Attend Camp Meeting This Year

Dear Fellow Believers,

According to the front cover page of this issue of the Outlook, I suppose it is time to chart our course for camp meeting. Winter time is over and the traveling conditions are good once again. So, plan to pack up and head for the spiritual refreshing that we all enjoy at camp meeting. Really, if we allow it to be so, camp meeting can be one of the most important agencies in the work of our church.

Where else can a person get so much for such a small outlay of cash? Just think of the various seminars that are conducted at camp meeting. If a person paid admission for each individual lecture or seminar, the total cost would be staggering. But, for camp meeting there are not any admission charges or entrance fees—just the actual cost of living.

Camp meeting provides such a large variety of programs: music, health seminars, inspiration, theology, personal improvement, stewardship, outreach, soul winning, evangelism and others. As I think about what I have just written, it seems to me that more of us really need to make some definite plans to be at camp meeting this year.

This special convocation affords opportunity for spiritual renewal and revival. There is so much instruction and inspiration offered during this time. There is also time to quietly think and assess our spiritual needs. We assess everything else—finances, health, etcetera—how often do you measure your spiritual needs? People return home from camp meeting with a renewed determination to be all that God desires for His people. So many decisions and personal resolutions are made during this special season. I was reading just recently in the Testimonies that angels from heaven walk through the encampment, beholding the order and arrangements. As I continued reading, this statement came into view: "It is important that the members of our churches should attend our camp meetings . . . Individually you need the benefits of the meeting." Testimonies, volume 6, page 38.

We need to pray for the Holy Spirit to be in attendance at camp meeting, also. The meeting can be a tremendous school where pastors, church officers, teachers and members may learn the way of the Lord more perfectly. Here we may receive an education that will help us to help others. We can come back from camp meeting extremely well prepared spiritually, psychologically and mentally to do the outreach that God has called us to do. No wonder that this time together is called a holy convocation.

I guess if I could, I would like to urge all who possibly can to make plans for camp meeting. I know some business, professional, farm people who take some vacation time each year for camp meeting. Some might feel that because of financial or business pressures they just can't attend. But, I just believe that a person will be greatly rewarded for making the effort to get to camp meeting. Surely a person would not be penalized for making this special effort for the Lord's work.

Personally, I look forward to camp meeting every year. My duties call for me to attend several of the gatherings around our Union, for which I am very grateful. This will allow an opportunity to see so many of my friends once again. Let's plan to meet at camp meeting.

Yours in the Master's service,

The History Of Camp Meeting

By Halle G. Crowson,

Director Mid-America Union Communication Department

amp meetings in the United States originated with the Kentucky Presbyterians.

The concept was adapted by the Methodists under whose guidance camp meetings flourished. Evidently, the Methodist influence filtered down to the Adventists, many of whom found their roots in Methodism. The first Seventh-day Adventist general camp meeting was held at Wright, Michigan, (no longer on the map), in September, 1868, just five years after the General Conference was incorporated. This first camp meeting was attended by some 2,000. Twenty-two tents were arranged in a circle around the open air meeting place. Within a month the first camp meeting in the Mid-America territory was held at Pilot Grove, Iowa, just west of Burlington in the southeast corner of the state. From this small beginning camp meetings have become a regular feature of Seventh-day Adventist church life around the world.

The usual camp meeting follows a rigorous daily schedule from early morning till late at night. The day is filled with sermons, Bible studies, departmental promotions, inspiration, seminars on health, temperance, outreach and evangelism. Separate meetings are held for children and youth. From the earliest times the meetings have had a two-fold emphasis—for church members as well as for visitors not of the Adventist faith.

In the earlier years the meeting sites were moved from place to place. Today the trend has been toward permanent locations with permanent buildings. The auditorium has replaced the "big tent". Lodges, dormitories, cabins and cottages have replaced the family tent. Families may still "camp" in their motor homes and travel trailers.

The reader will probably be interested in the beginnings of camp meeting in the Mid-America area.

The first camp meeting for Central States constituents was held at Lawrence, Kansas August 29-September 8, 1912 under the leadership of J. A. Allison. This was 40 years before the Central States Conference was organized.

The first Colorado camp meeting was held September 19-October 2, 1883 in the outskirts of Denver. Some 150 were in attendance. This was the occasion of the organization of the Colorado Conference. There were nine delegates from four churches.

The beginning of camp meeting in Iowa, mentioned above, at Pilot Grove in 1868, served as an evangelistic meeting as well. On the last day of the meeting, a group of 32 was baptized by J. N. Andrews.

Camp meeting began in Kansas in the small town of Pleasanton in 1870. This community is about 70 miles south of Kansas City and about three miles from the Missouri border. James and Ellen White were in attendance and presented several

There were no delegates from Kansas and very few from Missouri because of crop failures and "hard times".

Nebraska's first attempt at a camp meeting brought 350 adherents to Fremont in 1877. This location is some 50 miles northeast of Lincoln and about 40 miles northwest of Omaha. The members previously had been attending camp meeting in Iowa but because of growing numbers the Nebraskans felt that the time had come for their own organization and meetings. The following year the Nebraska Conference was organized.

The first camp meeting in North Dakota was held at Jamestown, July 11-18, 1893, on the James River, one-half mile from town in a grove of elm trees. The meetings were conducted in German, English and Scandinavian. More than 200 were present, some coming as far as 150 miles in wagons.

The first camp meeting in the Dakota Territory was held in July, 1879 near Sioux Falls on a wooded island in the Sioux River. Two hundred attended to listen and visit with James and Ellen White.

About 1900 the General Conference asked the Nebraska Confer-messages. It is reported that the Missouri-Kansas Conference was organized at this meeting. One Kansan drove his team 270 miles and a wagon load from Missouri traveled six days to attend.

Minnesota's first camp meeting was held at Wasioja (near Dodge Center, 20 miles west of Rochester and 90 miles southeast of Minneapolis) in October, 1869. James and Ellen White and J. N. Andrews were in attendance. At the second camp meeting held at the same place, James White reported a very large attendance utilizing 19 family tents, eight to ten covered wagons and a boarding tent, in addition to the large meeting tent.

The first camp meeting in Missouri was the Missouri-Kansas Conference's second conference session. This one was held at Civil Bend (no longer on the map) in May, 1871.

ence to oversee the work in Wyoming. At the Nebraska camp meeting of 1904 the Wyoming members asked that Wyoming be allowed to organize as a separate mission. Accordingly, on September 17, 1904 the Wyoming Mission was officially organized under the administration of the Central Union Conference. The territory included the state of Wyoming, counties in western Nebraska and the Black Hills area of South Dakota. Sketchy records seem to indicate that Wyoming's first camp meeting was held June 23, 1907 possibly at Crawford, Nebraska in the northwest corner of the state (38 miles from the Wyoming border, 32 miles from the South Dakota border).

So, plan now to chart your course to include camp meeting and continue the good old Adventist tradition of attending the annual convocation.

1000 DAYS OF REAPING

Good Things Happening At Park Avenue Church

By C. Daniels Johnson

In the book of Acts, chapter nine, verse thirty-six, it states that a disciple named Dorcas was a compassionate woman and full of good works. She went about sewing garments for the needy. When she died many people mourned her death. Peter, a disciple of God, knelt down and prayed that she be brought back to life because she was loved by the people. God performed this miracle through Peter and, because Dorcas was saved, many widows believed in God.

These acts of giving and compassion can be said of our Dorcas leader, Minnie Simmons. She has distributed clothing to many needy people who come to Park Avenue seeking help. Minnie asked God to help her bring three souls into the faith; however, she can be credited with five new members. She is witnessing and giving Bible studies to two prospective members at the present time. She is also making pillows to take to hospital patients.

Sister Nina Brown, our former Dorcas leader, hosted musical recitals featuring herself and guests from various churches. Proceeds from the recitals were used for the benefit of the Dorcas Society. We are proud of the good deeds our Dorcas Society is doing.

We are also pleased with those who participated in the Temperance Rally: Romona Simmons won recognition for her jingle and Preston Baker received first prize for his poster. Congratulations Preston and Romona. We pray that your efforts will motivate other SDA youth.

New Pastor—New Ideas

By C. Daniels Johnson

Elder Albert White, Pastor of Park Avenue Seventh-day Adventist Church has come to us from the Grove Heights church, Wichita, Kansas. Elder and Mrs. White are the proud parents of Annette White who is attending Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan. Mrs. Jean White is a business education teacher.

In the few months that Elder White has pastored Park Avenue, he organized two new auxiliaries, namely, an objective committee (members elected to make constructive plans and set goals for the church body) and an officers training class (a class to familiarize church officers with the duties involved in their particular department).

Elder White presented many new ideas and plans for the spiritual enrichment of Park Avenue. Elder White and family, your Park Avenue church family is glad you are here. We believe that with much prayer, faith and determination, we can accomplish our desired goals.

Come Alive in '85

By Erma Curd

To start the new year off right, Pastor Williams and members of the Sharon Chapel Church in Sedalia, Missouri decided to organize a program to share their faith with the community. Each month the church develops a different project. For the month of February, large Valentine hearts containing a can of juice and literature were distributed. Elderly people throughout the community received the Valentines.

Because of Sharon Chapel's effort to "come alive in '85", church attendance has increased, and with the Lord's blessing it will continue to do so.

Erma Curd is the communication secretary for the Sharon Chapel church.

Temperance Rally '85

By Gwendolyn Walker

The Annual Temperance Rally for the Denver area churches was held on February 2. There were 14 contestants who participated in the rally. Winners of the Jingle contest for ages 14 to 17 were Olivia Webber, first place (Cocaine); Cedric Allen, second place (Marijuana); and Kelly Taylor, third place (Obesity). Ricky Webber was the winner of the jingle contest in age category 18-21 (LSD).

Millie Wilkinson was the winner of Orations (ages 14-17) with "Marijuana, More Dangerous Than You Know". In the age category 18-21, first place went to Chris Christmas whose subject was Cocaine; second place, Darrin Allen "The Good Die Young". Bobby Anderson was the winner in Posters while Peter Christmas won the Cartoon Poster. Tony Farmer won the Essay.

All of the contestants did a tremendous job in illustrating their presentations. Congratulations to you all!

Ellendale, Edgeley, Kulm District Welcomes New Pastor

By Ben J. Liebelt

On March 6th Pastor and Mrs. Arthur Hiebert arrived at their new location in Ellendale. Pastor Hiebert takes up his responsibilities to serve our Ellendale, Edgeley, and Kulm churches. Elder R. R. Patzer's leadership was much appreciated while circumstances made a waiting period necessary.

The Hieberts met at Kingsway College in Ontario. First they taught at our academy in Newfoundland. Pastor Hiebert continued his training toward the ministry at Kingsway College and Andrews University. He graduated from the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary in 1973, and served in the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference since then. He comes to Ellendale from Winnipeg where he served as a pastor for the last eight years, and also as chaplain of one of our nursing homes for the last two years. His wife, Elsie, is a registered nurse, and a graduate of Branson Hospital's School of Nursing.

Andrew, Brian, James, and Sharon, their four children, are also preparing for service. Brian and Sharon are finishing the year at Canadian Union College in Alberta, and are in their 12th grade; James, born in the United States, is finishing at Wisconsin Academy; and Andrew is finishing graduate work at Andrews University.

Presently Pastor Hiebert is completing his studies toward a doctorate in church growth.

We are grateful to welcome this fine family to our conference. Please join us in praying for the Lord's choice blessings to rest upon them all.

Small Groups Do Pay

By Mrs. Ray Gardiner

It was Sunday evening and time for the Christian Friends Bible Study Class at the Ray Gardiner ranch home near Martin, South Dakota. A fire burned brightly in the fireplace in the family room. Catherine was playing softly at the piano. Neighbors and friends from different faiths gathered with their Bibles to study John 17:3—"And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent". Soon they were singing the theme song, "Into My Heart". Ray led a lively discussion right from the Bible. Questions were asked and everyone joined to help people know Jesus and the Bible. Carl played hymns on his guitar, a light lunch was served and there was sweet fellowship. Bob and Jayne were there from the beginning. Love for the Lord and each other grew stronger each week as they studied together.

Things have changed—some are no longer with us. Catherine and Bob have both passed away, but they loved the Lord. Catherine wrote a letter the day before she died and said we were a blessing to her. Bob often told others how he had found the Lord at the country Bible studies. Do Bible studies pay? We know they do.

Elder Theodore Carcich, retired General Conference Vice-President, will be a featured speaker at camp meetings in the Dakota Conference this year. A native of Yugoslavia, Elder Carcich came to the United States with his parents in 1910. He received his early education from Roman Catholic schools in New York City with the priesthood as his goal in life. However, he was converted to Adventism in 1926, later enrolled in Atlantic Union College and became a Seventh-day Adventist minister instead.

Theodore Carcich

Elder Carcich has served as president of the Central Union 1957 to 1962, and Vice-President of the North American Division from 1962 to 1966. In 1966 he was elected as a General Conference Vice-President with special assignments to Europe and behind the Iron Curtain.

Although retired since 1974, Elder Carcich continues to inspire and challenge Adventists with his messages at camp meetings and weekend revivals.

Other speakers include Emilio Knechtle, well-known Adventist layman. Brother Knechtle's ministry has helped thousands find a very real, meaningful relationship of faith with Jesus Christ. His own personal story will thrill your heart.

Elder Bob Johnson, Personal Ministries director of the Potomac Conference, was one of the instructors at L.E.T.S.-1985 at Dakota Adventist Academy in February. Elder Johnson is returning to the Dakotas to share this much needed emphasis with a larger segment of the Dakota membership.

Two identical camp meeting sessions will be held again this year. The South Dakota session will be at Huron College, June 4-8. The North Dakota session will be at Dakota Adventist Academy, June 11-15. Reserve your place now by completing and sending the form on this page to the Dakota Conference Treasurer.

You won't want to miss this opportunity for spiritual revival, Christian fellowship, great buys at the ABC and much more.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN

Reynolds To Direct Youth And Temperance

Elder and Mrs. Robert Reynolds, Jennifer and Andrea. Elder Reynolds is the new youth and temperance director of the Rocky Mountain Conference.

We are happy to welcome Elder and Mrs. Robert Reynolds back to the Rocky Mountain Conference. He will be directing the youth and temperance departments of our conference.

We wish God's rich blessings for Elder and Mrs. Allan Williamson who have accepted the invitation of the North Pacific Union Conference to serve as Union Youth Director.

The Reynolds are coming to us from the Ohio Conference where he has been serving as youth director for the past year. He began his ministry as a youth pastor in the Hinsdale, Illinois church in 1972, and then pastored a district in southern Illinois. From 1977 to 1979 he was youth pastor of our Denver First Church. He served in the Idaho Conference first as a Bible teacher at Gem State Academy, and then as youth director before going to the Ohio Conference.

The Reynolds have two daughters, Jennifer 11, and Andrea 8.

Eden Valley Nursing Home

For the past twenty years Eden Valley Nursing Home has offered a distinctly Adventist atmosphere for retirees and other people who may need assistance with the daily routine of life. Over 500 residents have received personal love and care, Christian concern and restful quietness.

Nestled in the foothills of the Colorado Rockies, Eden Valley Nursing Home is committed to ministering to the whole person. The staff develops an individualized lifestyle program designed to improve health and vigor. A pleasant country setting provides the best of nature's doctors—pure air, sunlight, quiet rest and refreshing walks. Tasty vegetarian food and old-fashioned water treatments often decrease or eliminate the need for medication.

A Seventh-day Adventist church located directly across the road conducts weekly Sabbath School and church services. Daily devotional programs, town trips, crafts, cooking projects and flower gardening are other activities provided by the staff.

Many students at the Eden Valley Institute have financed their education while working as aides and orderlies, dietary assistants, patient activities coordinator, or as housekeepers. The youth learn responsibility, time management and the joy of ministering to those who need their assistance. The aged are glad for a helping hand, a cheerful countenance and a listening ear.

Eden Valley has discovered that God's second great commandment applies to the elderly as well as His other children. That law, paraphrased, is "Thou shalt love the Lord with all thy heart . . . and thy 'grandmother' as thyself."

Special People At Camp Meeting

We are blessed with three camp meetings in the great Rocky Mountain Conference, and each has its special "flavor" and special people.

The Wyoming Camp Meeting just wouldn't be the same if Cooley Taylor didn't arrive Sunday morning, pitch and ditch his tent, and then report to the camp superintendent for an assignment to help get the camp ready for others.

Cooley hasn't missed a camp meeting in the last 17 years. He has hiked the mountains in the early morning hours, before the early morning meeting every day. He likes to meet his God when the day is fresh. Some years ago Cooley found a big stump that he moved to a secluded spot in the woods and set up an altar for his early morning prayer sessions. Each year when he returns to Casper Mountain for camp meeting, it doesn't take much refurbishing to have his secluded altar ready for action.

We usually have the privilege of celebrating Cooley's birthday at camp meeting. This year will be number 92, and I'm looking forward to hearing the question, "My tent is pitched and ditched. What would you like me to do?"

Church Growth At Denver West

By Rita Yarmon

During the last two years 110 people were added to the Denver West Church by baptism. It all began with It Is Written.

In late January of 1983 George Vandeman held an It Is Written Seminar at Boettcher Hall in Denver, Colorado. To complete the seminar each local church continued it on its own premises. By February at Denver West the baptisms had begun.

First there were ten from the seminar. Many others had followed by fall. In November, Evangelist Bill Zima came and 30 were baptized.

Again others followed. By mid-1984 a public school auditorium was hired and Evangelist Don Shelton came to town. The first night over 600 came to the meeting! Soon a crowd of 190 transferred to the church. From this group 32 were baptized and more were to follow! As the year drew to a close, the members looked forward to Evangelist Zima's return in February of 1985.

At this series another 21 were baptized and again more followed! No one knows where this will end. Hopefully it will not! A large list of interests are still being followed up with deep hopes of an even larger number joining during the remainder of the year.

All meetings were followed up with lay involvement. This lay interest seems to be growing. More are taking part now than ever. Here are some of the experiences of the past two years:

Paul Trujillo worked 18 remarkable years without vacation or sick leave. Just two years from retirement, he spoke to his boss about joining the church and not working on Sabbaths any longer. He was told, "You can be replaced! We won't have any religion interfering with work around here!"

"In that case I quit!" said Paul. God gave him a deserved two-week vacation and then a new job!

Charley Campbell told God, "I'm shy and I can't find the right words to go and ask for Sabbaths off. Please send the boss to me instead." The very next morning his boss came looking for him. "Charley, how would you like to have Saturdays off from now on?"

Two returned missionaries, both ordained ministers, joined the church after operating an orphanage in Peru for 25 years. Now they have managed to sell their plant and are settled down in Denver for their retirement.

Pastor Hewitt conducting follow-up studies in the Denver West Church.

In February of this year Elder Zima and Elder Hewitt held closely scheduled Bible studies in homes from morning to night. Five-day Plans were held where needed and eight people stopped smoking. Two of them are a husband and wife jointly employed by the police department.

Surely the harvest is ready and we must hurry lest the enemy harvest before us. We're in a race against time with angels eagerly preparing our way ahead of us. How we long for this all to end and for Jesus to come!

Rita Yarmon is the communication secretary for the Denver West church.

Health Survey

More than 100 people filled out computer health survey questionnaires at the new Safeway store in Loveland, Colorado.

The survey was conducted by students from Campion Academy.

Many people ranging from 12 to 78 stopped by to fill out the survey sheet. Then, while they were shopping, the information was processed into a Commodore 64 computer. When people returned after shopping, one of the students went over the results with them, showing them their remaining years of life expectancy compared to the average life expectancy for a person that age. The computer also showed how many more years a person might achieve if they adopted some health recommendations. "We had a lot of people interested in the results of the survey to see how healthy they were," according to Wayne Wasiczko, the instructor of the Bible class and coordinator of the survey.

The survey lasted four hours, 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and the class was kept busy all the time Wasiczko said. Many people who took the survey were very healthy and others were discouraged by the results of the survey.

A 60-year-old lady from Rochester, New York was skeptical at first said Wasiczko, but was very excited to learn that she was expected to live 20 more years. She visits her daughter every year in Loveland and she was pleased to know that she could probably visit her daughter 20 more times.

A healthy couple, ages 77 and 78, filled out the survey and the only recommendation was for the wife to eat a good breakfast. Her husband had told her this for years, but now she decided to do it because someone other than her husband had told her to do so.

Greta Sanchez, a student who helped with the survey, met a man who said, "I bet you are a vegetarian". Sanchez replied, "I sure am". He then asked if the group was associated with the Adventist church and Sanchez said, "We surely are". He is a vegetarian in the strictest sense, eating only fruits, grains and vegetables, and he knew all about the Adventist health message, according to Sanchez. He concluded by saying, "The Adventists have a wonderful health message. It is just too bad they don't practice it".

The students enjoyed conducting the survey. "They went over the survey with the people and interacted in such a way to share the concepts that they had learned about health in their class," Wasiczko said.

Wasiczko is planning to conduct the survey at the Larimer County Fair this summer.

SMMC Employee Of The Year

Assistant charge nurse Mary Stancer has been named employee of the year by Shawnee Mission Medical Center.

Mary Stancer

Ms. Stancer has been employed at the medical center for five years. She currently works on the post anesthesia care unit.

Ms. Stancer was honored for her special care and professionalism in her work.

"Mary has demonstrated a superior commitment to the nursing profession and to Shawnee Mission Medical Center," says her supervisor, Catherine Zimbeck. "She is dependable, reliable and has shown a high level of skill in critical care."

"In all the activities and responsibilities she encounters, Ms. Stancer gives 100 percent of herself," says Cleo Johnson, president of the medical center. "Her professionalism and caring, friendly attitude have encouraged her co-workers and earned her title of Shawnee Mission Medical Center Employee of the Year."

Dr. John Robinson, an anesthesiologist at the medical center paid Ms. Stancer one of the highest compliments a nurse can receive when he said, "If I or members of my family have surgery at Shawnee Mission Medical Center, I hope Mary Stancer is standing beside the bed in the post anesthesia care unit."

Ms. Stancer was born in Heber Springs, Arkansas and grew up in Wichita, Kansas. She took her nurse's training at Johnson County Community College.

Hartley Named President

Humor Workshop Offers Laughs And Learning

More than 260 health care professionals learned and laughed about humor recently at a health/humor workshop sponsored by Porter Memorial Hospital. "The will to live is enhanced greatly by your loving humor," said actor-mime C. W. Metcalf, one of the facilitators. "It's especially important to health-care professionals who deal with death and dying." Psychiatrist Christian Hageseth III joined Mr. Metcalf in presenting humor as an effective tool for coping with the blahs, the blues and grief.

The workshop received an exceptionally enthusiastic response, and was covered by a TV news program and a Denver newspaper. A second workshop scheduled for June 7 already has 200 registrants.

Advertising Attracts New Patients

"I decided long ago I wanted a career and a family. The kids would grow up in a real neighborhood. And Porter would be the place we'd go for our health care. So far, I haven't missed yet."

"No one has ever accused me of being wishy-washy. Especially when it comes to my family. I want them to have the best, from the coach they live in basketball to the health care they receive."

That's why we go to Porter. It's more than just another community hospital. With their specialized services in pediatrics, cancer treatment, emergency medicine and ophthalmology, they can take care of practically everything, from a minor sports injury to major surgery. In fact, I heard they're the leading heart center in the Rockies. So I know they have top-notch people, and the technology to match. Going to Porter has really paid off. I've made friends with the staff. I've always liked the doctors they've referred. And the kids are in great condition. I should know. This is the best season we've had since I started coaching.

Porter Memorial Hospital
Because you do have a choice.
2525 South Downing Street
Denver, CO 80210 (303) 778-1955

Porter Memorial Hospital's advertising by direct mail, newspaper and radio is designed to increase awareness and build the image of the institution in the Denver area, so that when an individual need arises, Porter becomes the hospital of choice.

Results are already in evidence—for example, in January nearly 12 percent of Emergency Department patients were respondents to direct mail advertising.

ADVENTIST EDUCATION

By Dwight Mayberry

The 38 schools of the Kansas-Nebraska Conference celebrated Adventist School Week April 21-27. All schools displayed an Adventist School Week banner in front of their school property, and reached out to the community through different services for some kind of recognition of being a benefit to the community. Along with this, posters were displayed in all the school and churches throughout the conference, with the main emphasis on April 27, the day of the Adventist Education Day offering, stressing education as a special part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Governor Carlin of the state of Kansas, and Governor Bob Kerry of the state of Nebraska both proclaimed the week of April 21-27 as Adventist School Week throughout the state, and issued a proclamation to that effect. Our Seventh-day Adventist schools are highly respected by our state departments in both Kansas and Nebraska.

Adventist education's primary emphasis is on spiritual development of our young people. In the past year, emphasis has been placed on science and music. In the science area, all of the sixth graders came to an Environmental School for a week, and we had approximately 60 students participate. A sixth-grade Environmental School places the academic program in a nature setting. For math they do orienteering (working with compasses and finding directions). For history they study the Plains Indians; for Bible they study nature; for art they do creative design with things they pick up in nature. The program is at the youth camp, Broken Arrow Ranch.

We also had 230 students from Kansas-Nebraska attending the music festival for grades 5 through 9. The music festival gave the students opportunity to participate in a large band along with academy bands. In conjunction with the music festival we had science fairs giving away four $50 certificates and eight $50 savings accounts sponsored by two of the major banks in Kansas and Nebraska. There were second and third place awards and honorable mentions.

Another major thing working in our schools is the emphasis on the work-study program. We have approximately 13 elementary schools with some type of work-study program in conjunction with the regular program. Some of the work programs are a Christmas tree farm, U-pick strawberry patch, gardening and recycling cardboard boxes. One of our latest is growing experimental cultures for a manufacturing company.

All the schools that have had science kits are going to have those refurbished this summer, and any school that does not have a science kit is receiving one, which will provide material for new elementary school experiments among other items.

The Kansas-Nebraska Conference has 1200 students enrolled from kindergarten through 12th grade. There are four academy extension schools located at Scotts Bluff, Omaha, Topeka and Wichita.

Adventist education plays a major role in the development of the students.

Dwight Mayberry, Superintendent of Education, Kansas-Nebraska Conference.

Baptisms

At Hutchinson

By Marceden Wood

On his last Sabbath in Hutchinson, before leaving the Kansas-Nebraska Conference, Pastor Murray Long held a baptism and a baby dedication. Above (left) are pictured Scott Tyson, of Cloquet, Minnesota, and Jason Beasley, a church school pupil, who were baptized that day. Also shown (right) are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Burns and Baby Michael, who was dedicated to the Lord.

Pictured with Pastor Harry Curl of the Columbus Church is (left) Douglas Lindholm (with wife Martha) who was baptized in the Columbus church; also baptized recently was Trent Roethemeyer, of Fremont. He observed his first communion on that day and was honored at a fellowship dinner. Not only has Pastor Curl been active in soul winning, but has also been serving as president of the Columbus Area Ministerial Association. Under his leadership it has been raising its voice against the video lottery bill, and pornography sold in local stores.

By L. S. Gifford

February 16 marked the beginning of a 5-week follow-up effort to the Revelation Seminar held last April in Yates Center, Kansas. Pastor Charles Dye led the five weekly meetings on “Making Christianity Real”, a program developed by Morris Venden. The twenty-five in attendance included new and old members, as well as five individuals who had completed last year’s Revelation Seminar.

Enthusiasm led to a decision to continue to meet and cover the timely topics of forgiveness, justification, and sanctification on the next three Sunday nights. Pastor Dye reported plans to begin a Branch Sabbath School. As one woman commented, “My church has a Sunday night Bible study, but it’s nothing like this!”

Jesus said, “Open your eyes and look at the fields! They are ripe for harvest.” John 4:35, NIV. Your brothers and sisters in the lola church entreat your prayers as they take up the Master’s challenge.

Adventist Blood Donor Exceeds Ten Gallon Mark

By Betty Kossick

“Giving blood is my civic duty,” says John Kossick, a thirty-year blood donor, who recently exceeded his ten-gallon mark at Shawnee Mission Medical Center where he is the electric department supervisor.

Kossick, a deacon and Sabbath School teacher at the New Haven church, began as a donor for the Red Cross gift-of-life blood bank in 1955 when he lived in his home town, Akron, Ohio. Since then he has donated through Adventist medical centers in Kettering, Ohio; Los Angeles, California; and currently Shawnee Mission, Kansas.

His reason for faithfully donating blood is, “There is always a need. I feel I am really able to help people this way. I consider it my Christian responsibility.”

Most of Kossick’s type B positive donations have been to total strangers, but he has also had to respond to the needs of people he knows, such as friends and relatives, including his father.

Once he was called from work for a lifesaving donation for a child. Kossick was given a special police escort to the local children’s hospital. “The child survived—that was rewarding,” related Kossick.

An engraved trophy admitting him to membership in the Century Society (100 pints, or ten gallons) was awarded to Kossick by the Community Blood Bank of Greater Kansas City.

Blood donor, holding his trophy representing 10 gallons or more, is congratulated by New Haven church first elder, Bob Woolford, as his wife Betty beams her approval!

Ground Breaking At Wichita

By Teddric Mohr

On Sunday March 24, at the Wichita First Seventh-day Adventist church, ground was broken for a new addition, which will connect the Junior Academy building with the Sanctuary. The 15,000 square foot building will house extra Sabbath School rooms, ample facilities for the Community Services organization, plus much additional space on two levels. The total cost of the project will be $355,000.00 of which over $250,000.00 is on hand.

Pastor Russell Burrill welcomes the assembled congregation and friends to the ground breaking ceremony, and introduces the program. Seated, and participating (from the left) were: William Keller, church treasurer; Thomas Pyle, architect and builder; N. K. Harvey, Kansas-Nebraska Conference treasurer; Clifford Nies, chairman, Planning and Finance Committee; Steven Pore, Sabbath School superintendent; Dr. Phillip Mills, M.D., church health leader; Orville Speer, Community Services Federation president; Mrs. Stella Shawver, Wichita Community Services director; and Charles Cox, first elder.

The building will be constructed with maximum energy conservation in mind, both in heating and in air-conditioning. It will be constructed over part of the present paved parking lot. Additional parking spaces have already been provided and paved.

Russell Burrill is the pastor of the congregation, and Inez Cortez is communication secretary.

At the Wichita church, those participating in the actual Formal Groundbreaking, were (from left) Mrs. Stella Shawver; Pastor Russell Burrill; N. K. Harvey; Charles Cox; and Clifford Nies. One of the 'gold plated' shovels was also used in the ground breaking of the church sanctuary a number of years ago.

Keep your eyes on Wichita! It is going places and doing things,—for God.

Recently, a Revelation Seminar graduation exercise was held at Chapel Oaks church located in Kansas City, Kansas.

This graduation exercise, however, was very special. Two of the 75 graduates—Alvin Dale Ambers and Susan Knight—were united in marriage in the baptismal pool and then baptized as husband and wife.

After the ceremony, people in attendance were invited to a wedding reception for the Ambers in the gymnasium of the church.

Baptisms In Windom

A recent Sabbath became special when the Windom church played host to the Pipestone congregation. They met to celebrate the baptism of Blanch Brummer and Herman Strittmatter. Pastor Paul Barcenas performed the baptisms and emphasized in his sermon, "Save Every Piece," the importance that God feels for each one of us as a unique and special piece of humanity. A fellowship luncheon was held in the very comfortable downstairs fellowship area of the new Windom church.

New Treasurer Arrives In Minnesota

By Beverly Dickinson

The Minnesota Conference is happy to announce the arrival of J. D. Toms as conference treasurer. He began work in the office the first of March.

J. D. Toms

Dan, as he is known, comes to Minnesota from Ohio where he had the position of Association treasurer. Having a minister as a father meant that Dan and his family moved from place to place in his youth. He was in Minnesota during his academy years and spent all four years at Maplewood, graduating in 1967.

From academy Dan went on to Columbia Union College, graduating in 1971 with a double major: business administration and theology.

Dan first worked in the Pennsylvania Conference from August, 1971, through April, 1975, as assistant manager of the Adventist Book Center. From there he became the assistant treasurer/controller in the Wisconsin Conference. From Wisconsin he moved to the Ohio Conference. Dan became a certified public accountant in 1981.

Hobbies and interests lie in outdoor sports: cross-country skiing, camping, and canoeing. All of these interests should easily be realized here in Minnesota.

The Toms family is a close family that enjoys doing things together. His wife Sharon and boys, Jeremy (11) and Andrew (9½), are looking forward to family outings in Minnesota's many scenic areas. Sharon was born near Ortonville, although she grew up in Arizona. She returned to attend Maplewood Academy for one year. (Her parents, Vivian and Roy Bailey, are now members of the Artichoke Church.)

Special Day In Primary Sabbath School

By Betty Knudson

The Dodge Center Primary Sabbath School enjoyed special treats on recent Sabbaths as a result of reaching their sub Investment goal of $20.00. Patrick McNeilus, son of Pat and Rhonda McNeilus, showed his coin collection to the children. It was fun learning about the coins from other areas and their worth.

The idea of looking forward to something special as sub goals are reached along the way toward the final goal in November really has spurred interest in the Investment offerings.

Why Duluth In January?

By James Peel

The poet, Robert Burns, has truly said "The best laid schemes o' mice an' men gang aft a-gley." Sometimes when it seems our best laid plans have gone astray we can see the mighty hand of Providence overruling the affairs of men for His glory.

Peter Cleghorn of British Columbia had attended Adventist churches in different places perhaps once or twice a year, but whenever he showed an interest in learning more, some of his "concerned" friends would discourage him. He didn't know much about Adventists but something was drawing him.

Peter was assigned by his Canadian company to open an office and hire sales persons to sell cookbooks in Tennessee in January 1985. Instead, they changed his assignment, sending him to Duluth, Minnesota. He rented a motel room and with his wife Mary awaited the arrival of the cookbooks. No cookbooks came in spite of frequent calls to the home office. All they could do was to "cool their heels"—not difficult in Duluth in January! As Peter said later, "God was leading."

The Brass-Peel evangelistic team had been asked to hold two series of meetings in Minnesota in 1985: Duluth in July-August and Minneapolis in September. In mid-December their "best laid plans" for a January series in another city fell through and it became necessary to rearrange the schedule of meetings. Duluth would be happy to have a winter series in the church. There was just enough time to print and mail handbills for opening night January 19. This turned out to be the coldest night of the season with 25° below zero by meeting time and still falling. The wind chill was about -70°.

When the evangelistic team arrived in Duluth, they looked for an economical, convenient place to stay. Somehow it "happened" to be the motel where Peter was staying! When he was invited the second night of the series, Peter produced an ad carefully cut from the newspaper. "Is it the same meeting as this?" he asked. Assured that it was, Peter was immediately interested. He only missed one night after that because of sickness.

Now Peter could see why Duluth, and why no books. After two weeks of meetings, the books were located and he could begin his work, but nothing would keep him from the meetings now! Had the books come sooner, he felt that he could not have spared the time and energy to attend.

Today Peter rejoices in the remnant church. He is hoping to witness to others as the Lord opens the way.

Why Duluth in January? Peter is but one of several good "reasons" that stepped into the baptistry with pastor Bob Brauer at the end of the series. Pray for Peter and the other precious souls in Duluth.

Pastor Honored

By Marilyn Saylor

On a recent Sabbath the Crookston and Thief River Falls churches joined together in a special potluck meal to honor their pastor, David Girardin, in response to Clergy Recognition Week. A cake, beautifully decorated by Evelyn Glass, bore the inscription, "We love you Pastor Dave and Barb."

Head elder, Leo Herber, M.D., presented Pastor Girardin with airplane tickets which will enable Mrs. Girardin, who is enrolled in a doctoral program in Detroit, to fly to Thief River Falls for her spring vacation. In addition, the pastor was given a gift of cash as another way of saying, "We appreciate your ministry to our churches. Thank you for being part of our church family."

Marilyn Saylor is the communication secretary for the Thief River Falls church.

MWA Offers Student Work

Work is an integral part of the educational program at Maplewood Academy. Besides helping students earn part of their tuition costs, the academy work program teaches specific job skills as well as good work habits. Maplewood students truly learn while they earn.

Maplewood offers a variety of jobs to its students. Work on campus includes cafeteria, janitor, maintenance and grounds as well as clerical jobs in several departments. At Maplewood these are not just "make-work" jobs but require real efficiency since there is a shortage of student workers.

"Everyone has to work hard to get the job done," says Karen Ballard, the labor coordinator. "Every department is short, and we could use twenty more student workers."

At Maplewood three industries offer production experience to students. Harris Pine Mills employs fifty or more students each year to assemble furniture. At American Energy Systems, wood burning stoves as well as twenty-four other products are produced. The Academy Bakery involves students in baking, packaging, distributing and marketing of baked goods.

Tamara Cox, a junior, delivers baked goods to grocery stores, factories, and restaurants in Hutchinson.

Kim Johnson and Betty Heinrich, juniors at Maplewood, assemble furniture at Harris Pine Mills.

In various locations across Lincoln, Union College's theology students conducted nine Revelation Seminars. The purpose of the seminars was to provide "on the job training" for theology students in the area of public evangelism and offer to interested individuals an indepth study of Revelation.

The seminars which started March 1, had a total enrollment of two hundred. The meetings lasted six to eight weeks during which 24 different topics from the book of Revelation were covered.

Each person who successfully completed all 24 lessons received a certificate and was invited to a special banquet. Also, an advanced course was offered to those that wish to continue their studies.

The theology students received their seminar training from Elder Sieg Roeske, a Union College theology professor, and Elder Burton Maxwell, the Kansas-Nebraska Conference evangelist. Students were taught to be in charge of all aspects of the seminars from sending out 75,000 flyers for advertising, to follow-up visits to the homes, to actual preparation and teaching of the lessons. Union College is the only Adventist college which offers their students this type of practical training, according to Roeske.

Union College's public evangelism class has held its own evangelistic series each spring for the past seven years, with nearly eighty persons baptized into area churches as a result, but this is the first year the students have split up to hold separate meetings.

Theology Students Receive "Calls" To Ministry

As of March 25, 1985, eleven theology students from Union College have received calls to conferences of the Mid-America Union. Eight will be full-time employees while three will be employed part-time.

Those called to full-time ministry are David Wojcik, Mike Peterson, Clayton Peck, David Pierce (all four to Iowa-Missouri Conference), David Crocket, Doug Bing and Charlie Thompson (these three to Kansas-Nebraska Conference). Those called to part-time positions are Greg Welch, Kevin Brown (both to Minnesota) and Michael Moore (to Kansas-Nebraska). This leaves only two or three students who are still looking for positions.

The Humanities Division is grateful to the conference leadership for looking to Union College for their young ministerial workers.

Capital Campaign Two-Thirds Completed

By Linda Sprengel

The Union College Capital Campaign, launched in 1983, has reached the two-thirds mark. Of the $3 million goal, $2,145,561.23 has been pledged or donated as of March 1.

Of the various groups associated with the college, alumni, parents and friends have met over half of their goal. Faculty and staff have pledged more than three-quarters of their total. The Lincoln community has committed two-thirds of this goal. And the college Board of Trustees has surpassed its quarter-million dollar target by 28%, giving over $320,000.

The college's Design for a Decade Capital Campaign, a ten-year plan begun in 1980, is in its three-year phase, Building the Foundations. The campaign's $3 million goal is earmarked for the new Ella Johnson Crandall Memorial Library, the Larson Lifestyle Center, the UNITE scholarship program and KUCV-FM equipment.

A.S.I. Convention At Grand Island

"The best one we have ever attended," was the comment that was repeated time and again at the Mid-America ASI Chapter Convention in Grand Island, Nebraska. The Adventist-laymen's Services and Industries (ASI) meetings were held in the Midtown Holiday Inn March 28-30, 1985. Some eighty business and professional people from all parts of the union territory attended the sessions.

The special emphasis of the meetings was on soul winning and outreach through one's business or profession. Former General Conference president, Elder Robert H. Pierson, provided the spiritual atmosphere with his presentation. Revelation Seminar author and teacher, Bob Boney, spent one day teaching the group the basics on conducting seminars in their own homes or businesses. Attorney Lewis Walton, author of a number of books including the Adventist best seller, Omega, provided a most informative speech following the Saturday night fellowship dinner. Mrs. Walton, physician and surgeon, spoke enthusiastically of the personal Bible study plan devised by her father, Dr. Marion Barnard. Terry Moreland, architect and builder from Bakersfield, California, shared his childhood experience of attending Dr. Barnard's Bible study, and how later in life he came under conviction and got in contact with Dr. Barnard. The rest is pleasant history.

Phil Winsted promotes HAPPINESS DIGEST.

Robert Pierson relaxes between meetings.

Phillip Winsted, nursing home owner-operator, National ASI President, brought great inspiration and encouragement to the assembled business and professional people. Some who were in attendance reported that it is difficult not to be enthused about ASI when the General Conference ASI Secretary, Ken Livesay, is present. His enthusiasm about ASI is certainly catching. The spiritual tone of the Sabbath day was set by Mid-America Union president, Joel Tompkins, at the prayer breakfast.

The weekend program was planned and successfully carried out by chapter president, Wayne Dull, president of Eden Valley Institute, Loveland, Colorado, and chapter vice-president, Herb Powell, president of Midco Plastics, Enterprise, Kansas.

Enthusiasm ran high among those in attendance when challenged to bring a new member to the next chapter meeting in Kansas City on April 3-5, 1986. For more information on ASI, contact ASI Secretary, Mid-America Union Conference, P.O. Box 6127, Lincoln, Nebraska 68506.

Baptisms

At Waukon

By Janice Coffeen

It was a beautiful autumn day in Waukon, Iowa when Ernie Beisker was baptized by Pastor Gary Parker. It was the first time the portable baptistry, designed by Linn McNeilus of Dodge Center, Minnesota, was used. Ernie also dedicated his son, Leir, and his daughter, Rebecca, to the Lord.

Dan and Cora Small (right) were baptized and married on the same day following a series of local meetings at Ankeny. Their cousins, Sara and Joe, have also started coming to Ankeny and are taking baptismal instructions with Pastor Greg Wahlen.

95th Birthday

By Evelyn Bomar

Edith Brooks of Greenfield, Iowa, celebrated her 95th birthday recently. Sixty friends and relatives were on hand to congratulate her.

Edith is a member of the Winterset, Iowa church and she happily attributes her longevity to her many years of healthful living and daily keeping her trust in the Lord.

Evangelistic Team

By Mildred Adams

Elder and Mrs. Joel Tompkins, Elder and Mrs. James Cress and Clyde Peters started the fire under the Central church for the meetings to start in April.

Elder Tompkins' "key" word for Friday evening and Sabbath morning was taken from II Corinthians 4:16. "For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed..."

Clyde Peters, a returned missionary from South America, had no trouble holding the children's attention as he told them about two dogs and a dead (?) alligator for the Sabbath morning story.

For the Sabbath sermon, Elder Tompkins returned our thoughts to Friday evening's key word "renewed" or "renewal". Sabbath afternoon Elder Cress told us to say love, show love, share love and know love.

Sharon Cress told us how our love relationship with Christ compares to our love relationship in marriage; as a couple has a love relationship and marries, the desire for children appears and so should our desire to bear fruit for the Lord appear as our love for Him grows.

Mildred Adams is the communication secretary for the Kansas City church.

Report From Sunnydale

"Rrrrring..." The first alarm broke the routine of afternoon classes on the campus of Sunnydale Academy. "What a time for a fire drill," one senior groaned. Even a few teachers questioned the timing.

As students and teachers gathered on front campus, a horn blast caused the group to look en masse toward the road just as the newly purchased Greyhound-type bus cruised by. Shouts of joy now broke what began as a peaceful afternoon, and students eagerly climbed on board for a ride in the bus for which they had worked so hard these last two years.

Students and staff involved in outreach programs such as religious drama, gymnastics, and musical tours will greatly appreciate this air-conditioned, 47-passenger, GMC bus which will also serve well for class picnics, trips, and other outings. A heart-felt thank you goes to all who have donated so generously to the "Bus Campaign".

Other blessings have been realized by Sunnydale Academy this year. Our campus chaplain has greatly strengthened the Bible and counseling program, as well as adding a Religious Drama Club to the campus. The Alumni Association donated a set of handbells in time for the beginning of school. Already the Bell Choir has traveled extensively throughout Iowa-Missouri giving performances which have proved an inspiration to all.

Perhaps parents have been most appreciative of the fact that for the last four years tuition (which includes music lessons and fees) has stayed at $4,870.00. The good news is that tuition should hold for the 1985-1986 school year.

But the greatest asset Sunnydale Academy has realized is a dedicated staff and a vibrant, growing student body with the mutual goal of preparing for eternity. If you know of an academy-age young person who might be interested in a Christian education, please contact Larry Marsh, Sunnydale Academy, Route 2, Box 144, Centralia, Missouri 65240 or call (314) 682-2164.

Bus purchased for Academy activities.

Project: STEPS TO CHRIST

On May 22, 1984 a mailing of Steps To Christ was sent to every home in 16 small cities in the Harlan District in western Iowa where Charles Jenson is pastor.

To date 20 requests for Bible studies and/or classes have been received and 40 of our message-filled books, written principally by Ellen White, have been mailed.

Couples Honored

Two couples in the Burlington church were honored Sabbath, February 23 when they were presented with exquisite corsages and boutonnieres of roses.

The occasion was the wedding anniversaries of Jocelyn and Iris Binns wed 60 years on February 27 and Walter and Marion Brunken whose 49th anniversary was February 24. Relatives and friends came from far and near both for a surprise party for the Binns' celebration and a reception for the Brunkens on Sunday.

Brother Binns is a deacon, and he and his wife are in charge of flower arrangements for the church throughout the year. During the growing season they furnish beautiful arrangements from their flower beds. They also send flowers in the church's name, to those who are ill. Walter Brunken serves as head elder and a Sabbath School teacher. His wife is a church organist and pianist, head deaconess and a Sabbath School teacher.

Bread Giveaway

"I'm a Catholic. You'd better give it to someone in your own church."

"I'm a Lutheran and I want you to know we won't step a foot inside your church."

"Does it have lard in it?"

"I'll be glad to buy some!"

"Don't you want a donation?"

Anna Rosa Chaviano and Tonya Dawes with Pastor Murphy pointing the direction of their territory.

These were statements and questions that greeted the members of Kansas City church neighborhood. These questions and statements turned to exclamations as they learned they were invited to come and learn how to bake bread on March 27.

Baby Dedication

By Mildred Adams

February 2 and March 16 were baby dedication days at Kansas City Central church. Pastor Murphy took each child in his arms and gave each one a special dedicatory prayer. Sixteen children were dedicated in this special way. Kansas City Central is growing!

Mildred Adams is the communication secretary for the Kansas City Central church.

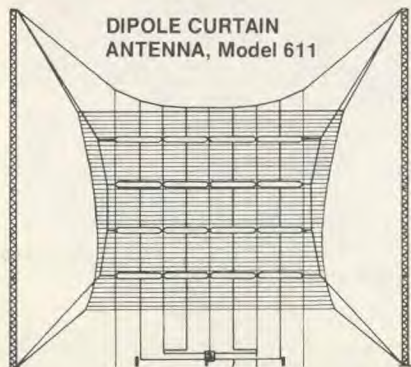

Guam Radio To Reach Half The World

The idea that just one radio station can reach more than half of the world's population is difficult to fathom. The offering taken in our churches on March 9 and then again on May 25 will make this concept a reality.

The station consisting of 400,000 watts of power will be located on the tiny Pacific island of Guam. The station will utilize five curtain antennas to beam the programs to an area of the world populated by 2,500,000,000. Twenty staff members headed by Dr. and Mrs. Allen Steele will be employed to operate the various aspects of the venture. Broadcasting is planned around the clock in two dozen languages.

In an article published in the Adventist Review, General Conference president, Neal C. Wilson, said, "We believe that God is leading in this project. I personally invite you to be a part of this great mission outreach."

Mid-America Union president, Joel O. Tompkins on the President's Page, Outlook April 4, 1985, said, "This is beyond human comprehension—to be able to reach nearly 2.5 billion people with the good news of Jesus." Please remember this special project with your offering on May 25.
