VOLUME LXXVI, NUMBER 21

'Voice' and Signs Reach Out Together

LOS ANGELES, CALIF—Now, through the "Voice of Prophecy," you can reach more souls than ever before through satellite broadcasting and Signs of the Times follow-up.

During the past year, the Satellite Radio Network has brought the "Voice of Prophecy" some of its most responsive audiences.

Recently, 200 new markets have opened to daily broadcasts. This has given opportunity to enlarge the outreach of the "Voice of Prophecy" at the low cost for air time of less than a dollar per minute.

For each of the many new listeners responding to the broadcast, the "Voice of Prophecy" will provide six months of the missionary magazine Signs of the Times. Names will be sent to local churches for immediate phone follow-up.

"Signs provides a cost effective way to nurture our listeners," says H. M. S. Richards Jr., director and speaker of the "Voice of Prophecy." "Because of the large circulation for Signs, we can purchase these magazines for much less than it would cost to produce our own materials."

According to Elder Robert Carter, president of the Lake Union, "The partnership between the 'Voice' and Signs is a wonderful approach to soul-winning."

Every week letters arrive at "Voice of Prophecy" headquarters from grateful new believers like Roy in Wisconsin, who writes: "Thanks to God, through the 'Voice of Prophecy,' I now attend the Seventh-day Adventist Church and will be baptized soon."

During the past decade, 20,538 souls like Roy have joined the Adventist family through the "Voice of Prophecy." Now, with Signs follow-up to serve those newly interested in the message of the broadcast, more people than ever can find the answers for which they search.

This year on October 13, Voice of Prophecy Day challenges the churches to reach millions of new listeners by tripling the number of satellite stations.

"We believe that God will inspire our members to move this project forward," says Elder Richards. "The 200 new satellite outlets will cost $636,000. Sending Signs to 50,000 new listeners adds more than $100,000."

If our members can double last year's offering, we will have funds sufficient to move ahead through the doors God has opened before us."

Never before could your gift touch more lives for less money than now through the "Voice of Prophecy" satellite and Signs outreach.

Southside Member Awarded

INDIANA—Jane Dickerson, a member of the Indianapolis Southside Church was recently awarded the A.C.E award for single programming for children.

A.C.E. is an acronym for Award for Cable Excellence and is the equivalent to an Emmy in regular television broadcasting.

Jane is responsible for the children's program "The Filling Station," a nondenominational Christian program. The program can be seen on the P.T.L. network and various local stations, reported Brenda Johnson, communication secretary.

Jane and her family attended the award ceremony in Washington, D.C., at the Ford Theater on September 6, Jane was given a trophy.

Con Con Defeated in Michigan

LAKE UNION—With the call for a United States Constitutional Convention just two states short of the number necessary, the nation's attention was focused on Michigan on September 13, 1984.

On that date, the Michigan House of Representatives Committee on Constitutional Revision and Women's Rights voted 5 to 4 not to send the measure to the floor of the House of Representatives with a favorable recommendation.

The vote on Senate Joint Resolution "E," which had already passed the Michigan Senate, was bi-partisan with members of both parties voting on each side of the issue.

On Wednesday, September 19, an attempt to bring the matter to the floor of the House of Representatives for a vote, in spite of the committee's vote, was defeated 55 to 46. Seven members of the House of Representatives did not vote.

With this legislative session coming to a close, Con Con appears to be dead in Michigan for this year.

The contacts with the members of the House of Representatives made by the citizens opposed to the Constitutional Convention had a positive effect in defeating the issue.

A note of appreciation to those representatives who supported the integrity of the United States Constitution by voting against this resolution would be appropriate.

The House committee members voting against the Constitutional Convention resolution were Mary Brown, Mary Ellen Parrot, Floyd Clack, Alma Stalworth and Ruth McNamee.

Forty-one members of the House of Representatives voted to keep the resolution in the committee and not report it to the House of Representatives on the discharge motion.

Persons desiring more information on this issue should direct inquiries to Attorney Vernon Alger, Lake Union Conference, Box C, Berrien Springs, MI 49103.

Plant Site Visited by Pacific Press Board Members

BOISE, IDAHO—Board members of the Pacific Press Publishing Association visited the construction site of the new Pacific Press headquarters in Nampa, Idaho, recently. President and General Manager Gene Stiles led the board members on the walking tour and pointed out the progress of the construction. The building is now fully enclosed, and the interior walls are going up. Floors in the production area are being prepared for installation of the presses at the end of October. Board activities for the day included decisions for the purchase of an ink jet labeling system, an energy efficient wastepaper recycling processor and several modifications and additions to the existing presses. A Heidelberg five-color sheet-fed press has already been ordered from Germany and is due to arrive at the plant site shortly.

Efforts of Sault Ste. Marie Members Result in Baptisms of Two Individuals

MICHIGAN—Two people were baptized recently at the Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, Church as a result of the efforts of church members.

Mindy Cameron became a member after studying with church members Harry and Virginia Selby.

The other baptism originated from a prison ministry program in the Upper Peninsula.

Matt Ballard, another church member, and Harry have been visiting the facility and studying with Cleotus Allen since July 1983. Later, Matt's and Harry's wives joined in the prison ministry, along with Shari Voorhees, still another church member.

On August 25, Cleotus was allowed to come to the Sault Ste. Marie Church for his baptism, accompanied by a guard. Arthur Covell, personal ministries director of the Michigan Conference, performed the baptism.

This is the first time a prisoner has been allowed to leave the facility for such an occasion. Arthur Covell, personal ministries director of the Michigan Conference, officiated at the baptism.

Two other prisoners are studying in preparation for baptism.

'God's Runners' Have Special Abilities

Inspired, in part, by the dedication witnessed in athletes during the recent summer olympics, this quarter's NO ONE BUT YOU program is completed and is now showing in churches throughout the Lake Union.

Written and photographed by Robbi Pierson, a media technology student at Andrews University, "God's Runners" centers around the theme that God is searching for runners to carry His light—His message—to the world. He is searching for people whose foremost priority is to advance His message of love and life.

BUT

The lead story in the fourth quarter slide-tape program appropriately features Seventh-day Adventist runner Rex Reed. Rex and his wife, Lori, became Adventists six years ago after Rex met, and began running with, Adventist Dan Heinz.

Currently Rex is a teacher at the Hastings, Michigan, Adventist Elementary School. Today, his hobby of running is used to witness to others. As a result, two people have been baptized.

Also featured in "God's Runners" is Lola Reese. Carrying the light of God's love to her neighborhood in Chicago, this delightful grandmother has been employed as a Cook County deputy sheriff for the past 16 years.

Lola was baptized last year during Clifton Davis' evangelistic crusade at the Shiloh Church in Chicago. Her story tells how she invited 27 friends and relatives to the meetings; all of them were baptized.

The third story shared in the current NO ONE BUT YOU program tells how God sent several of His runners into the life of fashion model Karen Overland.

From a human viewpoint, the chain of events which led Karen to a personal relationship with the Master Designer almost seem impossible. But when God, in His perfect timing, decided to send His runners into Karen's life, the impossible became possible.

Yes, we are all runners in the race. Just as every member on a relay team is important in completing the common goal, every Christian is important in completing the common goal of going forward with Christ's command, "Go ye into all the world . . ." (Mark 16:15).

Karen Overland

Each of God's runners has his or her special talent or ability. Every Christian has a specific gift from God. It is through this God-given gift that each of us can have a part in carrying His light to the world.

Community Guests Day in Niles

LAKE REGION—The Philadelphia Church in Niles, Michigan, recently held its annual Community Guests Day services. The speaker for the divine worship service was Robert C. Conner, ministerial director for the Lake Union Conference. His topic was "Jesus for President."

Community Guests Day Held at Gethsemane Church

LAKE REGION—The Gethsemane Church in Danville, Illinois, held its fourth annual Community Guests Day program recently.

The Sabbath services were made special because Elder and Mrs. Clinton J. Youngman were present. The Youngmans were instrumental in the forming of Gethsemane as a church.

A plaque was presented to the Youngmans during the community services period commemorating their dedication and service to God's work in the Danville area.

The message for the divine worship service, entitled "I Had a Dream," was delivered by Elder Youngman. The message charged those present to dedicate their lives to the spreading of God's Word.

The afternoon program was held at the Sheraton Inn in Danville. The topic for the discussion was "Alcohol and Drug Abuse in Today's Society." Guest lecturer was Dr. Randy Taylor, assistant chief of psychology at Veterans Administration in Danville.

Dr. Taylor's message centered around helping people recognize their problems. He also admonished Christians to try and help those with alcohol and drug problems instead of alienating them.

Musical guests included the group Gospel Clouds of Joy from Columbus, Ohio.

Church members from Evansville, Terre Haute, and Champaign churches were present for the Community Guests Day, according to Debra Murphy, communication secretary for the Gethsemane Church.

Pam Mitchell and Ernest Stevens were married by Pastor James Micheff of Cadillac, Michigan, at Camp Au Sable.

Michigan Advance Funds Provide Master Plans

MICHIGAN—The Long-Range Planning Committee for Camp Au Sable met two years ago to proceed with a master plan that would give much needed information for future projects.

When looking for someone to do the plans, the committee looked to the architecture class at Andrews University. Pam Mitchell of South Haven, Michigan, was recommended because of her previous two years experience in planning on another project.

Pam spent time with the committee to discuss the dreams, philosophy and needs of the camp. She worked the summers of 1983 and 1984 and is using the project as her thesis for a project for her bachelor's degree.

Pam hopes to complete the project this year. Completed plans will include a site plan with property lines, topography, contours, utility layout, and projected facility needs. By the time she has finished the plans, Pam will have carefully examined the 800 acres.

Also working at Camp Au Sable for the past few years was Ernest Stevens. He is an Andrews University student working on an advanced degree.

Pam and Ernie decided to include a "master plan" for their lives as well as for Camp Au Sable, so during the summer months they also became Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stevens.

Camp Au Sable was picked as the ideal spot for their wedding, and they were married at the Chapel-in-the-Woods. Instead of the usual lighting of a unity candle, Ernie and Pam twined vines together during the ceremony.

After the master plan for the camp is completed, Ernie and Pam will be looking for something to do as a team.

Michigan Conference News Notes

● Two Michigan pastors have reported that their churches are already over the Vanguard goal in Ingathering this year. Elder Gordon Stecker of Long Lake said they surpassed their goal on August 1, and Paul Howell reported Hastings had their victory celebration on August 27.

● Eleven people were baptized in two baptisms in the Orion-Oxford Church recently. The baptisms were conducted by Pastor Earl Zager. Baptized were: Laurie and Karen Sadzinski, Andrea Heil, Jacob and Angela Clark, Beverly Wern, Todd and Tim Hubbard, Layne Davisson, Janine Delaporte and Tisha Bryson.

● Ten people were baptized recently in Lansing as the first-fruits of an evangelistic crusade being held by Pastor Raul Gonzalez of the Lansing Spanish Church and Donald Cameron, Northern California Conference evangelist. Thirteen other people responded to a call to prepare for the next baptism.

● Evangelist Jack Nash reported 11 baptisms from the evangelistic series in Marshall. The new pastor there is Drury Rourke.

● Iron River church members, led by Pastor Kenneth Williams, have recently made improvements on their church. New double doors have been hung in the chapel, and the entrance door has been replaced. The outside trim of the church has been painted and the landscape improved.

Indiana Conference News Notes

● As a result of a two-inch article placed in an Elkhart, Indiana, newspaper, two new students enrolled in the Adventist church school. The short article mentioned the registration date and time and indicated the tuition cost. Elkhart church members don't know who was responsible for the notice, but they are thankful, reports Sharon Earls, communication secretary.

● Evansville church members have redecorated their school building and a new stove and refrigerator have been installed, according to Sunny Wiedman, communication secretary.

● The Evansville Church conducted Vacation Bible School for 45 children. It was co-directed by Sunny Wiedman and Pam Knott and ended Sabbath, August 11.

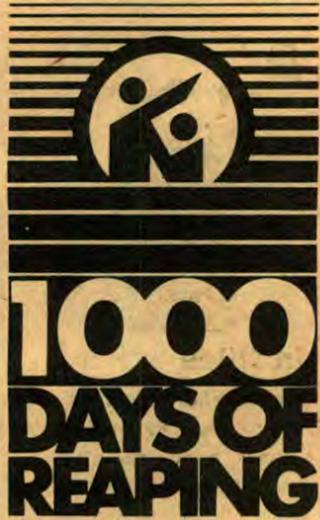

● Russell Blair, choir director for the Elkhart Church, is also choir leader of the United Methodist Church in South Bend, Indiana. A few months after he began directing the Methodist choir, he suggested combining the Adventist and Methodist choirs for special weekend programs. First they performed "The Easter Cantata," then, on July 7, they presented the program entitled "Declaration of Dependence on God," a patriotic presentation. The narrator was Navy Chaplain Dave Girardin, pastoral student serving in the Elkhart Church from Andrews University Theological Seminary.

● Kokomo youth, directed by Dorothy Huston and Bette Toscano, held a health-blood pressure check program in a local K-Mart parking lot recently. Additional programs were offered to the 202 people who took advantage of this health check. According to Bernice Reynolds, communication secretary, the other programs offered were weight control, vegetarian cooking, a stop smoking plan, understanding children, Bible marking, stress control, and grief recovery.

● Carroll Lawson, pastor of the Southside Church, began a Revelation Seminar September 19 at 7 P.M. The first few classes will be held at the Holiday Inn East in nearby Beech Grove and will move later to the church. More than 20 students have pre-registered for the seminar, according to Brenda Johnson, communication secretary.

● Dr. Hans LaRondelle of Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan, was guest speaker at the La Porte district rally services held in the Bendix Woods County Park, September 8. "We enjoyed a Sabbath day of fellowship, worship and a picnic lunch in the beauty of God's creation," reported Nolah Nasser, communication secretary of the Michigan City Church.

Indiana Pastors Receive Inspiration And Recreation

INDIANA—Indiana pastors and their families received inspiration and recreation at Timber Ridge Youth Camp, August 12 to 19. Above, Jerry Fore, left, pastor of the South Bend, Indiana, Church, and Chuck Hanlon, pastor of the Tell City Church, conduct a seminar on listening.

Spencer Conducts Health Screening

INDIANA—Carol Miller, a Spencer, Indiana, church member, assists a visitor to the health screening van at the Owen County Fair. Members of the Spencer Church screened more than 200 persons and distributed free literature. Follow-up classes in cooking, stop smoking and Bible study are planned this fall by the church.

Hearing Analysis Conducted By Andrews at Youth Fair

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—Almost 1,500 people who attended the Berrien County Youth Fair in Berrien Springs, Michigan, took advantage of a hearing screening conducted by the Speech and Hearing Clinic at Andrews University.

Of those tested, nearly 80 people were found to have significant hearing problems, said Roy Hartbauer, director of the clinic and professor of communicative disorders. Nearly all of these people are receiving follow-up evaluations at the clinic.

Dr. Hartbauer noted that the screening would not have been possible except for the loan of a trailer by Gyl Kasewurm, a former student of speech and hearing pathology at Andrews.

Nearly five percent of those tested had hearing problems. This corresponds to the national average, according to Dr. Hartbauer.

The Speech and Hearing Clinic at Andrews provides complete audiological diagnostic evaluations as well as therapy, hearing aid dispensing, orientation, lip reading, and sign language instruction.

Andrews Presents Fine Arts Programs

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—Andrews University presents Wolf Prairie Fine Arts, a calendar of lectures, films, drama, musical programs and art gallery showings.

The calendar includes the annual Concert-Picture Series, according to Andrea Steele, director of public relations.

"The new name reflects the wider scope of fine arts programs offered on campus and is a tribute to the community of Berrien Springs, which is located in the area first known as Wolf's Prairie," Mrs. Steele said.

Under the name "Wolf's Prairie," six different groups of programs will be offered during the 1984-85 academic year.

As in the past, the Concert-Picture and Chamber Music Series will present 20 programs, according to Norman Roy, director of these programs. Films in the series include "In Praise of Autumn," "Scrooge," Warren Miller's "Ski Country," and "American Southwest."

Concerts include the United States Marine Band, the Twin Cities Symphony and the Oakwood College Aeolians.

Lectures will be presented by Max Cleland, former head of the Veterans Administration, and Peter Jenkins, author of "A Walk Across America" and "The Walk West."

The Chamber Music Series presents five programs featuring nationally and locally known artists of serious music. The Chicago Ensemble, which performed at Andrews last year, is returning because of the demand for more of their music.

Other artists include the Crawford-Sutherland Duo, which specializes in baroque music played on instruments of the period; Bruce Lehman, a percussionist, and "Synchrony," the blend of the musical talents of Jill Felber, flutist, and Robert Conway, pianist.

The university music department will present two series of programs. One features different student music groups such as the University Band, the University Orchestra and the University Wind Ensemble.

The other, titled "BaSH 300," celebrates the 300th anniversary of the births of Bach, Scarlatti and Handel.

BaSH 300 presents eight concerts, a film and nine demonstration/lectures featuring the music and examining the talents of three of the world's greatest composers, according to Morris Taylor, director of the series.

Another respected series under the "Wolf Prairie" umbrella is the Institute of Archaeology lectures. During the school year the institute and the Horn Archaeological Museum sponsors lectures by noted archaeologists and biblical scholars.

Headlining this year's series is a special report, "Andrews' First Season at Tell el-Umeiri, Jordan" by Lawrence T. Geraty, professor of archaeology and history of antiquity at the Theological Seminary at Andrews.

The dig season began with the discovery of a seal impression of the prime minister of Baalis, an Ammonite king, who until now was known only by a biblical reference (Jeremiah 40:14). Other discoveries will be announced, according to Dr. Geraty.

The final series is the Adventist Christian Youth Action (A.C.Y.A.) Sacred Arts Series. A.C.Y.A. sponsors a series of programs which reflect the Christian standards of the university.

This year's series includes Robert Short's multimedia lecture on "Christ, Marriage and the Playboy Society" and a group from Australia, the Spanish Singers, which performs contemporary Christian music.

One of the best attended events in the past that will be repeated this year is the International Food Fair, according to Mrs. Steele.

This fair features the food and entertainment of various cultures around the world. It is organized and operated by the people from those countries on campus.

The fair will be held in May. More than 2,000 people attended last year.

The Wolf Prairie Fine Arts brochure listing these cultural events is available at the Public Relations Building on campus, or can be obtained by calling 616-471-3313.

Accreditation Granted To Glendale Heights Hospital

GLENDALE HEIGHTS, ILL.—Glendale Heights Community Hospital in Glendale Heights, Illinois, has been granted the maximum three-year accreditation given by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Accreditation by this commission provides professional and national recognition for facilities giving quality health care to their patients. Glendale Heights Hospital voluntarily sought to be measured against these high professional standards, as it seeks to continually improve patient care.

Prior to being granted the accreditation, an exhaustive survey was made of all facilities and procedures that affect patient care. Established in 1951, the commission is governed by the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Dental Association, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

Glendale Heights Community Hospital was established in 1980. Nearly 200 physicians, representing more than 50 specialties, practice at the hospital.

The 186-bed facility is a member of the Adventist Health System/North, Hinsdale, Illinois.

New Staff Members At Wisconsin Academy

WISCONSIN—Wisconsin Academy in Columbus, Wisconsin, has received some new staff members this year.

Jayson Scott is now registrar and guidance counselor. Mr. Scott, a Californian, received his master of arts degree in counseling and guidance from Loma Linda University. He has experience as a resident assistant, a colporteur, and a camp counselor. His wife, Sheryl, is a registered nurse.

Another Californian, Karen Leggitt, who also has a master of arts degree in counseling and guidance from Loma Linda University, is girls dean. She has had experience as a resident assistant, girls camp director and has been a Taskforce worker at the Hawaiian Mission.

Rose Perry is assistant girls dean and English instructor. Mrs. Perry holds a bachelor of arts degree from Loma Linda University. She formerly taught ninth-grade English and reading at an academy in Oregon. She and her husband, Morian, have three children: Stephanie 19; Mark, 17, and Kirk, 11.

Norm Kinney, formerly pastor of Cedar Lake Academy Church for seven years, will become Bible teacher at Wisconsin Academy.

Pastor Kinney holds a bachelor of arts degree in religion from Andrews University. He has spent two years as a literature evangelist and 11 years as a pastor in Illinois.

He and his wife, Jeri, have four children: Scott, Terry, Margo and Clayton.

Peter Blankenship, formerly from Flint, Michigan, and most recently from the Country Life Store and Restaurant in Madison, Wisconsin, will be the new food services director.

Mr. Blankenship helped build the Madison restaurant and eventually became the manager. His wife, Verna, is secretary to the president of the Wisconsin Conference.

Bill Zehm is now herdsman at the Wisconsin Academy Dairy. He holds a master of arts in teaching degree in biology and has taught agriculture. He has worked on farms and dairies at Inca Union College, Campion Academy, Platte Valley Academy, Andrews University and Pacific Union College.

He and his wife, Corinne, have four children, Allan, Karen, Dawn Gatewood, and Ken.

The assistant herdsman at the Wisconsin Academy Dairy is now Darryl Kotanko. He has worked on farms in Wisconsin, as a builder at Camp Go Seek and as a building director in Tanzania, Africa.

His wife, Cindy, will be teaching at the Madison Junior Academy. She holds a bachelor of arts degree in elementary education and Spanish. They have a son, Adam Julius.

North Shore Bible Groups Meet in Homes

ILLINOIS—In 1983 the members of the North Shore Church in Chicago divided into home Bible study groups with a selected leader and the assistance of an elder. The groups meet on Wednesday nights and are planning to hold Revelation Seminars in their homes. As the groups increase in number, they will divide to form new ones, according to Bernice Kirschenbauer, communication secretary. Some of the members who meet in homes for Bible study are, back row, from left, Linda DaSilva, Pat Hogan, George Kirschenbauer and June Jacobson. Foreground, from left, Valeria Klemm, leader, and Vickie Haisty.

Broadview Students Studied

ILLINOIS—Seventh-day Adventist teenagers raised in a vegetarian life-style seem less likely to suffer cardiovascular ailments than their meat-eating counterparts, according to a recent study published in The Western Journal of Medicine.

A study conducted by scientists from Northwestern University and the University of Chicago Medical Center found that cholesterol levels among students at Broadview Academy in La Fox, Illinois, were considerably lower than the national norm for that age group.

The study stated, "The mean cholesterol value for this sample is around the 15th percentile for adolescents aged 10 through 19 in the U.S." The mean blood pressures for the group were also low.

Following health principles advocated by the Adventist Church for more than 100 years, the academy cafeteria serves only lacto-ovo-vegetarian meals. The school also prohibits smoking.

According to the study, three factors increase the risk of atherosclerotic diseases: elevated serum cholesterol levels, hypertension, and smoking cigarettes. The low cholesterol levels, low blood pressures, and freedom from tobacco make Broadview students better equipped to handle these risks than their counterparts.

"Based on current knowledge, these young people enjoy an extremely favorable cardiovascular risk status, and, if this life-style persists throughout adulthood, they can expect a reduced rate of coronary heart disease relative to the general U.S. population," the study stated.

Good health has long been an important component of the Adventist message. As early as 1848 Ellen G. White, prophet and pioneer of the Adventist Church, spoke of the harmful effects of tobacco, tea, and coffee. By 1863 health principles had become part of the Adventist emphasis.

Kankakee Sees Miracles

ILLINOIS—Have miracles stopped happening? The people of the Kankakee Church don't think so. Within the last year the church has more than doubled its size.

It started when R. C. Connor, ministerial director of the Lake Union Conference, conducted the "Christ Is The Answer" crusade. At that time the church had 54 members. The Lord blessed the meetings with 76 newly baptized members.

But the sanctuary held only 80 people. Parking was a problem, and there were not enough Sabbath School rooms.

The pastor and some of the church members began looking for a new building. But every building they saw was either too big or too costly.

Last spring, however, a realtor contacted Pastor Richard Peterson and George Gomoll, head elder at that time, about a church which was twice the size of the present building; it had everything needed.

After inspecting the building with Conference Treasurer R. R.

Rouse and the church members, it was decided to try to buy this building.

The decision to sell the current church building was a difficult one, for 1984 represented the 25th anniversary of being in that building.

The owners of the larger church finally agreed to sell their building for about one-half the asking price. But the purchase depended upon the sale of the current church building.

The contract allowed until September of 1984 for this sale. Real estate moves slowly in Kankakee—but not with God.

Three weeks after the Kankakee church building was placed on the market, it was sold. But this was not the last miracle.

The smaller Kankakee church building sold for $15,000 more than the bigger church building.

On December 8, 1984, Kankakee church members will celebrate this miracle with the dedication of their new church.

Yes, God is still doing great miracles.

Academy Gardens Makes Friends

ILLINOIS—Academy Gardens is located on Keslinger Road near Broadview Academy in La Fox, Illinois.

Don and Jean Thiry, the managers, were kept busy this spring with the most successful season since their first opening in 1978. Though most of their customers are from the local community, many are from Aurora, DeKalb and even Chicago.

Customers come in August and September to pick their own vegetables for freezing or canning.

The Thirys are assisted by Tomas Caceras, Myra Alonzo and Jon Wright, who serve as supervisors for the 10 academy students employed at the gardens.

The gardens have been instrumental in making many friends in the community.

Academy Gardens has been responsible for the flowers which beautify Broadview Academy, the Kane County Fair entrance, and the North Suburban library system located in Wheeling, Illinois.

This summer a new opportunity was made available for the gardens by Pat Holtz, manager of Soup to Nuts nutrition center in Geneva, Illinois. Her nutrition center is located in the Geneva radio station (WFXW) complex on Main Street.

Mrs. Holtz, a non-Adventist who has been in the natural foods business for 10 years, invited the gardens to bring produce to town once a week to sell from her parking lot. She provides advertising coverage for this service.

The Seventh-day Adventist Church has gained many new friends in the St. Charles/Geneva area as a result of the Christian service offered by the Academy Gardens' staff.

Oscar Lane Series Spawns New Church

ILLINOIS—A well-known public celebrity in the world, Oscar Lane became a celebrity for the Lord upon his conversion and baptism. He decided he wanted to serve God as a self-supporting evangelist.

With monies donated to his ministry, he bought a semitrailer and a large six-pole red tent that seats 2,000 people.

He came to Chicago with his tent, equipment and personnel; then it happened.

A lady watched from her apartment kitchen window on 39th and Cottage Grove as the big red tent was raised across the street. The sign on the side of the semitrailer read, "Last Day Revival, Oscar Lane, Evangelist."

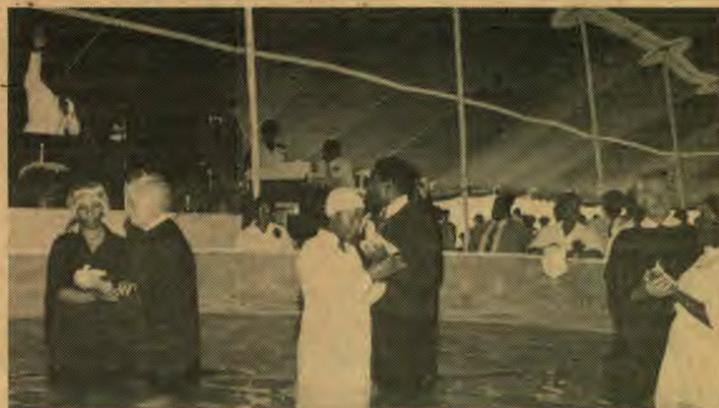

It was not the first time the lot across the street had been used for a revival, but for this lady it would mean a complete change of her life.

She opened the window each night of the first week and heard subjects she had never heard preached before; subjects on Bible prophecy, the state of the dead, and the soon coming of Jesus.

The Holy Spirit urged her to cross the street, and she followed its leading. She attended the meetings for the remaining seven weeks, along with thousands of other people.

During the fifth week, Evangelist Lane appealed to those who wanted to keep God's holy Sabbath and become part of His "remnant" to come forward. She responded, and on the first Sabbath celebration under the tent, she, along with 167 others, were baptized and joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

At the beginning of the evangelistic crusade, Evangelist

Oscar Lane presents a charge as candidates await their baptism. Illinois Conference President Everett Cumbo and Illinois Conference Secretary Robert L. Everett assisted with the baptism along with area pastors.

Lane had hired one of the local street gangs to protect his tent and its equipment. During the meetings the top two leaders of this gang, though receiving threats to their lives, accepted Jesus as their personal Saviour.

On August 20, the Goshen Church, with a membership of 59, embraced 331 newly baptized members. The Sabbath celebration was held in the Wendell Phillips High School Auditorium and was attended by more than 1,200 people.

Friends, loved ones, and visiting church members from as far as California and Delaware gathered together to hear Evangelist Lane's message.

He challenged the church, newly named the Goshen Last Day Church, to continue to grow spiritually and numerically. He charged them to be in their own church building by the end of the first year, and said that he and his wife, Valerie, are transferring their memberships to this church.

Everett E. Cumbo, Illinois Conference president, and Robert L. Everett, Illinois Conference secretary, welcomed the new members to the Illinois Conference. They also informed the members that their new pastor, Marvin Brown, would be with them on the next Sabbath.

Elder Brown had accepted the invitation to pastor the church a week prior and was in the process of moving from the South Atlantic Conference.

Shirley Smith, the church's Bible worker, was formally introduced to the members at this meeting.

Dear reader, how would it affect your church if 331 new members were baptized into it? Would your church be ready?

Beloved, it's time to be ready. We are in the last moments of earth's history, and the last movements will happen with tremendous rapidity.

It is time to join hands and pray and work unitedly with the Lord. He desires to do even greater miracles in your church than what took place on 39th Street in Chicago. Are you ready?

Robert L. Everett, Secretary
Illinois Conference

When Oscar Lane decided to become a self-supporting evangelist, monies were donated to help him buy a semitrailer and a six-pole tent that seats 2,000 people.

Richards Celebrates 90th Birthday

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—H. M. S. and Mabel Richards hold a framed resolution from California State Assemblyman Tom McClintock honoring Dr. Richards on his 90th birthday, August 28. The document traces the highlights of Richards' lifetime career in evangelism and radio ministry. It declares the "Voice of Prophecy" founder to be "deserving of highest commendations and heartiest congratulations from the people of California." Elder Richards has made a rapid recovery from a stroke he suffered six days before his birthday this year. Two years ago, he had a stroke three days before his 88th birthday.

Photographs Needed For Herald Covers

LAKE UNION—The Lake Union Herald staff is once again requesting photos for use on the cover of the Herald.

Selections for 1985 will be made this fall. The following rules will apply.

1. All photos—slides (transparencies and slides mean the same to us) and black-and-white prints—must be received at, or delivered in person, to the Herald office by Thursday, November 1, 1984. Allow ample time when you mail from a long distance.

2. Each photographer may submit up to 10 slides or black-and-white prints. Submissions of greater amounts will NOT be considered. Please do not send negatives or color prints.

3. Slides may be 35 mm. or 4" x 5". Preference will be given to 35 mm. slides. All black-and-white prints should be 8" x 10".

4. All slides and prints must be of a vertical format.

5. The photos must have been taken in the four states which comprise the Lake Union.

6. Place your name and address on each submission.

7. Do not send slides which are duplicates. They will not be considered.

8. Make certain your photos are in very sharp focus.

9. Seasonal or scenic photos are preferred, but they should not be similar to cover photos of the past two years. If you have recognizable people in the picture, you must be prepared to furnish a model release for each one.

10. The Herald pays $25 for each slide used for a color cover, and $15 for each slide or black-and-white print used for a black-and-white cover. Payment is made at the time of publication. The slide or print is also returned at the time of publication.

11. Any slides which are not selected for use will be returned after the selection period in November. Be certain your address is included with your submission.

12. Submissions for Herald covers should be mailed to the Copy Editor, Lake Union Herald, Box C, Berrien Springs, MI 49103.

World Church News Notes

● For years the Review and Herald has provided Sabbath reading and a line of Bible games for Adventist youth. Now nine computer Bible games are being developed for the Commodore 64, Apple IIe, and Radio Shack's TRS 80. According to Gail Hunt, research and development director, "Random selection will allow the player to play a different version of the game each time. This takes the games beyond the memorization of answers to make learning about the Scriptures an interesting adventure." These games may be purchased through Adventist Book Centers after October 15.

● "All religious communities are invited to join together to help reduce injuries, save lives and live out the truth of their religious convictions," said Leon Urben, manager of the National Safety Council's religious activities department, in announcing the seventh annual observance of National Safety Sabbath set for early next year. This year's campaign will have child passenger safety, poison prevention and exercise safety as the areas of emphasis. Mr. Urben said campaign kits, to be available in the fall, will contain posters, handouts, planning guides and other information. An innovation in this year's program will be the availability of kits translated into Spanish. Congregations interested in receiving a free kit can write to the Religious Activities Department, National Safety Council, 444 North Michigan, Chicago, IL 60611. Kits will be distributed while supplies last.

Special Awards Presented To Three Exceptional Women

LANGLEY PARK, MD.—Four women from the Lake Union Conference were nominated for Women of the Year awards.

The awards were presented by the Association of Adventist Women (A.A.W.) at its annual conference in Berrien Springs, Michigan, July 15.

Included in a total of 66 nominees, the four women were: Ruth Szmanda Cinquemani of New Berlin, Wisconsin, 1983 Lake Union Literature Evangelist of the Year; Margaret Helen Cottrell of Oxford, Wisconsin, community services director for 30 years; Florence Morris of Lansing, Michigan, who served 42 years as a pastor's wife and teacher, and Frances Wilson of Madison, Wisconsin, a pastor's wife who has assisted her husband for 23 years.

A Woman of the Year award is given each year to three Adventist women with outstanding performance in three categories: home and community life, work life, and church life.

Winners of the Women of the Year awards this year were Anita J. Mackey of Santa Barbara, California; Lenora McDowell of Avon Park, Florida, and Mary E. Walsh of Glendale, California. As a 30-year social work professional for the Veterans Administration, Dr. Mackey was recognized in the work life category. Because of her community dedication, the city of Santa Barbara chose her to meet Queen Elizabeth II during the 1983 royal visit.

Mrs. McDowell was honored for her accomplishments as home and school leader of Walker Memorial Junior Academy, where she boosted enrollment from 85 to 115 students in one year.

Miss Walsh was awarded for her denominational career that included pastoral work, radio evangelism, home missionary work and Bible instructing. She served 15 years in the Columbia Union Conference and 20 years in the Pacific Union.

The 1985 Women of the Year awards will be presented in New Orleans during the General Conference Session and will include women of the world church.

The A.A.W. invites nominee submissions. "We are looking for exceptional Adventist women who faithfully achieve in spite of obstacles and are role models to other women," said Peggy Harris, special events director. For information, write to the Association of Adventist Women, Box 3884, Langley Park, MD 20787.

Special Offering Will Help Place Radio Station on Guam

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Adventists have always been a venturesome people, daring, intrepid, resourceful. It's in our blood, this urge to advance, to move forward.

Think of Ellen White's words and let them stir you, "If we would follow the opening providence of God, we should be quick to discern every opening, and make the most of every advantage within our reach" (Evangelism, p. 62.)

Now comes one of the great challenges to our faith, a test of our mettle. Everything is in place.

We have the opportunity to build and operate a powerful radio station on the island of Guam.

It will cost 5 million dollars. This is why church leaders around the world have decided to assign the 1985 General Conference Session offering to this immense project.

Located on the west side of the island, overlooking the Pacific Ocean, the station's powerful signal will cover a territory inhabited by nearly one-half of the world's population. A definite "opening providence."

We know from experience that radio reaches people in this part of the world.

Seventh-day Adventists are on several stations in the South Pacific. Last year we received 23,000 letters in response to an Adventist broadcast on a rather small station, limited to only a few hours broadcasting per week.

Since the days of the Pitcairn, Adventists have rallied to these big challenges. I am sure that multiplied thousands of Adventists will respond to this new opening with generous gifts.

By establishing our own radio station on Guam, we will touch an audience numbered in the millions. All that is needed is the total support of the entire church, specifically, your contribution and mine.

The dates for the special offering to be received are March 9, 1985, and May 25, 1985. The time to begin setting aside funds for this major project is now, and we should do it regularly and systematically.

While the people of the South Pacific will benefit immensely from this outreach ministry, the North American church will be twice blessed. Our sense of mission will be heightened, and we shall be strengthened for the finishing of the task.

Let's take advantage of the opportunity.

C. E. Bradford, President
North American Division

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY

A Three C's Health Screening will be held Sunday, October 21 from 7 to 10 A.M., in Marsh Hall on the Andrews University campus. This evaluation will give persons information on their risk of a heart attack, stroke or cancer. Persons taking the screening may come any time during the three-hour period. The screening includes a number of blood tests, so those planning to take the evaluation should take nothing by mouth other than water after 7 P.M. Saturday evening. For more information and cost, contact the Andrews University nursing department at 616-471-3366 or 616-471-3311.

INDIANA

Indiana Adventist Singles Ministries is sponsoring a fall retreat the weekend of October 19 to 21 at Camp Timber Ridge, Spencer, Indiana. (Please request map if needed.) Bring your own bedding and personal items. No pets allowed. There will be a package and transient cost available for the weekend. Weekend speakers are Archie Moore, educational and youth director of the Indiana Conference, and Barbara Jo Robbins, free-lance writer. For more information contact: Judy Hankemeier, 7818 Huff St., Acton, IN 46259; 317-862-3753, or

We can find you money for college in places most people wouldn't even think of looking.

"An affordable Adventist education for every student."

It's more than just talk. And it's more than just a promise. At Andrews University, it's reality.

That's because we have a unique way of guiding you, the student, to places where available money exists, including a lot of our own.

Quite simply, once you and your family do everything you can to meet college costs, we will take care of the rest.

To do everything you can means you must receive as much help from your parents as you possibly can. (There's a formula for this, based on your parents' income. The average contribution is around $1900. Some pay more. Some pay less. Some pay nothing at all.)

You and your family must, with our help, apply for low interest loans from banks and other financial institutions, and let us arrange government grants for you.

And finally, you must be willing to work, either for the university or at a job you arrange off-campus. (We guarantee you an on-campus job if you group your classes in either the morning or the afternoon.)

Now comes our part. We will make up any difference between your resources and your college costs. It's as simple as that. And we mean what we say. We've put aside nearly $1.5 million for this use alone.

So the excuse of "not having enough money to pay for a Christian education" will never be heard at Andrews University.

Our plan is called the Stretch Plan. And it works because of the people who make it work. You, your parents and Andrews. All stretching together to make a good thing happen.

Call one of our admissions counselors today, or mail in the coupon. Or, call toll free: In Michigan 1-800-632-2248; Nationwide 1-800-253-2874. We'll be waiting to help you.

At Andrews University we not only offer a great education, but also a way to pay for it.

Volunteerism in the Church

Charles C. Case
Editor
Lake Union Herald

As a small boy, I remember my father volunteering for the American Red Cross as a first aid instructor. I remember him volunteering with the Civil Defense during World War II. I also remember him volunteering to help at the church on building projects. In addition, he served as a church officer and gave Bible studies.

Volunteerism has been a byword of the Seventh-day Adventist Church since its inception. Many members feel that volunteering for community service programs is a part of sharing their faith. I would be the last to criticize working outside my church, because I, too, am involved in volunteering.

What is thrilling to me is seeing more and more church members volunteer their time and money for church projects. Young people are getting involved in student missionary and Humanitas (formerly Taskforce) programs. Pathfinders are going overseas with their leaders to help on building projects. Volunteers pay their own way to assist Maranatha Flights International with its many projects throughout the globe. Still others are conducting healthful living or Bible seminars. More than 500 members in the Lake Union have committed themselves to holding Revelation Seminars during the next year. And many are doing this in addition to being church officers.

Adventist-Laymen's Services and Industries has taken a new posture during the last few years. It has become involved in building and has assisted in other types of projects for the church.

We are seeing a new day. Could it be we feel the coming of Jesus is near? Are we realizing we have a mission? Ellen White wrote, "The work of God in this earth can never be finished until the men and women comprising our church membership rally to the work and unite their efforts with those of ministers and church officers" (Testimonies for the Church, vol. 9, p. 117).

I personally believe we are seeing this statement come to fruition. As a result, buildings are going up, people are sharing with others, and baptisms are occurring by the thousands.

The Lake Union has an active group of church members, and we get reports every day as to what our "volunteers" are doing. God has given to each of us talents, and it behooves us to use them for God and His church.

There are yet many areas where the church can use volunteers. In fact, I doubt that our church will ever run out of places to use volunteers, until the Lord comes. I believe the old saying, "A family that prays together stays together," can be paraphrased to say, "The family that works together stays together."

We thank all of our volunteers, because the Adventist Church could not succeed without them. If you are not a volunteer in any aspect of the church's programs, I invite you to become involved. As one volunteer said to me, "On the project, we became like one happy family."

Join the family of volunteers. "Work for the Lord. The pay is not much, but the retirement is out of this world."

OCTOBER 9, 1984 VOLUME LXXVI, NUMBER 21

H. M. S. Richards and H. M. S. Richards Jr., father and son, share a happy moment in front of the recently installed satellite dish at "Voice of Prophecy" headquarters. Of the 726 stations which currently carry the "Voice of Prophecy" broadcast, more than 100 belong to the Satellite Radio Network. Two hundred additional satellite markets are now available for the daily broadcast. The October 13 offering will greatly assist "Voice of Prophecy" to move forward through the doors now opening. (See story on front page.)
