Cedar Lake Student Earns Recognition

MICHIGAN—Young-Mi Kwon, a senior at Cedar Lake Academy, performed as a guest violin soloist with the Alma, Michigan, Symphony on February 19. Miss Kwon earned the right to perform by winning the Young Artist Concerto Competition in December. She performed "Allegro Non Troppo" from the Symphonie Espagnole, Op. 21, by Edouard Lalo.

Miss Kwon was born in Seoul, South Korea on January 5, 1967. At the age of three she moved to Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada with her family where they have lived ever since.

At six years of age Miss Kwon began playing the violin by means of the Suzuki method. After four years of Suzuki she began private study with Eugene Kowalski, associate director of the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Kwon has entered the Manitoba Music Festival every year since the age of 10 and has won every year in her category. In the spring of 1979, Miss Kwon entered and won a scholarship competition. That winter she participated in Canada Week, commemorating famous Canadian contemporary composers.

In May of 1981, Miss Kwon entered the Canadian Music competitions and made it to the semifinals.

Besides this special performance, Miss Kwon is a regular member of the Cedar Lake Academy String Ensemble and band.

Young-Mi Kwon, a senior at Cedar Lake Academy, performed as a guest violin soloist with the Alma, Michigan, Symphony in February.

Delegates concentrate on the comprehensive material they received for their Caring Church notebooks.

Small groups met to discuss thoughts and concepts presented during the eight-hour Conflict Management Seminar.

Robert Dale, General Conference administrative assistant, was chairman of the seminar.

William Scales, North American Division ministerial director, was one of the seminar instructors.

Larry Webb of Lead Consultants presented an eight-hour Conflict Management Seminar.

Seminar Poses Question: Does the Church Care?

LAKE UNION—"People don't care how much we know until they know how much we care," said Robert Carter, Lake Union Conference president, as he welcomed the delegates to the Caring Church Seminar.

The seminar, held March 11 to 15, 1984, at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, was an intensive training session on the total concept of the Caring Church.

Nearly 200 ministers, Bible workers, and church members attended the session which was coordinated by Robert C. Connor, Lake Union ministerial director.

Charles E. Bradford, General Conference vice president for North America, was the keynote speaker. Several General Conference and institutional personnel also made presentations during the five-day seminar.

An eight-hour seminar on conflict management was taught by Larry Webb of Lead Consultants. Those who attended the seminar had many opportunities to share together during small discussion groups and during specialized workshops.

Several exhibits displayed the latest materials for church growth activities.

"This well-organized seminar is long overdue for the pastors who are on the cutting edge of the church work," said J. David Parker, pastor of the Capitol City Church in Indianapolis.

"The Caring Church Seminar has caused me to seriously reconsider the purpose for the church's creation and existence," commented Arnold Swanson, secretary of the Michigan Conference.

"This is especially so as I reflect on a couple of questions asked by one of the speakers: 'Does the church love? Does the church care? If not, the church has missed the point of existence,'" said Elder Swanson.

Pastor Chuck Hanlon of the Paoli, Tell City and Huntingburg churches in Indiana said, "The simplicity and nonthreatening nature of the strategy will be a blessing to all church members, including pastors. Think about it, to love and care about people according to individual gifts and talents, and to share Jesus is the simple Gospel."

"The Caring Church strategy will add no burden to anyone in terms of more work, except that more workers with a burden for the salvation of others will arise," Pastor Hanlon said.

The seminar ended with a challenge presented by Elder Carter, and seminar delegates demonstrated their response in a candlelight service.

Jere Wallack

Charles Bradford, General Conference vice president, provided the keynote address.

Floyd Bresee, General Conference ministerial associate, gave the morning devotionals.

Robert Carter, Lake Union president, was the speaker for the closing commitment service.

Five-Day Plan Televised

MICHIGAN—The entire Grand Rapids, Michigan, community had the opportunity to look in on the graduation services of a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking in Grand Rapids, on March 9.

Reporter Marty Fahey and his cameraman from Channel 13 covered the full 90-minute class. Portions of the program appeared on the 11 P.M. and early morning news.

Doctors William Roosenberg and Andre Jubert, and Pastor Bruce Fox, conducted the program and were interviewed on the news broadcast.

Fifty-one people registered on opening night, most of them residents near Grand Rapids Junior Academy where the clinic was held: 41 received certificates.

"I've stopped smoking and drinking coffee. I'm now running every day and I've never felt better in my life," said one graduate.

A large number of graduates plan to attend the cooking classes to follow.

A Partner for Roy

Roy Good of Marion, Indiana, was featured in "People Branches," the fourth quarter 1983 NO ONE BUT YOU slide/tape program.

As you may remember, Roy began a tape ministry three years ago at the Fisher Body plant where he works on the door line.

One of the men who listened to the tapes and received literature from Roy was Gary Williams.

what he was hearing from Roy. "Other men on the line considered Gary an adversary of Roy's," says Roy's wife, Nancy.

Gary Williams

But, after studying the Bible with Roy and Nancy, and later with Pastor Chico Rivera, Gary was baptized. He is now a member of the Marion Church.

Having witnessed alone at Fisher Body for three years, Roy says, "Praise the Lord, now I've got a partner!"

"I am the vine, ye are the branches," said Jesus in John 15:5. God's people branches reach out to others. And so it is with Gary. He has already begun to witness at work and at home.

Gary's two sons, Benjamin and Andrew, are attending the Revelation Seminar currently being conducted by Pastor Rivera. Three weeks ago they both committed their lives to Christ and are now preparing for baptism.

Glendale Church Conducts Week-Long Music Seminar

LAKE REGION—Shelton E. Kilby III, music director for the department of music ministry of the South Central Conference, conducted a week-long seminar at the Glendale Church in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The purpose of the seminar was to lead the participants to worship God in spirit and truth, and to create a biblical, cultural, and musical reverence in worship.

The participants learned the place of music in the plan of salvation. They learned how to distinguish the pure from the impure music and how to use God's Word as a guideline in the selection of music.

Elder Kilby identified differences in anthems, hymns, and spiritual songs, and stressed the importance of choosing appropriate music for the occasion.

The final session was devoted to how the local church can make a proper selection for a minister of music. Elder Kilby offered information for the minister of music and the worship and music committee.

According to Julie Boney, a church member, "participants left the seminar with a deeper sense of the importance of music in the worship of God, and with a commitment to glorify God through music."

Pathfinder Baptized at Philadelphia

LAKE REGION—Ricardo Graham, pastor of the Philadelphia Church in Niles, Michigan, prepares to baptize Eric Moses, a 13-year-old Pathfinder. Pastor Graham is assisted by Frank Alford, personal ministries director and communication secretary.

Former Pastor Joins Jubilee Celebration

LAKE REGION—Leon Cox, pastor of the Ephesus Church in New York City, and his wife, Blanche, were special guests at Shiloh Church in Chicago recently. Elder Cox is a former pastor of Shiloh, and was in Chicago to help the church members bring to a close the celebration of the Year of Jubilee, the 75th anniversary for the church.

Lake Region Conference News Notes

- The Capitol City Sabbath School department in Indianapolis, directed by Loy Warren, presented information about the black leaders of the Adventist denomination during Black History Month. "Adventists should be aware of the valuable contributions of our black leaders," said Loy.
- J. David Parker, pastor of Capitol City Church in Indianapolis, recently presented a two-part sermon focusing on the establishment of United States diplomatic relations with the Vatican. As a result, Loy Warren, Sabbath School superintendent, and her Sabbath School council decided to report significant events on the completion of prophecy on a weekly basis during the Sabbath School period.
- Wintley Phipps, a baritone soloist and an ordained minister, was the guest speaker during a recent divine worship service at the Glendale Church in Minneapolis. He was also featured during the afternoon Adventist Youth Hour in a ministry of music. Elder Phipps has performed with many professional musicians. He once worked with Jesse Jackson, presently a candidate for the Presidency of the United States, in his Push program. Elder Phipps currently serves on the promotional staff of Oakwood College, reports Matthew Austin, communication secretary for the Glendale Church.
- Oakwood College Alumni Day at Capitol City Church in Indianapolis featured Calvin Rock, president of Oakwood College, as guest speaker. Central Indiana churches met at Capitol City for the afternoon program. A reception was held for the Oakwood guests and supporters of Oakwood College Saturday evening. Thomasine Wright, president of the Indianapolis alumni chapter and a former instructor at Oakwood, planned the alumni day activities, according to Charli Cartwright, communication secretary.
- The Capitol City Church in Indianapolis held Religious Liberty Day on February 25. Jere Wallack, director of religious liberty for the Lake Union Conference, was the guest speaker. An afternoon workshop was held to give members an opportunity to ask questions about current religious liberty issues.
- Evangelist Melvyn E. Hayden of Washington, D.C. was guest speaker during the youth Week of Prayer held March 4 to 10 at South Church of Pontiac, Michigan. Elder Hayden answered questions on sexual morality that most young people want to know but are afraid to ask, reported Charity M. Fields, communication secretary.

Crusade Wins Three

LAKE REGION—Freddie Starks, Ella Tibbs, and Boyce Washington became members of the Eastside Church in Indianapolis at the conclusion of a 10-week evangelistic series conducted by Richard Washington, church pastor.

The theme of the evangelistic series was, Science of Salvation. The meetings were conducted in a seminar format with a health lecture series incorporated to encourage better physical and mental fitness.

The health lecturers were, Carolyn Washington, wife of the pastor, and Louise Daniels, a member of the Glendale Church in Indianapolis and a registered nurse.

Music for the meetings was provided by the Voices of Heaven Choir directed by Betty Winder, home and school leader.

Church Member

Capitol's Prison Ministry Is Appreciated.

LAKE REGION—Capitol City Church in Indianapolis, Indiana, has two chapters of King's Daughters, but Chapter I has been engaged in prison ministry for a number of years.

Members visit a women's prison every month and have a birthday party for all who have had birthdays during that month. They bring ice cream, cake, gifts and provide games and socialize with the inmates.

Inside each birthday gift is Adventist literature. The women at the prison call the chapter members the "Birthday Ladies."

Once a year the King's Daughters provide a party for the entire prison, including the guards and administrative staff.

During the Christmas season the King's Daughters joined with other Christian groups to help provide a festive and joyful Christmas to inmates.

One inmate was appreciative enough to write a letter to the Indianapolis Star, a daily newspaper. It was published January 23, 1984 and read in part:

"These [Christian] groups brought song, food, gifts and entertainment to those of us who would have had a lonely and very sad Christmas season otherwise. Most important they brought us love . . . We saw the love of Christ reflected in the reaching out and giving of themselves. . . Thank you so very much."

Glen Ellyn's First Year Shows Growth

ILLINOIS—January 15 marked the first anniversary of services in the new Glen Ellyn, Illinois, Adventist Church.

This first year has been one of blessings and activities. Church growth seminars for lay members were begun, and, in August of 1983, the North American Division Soul-Winning Institute team began conducting health, nutrition, stop-smoking, stress control seminars, and personal Bible studies.

Daniel Seminars began in October, and thus far 30 new members have been baptized into the Glen Ellyn Church.

During this time Glendale Heights Community Hospital, approximately one mile from the church, was purchased and reorganized by Adventist Health System/North. This resulted in the transfer of approximately five families to Glen Ellyn Church. The purchase of the hospital will provide opportunities for the church and hospital to cooperate in ministering to the local community with preventive health programs.

Spring Revelation Seminars are being planned by the church, according to Brenda Morris, communication secretary.

Illinois Conference News Notes

● A Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking was held in the seminar room of the Peoria Church the week of February 9. Thirty-nine attended and 31 were able to quit smoking. Attendees smoked a total of 904 years at a cost of $59 per day. Four group leaders worked with groups of eight to ten people, and continued follow-up is planned. The program was directed by Barry Ulloth, pastor of the church. He was assisted by four local physicians: David Bailey, Alfonso Ochoa, Robert Pollard, and Cynthia Alexander.

● A baby dedication service was conducted at the North Shore Church by Pastor Stanley Cottrell on Sabbath, January 14. Douglas and Estelle Stehman presented their children, Carla and Steven, to the Lord, reported Bernace Kirschenbauer, communication secretary.

● Three babies were dedicated at the Downers Grove Church Sabbath, February 18. Elder Jerry Coyle presided at the dedication of Marcia Elaine Ashcraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Ashcraft; Joel David Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gray, and Jason Paul Radford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Radford. Platform elders participating were Clarence Friesen, Herb Peak, and Charles Newton, reported Richard Cook, communication secretary.

● According to Virginia Coyle, the church pastor's wife, the cooking schools in the homes of Downers Grove church members have been well attended. Attendees showing further interest are being invited to the evangelistic series to be conducted by Art Swinson, conference evangelist, in April and May.

four students representing the Illinois Conference in the Math Counts Contest held on February 23 at the Chicago Board of Education. The purpose of this nationwide program for junior high students is to motivate students in the continuous development of high math skills. Michael had the highest score of eighth graders in the conference. In preparation for the contest, Michael was coached by Tadesse Daba, principal and teacher of grades 5 to 8, according to Myra DeMills, a teacher at Beverly Hills School.

● Illini Outdoor Club met February 25 at the Downers Grove Church fellowship hall to elect officers and plan for the coming year. The following officers were elected: Willis Hankins, president; Joe Mosier, vice president; Guinevere Cook, treasurer; Pam Bonnier, secretary, and Richard Cook, public relations secretary.

North Shore Thanks Thorek Hospital

ILLINOIS—A plaque was recently presented to Louis Gordon, administrator of Thorek Hospital, Adventist Health System/North, in appreciation for the upholstered pews given to the North Shore Church in the name of Thorek Hospital. Pastor Stanley Cottrell made the presentation.

Five-Day Plan Held in Quincy

ILLINOIS—Nearly 90 people attended the graduation exercises for the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking held at St. Mary Hospital in Quincy, Illinois, Thursday evening, March 8.

Of the 61 persons registered, 55 had not had a cigarette since the classes started.

The classes, sponsored by the Quincy Seventh-day Adventist Church and the American Cancer Society, were directed by Pastor Herman Ottshofski and coordinated by Ann Mayes. David Darrow, attorney, and doctors Roy Olsen and George Eversman were the featured speakers.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Mayes spoke about the principles of good health promoted by Adventists. Thursday happened to be Mrs. Mayes 50th wedding anniversary and her birthday. She told of her own health experiences and the benefits of living healthfully.

Blood pressure screenings were given at the start and finish of the Five-Day Plan. One couple reported significantly lower blood pressures on the last evening.

Church Agency Asks Michigan To Help in Africa

MICHIGAN—Michigan has been asked by the General Conference organization Adventist Development and Relief Agency (A.D.R.A.), formerly SAWS, to participate in a special clothing drive for Africa.

Arthur Covell, Michigan's community services director, told his state officers that he has received word of the desperate plight of African people.

Secretary General of the United Nations Javier Perez de Cuellar recently sent an urgent message to all private and charitable organizations advising them that five million children (not counting adults) will die this year from starvation. An additional five million children will be handicapped permanently as a result of malnutrition.

Where there is no money to buy food, there is also no money to buy clothing and blankets. Because of this need, A.D.R.A.'s two warehouses have depleted their reserves of children's and infant's clothing. The clothing drive at this time is only for children's clothing.

"We appeal to our members to clean out dressers and closets to make children's clothing available at this time," Elder Covell said. "This request is urgent, and we ask the center leaders to appeal to their communities for help," he said.

This clothing drive is to be completed by the end of April so that a special pickup can be made the first part of May. If each of the 65 units and centers in Michigan would provide 15 boxes, the Michigan goal would be reached.

New symbol for the North America Division office of education.

Education Office Introduces New Symbol

LAKE UNION—What's the central theme of Adventist education? And what's its foundation?

These two questions are graphically answered in the new symbol recently developed for the North American Division office of education.

Created by Concerned Communications, the new symbol shares the message of the uniqueness of Adventist education. It focuses on Christ as the central theme of all Adventist educational activities. It also features the open Scriptures as the foundation for the Adventist system of education.

The new symbol will appear throughout North America on various printed material produced by local, union conference, and division offices of education. This new symbol is a reminder of the evangelistic potential which exists through the Adventist education system of North America.

The importance of Adventist education is indicated by statistics which demonstrate that more than 90 percent of the children from Adventist homes choose to continue as baptized members of the church if they have been educated in Adventist schools. When Adventist children are educated in public schools, only 30 percent continue in active church membership.

Doesn't an evangelistic program as important as Adventist education deserve continued encouragement? Your prayers and financial support are needed throughout the year.

Warren Minder
Director of Education

Pan-American Youth Congress

LAKE UNION—The December 1984 Pan-American Youth Congress to be held in Mexico City is beginning to take shape as each division—North American, Inter-American and South American—structures its congress activities and programs along with the General Conference staff.

One week prior to the congress the 330 delegates from the Lake Union will be going to the Bahama Islands to help with 17 different building and repair projects. Delegates will also conduct various health programs, day camps, and Vacation Bible School programs. Youth desiring to participate in this adventure should contact their church pastor immediately.

The total program format of the congress was designed by the Youth Committee in Mexico City in March of 1983.

The South American Division is demonstrative of ingenuity in creating attractive stage props for morning and evening programs. The South American Division will require a huge rotating circular three-part platform. While one demonstration, drama, or pantomime is being presented, two others will be in the preparation process.

Youth planners have also placed a strong emphasis on spiritual quality in all of the activities.

In cooperation with the United Nations declaration of December 1984 through January 1986 as International Youth Year, the congress plans for Friday afternoon to especially celebrate youth by planting a tree for and from each of the 49 nations represented by the delegates. Negotiations with the Mexican Government are presently underway to arrange for space in one of the central parks for a "Youth Friendship Section" in which the 49 trees will be planted.

It is the intention of the United Nations that tree planting be a major factor throughout the youth year.

The Pan-American Youth Congress promises to be the largest in history for the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and hopefully the launching point of a new era of youth anticipation in leadership and sharing the Gospel.

Lake Union Conference News Notes

● The Ingathering total for the Lake Union churches was verbally reported to the Lake Union Conference as totaling $767,641.56; however, upon receipt of the actual funds the amount totaled $816,460.51. Once again a big thank you to all who participated.

● The employees of Andrews University, Battle Creek Adventist Hospital, Glendale Heights Community Hospital, and Hinsdale Hospital were among those at 53 Seventh-day Adventist colleges, hospitals and other church entities in North America who gave $554,000 to the United Way in 1983. This represents a 26 percent increase over the previous record high of $440,600 that employees gave to the United Way in 1982. Combined contributions from these four institutions in the Lake Union totaled $28,960 last year.

Berrien Springs Hispanic Church Celebrates Eleventh Anniversary

MICHIGAN—On Sabbath, February 11, the Hispanic Seventh-day Adventist Church of Berrien Springs, Michigan, celebrated its 11th anniversary. The occasion took on special significance since the anniversary coincided with the rededication of the church which has been remodeled on the interior.

Guests attending the gathering were: Herb Pritchard, treasurer of the Lake Union Conference, and Michigan Conference officers Charles Keymer, president; Arnie Swanson, secretary, and Hubert Moog, treasurer.

A large congregation of friends from the Berrien Springs area were joined by brothers and sisters from surrounding Hispanic churches in the conference.

Sabbath School was directed by the pioneers of the church. Elder Keymer's sermon offered the promise that "God will do great things when his children give themselves unconditionally to His service."

Benjamin Iquilla, head elder of the church, and Luis Leonor, pastor, recalled how God directed in the organization of the church, which finally occurred on February 10, 1973.

Wilson Trickett, missionary director of Pioneer Memorial Church, received special mention for his support of the plan to organize a Hispanic church.

The individual who played a key role in the crystalization of the remodeling of the church was William Davidson, former dean and professor of the Andrews University School of Technology and an elder in the church. Dr. Davidson received a commemorative plaque in recognition of his contribution to the remodeling project.

Elder Leonor gave words of thanks to all who had participated in the remodeling.

After worship service, members and visitors gathered in the recreation room of University Towers at Andrews University where they enjoyed dinner and Christian fellowship.

In the afternoon, a musical program was presented and a baptismal ceremony took place. Carmen Inquilla and Carlos Weiss, both members of charter member families, were baptized.

Twins Direct Center

MICHIGAN—Someone once said, "As an incentive to industry, enterprise and thrift, there isn't anything that can beat twins." The same thought could be applied to community services.

Community services director, Bernice Tarzwell, and her identical twin sister, Beatrice Abram, who is secretary, work together in the Cheboygan, Michigan, center to keep the supply of clothing and bedding ready for distribution. Beatrice is also the church treasurer.

Recently, the sisters organized a "give-away" day to distribute the overflow they had accumulated.

On the day of the give-away, they served 176 people, distributed 1,273 pieces of clothing and 95 pieces of literature to the families who came. They also packed 28 boxes of clothing for disaster relief.

Since the cash flow in the center is often low, another member Alta Rollins is furnished with quilt materials. Alta makes the quilts and gives them to Bernice who sells them. So far 15 quilts have been sold, and orders for six more have been received.

Wisconsin Conference News Notes

● According to Donna J. Miller, communication secretary for the Rice Lake Church, a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking was held at the Barron Memorial Hospital, January 22 to 26. Dr. Damroth conducted the program and 16 people attended.

● According to Sally Westman, communication secretary for the Wausau Church, a Sweetheart Banquet and program was presented for adults in the church during February. Ellen and Wayne Miller, social committee chairmen, coordinated the banquet and program. The evening included a supper served by social committee members in a room decorated for Valentines Day. A video tape was shown of "Captain George Coffey" who was a prisoner of war for seven years during the Vietnam War.

● Birthdays for 1984 were celebrated on January 28 at the Portage Church. Debbie Wade led the evening's activities which included a performing clown. Several cakes were baked and decorated, and tables were set for each month of the year. People sat at their respective birthday tables. Games were played and prizes were awarded.

● Clear Lake church members recently conducted a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking at the Family Medical Clinic, Amery, Wisconsin. Pastor Wallace Mandigo and Paul Elbing, a community family physician, led out in the program. Ten people were able to quit smoking. Dr. Elbing has asked that another plan be held in the near future so that his wife will be able to attend, reports Beth Nelson, communication secretary.

● On February 25, a candlelight service was held at the Clear Lake Church to induct six new members into the Pathfinder Club. Sally Johnson, director, welcomes Heidi Britain, Katina Laursen, Carey Rosen, Bill Icard, Tammy Story, and Alyssa Maloney into the Dairyland Doers Pathfinder Club.

● Eight young children were dedicated to the Lord during Sabbath services recently at Clear Lake Church. Wallace Mandigo offered dedicatory prayers asking God's blessing on each child individually. The children were: Deanna Lea, 2-month-old daughter of Joyce and David Jurisch; Angel Leann and Andrews Lawrence, children of Melissa Roth; Elizabeth Ann, 8-month-old daughter of Carol and Tom Nelson; Michael David, 3-year-old son of Cindy Behling; Justin Kang, 2-year-old son of Georgia and Jeff Rosen; Carissa Lee, 1-year-old daughter of Joylyn Hasbrook, and Brent Davis, 3-year-old son of Beth and Wesley Nelson.

● Pastor Paul Scofield of the Wausau Church conducted a Stop Smoking Clinic, February 5 to 9, at the church. Sally Westman, communication secretary, reported an excellent attendance.

● According to Harvey Hansen, communication secretary of the Clearwater Lake Church, 15 young people from the Alpine Springs Academy, a self-supporting school near Fountain City, Wisconsin, gave a concert at the Clearwater Lake Church Friday evening, March 9. Jeanette Bissel led the chorus.

● Darryl Kotunka of the Wisconsin Academy farm was guest speaker at Clearwater Lake Church for Sabbath services March 10. Mr. Kotunka told of some of his experiences as a missionary in Africa and presented thoughts on Jonah, Ninevah and God.

Three Members Join Marion Church

INDIANA—On February 18 three new members joined the Marion Church. Pastor Chico Rivera, left, officiated as Opal Hosier, Nannie Wilson and Gary Williams were accepted into church membership. Gary Williams became a member as a result of tapes and Bible studies shared with him by Nancy and Roy Good, who are church members. Opal Hosier and Nannie Wilson had attended the Adventist Church for 10 years but had not fully decided to join until recently when Vaughn Korporeal, Marion's head elder, and Pastor Rivera visited their home and encouraged them to become members.

298 Receive Blood Pressure Screening

INDIANA—Dennis Mauro, Pastor Chico Rivera and Bob Bartlett recently led out as 298 people had their blood pressures checked at the Marion Mall in Marion, Indiana. The blood pressure screening was conducted in order to advertise the upcoming 2-5-4 Smoke No More plan. Fifteen people registered for the smoking program, and several elderly people were referred to their doctors for further analysis.

Michigan Conference News Notes

● Led by Carl Gair, local elder, the Houghton Lake Church, in the past three years, has acquired new carpeting and draperies and has had the outside of the church repainted. With the help of Ella Kemp, members have also purchased property behind the church for parking space. And everything is debt free.

● The Muskegon Church and Muskegon General Hospital recently offered a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking. The free program was open to the public. Dr. Mark Smalley and James Clayburn, members of the church, conducted the program. Average attendance was 42, and 22 people completed the course. Five follow-up sessions were held. Another series is planned for April.

● Detroit Northfield Junior Academy has recently received a gift of a TR580 Model 3 computer with two disc drives. Clarence Newton Jr, principal, said that students have already used it many times for word processing, instruction work, and educational games. It is also used for school office records, profile and data. The computer was donated by Dr and Mrs. Gladstone Payton of the Warren Church.

● Detroit Northfield Junior Academy used a new approach to its spring Week of Prayer. Pastor Bryan Hudson recruited and trained students to be the main speakers.

● Orion-Oxford members have had enough clothing in their center this year to share two carloads with other organizations in the area. One load was delivered to Clinton Valley State Hospital and the other to the Pontiac Rescue Mission. The church is also sharing a portion of the community center two Tuesdays a month with the Department of Social Services for use in their medical assistance program.

● Steve Bagget, a member of the Orion-Oxford Church, recently conducted a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking which was held at the public library.

Colporteur Contacts New Member

Indiana Conference News Notes

● Marion Church recently held its first stop smoking plan in more than 10 years. The Grant County Cancer Society and the Marion Church combined forces to see 25 people begin the program and 18 remain. "The success of the program depended on counselors Bob and Beth Bartlett, Fred and Darlene Turner, and Dennis Mauro as they each called and encouraged participants to choose not to smoke," said Pastor Chico Rivera.

● The Indiana Academy Band, directed by Jerry Chase, presented a program recently in the Richmond Church. The 25-piece band presented the worship service followed by a fellowship dinner, according to Erlabell Petry, communication secretary.

● Timber Ridge Youth Camp has many needs. Winterizing cabins, new facilities and maintenance of buildings is costly. This year the June 16 camp meeting offering will be for the conference camp and retreat center.

● Twenty-two couples in Richmond enjoyed a Valentine candlelight dinner at the church school, according to Erlabell Petry, communication secretary.

● Christine Gambrel, communication secretary from the Chapel West Church of Indianapolis, reported 72 people attended a Revelation Seminar on opening night. Nearly 60 are still attending.

● Twelve members of the Shelbyville Church meet Sabbath afternoons for "Skills of Caring," a class taught by Steven Nugent, church elder. Listening to people's real needs is the basis of the class, according to Mr. Nugent, who explained that a caring church must be tuned to hear the hurting member or former member. Class members practice their skills in a systematic visitation program.

'It Is Written' Program Provides Answers

INDIANA—Charlotte Dodd of Indianapolis was searching the TV channels for answers to her spiritual needs one Sunday when she found "It Is Written."

"Elder Vandeman's presentation made more sense than other TV preachers," says Charlotte. She sent for the free books offered and prayed, "Please Lord, lead me to the right church."

Many were involved in her pathway to the Indianapolis Irvington Seventh-day Adventist Church. Duane Longfellow, then pastor at Irvington, delivered the books; Ruth Jenks, Bible instructor, studied with her; Evangelist Lester Carney held a Revelation Seminar and crusade she attended, and Pastor Longfellow eventually baptized her.

"Without the 'It Is Written' program, I don't know where I'd be today," says Charlotte.

Indiana Advance makes possible the TV ministry of "It Is Written." You can strengthen the gospel net by regularly supporting the Indiana Advance fund.

Adventist Nursing Education Celebrates 100th Anniversary

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—Seventh-day Adventist nursing education is 100 years old this year. In 1884 the Battle Creek Medical Missionary Training School opened its first two-year nursing program. It became a forerunner of the current Andrews University nursing department and a pioneer in nursing education throughout the United States.

Modern nursing began in the United States in 1873 when Linda Richards, America's first trained nurse, graduated from Women's Hospital in Philadelphia.

In that same year graduates from Florence Nightingale's School of Nursing in London came to Bellevue Hospital in New York City to help improve the conditions that existed there and to assist in opening a school of nursing.

During the following year, 1874, John Harvey Kellogg was finishing his medical studies at Bellevue. It is probable that Dr. Kellogg noticed the improvements and innovations made by the nurses from London.

Dr. Kellogg graduated from Bellevue in 1875 and became physician-in-chief at Battle Creek Sanitarium. In 1883 he announced that a six-month course for the training of nurses would begin at the sanitarium November 1, 1883.

There is little historical evidence that this six-month program ever began. However, in 1884 the Battle Creek Medical Missionary Training School began a two-year program, and in 1888 a five-year course was outlined.

Co-founder of the Battle Creek nursing program was Kate Lindsay. Dr. Lindsay, for many years a physician at the sanitarium, was the pillar of the nursing program.

A former nurse herself, Dr. Lindsay had been a member of the first class to admit women at the University of Michigan School of Medicine in Ann Arbor. After graduating in 1875, she went directly to Battle Creek to practice at the sanitarium.

Since there existed few textbooks on nursing at that time, Dr. Lindsay wrote her own entitled Lectures: Sanitarium Medical Missionary School. She not only taught many of the nursing classes but continued her medical practice in the sanitarium as well.

Christian service was the theme that ran through the missionary school at Battle Creek. Students who enrolled in the five-year course pledged themselves to five years service after graduation. Many students gave a lifetime of service to the church.

In less than two decades the Battle Creek Medical Missionary Training School sent missionary nurses to Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Germany, Switzerland, England, France, Australia, Ireland, India, Japan, the East and West Indies, Hawaii, Samoa, New Zealand, Egypt, South Africa and many other countries.

Mary Foy, an 1890 graduate who became director of the program in 1899, was a member of the first board of nursing examiners for the state of Michigan and remained on that board for 15 years.

In 1893 Sarah M. Baker, a graduate of the surgical department at Battle Creek Sanitarium, spoke on the subject of nursing to the section of hospitals, dispensaries and nursing of the International Congress of Charities, Corrections and Philanthropy at the Chicago World's Fair. It was at this world's fair that the American Nurses's Association and the National League of Nursing Education were born.

In 1933 the Battle Creek School of Nursing lost its state approval and was discontinued. However, Hinsdale Hospital, opened by the Battle Creek Sanitarium, began a nursing school of its own in 1905. The Hinsdale School of Nursing continued to meet the needs of nurse's training in the Lake Union until it was moved to Andrews University in 1967.

Currently the baccalaureate nursing program is accredited by the National League of Nursing and is approved by the Michigan Board of Nursing.

A four-year bachelor of science program is currently offered which prepares students for being licensed as registered nurses. In 1981 a master of science degree program in nursing and nursing administration was begun and is offered on the Berrien Springs campus and several extension campuses across the country.

Currently there are 273 students enrolled on the undergraduate levels.

On April 14 don't just tell us how much faith you have in the future of the Church. Show us.

The offering on April 14th is for the Andrews University Graduate Scholarship Fund. And it's also for something else: the future of the Church.

You see, with your contribution, dedicated graduate students will have the chance to continue their studies in helping the Church help the world.

Men and women from all nations (including every Conference and Union which make up the Church) are attending Andrews University, obtaining professional degrees in Business, Medical Technology, Educational Psychology, and other needed skills. They're taking their training and using it throughout every country in the world.

Helping where help is needed.

Giving hope where before there was only despair.

Loving where there was no love.

But without your help, they can't help. Because, quite simply, there won't be enough money left to go around to all these students who need the financial aid. Which means, unfortunately, their studies might have to stop.

Along with their dreams.

We think dedicated people like this deserve all the help they can get.

So we're appealing to you.

And we thank you.

SUPPORT THE FUTURE OF THE CHURCH.
GIVE TO THE
ANDREWS UNIVERSITY GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP FUND.

Deep Roots

Jere Wallack
Editor
Lake Union Herald

Roots. Some are deep. Some shallow. The depth of roots is relative.

Dandelion roots, for example, are shallow when compared to those of a mighty oak tree. But they seem deep to the one who attempts to dig them from the lawn.

I'm a preacher's kid. Some of you in Battle Creek, Petoskey and Kalamazoo, Michigan, know that by experience. So, when I think of deep roots, that's relative too, because five years in one location have provided my deepest roots.

But now we've lived in Berrien Springs for eight years, and my roots have grown deeper than ever. Relative though, because many of you will consider eight years only shallow roots.

There is security in deep roots, we've found. The mighty oak survives storms because it has deep roots. It feels good to have deep roots.

But those of us who work for the church are used to pulling up roots and going to new challenges and opportunities. That's not as secure, really, but it certainly is exciting.

I have just accepted a call to the Potomac Conference in Virginia to be the vice president of planning. We leave the Lake Union—pull up our roots—with mixed emotions.

It's been a new experience for me to set deep roots. It's felt good. But then comes the emotion of excited expectation as we look to the future challenges the Lord has given to us.

We leave the editorship of the Herald with many meaningful memories: Working with super dedicated professionals on the Herald staff, both past and present. They're great people!

The correspondents from the conferences and institutions, and our meetings together.

Your response to two readership surveys. And the letters from many of you, with kudos and brickbats.

The challenge of cutting the Herald budget so more funds could be used in other areas of the work of the church.

The fun of changing formats from a weekly magazine to a bi-weekly magazine, and finally to a monthly magazine and a monthly tabloid.

The joy of producing the NO ONE BUT YOU slide/tape program.

And the excitement of meeting so many of you and sharing your enthusiasm for the work of the Lord.

So many memories . . . Let's go back and think about the depth of roots.

Any roots we form on this earth, no matter how deep, seem secure. But they are so fragile. We're only pilgrims here. The only truly deep roots—the only secure roots—are those which are formed in Jesus Christ.

Let me say farewell by quoting the Apostle Paul. This is my prayer for each of you: "May your roots go down deep into the soil of God's marvelous love . . . And so at last you will be filled up with God himself" (Ephesians 3:17, 19, The Living Bible).

APRIL 10, 1984 VOLUME LXXVI, NUMBER 8

The 100th anniversary of Seventh-day Adventist nursing education is being celebrated this year. It was begun in 1884 by Dr. John Harvey Kellogg and Dr. Kate Lindsay at the Battle Creek Sanitarium in Battle Creek, Michigan. It continues today at Adventist colleges and hospitals worldwide, including Andrews University. To learn more about the history of Adventist nursing see page 5. (Items pictured above are part of the Andrews University Heritage Room.)
