Reflected Light is Magnified Light

COVER

*"Brightly beams our Father's mercy,
From His lighthouse evermore,
But to us he gives the keeping
Of the lights along the shore.
Let the lower lights be burning!
Send a gleam across the wave!
Some poor fainting, struggling seaman
You may rescue, you may save."*

the union and triennial reports about the WHILE serving as president of the Maritime Conference on the east coast of Canada I was privileged on one occasion to visit a faithful Adventist brother who was responsible for the maintenance and operation of the lighthouse at the entrance to the Straits of Canso, a narrow and very dangerous passage between Nova Scotia and Cape Breton Island. Our brother was proud of his post and, recognizing the gravity of his responsibility, left no small detail unattended.

It was a foggy morning the day of my visit and I will never forget the earth shaking and deafening use of the fog horn. Its penetrating blast along with the flashing light in the tower offered direction to passing ships.

While surveying the scene, and as though a visual illustration would help to justify the whole operation, the ghost-like form of a ship wallowed its way into the narrows, guided by the sound and light emanating from our brother's station. It was an impressive sight and a sobering experience. In a given year hundreds of people entrusted their lives to the faithfulness of the light keeper.

The most striking lesson for me was how a very small source of energy in the development of sound and light was magnified to such powerful proportions. To power the horn an ordinary pump built up air pressure which at regular intervals was suddenly released. The result was dramatic to say the least.

Even more impressive was the smallness of the lightbulb at the top of the tower. To produce such powerful illumination, I was sure the largest possible bulb would be required—perhaps several thousand watts? Imagine my shock when I learned that only a bulb of 250 watts was needed! How then do you produce such a searching light, I asked?

My guide gave me this simple answer. "See these reflection prisms?" he said. "Each day I see that they are clean and polished, and it is the reflected light that warns the ships that must pass through the narrows of fog and darkness."

In the Lake Union we have five conferences, 448 congregations and 56,735 church members, all keepers of the light of truth. The success of God's work in this territory during the year 1979 offers evidence that much light has been faithfully reflected to those who have been in darkness. It was a good year! I trust you will enjoy this issue of the Herald as it presents a story of success in each conference and its institutions.

Even so, we believe the best days for soul-winning are just ahead and the ultimate fulfillment will come for God's work when each child of God who receives light will make it his first purpose to reflect that light. Our influence may seem ever so small, but as we keep every facet and prism of our lives clean and polished, the light reflected will be magnified many times and pierce the darkness around us.

STATISTICS. Seemingly static. Standing still. Figures. Facts. Far from fascinating.

And here it is. A special issue of the Lake Union Herald full of statistics and figures.

They are not static statistics however, but fascinating facts.

Each represents an individual—a person. Each is a new member of God's family, the result of the dynamic impressions of the Holy Spirit—leading, guiding—"into all truth."

Each new member could relate a moving story of God's intervention in his life. For example, Valerie Thaden.

A year ago Valerie was not a Seventh-day Adventist. Today she is a full-time employee of the Adventist Church. But listen as she tells you her own story.

"I was born on a farm in Michigan, the fifth of six children. Those early years were happy ones. My grandparents lived with us, and we were a large, close family. However, those happy years came to an abrupt end. My mother died when I was six years old.

"Our peace was shattered and our family scattered. Soon my grandparents left. My brothers and sisters went their separate ways. I left home when I was 13.

"I was baptized at birth, but the development of my spiritual life ended when my mother died.

"After working my way through high school, I went to live with a married sister in Chicago. She had found a job for me. At 18, I really felt grown up because I had been on my own so long. But I was emotionally immature.

"So began the years of struggling. For a while I tried to enjoy a social life while juggling two jobs. In the midst of dating and dancing, I awoke wearily one morning, and sitting on the edge of my bed I thought there must be more to life than this. It seemed so empty and without purpose.

"God came into my life and brought such joy and peace. I found my way back to the church of my birth, and spiritual life—so long interrupted—began to develop. I gave my life to Christ and wanted nothing more than to know Him better.

"I loved the church next to God Himself and felt very secure in it.

"The Holy Spirit began to prepare me for the changes which were coming. Without knowing why, I began to feel uncomfortable at some of the services I attended, and began to question some of the practices which had been a part of my life for more than 25 years.

"Having never studied the Bible, I was hungry to hear the Word, and through a friend became interested in watching some of the Christian television programs. The It Is Written telecast with George Vandeman soon became my favorite.

"Then one Saturday a brochure describing prophecy lectures came in the mail. I put it aside. Later I picked it up and decided to look into it. I thought learning more about Scripture would be a good thing.

"A friend accompanied me to the meeting and we were surprised that they were held in a Seventh-day Adventist Church. Many people shook hands with us and a hostess gave us a Bible. We were impressed with the friendliness of the people. I was so hungry to hear the Gospel that I only missed one lecture out of 32.

"During the lectures I was convinced that I was hearing the truth of God's word, and I was baptized in March 1979.

"Many more changes were to come. After working for the same company for 25 years, I relinquished the security of regular paychecks as manager of the company's employee credit union.

"Through my new church family I heard that the Lake Union Conference was establishing a school to train pastors and laymen in soul-winning. I was definitely interested, so I enrolled. On August 6 I began classes at the Lake Union Soul-Winning Institute.

"Pastor Cress invited me to participate in a series of prophecy lectures in Chicago. I felt unprepared and inadequate. The fact is I was terrified, but in spite of my reservations and fears, the Holy Spirit blessed the little group of people I was assigned to visit—12 of them were baptized."

Today Valerie Thaden is a full-time Bible worker with the Jim Cress evangelistic team. She says, "There is such joy in studying God's Word, such peace and security in placing my life in His hands and seeking to do His will."

YOU'VE pondered the question before.

What's in a name?

Have you ever thought about the name Lake Union?

The very heart of the LAKE Union is water. The waters of great Lake Michigan lap the shores of Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan which comprise the territory of the Lake Union.

WATER. "And he [the angel] said unto me, The waters which thou sawest, . . . are peoples. . ."

Revelation 17:15. The very heart of the Lake Union is water—people.

PEOPLE. God's people—56,735 of them are Seventh-day Adventist Christians.

PEOPLE. Nearly 30 million. Most are in desperate need of Jesus and it is the Christian's challenge to help them know Him.

Speaking of WATER, Jesus said, "The water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of living water springing up into everlasting life." John 4:14 And He gave an invitation—to us and for us to share. "And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." Revelation 22:17.

Our name is the LAKE Union. Nature herself has symbolized the central urgency of our calling—PEOPLE—and of our message—Jesus.

UNION. Also part of our name. "Something united or unified; a whole made up of united parts; for some specific purpose."—Webster's New World Dictionary.

What's in our name? The Lake Union is PEOPLE UNITED for the specific purpose of sharing Jesus with PEOPLE in our part of America.

The Lake Union is not merely an office in Berrien Springs. The building symbolizes unity of people. The activities of the people who are the Lake Union are coordinated there.

Each local conference—Illinois, Indiana, Lake Region, Michigan and Wisconsin—is charged with the specific responsibility of fostering the activities of the Adventist Church. You will read in this special issue of the Lake Union Herald how God is blessing His work in your conference.

There are many activities that the local conferences have given to the Lake Union Conference to coordinate. These activities become more efficient and effective as the conferences unite their resources. The following are some examples of these activities.

LAKE UNION CONFERENCE

A United People

by Don Gray, Ministerial Secretary, and Jere Wallack, Communication Director

Home Health Education Service

For many years the work of literature evangelists was localized within conference boundaries. However, as more people bought large sets of books on credit, a growing financial problem burdened the Adventist Book Centers.

As a result the Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin conferences asked the Lake Union Conference publishing department to organize the Home Health Education Service where credit sales are to be processed in one center.

The publishing work is growing rapidly in the Lake Union. In 1979, according to Lake Union Conference Publishing Director John Bernet, Home Health Education Service processed contracts totaling $3,320,615 for more than 200 literature evangelists. Processed sales have doubled in the last three years since H.H.E.S. was organized.

The most important aspect of literature evangelism is spreading the Gospel. In 1979, 42,808 books, including The Desire of Ages, Acts of the Apostles, and Bible Readings for the Home were placed in non-Adventist homes. As a result of visits made by literature evangelists, 142 people were baptized.

Selling the books is only the first step in literature evangelism. After customers have had an opportunity to read and pay for the books, they receive an invitation to study the Bible. In the last six months, more than 500 families asked for Bible studies.

The response has been so overwhelming that Louis Blumenberg was invited to join the H.H.E.S. staff to organize and train church members to lead these people to Jesus.

Donations by Lake Union publishing leaders and literature evangelists fund this project.

Department of Education

"The Adventist Church is anxious to see its young people saved and to prepare them for service. Thus, Adventist education provides for its children a general education within the framework of the science of salvation," says F. R. Stephan, director of the Lake Union Conference's department of education.

According to Warren Minder, associate director, "The Lake Union department of education is committed to the task of clearly defining the K-12 curriculum in terms of the uniqueness of the Seventh-day Adventist philosophy of education."

Adventist educators in the Lake Union Conference are committed to providing quality Adventist education for the 7,434 students in kindergarten through grade 12, who attend the 135 elementary schools and 10 senior academies.

Last year 479 of these students were baptized.

Data Processing

The combined needs of the conferences of the Lake Union dictated the purchase of a new Data General computer which was installed recently in the union office, making accounting and statistical reporting more efficient. The Data General provides computer capacity for 17 terminals around the Lake Union, and it is compatible with the equipment in each local conference.

The Lake Union Conference data processing service is developing computer programs for the conferences. It also provides accounting service for the Lake Union and its association, the revolving fund, and trust department. In addition it serves the needs of the Lake Union Herald mailing list.

One of the primary functions of the data processing service is caring for all the accounting and statistical reporting for Home Health Education Service.

Lake Union Herald

This biweekly journal provides opportunities for the conferences to communicate with their members—to inform, instruct and inspire. Much material that originates in the local church is edited in the conference. Final editing and all type is set by the Herald staff in the union office. The Herald is sent camera ready to the University Printers for printing and mailing.

The Herald brings unity to the Lake Union Conferences, churches and members. Included in its objectives are: to help members become more involved in church activities and programs, to provide a medium of exchange among churches, and to give notice of coming events.

Evangelism

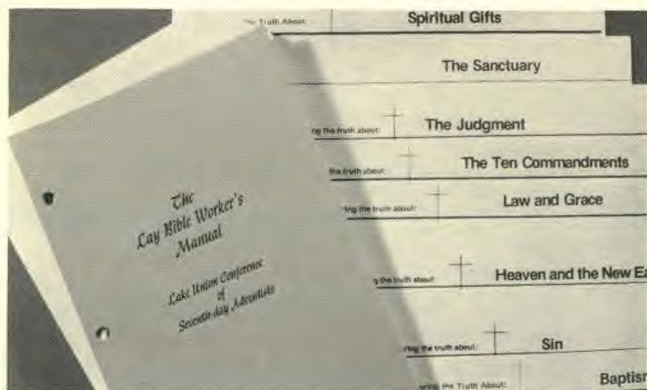

The lay activities and ministerial departments of the Lake Union, directed by Albert Bauer and Don Gray, have combined to help train laymen and ministers to use simple, yet effective, Bible study techniques. A special manual and Bible lessons have been prepared and are now in use by many laymen and ministers.

The Lake Union is providing professional evangelists who hold meetings in the conferences. James Cress held five crusades in the Illinois Conference during the last 15 months, with more than 225 people making decisions for baptisms. In 1980, he will hold four crusades in Michigan.

Robert Connor works with the Lake Region Conference churches. In 1979 he held evangelistic series in Chicago, Indianapolis and Detroit. More than 560 people were baptized. This year he will hold four crusades in other Lake Region churches.

Efrain Murillo is the Lake Union Spanish evangelist. He has given great help in strengthening congregations and establishing new churches. As a result of his crusade in Milwaukee, two Spanish churches were organized in Wisconsin.

The Lake Union's appropriation to the Indiana Conference made it possible for them to hire Lester Carney as ministerial secretary and coordinator of soul-winning. As a result, the Indiana Conference was also able to hire a full-time evangelist.

Soul-winning Institute

The Lake Union Soul-winning Institute is a training center for ministers and laymen. It was opened in July 1979 to teach techniques in soul winning, and to guide students in applying the principles they learned.

God providentially provided a place for the center. The building, complete with bedding, furniture, cooking utensils and dishes, was leased for one year for $1.14. Just recently the lease was renewed—for only $1.00.

Mark Finley, who instructed laymen in New England for five years, is director of the center. Marion Kidder came from Atlantic Union College to train Bible workers.

In the first five-month training session, more than 40 ministers, laymen and seminarians received practical, on-the-job training at the institute.

Various programs were held during the first 2½ months in preparation for public evangelistic meetings.

Two crusades were held in southern Chicago in October. More than 50 people have been baptized and another 50 are attending church and preparing for baptism. As a result, a new church was organized in Burbank. More than 120 people meet each Sabbath in a rented church. Most have been church members only since last July.

Students of the institute are now working in the Broadview, Brookfield and La Grange areas in preparation for an evangelistic crusade to be held in May.

If you are interested in more information about the Soul-Winning Institute, write to the Lake Union, Box C, Berrien Springs, MI 49103.

Lake Union Family

At the end of 1979, the membership in the Lake Union was 56,735, reflecting a net gain of 1,342 for the year. There are 448 churches.

Accessions to the church in 1979 totaled 3,333, a 24-percent gain over 1978. Each of the preceding three years the baptism total has been close to 2,700 each year.

The members of the Lake Union returned $22,050,752 in tithe during 1979, an increase of 9.9 percent over 1978. Total church contributions in 1979 amounted to $37,585,168, or an average of $662.47 per member.

To God be the Glory

God has blessed the united efforts of the conference officers, departmental directors, office secretaries, pastors, teachers, literature evangelists, executive committee members and committed laity.

We have taken this quick look into the past year only for the inspiration we need as we move into the future.

We are not satisfied with past accomplishments. Our Heavenly Father is anxious for submissive people who are willing to be used by the Holy Spirit in finishing His work on earth.

May each of the members of this great Lake Union family—a united people—be completely absorbed in knowing and sharing Jesus.

Three Years of God's Blessings

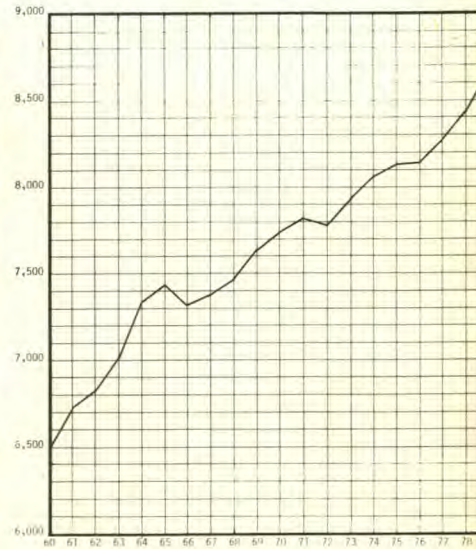

1,501 Baptisms

With the blessings of God and the diligent efforts of pastors, evangelists, teachers, literature evangelists and laymen, Illinois has experienced one of its finest trienniums with 1,501 baptisms. Culminating the period, 1979 was the best year for soul-winning in the history of the conference—649 people joined the church by baptism or profession of faith.

The Hinsdale Korean Church, organized in 1978 and presently meeting in the fellowship hall of the Hinsdale Unitarian Church, represents the seven churches organized during the triennium. The other six are Bolingbrook, St. Elmo, West Suburban Spanish, Fox Valley Spanish, Burr Ridge, and Chicago Rumanian.

MEMBERSHIP GROWTH
20 YEAR SURVEY

The West Frankfort Church pictured here is the newest church facility to be built or purchased. Other churches built or secured include Glen Ellyn, Spanish North, Yugoslavian, DeKalb, Decatur, Galesburg, and Bolingbrook.

The conference has experienced steady growth throughout the past three years. Beginning in 1977 with 8,186 members, the triennium closed with a total of 8,640 members on December 31, 1979.

Five new school buildings or additions were built during the period. This addition to Hinsdale Junior Academy is an asset to the school. Other school buildings include Prairie View, Galesburg, Marion, and South Suburban.

In September 1979, a new church school was established here in the Danville Church. Mr. Charles Winans is the teacher. Two other new schools are Donnellson and Springfield.

Many factors have combined to provide the encouraging increase in sales for the Adventist Book Center of Illinois. New equipment for transportation, storage, and electronic accounting, and a complete remodeling and redecorating of the Brookfield store have all been enhanced by a net operating increase.

More than 450 people, including inner-city youth, day campers, and blind children, as well as Adventist families and boys and girls, enjoyed the Christian camping experience at Little Grassy Lake Adventist Camp each of the past three years. Improvements have been made in camp buildings and new equipment has been purchased. In 1979 Little Grassy became the first Adventist camp in the union to receive full accreditation of facilities, staffing and programming by the American Camping Association.

Student John Hernandez cultivates a vegetable-growing field for Academy Gardens. Broadview Academy experienced its second highest enrollment in history in 1979. The large enrollment requires increased facilities and financial support. Faithful contributions to the B.V.A. one-percent plan will make the proposed industrial arts complex and other facilities a reality.

YEAR	HOURS WORKED	SALES

1978	50,603	589,706.76
1979	57,894	730,265.45
TOTALS	152,155	1,749,283.73

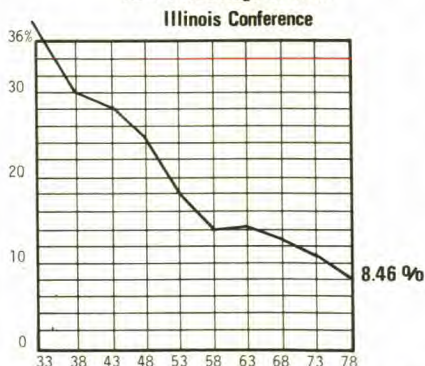

Publishing department leaders and literature evangelists scattered throughout the state are winning converts and placing Adventist books in homes as never before. The triennium reveals an outstanding 98-percent increase in sales for 1979 as compared to 1977.

Completed Documents

YEAR	WILLS	TRUSTS
1977	59	12
1978	36	6
TOTALS	266	71

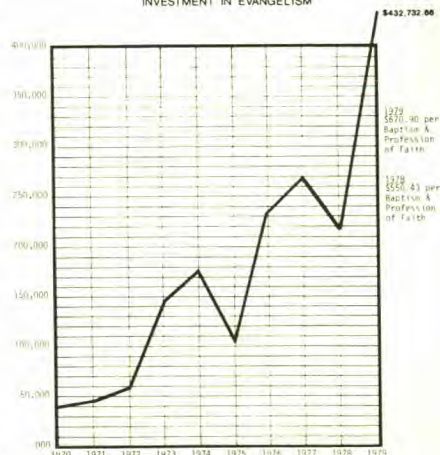

More and more Illinois members are taking care of their future stewardship responsibilities by remembering God's work through wills, trusts and annuities. The 266 wills and 70 trusts completed during the period will not only provide for surviving relatives and children but also help the finishing of God's work in the Illinois Conference.

1933-1978 Sabbath School Offering Comparison As A Percentage Of Tithe

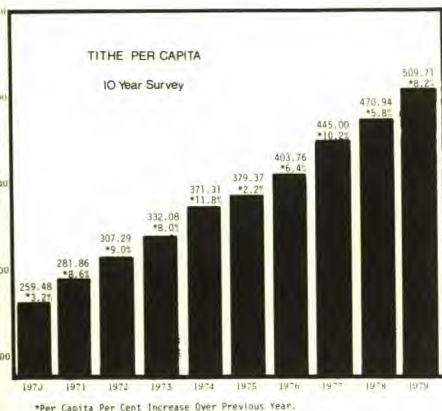

One area of member's participation which has fallen off during the triennium, and indeed since 1933, is Sabbath School offerings for missions as compared to tithe. This figure for 1978 was 8.46 percent of tithe which was only slightly better than the North American Division figure of 8.3 percent. A dramatic increase is needed to continue a vigorous mission program in the face of rising world inflation.

INVESTMENT IN EVANGELISM

Investments in many areas of world finance continue to prove disappointing to business financiers. However, Illinois' continued increases in investments for evangelism are paying dividends. 1979 was a record year with $432,732.66 spent on direct soul-winning.

Illinois continues to be at the very top in leading the North American Division and the world in tithe per capita giving. There is strong evidence of God's blessings upon His faithful stewards.

The Past, the Present, and the Future

by G. W. Morgan, President

Five people were baptized as a result of Elder Larry Cansler's meeting in Crawfordsville.

INDIANA, the heart of the Midwest, was admitted to the Union in 1816 as the 19th state and is home to 5,330,000 people.

It is a state full of thriving industries and farms; all the way from the steel mills of Gary to the farmlands bordering the banks of the Ohio River.

In Indiana you will find a touch of history: its covered bridges contrast with one of the finest interstate highway systems in the nation.

Basketball and auto racing reign supreme for Indiana's sport enthusiasts.

However, for 5,800 Adventists, Indiana is their mission field. For every Seventh-day Adventist there are 1,000 other Hoosiers who need to know God's last day message.

It is the responsibility of the members in the 70 churches throughout the state to share this message.

What has happened during the last three years to reach this overall objective? What are the hopes, dreams and plans as we look into the next triennium?

We are thrilled to report a 15-percent increase in baptisms over the last triennium. From 1977 to 1979, 900 people were baptized.

New companies of believers were formed in Elnora and Warsaw. Plans are now being made to form a new group in Huntingburg.

New church buildings were constructed in Indianapolis Irvington, Lafayette, Noblesville, Paoli and Valparaiso. Houses of worship were dedicated debt free in East Chicago (Spanish), Evansville, Indianapolis (South Side) and Muncie.

The Irvington Church is one of five new churches built during the triennium.

Arlind Hackett, conference treasurer, and his associate, Doug Gregg, report a 27-percent increase in tithe during the past three years. We must recognize that inflation accounts for this increase to a very large degree.

In 1978 Lester Carney was called from California to be ministerial secretary and evangelism coordinator. Shortly thereafter Larry Cansler was called from the Missouri Conference to be conference evangelist.

This has led to a strong and stable evangelistic program in Indiana. During the past three years 55 public evangelistic campaigns were conducted, many by the local pastors.

The It Is Written telecast has been aired throughout the state. Thirty evangelistic campaigns are being planned for 1980.

Elder Ed Skoretz, lay activities and Sabbath School director, reports that Indiana was the first conference in the United States in the last two years to reach the Silver Vanguard Ingathering Goal.

The members have enthusiastically supported an early campaign. Several baptisms have been reported during the triennium as a direct result of Ingathering contacts.

Kentucky-Tennessee's screening van was used during the 1979 camp meeting in Indiana. Funds are now being raised to buy a van for Indiana.

A committee has been formed to raise funds for a health-screening van. Approximately $8,000 has already come in for this project. It is anticipated that this new ministry will be a reality in this coming triennium.

During the past triennium 1,234 non-Adventists attended Vacation Bible Schools and branch Sabbath Schools.

According to Cliff Hoffman, youth, temperance and communication director, the most exciting development he saw with the youth was their involvement in the Festival of Faith program.

The 80 delegates who came back from the Lincoln festival were enthusiastic to see something happen in their home state.

A youth committee began making plans for their own Festival of the Word with the desire to aid in reviving a small church.

In October 1979, 52 delegates met in Lafayette. From there they were taken to Crawfordsville where they knocked on doors, personally inviting people to Elder Cansler's series of Bible Prophecy lectures. As a result five persons were baptized.

During the past triennium two of the largest Five-Day Plans to Stop Smoking ever held in Fort Wayne had nearly 300 participants at each one.

In 1979 Indiana led North America in per capita sponsorship of Listen magazine. Listen went into every high school, college and university library and to the state legislators.

Indiana Advance Two Percent Plus Program was initiated during 1979 as a combined conference offering plan. According to Jerry Lastine, stewardship and trust services director, the Indiana Advance plan encourages church members to give in a systematic way with a percentage going to Indiana Academy development, elementary education and Timber Ridge Camp.

One half of the Indiana Advance total is matched with an appropriation from tithe for evangelism. Elder Lastine also reports that 20 percent of the conference families have made wills through the trust program.

For 16 years before their retirement, Elder and Mrs. C. E. Perry served the conference faithfully in the education and religious liberty departments.

In the middle of the triennium Herb Wrate came from the Northern New England Conference to serve in these two departments. Joyce Rodie assumed her role as educational supervisor in July 1979.

During the triennium two new schools were constructed, Terre Haute and Richmond. Two schools were reopened, Frankfort and Monticello.

This year the elementary enrollment shows an increase of 29 students.

Elder Wrate also directs the religious liberty department, and he reports that Indiana was the only conference in North America to reach its Liberty magazine goal of two subscriptions per member last year.

In the publishing department Richard Tanner reports three years of consistent sales growth with $300,000 in 1977, nearly $400,000 in 1978 and $500,000 in 1979.

The Indiana literature evangelists during this triennium visited and helped prepare for evangelism in approximately 15 Indiana cities and towns.

A new dimension has been added to the Indiana publishing program in the past triennium. Two literature evangelists, Allen Graef (Evansville area) and Chuck Hood (South Bend area), now specialize in visiting businessmen who agree to purchase Listen magazine and other drug education aids for distribution in the public school system. In 1979, $50,000 in Listen magazines and other aids were sold.

Don Stricker, Adventist Book Center manager, and Harold Zacharias, assistant manager, report a 30-percent sales increase over the last triennium.

During 1979, 412 sets of the Conflict of the Ages series were sold at half price. This compares with 15 to 20 sets sold on an average for other years.

Principal Alan Bohman reports that the Indiana Academy enrollment of 224 in 1978 to 1979 is the highest in the last 12 years. During the last three years 72 percent of Indiana Academy's graduates have continued their education, with 56 percent in attendance at Seventh-day Adventist institutions of higher learning.

Some students earn more than 60 percent of their educational costs, with the average being approximately 45 percent.

During the coming triennium the academy administration would like to build another dormitory to house the boys, and remodel the girls dorm.

A new camp format enabled the campers to study their Bibles every day with their counselors.

In Indiana we know that God's power is available to help accomplish His purposes and complete His work.

Note these words from Isaiah 60:1, 2: "Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee."

We determine by God's grace to remove every obstruction from our hearts so the light from Heaven can clearly shine from our lives in every look, word, and action to the end that people will find their way into the Kingdom of Christ.

Indiana is our mission field. We accept the challenge of carrying His message to every person during the 1980's.

Much Accomplished, Much to B

by C. D. Joseph, President

THE Lake Region Conference has realized steady growth and improvements during the past three years in every facet of its operations.

The Publishing Department, with the leadership of T. S. Barber, director; Arthur Suttle; James Jones Jr.; Christopher Jones; Thomas J. Jackson, and Floyd Mathis, assistants, delivered more than $675,000 worth of Adventist literature during 1979.

Twelve new church homes were built or purchased during this period of time. Aurora, Illinois; Battle Creek, Michigan; Chicago-Hyde Park; Chicago-Spanish Northwest; Flint, Michigan; Gary-West; Indianapolis-Eastside; Lansing, Michigan; Maywood, Illinois; South Bend, Indiana; Ecorse, Michigan; and Jeffersonville, Indiana, church members are now comfortably settled in their new churches.

Through the efforts of Lake Region's pastoral staff, Bible instructors and laity, a significant number of new believers have been added.

In 1977 there were 1,006 baptisms, in 1978 there were 844 and this past year 1,079 were added to the membership rolls.

Lake Region's proudest moments of fellowship can be experienced during the camp meeting sessions. Thousands of members representing the five states of Lake Region merge into a perfect whole each year to enjoy the heights of spiritual enrichment.

Improvements have been made yearly to the campgrounds. A new, pure-water source has been added, access roads have been paved, storage facilities have been built and recreational facilities have been provided.

Much has been accomplished with still much to be done before our work here on earth is finished.

Thanks Be to God

by Charles Keymer, President

THANKS be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." I Corinthians 15:57, 58.

We have much to be thankful for as we review the way the Lord has blessed His work in the Michigan Conference during this past triennium.

A third evangelist joined the regular evangelists in conducting outstanding crusades throughout the conference.

In addition to these dedicated soul-winners, 11 out-of-state evangelists conducted at least one campaign each. All the evangelists and pastors involved in meetings conducted a total of 105 evangelistic crusades.

The total soul-winning results in baptisms and professions of faith for the triennium were 2,340. The Lord blessed us with increased results each year until we reached our highest total in this period this past year. In 1977, 595; in 1978, 839, and in 1979, 906.

All programs of the conference were planned to contribute to the main objective: the winning of souls. The following reports indicate how each department of the conference, with the help of all the members, church officers, and conference workers has done a mighty work for God during the past three years.

Sixty churches have been involved in major literature mailing programs; 265,772 Bible enrollment cards have been sent out by mail; 207 audiovisual projectors have been purchased for Bible studies and are now in active use; 65,141 subscriptions to missionary journals are delivered monthly to interested people; seven new community services centers and units have been opened, making a total of 65; $1,201,908 has been raised in the Ingathering program.

New churches have been constructed and opened for services in Edenville, Mt. Pleasant, Niles, West Branch, Holly and Glenwood.

Churches have been dedicated free of debt in Port Huron Blue Water, Plymouth, Urandale, Wyoming, Vassar, Belgreen and Eau Claire.

Churches now under construction to be completed this year are Mio, Munising, Gobles Pinedale and Saginaw.

Churches have been newly purchased in Marion and South Haven.

Fifty-five K-10 schools with 188 teachers have offered Christian education to 2,700 students. The five senior academies have had a total enrollment of 999.

New schools have been opened at Twin Cities and Plymouth; schools at Allegan, Bessemer and Estey have been reopened.

New school buildings have been constructed at Ann Arbor, Flint, Plymouth and Traverse City. Andrews Academy has moved into a brand-new facility.

A total of 698 students attending church schools have been baptized during this triennium.

Approximately 1,000 young people have attended nine Bible camps held at Camp Au Sable and Camp Sagola each year (1977-1979).

Summer camp enrollments have totaled 1,295, with 440 making decisions for Christ and 163 requesting baptism.

One hundred and twenty-seven churches now have youth organizations served by youth leaders; special emphasis has been given to strengthening the work for our senior youth during this past year.

Camp Au Sable has been used by 28,685 people during the triennium. Sixty-four Pathfinder clubs are active in the conference, a gain of 10 percent over the previous triennium.

The total membership of Sabbath Schools as of December 31, 1979, was 18,253. During the triennium 334 Vacation Bible Schools were held with a total attendance of 20,323.

Non-Adventists in attendance totaled 13,684; 262 of these children enrolled in Sabbath Schools, 87 enrolled in church schools, 146 enrolled in Pathfinder clubs, and 30 were baptized.

The Sabbath School offerings for the triennium equaled $2,473,477. This was a gain of $201,531.

During the last three years literature evangelists distributed 174,969 copies of free literature, gave 6,075 Bible studies, prayed in 53,023 homes, enrolled 32,814 people in Bible correspondence courses, were responsible for 116 baptisms, contacted 708 former members, and sold $2,405,523 worth of Bibles, books, and literature.

In addition to this, Adventist Book Centers in Michigan had total sales of $3,764,575.

With the dedicated assistance of 175 health professionals serving in the conference, many people have been reached with the message.

Two hundred and five Five-Day Plans to Stop Smoking were conducted by pastor-doctor teams.

Many youth have been actively engaged in temperance programs, assisting in Condition 21, Adventist Youth for Better Living, Speak-Out rallies, and the annual temperance poster contest.

Religious Liberty donations for the Liberty crusade and emergency fund totaled $167,364 for the past three years.

A careful study has been made of all the proposed legislation in Michigan and the nation to guard against laws which would threaten religious liberty. Many congressmen and statesmen have been contacted, and are now better acquainted with Adventist beliefs and conscientious convictions.

Through the conferencewide MAP (Michigan Advance Program), which was voted by the constituency to meet needs in the conference not covered by the conference budget, $136,410 was received and distributed to all the approved projects.

This has been a great blessing to the conference, and should be more than doubled during 1980. The financial goal of one percent of individual income per month is something in which everyone can participate that will produce great benefits to the advancement of the work.

The Christian counselors in trust services have assisted many members in planning their estates. As a result, 68 trust agreements and 495 wills were completed.

During the past three years 55 trust agreements have matured, totaling $649,369. The distribution of these funds has been as follows: to local churches, $128,361; to the Michigan Conference, $374,071 and to other denominational institutions, $102,971.

The conference officers wish to thank everyone who had a part in making this report possible. A more complete report will be presented to the constituency at the conference triennial session which will be held at Cedar Lake, March 30, 1980.

To God be the glory, great things He hath done.

The Urandale Church was one of several dedicated free of debt during the triennium.

Looking Back, Looking Forward

Baptisms bring great joy to believers in Wisconsin, whether it is a large baptism at camp meeting or a single baptism in a small local church. During 1979 the Wisconsin Conference had the largest number of baptisms in the history of the conference—360 people joined God's family. During the last three years nearly 1,000 people were baptized.

The Wisconsin Conference has entered an exciting new era of evangelism in presenting the message of Christ to Spanish-speaking people. The first Spanish church was organized at the close of 1977. Since then the membership has doubled, and two new Spanish companies have been formed.

Public evangelism has played a major roll in the growth of the conference with meetings held in nearly every major community. Elder J. J. Millett has enthusiastically conducted meetings in several major areas. Public evangelism and Bible studies from members and pastors were the most frequently mentioned influences that led people, without a prior Adventist background, to join the Adventist Church in Wisconsin.

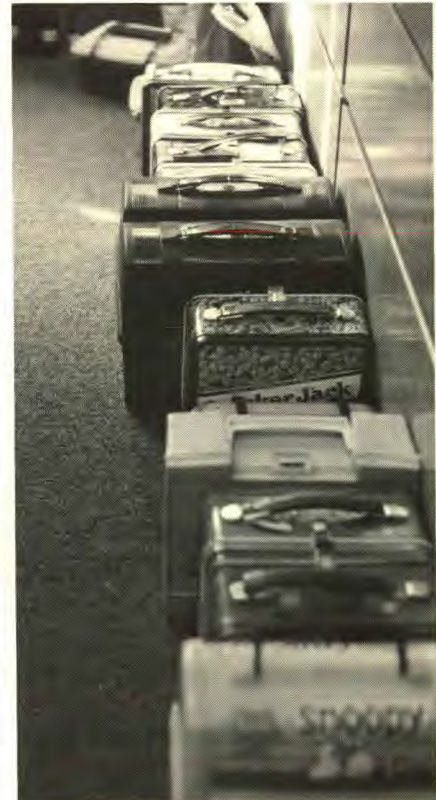

Wood and stone, brick and mortar seem impersonal, but Wisconsin Conference churches are the result of the warmth, love and sacrifice of God's people. During the past three years the Madison Church (pictured) was dedicated to God. Additional church buildings were either constructed, purchased or dedicated at Sheboygan, Marshfield, Menomonie, Sturgeon Bay, Tomahawk, Lancaster, Madison, Milwaukee Spanish and Milwaukee Northwest.

Left: The Portage camp meeting site is now a memory. The conference committee and officers, with God's blessing, worked out the sale of the Silver Lake Campground. This site has been a religious and social meeting place for 55 years. Most of the structures were moved during the summer of 1979, with the help of many volunteer hours of labor from constituents. Right: Camp Go Seek, a former Girl Scout Camp, was purchased in late 1978. This site is currently being prepared for camp meeting in July 1980. Campers will enjoy space and shade in the new facility near Westfield, Wisconsin.

Functionally attractive conference headquarters have been completed and equipped to serve the constituency in their plans to fulfill the commission for Wisconsin.

FRI CHIK™

The taste that makes the recipe...so good

TERIYAKI FRICHIK™

Marinade:

1/2 cup soy sauce	2 tablespoons water
1/3 cup water	1 cup thinly sliced onion
1 teaspoon sugar	1 cup cross-cut sliced celery
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder	1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts
1/4 teaspoon ginger (optional)	1 teaspoon diced pimiento
1 can Worthington FRICHIK™ (13 ounces), drained	1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon margarine	1 teaspoon cornstarch
	2 tablespoons marinade

Combine all marinade ingredients in a bowl. Cut each piece FRICHIK into 4 strips. Place FRICHIK strips in marinade. Allow FRICHIK to soak for 15 minutes. Remove from marinade and drain. Reserve 2 tablespoons marinade for use later.

Melt margarine in a large skillet. Add 2 tablespoons water, onion and celery. Cover and cook at medium heat until vegetables are tender-crisp. Add water chestnuts, pimiento and drained FRICHIK. Heat thoroughly. Combine 1/2 cup water, cornstarch and 2 tablespoons reserved marinade. Add to FRICHIK mixture. Cook and stir as mixture boils for 1 minute and becomes clear and thickened. Excellent served with rice. Serves 3.

FRICHIK™ WITH VEGETABLES

1/3 cup water	1 clove garlic, minced or pressed
3/4 cup sliced carrots	1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
3/4 cup sliced celery	1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons margarine	1/8 teaspoon thyme
1 cup thinly sliced onion	1 can FRICHIK™ (13 ounce), drained

Place water, carrots and celery in a small saucepan. Cover and cook until carrots are tender-crisp. Melt margarine in a medium skillet. Add onion and garlic. Cook covered at medium heat until onion is tender but not browned. Add mushrooms, salt and thyme. Sauté at medium heat until mushrooms are cooked. Add cooked carrots and celery. Mix to blend.

While preparing above, place FRICHIK pieces in a shallow casserole dish or baking pan about 8 inches in diameter. Bake uncovered at 350°F. for 10 minutes. Arrange hot cooked vegetable mixture around FRICHIK pieces. Cover and bake 10 minutes longer at 350°F. Serves 3.

SESAME STYLE FRICHIK™

1 egg, slightly beaten	2 tablespoons sesame seeds
2 tablespoons milk	1/4 teaspoon summer savory
1 can FRICHIK™ (13 ounce), drained	1/4 teaspoon dried leaf oregano
2 tablespoons flour	1/4 teaspoon leaf marjoram
	1/2 cup margarine

Combine egg and milk. Coat FRICHIK pieces with the egg milk combination. Combine flour, sesame seeds, savory, oregano and marjoram. Then coat FRICHIK with this mixture. Heat margarine at medium heat in a skillet. Fry coated pieces in margarine approximately 5 minutes per side or until golden brown. Serve immediately. Yields 5 pieces. Serves 2 to 3.

FRICHIK™ MOZZARELLA

1 can FRICHIK™ (13 ounce) drained	1 cup shredded Mozzarella cheese (4 ounces)
1/2 package frozen WHAM™ (4 ounces)	1 tablespoon Parmesan cheese
	1 tablespoon minced parsley

Cut each FRICHIK piece in half. Arrange FRICHIK pieces in a single layer in a buttered shallow casserole or baking dish. Bake uncovered at 350°F. for 10 minutes. Dice sliced WHAM into 1/2 inch square pieces. Sprinkle diced WHAM* over heated FRICHIK pieces. Top with Mozzarella cheese. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake uncovered at 350°F. for 10 minutes or until cheese is melted and begins to brown. Sprinkle with parsley and serve. Serves 4.

* If desired, diced WHAM may be fried in 2 tablespoons vegetable oil before placing on FRICHIK pieces.
