COVER

Several of the 14 different "flags" that have adorned the cover of the Herald since 1908 appear here on the 70th anniversary issue cover. How many do you remember?

This week's Herald is special. Special in that it marks the 70th anniversary of continuous publication as a service to the Lake Union family.

Said the first editorial, printed in Vol. 1, No. 1, November 4, 1908:

"The publication of the LAKE UNION HERALD is for the purpose of filling a long-felt need of a medium of communication between the conferences and laborers of the Lake Union Conference; to aid in unifying the work in all lines of Christian endeavor; and to keep the members of the churches throughout the Union informed as to advance methods of conducting missionary work. We feel confident of the interest of the people of this conference in the different lines of work to be represented in the HERALD, that they will welcome the news of its publication. . . .

"The paper will be an eight-page weekly, and will cost only fifty cents a year. It will be published at the Emmanuel Missionary College printing office.

"We are anxious to make the paper a success in every way, that it may fulfill the mission for which it has been brought into existence. To do this we need the assistance of all our workers and church members throughout the various conferences; and we earnestly invite your cooperation."

On April 28, 1909, the Herald asked:

"Are you a subscriber to, and do you enjoy the Union Conference paper? Why not tell some one who has not seen it? If you are a laborer, why not report your labors in the HERALD? No doubt the brethren in other conferences would enjoy reading your report. . . . Some conferences are sending the names of subscribers from time to time, others very few. May we not have a good list from your conference?"

Service. Ministry. Mission. This has always been the motivating factor in the weekly publication of the Herald. Then. Now.

Our feature this week highlights an urgent appeal by Ellen G. White, appearing in the first two issues of the Herald. Needful in 1908. Even more so in 1978.

Also in this week's anniversary special are news notes—historical sketches—from the earliest Heralds.

A special thank you goes to Dr. Emmett Vande Vere for again capturing the pulse beat of our union's past in the "Heart of the Lake Union."

Nostalgia. Looking back. Emotions mix in our mind.

Why 70 years? And the Lord's work still unfinished. No celebrations are called for!

Remembering. God's plan is for us to recount His leading in the past for assurance as we challenge the future.

The Herald. Seventy years.

Our prayer is that God will continue to use this print medium to hasten His coming.

A Family Letter

by Emmett K. Vande Vere
 illustration by Nadine Dower

Close to the heart of the Lake Union Conference is its own Herald; like an artery it feeds blood to its members. This general, conferencewide periodical, though full of 70 years and wisdom, is yet spritely and youthful. Born in 1908 it has weathered the storms: of mediocrity, of changing administrations, of "genius."

Throughout the very early years of the church the Review and Herald had been it. And because it long issued from Battle Creek it probably favored the Lake States folks.

But after the Review Press transferred to Takoma Park, and the Lake Union was stitched together in 1902, the Lake States family grew lonesome—lonesome to know, to feel, to cooperate.

Therefore in 1908 seven or eight conference presidents voted to forget their local conference report sheets for a more encompassing "family letter." To accommodate struggling E.M.C. and its press—and the idea of centrality—the paper has invariably issued from Berrien Springs.

During its first 26 years the Herald was in the gentle, precise, editorial hands of two wise women whose roots ran deep in Adventism, namely, Almeda Haughey (1908-09) and Lou Kirby Curtis (1909-34).

Almeda's husband, Joseph H. Haughey, an oak of a man, long taught mathematics at B.C.C.-E.M.C. She shared Joseph's sometime no-salary policy (to help the school) and lived from their berry patches. All in all she was frugal, church minded, Testimony saturated. "Her" Herald reflects these traits.

Lou Kirby Curtis, a daughter of Professor and Mrs. Emory D. Kirby of B.C.C., and wife of pastor W. D. Curtis who died in 1907, was a teacher of "commerce" at E.M.C. by choice and editor of the Herald by draft. For 25 years this queenly woman stamped the paper with her ideals of rigor, reliability and revivalism. Intoned C. A. Burman at her death: She was "a woman of rare good judgment in keeping with the talents she possessed."

About six or seven editors prepared the Herald, each week between 1934 and 1958. Some were merely print-minded editors drafted from reading proof at the press, others were treasurers assigned to be caretakers.

Only George E. Schultz (1937-46), W. F. Grall (1947-54), and R. L. Logan (1954-58), came close to creativity. One who labored beside these "journalists" remembers Editor Schultz—a fantastically accurate printer—as patience personified, Grall as possessing quick intelligence and a certain "hauteur" arising from his having served as sheriff of Lorrain, Ohio, and Logan as a church school teacher who got the position because he looked well organized.

By closely following well-hewn patterns these conservative gentlemen managed to steer the "magazine" through the Great Depression and, then the great boom. The whole parade of them warrant recognition for attempting a job for which they had never trained.

Just as the Herald's life was first adorned by two older ladies, its third period was shaped by two young men, Gordon Engen (1958-75) and Richard Dower (1976-), both of whom were photojournalists who believed that a well-chosen picture is worth a thousand words—a child's, two thousand.

"By chance" Gordon with his skills distilled the secrets of modern journalism from "the air" to make the glamor of the paper so golden that the Lake Union Conference urged him onto its staff as editor. Whether it was photography, multimedia programming, lobbying, plane piloting, or editing the Herald, his was a story of successes, until finally the G.C. department of religious liberty called him up higher.

Then "by chance" Dick Dower, a trained photographer, was snatched from Freeman's Studio to fashion as managing editor an even more artistic and intimate magazine. Among many achievements he has made alliance with the fathers and mothers in the union churches by often picturing their children. What is dear to them is dear to him—and Him. Dick is still managing editor of the Herald.

Six months after Gordon Engen went to Washington, Jere Wallack was called from the Southern Union. Jere had spent some of his boyhood days in Michigan where his father was a pastor for several years, so he was "coming home" to be editor of the Herald. Because many Lake Union members do not receive the Adventist Review, Jere has been concerned that there always be a devotional message, and a special emphasis has been placed on "spiritual things" since he took up the editor's pen.

Thus a conference publication played the part of a family letter: birth, marriage, death; education, medicine, mission; revivalism, colportaging, Ingathering; church construction, summer camp layout, convalescent home merger.

Mere paper and print, transmuted by sweat, midnight oil and genius, became a tie that binds hearts together in love!

"Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men." 2 Corinthians 3:2.

No. 1.

A Revival Needed

by Mrs. E. G. White

A message has been given me, and I dare not remain silent. Words were spoken to me in the night season, that brought a heavy burden on my soul. The messenger said, Arouse the watchmen to set at work many laborers who will diligently strive for the salvation of souls. Let the light shine forth to every place. It is not so much expensive facilities that are most needed now, but humble, faithful men and women, who have the fear of God before them, and the spirit of revival in their hearts.

We are in the last days of this earth's history. Our work is reformatory. Those who take a part in it have no excuse for indolence or ignorance. We are to work according to the directions given in the Word of God, and in harmony with the light he is sending through the agency of his Holy Spirit. How earnestly we should strive to come up to all our high privileges, and to meet the standard set for us in Christ Jesus! The only hope of producing a harvest of souls for the courts of God is in unselfish labor. We must open the truths of the Bible to the people, that they may be warned of their dangers and be sanctified through the truth. The life-giving energy of the Holy Spirit must come into every soul.

Whenever an interest has been created by our general meetings, our labors should be continued for the sowing of the seeds of truth. Satan and his army are zealous for the sowing of the seeds of evil, and if God's servants would defeat his purposes, their hearts must be converted and sanctified, and their lives must be devoted to the upbuilding of the cause of truth in the dark places of the earth. Warnings and appeals must be given in clear and forcible language. The arbitrary dictation and forbiddings that have sometimes restricted and hindered the work, and confused the senses of the Lord's messengers, so that some have not dared to move forward in a work that is essential to be done, must cease. The truth will magnify itself when it is presented by lips that are sanctified.

It is one of Satan's boldest schemes to hold the minds and harden the hearts of those who give themselves to the work. Now in order that they may understand what has been done to hinder the outworking of infinite love, there will need to be on the part of some, a thorough work of self-examination, and a discarding of the experiments of the past from our present and future work. Let our ministers be wide-awake; let them consecrate mind and heart in simplicity and meekness to the work of undoing every work that in the past they have allowed to exist, "redeeming the time because the days are evil."

Heavenly angels are looking in pity on our unwarned cities. They look with wonder upon those who profess to be working for the upbuilding of the kingdom of Christ in the earth. Can they say, "Well done, good and faithful servant," to those who are not earnest and faithful? My brethren, let us consider the needs of the cities. Let us lay off our needless adornments, our unnecessary indulgences, that through our self-sacrifice, souls may be won to Christ. Let us begin to work without delay, that those who have long been left in ignorance of the truth for this time, may speedily hear the message of warning, the last the world will receive.

The influence of Godly Women

Wonderful is the mission of the wives and mothers and the younger women workers. If they will, they can exert an influence for good to all around them. By modesty in dress and circumspect deportment, they may bear witness to the truth in its simplicity. They may let their light so shine before all, that others will see their good works and glorify their Father which is in heaven. A truly converted woman will exert a powerful transforming influence for good. Connected with her husband, she may aid him in his work, and become the means of encouragement and blessing to him. When the will and the way are brought into subjection to the spirit of God, there is no limit to the good that can be accomplished.

This article by Mrs. White first appeared in Vol. 1, No. 1 of The Lake Union Herald, November 4, 1908. It was continued in No. 2; both parts of the article are reprinted here.

An Inspired Picture of Our Mission

The mission of the people of God in this age is outlined in the words of inspiration that describe the work of the Messiah: "The spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound; to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn, to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified."

"And they shall build up the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations."

The Neglected Cities Must be Worked

There is an extensive work to be done in imparting a knowledge of the gospel message in all our cities of America. Many of them are lying in darkness. As we see the increase of iniquity in the earth, we know that there was never greater need of the exercise of Christlike virtue and compassion, never greater need of humble, faithful labor for those who are perishing in ignorance and sin. The knowledge of Christ, the word and wisdom of God, the essence of truth, was never more greatly needed. Never was there greater need that the truth should go forth as a lamp that burneth.

We are far behind in doing for our cities the work that God has given us to do. Souls who should now have the light of truth are still in ignorance of it. The word of God is represented as a light. His servants are declared to be light-bearers. "A city that is set on a hill," the Saviour said, "can not be hid. Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." The light is to be set on high, not hidden under a bushel. It is to be placed where it can give light to all who are in the house.

But before the precious light can shine to all that are in the house, there is needed a spirit of re-conversion in many of our people. For years the Lord has been dishonored, and glory due to him has been withheld, because of the way in which the needs of the cities have been disregarded and neglected. Cities have been left unworked that should have been given a faithful and wise labor, and souls who might have been converted are still in ignorance of the last saving message.

"Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising."

Wake up, brethren, wake up and answer: "For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof shall go forth as brightness and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth."

• A new steam heating plant is being installed in the young men's dormitory; the contract for a similar plant for the Advocate building has been let.

• Sabbath afternoon of October 31, teachers, students, and church members gathered on the banks of the beautiful St. Joseph, to witness the solemn service of baptism, when one precious soul followed his Lord into the watery grave.

• The College cannery has canned about fifteen hundred gallons of choice grape-juice. The Cahoon-Lyon Drug Co., of Buffalo, N.Y., on receipt of a sample of the same, replied,—"Kindly accept our thanks for the sample sent; and we desire to express our opinion of the goods as being equal to any we have seen, if not superior."

• Early in the school year, the teachers and students of the College were greatly pleased by a visit from Elder Spicer. He spent two days with us, speaking at the regular chapel exercises, also in the evening. His visit and instruction were an inspiration to all. We hope he will come again.

• Professor Lamson and wife visited the College a few weeks ago, on their way to Minneapolis. Professor Lamson gave a stirring chapel talk on the "eastern question." All who heard it were deeply impressed with the nearness of the end. The HERALD wishes Professor and Mrs. Lamson the best success in their new field of labor.

• Under the direction of Professor Gerard Gerritsen, the students and faculty of E.M.C.

organized a choral society of about fifty members, for the purpose of performing the better class of sacred and secular choral work.

CHRISTIAN WRITERS MEET AT ANDREWS

The fourth annual Christian Writers Conference met at Andrews University October 13 to 15.

Sixty writers representing 10 states heard lecturers including Cecil Murphy, June Strong, Louis Schutter, Leo and Bobbie Jane Van Dolson and Colleen Garber.

Mr. Murphy, a Presbyterian minister and author from Atlanta, Georgia, dealt with the subject, "How to Write When You Have Only an Hour."

These Times columnist June Strong shared her philosophy of Christian writing.

"God has given you a sanctified imagination," she said. "His assignment is to win souls."

ARCHEOLOGICAL MUSEUM NAMED FOR SIEGFRIED HORN

Although the subject himself was absent due to sudden illness, Andrews University's archeological museum was named to honor Dr. Siegfried H. Horn, Sunday, October 22.

Dr. Horn, one of the foremost Seventh-day Adventist archeologists, suffered a heart attack October 20 in Iowa while en route to Andrews for the ceremony, and was hospitalized in Des Moines. His wife, Jean, represented him.

Dr. Horn served on the faculty of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary for more than 25 years, including three years as dean, ending in 1976. He was the first curator of the archeological museum.

The museum opened in January 1970 in two rooms in the basement of the James White Library and has been expanding and adding to its displays ever since.

Five expeditions have been conducted to the Jordanian site of Heshbon; the earlier ones were led by Dr. Horn. Nearly 3,000 objects were brought back from these excavations during a period of eight years. Other items in the museum have come through purchases or gifts.

One of the most important single objects is an eight-inch statuette from Syria, dated to about the 15th century before Christ.

One of the 10 largest collections of cuneiform tablets in the United States is housed in the museum.

Since 1976, when the museum moved into its present quarters, Dr. Lawrence T. Geraty has been the curator.

The museum functions as a teaching aid for the Theological Seminary and other departments in the university. Researchers from institutions in other parts of the world come to Andrews to study the museum's artifacts.

Present projects of the museum include training excavations in Berrien County, salvage of Indian sites and assistance to the government of Jordan in museum development.

Mrs. Strong is the author of Journal of a Happy Woman and Mindy. Louis Schutter, children's editor at the Pacific Press Publishing Association, addressed himself to the problems of writing for children's publications, providing a lot of writing tips in capsule form.

Dr. Leo Van Dolson delivered the keynote address and also presented a segment on "Writing for Magazines."

His wife, Bobbie Jane, Review and Herald book editor, discussed the process of working out book ideas between authors and editors.

The Sanitarium seems to be prospering under the superintendence of the new physician in charge.

April 28, 1909

• The Madison, Wisconsin, Sanitarium is located in a healthful elevation overlooking the beautiful Lake Monona. A more suitable place for a sanitarium would be hard to find, for, while being in close proximity to a quiet rural district and of easy access to the city by street-car, there is on all sides much to interest the eye of the weary invalid and divert the mind from himself both to the beauties of nature and the activities of men.

The first impression one receives upon entering is that it is homelike.

The able physician and surgeon-in-charge, Dr. J. W. Hopkins, with his assistants, are working with untiring zeal, night and day, administering to the needs of the patients, who seem to make marvelous strides in recovery.

There is always some one in the Sanitarium who looks after the spiritual welfare of this large family. Most of the time during the past five years Eld. J. B. Scott, a fatherly man of ripe Christian experience, has attended to this work in a most acceptable manner.

Under present conditions we bespeak prosperous days for the Madison Sanitarium and believe that it should have the hearty support of the Lake Union Conference.

Maximum rating was given for exterior appearance, inside lighting and heating, administration and finance—resulting in an overall rating of superior for the center. During the year ending June 30, 1978, the center gave out 29,618 pieces of clothing and helped 3,314 persons.

The personnel worked a total of 2,978 hours and shipped 1,145 boxes of clothing to Seventh-day Adventist World Service, Inc. (SAWS), which handles the clothing for overseas disaster areas. This work is done entirely without cost to recipients, according to community services leader, Sharon Hurt.

ELIJAHS IN CHICAGO

Last April I was visiting door-to-door with Bernabe Aros in the vicinity of 26th Street and South Drake in Chicago. We entered a home where we found two young men. Mr. Aros attempted to sell them some health books.

After he had finished and closed his prospectus, I asked them if they would be interested in a family Bible.

They ordered a Spanish Bible and we invited them to take Bible studies. Studies were begun by one of our laymen, Norberto Avila, who has been studying with a large group. This group started with two people and has grown to almost 30 individuals studying God's Word.

Three of these people were baptized on October 7. Others are getting ready to join God's church.

In John 1:21, John the Baptist was asked "Art Thou Elijah?" Interestingly enough, the answer to this question is heard from today's modern Elijahs, whose voices cry out in the asphalt jungles of Chicago and other cities.

As these literature evangelists circulate printed literature, and as laymen and ministers follow up the interest created, together we will prepare the way of the Lord.

Would you like to be a modern Elijah? Call us at the publishing department, (312) 485-1200.

The Way It Was

February 10, 1909

• There are many thousands of the colored people in the Southern Illinois Conference. In Springfield we have a little company, who have for several years been struggling on, and worshiping in private houses. The conference committee, after looking over the situation, and taking all things into consideration, has decided that we should make a strong effort to build a church for the colored people in Springfield, and I take this opportunity to make an appeal to the people of Southern Illinois to donate toward this enterprise. Send your money to the Southern Illinois Tract Society.

April 14, 1909

• The friends of the work for colored people, and especially those who have donated to build a church in Springfield for this people, will be pleased to hear that a house and lot have been purchased. This property cost $900. By taking out partitions in the house, they have managed to have a meeting room and a school room, which on special occasions can be thrown together, and all the rooms used for meeting purposes.

October 3, 1944

• In harmony with the counsel of the General Conference Committee at the time of the Spring Council in Chicago, a meeting of the delegates from the colored churches in the four conferences of the Lake Union Conference was called to meet in the Shiloh Church in Chicago, September 26, 10 A.M.

The matter of organizing a separate conference of the colored churches of this territory was given thorough consideration. An action was taken by the delegates in session that a conference be organized. So, in harmony with this action, we have the fifth conference in this territory of the Lake Union called the Lake Region Conference. The membership will be 2,300, or thereabouts.

As a result of the report of the Nominating Committee, Elder J. G. Dasent, pastor of the Indianapolis Capitol Avenue Church, was elected as president of the conference.

We believe that the membership of all the churches of the Lake Union, white and colored, will rejoice to know that this step has been taken to strengthen the hands of the colored believers and conference workers as they face the great task of bringing the message to the hundreds of thousands of colored people in this union.

Lake Union Conference

• The official staff of the Lake Region Conference sends greetings and best wishes for a bright and prosperous New Year to the constituents of the conference. This new organization launches out, as it were, into unexplored territory. Our union president writes, "You dear brethren are attempting a big task beginning January 1. We are confident the Lord will help you, and we want to reassure you of our great interest and readiness to be of service."

On behalf of the official staff of the Lake Region Conference I solicit your prayers.

J. Gershom Dasent, President
Lake Region Conference

February 13, 1945

• Thursday, January 11, 1945, will long be remembered as a red-letter day in the life

[sic] of many who were present at the first workers' meeting of the Lake Region Conference.

Elder T. E. Lucas, superintendent of the M.V. department of the union opened the first devotional session.

Elder C. D. Henri, one of our young ministers who may soon depart for a faraway land as a missionary, ably presented "Music in Church Services."

Elder R. F. Warnick, who is the district leader of the Detroit area, spoke on "The Responsibility of District Leaders."

W. J. Kisack, educational and Missionary Volunteer secretary, discussed "The Place of the Youth in our Church Program."

February 27, 1945

• Elder Dasent, president, [spent] Sabbath, February 24, with the church in E. St. Louis, Illinois. From there he will go to Huntsville, Alabama, where he will attend a meeting of the Oakwood College and Riverside Sanitarium boards.

Evangelist Oliver L. Fenson stands with the quintet that provides music for the weekly Voice of Hope broadcast. They are, from left, E. Whitfield, J. Garner, L. Norris, E. Lee and M. Blackwell.

RADIO PROGRAM REACHES 8 MILLION

O. L. Fenson, founder and director of the Voice of Hope radio program, invites everyone to tune to station WMUZ 103.5 FM each Thursday at 10 P.M. The music and spoken word will prove a blessing to each heart.

The station reaches approximately 8 million people scattered throughout Cleveland and Bowling Green, Ohio; Lansing, Jackson, Saginaw, Bad Ax and Port Huron, Michigan, and London, Canada.

Readers of the Herald who are in the areas where the Voice of Hope can be heard are asked to listen to it and to invite their relatives and friends to do the same.

The purpose of the Voice of Hope is to spread the good news of salvation. We solicit your prayers and support.

If you have Bible questions or prayer requests, we encourage you to send them to the Voice of Hope, 6342 Linsdale, Detroit, MI 48204. Remember the Bible knows the answer and evangelist Fenison knows the Bible.

The Voice of Hope staff believes your evening will be better after you listen to the radio program.

• Mr. Claude White, a former student at Emmanuel Missionary College, reports that twelve people have recently taken their stand for the truth at Mt. Pleasant, where he and Brother F. H. Hoxie have been holding meetings.

December 23, 1908

• Elder J. W. Hofstra is taking hold of the work in Muskegon in earnest. He holds meetings in the English language Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings. Monday and Wednesday evenings are given to the Holland tongue. With the Sabbath meeting this makes six preaching services each week.

January 6, 1909

• The church at Kalamazoo, Michigan, situated at the corner of Jackson and Sheldon Streets, was dedicated on Sabbath, Dec. 19, 1908, at 10:30 A.M.

The church having undergone extensive repairs, it was deemed fitting to have special services upon the completion of the work. It might be well to say that over seven hundred dollars has been expended in repairing and beautifying the church building.

Through the faithful efforts of the pastor, the church has been greatly revived and the attendance doubled, the membership now being nearly one hundred.

February 10, 1909

• Elder J. J. Irwin visited the companies at Helmer, Laketon, McMillan, and Hiawatha, January 26–February 1.

• A. C. Haughey was in Carlton Center and Cedar Lake last week.

• The Annual conference in East Michigan was held at Lansing, January 25–31, and was a very pleasant affair. Elder Slade was re-elected president of the conference. Some changes were made in the membership of the committee. Elder E. I. Beebe was elected treasurer, and Brother Frank Hiner will continue to dispense literature from the office of the Tract Society. Brother McEachern will continue to guide the boys that knock at the doors of the people, and leave the books that are message-filled. Elder A. R. Sandborn will continue as missionary secretary to take the place of the old-time director.

Elder A. G. Daniells and Prof.

Frederick Griggs, of the General Conference, were in attendance until the evening after the Sabbath and all enjoyed their counsel and words of courage.

NEWS NOTES

• Fifty people attended the eight evening sessions of a cooking school held October 1 to 12 in the fellowship hall of the Ithaca Church. Nonmembers attending totaled 23. The closing meeting featured a potluck to show what the students had learned. More than 60 people attended the meal; half of them were non-Adventists. Betty Jo Baerg, wife of the pastor, was the instructor, and she received strong support from the women of the church. Elder Baerg had a brief devotional and prayer at the beginning of each meeting. Question periods at the end of each session were lively and greatly appreciated.

• Dr. D. M. Hechanova, a family practitioner at Andrews University Medical Center, has been elected president of the board of directors of the American Cancer Society's Berrien County Unit.

• About 200 people attended the opening night meeting of Arnold Kraner's evangelistic series at the Oakwood Church. Fifty of these people are nonmembers. Quite a few of them are attending regularly. Elder Kraner's meetings will continue until November 1.

• The 33-member Detroit Spanish Church has had a large increase in membership as a result of meetings held by Elder Efrain Murillo, the Spanish evangelist of the Lake Union. So far 19 have been baptized and another 180 interested people are being contacted.

• Thirty people responded to the first call of the J. R. Hoffman meetings in Warren. The series was sponsored by the East Detroit, Troy and Warren churches and many non-Adventists have expressed interest in the message presented. The first scheduled baptism was held Sabbath, October 14, when six persons joined the churches.

ABC FALL SCHEDULE

The fall itinerary of the Adventist

Book Center's bookmobile began with October appearances in the upper portion of the lower peninsula. The full schedule for the bookmobile is listed this week in the announcement section of the Herald.

In planning the special seasonal sales program, Doug Anderson, manager of the ABC, says he is working to fulfill Ellen White's suggestion to "provide something to be read during these long winter evenings."—The Adventist Home, p. 479.

At this time of the year he envisions "families seated around a fireside, engaged in family worship, and then positioning themselves comfortably with a book to gain inspiration and instruction of eternal value."

To accommodate church members the Lansing Book Center will be open on Sundays from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M., November 5 through December 17. The one exception is November 26, the Sunday after Thanksgiving, when the book center will be closed.

The Berrien Springs branch hours for this time of the year are 9 A.M. Monday through Friday and 10 A.M. on Sunday. It will close at 5:30 P.M., Monday through Wednesday; 9 P.M. on Thursday; 3 P.M. on Friday, and 5 P.M. on Sunday.

At Escanaba the store opens at 10 A.M., Monday through Friday, and 12 noon on Sunday. It closes at 5 P.M. daily except Friday when the closing hour is 4 P.M.

Nancy McClymate, left, Pat Paepke, Elder Matacio and Marilyn Dunlap lead candidates out of the water after the baptismal service.

SUMNERS CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

An open house was held recently for Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sumner of Eaton Rapids to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. Sumner served the church for many years. Before retiring eight years ago he was assistant treasurer of the Michigan Conference.

32 BAPTIZED IN GRAND RAPIDS AFTER A.U. FIELD SCHOOL

Thirty-two persons were baptized September 8 as the first fruits of the Andrews University Field School of Evangelism in Grand Rapids. Elder Mark Finley, Southern New England Conference evangelist, directed the program. He was assisted by Elders Paul M. Matacio and D. C. Mackintosh of the Grand Rapids Central Church, Paul Penno Sr. of the Wyoming Church, William Bloom of the conference ministerial department, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Moore and Penny Thomas, faithful local laymen. Thirteen students from the seminary at Andrews University helped to make the meetings a success.

NO MORE SEARCHING: WISCONSIN BUYS CAMP GO SEEK

Lay advisory delegates assembled at Westfield, Wisconsin, on October 2 to advise the Wisconsin Conference Executive Committee about property acquisition to provide camp-meeting grounds for the future. Robert Dale,

The Wisconsin Conference is planning to purchase this property for camp meeting.

Wisconsin Conference president, was chairman of the meeting and conducted the morning devotional.

Two properties screened by the conference executive committee were presented by W. H. Dick, conference treasurer. After a slide presentation, both properties were toured before the lay advisory was reconvened in the cafeteria building in the vacant Camp Go Seek.

A nearly unanimous vote by the church-elected delegates followed many months of exhaustive searching by conference administrators and the conference executive committee.

"In what may be considered in the future as a historic meeting, the conference officers signed an offer to purchase the 220-acre Camp Go Seek property for $175,000," stated Robert Dale. It is anticipated that the purchase, which is contingent on zoning, can be completed before the end of the year.

Preparation for camp meeting on this site in 1979 will require long hours and sacrifice by many people. Projected dates for camp meeting are July 26 to August 5, 1979.

Included in the new campground site are two lakes, one of which may be used for swimming and canoeing.

Buildings on the property which will be adapted to camp-meeting use include a cafeteria that seats 250 people, a lodge building, a maintenance shop and a house for the caretaker.

The property is enhanced by pine and oak trees which are expected to provide shaded campsites for all camp-meeting campers. Unusually nice docks and canoes and some family tents were all included with the purchase of the property.

Careful study is being given to developing facilities for the use of campers and recreational vehicles. Some consideration is being given to moving cabins from the previous camp-meeting grounds at Portage. A decision on moving the cabins will be made in the near future. Tent platforms already on the property will provide camper accommodations.

Essential buildings to be completed before June 1979 include a warehouse and at least two restroom-shower facilities.

"We are moving forward with the purchase of this property and camp meeting plans for 1979 because of the strong desire of Wisconsin members," said Elder Dale. "We have faith that our members are willing to sacrifice and share in the development costs which will make this possible."

OCONTO DISTRICT BAPTISM

On Sabbath, September 9, Pastor Dan Towar of the Oconto District baptized Mrs. Germaine Collins of Suring, Wisconsin.

World Church News

Neal C. Wilson

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS ELECT NEAL C. WILSON

Neal C. Wilson, currently vice president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, has been elected president of the world church. He succeeds president Robert H. Pierson, who announced his retirement for health reasons on October 16.

Elder Wilson was named to the church's highest post October 17 by the annual council, a gathering of top administrators in Washington, D.C. After his nomination by a select 66-member committee, he was chosen unanimously by the council.

The special nominating committee set up to fill the vacant presidential office was chaired by Cree Sandefur, president of the Pacific Union Conference, one of 10 such districts in North America. Elder Sandefur reported that nine names were considered. Elder Wilson was then nominated, "nearly unanimously," according to Elder Sandefur, on the first ballot of the committee.

Elder Wilson has served as vice president of the church for North America since 1966, a post that brought him wide administrative experience.

Elder Wilson has extensive overseas experience, having served as president of the Adventist church in Egypt and other Arab lands from 1950 to 1958. While there he negotiated the opening of the church's work in Libya, the Sudan and Aden. He was also advisor to the governor of Cairo for religious liberty affairs.

In his acceptance speech to the delegates, Elder Wilson said God had allowed him to have a "varied world experience" in preparation for his duties as head of the three-million-member church. He said he had spent half his life outside the United States, as the son of missionaries and as one himself.

"I am very conscious of deficiencies, very conscious of limitations," he told his listeners, and then asked for their prayers for his leadership.

The retirement date announced by President Pierson is January 3, 1979. Elder Wilson will take office at that time.

Lake Union Conference

The Way It Was

November 4, 1908

• The comparative summary [from the 50 canvassers] for the present year as compared with the corresponding time last year will talk for itself so far as the Lake Union is concerned.

During 1907, there was an average of 40 agents at work, who averaged 371 hours, making sales at the rate of 93 cents per hour, totaling on an average of $345.00 in sales.

For the same time in 1908 we have had an average of 50 canvassers at work, putting in 513 hours, with an average per hour of about 80 cents, making about $410.40 average sales.

November 8, 1908

• We are glad that we can give an encouraging report of the school work in the Lake Union. Nearly all of the conferences have more schools than ever before. At present ninety-four church schools have begun work, and eighteen more will start soon, which will make a total of one hundred and twelve.

Besides these church schools, there are eleven intermediate schools and academies. Not one of them has sent in a discouraging report. In one of the academies the attendance has doubled, and nearly all report a larger attendance than last year.

December 30, 1908

• The Lake Union branch of the Review and Herald publishing house is now being removed to the city of South Bend from Battle Creek.

January 13, 1909

• A meeting of the Missionary Volunteer secretaries of the Lake Union Conference will be held at Emmanuel Missionary College, January 14-17. Besides the local secretaries and prospective workers for the young people, Professor M. E. Kern and others interested in the young people's work will be in attendance.

It is expected that Elder A. G. Daniells will speak at the regular Sabbath morning meeting.
