Ingathering!

Although November 15 to January 3 are the official dates for the Ingathering Crusade, more and more of our people are visiting business friends and neighbors in the early fall while the weather is pleasant and warm. Before we make our Ingathering contacts this year, the following questions ought to be considered:

Why do we go Ingathering? What are our objectives? Is fund raising our only goal?

Ellen White gives specific counsel for us. (See Christian Service, page 169.) First she lists the essentials to success as follows:

1. First consecrate ourselves fully to Him whose name we wish to exalt.
2. Pray earnestly in behalf of those whom we expect to visit.
3. By a living faith bring them one by one into the presence of God.

I have personally experienced many times the thrill and the joy of leading a business man or a householder into the presence of God by praying for them in the office or in the home. Try it.

Second, she gives the following guidelines on how to do our Ingathering work effectively:

1. Be diligent in your efforts. That means to be thorough in our work. Call on every home and every place of business.
2. Live under the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

What a wonder experience we can have as the Lord walks by our side and gives us the right words to speak at the right time at the right house.

3. Watch for souls as they that must give an account. As we give ourselves to the Lord, He will give us a keen eye to detect a soul who is searching for truth, so that no man can say at the judgment, "Why did you not tell me about this truth?" "Why did you not care for my soul?"

4. Put literature into every hand that will receive it. And let us be sure to call to the attention of every contact the Bible course offer.

Our purpose is twofold. One, every call is to be a contact for Christ. Two, to raise funds to finish God's work.

We have something to share with the people whether they have any money or not.

Remember, Ingathering can be a real spiritual experience for every volunteer worker for Christ.

COVER

This is the 45th anniversary of The Voice of Prophecy. It was started in Long Beach, California, in 1930 by H. M. S. Richards, and is now being continued by H. M. S. Richards, Jr. This father and son team are featured on the cover. October 11 is a special offering day for The Voice of Prophecy. See story on pages 4 and 5.

SCIENTISTS PUBLISH WARNING AGAINST ASTROLOGY

One-hundred-eighty-six scientists issued a joint statement in a special issue of The Humanist magazine, expressing concern about the increased acceptance of astrology. "We the undersigned—astronomers, astrophysicists, and scientists of other fields," the statement began, "wish to caution the public against the unquestioning acceptance of the predictions and advice given privately and publicly by astrologers." Those who wish to believe in astrology, the statement said, should realize that there is no scientific foundation for its tenets. Indeed there is strong evidence to the contrary. Among those who signed were 18 Nobel prize winners.

ATHEIST SEEKING EQUAL TIME TO REFUTE RELIGIOUS ASSUMPTIONS

An atheist leader in St. Paul, Minnesota, has charged that a Texas radio and television outlet has discriminated against him by refusing to provide him with public service time "to refute some of the assumptions made in religious programming." Garry De Young said he sought broadcasting time under the "fairness doctrine" of the Federal Communications Commission. He has now filed a complaint with the U.S. Commissioner of Civil Rights. But Earl Noel, general manager of KRGV radio and television in Mercedes, Texas, in denying time to De Young, said this doctrine does not apply to religion.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PRACTICES ECUMENISM AT GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Members of the Christian Church, also known as the Disciples of Christ, put their ecumenical principles into practice by worshipping in churches of several denominations during their General Assembly. The more than 8,000 delegates who attended the six-day convention worshipped in 72 San Antonio churches of 10 denominations. A spirit of Pharisaism was held accountable as the source of disunity among Christians. Dr. Albert Pennybaker, pastor of Fort Worth's University Christian Church, said doctrinal differences were not the source, nor the history of past behavior, but the act of "clamoring selfishly after God."

AID FOR ANGOLA REFUGEES

The U.S. State Department has requested Seventh-day Adventist World Service (SAWS) to provide clothing for refugees fleeing the civil war in Angola.

SAWS director Howard D. Burbank reports that some 150,000 Portuguese refugees have been airlifted out of Angola to Lisbon, Portugal.

"Many of these people will arrive in Portugal with only what little they can carry," says Burbank. "They are leaving behind everything they had accumulated in a lifetime."

Clothing is being flown to Lisbon immediately from the SAWS East Coast depot in New York.

Not all the Adventist mission workers in Angola have been accounted for yet. Two were known to have been isolated in Nova Lisboa, and no word has come through yet as to their safety. Forty others escaped in a caravan of some 250 vehicles crossing into Southwest Africa. The church's missions in Bongo and Nova Lisboa are closed. Adventist officials are making plans to reassign mission workers to other posts throughout Africa.

ADVENTISTS BREAK WORLD MARATHON RECORD

A Sylmar, California, physician, Dr. David Parker, and six other long-distance, Adventist runners set a new marathon record August 25 and 26. As a relay team, they ran 258 miles and 1,248 yards to break the old record listed in Runner's World of 257 miles and 470 yards set on June 2 and 3 by the Appalachian Athletic Club in 1972.

Dr. Parker, who celebrated his 45th birthday on August 24, started the all-day and all-night race at 9:30 a.m. on Monday (August 25). He was also the runner when the gun went off during the final lap. The event took place on the track at the Santa Monica, California, Community College.

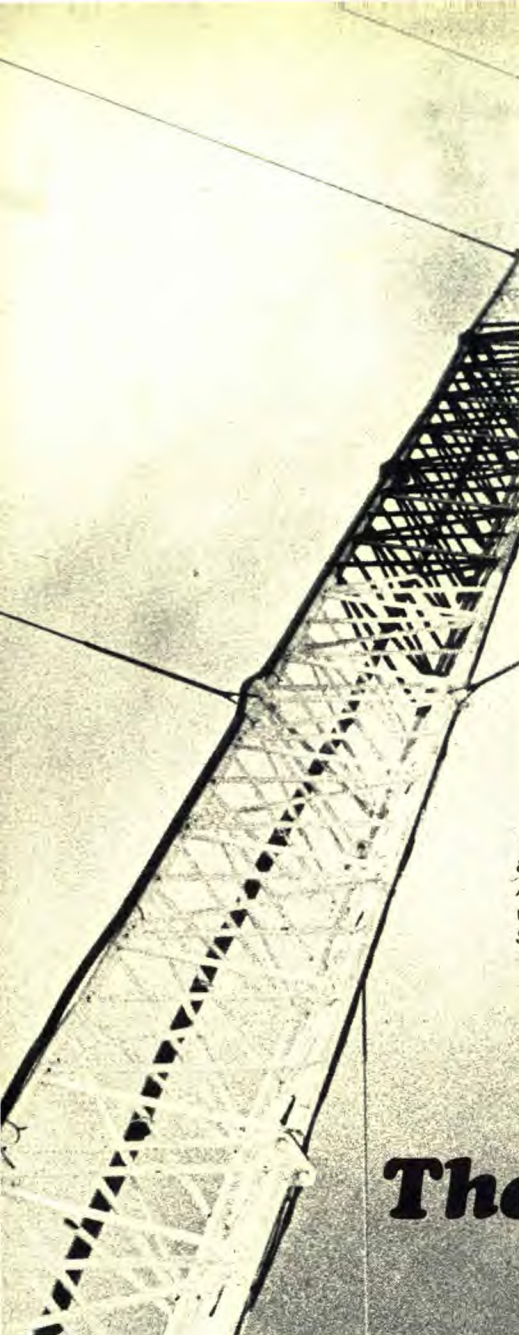

Dr. Parker sparked the men by running the mile in 5:22 minutes himself. Dennis Parrish (34) of Tujunga, California, and physical education teacher at Glendale Academy, did the same. Dietmar Oberhoessel (38) of Los Angeles, the slowest, but most determined man on the team, ran the mile in 5:40 minutes on the average. The other four men—Darren George (25), and Kent, his brother (23), St. Helena, California; Heinz Wiegand (26), Collegedale, Tennessee; and Dennis Reeder (24), St. Helena—are all in their mid-twenties and covered the distance in 5:30 minutes, or less. All runners are Seventh-day Adventist vegetarians.

$10,000 GOAL PASSED BY PHILOSDA

A goal of $10,000 set for the Voice of Prophecy and Amazing Facts radio programs during 1975 by the International Philosda Club, an organization of Seventh-day Adventist single adults, has been surpassed, according to Floyd Miller, re-elected president of the group. At the National Convention held Labor Day weekend, $3,405 was raised for these projects. Philosda plans for 1976 call for continued radio evangelism support and emphasis on spiritual development.

During the convention, held near Hot Springs, Arkansas, 200 people were present, representing 27 states from California to Florida plus Newfoundland and the British Isles. Guests for the weekend included Charles Martin of the General Conference Youth Department, Alva Appel of the Columbia Union, Olive and Brad Braley of the Voice of Prophecy, and Jim Herman of the Arkansas-Louisiana Conference. Also present was Fred Lowry, the famous blind whistler.

Social activities included a Mexican banquet, a talent contest, water skiing, and horseback riding.

The Word Must Go Out

By H. M. S. Richards and H. M. S. Richards, Jr.

Opposition to Bible truth is as old as time. Satan has done everything he possibly can to prevent the preaching of the everlasting gospel. So it has been, and so it will be to the end of time.

Christ has said plainly the word must go out. To every nation, kindred, tongue, and people, the glad tidings of the everlasting gospel are to go. The three angels' messages are to be proclaimed with power to the ends of the earth.

This is the 45th anniversary of The Voice of Prophecy. For 45 years now the great prophetic and doctrinal principles of our message have been proclaimed by the Voice. God has blessed mightily in the giving of gospel tidings.

The program began on KGER in Long Beach, California, where 13 half-hour time slots were paid for with $200 that came in as gifts—mostly in the form of discarded jewelry.

Since that time God has unfailingly blessed. At one time the bank account was down to $1.30, but the Lord always provided enough so that the broadcast could continue.

Today the gospel story is broadcast across North America and around the world over more than 1,700 stations. There are more than 700 stations broadcasting in North America alone, and still the message grows!

The past year has seen remarkable advances. The "Aware" radio spot ministry has already resulted in more than $2 million worth of public service time being given free to The Voice of Prophecy. Half the stations in the U.S. and Canada have carried one or more of the new spots aimed at the secular man. Since the project began, responses have averaged more than 1,000 per month! And they are reaching an audience that likely would not listen to longer religious programming.

The Voice of Prophecy Evangelistic Association has conducted 25 major series of meetings in 1975. In big cities and small, in giant auditoriums and tents, crusades following up Voice of Prophecy interests have been conducted. More than 125 were baptized in Columbus, Ohio. And 329 were baptized in Manila, Philippines. Scores of additional Voice of Prophecy crusades have been conducted by local pastors and evangelists. The Spirit of God is moving in a mighty way on human hearts.

The Way Out youth ministry has been featured on college and university campuses with excellent results. High Way Scenes and material on youth hangups have been welcomed by youth seeking to find themselves.

In a one-year period there have been 477,919 applications and 59,777 enrollments in the Bible school. Baptisms of Voice of Prophecy interests last year totaled 4,135 that we actually know of.

Surely the Lord is blessing in a wonderful way!

What a thrill it has been to see the radio ministry grow! But, friend, this never would have happened without your help and interest, your prayers and financial support.

The work was begun in sacrifice and will be finished in sacrifice. Now is the time for His people to do everything they can to see that the Word goes out!

The Voice of Prophecy must add coverage over large stations not now available because of lack of money. Countless smaller stations that blanket rural areas across North America should also carry The Voice of Prophecy.

H. M. S. Richards, Jr., director-speaker, and Dr. H. M. S. Richards, founder-speaker emeritus, look over a North American map which pinpoints the 630 radio stations now airing the 40-minute V.O.P. Sunday broadcast. In addition, 134 stations carry the daily 15-minute broadcast.

You see, $10 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 20,250 radio homes; $20 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 253,500 radio homes; $50 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 1,125,000 radio homes; $100 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 4,500,000 radio homes; $250 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 60,750,000 radio homes.

If every member were to give generously, how the work would go forward! Some will want to give $45—one dollar for every year the V.O.P. has been on the air! Some, of course, can give much more than that. Make the matter one of special prayer. Ask God to guide, won't you?

Remember, on the 45th anniversary of the Voice of Prophecy radiobroadcasting, the word must go out! Now is the time for all of us to sacrifice and strive together for the finishing of the work. Thank you for remembering God's special work on October 11, Voice of Prophecy Offering Day!

BIBLE COURSE IS COMPLETED AFTER A 25-YEAR DELAY

Almost 25 years ago a young lady opened the door of her house and greeted a colporteur. "I bought a book of Bible questions and answers, and then he enrolled me in a Voice of Prophecy Bible correspondence course," she recalls.

After finishing that course, she started the Daniel and Revelation course, but never finished it because of a move to her present home in Michigan. While working, she received a back injury which put her out of work and "flat on her back" for several years.

"All through those years I didn't forget what I had learned from the Bible courses, and I longed for someone to get in touch with me," she says. That "someone" was a salesman who came to her door after she had filled in a card at a doctor's office requesting some Bible story books for her children.

"We talked for more than an hour," she says, "and I told him that I would love to finish the Daniel and Revelation lessons." The salesman told her he was an Adventist and asked whether she would like him to enroll her in the Voice of Prophecy course.

"While working on the Daniel and Revelation course," she comments, "I came back to the Lord, and then I started looking for a church." The local Adventist pastor visited her several times, and just this past year she was baptized into the church.

She is happy to be working for the Lord. Since her baptism, she has taken three more of the Voice of Prophecy Bible courses.

It was 25 years between her first contact with the colporteur and the salesman's visit in her Michigan home, but the truth sank in.

The word must go out, and you can help make vital contacts such as these by enrolling neighbors or friends in a Bible course or inviting them to hear the broadcast in your area.

PROGRESS ON MARION CHURCH

The Marion church members are working long hours in order to have their new sanctuary finished and ready for occupancy before cold weather. Their pastor, John Martin, is leading out in the building program using all available members, including some from neighboring S.D.A. churches. The church will seat 250 persons and has plenty of individual classrooms. After completion the Marion church will be the largest church building in the southern part of the state.

Miss Arlene Friestad, dean of girls at Andrews University, congratulates Rita Waterman on her winning story.

ILLINOIS GIRL WINS PRIZE

What goes through the mind and heart of a teenage girl who's family opens the door of their home to a foster child?

Rita Waterman, of the Rockford church, tells the story of "Corey" in the September 2 Insight. "Corey" earned Rita $500 as grand prize winner of the recent Insight contest. Rita is now in her second year at Andrews University majoring in mass communications. She is a 1974 graduate of Broadview Academy.

Rita is quick to give her writing teacher, Dr. Joyce Rochat, much of the credit for the inspiration given to the students to enter the contest.

In her story, Rita tells her inner thoughts and secret reservations when Corey came to live in their home. She goes on to tell how the mysterious miracle of love worked and she found herself easily introducing the energetic little boy by her side to old and new friends as "Corey, my brother."

Because of the news coverage of this story in Rita's hometown of Rockford, the newspaper editors asked for a copy of Insight to look over for themselves and to take home for their children to read.

Clyde and Gladys Best

NEW ABC MANAGER

The Illinois Conference welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Best to its staff of workers. Clyde is manager of the Adventist Book Center and his wife Gladys is temporarily working as office receptionist. The Bests come to us from the South Dakota Conference where Clyde served as secretary-treasurer and ABC manager.

Before coming to the Illinois Conference he worked in the Pacific Press, both in California and Omaha, Nebraska, the Greater New York Conference, and the Minnesota Conference.

There are four children in the Best family—all married and living away from home. Elizabeth is married to a minister living in California, Clyde is employed by United Air Lines in California, Linda Rose lives in Collegedale, Tennessee, and Floyd teaches school in the Pacific Union College Academy.

We wish for this dedicated couple God's richest blessings as they labor here in the Illinois Conference.

FORT WAYNE CLASS VISITS EPHEBUS

The youth class of the Fort Wayne, Indiana, church visited the Ephesus church in Marion, Indiana, which is a sister church in its district. The members officiated at the morning and afternoon services. They visited and sang at several homes and hospitals. They are pictured with Violet Rinehard (center, waving hand), who is 92 years old. Dinner was prepared by Carolyn Spears of Marion. The group was under the direction of Ellen Tolson and Joseph Fider.

VOICE OF YOUTH MEETINGS HELD IN GRAND RAPIDS

Members of the Bethel church in Grand Rapids conducted Voice of Youth meetings in early June. Robert L. Jones, pastor, baptized six individuals at the conclusion of the meetings.

Carol Willis became a member of the Muskegon Heights church; Sharon Anderson and Len Johnson became members of the Idlewild church; and Mr. and Mrs. Burl McLiechey and Warren Saunders are members of the Bethel church. All these churches are part of Elder Jones' district.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson Stevenson earned a Bible for attending the meetings each evening. One lady won a set of Bible studies for answering the Bible quizzes each night.

The Voice of Youth was sponsored by the MV Department of which Ruby Oglesby is the leader. Kenneth Oglesby was coordinator. Another meeting is planned for the fall.

NEWS NOTES

- Dedication services for the Edmore church are scheduled for Sabbath, October 4. Sabbath morning will feature a sermon by conference president Elder R. D. Moon with the dedication service planned for the afternoon. Former pastors have been invited to attend and current plans call for Elder F. W. Wernick, former union conference president to give the sermon of dedication. Former members and friends are invited.

- A Bible campout was scheduled for youth of the Upper Peninsula with meetings planned for September 19 to 21 at Camp Sagola.

- George A. Manning, a teenage member of the Muskegon church has an interest in youth of the church and community. He has been caring for this interest by teaching swimming to a group of youngsters using the family pool.

- Television viewers in the Detroit area can no longer receive the It Is Written series which has been telecast on Channel 9, CKLW. The station has been purchased by the government as part of their national network and the government's policy does not allow for any paid religious programs.

- A successful Greater Detroit Youth Festival was held in the Southfield Junior Academy gym on the weekend of September 4 to 6. About three hundred youth attended the Sabbath morning services. The special series started with a presentation by Don Lonie, noted youth lecturer. Other guests included Elders John Loor and Lester Rilea of the conference office, Tom Blincoe of Andrews University, Jim Hayward and Irvin Kurtz, pastors at Battle Creek and Berrien Springs, and Dr. Morris Ballard of Detroit. Coordinators for the program were Jim Pleasants and Jim Hopkins of the Metropolitan and Warren churches.

- By the end of August, 35 churches in the conference had participated in the special program to supply sets of Adventist books to local public libraries. The churches had ordered 64 sets for this purpose. The latest church to order the set of books on a subsidized plan is Algonac which is placing the books in the town library and the library at neighboring Marine City.

- The Linden Adventist church participated in the town's annual Summer Happening. Members planned a vegetarian dinner for interested citizens.

- Vernon L. Small, administrator of the Battle Creek Sanitarium Hospital has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Seventh-day Adventist Hospital Association. The group represents the 50 church-owned hospitals in North America which assists a large number of smaller overseas medical facilities.

- Jane Marie Allen, a former Hubbardstown girl, has been named associate director of the Communication Department of the Far Eastern Division headquartered in Singapore. She is the first woman to be appointed to this post. Before going to Singapore two years ago to be secretary to the division public relations director, Miss Allen was an editorial assistant in the General Conference Communications Department.

- The final report for this year's These Times campaign shows that Michigan Adventists bettered last year's subscription total by reaching 21,320. While a modest increase of only 163, it is a new record of achievement, Elder Buckman reports, because of "inflation, economic squeeze and an increase in the subscription rate" of the magazine. Thirty-two churches exceeded their goal of two per member, Buckman reports, and added that seven of the twelve districts in Michigan showed gains over last year's figures. These districts were: Grand Rapids (V. Brown), Jackson (O. Robinson), Detroit (B. Babienko), Cedar Lake (D. Eckenroth), Kalamazoo (A. Covell), Battle Creek (J. Hayward), and Lansing (O. Johnston).

Merlin Schnoor of Berrien Springs, receives congratulations for being named Michigan's Layman of the Year. Extending appreciation for his achievements are Elders W. M. Buckman, left, and A. W. Bauer, of the Michigan and Lake Union lay activities departments.

SCHNOOR NAMED LAYMAN OF THE YEAR

One of the highlights of the closing weekend of this year's camp meeting at Grand Ledge was the conferring of the "Layperson of the Year" awards.

Top honor as Layman of the Year went to Merlin Schnoor, of the Berrien Springs church. He received this distinction, according to Elder W. M. Buckman of the conference Lay Activities Department, because of his successful witness in five major areas: (1) for personal evangelism conducting up to five Bible studies each week; (2) for conducting Bible training classes; (3) for conducting a baptismal class for 25 youth of which 12 have already been baptized; (4) for his New Testament witnessing and visitation program; (5) for personal giving of his time to assist his pastor.

Schnoor joined the church after evangelistic meetings in Iowa. He and his wife moved to Berrien Springs in 1951, he studied at Andrews and is now a hearing aid consultant. He says, "Everything in Adventism turns me on. It is such a challenge. I would like to spend my full time teaching others how to obtain interests, how to study with them, and how to work with the new convert."

Fifteen others were honored as laypersons of the year. Elder Moon, in handing out the awards also cited Russell (Jack) Nash, of the Grand Rapids Central church, for his "stable, balanced local leadership" for many years.

Eight of the sixteen persons honored were able to report baptisms because of their efforts. This group included, besides Schnoor, Barbara Ann Neall, of the Eau Claire church; Ingrid Kincaid, Port Huron; David Kellogg, Wilson; Lloyd Lockwood, Battle Creek Tabernacle; James J. Risk, Evart; Wanda Merrills, Lapeer; Ann Tousignant, Pontiac.

Four ladies were named because of their work with local community service centers plus other church activities. They were: Carol Moffit, Petoskey; Eva Cary, Irons; and Virginia Pfeifle and Barbara Gruesbeck, Ithaca.

Others singled out for the Layperson of the Year honor because of their church activities were Florence Morriss, Lansing, and Dr. D. K. Peshka of Niles.

C.L.A. HOMECOMING PLANNED

Homecoming weekend for alumni of Cedar Lake Academy is slated for October 10 to 12, which is, according to a spokesman, "fall color at its best in the Cedar Lake area."

The honored classes will be the 10th, 20th, and 25th anniversary classes. The Friday evening and Sabbath morning services presented will feature members of the class of 1950. Sabbath vespers will be by the academy choir and that same evening the academy band will present a concert.

Other highlights will be the alumni-academy basketball game Saturday evening and the banquet Sunday at 1 p.m.

Motel rooms, at a moderate price can be reserved at Edmore's Candle Light Motel while trailer and camper space at the school is available if reservations are made prior to arrival. Write Alumni, Cedar Lake, Michigan 48812.

ABC'S OF PRAYER CRUSADE AT METROPOLITAN

Glenn A. Coon

Elder Glenn A. Coon will bring his "ABC's of Prayer Crusade, International" team to Detroit for nine days beginning October 3 at 7:30 p.m. Sabbath programs include the 11 a.m. services and late afternoon programs (October 4, at 5 p.m., and October 11, at 6 p.m.)

From Sunday, October 5, through Thursday, October 9, there will be a 6:30 p.m. problem-solution, question-answer clinic, dealing with personal and marital problems. All meetings will be held at the Detroit Metropolitan church at 15340 Southfield Road, just north of Fenkell. For further information, telephone 838-8265.

The Crusade emphasizes the ABC's of Prayer, the science of prayer, soulwinning, and the Christian family, as gleaned from Elder Coon's thirty years of personal research and experimentation.

The Crusade suggests practical means of confronting problems with a "focus on solutions, rather than problems." Coon encourages his hearers to utilize a new kind of prayer based on claiming any one of the 3,573 promises in the Bible—"promises which fit every conceivable human need," he reports.

Team members include David Meeker and Steve Marshall, who will tell their conversion story Sabbath evening, October 4. Elder Coon's wife Ethel, is the group's pianist. She also plays a vital role in the editing and preparation of his books, of which about twenty have been published.

FALL COMMUNITY SERVICES FEDERATION SCHEDULE

The fall community services federation meetings have been scheduled as follows:

Central, Sunday, October 12; Battle Creek Tabernacle, 19 N. Washington Avenue.

Eastern, Monday, October 13; Estey church, 4015 School Road.

Southeastern, Tuesday, October 14; Troy church, 2775 Crooks Road.

Southwestern, Wednesday, October 15; Kalamazoo church, 1601 Nichols Road.

Western, Thursday, October 16; Muskegon church, 1916 Leahy Street.

TEACHERS CONVENTION HELD

A four-day teachers convention was held on the campus of Cedar Lake Academy, August 21 to 24.

Nearly two hundred teachers from Michigan's 55 elementary schools and junior academies attended the meetings. Besides receiving inspiration and help on basic teaching principles, they also had group sessions to discuss, among other items, the "difficult task of discipline" including consideration of both teacher's and student's rights; and how to affect a good parent-teacher relationship.

Two union directors of education were guests: Lawrence E. Smart of the Atlantic Union Conference and Fred R. Stephan of the Lake Union. T. S. Geraty and W. W. Liske, represented the department of education at Andrews University. Twelve members of the Michigan Conference office staff were present to take part and to assist as was Marvin LaCourt of Battle Creek Academy.

A MAGAZINE of ADVENTIST HISTORY

Dime Tabernacle, Battle Creek

New England Tract Society Office
South Lancaster, Massachusetts

Washington, New Hampshire Church

Looking toward the world's end, Adventists have not always given the attention to their history that it deserves. Yet history is important, for it contributes to self-identity. Even a cursory examination of Adventism's relatively short history reveals that it is a rich and interesting one. □ ADVENTIST HERITAGE shares with its readers little-known aspects of Adventist history. It seeks to recapture the spirit that motivated the pioneers of the movement and to show the significance of that spirit for today. In a time of frantic change and uncertainty, Adventists need to reflect on their past experience. Understanding more of Adventist heritage will add to a person's sense of perspective and provide insight into contemporary situations. □ ADVENTIST HERITAGE adheres to high standards of historical scholarship. We feel our history is so important that it should not be available to historians and theologians alone. For this reason, the magazine is designed to appeal to general readers. □ ADVENTIST HERITAGE is written by both professional scholars and free lance writers. Its articles, pictures, and reviews span the period of Adventism from the early nineteenth century until well into the twentieth. Covering both Seventh-day Adventist and other adventist groups, they indicate the length and breadth of Adventist history. □ ADVENTIST HERITAGE appears at a time when many are discovering the fascination and inspiration of Adventist history. We want to share this discovery with you.

NEWS NOTE

• The 1975 Wisconsin camp meeting received wide newspaper coverage with 49 papers throughout the state giving 1,055 column inches of news coverage. Wesley Jaster, Janesville pastor, organized the public releases. He was assisted by Lon Lasher, communications director for Mid-American Nursing Homes. Marshall Merklin, teacher at Woodland Adventist school, did the photography which resulted in 19 pictures being printed.

NEW PERSONNEL AT MID-AMERICAN

Three new administrative personnel have joined Mid-American Nursing Homes, Inc., in recent months.

River Pines' new dietitian and food service director, Malcolm Olmstead, not only had to face the job of preparing food for 200 nursing home residents three times a day, but he cooked for the live-in Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking during his first week on the job. The latter job involved preparing meals to help smokers stop smoking, surely a challenge to anyone, but especially to a person working in an unfamiliar environment.

Olmstead joined Mid-American from a position as regional vice president for Versitron Industries, California. He worked primarily on the La Sierra campus of Loma Linda University. Olmstead holds a B.S. in administrative dietetics from L.L.U. He also attended Walla Walla College where he was the campus baker.

The Olmsteads have four children: Marcum, 8; Murray, 5; Morris, 4; and Maxwell, 18 months. Mrs. Olmstead is the former Margaret Flyerabend.

David L. Vining, assistant administrator at River Pines Community Health Center, came to Wisconsin from Florida. He had been assistant administrator at Florida Living Nursing Center, Forest City. Vining attended Southern Missionary College where he earned a B.S. in business administration with emphasis in management and accounting. Currently, he is working toward an M.S. in management, having complete 18 hours. Vining and his wife Ann have one child, Jessica Shane, age 2.

A new face at Marshfield Convalescent Center is Don Buel, assistant administrator. Buel and his wife Marimae have two children, Paul, 5, and Crystalynn, 3. Buel graduated from Union College in 1971 with a B.S. in accounting. He then went to work for the State of Montana as an auditor, first for the legislature, then for the Department of Institutions.

A live-in Five-Day Plan participant discovers his physical fitness on a treadmill under the watchful eye of Don Bain, M.P.H.

FROM TWO PACKS A DAY TO FREEDOM!

The average consumption of cigarettes among the 11 participants attending a live-in Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking was two packs per day for 34 years.

All but one of the participants had previously tried to break the habit many times unsuccessfully. At the end of the week, August 22, none had smoked and in telephone reports since, their success appears to be continuing.

The program conducted at River Pines Community Health Center began by an exercise program flexible enough to accommodate differing levels of ability. Robert Snowden, Wisconsin Academy P.E. teacher, led the exercises at seven each morning and occasionally through the day.

Vegetarian gourmet meals prepared by Malcolm Olmstead, R.D., food service director, were tailored to help reduce the craving.

Richard T. Walden, M.D., F.A.C.P., directed the stress testing and medical presentations. Don Bain, medical secretary for the Australasian Division, participated in health education presentations to fulfill experience requirements for the M.P.H. from Loma Linda University. Glenn Aufderhar presented the pastoral phase of the five-day plan materials. Catherine Walden, R.N., coordinated the entire week's activities.

A prominent businessman, Jim Hanson, and his wife from Richland Center attended at the suggestion of Don Roth, district pastor. Several days after the live-in session ended, Roth went to a barber and heard several discuss the plan because of glowing reports they had heard from their friend Jim Hanson.

"It's all over town," Roth said. "Everywhere they go the couple talks about what the Adventist church did for them at the live-in program."

The next session will be held October 12 to 17. Information and reservations are available through Catherine Walden, River Pines Community Health Center, 1800 Sherman Avenue, Stevens Point, Wisconsin 54481. Phone (715) 344-1800.

Robert Baker

James I. Nash

Patricia M. Silver

NEW PROFESSORS AT A.U.

Robert L. Baker, assistant professor of physical education, has joined the faculty at Andrews University.

He will be responsible for developing new and individualized cardiovascular fitness programs for students and community residents.

Just prior to coming to A.U. in July, he completed the requirements for a doctoral degree at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah. He holds a master's degree in physical education from the University of California, Sacramento.

He taught physical education from 1968 to 1971 at Sacramento Union Academy, California, and Cedar Lake Academy, Michigan.

James I. Nash, assistant professor of industrial education at Andrews University, has replaced Richard Myers as automotive instructor for the A.U. industrial education department and center for occupational education.

Myers, who retired last summer, has taught auto mechanics on a reduced basis and will continue to teach air conditioning and refrigeration classes for the occupational education center, according to Laun Reinholtz, industrial education department chairman.

Nash holds a master's degree in administration and supervision of vocational education from Colorado State University and a bachelor's degree in industrial arts from Walla Walla College, Washington.

Since 1947, he has taught welding, machine shop, and auto mechanics at two Washington high schools, Upper Columbia Academy and the public high school in Richland.

Patricia M. Silver has replaced Robert Uthe as director of the University Band and brass ensembles at Andrews University.

Uthe, who taught here since 1969, has accepted a similar position at Loma Linda University.

Mrs. Silver and her husband, Robert W. Silver, were employed at Forest Lake Academy, Maitland, Florida, for the past eleven years. There she was chairman of the music department and an instrumental and band instructor; and he, an industrial arts instructor and printer.

She has served as a trumpet player for the Central Florida Community Orchestra, associate director of the Rollins College (Winter Park, Florida) brass ensemble, guest clinician for the Florida Elementary and Intermediate Music Festival of Seventh-day Adventist schools, and chairman of the Southern Union Music Festival.

CAMP FOR CHRISTIAN WRITERS PLANNED FOR NOVEMBER 1

Andrews University and the Christian Scribes, an Adventist writers' club in Michigan, are jointly sponsoring a Christian writers' camp the weekend of November 1. The workshop, to be held near Battle Creek, will feature the editor of Guide magazine.

Editor Lowell Litten from Guide will be joined by Mrs. Mildred Reid, a creative writing teacher who conducts workshops around the country. They will present material on how to write inspirational stories and how to write creatively.

The workshop will also present panel discussions on working relationships between writers and editors and on authors' problems in publishing books. These discussions will include published authors from both Andrews University and the Christian Scribes.

Attendance at the camp is not limited to members of Christian Scribes, but is open to any accomplished or aspiring writer. "The workshop should be helpful to both published authors and those who hope to be published someday," said Kermit Netteburg, A.U. instructor in journalism.

Cost of the two-day camp, including meals, lodging, and instruction is $20, if paid in advance, or $25 if paid at the camp. Mail reservations to Christian Scribes, Box 280, Gobles, Michigan 49055.

In addition to instructional classes, time will be available for private evaluation sessions with the instructors. "Feedback to writers about what they have written," said Netteburg, "is an important part of learning to write well."

CORRECTION

In the July 22, 1975, Lake Union Herald an article on the various Andrews Academy students who received awards failed to mention that Katherine Koudele and Ellen Munar also graduated with honors.
