical, emotional, and spiritual assessments with patients. This includes a full examination of the person from the visual and ophthalmoscopic inspection of the eyes to a testing of the reflexes in the feet. The physical examination which was once thought to be the domain of the physician is a part of the expanded skills of the nurse which prepare this graduate to function in an ever increasing number of health areas. The nurse focuses on the prevention of illness and maintenance of health as well as the traditionally recognized role of assisting in the rehabilitation of patients and families after a health crisis. Because the focus is on the total human system, the nurse is the best prepared to serve as an advocate for the patient and his family when there are concerns about health.

Emphasis in the professional nurse program is on the independent functioning of the nurse, and this includes the therapeutic use of self as a catalyst in the prevention, maintenance, and rehabilitation programs. Special experiences are provided for effective intervention in both situational and maturational crises with attention to the management of a variety of individual and group problems. Examples of situational crisis include suicide attempts and heart attacks, whereas maturational crisis examples are special adolescence problems, retirement, and the degeneration which accompanies advancing age.

Throughout this four-year course, the student is charged with the responsibility as a change agent in the health professions. Special classes focus on the leadership role, the accountability for one's own actions, decision making, and the nurse's mandate from society to provide quality health care. This health care must take into account the individual resources as well as the family environmental and ecological resources.

No longer can the health professionals tell the patient what to do to achieve health. The nurse must enter the family system as an expert who offers assistance in examining a variety of solutions to the health problem with a look at the available alternatives; for this role the education includes a variety of offerings in the cultural problems, sociological and psychological approaches, religion, the basic physical sciences, such as anatomy and physiology, chemistry, microbiology, special communication skills, and a look at family and community systems.

In order to meet the demands for a growing theoretical base, classes are included which teach the beginning skills in research. Steps in the research process, critically analyzing published research and emphasizing the responsibility for publication of clinical observations in professional literature, are a part of these classes.

Professional nursing is a career which no longer lives on the image of the "nurse placing a cool hand on the fevered brow." The human body is such an integrated system that a fevered brow may literally be cooled by attention to a cultural conflict between the patient and his present community. It is only through consideration of the patient's total system that appropriate intervention can be determined. Although all nurses respond to the interdependent role where the nurse answers to the orders of a physician or dentist, it is the professional nurse who goes beyond this and stresses the independent role and autonomous functioning.

A Professional Nurse is: A CHANGE AGENT

Society has given a mandate to nurses for them to fulfill more closely the criteria of a profession. Andrews University department of nursing has heard that mandate, and the staff is constantly responsive to the changes demanded. In seeking to prepare nurses for the future, they are answering the challenge of education that is to prepare young people to function and make the changes that will improve the quality of life for the next generation.

SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

Joyce Griffith, Correspondent

NEWS NOTE

• Bill Hilliard has been named compensation director for the personnel services department at Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital. Hilliard, who holds a graduate degree in health services administration from Loma Linda University, completed the hospital's management intern program last year and has been serving in the personnel services department as a personnel assistant since March 1974. As compensation director, Hilliard is responsible for payroll and all employee benefit programs.

According to Don Troyer, Andrews University student pastor, the primary objective of the festival will be to create an uplifting, spontaneous experience for both the participants and the audience.

A secondary result of the festival could be the formation of a nucleus whereby musical talent from area churches could be exchanged.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL TO BE HELD IN DOWNERS GROVE

The Downers Grove Church will host the Family of God Musical Festival on Sabbath afternoon, April 26, from 4 to 6 p.m. This will be a vespers worship with gospel music.

Performing will be: Dr. Zerita Hagerman, vocalist; Karen Ulloth, violinist; the Advent Messengers; and Don and Nancy Troyer doing vocal numbers with guitar accompaniment. Performers from other churches will also participate.

"No TV Month" has become a habit with the Gary Bevins family. They have been observing this for the past 14 months.

FEBRUARY—NO TV MONTH

About 75 families of the Rockford Church responded to the suggestion of Pastor John Ford and the General Conference that February be "No TV Month" in exchange for more good reading and family togetherness. The books Steps to Christ, Desire of Ages, and Positive Christian Living were the books suggested to be read. Some of the members read all three of the books during the month.

All four of the local Rockford papers showed interest and carried feature articles on the project. On February 28, WTVO Channel 17 made a survey of those not watching TV. Pastor Ford was interviewed, and they also visited the church school and questioned the children to find out what they would like changed on TV. The general answer was that they would "enjoy more nature stories and less crime."

When asked what he thought of the "No TV Month" of February, Pastor Ford stated, "February has been a good month for our Rockford Church. There has been an increase in religious meeting attendance. With more folks reading good books, there is bound to be more love shown and a real spiritual revival taking place, with nearly everyone placing more emphasis on spiritual things."

Rockford is happy they followed the February "No TV Month"—many families are adding the rest of the 11 months to February!

INTERNATIONAL FOOD FAIR A TRADITION IN ROCKFORD

The fourth traditional Home and School Food Fair for the Seventh-day Adventist day school at Rockford was held Sunday, March 23, from 5 to 7 p.m.

Nine countries were represented: Greece—salads and breads; America—coney dogs; Mexico—burritos; Sweden—mock meatballs; Brazil—desserts; China and Japan—chop suey; France—hors d'oeuvres; Germany—pancake special; Hawaii—fresh fruit punch.

For those of the community interested in cutting down on the consumption of meat, every effort was put forth to acquaint these folk with the many tasty, appetizing, and nutritional dishes available for sampling. Recipes were available at each booth, and all were given an opportunity to sign up for the coming vegetarian cooking class.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS AT BEDFORD A SUCCESS

The Charles Buursma meetings in the Bedford S.D.A. Church, January 18 to February 22, were a success from the beginning.

More people attended the meetings than had attended any other previous effort. The church was filled every night.

The closing service on the life of Christ was very inspirational, consisting of readings and music. Several came forward and made their decision for God and His truth. Thirteen people were baptized or joined the church by profession of faith as a result of these meetings.

The spiritual tone of the services gave the church an experience it will never forget. We, in Bedford, feel that this is the beginning of great things in this part of the Lord's vineyard.

SOUTH BEND
THE MARTINS

Elder Norman L. Martin

Since January 23, the South Bend S.D.A. Church has made Elder Norman Martin and his family feel right at home.

The Martins came from Texas where they had served for nine years. During that period Elder Martin worked in three districts. Since 1972 he has pastored the Houston Central Church.

The Martins have four children: Norene, 19, a freshman at Southwestern Union College; Bill, 16, a sophomore at South Bend Junior Academy; Lois, 15, a freshman at South Bend Junior Academy; and Ricky, 9, a third-grader.

Elder Martin was born in Denver, Colorado. Mrs. Martin is originally from Boston, Massachusetts.

In 1955 Elder Martin received a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from Oklahoma State University. From 1957-1964 he was a mechanical engineer for the Exxon Corporation. He received his M.A. in religion from Andrews University in 1966 and then went to the Texas Conference.

It's a privilege to welcome this fine family to the Indiana Conference workers family. In the short time he has been in South Bend, he has organized the church in an active witnessing program.

A SPIRITUAL VACATION

The camp meeting is a divine plan to lead the people of God closer to Him and to one another. "It is important that the members of our churches should attend our camp meetings."—Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 38.

If the Israelites were required to spend as much as one month out of every year in attendance at their holy convocations, would it not be pleasing to God if His people in these last days of peril and conflict were to take one week of their vacation time for spiritual rejuvenation? I want to urge every church member in Indiana to plan now for a spiritual family vacation at camp meeting. I hope that many churches will discontinue their regular meetings so that all can receive the blessings of this holy convocation.

Individually you need the benefits of camp meeting. Whatever the cost or sacrifice, you have been counselled by God's messenger not to neglect the opportunity of hearing the message God has for you. (See Testimonies, Vol. 6, pp. 31-71.) Do not entertain excuses that will keep you from gaining every spiritual advantage possible. You cannot afford to lose one such privilege. The object of camp meeting is to attain a higher Christian experience, to advance in the knowledge of God, to become strengthened with spiritual vigor. This is just what the Divine Physician has prescribed for Laodicea.

God expects every one of us to take our place among the ranks of truth. God has committed to our hands a most sacred work in the State of Indiana, and we need to meet together as a conference family to receive instruction, that we may be fitted to perform this work. Each of us needs to understand the part he is to act in building up the cause of God in the earth and how to work in harmony with our brethren. The Lord has need of you. He wants you to induce your family, your friends, and those who are interested, to go to camp meeting with you. He does not do His work without the cooperation of the human agent. He will bless every effort to honor His cause and advance His work.

Your church makes a large investment in time and expense to provide for the annual summer convocation at Indiana Academy. Will this meeting be all that God intends it to be this year? I appeal to you to do your part in planning now to come to Indiana camp meeting, June 13 to 21.

NEWS NOTES

• Jesse Burton, John Thompson, and Louis Huff were ordained as deacons on March 1 in the Pontiac Southside Church. The ordination was conducted by Elder Charles Graham who was also speaker for the worship services. William Byrd, Jr., is the pastor.

• The lay activities department of the Pontiac Southside Church under the direction of Darryl Calhoun has been organized into many different phases of work—prayer bands, visitation bands, literature distribution bands, and Bible study hour bands. Calhoun is a young man and the pastor and members are proud of the accomplishments of the lay activities department.

• Miss Mildred Love, teacher of grade three at Shiloh school, along with her 30 students, worked five weeks popping, bagging, and selling approximately 400 bags of popcorn. At the end of the fifth week the class gave Faith for Today a check for $100.

Elder Joyner spoke nightly prior to the food demonstration.

Theresa Reid was in charge of the cooking demonstrations. Assisting her were Bettye Brantley, Sallie Chandler, Mary Bradley, Mildred Kirk, Audrey Joyner, Ruby Smith, and Jayne Byrd. The class was sponsored by the community service society.

Some of the tasty dishes prepared were vegetable casserole, carrot patties, vegetable entrees, vegetable and fruit salads, pumpkin pies, carrot cake, wheat rolls and bread, and carrot juice. After each class the members were encouraged to taste the samples and purchase the vegetarian entrees.

Loma Linda Foods donated two cases of vegetarian foods and some recipes for the demonstrations.

Elder Joyner's concluding lectures inferred that God's diet would promote an alert mind, proper healing, and eliminate weight problems. A $20 bag of groceries and other gifts were given away. The average attendance was 40 persons.

The results were real. One visitor was heard to remark, "I can't believe it." Another stated, "You really have some friendly people at your church. I want to come back." Since holding the class, a recent poll showed that over one half of the church membership is relinquishing their meat diet.

MEMBERS PLAN TO REACH 2,500 HOMES

The Capitol Avenue Church in Indianapolis is involved in a community-wide soul saving effort. The members plan to contact 2,500 homes and leave tracts and set up Bible study classes.

The MV department alone has enrolled more than 300 persons in the Voice of Prophecy correspondence course. The Sabbath School, under the direction of Clarence Hodges, has a group of individuals who meet every Sabbath afternoon and avidly study the truths as found in the Bible.

More than 75 persons are studying the Twentieth Century lessons. The largest class with a membership of 17 is taught by local elder Roosevelt Ruffin.

SHILOH MEMBER NOW HONORARY DEACON

William Jackson and the former Sarah Ragsdale were married on December 27, 1914, in Greenwood, Mississippi. In 1924 the Jacksons moved from Nashville, Tennessee, to Chicago and became members of the Shiloh Church in 1925. They have remained members of Shiloh and have participated in various church activities through the years. William Jackson is now an honorary deacon.

COOKING CLASS MEETS WITH SUCCESS

The cooking class held by the Reid Memorial members in East St. Louis was an inspiration not only to the members of the community, but to new members, and those who had never relished the idea of vegetarianism.

The four-night discourse by Elder Vern Joyner, pastor, was based on Genesis 1:29 and Genesis 3:15. He used statements from the St. Louis Globe Democrat to show the validity of comments in the book Counsels on Diet and Foods by Ellen G. White.

- Tree-ripened Florida fruit is helping to build a gymnasium fund for the Cadillac church school. Church members recently voted that 20 percent of the fruit earning would go to current school needs and improvements while the remaining 80 percent is to be deposited at the highest possible interest rate and reserved in a fund for Cadillac's proposed gymnasium. January's profits on the fruit sales amounted to $546.

- Although the membership at Bristol is only 19, the church leadership sponsored a cooking school early in March. Thirty people of the area attended. One is also scheduled for Cadillac.

- Clarence and Olive Moore, members of the Lansing Church, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Valentine's Day.

- A report just turned in to the conference office tells of a unique literature distribution program in which the Houghton Lake Church participated. Just prior to Christmas a Lutheran lay member contacted a local bank for permission to help decorate its tree. She was suggesting that various churches of the area place gifts on the tree with the public invited to take a "present." The local Adventist Church joined in the project and made available copies of Bible Readings and Steps to Christ.

- Anyone under 18 years of age can attend Pastor Paul Howell's Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking without paying the $5 registration fee. This approach has been used by Howell on other occasions with success and also gives the same benefit to anyone who "would find the fee a financial hardship." These facts were included in a feature article about the plan which appeared in the Escanaba Daily Press three weeks before the current plan started on March 31. Assisting Howell in the program was Jerry B. Jablonski, D.D.S., of the Menominee Church, a veteran in conducting these stop-smoking clinics.

- Thirty young people of Detroit's Oakwood Church conducted a Voice of Youth series from March 14 to 23. The ten presentations were divided so that five young persons had a part in each evening's presentation. Elder Stuart Harrison reported that the youth found the series to be "a real good experience" and their "strong, personal feelings" for the program, as shown by their preparation and presentation, was responsible for the good response from the adults who attended.

- Dale Fitch, a registered physical therapist and a member of the South Flint Church has been appointed to the state board of Physical Therapy Registration by Governor William G. Milliken. For the past ten years Fitch has been chief physical therapist at McLaren General Hospital in Flint and has served on several local and state professional committees.

DR. TARANGLE TEACHES PREVENTION

Showing people how to prevent and treat colds and flu is Steven G. Tarangle, M.D., who is helping to coordinate the community health education programs at Battle Creek Sanitarium Hospital. How can a person help to guard himself from succumbing to one of the bugs? Quite simple, according to Dr. Tarangle. Don't eat so many chocolates. Sweets play an important role in lowering the body's resistance which in turn makes a person more susceptible to a waiting cold or flu virus.

PATHFINDERS WALK 20 MILES

The South Flint Pathfinder Club earned over $1,200 from a recent 20-mile walk-a-thon. Cold winds and snow squalls didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the 17 Pathfinders and six counsellors who participated. The money earned was used to purchase backpacks and down sleeping bags for the club. Jean Blackmer and John Vaden are the club's directors. Photo by the Flint Journal.

SABBATH SCHOOL OFFERINGS INCREASE

The Sabbath School department has revealed that offerings for missions during 1974 amounted to $82,445 more than the same offerings for 1973. This is a gain of 12½ percent, Elder Clyde Groomer, the department's director said.

Total Investment offerings were $132,026 which included $1,673 collected from food labels. Regular Investment figures however showed a loss of $1,934 over the previous year. Groomer also revealed that birthday and thank offerings for 1974 reached a high of $30,415 for a gain of $1,340.

The regular Sabbath School offerings for the year amounted to $582,498. The department's records reveals that of that amount $113,373 was the result of four Thirteenth Sabbath's special offerings.

Congratulations go to the Bangor Church which more than doubled their Sabbath School offerings, having added 102 percent to their 1973 figures. Muskegon and Otsego were next with an increase of 87 percent.

Fifty-nine of the 156 churches in Michigan reached the Investment Honor Roll by surpassing the $7 per person goal.

SPANISH WORK SLATED FOR GROWTH

An evangelistic outreach for the Spanish-speaking people within its territory is a currently developing program in the Michigan Conference. It is under the direction of Elder Orval Scully, pastor of the Berrien Springs Spanish Church.

Scully, who has served over 20 years in South American countries, is assisted by two native-born workers, Pastors Raul Gonzalez and Jose Guillen.

Gonzalez, a native of Puerto Rico started working full time in the Detroit area last December at the conclusion of the fall quarter at Andrews University. Guillen, from the Dominican Republic, completed his work at Andrews in March, and at the end of the winter quarter, has been assigned to the Spanish program in Grand Rapids and will also give help as needed in the Detroit area. While a seminarian he assisted Elder Scully in the Grand Rapids area.

According to Scully there are between 150,000 and 180,000 Spanish-speaking people in Michigan. About two-thirds of these reside in the Greater Detroit area with other concentrations being in Saginaw, Muskegon, Grand Rapids, and Lansing. There are 15,000 Spanish-speaking church members in the North American Division with a continuing influx of more into the country. According to a report from the General Conference this is the largest foreign speaking group of Adventists currently within our division. The Japanese are next with a membership of about 1,000.

Besides the Spanish-speaking church in Berrien Springs, plans are being made to bring together and establish a congregation in the Detroit area. Initial efforts began with the airing of the Spanish Voice of Prophecy program over a local Detroit station in January 1974, financed mainly by church members. A Spanish-speaking Sabbath School class is also being held at the Oakwood Church followed by afternoon services in Spanish. A small group of believers is also being nurtured at Grand Rapids where they meet in the Central Church.

Spanish-speaking Adventists of the Detroit area are joining with members of the Oakwood Church in a program of enrolling individuals in the Spanish Voice of Prophecy Bible course. This is a careful house-to-house program with callbacks being made to be sure that all homes are contacted. David Chavez, an area lay member, has 60 Bible studies lined up and is being employed half-time to develop these and other new interests.

The efforts currently being made are all part of the build-up for a full-fledged program of evangelistic meetings to begin in August. The series will immediately follow a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking conducted in Spanish which is scheduled to start August 9.

The evangelist for the series will be Elder Salim Japas, a successful worker of the Inter-American Division. Japas, who has been professor of evangelism at the Colegio Adventista de las Antillas in Puerto Rico, is currently taking advanced studies at the Seminary. He has scheduled the evangelistic series to come during the break between study quarters and at the time of his normal vacation.

Miss Norma Barraza, a Bible worker coming from New York City to help in this overall evangelistic thrust, will be paid out of campaign funds. Elder Scully said that monies normally used for heavy promotion and advertising are being used instead to hire necessary personnel to lay a solid groundwork for the evangelistic campaign and to give needed assistance when the meetings begin.

QUITTER PRAISES 5-DAY PLAN

Impromptu remarks by a graduate of last October's Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking held in Traverse City "electrified" those attending February's stop-smoking clinic, reports John Swanson, the local pastor.

On the fourth of the five evenings, a former smoker had come back "just to visit." After the showing of the evening's film she was given permission to say something. Her comments were nothing but praise for the program and the positive benefits she had received in her own life. This testimony greatly impressed the 89 persons attending which included teachers, nurses, college students, housewives, a dentist, and a banker.

Upon the conclusion of the last evening it was announced that the third clinic was scheduled for June 1 to 5. As the crowd dispersed, a college teacher told Pastor Swanson that she had 15 people already lined up for the next plan.

Swanson, who was assisted by a number of church members, follows up the stop-smoking program with cooking classes.

Pastor Ronald Ruskjer holds the systematic reading guide to Ellen G. White's writings that he envisioned and edited into reality.

MICHIGAN PASTOR EDITS E.G.W. READING GUIDE

A new method of reading the writings of Ellen G. White has been prepared by Pastor Ronald E. Ruskjer of Lansing, and published by the Pacific Press. It cuts the number of pages to be read by almost 50 percent.

It was while attending the Andrews University Theological Seminary that Ruskjer, now assistant pastor of the Lansing Church, felt the need to become thoroughly acquainted with the writings of the Spirit of Prophecy. But the 30,000 published pages constituted a challenge for a busy seminary student.

After careful thought and consultation with Elder Arthur White of the Ellen G. White Estate, Ruskjer reduced the total number of pages to 17,000 by carefully deleting duplicate sections of original material. However, he explains, "Great care was taken to avoid altering in any way the basic message which God has given to His remnant people."

Following the published outline, by systematically reading six pages in the morning and six at night a person can now complete this "basic Ellen G. White library" in four years. The program could, of course, be completed sooner by increasing the number of sections read each day.

In order to provide both explanation and inspiration Ruskjer was able to get leading Adventists to write more than 20 articles for the booklet. They include Rene Noorbergen, Dr. Richard Hammill, and Elders Earl Cleveland, H.M.S. Richards, Sr., George Vandeman, Arthur White, Kenneth Woods, and many other well qualified individuals.

Upon reading a final draft of the publication Elder H.M.S. Richards made the following statement. "I think this has come at a crucial moment. You couldn't do anything better to start this movement up again into full gear. Please get this into small book form right away and don't leave out anything. I think our ministers can use them by the hundreds. This ought to have a circulation in North America of at least 100,000 and on into other countries where the English language is available. This will do more, in my opinion, to start a real advance in soul winning all over the country than all other plans together. Reading the Spirit of Prophecy is like reading the Bible. It has life in it. And if there is anything we need today in this movement, it is life, spiritual life, the very life of Christ Himself.

Rene Noorbergen speaks to Eau Claire Church members on the tongues movement.

NOORBERGEN SPEAKS AT EAU CLAIRE

Rene Noorbergen, author of best-selling Ellen G. White: Prophet of Destiny and The Ark File, spoke on the subject of the tongues movement at the Eau Claire S.D.A. Church on March 12.

He spoke at the conclusion of an eight-week series of prayer meetings on the subject of tongues, which was being given by Henry Mattson, pastor of the church.

The lecture was attended by approximately 300 persons and consisted of a 40-minute presentation and 20 minutes of questions and answers.

Noorbergen said after the meeting that his current work is mostly writing for the church and trying to set up a program at Southern Missionary College to encourage the development of Christian journalists to spread the message.

NEWS NOTE

• Marshfield Church members held a story hour each Sabbath afternoon through the winter as one of several ways to interest nonmembers in attending a series of meetings conducted by conference evangelist Paul Johnson.

The Madison S.D.A. Church opened its doors for the first worship service on February 22.

MADISON OPENS NEW CHURCH

Madison members and guests rejoiced as they entered their new sanctuary for the first time to worship February 21 and 22.

Glenn Aufderhar, president of Mid-American Nursing Homes, Inc., presented a challenge Friday night in which he said, "God will make this beautiful sanctuary His dwelling place if individually we invite Him to dwell in our hearts."

Robert Dale, Wisconsin Conference president, reviewed the spiritual pillars upon which the church is built during the worship hour.

Sabbath afternoon a service of consecration presented by Dr. Steven Vitrano, chairman of the department of pastoral ministry at Andrews University, followed a special tribute to Joe Budd, conference builder.

The Madison Church has an unusual number of builders. Each of them expressed pleasure with the quality and cost of the new 550-seat church designed by Don Kirkman, Auburn, Washington.

Few people realized some of the miracles God performed to make the new sanctuary possible. One of those miracles could be seen on the financial page of The Wall Street Journal for more than three months. The late Dr. W. T. Lindsay, who practiced medicine in Madison for more than 54 years, was instrumental in that miracle.

When Lindsay died, a portion of the estate left to his daughter and son-in-law, Glenn and Lorna Curry, was in the form of common stock. The Currys invited Glenn Aufderhar, then director of trust services for Wisconsin Conference, to create a trust for them which would help them meet their own needs and fulfill their desire to assist the work of the church.

The Currys prayerfully dedicated a certain number of shares of stock as a gift to help erect a new Madison Church. The market had declined sharply in previous months. When the decision to give the shares was made, the market started climbing from the 850 level until the Dow Jones Averages approached the 1,000 level. On October 26 a sell order was phoned to the broker. A sale took place and that day the market started a downward plunge.

Praise filled hearts for weeks each time the Dow Jones graph was examined. The extra funds made possible by the higher sale became the spark which ignited the flaming hope that a new church could be possible. No one except the Currys and the conference trust officers knew the dramatic way God controlled the market for His work until recent permission was given to share the story for God's glory.

WALDEN SPEAKS ON VEGETARIANISM

Dr. Richard T. Walden, health secretary for Wisconsin Conference, spoke to more than 40 ladies of the Wautoma Women's Club on March 10. His subject was "The Advantages of Being a Vegetarian."

Mike Sulen, pastor of the Wautoma Church, explains how the appointment came about.

"When we moved here about a year ago, the local newspaper ran an introductory story. A short time later, the Women's Club asked for a program on vegetarianism," said Sulen. "We decided to give the program in early March since it provides a good lead into a series of meetings starting in April." Walden and Glenn Wintermeyer, health educator for River Pines Community Health Center, Stevens Point, will present a health series during the meetings which is entitled "Management of Living."

Walden lectured and answered questions on vegetarian eating for more than 2½ hours. He discussed Anders Haugen, the 84-year-old skier featured in Life and Health and various health aspects of the meat versus vegetarian diet. Questions were raised as to a person's mental abilities on a vegetarian diet and how to have a balanced diet without meat. "The interest ran high, even though the meeting was long," commented Walden.

Mrs. Kathy Sulen, L.P.N., prepared whole wheat bread and meatless patties. These items along with samples of commercial vegetable proteins, were served to the ladies.

"We've had several phone calls since the meetings from people who are baking the bread and making the patties," Sulen said. "Several husbands came up to me to ask about meatless foods and diet. One said his wife was so excited about vegetarian diet that she got him out of bed at 11 p.m., when she got home, to read the materials."

Sulen added, "The group's response somewhat surprised me. They went away feeling different than I expected. Dr. Walden did an excellent job of breaking down their prejudices, often by telling personal experiences."

LAMPLIGHTERS FOR A.U.

Dr. Horace Shaw, right, alumni association executive secretary, shows two students the small, oil-burning lamp that will be monogrammed and presented to each student missionary and graduate going into overseas service. The lamplighter ceremony will take place homecoming weekend on May 2. Students receiving the lamps are designated A.U. Lamplighters. Thirty students have signed up as student missionaries for the 1975-76 season, an all-time high for Andrews. Above are Lorraine Gennaro, sophomore, scheduled for Puerto Rico; and Ramon Araujo, seminary student who will return to his home country, Dominican Republic after graduation in June.

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS NOW TOTAL 23

Three new endowed scholarships recently received bring the total of named scholarships at A.U. to 25. New ones are as follows:

The Alfred and Beulah Christensen Scholarship for the College of Technology, the David and Elizabeth (Bailey) Lust Scholarship for the College of Arts and Sciences, the Emma Lou Vogel-Vale Memorial Scholarship in the field of science or communication, given by Ellen Vogel, M.D.

In the process of being funded is also a memorial scholarship for Mrs. Anna Nosworthy Patterson for the College of Arts and Sciences, given by Elder and Mrs. Kenneth Wright.
