Just Suppose ...

E. W. Shepperd Jr.
Youth/Temperance Departments
Lake Union Conference

It was a hot day! There I was in the middle of downtown Chicago on my way to another meeting. It was stop light after stop light. Horns blowing. Police with frantic waves directing traffic. I thought to myself, All the traffic in the world came to downtown Chicago at the same time.

I don't know why, but I began to notice the thousands of people crossing the streets, shopping in the stores, waiting for the walk light, and the thought occurred to me: What would it take to stop those people in their tracks and tell them of a soon-coming Saviour. Suppose, just suppose, while in that traffic jam I jumped out of my car and screamed with all the intensity I could muster, "Jesus is coming soon!" I would get attention, but would that do it? I leave it to your imagination to wonder what would have happened had I done that. However, the question still gnaws at me, How am I to let people know? I like the answer in The Desire of Ages, p. 340.

"As witnesses for Christ, we are to tell what we know, what we ourselves have seen and heard and felt. If we have been following Jesus step by step, we shall have something right to the point to tell concerning the way in which He has led us. We can tell how we have tested His promise, and found the promise true. We can bear witness to what we have known of the grace of Christ. This is the witness for which our Lord calls, and for want of which the world is perishing."

Christ must be in us. When we have found the pearl of great price for ourselves, we will joyously share Him with our neighbors, friends and everyone we meet.

I challenge you to ask in faith for God to direct you to that soul that has been bruised by Satan and share with them what Christ has done for you. "Let your cheerful, encouraging words show that you have certainly found the higher way. This is genuine missionary work, and as it is done, many will awake as from a dream."—Testimonies, vol. 9, p. 38.

THE HEART OF THE LAKE UNION

Sister Edna Works for God at 83

by Susan Korzyniowski

Who says you can't actively witness for the Lord once you qualify for Social Security? Edna Van Wagner of the Wolf Lake, Indiana, Church certainly doesn't believe or practice that!

Sister Edna, as she is lovingly called, entered nurses training at Hinsdale Hospital in 1922 and practiced as an R.N. with the exception of only a few years until 1970—her 75th year! Why so many years, you ask? Besides having a real love for people, Sister Edna and God were working on a special project.

At the age of 71 Sister Edna met a young African man who needed sponsorship for four years of college training through Solusi College, Africa. Would God grant her four more years of employment in nursing in order to meet this young man's tuition expenses?

Susan Korzyniowski is a busy pastor's wife. Her husband, Robert, has the Wolf Lake, Indiana, District. In addition to her hobbies of sewing and gardening she is mother to their 21-month-old daughter and 8-month-old twin boys.

Stepping out in faith, Sister Edna began sending overseas monthly tuition checks. Although replaced by younger nurses several times during the next four years, she was continuously employed and received a raise in wages at each employment change.

The same month the young man graduated from college, Sister Edna became ill and couldn't work anymore. Since entering evangelism, this African worker has, through God's power, won more than 600 people to Christ. What dividends!

"Retirement," however, has kept Sister Edna as busy as ever. At 83 years young her days are full of Bible study and prayer, encouraging phone calls and letters to people all over the world who find in each one an inspiration as they read of how precious her Jesus is. And what an encouragement to know that your every daily venture is being supported by "steady prayers."

In spite of crippling arthritis, Sister Edna can still say, "You wonder why I'm so happy, so full of cheer and praise? I can't be otherwise. God has done so much for me. Should I live 100 more years, it would be impossible to serve Him enough to even partially repay Him."

ON JUNE 11 GIVE TO YOUR UNION CONFERENCE . . .

Better Living Centers

by A. W. Bauer

There are four Better Living Centers in the Lake Union Conference—one in Indianapolis, two in Chicago and one in Detroit. The centers are offering a variety of services to both young and old who have many needs and problems in the inner city.

The foremost objective in our outreach program is making God's love real by meeting human needs. Our Better Living Centers are staffed by qualified, dedicated and consecrated directors and workers. There are also many other members and nonmembers who are donating many hours in serving the needs of others through the activities sponsored by these centers.

Hazel Vetter, director, and Johnnie Lucas, associate director, in Indianapolis, together with volunteers during the first quarter served 262 people with clothing, bedding and furniture. Mrs. Vetter and Mrs. Lucas are also counseling young mothers and children when there is no father in the home. They offer help with hygiene and nutrition problems and show them how to prepare well-balanced meals. The center offers special sewing classes for young mothers and others who wish to learn how to mend clothing and keep it repaired for the children who are attending school.

The center will offer special sewing classes this summer and sponsor around 40 underprivileged children to summer camp.

There are plans for a new building to house the Better Living Center in that city.

The Chicago Westside Better Living Center located at the Independence Boulevard Church is doing outstanding work with the various outreach programs.

Elder Al Bauer is the acting director for the Lake Union Conference Inner City Services. He is also the director of the lay activities and Sabbath School departments of the conference.

Margaret Rauls, director, and her associates are carrying on a strong work. She states, "Those of us who work at the Chicago Better Living Center believe that God is testing the quality of our discipleship by measuring the depth of our neighborliness. To be able to feel as well as touch people with a sympathetic love and respond according to the impressions made by the Holy Spirit, is the service we endeavor to give.

"Through health programs, by supplying some of the essential needs of the poor, by developing the lives of the youth in revealing their God-given talents and their worth to our society, helps to establish a degree of hope within the minds of many.

"Over the past six months more than 1,100 people were helped through our service. There is yet much more to accomplish through the services of our center. God has been wonderful in granting His blessings. Souls have found a lasting peace in accepting the third angel's message. Plans are now ready for the launching of a full summer program.

"We solicit your time, treasures, talents and prayers which will enable us to perform an even more efficient work for Christ."

The new director for the Chicago Spanish Better Living Center is Manuel Molina. He and his associates, plus volunteers, have been very busy remodeling their facilities. The office and waiting room will accommodate 30 people. Four classrooms are now ready.

The Spanish Dorcas Societies have contributed clothing and other items distributed through the center during the past quarter.

Plans for the summer include a request from the city of Chicago asking the Spanish Better Living Center to select 45 young people that can work with the city counselors to help supervise these community young people in their various activities. The Spanish Better Living Center will also conduct language classes and some G.E.D. classes. High school subjects and English classes will be taught this summer. The urban centers are referring people to them who also need English classes. They will have Spanish classes for young people who need to study this language. The city will also help them pay the salaries of the teachers who will teach some of these classes. The city will also pay these 45 young people the director is selecting to work with them in center activities.

Joyce Combes, executive director of the Detroit Better Living Center, her staff and volunteers have been very busy moving to the new building located at 3240 Puritan. The remodeling is not yet completed and there are many needs and problems, but the Lord is blessing in a marvelous way and this center has unlimited potential in its outreach to the needy and underprivileged in Detroit. Because of this state of flux the only area of the center which has been operative is the community services ministry.

When the facilities are ready, the services offered will include a full-time dental service, health education such as nutrition classes, cooking classes, Five-Day Plans to Stop Smoking, a health food store, weight control, physical fitness and others.

This center will also stress an active spiritual outreach ministry through surveys, Bible education classes, lending library, Christian counseling and personal ministry by staff members.

We invite everyone to pray for these Better Living Centers and give every support that we can through voluntary service, gifts of clothing, etc., and by liberal donations.

The Inner City Offering to be taken in all of our churches on Sabbath, June 11, is for the local conference Inner City Offering Fund.

May the Lord bless every giver.

HOME NUTRITION INSTRUCTORS WORKSHOP SCHEDULED

Andrews University is offering a five-day workshop to prepare home nutrition instructors, June 30 to July 5. The course consists of 30 clock hours of instruction in nutrition and demonstration techniques. Upon successful completion of the course the student is awarded a home nutrition instructor's certificate from the General Conference department of health.

This is "Nutrition Year." And in order to reach the goals of this emphasis every Adventist church needs a certified home nutrition instructor, according to Alice G. Marsh, Sc.D., professor of home economics at Andrews University.

Large churches are encouraged to send two of their interested leaders; smaller churches in close proximity may band together in sending selected persons to prepare for active church-community cooking schools this coming fall. Interest is alive in vegetarian cookery, low cholesterol and low, properly selected fat for everyday meal planning. Trained and up-dated instructors are needed.

The course will be presented by Dr. Marsh and Sylvia Fagal, Seventh-day Adventist Dietetic Association resource dietitian for the Atlantic Union Conference. The cost is $35 tuition and $11 for books.

For further information and reservations for workshops contact the Assistant Dean, School of Graduate Studies, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

HOSPITAL SUBMITS CERTIFICATE OF NEED

Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital

submitted a certificate of need to the Health Facilities Planning Board of the Illinois Department of Public Health on April 7 for the construction of an affiliate hospital to meet the needs of the rapidly growing population of the Romeoville and Bolingbrook area. As an affiliate hospital, the new facility will share ancillary services with Hinsdale Hospital thereby complementing rather than competing with existing health-care facilities. This shared services approach will result in tremendous cost savings in both construction and operation.

Subsequent to a request by citizens in this area who felt the need for a local hospital, a civic advisory group comprised of local elected officials, area citizens, physicians and local business representatives worked with hospital officials in assessing health facility needs and in developing a plan of action to meet these needs.

If this proposal is approved, the fastest growing suburb in the Chicago metropolitan area will have a 120-bed hospital in operation by 1982. Development of the hospital is justified primarily on meeting the health-care needs of this area. The projected need by 1982 in the area of Will and Grundy counties is in excess of 150 additional beds. A study of present and predicted growth patterns for the region indicates that the area of Romeoville and Bolingbrook, located approximately 12 miles southwest of Hinsdale Hospital, would be the most appropriate location for a hospital to meet regional health-care needs by 1982.

Accessibility to other area hospitals by residents of the area is currently marginally acceptable according to common travel time standards of 30 minutes developed throughout the nation. In addition, increased urbanization will rapidly increase the amount of travel time by 1982.

This affiliate hospital will also meet the need for acute-care beds in this area. All acute-care beds serving the proposed area for the new hospital are currently located in Joliet, approximately 10 miles away.

Expensive and less frequently utilized services such as cobalt therapy will be provided only at Hinsdale Hospital thereby avoiding costly duplication at the new facility. There will be no duplication of administration. Hinsdale Hospital personnel will provide consulting services to the new hospital. This cost savings through shared services will result in a lower hospital cost for the patient.

The facilities of the new hospital will be used to provide additional clinical exposure for students in the training programs at the san. The proposed facility will also attract several new primary-care physicians to locate in this area which at the present time has a very low physician to population ratio.

The proposal for a 120-bed affiliate hospital represents the culmination of many months of planning activity to determine the most appropriate means of providing health services to the present and future residents of Romeoville and Bolingbrook, Illinois.

HOSPITAL CONDUCTS DISASTER DRILL

Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital conducted a disaster drill involving both the hospital staff and the emergency services of Hinsdale and surrounding villages on the evening of May 10. The purpose of this drill was to meet accreditation requirements and to prepare the hospital personnel and surrounding emergency services for an actual disaster such as a tornado or train wreck involving many victims.

A similar mock disaster was staged in the fall of last year; however, this is the first time that community emergency services have been involved. All hospital personnel have either specific disaster assignments or are to report to their regular hospital department for instructions.

"Victims" are marked with tags attached to their wrists. Injuries range from D.O.A.'s to minor lacerations. As these persons are brought to a sorting area, medical personnel check the injuries and determine whether the injured demand immediate treatment. They are then directed to the appropriate care area.

After the disaster drill, everyone involved met for an evaluation of the drill. A disaster committee which meets regularly during the year uses these evaluations in updating the hospital's disaster plan. These drills, designed to assure fast and efficient care in the case of an actual disaster, are held twice a year at the hospital.

The 17-member club has chosen secret pals to add fun and interest throughout the year and is planning a public sale of handcrafted items during the coming Christmas gift-giving season to benefit the building fund. The church has set a goal of purchasing land this year.

SPRING M.V. WEEK OF PRAYER

The youth week of prayer is a time for reviewing spiritual values and reaffirming commitments to the Lord Jesus Christ. How vital it is that the week of prayer be a meaningful pause amid the schedule of the youth church. The youth leader who seeks to make the week spiritually special will find the youth of the church concerned about their spiritual life.

Church and school societies conduct this prayer emphasis week in a variety of ways. Pictured are some of the speakers for the various churches who

LITERATURE EVANGELISTS MEET AT MIZPAH CHURCH

Elder T. S. Workers from Illinois, Indiana and Michigan were present. Some were of French and Spanish descent.

Elder C. M. Willis, associate publishing director of the General Conference, was the guest speaker for the morning. In expressing his concern for his work he said, "Nothing takes the place of knocking on that door or ringing that bell. Get into it! Serious times demand that we must work the large cities." Following the appeal, 19 individuals joined the literature evangelist ranks.

After dinner the evangelists led a witnessing hour which brought forth many experiences and testimonies of soul winning and of God's blessings through the book work.

Sarah Small, corps captain for the Gary district and literature sponsor for the Mizpah Church, expressed her gratitude to Elder J. D. Parker and the church for this special time that was given for literature workers.

THINGS ACCOMPLISHED AT CITY TEMPLE

During my stay here at City Temple in Detroit, it was my privilege to work with an outstanding group of Christian leaders, to have three tent meetings and several revivals in the churches. Approximately 500 people were added to the church.

Our day care center experienced outstanding success during this period under the capable leadership of Ruth Depree and Phenicie Thomas.

Enrollment has been for the most part at a capacity level and several new staff members were added. A new mini-bus was purchased to enhance the bus service program. It has given employment to a number of our people and the little ones have been taught of the Lord. Moreover thousands of dollars from this project have been put into our Peterson Academy in Inkster.

Our educational program has been wonderfully blessed of God. The enrollment has grown more than 60 percent. This has made it necessary for us to expand our Peterson plant by adding four more classrooms and a gymnasium. Of these four rooms, one is a science laboratory and another a home economics room. A satellite school was opened in the city of Detroit.

Also during my ministry, our subsidy to Peterson Academy has almost tripled and our school bus service has grown from two large buses to five large buses owned by the City

Temple Church. We have purchased and paid for approximately $50,000 worth of buses.

CHURCH MUSICIANS' GUILD CAMP MEETING PLANS

The Michigan Chapter of the Church Musicians' Guild will again sponsor daily workshops at the Grand Ledge camp meeting. Plans for interesting sessions are in the process of being finalized and experienced musicians will discuss their favorite topics and share ideas with you.

Among the areas to be considered are: children's music; music in the home; folk anthems; instrumental music; organ techniques and literature with special emphasis on hymns, and music for weddings. More detailed information will be announced in the near future.

LAPEER CHURCH SCHOOL STUDENTS ACTIVE IN FUND RAISING

The Lapeer Church School's 22 students have been participating in various activities to raise money for projects. Under the supervision of the teachers, Maurice and Lenna Wright, the students prepared and served a Valentine's Day dinner to more than 100 persons and were able to send $143 to the Faith for Today telecast.

To help raise money to be used toward purchasing new playground equipment the Home and School

Association held their third annual spaghetti supper. Marlene Wilson was assisted by the mothers and girls of the school and more than $100 was cleared from the well-patronized event.

Last year a walkathon-bikeathon helped to raise money for improved library facilities. This year by popular demand it was decided to repeat the feat to help raise funds for playground improvement. Those who chose the walkathon had a 10-mile course to cover and those who rode bikes had a 20-mile trip. The youngest participant was 4-year-old Sammy Palmeter, while 60-year-old Lenna Wright was the oldest participant. Kenny Brown, a first grader, was the youngest who completed the entire 20 miles by bike.

Prizes were given for the person having the most sponsors and the person raising the most money. More than $500 was raised by 30 participants.

CLASS OF '77 HOLDS CELEBRATION

On the cool, clear night of March 13, 1977, an air of anticipation surrounded the 85 seniors of Cedar Lake Academy. For that day was just 77 days until the class of '77 marches down the aisle to collect their diplomas. To celebrate the occasion the seniors met at the bell tower for a traditional march and bell ringing. To the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" they marched around the campus gathering at the tower to display their class flag and count the tolling of the bell. Seventy-seven times it rang, for the 77 days remaining. Following the bell ringing, the class was led in a cheer by Peggy Block, class president, and Brent Braddock, vice president. To close the ceremony everyone gathered in a circle to sing the class song. Dave Sherwin closed the evening's activities with prayer.

5-DAY PLAN HELD AT KALAMAZOO

March 13 to 17 brought a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking to Kalamazoo. Dr. Robert DeLong presented the physical aspects of the plan and Pastor Arthur Covell presented the mental and spiritual angles. Sixty registered the first night and 47 attended each session. At the end of the plan 34 had stopped smoking. The meetings included a testimony on the success of the plan from a former graduate, Roger McColl, pictured above, plus a speaker from the American Cancer Society. Because of the great interest in nutrition Clinton Wall, a nutrition consultant working out of Andrews University, lectured on how to maintain one's weight.

FREEDOM SINGERS PRESENT VESPER PROGRAM

The Freedom Singers, a 12-member choral group at Adelpian Academy performed for vespers recently. The musical presentations were four recent pieces of serious choral music which created a very worshipful and reverent close of the Sabbath.

The chorus under the direction of Ray Davis is giving an additional opportunity in music reading and choral development for the more serious choir student. Choral members were chosen for sight-reading, vocal ability and ability to play the piano, organ or other instruments to give versatility in accompaniment when needed. The interaction of student with student and of student with teacher in this small group framework fosters self-confidence and deference for group success.

The members were chosen "through a system of peer evaluation," says Davis. Academy choir members nominated "the best" in their sections and "the best" four members in the choir. The Freedom Singers were selected by Davis from those nominated.

In choosing a name the group attempted to select one "equally appropriate for secular or sacred concerts." The name chosen centers on the theme of personal freedom and the free life with Christ, concluded Davis.

The music the Freedom Singers perform includes sacred choral music of a serious nature and secular pops.

POSTURAL SCREENING PROGRAM HELD RECENTLY FOR STUDENTS

Public health authorities are deeply concerned about the sharp increase in postural problems among children. This concern resulted in a special screening program recently held at Battle Creek Academy for grades five through eight. A cooperative effort by two Battle Creek Sanitarium Hospital departments, preventive care and physical therapy, the screening was done by Mary C. Noble, R.P.T., and Barbara Griffith, R.N.

Postural problems are usually correctable during these years of rapid growth. Good posture provides an excellent base for normal development and because the body is working to better mechanical advantage, can help prevent chronic disease such as back pain, rheumatism and arthritis.

While the importance of postural evaluation and correction has long been a part of the san's concept of prevention, the emphasis on early prevention by evaluating younger citizens is refreshing. For follow-up, young people who have gone through the postural screening are now enrolled in a special exercise class. Scheduled for each Monday afternoon until the end of the school year, the class meets in the school's gymnasium and is instructed by Miss Noble and Mrs. Griffith. Students participate in directed group exercise and their homework between class sessions is to repeat the exercises daily.

Exercise can be fun. It is evident that these youth are having fun and are enthusiastic about what they are doing. Their determination and faithful effort to improve their posture is commendable. According to Miss Noble, it is entirely reasonable to expect a marked improvement in the postural habits of most of the class by the time the school year closes.

ADELPHIAN ACADEMY CHAPEL PROGRAM REVEALS FASTEST TYPIST

"Who's the fastest typist at Adelpian Academy?" was the question posed by Ruth Crigler, business education teacher, during a chapel program on April 6. The question was answered by six participants in a three-minute typing drill.

The first-year typists were represented by Marcia Grubbs and Janice Dunn. Janice took first place in that group. Robin Blinn and Kelly Kinne were the second-year typists with Robin winning in this category. Non-class typists who participated in the contest were Dotty LaLonde and Ivy Harp.

A.A. acclaimed Ivy Harp as the fastest typist.

NEWS NOTE

• On March 19 a baptism was held in the Racine Church. Three young people, Jan Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Loeffton, became members of the church. Pastor Rodger Ratcliffe had the baptismal candidates sign their names in the church books as public confirmation of their vows.

SPECIAL MARRIAGE SERVICES HELD AT GREEN BAY

An unusual marriage service took place in the candlelit sanctuary of the Green Bay Church one Saturday evening early in February. Eighteen couples stood up to repeat the age-old words, "I, John, do take thee, Mary, to be my wedded wife." Included in the vows was the word "continue"—"I do continue to take thee to be my wedded wife." Each of the participants was actually already married to the one beside him.

In a beautiful service each renewed his vows to the other, promising to continue to love, honor and cherish.

After the service, the couples enjoyed a reception (the traditional February Sweetheart Banquet), and wedding pictures were taken in front of the huge twin heart-shaped cakes that had been made for the occasion by one of the members.

Don Yost

YOST SPEAKS AT GREEN BAY

The Green Bay Church was privileged to have Elder Don Yost of the General Conference with them March 18 to 26. Elder Yost presented The New Life Seminar, which introduced the church to the principles of faith, growth and victory in the Christian life. The two key topics were how to die to self and how to be born again.

"The purpose of the class-like meetings," said Yost, "was to counteract the widespread lack of confidence in Christ among church members. We learn that it is indeed possible to gain victory over sin through Christ's indwelling power. When Christ dwells in our minds by faith, the tempter's power is broken."

In addition to the church meeting, Yost met with home groups which informally discussed the Christian life.

Each of the members of the Green Bay Church appreciated very much Elder Yost's seminar.

RACINE CHOIR PERFORMS EASTER CANTATA

The Racine choir performed the cantata "No Greater Love" by John Peterson during the Easter season. It was an excellent program with 150 people in attendance.

After the performance a fellowship supper was served. This gave the nonmembers in attendance a chance to sample vegetarian foods. The Good News quartet from Raymond provided entertainment in the evening. A film, "I Beheld His Glory," was shown.

Milwaukee Pathfinders hold Sabbath School.

MILWAUKEE PATHFINDERS HOLD SABBATH SCHOOL

The hearts of many have been touched by the sincerity of fervent youth, and so it is that the Psalmist writes, "As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth." Psalm 127:4.

Sabbath, March 12, brought together members of the Milwaukee Central and Milwaukee Northwest Pathfinder clubs to provide a Sabbath School program for members and visitors at the Northwest Church.

David Lucht opened the program with an uplifting song service and was accompanied at the piano by Marjorie Munson. Eric Freeman of the Central Church then extended the customary welcome to all attending. Eric also presented the Pathfinders' thoughts on the "Moral Use of Power."

Gary Wergin read from Matthew 7:12 to remind us that Christ admonishes us to treat others as we ourselves would wish to be treated. After offering prayer Gary turned the program over to his brother Tony, who encouraged us all with a report of faith and conversion from the mission field in Java, Indonesia.

Laurie Heinecke closed the program with the secretary's report and we were then dismissed to our separate classes.

I am sure that I speak for all who were there when I say that our Pathfinder clubs are a positive influence for Christian good in not only our churches but in the community as well. May God's continued blessing be with our youth and adult members alike.

VISITATION TEAMS

In March about 20 members from the Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay churches spent a Sabbath afternoon calling on neighbors. They invited them to visit the Sturgeon Bay Church, left a copy of Steps to Christ and the brochure entitled "A Quick Look at Seventh-day Adventists in 1977" and a map of how to get to the church.

On April 15 the local pastors began a 13-session New Life Seminar in the hall of the new Sturgeon Bay Church.

At the time of this writing three meetings have already been held with a total of 13 nonmembers attending. Special music is being provided by members from Green Bay.

MESSAGE AND THESE TIMES CAMPAIGN

No greater thrill can come to the human heart than trying to imagine the great joy of meeting in heaven those whom we interested in accepting the gift of eternal life. There are many ways of sharing this good news. Getting our truth-filled literature into as many homes as possible is a very effective soul-winning tool. We are promised that more than a thousand will be converted in a day, most of whom will trace their conviction to the reading of our literature.

About a month ago I met a young couple following a church service in Indiana who after reading The Desire of Ages, Ministry of Healing and The Great Controversy came to our church that Sabbath. They happily stated that they were keeping their first Sabbath. "The same ministry of angels attends the books that contain the truth as attends the work of the minister."—Testimonies, vol. 6, p. 316.

The Message and These Times crusade is on right now. Let us take this opportunity to study very carefully and prayerfully our sponsorship list to make sure that we are not forgetting someone who the Holy Spirit might lead to Christ through reading Message or These Times.

"The redeemed will meet and recognize those whose attention they have directed to the uplifted Saviour. . . . What rejoicing there will be as these redeemed ones meet and greet those who have had a burden in their behalf."—Gospel Workers, pp. 518, 519.

We urge every member to take advantage of this effective way in sharing the good news. We can be justly proud of these two fine award-winning missionary journals.

Our small investment in sponsoring a subscription to a loved one, a friend or a neighbor may earn eternal dividends when we share that indescribable joy of meeting them in the earth made new.

NURSE DATA BANK

Because of the great demand for Adventist nurses in the church's hospitals, approval has been given to the establishment of a Nurse Data Bank. The Adventist Hospital Association and the North American Division are sharing equally in providing a fund of $5,710 to set up the service. Nurses now in the employ of public hospitals may contact the association at the General Conference if they wish to be included in the bank.

ENCOUNTER EVANGELISM

More than 8,500 blind persons receive Encounter magazine each month. Encounter is our evangelistic outreach to the 1.7 million legally blind and an additional 4.7 million partially sighted persons in the United States.

Your offering on July 9 will help to expand the scope of this recorded journal.

S.B.C. SESSIONS TO FOCUS ON WORLD EVANGELISM

The Southern Baptist Convention goal to evangelize the entire world by the close of the 20th century will be the major focus when the convention meets this summer. Polishing touches are now being put on plans for the meetings June 14 to 16 in Kansas City, Missouri. Evangelist Billy Graham will close the three-day emphasis featuring a combined effort of Southern Baptist agencies to show their unity of purpose. Some 16,000 people are expected to attend the 120th annual session of the denomination.
