In a few days delegates will assemble for the 15th business session of the Lake Union Conference at Des Plaines, Illinois. They will meet to hear reports of church activity during the past five years, elect officers and departmental directors for the next quinquennium, and transact other business.

Some may wonder why the church makes such expenditures to conduct meetings of this type. "Is it really worth it?" they ask. "Couldn't the money be better spent for finishing the work?"

The constitution of the Lake Union Conference requires that meetings of this type be held at specified times so that elected officials may account for their stewardship. It is beneficial to both the elected person, as well as to the constituents to know that the work is being carried on in harmony with the beliefs and policies of the denomination.

Meetings of this nature remind all of us that no one is a law unto himself. Those elected to positions of responsibility and trust are representatives of the body, and should act accordingly. The benefits to be derived from such an attitude would be unity and cohesion.

Sessions also provide an opportunity to reflect on God's goodness to His people. We have so much to thank Him for. He has watched over His church and supplied her needs over the years. It is appropriate that periodically we come together as a corporate body of believers and express our gratitude to Him in prayer.

Union sessions are also a time of fellowship. God's people from several states are brought together in a spirit of brotherhood and love. From each other we receive courage and inspiration. We share ideas on how to be more effective in our witnessing. Together we make plans to go to the unsaved throughout our territory and share with them the joy and peace that we have found in Christ.

What is a Union Session?

by John Hayward and George Crumley

ON April 19 and 20, 1981, the 15th Regular Session of the Lake Union Conference will convene with 320 delegates representing the five local conferences of the Lake Union.

It was 79 years ago this month that the first session of the Lake Union Conference was held with Elder A. G. Daniells serving as president. Eighty-seven delegates representing Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin were seated at the session which was held in Chicago. The 1981 session will be the 15th such regular session for this union.

By constitutional provision delegates are selected on the basis of one for each local conference irrespective of size, plus one additional delegate for each 250 members in that conference. Delegates-at-large include union conference executive committee members and General Conference committee members who may be present. Additional delegates-at-large have been appointed to represent the various union institutions.

The purpose of such sessions is to present reports on the activities and progress as well as the finances of the past five years, and to elect union conference officers and departmental directors who will serve during the next quinquennium.

A large committee representing the various conferences and institutions will be selected early in the session. It will be their responsibility to recommend membership for the three standing committees to serve the session—that of the nominating, constitution and bylaws, and credentials and licenses committees.

Charles Bradford, vice president of the General Conference for North America, will serve as chairman of the nominating committee to bring recommendations for the leadership of the Lake Union Conference.

The constitution and bylaws committee will review the present constitution and consider possible changes as suggested by a special General Conference Constitution and Bylaws Subcommittee.

A new name for the Lake Union Conference will also be considered as recommended by the executive committee.

The credentials and licenses committee will review the workers serving the Lake Union Conference and its subsidiary organizations, and recommend appropriate credentials in harmony with General Conference guidelines.

Reports will be given by officers and departmental directors, as well as Andrews University. The newly organized A.H.S.N. (Adventist Health System North), A.H.R. (Adventist Health Resources), and LUSI (Lake Union Soul-Winning Institute) will be reporting for the first time at such a session.

Baptisms for the quinquennium totaled 14,749. Membership of the Lake Union during the past five years has increased from 52,283 to 56,735 with a net increase of 10.72 percent.

During the five years, 18,890 members transferred to other parts of the country, while 17,144 transferred in to churches in the Lake Union territory.

In the five conferences making up the union, there are 448 churches being served by 340 ministers. Throughout the union, 495 teachers instruct 7,300 children in K-12 classrooms.

One hundred and forty literature evangelists devote full time to distributing literature throughout the union, while 1,816 office and institutional workers bring the total working force to 2,791 employees.

Despite the economic problems which currently challenge us, especially in this area of the nation, the tithe for the five-year period totaled $101,628,819, a gain of nearly $35,000,000 over the previous quinquennium.

On the following pages are abbreviated reports from each of the union departments. If you would like a copy of the official session report, send a postcard with your name, address and ZIP code to the Lake Union Conference, Box C, Berrien Springs, MI 49103.

As we pause to thank the Lord for the blessings of the past, we look to the great unfinished task before us. The challenges are tremendous, but the promises of God are sufficient to finish the work and to cut it short in righteousness.

A.S.I.

*Don A. Copsy
Director*

● The basic reason for the existence of Adventist Laymen's Services and Industries is to encourage laymen to witness in their business and professional lives.

● During the past five-year period the unionwide membership of A.S.I. has more than doubled.

Communication

*Jere Wallace
Director*

● The challenge of the communication department is to reach people and build their faith. It is also a commission given to every Christian believer.

During the past five years the measurable results of mass media ministry in the Lake Union show that 4,104 pictures and 15,691 stories were printed, totaling more than 231,636 column inches—enough copy to fill about 155 issues of Newsweek magazine. In addition, 2,194 films, interviews and tapes were broadcast on radio and TV stations, and 4,858 news items were used.

● One of the important mediums of faith-building communication in the union is the Lake Union Herald. The philosophy of this biweekly journal is to inform, instruct, and inspire every member.

Education

*Warren Minder
Director*

● The education department pays special tribute to the parents, teachers, pastors, and church and conference leaders who support the school system. Special tribute is also paid to the Christian youth who attend those schools.

● During the current school year 7,300 children and youth are attending Seventh-day Adventist K-12 schools in the Lake Union.

● During this quinquennium 2,476 church-school children were baptized. This represents more than 17 percent of the total baptisms in the union.

● The level of teacher certification in the union has improved markedly in the past five years. The number of elementary teachers holding conditional/provisional certification has been reduced from 20 to 10 percent, and the number of teachers holding professional certification has increased from 25 to 40 percent.

Health-Temperance

*Charles C. Case
Director*

● This newly reorganized department is the result of the merger of the health department and the temperance department at the General Conference session in April 1980.

● E. Wayne Shepperd Jr. was director of the union temperance department until November 1979. During his leadership, the local conference temperance departments distributed 50,642 pieces of temperance literature, and held 824 Five-Day Plans to Stop Smoking—9,392 persons attended the Five-Day Plans and 6,484 of those gave up smoking.

● Churches and schools in the union were active in 80 exhibits at fairs and shopping malls during the quinquennium.

Lay Activities

*Horace L. Jones
Director*

● The designation "personal ministries" is being used more and more to describe the lay activities of the church.

● During the past five years, 3,556,790 contacts were made by church members with nonmembers. Adventist literature was placed in the hands of nearly 11 million people. Church members conducted 253,082 Bible studies.

● Of the total 14,749 baptisms in the union during the five-year period, laymen assisted 3,150 of these people to make their decisions for Christ.

● The Lake Union operates 317 community services societies, 101 community services units, 87 community services centers, and 16 Adventist Men organizations. During the quinquennium these organizations distributed 7,977,592 articles of clothing and food valued at $1,606,999.

- Four Better Living Centers operate in Chicago, Detroit and Indianapolis.

- Special tribute is paid to Albert Bauer who retired last year as director of the lay activities department.

Loss Control

*William E. Jones
Director*

- Established in 1979, this department's greatest contribution to the union is the savings in insurance premiums. In 1979, $112,298 in premiums were saved; in 1980 $137,203, for a total of $249,501.

- The union and conference offices, academies, youth camps, and industries have been inspected. Many potential loss-producing hazards have been eliminated. More than 65 percent of all the Lake Union churches have been inspected. The Illinois Conference was the first to inspect 100 percent of its churches.

- Money savings are not the total reward; no price can be placed on lives saved and injuries prevented.

Ministerial Association

*Don Gray
Director*

- During the quinquennium several evangelistic tools were developed or revised. A Lay Bible Worker's Manual was prepared for ministers and laymen. "The Bible Says" and "The Advanced Bible Says" Bible lessons were revised, and an instructor's guide was prepared. A special set of Bible lessons for use in the pastor's Bible class was written, as well as a set of lessons on Daniel and Revelation, called Encounter II.

- Five full-time evangelists and several evangelists on loan from other unions increased the number of evangelistic meetings held in the union during the past five years.

- A special color, multi-image presentation of the Adventist message has just been completed to be used by ministers and laymen.

- Under the auspices of this department the Lake Union Soul-Winning Institute was begun in 1979.

Publishing

*John Bernet
Director*

- Lake Union literature evangelists had a gain in sales for 26 months in a row from 1977 to 1979. The total gain was $4,038,163 more than was sold the previous quinquennium.

- A full-time publishing evangelist, Lewis Blumenberg, was hired to train literature evangelists to follow up their contacts. At least 338 baptisms in 1980 took place as a result of literature evangelist contacts.

- Adventist Book Center sales during the quinquennium amounted to $13,660,585, a gain of more than $4 million over the previous five years.

Home, Health, Education Service

Director*

- Established in 1975, H.H.E.S. collects all literature evangelist accounts, and cares for their personal finances.

- In 1980 salaries and allowances amounted to only 5.6 percent of sales, one of the lowest ratios in the North American Division.

Religious Liberty

*Jere Wallack
Director*

- During the past five years there has been a marked increase in the loss of jobs because of Sabbath convictions and labor-union membership problems experienced by Adventists. It has also been a time, however, in which God has worked miracles to intervene in behalf of his people. And many of these circumstances have also provided opportunities for witnessing to attorneys, judges, union officials, personnel directors and others.

- Outstanding steps forward in the interest of religious liberty were taken in the last days of 1980 when the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission issued revised guidelines on discrimination because of religion, and the long-worked-for conscience clause amendment to the National Labor Relations Act was signed into law.

Sabbath School

Horace L. Jones
Director

- Branch Sabbath Schools in the Lake Union increased in number from 48 to 58 during the past five years. Vacation Bible Schools in the union attracted about 7,500 non-Adventist children each year.

- Total offerings for the last quinquennium were $8,515,653, including Investment funds of $1,459,284.

- Community guest days in the union attracted more than 7,000 visitors during the five-year period.

Stewardship and Development

Don A. Copsey
Director

- It is the objective of the stewardship department to lead God's people into such a commitment of life that the full resources of time, talent and treasure will become available to a finished work.

- Stewardship emphasis series have been conducted in local churches, and during the past two years the "personal giving plan" has been introduced into many churches which are now experiencing significant increases in support.

Trust Services

David E. Johnston
Director

- During the past five years special emphasis has been made in several areas of trust services: (1) the need for every adult church member to have a will, (2) the serious consideration of a revocable trust program for older members, (3) the consideration of estate planning in view of probate taxes, and (4) the use of unitrusts, life-income agreements and annuities to take advantage of favorable tax benefits.

- At the present time the organizations within the union manage about $25 million in trust assets. There are about 2,200 wills on file.

Youth

Charles C. Case
Director

- In the Lake Union there are 387 youth societies and 147 Pathfinder clubs. During the quinquennium the five conferences sponsored 187 camps with 13,944 campers attending. More than 4,000 of those young people made a decision for Christ while at camp.

- A total of 44,666 Adventist Youth honors were issued, as were 951 youth leadership certificates. Also, 194 Master Guides were invested.

- Youth of the Lake Union have participated in Festivals of the Word and Festivals of Faith, and have assisted in other evangelistic endeavors.

Adventist Health System North

*Irwin Hansen
President*

● Great Lakes Adventist Health Services, Inc., was formed in 1977, and was merged with Northeast Adventist Health Services in 1980 to form Adventist Health System North, with headquarters in Hinsdale, Illinois.

● At the beginning of this quinquennium Battle Creek Sanitarium Hospital and Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital comprised the church-owned health-care institutions in the union. Today, in the Lake Union, there are four hospitals, nine nursing homes, a visiting nurse service and a new medical clinic at Andrews University under the auspices of A.H.S.N.

● The long-term care division of A.H.S.N. is known as Adventist Living Centers. The eight nursing homes, with a bed complement of 1,170, are directed by this division.

● During the quinquennium the four A.H.S.N. hospitals expanded their services and in some cases their facilities to better serve their communities.

● More than 70 employees of Health Care at Home in southwestern Michigan work together to provide regular home care to the aged and sick.

Adventist Health Resources

*Harry Hartsock
President*

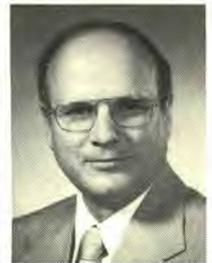

● Adventist Health Resources (A.H.R.) was established in 1978 to assume ownership responsibility for numerous homes in the Hinsdale area which provide rental housing for hospital personnel, and to otherwise support and encourage health-care services throughout the Lake Union by providing financial assistance and in other relevant ways.

● A.H.R. has recently acquired the Downers Grove Medical Center, an office building which accommodates 14 physicians.

● As part of the future relocation plans for Hinsdale Hospital, A.H.R. has secured a 54-acre site north of Hinsdale known as the Office Park, comprised of 21 vacant acres and nine office buildings.

Andrews University

*Joseph G. Smoot
President*

● In 1980 a School of Business was established at Andrews University. The other schools are the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Technology, the School of Graduate Studies, and the Theological Seminary.

● Enrollment in the university increased from 2,830 in the autumn of 1976 to 3,018 in 1980. During the quinquennium 3,610 students graduated from Andrews.

● Physical facilities added during the five-year period included a new instructional building to house the department of aviation and transportation, a new plant for Andrews Academy, and a new men's residence hall, scheduled for completion this spring. A 120-unit apartment complex was acquired for married-student housing.

● For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1980, the university provided more than four million dollars in student labor. Some 80 percent of the students work on campus.

Lake Union Soul-Winning Institute

*Mark Finley
Director*

● The institute's specific goal is to train pastors, seminary students and laymen to lead men and women to Christ. Classroom instruction is combined with practical field experience in the form of Bible studies, seminars, Five-Day Plans to Stop Smoking, cooking schools and evangelistic meetings.

● More than 130 students have received training at the institute since it opened in 1979.

● More than 150 people have been baptized as a result of attendance at programs sponsored by the staff and students of the institute. Many more are preparing for baptism.

● Recently a new church opened in Burbank, Illinois, as a direct result of the outreach of the institute. Currently 120 people attend this church.

CEDAR LAKE ACADEMY PACKAGING EXPANDS

"Did you make a good rate today?" is a question friends at the Cedar Lake Academy packaging industry ask each other often. Understandably so, because making rate, in practical terms, means making money.

The Cedar Lake Academy packaging industry is the largest employer on campus, with a present student work force of 100. The industry plans to employ 150 to 175 students at the beginning of the 1981-82 school year.

The industry has two main divisions: the plastic-toy division, which employs the 14- to 15-year-old students, and the box division, employing 16- to 18-year-olds.

The toy division assembles and packages plastic toys such as race cars, space shuttles and pick-up trucks.

The box division makes small wooden boxes for packaging men's cologne, recipe boxes, fruit crates, and banks shaped like a truck.

It is hoped that C.L.A. Packaging will build nearly two million toys in a year and nearly a million boxes. This translates into about five tractor-trailer loads of toys each week and four loads of boxes.

The industry has new headquarters, with 24,000 square feet of space, and three loading docks. They were formerly located in cramped, temporary quarters.

Gary Stroud, manager, said they are confident the students will do a good job. The first week after their move to new quarters, students improved their efficiency by 30 percent, he said. Larry Peterson is assistant manager.

BOYS LOBBY REMODELED AT WISCONSIN ACADEMY

A visitor to South Hall, the men's dormitory at Wisconsin Academy, would be impressed to see a newly furnished lobby with young men enjoying its comfort.

Early last fall Dean Ron Hessel started a letter-writing campaign to get money for a redecorating project, but the program was slow.

Two interested parents, Fred Miller and Russell Harrison who are contractors in Madison, offered to donate their time during Christmas vacation and the materials to completely remodel the lobby, the monitor's station, and the front hallway.

They put in rustic barn-board paneling and wall paper, remodeled the office with a formica-covered counter, and carpeted the whole area.

Money from the campaign, plus a small capital donation from the Wisconsin Conference, was enough to buy new furniture and accessories for the lobby. The final project in the remodeling scheme, new drapes, may have to wait awhile.

HINSDALE NEWS NOTES

● Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital received nearly $235,000 in gifts during 1980, as well as a $207,400 government energy-conservation grant that covers the three-year period from 1980 to 1982. The $235,000 came from foundations, corporations, hospital auxiliary, physicians and individuals. The year-end mailing to friends of the hospital netted $26,214 from 506 donors (an average gift of $51.80), bringing the total number of donors for 1980 to 1,276.

● Jim Brown, senior pastor of the Eagle Rock Church in Los Angeles, California, spoke for Hinsdale Hospital's Spring Week of Spiritual Emphasis, March 16 to 21. "Expectations" was Elder Brown's general title. He explored the questions: What do you expect from God? What does God expect from you? How does God deal with our failures? Elder Brown spoke for six sessions each day during the work week and presented the sermon for church services at Burr Ridge and Hinsdale churches on March 21.

● The Daily Suburban Trib, a supplement of the Chicago Tribune, included two pages of pictures and a story on "Healthy Cooking," in the March 5 issue. The information was based on an interview with Cindy Hadley, community nutritionist at Hinsdale Hospital's Health Education Center. The story included four recipes for healthful cooking and an invitation for readers to attend a Nutrition and Natural Foods class at Bolingbrook Medical Center, an affiliate of Hinsdale Hospital.

MARCH WAS NUTRITION MONTH

HINSDALE—During March, designated National Nutrition Month, Hinsdale Hospital's dietitians and food service personnel provided materials and activities to promote the theme: "Pep Up Your Prime Time... Exercise, Eat Right and Enjoy."

A nutrition open house, held at the hospital's health education center on March 8, featured samples and recipes of vegetarian entrees and snacks along with information on high-fiber foods, low-calorie foods and drinks, and individual calorie needs.

A puppet skit by the Milk Foundation entertained the children present, and attempted to interest them in better nutrition.

People who visited the cafeteria during March could watch regularly scheduled films on nutrition or receive information on nutrition. The calorie count for some cafeteria foods was posted.

Patients learned more about nutrition during National Nutrition Month through puzzles and recipes provided with their meals.

ALCOHOLISM FAMILY EDUCATION SERIES

HINSDALE—Families of alcoholics can find help for their special problems at a new family education series offered by Hinsdale Hospital's Alcoholism Rehabilitation Services (A.R.S.).

Held at the hospital's health education center, the series is a community outreach of A.R.S. designed exclusively for families of those alcoholics who are not actively seeking help.

The five-week series, April 27 to June 1, will teach family members how to care for their own emotional needs and how to deal effectively with the drinkers in their families.

The first hour of each two-hour session is informative—a film, lecture or panel discussion. The second hour allows for reactions and questions in a small group setting.

For more information, call A.R.S. at (312) 887-2652.

NEW DEPARTMENT CREATED: INFORMATION AND COMPUTER SCIENCE

A new department of information and computer science has been created effective July 1, 1981, according to Dr. William Davidson, dean of the College of Technology.

Computer courses were formerly offered through the mathematics, engineering technology, allied health and business administration departments.

"As a separate entity we should experience more growth in the program," says Lawrence Turner, newly appointed department chairman.

Seventy students are currently pursuing degrees in information or computer science at the university.

The new department will combine existing courses leading to a Bachelor of Science in information science and in computer science, a Bachelor of Industrial Technology in information systems, a Bachelor of Engineering Technology in computer technology, an associate degree in industrial technology and engineering technology, and a Master of Science in information science.

The primary difference between the information science and computer science programs is that the former is more practical, applied and business-oriented while the latter is more theoretical, mathematical and oriented toward "pure" computer studies, according to Dr. Turner.

Also offered will be a one-quarter certificate in data entry and a two-quarter certificate in computer operation as part of the university's occupational education program.

The department will temporarily share facilities with mathematical science until the proposed College of Technology building is constructed. It will be the first separate computer science department in the denomination's colleges and universities, according to Dr. Turner.

Dr. Robert D. Moon, Charles Schlunt, Daniel Bidwell and Dr. Turner will teach the computer courses with assistance from graduate students. Dr. Turner says another full-time professor will be added to the department by autumn.

Dr. Turner was appointed chairman at Andrews' executive board meeting on March 11. His chairmanship will become effective July 1.

CAMPUS HIGHLIGHTS

● Part of a 35-year-old shell collection recently donated by a retired California couple, Pastor and Mrs. H. G. Meyer of Oceanside, is on display at the biology museum in the university's Price Hall. Andrews now has one of the most extensive shell collections in the state of Michigan, according to Dr. Asa Thoresen, biology department chairman. The shells are estimated to be worth more than $8,000, says Dr. William Hughes, assistant professor of biology at the university as well as curator for the collection at the museum. He has organized the thousands of shells with the help of two biology students, Stanley Maxwell and Marty Wessman. Their identification of each shell will be catalogued by computer for easier location. A small portion of the collection still remains with the Meyers, who built the cabinets in which some of the shells are displayed. The shells have been added to the museum's Marjorie C. Snyder collection.

● Malcolm Miller, well-known authority on the Chartres Cathedral in Chartres, France, spoke on the medieval stained glass and sculpture of the cathedral in the biology amphitheater on the 26th of March. The presentation was illustrated with more than 100 slides from his personal collection, mostly taken from high scaffolding in order to preserve the true feeling that the stained-glass gives in real life. In his position with the cathedral, Mr. Miller speaks twice daily from Easter until November to thousands of visitors each year. During the past 12 years, he has spoken at numerous universities in England, Canada and the United States. He is the author of two books on Chartres. The program was part of the university's Concert Picture Series.

● Robert J. Cruise, associate professor of measurement and evaluation at the university, presented research data concerning his new test to measure students' anxiety about statistics courses at the American Personnel and Guidance Association convention in St. Louis, April 13. Termed STARS (Statistics Awareness and Readiness Scale), the test is designed to be administered to beginning statistics students to guide teachers in counseling and curricular planning. Results may be used to help place students into appropriate levels of instruction or into counseling experiences to help them adjust to their coursework. Dr. Cruise presented his research data at the national convention of the American Statistical Association in Houston last August. Former director of freshmen education at the university, Dr. Beth Wilkins, worked with Dr. Cruise on the research project until her sudden death last June.

NEWS NOTES

● CORRECTION: In issue 6 of the Lake Union Herald, dated March 17, 1980, a story entitled "Four Baptized in Illinois" was printed in the Illinois section. The names of the three children in the photo at the left were inadvertently left out. They are Preston Grattendick, and Wendy and Shannon Smith.

● During the past two years work has been done on the Mattoon Church building to make it a more attractive place in which to worship. The building has been covered with vinyl siding, according to Muriel Phillips, communication secretary. The sanctuary has been redecorated and air conditioning installed. Rest rooms have been moved upstairs. A large hall area in the basement has been turned into a Sabbath School classroom. Most of the work has been done by laymen. Members are currently committed to a "window project"—the installation of storm windows and replacement of broken panes.

● The Collinsville youth choir, directed by Shirley Michael, sang March 14 for the Collinsville Church services.

● Elder Art Nelson described campus witnessing activities at Broadview Academy during a program in which the Academy Motet sang. The chamber band also participated in the sacred concert at Moline, March 22.

● Mark Vodell, a Taskforce Volunteer working in Secular Campus Witnessing at Western Illinois University at MaComb, told of Adventist Youth activities in his native Australia during the recent Mississippi Valley Youth Rally at Moline.

NUTRITION POSTER WINNER AT ROCKFORD

Missy Schroeder, 10, of the Rockford Seventh-day Adventist School, won first prize in her age group for the Rockford area in the Illinois Council on Nutrition poster contest. Missy's school family learned of her success, and they had a box of "Arizona Sweets" oranges delivered to her at school. She promptly shared them with her classmates and teachers. Missy's poster and those of two other winners from Rockford have gone to Springfield, Illinois, for statewide competition, according to Joyce Friestad, communication secretary.

PEORIA PATHFINDERS SHARE TENTS

NEWS NOTES

● On Sabbath, March 14, five children were dedicated to the Lord in Elkhart, according to Sharon B. Earls, communication secretary. Pastor David Hakes performed the ceremony with the assistance of former pastor Eugene Stutz. The children who were dedicated were Karri Hakes, Cynthia and David Chambers, Jason Elliott and Nicholas Chester.

● On Sabbath, March 14, about 300 youth and their leaders attended the Pathfinder Youth Rally in the Kokomo Church. A large number stayed for recreation that evening in the Y.M.C.A.

● Cicero Community Services has been busy this winter supplying the needs of the many victims of fires, according to Ramona Trubey, communication secretary. Because of the increased number of wood-burning stoves in homes, an increased number of fires has resulted. The call for bedding and linens has been especially heavy. Robert Byram and his wife, Cicero church members, constructed a drop box so people can leave items for the center at any time of the day or night. According to the center director, Catherine Kuzmaul, response has been good and supplies have come in to meet the demands.

WOLF LAKE BENEFITS FROM CONSISTENT WITNESS

Wolf Lake Seventh-day Adventists received a check January 3, 1981, for $3,420.48—the annual distribution of income from the Howard Wood Estate.

"The 38 members in this historic Adventist Church are excited!" declared Pastor Jim Clarke. "We are planning to use these funds in our witnessing outreach to future members."

Who was Howard Wood? The Woods owned and operated a garage in Wolf Lake many years ago and were impressed by the consistent lives of faithful Adventists such as Frank Meekers and Leota Tomlinson.

Although the Woods never joined the church, they admired its teachings, and established a trust fund at the American State Bank of Ligonier, Indiana, with the Wolf Lake Church as a beneficiary.

If non-church members feel impressed to set up a trust fund for the Seventh-day Adventist Church, would it not be advisable for Adventists to also consider the future expansion and completion of the Gospel commission?

For more information or help in setting up your will or trust, contact Trust Services, P.O. Box 1950, Carmel, IN 46032.

NICHOLSONS CELEBRATE 58TH ANNIVERSARY

Herschel and Violet Nicholson of Bedford, Indiana, are celebrating 58 years of married life on March 31, 1981. They were baptized in the Adventist Church at Bedford in 1937, and Violet has attended camp meeting every year since then. They have three daughters, Jeannette Thompson, Betty Bowden of Bedford, and Wanda DeBolt of South Daytona Beach, Florida; three granddaughters, and seven great-grandchildren, all of whom are members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. No formal celebration is planned.

HOME AND SCHOOL ACTIVE IN CICERO

On Sunday evening, March 15, Don VanDuinen, principal of the Ruth Murdoch Elementary School in Berrien Springs, Michigan, was the guest speaker for the Cicero Home and School Meeting.

Presenting "Behavior Modification" to the parents and guests there, Dr. VanDuinen stated, "Teaching is guiding the learning process of others. If there is no learning taking place, there is no teaching." He emphasized the qualities needed for a good teacher.

Paul Haynes, chairman of Indiana Academy's music department, has been teaching band instrument lessons and directing a church school band this year. At the home and school meeting the band performed for the second time this year. Victor Tanner, one of the eighth-graders, played a snare drum solo.

The seventh- and eighth-grade room was awarded $10 for bringing the most parents and guests to the meeting as part of the incentive program for increasing attendance.

Prizes for the top three Tom Wat sales persons were awarded to Tim Randall, Carey Payne and Celia Trubey. About $1,100 was raised through the sale of Tom Wat gifts during the month of October to benefit the school.

Lester and Naomi Trubey work on upholstering to raise funds for their church.

BLESSINGS UNLIMITED

When the new Noblesville Church was built, the debt was about $75,000.

Lester and Naomi Trubey wondered what they could do besides giving their regular offerings to help pay off this debt.

Since both of them were over retirement age, it would have been easy for them to say that someone younger could worry about it, but this was not their attitude.

Lester rented some land and planted soy beans for profit. Later on he and Naomi decided to do upholstery work in their spare time. On one big job several fellow church members helped them.

Last year two church members gave Lester the use of their land for a corn project. In spite of the fields being flooded, they realized more than $5,000 in crops. Altogether their projects have netted more than $10,000.

If you are building a new church or school in your community, try some special project to raise funds and see how the Lord will bless you.

SWEETHEART BANQUET HELD IN MARION

The Marion Seventh-day Adventist Church celebrated its second Sweetheart Banquet on February 15, 1981. The program consisted of a social hour, dinner, entertainment, group singing and a surprise slide presentation of church members in their younger years, according to Darlene Turner, communication secretary. Many members wondered how Pastor Rick Blythe managed to obtain these pictures without their knowing it. Four mystery guests attended: Elder and Mrs. Norman Bassett, and Elder and Mrs. Lester Carney, conference ministerial secretary. The evening ended with a film entitled, "The Fifth Avenue Irregulars." The members were happy to see several former members in attendance.

The Charles Connor Family

CONNORS NAMED FAMILY OF THE YEAR

The Fairhaven Church recently selected the Charles (Chuck) Connor family as the family of the year. The award was based on the family's contributions to church and community, their moral standards, courtesy, industriousness, cooperativeness, Christian spirit, witness, church attendance and friendliness.

The Connor family is very active in both church and community activities.

Chuck is deacon, and he is never too busy to help collect food, clothing or other necessities for the needy, whether they be church members or total strangers.

He even finds time to drive the church bus when the regularly assigned drivers are not available.

Helen Connor has served as Sabbath School Superintendent for two consecutive years and helps where her services are needed.

Chuck and Helen have been blessed with four children. They have remained faithful to the church. Charles Jr. resides in Washington, D.C.

Carmella is presently a student at Columbia Union College. Jo Ann is the manager of Ronnoc Educational Consulting Services in Lansing, Michigan. Carol is a teacher at Shiloh Academy in Chicago.

Now that the Connor children are grown, Helen and Chuck have assumed the responsibility of raising three foster children.

Many people have experienced the pleasure of arriving at the Connor home, without previous warning, and enjoying the warm fellowship and hospitality there. The Lord has truly blessed them with boundless energy.

Although the Connor family is being recognized at this time, it is hoped that all Christian families around the world will recognize they are blessed to be a part of the family of God.

OAKWOOD ALUMNI BANQUET WELL ATTENDED

Oakwood College supporters throughout the metropolitan Detroit area came together to celebrate the first annual banquet given by the Detroit Chapter of the Oakwood Alumni Association. Barth Hall in St. Paul's Cathedral was filled to overflowing with the participants.

Charles E. Bradford, vice president for the North American Division of the General Conference, was the honored guest for the occasion.

The program began with prayer offered by Benjamin P. Browne, pastor of the Detroit City Temple Church.

David Brezell, president of the alumni association, introduced Robert Andrews, director of public relations and development at Oakwood. Elder Andrews spoke of the improvements at Oakwood College.

He shared with the audience the fact that Oakwood is one of five black southern colleges which operates a computer terminal connected to Princeton University, making a wide variety of information available to the school.

He also related that the Aoelians recently became the first black choir to sing in the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Utah.

A trip to Poland is being planned for the choir.

Several presentations were made. Esther Lowe of the City Temple Church received a gift for her many years of service to the church, school and the General Conference Executive Committee. Elder Bradford received a Bible.

David Brezell and Elder Bradford were each given a hand-painted Norman Rockwell dish. Hudie Davis, Attorney Frederick Risker and Thomas Maycock were given lifetime memberships to the association.

The association is especially grateful to Attorney Risker who obtained matching and tripled funds from the Exxon Corporation in 1980.

Elder Bradford injected both seriousness and humor into his keynote address as he challenged the audience to three directives: mission, priorities, and goals and objectives.

Musicians who participated in the program were Cedric Dent, pianist; Ronald Cantrell, saxophonist; and Joseph Wilkins and Veronica Farrell, vocal soloists.

Construction is underway on the new Berrien Springs Church Youth Chapel.

YOUTH CHAPEL IN PROCESS IN BERRIEN SPRINGS

Progress continues on the youth chapel at the Berrien Springs Village Church. Members have turned out for Sunday painting sessions, while the youth are looking selectively at carpet and fabric samples in anticipation of completion.

Plans had been made before the October ground-breaking to bring the foundation to ground level in preparation for building to resume in the spring.

But the enthusiasm of the youth and offers by members to pay for materials, provide interest-free loans, and to donate many hours of labor, made it possible to continue the work ahead of schedule.

Many experiences of locating needed materials in just the right quantity and size, increased the faith and encouraged the builders to know that the Lord was truly leading in the project.

Contractor Phillip Riess said the 40-x-60-foot addition adjoins the church and has its own heating plant and a separate entrance.

The roughed-in shell, with an estimated cost of $30,000, is being financed largely by a 5-percent increase in the church's budget plan, making fund raising unnecessary.

Ministry to the youth of the church is the primary purpose for building the chapel, although it will be used for small weddings, prayer meeting and vespers. The youth pastor at the church is Brian Stevenson.

NEWS NOTE

● March 9 was set aside as clean-up day at the Michigan Conference office. Now an annual event in Michigan, the day provides opportunity to free valuable shelf space from obsolete inventory and clutter. At a time of national interest in economy, the church can do many things to increase cost effectiveness and make the Lord's business as efficient as possible.

BATTLE CREEK PIONEERS WIN TROPHY

This float, entered by the Battle Creek Pioneers Pathfinder Club in the Marshall Christmas parade, won the much-sought-after Ken Burden Memorial trophy presented by the city. Directors of the 60-member club are Dr. Duane Wacker and his wife, Charlene. The parade was witnessed by more than 15,000 persons.

WILLIAM TAYLOR REACHES 94 YEARS

A former Battle Creek Sanitarium Hospital nurse, William Taylor, celebrated his 94th birthday on April 10, 1981. He has been a lifelong member of the Adventist Church. Mr. Taylor is now a member of the Kalamazoo congregation. Looking back, he recalls the early years of the church when believers met in homes. "How they looked forward to camp meeting," he said. He remembers hearing Ellen White preach at the Dime Tabernacle in Battle Creek. He was a student at Fox River Academy at Sheridan, Illinois, in his youth. Grateful for good health and a long life, Mr. Taylor attributes both to the continual blessing of the Lord upon his efforts at healthful living.

Harold Morricks, member of the Detroit Metro Church for 57 years, presented the church history during the Sabbath worship hour.

STUDENTS WIN TEMPERANCE CONTEST AWARDS

Winners of the annual temperance poster contest at Ruth Murdoch Elementary School, Berrien Springs, were announced recently. "The posters illustrated temperance ideas in the fields of alcohol, tobacco, drugs, and any aspect of better living," said Charles Case, temperance director of the Lake Union Conference. He was guest speaker at the awards assembly. Judges Terry Dietrich, Jane Morrison and Kermit Netteburg awarded cash prizes totaling $80 to, from left, first row, Richy Marsh, Christopher Down, Morris Willauer, Roger Amarin, Neil Austen, Hernan de Paiva, Shelly Scott, Rhonda Medina, Ramelda Antonio, Arleen Lachica and Kathy Stutz. In the second row are Bill Jones, Mark Jacobs, Rob Orrison, Lynn Hoppe, Karen Holman, Sissel Sagmo, Stacey Bell, Anette Gustavsson and Laura Constantine. (Photo by Jeffrey Johnston.)

DETROIT METROPOLITAN ENJOYS HOMECOMING

The Detroit Metropolitan Church was host to friends, and former members and pastors on the weekend of March 20 to 21.

The program included three former pastors, special music, a church history, and a Detroit-area combined-choir program.

Bruce Babienco, who was pastor from 1973-78, presented the Friday evening devotional, "God's Kind of People."

During the Sabbath morning worship hour, Harold Morrnick, a Metro member for 57 years, presented a historical report dating back to 1891 when work began in Detroit. During the following years the Metropolitan congregation spawned 21 congregations.

Robert Boothby, pastor when the church was built in 1953, offered the morning prayer, and Horace Reading, pastor from 1969-73, presented "Rags to Riches," a sermon on righteousness by faith.

More than 300 members and friends remained for the fellowship dinner after the morning service.

At a 5 P.M. vesper program the Warren, Troy, Plymouth, Oakwood and Metropolitan choirs presented music. During the program Paul Penno Jr., youth pastor during the early '70s, presented a message about "the glorious hope."

The social committee brought the occasion to a close by furnishing an evening meal for everyone who stayed.

The activities were more meaningful than usual because of several recent occurrences. The school, Southfield Junior Academy, has relocated in Inkster. The church building has been sold to the Lawndale Church of God.

Members have purchased new property 10 miles west, near I-275 and 5-Mile Road, and a committee is studying plans for a new church building. There is also the possibility of a merger of the Detroit Metropolitan and Livonia congregations.

The merged congregation will use the Livonia Church building until a new facility is completed.

Some participants at the Detroit Metro homecoming were from North Carolina, Texas and California.

NEWS NOTE

● A baptism was recently celebrated at the Wausau Church, according to Sally Westman, communication secretary. Clint Zeisner, son of Cliff and Carol Zeisner, and Alexis Nyberg, daughter of Steve and LeeAnn Nyberg, were baptized March 21, 1981, by Pastor Paul Scofield. The church welcomed these young people into the family of God.

"Conforming" was the theme of a Sabbath School pantomime at the winter retreat.

A WINTER RETREAT

A winter retreat without any snow? You wouldn't think that could happen in Northern Wisconsin, but when a large group of young people gathered for the annual winter retreat at Whispering Pines, February 20 to 22, no snow was to be found.

However, where young people gather snow is not necessary for a good time. In front of a blazing fire on Friday evening, James Redfield, guest speaker for the weekend, directed a getting-acquainted game. Each person had to ask a stranger four questions.

On Sabbath morning invigorating singing and an inspiring Sabbath School were directed by Bud Rosen. Special music, poems, a pantomime on conforming, and a challenging lesson study preceded the morning message.

Football was played on the patchy snow at the annual winter retreat in Wisconsin.

Free time for hiking and visiting was followed by an afternoon of singing, questions and answers, and sunset vespers.

Instead of tubing and ice skating, lively group games, table games, table tennis, and popcorn around the fireplace filled the evening hours.

After worship on Sunday morning, many people played football and round-robin table tennis.

To close the retreat, the group stood in a circle singing "Side by Side." Some expressed the feeling that they longed for the day when "we will never part again."

VEGETARIAN BURGER™

The taste makes the difference.

SAVORY BURGER BOATS

- | | |
|--|---|
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil | 1 tablespoon chopped parsley |
| 2/3 cup chopped celery | 3/4 cup (3 ounces) shredded American cheese (divided) |
| 1/4 cup thinly sliced green onion | 1 can tomato sauce (8 ounces) |
| 1 medium tomato (peeled, seeded and chopped) | 6-10 hard rolls (number depends on size of rolls) |
| 1 can Worthington VEGETARIAN BURGER™ (20 ounces) | |

Heat oil in a skillet. Add celery and onion. Sauté at medium heat until vegetables are tender-crisp. Add chopped tomato continuing to sauté 2 minutes longer. Combine cooked vegetables and VEGETARIAN BURGER in a large bowl. Add parsley, 1/2 cup shredded cheese and 1/3 cup tomato sauce. (Reserve remaining tomato sauce to serve with Savory Burger Boats.) Mix thoroughly but gently. Yields 3-1/2 cups.

Slice tops off the hard rolls. Scoop out the soft bread leaving a 1/2 inch thick shell. Fill shells with the VEGETARIAN BURGER mixture. Each roll will require about 1/3 to 1/2 cup mixture, depending on the size. Sprinkle the filled rolls with the remaining 1/4 cup shredded cheese. Place filled rolls on a baking sheet. Bake at 400° for 10 to 15 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Garnish with additional sliced green onion, if desired. Serve with remaining heated tomato sauce. Serves 6 to 10.

Many people submitted color slides for possible use on the cover of the Herald during 1980. A new year provides a new opportunity for Lake Union photographers. If you have color slides or black-and-white photos you would like to submit for 1981, here are some guidelines:

1. No color prints, please, as they are harder to reproduce.
2. Only photos with vertical composition will be considered.
3. Only photos taken in the Lake Union should be submitted.
4. Each submission will be examined by qualified photographers and only the best will be selected.
5. You will be notified if we plan to use your black-and-white photograph or color slide. Payment for color slides accepted for cover use will be $25; for black-and-white photos, $15. Payment will be made after the photo has been printed.
6. If you want your photos returned, include a stamped, addressed envelope.

Send your slides and photos to the Lake Union Herald, Box C, Berrien Springs, MI 49103.

ADVENTIST SPOTS SEEN IN LAKE UNION

"A 30-second spot announcement by the Adventist Church is being aired every Sunday between 10 and 10:15 P.M. on WFLD, Chicago," announced Dan Matthews, Director of Faith For Today.

A total of 23 television stations across the country are carrying the spots during the first half of a 30-minute telecast called "The Baxters," produced by WCVB, an ABC-affiliate station in Boston. In addition, 930 cable systems are carrying the program.

"The Baxters" is produced with 15 minutes of a dramatically portrayed family situation followed by 15 minutes of live-audience response.

Issues deal with family and personal life.

During the first 15 minutes a 30-second spot from the Adventist Church will be aired every week this year. Topics of the spots, produced by Adventist Media Productions, deal with family, health, and social themes.

Faith For Today was sure that Adventists around the country would be excited about having their church advertised every week to this large an audience, and felt that church members would give full support to the project.

Lake Union church members outside of the Chicago viewing area may check their local cable listings for time and channels of other airings of "The Baxters."

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO STUDY DANIEL AND REVELATION

A Daniel and Revelation Committee has been appointed by the General Conference Committee to implement the agreement among those who attended the Glacier View Conference last year.

Its purpose, according to General Conference President Neal Wilson, is to provide a more exhaustive, analytical scholarly study of the questions raised by the former Daniel Committee, which was halted in 1966 without the production of a report because the members could not come to any harmonious agreement.

Chairman of the new committee is William R. Leshar, director of the Biblical Research Institute. He said that the members would examine the problems in Daniel 8:14 and chapters 7 and 12.

They intend to concentrate on passages frequently used by Seventh-day Adventists, compare the teaching of the prophetic books with that of Leviticus and Hebrews, and follow the counsel of Ellen G. White to study the book of Revelation in connection with Daniel.

Dr. Leshar expects a minimum of two years will be needed for the study. A first meeting of the committee to be held this spring is expected to establish procedures.

Members are: W. R. Leshar, Chairman; Frank Holbrook, Secretary; N. E. Andreasen; D. D. Baldwin; I. T. Blazen; R. F. Dederen; W. D. Eva; Madelynn Haldeman; G. F. Hasel; W. G. Johnsson; H. K. LaRondelle; C. M. Maxwell; James Melancon; Beatrice Neall; Enoch Oliveira; R. W. Olson; Jan Paulsen; Elbio Pereyra; W. L. Richards; K. A. Strand; E. E. Zinke.

REVIEW AND HERALD NASHVILLE PLANT SOLD

The Review and Herald Publishing Association has sold its Nashville plant, says general manager Harold F. Otis Jr. Contracts were signed in December 1980 with GML, Inc., which purchased the publishing plant, including land, and some equipment for $3,320,000. The work at the plant will continue, but will be gradually phased out, until May 15. Many Nashville employees will be moving to the Washington D.C. area to work.
