To train a child for the Master's service is one of the privileges of the Seventh-day Adventist elementary school teacher. ## Lake Union Establishes Physical Facilities Service

James R. Davidson

During the past several months the Union Executive Committee has been giving study to the possibility of establishing an architectural office to serve the churches and institutions of the Lake Union. Final approval for this new program, which will be known as "The Physical Facilities Service," was voted by the committee on May 5.

James R. Davidson has been employed to direct this program and started his work on July 1. Mr. Davidson has taught half-time in the College of Technology at Andrews University during the past school year and will continue this program during the coming year. A full-time assistant will be added to this office in the near future and other personnel will be provided as the volume of work increases.

Mr. Davidson is very well qualified to serve as director of this new service. After graduating from Andrews University in 1951, he served as a pastor, either on a full- or part-time basis, in the Michigan and Arizona conferences until 1964. During a portion of this time Mr. Davidson worked in architectural offices. In 1964 he joined Sarvis Associates in Battle Creek and served there until the spring of 1976. Mr. Davidson became a registered architect in 1971. He is a member of the American Institute of Architects and also holds the NCARB Certificate.

Mr. Davidson is married to the former Dorothy Shasky. The Davidsons are the parents of five children, John and Bonnie, who are still at home; James Jr.; Brent; and a married daughter, Jonne Picukaric.

Mr. Davidson has had a burden for many years to serve the church in this type of program. We feel that he is uniquely qualified and the Lake Union is very fortunate to be able to secure his services.

The Physical Facilities Service will offer assistance on all phases of the construction process—from site selection through the completion of the building program. Further details regarding this service may be obtained from your conference treasurer. All requests for this service should be processed through his office.

Another objective of this program is to provide opportunities for College of Technology students to gain practical experience in various phases of the construction process. The plan is to employ two students on October 1 to assist with the drafting work.

The Lake Union officers feel this new service will fill a need that has existed for a long time. Constructing a new church, school, or institutional facility is an expensive and technical undertaking. We believe this new service will make it possible for our congregations, conferences, and institutions to utilize their funds to better advantage and obtain better quality buildings that will serve the needs of the church in a more efficient way.

We have already had several inquiries about this new program. It will be helpful to us in planning the staff if you will inform your treasurer of your interest and needs. We will be accepting projects in the order that the requests reach our office.

We extend to Mr. and Mrs. Davidson a warm welcome as they join our staff and pray that this new program will be a real blessing to the work of God in the Lake Union Conference.

W. L. Murrill

Lake Union Conference Treasurer

This month the readers of the Lake Union Herald have had an opportunity to become better acquainted with the academies of this field. Today it is a privilege to feature the program of elementary education along with the superintendents and supervisors who, with hundreds of Christian teachers, have dedicated their lives to the training of our children in the Lake Union Conference.

We are grateful to God, who has abundantly blessed this responsibility of His people. It is not without sacrifice that the faith of our children will be preserved. For the sake of our children, let us follow the counsel of Isaiah 54:13, "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord . . ."

PEORIA PATHFINDERS PRESENT PROGRAM AT BLOOMINGTON

A message was presented by club director Dale Pittenger, and all club members participated in the program.

Earlier in the year the club had presented a similar program at the Canton Church.

LITTLE GRASSY LAKE CAMP MEETING

Little Grassy Lake camp meeting will be held September 16 to 19. This is one month later than usual, but it should be much cooler and more comfortable then. The program will begin on Thursday evening rather than Wednesday and will run until Sunday evening.

Tents with floor and furnishings for two, including table and chairs, will cost $6. Additional cots and mattresses are 50 cents each.

Parking for private trailers with electricity is $2 per night or $5 for the three days. Cabins for two are $8 for the newer ones and $6 for older ones. Additional cots are extra. Space is available for privately owned tents. There are several motels near the camp also.

Meals will be served in the cafeteria on Sabbath; however, arrangements should be made before sundown Friday at the locating tent.

The camp is located seven and one-half miles southeast of Carbondale. Take Highway 13 east out of Carbondale for about one-half mile, turn south on blacktop, follow signs toward Giant City Park. Travel about seven miles, then turn left on first road that leads to Little Grassy Lake. The camp is one-fourth mile on the right. Phone (618) 457-5756.

Those desiring reservations should write immediately to the office of the conference treasurer, Box 89, Brookfield, Illinois 60513.

This year's group of speakers including Elder H. M. S. Richards Jr. and the Voice of Prophecy quartet, Dr. Samuele Bacchicchi, and Elder Lowell Bock, promises to be a rich blessing for all.

LICENSE PR

The letters SDA will appear on hundreds of automobile license plates for 1977 in the state of Illinois.

Through the suggestion of one of our members, L. B. Heller of the Glen Ellyn Church, special arrangements have been made with the Secretary of State to make this service available to our church members at no additional cost.

For the first year 500 plates are reserved for Seventh-day Adventists exclusively. The license plates will run from SDA 1 to SDA 500. If the demand is heavy, we will reserve more plates next year.

You should receive a renewal application blank from the state by the first week in August. Send your application and check no later than September 15 to: Illinois Conference of SDA, Box 89, Brookfield, Illinois 60513.

Checks or money orders must be made out to the Secretary of State. All applications will be mailed as a block from the conference office to Springfield. Do not send checks in separately.

CAMP MEETING 1976

"Freedom in Christ" was the theme of the 1976 Illinois camp meeting. At the front of the auditorium this theme was illustrated in a motif done by Elder Charles Moon, pastor of the Korean Church.

Elder Morris Venden, pastor of the Pacific Union College Church, presented this year's series of evening meetings, "Righteousness by Faith in Christ Jesus," to a large crowd. Other inspirational messages were presented by leaders from the General, Union, and Illinois conferences. Also present were Elder H. M. S. Richards Jr. and the Voice of Prophecy quartet.

This year a Personal Witnessing Training Class was conducted by Elder George Knowles of It Is Written and Elder A. W. Bauer, lay activities and inner-city director for the union. The health message was also stressed in a Disease Prevention Series which was conducted by several doctors and health leaders in the area.

A large crowd was present during the Soul-Winning Hour on Sabbath afternoon, June 19.

There were several special features included in the camp meeting program. Dr. Samuele Bacchiocchi of Andrews University told of his recent experiences at the Gregorian University in Rome. He was the first non-Catholic to be accepted at this university since it opened in 1552. His inspiring story was told in two different meetings so that all could have an opportunity to hear him.

Darlene Eckland of the West Central Church tells a story in the cradle roll tent.

During the last Sabbath morning service four pastors were ordained. Elder Lowell Bock, president of the Lake Union, was the speaker for the hour, and following his sermon, Andrew Adamczyk of the Czechoslovakian District; Robert Reynolds of the Centralia District; Ruben Sanchez of the Spanish North Church; and Ben Schoun of the Prairie View District were ordained.

Book sales were also at an all time high, with almost $54,000 worth of books and food purchased this year. This represents almost a $10,000 increase over last year's sales. Much of this increase is due to the largest Sunday book sale ever held in the Illinois Conference, with more than $11,000 sold during this one sale.

Another interesting feature occurred on the closing Saturday evening when Betsy Ross of Hinsdale presented Elder Jack Martz with a flag that she had made.

Other features included a program by the Vesper Voices of Rockford and a multimedia screen presentation, "Heaven Is Waiting."

BELL REMOVED FROM MT. ZION CHURCH

Members from the Tell City Church met at the old Mt. Zion Church recently to remove the bell. It was feared the old belfry was no longer strong enough to support the weight of the bell. The Mt. Zion Church, located seven miles east of Tell City, was built in 1889 and is the second oldest Adventist Church still standing in Indiana. No immediate plans have been made for the bell at the present time.

EAST ST. LOUIS MEMBERS VISIT ELDERLY

Doing God's bidding should be a very joyous occasion. And joy is experienced the first Sabbath in each month when the East St. Louis Church group makes a missionary trip to the nursing home. The occupants are usually seated and eagerly waiting because they love to sing along with the group and make song requests. The little cherubim choir is a heartwarming sight to the elderly. The choir is the first organized children's choir and the third choir in the East St. Louis Church. Elder Vern Joyner is the pastor.

The Camp Au Sable Trail Ride will go west on the Michigan Horse Trail which runs by the camp. Travel will be 15 to 20 miles per day, allowing for recreation time after camp is made along the trail.

There are a few horses for rent from the camp at $30 for the week, but interested persons are encouraged to bring their own horse or one they are familiar with. If you wish to rent a camp horse, a request should be made when you apply as a limited number are available. The cost for the canoe camp is $42 and a $20 deposit must accompany the application. A total of ten people will be needed to make the trip possible. If this quota is not reached by August 1, deposits will be refunded.

Campers for both trips should have a physical examination before coming to camp. There will be no doctor available during this week. A parent's signature is required.

TOP WINNERS

All three of this year's top winners of the annual temperance poster contest came from the Cedar Lake, Michigan, Church School. John Collar, left, of the fourth grade won first prize. His sister, Diane, grade six, second prize, and Kim Deardorff, also of grade six, third. Participating church schools sent local winning posters to the conference office where workers and visitors were polled to determine the top winners.

OLDEST BIBLE CONTEST AT PONTIAC

Pontiac Church members combined their annual Food Fair with an Oldest Bible Contest for Oakland County residents. This was a part of their Bicentennial program. Judging took place at Pontiac Junior Academy on May 16.

Judges for the contest were, the Honorable Mayor Pro Tem John Appleton; Attorney W. Ernest Huthwaite, former president of Oakland County Historical Society and present member of its Board of Directors; and city head librarian Mrs. Anna R. Lane, all of Pontiac.

Mayor Appleton presented Mrs. Fay Clark of Pontiac with a set of bronze Praying Hands bookends and a copy of Your Bible and You as the first award, which was for bringing the Bible containing the oldest copyright date (1824). Mrs. Clark's Bible had belonged to her late father, a Baptist evangelist. "It went through two Huron Valley fires," she said. Her Bible contained the Apocrypha, old family photographs, and old news clippings.

Mr. Huthwaite presented both the second and third awards to Mrs. Bertha Plunz. Second award was for the "most unique interior design," and third award for the "oldest original family entry."

Mrs. Plunz, who was 75 on May 25, said her Bible belonged to her grandfather, the late Benjamin Bolinger of Switzerland. The oldest entry was dated 1834. Her Bible also contained a marriage certificate as part of its pages and was filled out by her parents on their wedding day, April 8, 1888. This Bible contained a family history of people who came to America in ships in 1709 from Switzerland, and also contained the Apocrypha.

After awards were presented, the judges were invited to eat the vegetarian foods served from Food Fair booths manned by nine church families, representing some of the countries that make up the melting pot of America.

Henry Mattson, local pastor, and his family served foods from Nigeria where they served as missionaries. They wore costumes that came from this area of Africa.

Drinks were served from a booth manned by academy youth.

Nonchurch members present were impressed with the vegetarian diet and surprised that the recipes contained no meat. "You mean you have a hot dog that contains no meat?" asked Mr. Huthwaite. When assured this was so, he said, "Then I must try one of them."

ELEMENTARY STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN MUSIC FESTIVALS

Springs. At both festivals the music was basically patriotic with Mrs. Pat Silver of Andrews University conducting the massed bands.

The choral festivals were held at Battle Creek in April and Pontiac in May. Eleven choirs participated in the two events. William Hamberger was the director of the massed choirs at Battle Creek, while Norman Roy held the same post at Pontiac.

According to a spokesman for the conference Department of Education, the students arrived early in the afternoon at each of the festivals for a band or choral clinic. At 6 p.m. the musical presentation was made to the public.

Altogether 675 students from 22 schools had the opportunity to learn more as well as to show their abilities to the hundreds of parents and friends who attended the four different programs.

ALLEGAN STATE FOREST SITE FOR BACKPACKERS

Twenty-one Berrien Springs Wolverine Pathfinders and seven adults left civilization recently for a weekend backpack trip through a portion of Allegan State Forest. This was the last organized outing for the Pathfinders until the fall.

For several of the young people (and five of the adults) this was their first experience in backpacking. Blisters, sore shoulders, and sunburn soon became marks of the greenhorns, but the veteran packers shouted encouragement to them from the tops of hills and the opposite side of forded streams.

Friday night was spent at the Swan Creek campground, and early Sabbath morning the packers were on the trail again. Sabbath services were held beside Swan Creek Lake as Seminary student Jack Calkins led the group through the study of how soil is made, and how each part of the forest is interdependent on other parts.

During the Sabbath evening vesper hour the Wolverines were surprised to hear Christian songs coming from across the lake at another camping area. After much signaling and shouting it was discovered that the Gobles Junior Academy group was camping on the other side of the water.

Trail leaders Jack and Ann Calkins study the map before setting out on Sabbath morning.

Lynette Mcomber, foreground, and Debby Chamberlain stop for the first of many "moleskin breaks" designed to prevent at least some of the blisters.

As camp was being pitched Saturday night a mother woodcock and two newly hatched chicks were discovered about 20 feet from one of the tents. The "dead leaf" pattern which is the woodcock's distinguishing mark made her almost invisible on the leafy forest floor.

Sunday morning was spent in an energetic five-mile hike to the Ely Lake campground where the Wolverines were to meet another group of Pathfinders who camped for the weekend. The campers had promised to fix a hot meal for the packers—and no meal ever tasted so good.

As seven tired and sore adults climbed aboard the Pathfinder bus to travel back to Berrien Springs, the question was asked, "When do you want to go back-packing again?" With the true spirit of Pathfindering they replied, "Next weekend!"

PASTOR LEAVES

As LaCrosse, Wisconsin, members listened to their pastor, Len McMillan, for the last time before he left to take up his new responsibilities in the conference office, they couldn't help but think of the accomplishments of recent months.

Although Pastor McMillan had only been with them nine months, during this time there were four Five-day Plans to Stop Smoking held, a Wa-Rite program conducted, two "marriage discovery" weekends, an evangelistic crusade, church involvement in telephone evangelism, and a church dedication service.

In his final message Pastor McMillan challenged the church membership to be filled with genuine love and not be satisfied with an imitation love. He appealed to members to live lives totally reflective of Christ.

The day included a fellowship dinner which was followed by the highlight of the day—an outdoor baptism.

Although LaCrosse members will miss Pastor McMillan, they will be praying for him as he assumes the responsibility for the youth, temperance, and religious liberty departments of the conference.

IT IS WRITTEN REVELATION SEMINAR

Exciting plans are in the process of completion for an It Is Written Revelation Seminar to be held in Green Bay and Madison, October 2 and 3 with George Knowles and George Vandeman.

For the past couple years seminars have been held in various cities of North America and Australia and have proved to be a successful way of bringing interests to baptism and meaningful church fellowship.

"We feel most fortunate as we look forward to having Elder Vandeman in our conference and we want to do everything possible to get ready for the seminar," stated Wesley Jaster, coordinator for the seminar. "It isn't too early for members to tell It Is Written viewers as well as neighbors of the coming seminar," said Jaster.

In previous seminar locations it has been customary for delegations to be formed of viewers from as far away as 150 miles.

The all-day Revelation Seminar will provide an attractive, fast-moving session with plenty of variety and appeal, including a delicious vegetarian dinner.

ATTENTION HOME ECONOMISTS

There is an urgent need to strengthen family life both in the church and in society. Home economics as a profession works directly to create stable environments for the personal development of all family members and helps prevent family disintegration by teaching people to cope with everyday problems. This is a tremendous challenge to the profession.

Adventist home economists can make an important contribution to that family life which is the heart of the community, of the church, and of the nation. To make their work as effective as possible, however, home economists must be identified. A professional home economist must have a degree in home economics from a recognized college or university or must have a college degree in a field related to home economics plus at least two years of experience in a professional home economics service.

If you qualify or know of other Adventist home economists (professionally employed, in homemaking, or retired), please send names and addresses to: Adventist Home Economics Directory, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

THESE TIMES GOES TO GOVERNORS

I have just read the Bicentennial Special Issue of These Times. My heart responded to its heart-gripping messages and appeal. I thank God for the assurance of the gift of eternal life through Jesus and for the privilege of being an American.

The Southern Publishing Association mailed a complimentary copy of this special issue to the governors of the 50 states. Derek Mustow, manager of the periodical department, wrote, "Some of the responses compliment the concept, others praise the appearance and articles, but one which gave an insight into human nature came from the Governor of Indiana, Otis R. Bowen, who said, 'Thank you so very much for the Bicentennial Special Issue of These Times. I had a chance to glance through the pages for only a short time and am most anxious to find a free hour in my evening to read this more diligently.'"

"To read more diligently"—what challenging words to all of us. Another challenge that I would like set before us is to share God's message for today through a subscription to These Times or Message with at least five more than were on our list last year. Time is short. Now is the time. Tomorrow may be forever too late.

LESS CANCER AMONG NONSMOKERS

Mormons and Adventists continue to prove a relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. In a recent University of Utah study, members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) lung cancer statistics were nearly two-thirds lower than national figures. Researchers attribute the cancer differential to "the effect of living in a society where cigarette smoking has a moral stigma and anti-smoking campaigns are continually in progress." Both churches prohibit their members from smoking.

ANDREWS
DIES

Richard R. Minesinger

Dr. Richard R. Minesinger, former professor of chemistry at Andrews University, died of a massive heart attack, July 5. The attack, according to his wife, Janet, was "instant and fatal" and occurred in their home in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Minesinger, 36, had been appointed director of research at the U.S. Naval Ordnance Laboratories in Bethesda, Maryland. The family left Berrien Springs to take up the new position, June 2. He had been on the Andrews faculty since 1971.

A.U. AWARDS DAY HONORS WILKINS AS TEACHER OF YEAR

Outstanding Andrews University students were given scholarships, awards, and recognitions during the annual awards day assembly (May 27), and Dr. Robert Wilkins received the 11th annual teacher-of-the-year award from the Student Association.

Dr. Wilkins, chairman of the chemistry department, teaches several popular classes in physical, inorganic, and general chemistry. He received his Ph.D. from Pennsylvania State University and has taught at Andrews from 1963 to 1966 and again since 1971.

Thirty seniors received certificates for being listed in the 1975-76 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

D.MIN. PROGRAM MADE MORE FLEXIBLE AT A.U.

Plans are underway at Andrews to introduce more flexibility into the doctor of ministry program. The alternative will make it unnecessary for a minister to leave his church for a full year's residency at Andrews.

A three-week intensive workshop session will cover one of the six-credit core areas for the doctor of ministry degree. The first session will be held at Andrews, November 1 to 18.

For further information, contact Dr. Arnold Kurtz, Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

KELLOGG FOUNDATION GRANTS $7,500 TO A.U. LIBRARY

A $7,500 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation has been awarded to Andrews University for use in integrating the James White Library's cataloging with a nationwide standardized system.

Andrews, in association with approximately 450 other Michigan libraries, has recently affiliated with the Ohio College Library Center (OCLC) of Columbus, Ohio. The major advantage to being a member of this network, according to Mrs. Mary Jane Mitchell, Andrews librarian, is that students and faculty will have immediate computerized information access to library collections all over the country. Such institutions as Harvard and Yale universities and the New York Public Library System belong to OCLC.

A.U.'S D.MIN. PROGRAM FULLY ACCREDITED

The Theological Seminary at Andrews has received full accreditation for its doctor of ministry program.

Dr. Joseph G. Smoot, president of the university, was present at the meeting of the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) in Boston when the action of the Commission on Accrediting was confirmed. This action makes Andrews' doctor of ministry program one of 16 such programs that are fully accredited by the ATS in the United States, and one of only seven accredited by ATS without any reservations. Official confirmation of the accreditation was received in June at the university.

"This is a historical moment for Adventist education," said Dr. Arnold Kurtz, director of the doctor of ministry program, "in that it represents the first full accreditation of a doctoral program outside our medical school."

The program, in existence for three years, has had ten graduates. Three more will be graduated this summer. The program requires 48 hours minimum coursework including a doctoral research project. It is designed to facilitate a high level of competence in the practice of ministry.
