

Wilbur J. Cohen, former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, addressed the audience on "Health Care in the '80's" at the Thorek Hospital and Medical Center dedication.

Thorek Hospital Dedicates New Facility

CHICAGO, Ill.—Beautiful weather and a large crowd were on hand for the dedication of the new $14 million patient care facility at Thorek Hospital and Medical Center, Chicago, on Tuesday, July 12.

A local Boy Scout troop drum corps began the dedication ceremony, which was attended by 700 people.

Louis E. Gordon, president of Thorek Hospital, led the ceremony. He was followed by Philip Thorek, M.D., medical director of the hospital, and Robert H. Carter, president of the Lake Union Conference and vice chairman of the board of Thorek Hospital.

Elder Carter expressed congratulations to the hospital and said that he was very happy to have a quality facility such as Thorek carry on the Adventist ideal of healing the whole being, spiritually as well as physically.

Elder Carter then introduced the guest speaker Wilbur J. Cohen, former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. Mr. Cohen addressed the audience on "Health Care in the '80's."

In his address, Mr. Cohen said that the United States needs dynamic, constructive leadership to develop a health care policy for all of its citizens, regardless of their financial situation.

Following Mr. Cohen's address a ribbon-cutting ceremony, reception, luncheon, and tours of the new facility were held.

Those who toured the new six-story, 120,600-square-foot facility saw its five surgical suites, intensive care unit, emergency room, outpatient department, new patient rooms, and the most advanced equipment available.

Diagnostic and support services once scattered throughout the hospital are now efficiently located in the new building.

Construction on the new facility began in the fall of 1980. During this period patient care at the 218-bed hospital continued uninterrupted. Departments were moved into the new building as sections were completed.

Thorek Hospital joined Adventist Health System North in October 1982 when its board of directors voted to affiliate with the system.

City Temple Sponsors Soup Kitchen

LAKE REGION—The unemployment rate in the city of Detroit, Michigan, is at an all-time high. Because of this the members of the City Temple Church receive frequent requests for food baskets to be given to members of the community who are not able to feed their families adequately.

Adlon Turner, chairman for the Community Service Committee, heard about soup kitchens located in the Detroit area and began to dream about a soup kitchen which would be operated by the City Temple Church.

Sister Turner asked the pastor of her church, Benjamin Browne, to join her on a visit to the Capuchin Soup Kitchen.

Sister Turner and Elder Browne observed the operations and began to visualize their own facility operated by the church.

A soup kitchen would provide more balanced meals than the food baskets they had been giving away, and the prepared meal would provide a greater opportunity for missionary contacts.

The idea of a soup kitchen was presented to the members of the City Temple Board, and the board members agreed that the program was needed.

The food-sharing program has been in operation for several months now.

A number of civic organizations and clubs have contributed food and money to the program. A commercial refrigerator was donated by the Friendship Circle Club.

The food program is available two days per week. To date, approximately 5,000 meals have been served.

Now It's Time to Move Ahead

WASHINGTON, D.C.—It's time to move ahead in North America. We have too long been timid, tentative, tenuous. We have allowed the enemy to steal the march on us, and occupy the ground.

We have been too much into survival. We are scared stiff of public opinion and what others think about us.

We need to throw these cautions to the wind and stop counseling with our fears.

It is time to move ahead in North America. Time to shake the trench mentality. Time to bring the big weapons out of mothballs.

"The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds." II Corinthians 10:4 New International Version.

Now we're into the 1,000 Days of Reaping. A challenge big enough to lift us out of the status quo into action. It is as if the Spirit is saying to us, Don't just stand there, do something! Don't stop to quibble, criticize, rationalize, complain or question.

"Do something, do it soon, with all thy might; An angel's wing would droop if long at rest; And God Himself, inactive, were no longer blest." Quoted in Testimonies for the Church, vol. 5, p. 308.

C. E. Bradford

We have had our church growth studies, our seminars, our retreats, our planning sessions. We've strategized, theorized, philosophized. It is time now to go to work. Men and women of action are needed.

It all begins with you. You are a part of the body of Christ. You have a part to play, a function within this body.

May the Lord grant us all largely of His Spirit so that the church in these last days may become the church triumphant, "Terrible as an army with banners."

The Invisible Needy

LAKE UNION—It has been said that for every story judged newsworthy for publication a newspaper will reject many that are equally good and interesting, but for lack of information, space or verification they are laid aside.

Most of the time stories are not published because of lack of information, yet this invisible news may indeed be as important as that which is published.

The present program of community services within the church is impressive, yet what about the needy of whom we are not aware—the invisible needy?

They are out there in every city, every town, every community.

Sometimes, however, pride, inability to communicate, or other personal reasons keep them from obtaining help. They suffer on and on in their personal agony and nothing is done to help because they have not asked for help.

Community services in the past has been most concerned with the hungry, naked and impoverished. These are the most visible of the needy and they must be helped.

But there are also those with deep social, emotional, physical and spiritual needs to whom our community services network of centers can give invaluable aid.

Single parents, the recently bereaved, the new parent, the new resident, the accident victim, the crime victim, the elderly, the sick, the adolescent, and many more represent special opportunities for ministry.

Let us pray for wisdom to enlarge the ministry of community service to all those who are in need of help.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Matthew 25:40.

Community Service Director*

The Rest of the Story

The following letter was received from Virginia Smith, a New London, Wisconsin, church member after she had seen the third quarter 1983 NO ONE BUT YOU program entitled "Earthen Vessels":

"I have just finished viewing NO ONE BUT YOU, and I was overjoyed and thrilled to see Wendy Pfundtner of the Rhinelander, Wisconsin, Church School and her students. You see, I have a special interest in Wendy. She is a very dear friend of mine. I'm the lady that studied the Bible with her when I came to the New London Church.

Wendy Pfundtner

"Wendy had been visiting the church quite regularly for some time. The pastor was moving away and another was in the process of moving to the district. It was during this time that I studied with her.

"Wendy wanted to be baptized at camp meeting; in the river like Jesus. So, directed by Elder Robert Dale, who at that time was president of the Wisconsin Conference, Wendy and I met Elder Don Towar who was to be our new church pastor.

"Elder Towar talked with Wendy, and the last Sabbath of camp meeting in 1981 Wendy was baptized.

"Since Wendy was a teacher, I encouraged her to see about teaching in one of our schools. And you know the rest. She's been in Rhinelander ever since."

After receiving this letter, the Herald contacted Virginia Smith and Wendy Pfundtner. It was learned that Wendy had been a school teacher in New Mexico, and while there became acquainted with Adventists at the La Vida Mission.

A close friendship developed, and Wendy was introduced to Adventism.

When allergy problems forced Wendy to return to her hometown of New London, Wisconsin, she began attending the New London Seventh-day Adventist Church.

After Wendy had attended the church for a few months, Virginia Smith moved to New London from Waupaca, Wisconsin, and the two women became acquainted.

Some of Wendy's teaching and witnessing experiences with her students at the Rhinelander Church School are outlined in the program "Earthen Vessels."

And now you know the rest of the story.

Community Services Leader Tries New Approach

INDIANA—Flossie Compton, community services leader of the Columbus, Indiana, Church, believes in doing things differently. On July 4, Mrs. Compton loaded the car of Genevieve Drake, communication secretary, and they took clothes to people.

Fifteen people in a low income housing area near Columbus were contacted in a door-to-door visitation. More than 200 pieces of clothing were distributed. Gospel tracts were also given to each person contacted.

As the two women spoke to people they met, they learned of specific needs, and they later made a second delivery of these special items.

July 4 was Mrs. Drake's birthday, and at the close of the day she said, "It was the happiest birthday I've ever had."

Indiana Conference News Notes

- The Crammer family are new members in the Anderson Church. They were baptized by Gilbert Andersen. According to Diane Jones, communication secretary, Mr. Crammer had been studying with other denominations for several years but was not satisfied with what he was learning. He became acquainted with John Dohrer, an Anderson church member, who began studies with him. Eventually the whole family joined the study and were baptized.

- Casey Chovan and Lois Hawkes of the Fort Wayne Church taught a nutrition class recently. Neighbors and church members attended the course, which taught how to make bread, sweet rolls, donuts, dinner rolls, filled rolls, braided bread, and elephant ears.

- Six persons were baptized June 4 in the Muncie Church by Pastor Chico Rivera as a "firstfruits" of the Revelation Seminar. The New Communion Singers from the Indianapolis Glendale Church provided the music for the service.

- Montgomery Nickless was the first graduate of the Bedford Church School. James Brown, pastor of the church, was the guest speaker at the May graduation service.

- On Sabbath, June 4, the Bedford Church honored Mary Ann Waggoner for her recent graduation from Indiana Academy. She plans to attend Southern College next year.

- The Elkhart Church is under construction. The congregation plans to worship in their new facility by August. John Hayward, executive secretary of the Lake Union Conference, will be conducting a series of lectures there in the fall, reported Sharon Earls, communication secretary.

- Ingathering in the South Bend Church has taken on a new twist. Ruby Lushbough, coordinator for the program, has divided the membership into the "Sons of Jacob" with a sponsor for each of the twelve tribes. "I feel the most important part of Ingathering is to get our world-wide report before the people. This is the most effective way to meet the most people and let them know what our missionary program is," declared Mrs. Lushbough. Her goal is to finish the Ingathering campaign before cold weather.

- Nine people were baptized at the Madison Church on Sabbath,

May 28, as the result of a Revelation Seminar held in March by Pastor Jerry Arnold.

- Lena Weesner and Bette Haisley were baptized on June 11 at the Marion Church. According to Mary Jane Rowe, communication secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Good had given Bible studies to Bette.

- Pastor David Pancake of the Illinois Conference returned to his home church in Evansville on July 16 to preach the Sabbath sermon. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pancake of Evansville.

- The Evansville Church choir, directed by Ron Bolin, has purchased choir robes and participated in areawide musical programs.

- Summertime activities in the Evansville Church included the Pathfinder Fair held at Timber Ridge Camp, continued distribution of Cosmic Conflict, and the placing of church highway signs, according to Sunny Weedman, acting communication secretary.

- Crawfordsville church members welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Young into church membership at a baptismal service in the Lafayette Church on Sabbath, June 25. The Youngs watched "It Is Written" over WRTV for several months and then were given Bible studies. "There are now 18 members in the Crawfordsville Church," said Joseph L. Vaughn, communication secretary, "and we're growing."

- New Castle church members joined with the Portland and Muncie churches in Muncie on June 4 to witness the baptism of five members of Muncie and the profession of faith of Oris Schroth of New Castle. Forty years earlier Mr. Schroth and his family attended the New Castle Church. The "welcome home" celebration included a district fellowship meal, according to Wilma Padgett, communication secretary.

- Cooking classes were conducted in the New Castle area at the home of Leslie Bauer. Natural foods and healthful living were featured. Twelve members and friends attended the classes.

- Eight children were recently dedicated to the Lord at the Indianapolis Southside Church, reported Nancy Schwer, communication secretary. They are Lori Hicks, Jody and Melissa Lane, Joshua Lake, Nathan Johnson, Holly Sannes, Amanda Turner and Samantha Moore.

Illinois Conference News Notes

- Hinsdale Junior Academy students jumped rope recently for sponsors to the American Heart Association. More than $5,700 was raised by kindergarten to 10th-grade students.

- A church sign was recently dedicated at the Decatur, Illinois, Church. The sign had been a project of Doris Stathas. Recently Miss Stathas also presented the church with a check for $1,000. It was a gift bequeathed at the death of her aunt who was not a church member, according to Julie Potter, communication secretary.

- The Centralia Cougars Pathfinder Club was inaugurated June 29 in the Centralia Church. Four Adventists and six non-Adventists make up this club. Pastor and Mrs. Robert Fekete are serving as directors.

- The DeKalb Church was host for a joint worship service of the Sheridan and DeKalb churches on June 18. The two churches witnessed the baptism of Russel Rowbottom who joined the Sheridan Church. Marlin Dolinsky, pastor of the DeKalb-Sheridan district performed the baptism, according to Charles Swanson, DeKalb communication secretary.

- North Shore Church has organized small group meetings. The church is divided into 26 groups by zip codes. The groups plan to study together and gradually invite those who do not presently attend Sabbath services. As the groups progress, it is planned that neighbors and friends would be invited. The meetings are held in private homes each Wednesday. The subject to be discussed is decided by the pastor and the group leaders as they meet each Sabbath after church, reported Marilyn Carpenter, communication secretary.

- During the fourth annual outdoor worship service of the DeKalb Church on June 25, five men were ordained. Bob Lockwood was ordained to the office of local elder, and Terry Hampson, Pat Hauser, Rich Moss and Roy Waltz were ordained as deacons. Pastor Marlin Dolinsky had a prayer of dedication for all officers of the church for the coming year. According to Charlie Swanson, communication secretary, the communion service which followed was special since families remained together to serve one another.

Science Exhibit at Hinsdale

ILLINOIS—Excellent science projects were exhibited at Hinsdale Junior Academy. All exhibitors were awarded first- or second-place awards. First-place award winners also received $50 scholarships, in their category, to church schools within the Illinois Conference: 1st- and 2nd-grade category, Alana Friesen; 3rd- and 4th-grade category, Gina Lindsay and Jon Tuttle; 5th- and 6th-grade category, Joli Lindsay; 7th- and 8th-grade category, Danny Show. Danny also won a $50 scholarship to Broadview Academy and a $100 scholarship to Andrews University, which is good through 1991, according to Margaret Best, assistant superintendent of schools.

Elwood Ministers Support Adventist Center

INDIANA—The telephone rang and the voice on the other end of the line asked, "May I please take a tour of your community service center?"

The voice was that of the Church of God minister.

Geneva Groover, staff member of the six-month-old center, agreed to show him through and explain the operation. He was impressed with what he saw and heard and stated that he would be telling his church members to support the center with food and clothing.

According to Cathryn Kuszmaul, church communication secretary, one month later the same minister knocked on Mrs. Groover's door. He handed her a check in the amount of $50 and explained that the Ministerial Association of Elwood was giving this gift to the center for its ministry and work.

He explained that the ministers of the association were going to ask their own church members to donate to the center.

That evening a newspaper article written by the Church of God minister was published. It was entitled "Part of the Heart," and gave information on the work being done by the Seventh-day Adventist Community Center.

The article also gave the hours the center is open and made a plea for area residents to donate to the center.

It closed with this comment: "Stop by and visit with the women operating this agency. You will soon discover how they have become a very important part of the Heart of Hoosierland."

Lansing Bethel Plans to Add 25 Members

LAKE REGION—Bethel Church in Lansing, Michigan, has committed itself to adding 25 new members to the church during the 1,000 days of reaping. On May 28 Marla Walker and Betty Abrams were baptized. After the baptismal service, two other people made decisions for Christ. Pictured are, from left, Cheryl Colley, Bible worker; Betty Abrams; Dennis C. Keith Sr., treasurer of the Lake Region Conference; Robert Jones, pastor; Marla Walker; Elodia Jones, Bible worker.

City Temple Honors Member

LAKE REGION—The Hospitality Committee of the City Temple Church in Detroit, Michigan, recently paid special tribute to one of its members.

Addison Prince has served his church as temperance secretary, Sabbath School superintendent, religious liberty secretary, Sabbath School teacher and as a member of the Lake Region Conference Executive Committee.

Dr. Prince and his wife, Natalie, have been married for 34 years. Mrs. Prince is a registered nurse.

They have two children. Christopher, their son, is a surgeon. Susan, their daughter, is majoring in English at Howard University. She plans a career in law.

During the testimonial some of Dr. Prince's accomplishments were reported. He is board certified in obstetrics and gynecology and has a master's degree in public health.

Dr. Prince is a fellow in the American College of Surgeons and is a member of the governor's commission to revise the public health statutes for the state of Michigan. He is also a consultant for the Prescod Program for mothers and infants.

Dr. Prince serves as a consultant for the Comprehensive Health Planning Council for southeastern Michigan and is an active member of the medical board for the state of Michigan.

According to Dr. Prince, his desire is to serve as Christ served—ministering to those in need.

Tragedy Turns to Blessing

LAKE REGION—It was early on a typical winter morning. However, the Cleo Campbell family of 10 in Chicago, Illinois, was about to experience a devastating tragedy.

One of the appliances in the home had a short circuit and was the cause of a fire which did irreparable damage to the home. But no one received any injuries, according to Eloise Wagner, communication secretary of the Straford Memorial Church.

The Campbell family are members of the Straford Memorial Church. The church presented a benefit concert in their behalf and raised $3,000.

The night of the program Alderman Wilson Frost of the 34th Ward presented the family with a check for $200.

Leroy Logan was the master of ceremonies for the program. Songs and presentations came from the sister churches: Beacon of Joy, Hyde Park, Independence Boulevard, and Shiloh.

The song "God is not Dead," sung by the Straford Memorial Choir, held real meaning for the occasion.

Ypsilanti Church Sponsors Health Week

LAKE REGION—The Ypsilanti Church sponsored a health week in May.

The week began with a time prediction walk/run. Each participant competed with himself as he predicted the time it would take him to walk or run one mile. Winners were awarded in seven age categories; ages ranged from four years to more than fifty years.

Topics during the week covered the effects of sugar on health, God's requirements for mental health, and controlling hypertension without the aid of medication.

Friday evening and Sabbath the guest speaker was Samuel L. DeShay, the associate director of international health affairs for the General Conference. He and his family will soon return to Africa for service.

Dr. DeShay presented messages on the benefits of following God's health plan as outlined in the Scriptures. He also served on a panel Sabbath afternoon which discussed how to become a better parent.

Dr. DeShay showed slides of Africa and the medical work in other foreign lands during vespers.

The week entitled "Healthy, Happy, Holy," inspired many members to renew their commitment to follow the healthful plan that God has for His children.

Health Van Screens 229 People

INDIANA—Recently the health van visited the Brownsburg-Frankfort District and screened 229 people. Of those, 85 had elevated blood pressure readings. Towns and shopping areas were visited in Clinton and Hendricks Counties on one day. "We had many repeat visitors this year," said Pastor Jeff Fisher. "They remembered us from last year." One young lady, who was screened last year in Brownsburg, stopped to express her appreciation: "I didn't know I was in danger until you folks helped me. Thanks!" Above, Alicia Brant Crabtree of Frankfort checks the blood pressure of Don Robinson of Mulberry.

Lake Region Conference News Notes

- On February 27, Pathfinders from the Berean Church in South Bend, Indiana, ended months of training in the social graces with a graduation cotillion. The class was taught by Barbara Lawson. Hattie Washington is the Pathfinder leader. According to Candida Henry, communication secretary, during the cotillion, students from Andrews University judged the Pathfinders. Winners in each category were: LaDonna Willis, Miss Teen Charm; Leslie Austin, Miss Junior Charm; Rod Lawson, Mr. Charm, and Luberta Ball, Most Improved.
- James C. Wray, director of community services for the Lake Region Conference, was the guest speaker for the Glendale Church's Community Guest Day in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Local elders served as hosts for the Sabbath School lesson study. Maxine Harlin and Martilla Smith were baptized by Pastor Leon Simmons. A fellowship dinner followed the divine worship service.
- Thirty-four students from the 12th grade and 31 students from the 8th grade graduated from

- Shiloh Academy in June.
- Marguerite Dixon, associate professor in the School of Nursing at the University of Illinois, was the commencement speaker at the Shiloh Academy in Chicago. Dr. Dixon is a member of the Morgan Park Church in Chicago. She holds membership in a number of civic and professional organizations. Her daughter, Elise, was a member of the senior graduating class of 1983.
- Earl E. Cleveland, director of church missions at Oakwood College, was the guest speaker for a Bible study graduation which was held at the Mizpah Church in Gary, Indiana. One of several books written by Elder Cleveland, Free at Last, is used in a homiletics class at a Baptist seminary in Gary. Sarah Small, a Mizpah church member, is responsible for selling copies of this book to the ministers enrolled in the class.
- Stephanie Roach is a member of the Metropolitan Church in Evansville, Indiana. She is a junior at North High School in Evansville where she has main- tained a grade point average of 4.0. She received the youth award for Black Woman of the Year in 1983 and was a delegate to the Thirteenth Annual Civitan Delegation. Stephanie is the secretary for her church's Sabbath School and an active member in the Adventist Youth Society, according to Wanda Stinson, communication secretary.

- The City Temple Church in Detroit, Michigan, was host to Lake Region's spelling bee for 1983. First-place winner was Michelle Mack from Independence School, Chicago, Illinois; second-place winner was Robert Jackson from Peterson-Warren Academy in Detroit, and third-place winner was Calvin Golden from Independence School.
- Charles D. Joseph, president of Lake Region, recently experienced what he termed an unforgettable day when he baptized his father, Wash Joseph, in the Shiloh Church, Chicago, Illinois. Elder Joseph was assisted by Fred White, pastor of Shiloh.
- Members of the recently

- organized Haughville Mission in Indianapolis, Indiana, have enrolled 58 people in the neighborhood around their church in Bible study programs. The church is preparing for a summer evangelistic tent effort. The mission also held a flea market and bake sale to raise money for the purchase of a church van to be used in their outreach program.
- The Fairhaven Church in Flint, Michigan, had a baptism of two candidates whose ages covered a span of eight decades. Pastor Vern Joyner baptized 8-year-old Tyrone Hicks, a student at the Fairhaven Church School, and Lewis Harris who is 88 years old. According to Norma R. Caldwell, communication secretary, Mr. Harris moved to Flint to live near his daughter Gussie Gresham, stewardship secretary of the church. Though Mr. Harris had been a faithful member of another denomination for 76 years, when he took a full look at Christ's principles and laws of living a Christian life, he decided to become a member of his daughter's church.

We Need Photos for Herald Covers

LAKE UNION—The Lake Union Herald staff is once again requesting photos for use on the cover of the Herald.

Selections for 1984 will be made this fall. The following rules will apply.

1. All photos—slides (transparencies and slides mean the same to us) and black-and-white prints—must be received at or delivered in person to the Herald office by Tuesday, November 1, 1983. Allow ample time when you mail from a long distance.

2. Each photographer may submit up to 10 slides or black-and-white prints. Submissions of greater amounts will NOT be considered. Please do not send negatives or color prints.

3. Slides may be 35 mm. or 4" x 5". Preference will be given to 35 mm. slides. All black-and-white prints should be 8" x 10".

4. All slides and prints must be of a vertical format.

5. The photos must have been taken in the four states which comprise the Lake Union.

6. Place your name and address on each submission.

7. Do not send slides which are duplicates. They will not be considered.

8. Make certain your photos are in very sharp focus.

9. Seasonal or scenic photos are preferred, but they should not be similar to cover photos of the past two years. If you have recognizable people in the picture, you must be prepared to furnish a model release for each one.

10. The Herald pays $25 for each slide used for a color cover, and $15 for each slide or black-and-white print used for a black-and-white cover. Payment is made at the time of publication. The slide or print is also returned at the time of publication.

11. Any slides which are not selected for use will be returned after the selection period in November. Be certain your address is included with your submission.

12. Submissions for Herald covers should be mailed to the Lake Union Herald, Box C, Berrien Springs, MI 49103.

Urbandale Pathfinder Building Consecrated

MICHIGAN—Visitors and friends helped the Urbandale Campers Pathfinder Club consecrate their new clubhouse building recently. Guest speakers for the occasion were James Holman, Jackson Church Pathfinder director, and Glenn Hill, former pastor of the church and current communication director of the Michigan Conference. The new clubhouse was remodeled from a dwelling adjacent to the church. Funds were raised through contributions and by collecting and selling old newspapers. Plumbing and electrical work was donated. The total remodeling cost was less than $1,000. The new clubhouse has a main meeting room, two rest rooms and a crafts room. Nellie Johnson, deputy director, coordinated the consecration services.

Michigan Conference News Notes

● Paul Lingoes and Tom Schwenger were recently baptized by Elder Paul Howell in the Hastings Church. The Sabbath church service was presented by the church school children and was directed by their teacher, Rex Reed. Students read letters they had written to church members and visitors thanking them for the sacrifices they had made in providing them with a Christian education.

● At a baptism in Vassar, Michigan on July 11, Pastor Herbert Lohr baptized Mary Wyckoff.

● Pastor Paul Penno of the Muskegon Church has recently baptized 25 people as a result of prophecy lectures held by Jack A. Nash, a Michigan evangelist. Others are studying for future baptisms.

● Two public school teachers were recently honored for their teaching service. Virginia Farnham of the Midland Church retired after 36 years of teaching, and Maxine Mosher of St. Johns Church retired after 30 years of teaching. Mrs. Mosher is community services and Vacation Bible School director for the St. Johns Church, and is a leader in the primary Sabbath School. Mrs. Farnham is communication director at her church and has the distinction of having organized the first Pathfinder club in Michigan.

● The Marion Church recently had an exhibit at the Marion Fair. Gary Russell, pastor of the Boyne City Church, assisted by giving computer life-style tests. Berwyn and Barbara Rogers, who are both nurses, took blood pressures. Prominently displayed posters gave Adventist beliefs and services.

Battle Creek Students Receive Music Honors

MICHIGAN—Five Battle Creek Academy students recently received Outstanding Performance Awards in the annual piano festival held in Battle Creek.

Those receiving awards were Ann Leben, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Leben; Carol and Albert Im, children of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Im, and Susan and Kim Sackrider, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Sackrider.

Carol Im has also been invited to perform as a soloist with the Kalamazoo Symphony Orchestra's 1983 Youth Concerts. Carol, a second-grade student at Battle Creek Academy, is the youngest soloist ever to be invited to perform with the symphony.

Health Awareness Promoted at Fair

Couple Receive Service Plaque

MICHIGAN—Louis and Lois Courtney of Bessemer, Michigan, received a plaque for their 35 years service in the Ironwood Community Services Center in Ironwood, Michigan. Arnold Swanson, Michigan Conference secretary, presented the plaque in the Courtney's home, accompanied by Lyle Chamberlain, pastor of the Ironwood Church. The Courtneys have helped those in need by distributing food and clothing. They have also prepared surplus clothing for the Seventh-day Adventist World Service program, according to Jan Chamberlain, communication secretary.

Stevensville Dedicates Addition

MICHIGAN—Members of the Stevensville, Michigan, Church have completed an addition to their existing church.

The addition includes a chapel, two large foyers, two classrooms, and a supply room.

A sundeck overlooks a garden where weddings and receptions can be held.

The chapel was designed by Ewald Kissinger and crafted by Otto Schletter, Norbert Shur and Mr. Kissinger. It features a 40 by 80-foot oak-stained mural of the crucifixion of Christ. Adjustable halo lampholders illuminate the mural.

The project has been in progress since May 1982, with members and friends of the church donating their time and finances.

Building committee members were: Roy Anderson, chairman;

Robert Kingman, finance chairman; Jim Hippler, contractor; Ewald Kissinger, interior designer; Ted Green, treasurer.

Elder Keymer expressed appreciation for the labor done by members and friends of the church; Elder Kroncke told of the growth of the church during the past 15 years, and Pastor Horne gave the history of the church.

A brass plaque was presented to Arlene and Roy Anderson for their dedicated service.

Refreshments were served following the dedication.

Milwaukee Spanish Baptizes Eight Persons

WISCONSIN—Eight persons were baptized in the Milwaukee Spanish Church as the keynote of the church dedication service on April 9. The baptismal service was conducted by Cesar A. Pusan, pastor and coordinator of the Spanish work for the Wisconsin Conference. From left are: Elder Cesar Pusan, Claudia Santiago, Rolando Varela, Josefina Garcia, Ana, Lorena, Miguel, and Jose Varela, and Salud Garcia.

Raymond Students Preach

WISCONSIN—Students in the lower grades of Raymond Church School recently conducted the worship service in three district churches. The students sang Bible and action songs.

During each service three students, ages 8 to 11, gave five-minute sermonettes. The students made posters to go along with their sermonettes.

The first service was held in the Kenosha Church on April 30. Nicky Lindstrom, age 11, spoke on idols; Amy Muhlenbeck, age 9, told the story of Jonah, and Debbie Muhlenbeck, age 8, spoke on praising God for what He gives us.

On May 14, the students performed at the Racine Church. Tammy Spann, age 9, told a story of a mother's love and devotion to her child during a fire. Brian Towne, age 9, told the story of Jesus and the ride into Jerusalem. Kory Frantz, also age 9, told the story of Joseph.

A small group of the students and the teacher went to the home of Lavonne Fehlhaber where the newly formed Franklin company holds their services. Two students, Nicky Lindstrom and Amy Muhlenbeck repeated their sermonettes.

Other students who participated in at least one of the services were Kendra Fehlhaber, Chris Hiles, John Lindstrom, Todd Rivas, Anitra Bell, Michelle Hiles, and Joely Schwitzgoebel.

At the end of each service the teacher, Ramona Harris, gave a short talk on the need for Christian education and told how the students had been witnessing throughout the year.

During a worship period earlier in the year, Miss Harris had read a story to the students about a little boy in another conference who, at age nine, had preached a sermon. One of the boys who had heard the story and later gave a sermonette said to Miss Harris, "I never thought I'd be preaching a sermon at the same age as that boy when you read us that story."

Tyson Receives Assistantship

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—Trevor Tyson has received an assistantship from Stanford University, Palo Alto, California, to begin work this fall on his doctor of philosophy degree in applied physics, according to Clark Rowland, professor of physics at Andrews University.

Mr. Tyson graduated in June from Andrews University with a bachelor's degree in physics.

According to Mr. Tyson, he will receive a $5,610 tuition fellowship and $6,075 for a half-time research assistantship from Stanford. Stanford cited Mr. Tyson for his outstanding academic record.

"My experience in working with Dr. Rowland and my work in physics at Stanford for three weeks last summer were instrumental in my getting this assistantship," said Mr. Tyson.

Dr. Rowland said that Mr. Tyson had done excellent work at Andrews University and that he had highly recommended Mr. Tyson for the assistantship.

Mr. Tyson expects to complete his doctoral degree in four to five years. He then plans to work in industry research.

Mr. Tyson is from Frederiksted, St. Croix, in the Virgin Islands, and is the son of William and Ivy Tyson of Frederiksted.

Graduation Ceremony at Clear Lake

WISCONSIN—On Tuesday, May 31, eighth-grade commencement exercises were held at the Clear Lake Church. Graduates included Susan Story, daughter of Esther and Ray Story; Michael Nelson, son of Joyce and Roger Nelson; Lisa McClintock, daughter of Pat and Gene McClintock, and Tamara Wolcott, daughter of Judy and Alvin Wolcott. Pastor Brad Brookins delivered the commencement address. Following the service a reception was held at the Sunnyside Adventist School, according to Beth Nelson, communication secretary.

Ford Named Ombudsman

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—Dr. Dwain Ford has been named university ombudsman, according to Andrews University President Joseph G. Smoot.

Dr. Smoot said that Dr. Ford will help students with any unsolved problems remaining after the students have followed the normal channels. He will also assist students who encounter problems in following normal channels.

Any student problem that cannot be resolved by routine procedures will go through Dr. Ford's office.

This means that Dr. Ford will handle financial, social and educational problems.

It will be the job of the ombudsman to either work out a solution or find out why the problem cannot be resolved.

His responsibility will also include helping the concerned student to understand and better relate to the issue.

Dr. Ford said that students will not suffer any penalty because of seeking assistance from him as ombudsman, and that all information presented to him by persons seeking help will be strictly confidential.

Dr. Ford is professor of chemistry and was dean of the College of Arts and Sciences for 10 years.

New School of Education Opens

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—Andrews University opened the School of Education July 1. This will replace the department of education. The action came at a board of trustees meeting at the university on June 23.

Dean of the new school is George Akers. He has taught at Andrews for 14 years and has been chairman of the education department since 1982.

Also, Arthur O. Coetzee, formerly director of continuing and extension programs, was named dean of the School of Graduate Studies.

Joseph G. Smoot, president of Andrews University, said that the development of a school of education has been one of the university's major goals for many years.

"The new school will grow out of the existing School of Graduate Studies and College of Arts and Sciences," Dr. Smoot said.

George Akers

Dr. Akers earned a doctor of education degree from the University of Southern California in 1966. He has taught at three high schools and was principal at two others. He has also been dean of students at Loma Linda University, vice president for academic affairs at Walla Walla College and president of Columbia Union College.

He worked at Andrews from 1964 to 1969 and returned in 1974 to pioneer the new doctoral program in religious education.

The School of Education is the sixth school within the structure of the university.

The other schools are the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Technology, the School of Business, the School of Graduate Studies, and the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary.

"The major difference in changing from departments within the university's other schools to a distinct school is not one of curricula," says Dr. Akers.

"Basically, the course offerings we had previously will continue. The reasons for establishing the School of Education are to develop a separate identity, give graduates greater professional recognition and enable the faculty to concentrate on specialization rather than several disciplines."

Dr. Akers said that Andrews' accreditation will not change. "Currently we are accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education and approved by the Michigan Board of Education."

During the 1983-1984 school year, 22 teachers will be instructing full-time in the School of Education. In addition, 10 other faculty members in education will share joint appointments with other areas of the university.

"Of the 22 full-time faculty members, all but two have either doctor of education or doctor of philosophy degrees," says Dr. Akers.

Doctor of philosophy and doctor of education degrees are offered by the school. Each of these offers specializations in four areas: educational administration and supervision, curriculum and instruction, religious education, and educational and psychological services.

The new school will offer the master of arts degree program in education and joint degree programs with six other academic areas. They are English, history, home economics, music, religion, and an interdisciplinary studies program.

Also offered is the master of arts in teaching (M.A.T.) degree in education and 11 other areas of specialization where M.A.T. degrees are granted. They are art education, biology, business education, elementary education, English, French, history, home economics, industrial education, physical education, and physics.

Dr. Akers said that he expects the new school to have about 300 students the first year and a student-teacher ratio of about 14 students to one teacher.

The School of Graduate Studies will continue to offer degree programs in 15 academic areas, according to the new dean, Arthur Coetzee. They are art, biology, business education, communicative disorders, English, history, home economics, information and computer science, modern languages, music, nursing, physical education, physics, religion, and technology education.

Dr. Coetzee has been on the faculty at Andrews since 1979. He was president of Helderberg College in South Africa for six years.

Dr. Coetzee earned an undergraduate degree from Helderberg in 1955 and a master's degree in 1967 from Andrews. He graduated in 1972 with a doctor of education degree from the University of Tennessee.

In other matters, the trustees created an Institute of Hispanic Ministries to operate through the theological seminary.

Also, the Center for Archaeological and Biblical Studies in Jerusalem was approved and will soon promote academic study of the Middle East.

Hinsdale Hospital Updates Name

HINSDALE, Ill.—Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital's board of trustees voted at its most recent meeting to drop the term "sanitarium," making "Hinsdale Hospital" the new official name.

"This brings the hospital's name up-to-date," says Charles Snyder, senior vice president. Hinsdale Hospital is the last institution in the Adventist Health System United States to drop the term "sanitarium" from the official name.

"A hospital's name is one of its greatest assets," said Mr. Snyder. "In many ways the term 'sanitarium' conveyed an outmoded image, no longer in keeping with the high level of capabilities provided at the hospital today."

In 1904, when doctors Mary and David Paulson first founded the institution, it was named the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Benevolent Association. In later years the organization changed its name to Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital.

"In recent years the term 'sanitarium' in the hospital's name has been confusing, particularly to new residents in the surrounding villages," explains Keith Lundquist, public relations director.

"Recently more and more people have been using the term 'Hinsdale Hospital.' Long-time residents will undoubtedly continue to refer to Hinsdale Hospital as 'the San,'" adds Mr. Lundquist.

In order to maintain a visible connection with the Seventh-day Adventist Church, new exterior signs, stationery and other forms of communication will designate the hospital as a member of the Adventist Health System.

Hinsdale Hospital, with 440 beds, is the largest of 11 Adventist Health System North hospitals located in 11 northcentral and northeastern states.

● A landmark case concerning human rights is soon to be heard in the Supreme Court of Canada. At stake is whether the country's human rights law protects citizens from discrimination that is the result, but perhaps not the intention, of an employer's policies—as in the case of an employee who must seek other employment because religious convictions do not allow Sabbath work. The outcome of the case is of great significance to Canadian Adventists and other religious minorities similarly affected.

● Two years ago P. K. Gayen, a member of the Adventist English Church in Calcutta, India, retired early from his executive post in a large company because he was suffering from high blood pressure, diabetes, and an acute allergy. Instead of sitting idle, he took his life's savings, bought the necessary materials, and built a small church, about 20 miles east of Calcutta. In the evenings, after spending his days working on the church, he conducted evangelistic meetings. By the time the church was completed, 35 new converts were ready to worship in it. Mr. Gayen's blood pressure was back to normal, he was able to throw away his allergy drugs, and he was making plans to hold another evangelistic series on the south side of Calcutta.

● Recently, Neal C. Wilson and G. Ralph Thompson, president and secretary of the General Conference, respectively, spent five weeks traveling throughout Africa visiting Adventist institutions and meeting with Adventist leaders. They were on a fact-finding mission regarding the possibilities of reorganizing the divisions. Although the three African divisions with headquarters on the continent would like to remain as they are, they have expressed a willingness to cooperate should the General Conference feel that a restructuring would be beneficial.

New Program to Reduce Divorce Rate

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A marriage education program, designed especially for couples who are engaged, is expected to reduce the divorce rate within the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Family life for both the parents and their children is also expected to be strengthened.

A six-member task force prepared the guidance material.

Six sessions are conducted with an engaged couple aided by a pastor or counselor. The couple explores their attitudes on specific subjects several weeks prior to their wedding. This approach makes them aware of their agreements and disagreements and gives them the tools to resolve problems.

The couple studies certain Bible texts, listens to cassette tapes, reads up to nine books, completes individual worksheets, and writes out two or three short assignments. A temperament test helps them discover the kind of person each is and how he or she can complement the other.

More than 1,200 couples and 800 pastors have ordered the kits since they were introduced four years ago. For more information contact Home and Family Service, General Conference, 6840 Eastern Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20012.

The Loma Linda University heart team has performed open-heart surgery in Pakistan, Greece, Vietnam, Saudi Arabia, and China. Shown here is Ellsworth Wareham, M.D., right, examining a Vietnamese girl after her operation. Dr. Wareham is the cofounder of the overseas heart team which began 20 years ago.

Heart Team Serves Twenty Years

LOMA LINDA, Calif.—The Loma Linda University overseas heart surgery team has performed more heart surgeries in more countries than any other heart surgery team in the world.

The 12- to 20-member team includes surgeons, anesthesiologists, cardiologists, intensive care nurses, a cardiopulmonary perfusionist, respiratory therapists, and a blood bank technician.

The team carries with it the latest in heart-lung machines, respiratory therapy equipment and all medical supplies.

Patients range in age from newborns to 80 years. With the exception of Saudi Arabia, whose own government funds the trips, the heart team donates its services to the hospital of the host country.

The overseas heart surgery team was founded by Ellsworth Wareham, chief of cardiothoracic surgery, and Joan Coggin, cardiologist, at Loma Linda University Medical Center.

The goal of the heart team is to train medical personnel in the overseas countries that they visit. As Dr. Coggin says, "It's nicer when a country's medical people are trained to perform open-heart surgery on their own people."

God Hath Chosen Thee

The call of the Apostle Paul was very dramatic. He met Jesus on the road to Damascus, and his entire life was changed.

He was led blind into the city where God's faithful servant Ananias prayed for him and his sight was restored. He no longer persecuted the followers of Christ, but rather became a mighty teacher of righteousness in Christ's cause.

When Ananias came to Saul he said to him, "The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldst know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldst hear the voice of his mouth. For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard." Acts 22: 14, 15. In this very direct way Saul of Tarsus was called to become Paul the mighty apostle for Christ.

How many of us feel that God has chosen us to be His witnesses? How many of us feel and believe that we have been called? I am not talking about being called to full-time ministry, but rather about being called, to "know his will," to "see that Just One," and to "hear the voice of his mouth"—to be "his witness unto all men."

These inspired words must apply to all of us who stand under the banner of Christ. It is not only the ministers who are called of God and chosen to work for others, it is everyone who becomes a Christian. Notice this very clear counsel:

"God requires everyone to be a worker in His vineyard.

"God expects personal service from every one to whom He has intrusted a knowledge of the truth for this time.

"We must be laborers together with God; for God will not complete His work without human agencies." (Excerpts from Christian Service, p. 9.)

These words clearly indicate that we are not only called and chosen of God to serve Him ourselves, but we are also appointed as witnesses for the Master. Sometimes we hear criticisms about leadership, but all of us should turn our eyes upon ourselves and upon the largely unfulfilled challenge of the Gospel.

God hath chosen thee to hear His voice and then share it with others. Most Adventist churches do not have more than 10 percent of the members involved in witnessing of any type. What would happen if this percentage could be increased to 50 percent or 75 percent? God's work would soon be growing and advancing at a rapid rate. God's work would be finished, and Jesus would return for us.

Remember then—you are the only one that can change you. God hath chosen thee to be His witness. "It is the privilege of every Christian not only to look for but to hasten the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." Christ's Object Lessons, p. 69.

AUGUST 2, 1983 VOLUME LXXV, NUMBER 16

Thousands have enjoyed the inspiration and Christian fellowship of camp meetings this summer throughout the Lake Union. Kitty Kuszmaul and Mary Newby enjoyed attending the Personal Evangelism Seminar at the Indiana Camp Meeting which emphasized that evangelism must begin in one's personal life before it can be expanded to reach others.
