

Stop-Smoking Clinic Returns To Auburn By Request

By popular request of the townspeople, a second 5-day Stop-Smoking Clinic was held, March 17 to 21, by Dr. Floyd Scott, of the American Lake Veterans Hospital; Glenn Patterson, pastor of the Auburn district, and Norman Versteeg, associate pastor, in the Speech Arts Room of the new Auburn High School.

Eighteen individuals including seven housewives, one real estate broker, one restaurant owner, one farmer, one aircraft manufacturer, one serviceman, one carpenter, one grocery store owner, and one garden supply owner successfully completed the course and were most enthusiastic about the results.

The public school officials, most of whom are non-smokers, were very cooperative in helping make space available for the program. Elder Patterson commented, "From the remarks that I heard about town, this Stop-Smoking Clinic does more to break down prejudice and make friends than anything we have done before. It also helps to bring us before the prominent people of our area."

Opportunity was given for those taking the course to help with the expenses incurred. One man and his wife put in a check for the price of two cartons of cigarettes while others contributed varying amounts into the little offering box at the back of the room. When the box was emptied it had $67.78 in it.

From the experience of our brethren in Auburn, Washington, we are convinced that it would be well if our pastors made the Stop-Smoking Clinic an annual affair in their districts. Last September, 23 members in the Auburn class, including the school janitor, quit smoking successfully; and from the interest generated then this last clinic was requested by the public.

"Signs" Makes Friends

The 1963 Signs crusade subscriptions are now reaching our periodical department by the hundreds every day. This is evidence of the desire of our faithful people to quickly carry the message of truth to every honest heart in these closing events of earth's history. Your friends, relatives and neighbors need to know the truth for this time. The following story illustrates the possibilities with Signs in your neighborhood.

Elder John Hancock, Missionary Volunteer leader for the North Pacific Union, purchased a home in an area where there were no other Seventh-day Adventists. It was not long until the word was around that these new neighbors were Seventh-day Adventists and besides he was a minister. The neighbors were keeping their distance and seemed to cultivate an air of aloofness.

The Hancocks decided to send the Signs to a number of the neighbors and to several shops including the beauty shop. Much to Mrs. Hancock's surprise when she visited the beauty shop she discovered that Signs of the Times had been placed on a table with other reading material. In hearing the conversation that took place, it was evident that some had already read the Signs. Much interest was evidenced in the prophecies that are presently being fulfilled. Other topics presented in the Signs were being discussed, and it seemed that everyone was interested. After a number of months the operator said, "Now everybody is asking to read the Signs." They were interested in an explanation of the many questions of the Bible and particularly the beasts of prophecy, and were finding the answers to their questions in the Signs.

Elder Hancock says that now instead of showing a distant and unfriendly attitude, they are asking questions. The Signs of the Times has been the agency that opened the way.

ATTENTION: Distinctive Meetings

We urgently request that all readers of the GLEANER, whether of the Washington Conference or otherwise, take special notice of the Grand Evangelistic Crusade that will begin in the new Renton Seventh-day Adventist church, 1030 L Street, on Saturday night, April 27, at 8 o'clock.

Please write or call all your friends and relatives of the Seattle area including Kent, Auburn, Maple Valley, Bellevue, Issaquah and even farther away, and "compel" them to take in the meetings. Your invitation will be the most economical and the most effective. The writer will lecture nightly except Mondays and Fridays for three weeks. Utmost friendship and interest will be shown all visitors, aside from inspiring up-to-the-minute illustrated messages combined with lovely music and other special features. A Bible marking class will be conducted each night. Tell your friends to come and win a free Bible.

May we ask you to mail us the name and address of those who should receive our printed notice of subjects. After you have invited them to the lectures we will call on them, if you so desire. Send names and addresses to the writer at 7047—121 Place S. E., Renton, Washington. We are told that just before the end many former Adventists will return. Let us get them out to the meetings.

Rejoicing in Grays Harbor Through Christ Our Hope Team

The Mittleider Christ Our Hope Evangelistic Team has concluded a three week series of meetings and one week of Bible doctrines, questions and answers at the Grays Harbor-Hoquiam Seventh-day Adventist church—a blessing of 35 precious souls. Of the 53 baptized, 75 per cent were new members, some reclaimed, and two by profession of faith.

The attendance was good to the very last. Some nights there were more non-believers than members—as high as 103 nonmembers, and several nights extra chairs were added in the aisles for seating capacity. Angels of God were walking the aisles and the Spirit of God was deeply convicting the honest in heart to follow their Saviour.

The Montesano-Elma-Shelton district was blessed with eight souls. The Raymond church received thirteen precious souls and the walls are beginning to bulge with rejoicing and the thoughts of a new church. A family of seven was buried together with their Lord in baptism in the Hoquiam new baptistry, a picture that deeply touched the hearts of all onlookers as the heavenly choir echoed the praises of God over those precious souls. This family is busily telling and helping others to walk the narrow path that leads to home. They are a blessing and staunch workers for the Raymond church.

Another beautiful story is of a young couple who had never had any contact with Seventh-day Adventists until the Christ Our Hope Team swelled the good news of salvation throughout the four corners of Grays Harbor and surrounding territories. He is a lino-type operator, and with God's promise of physical food is retained at the same job with Sabbaths free. One week end they slipped into Oregon to visit their folks and to tell of the wonderful news of salvation. This brought the call of a minister of another faith into their midst to straighten the young couple out and back to the faith which they had once known. In spite of all the persuasion of this minister, the love of the Advent message grew deeper in their hearts and there was no turning back to the broad way that leads to destruction.

Two young ladies—one twenty-two and the other nineteen—attended each meeting. Both ladies will attend Walla Walla College next fall. Their parents who were once Adventists are thinking seriously of the love they once knew and the return to the fold.

Another beautiful setting was a non-member, a laundry truck driver who invited one of his customers to the meetings. This lady and her sixteen-year-old son attended the rest of the meetings, and by the conviction of the Holy Spirit, all three were buried together in baptism—the joy of a non-member winning two others. The mother is now taking a business course to help send her son to one of our Washington academies next fall.

Another lady who attended the Hoquiam church for some time took her stand against great opposition and was baptized. Many others took their stand against real opposition, and that, too, is melting away.

A visitor from Indiana saw the invitation in the daily paper. Since she was to be in town about two months on business and was looking for something to do, she started coming, made her decision and was baptized. Her heart is overjoyed with the good news and she is anxious to go home and teach her people.

The tobacco clinic was a thrilling victory. Fourteen came through victoriously and marveled at the fact that they were able to taste and smell again and enjoy their food and gained the final victory over the enslaving habit they so much feared.

Thirty-two souls were added to the Grays Harbor-Hoquiam church. Many were impressed by the inspired messages and the lovely Bibles they earned. The seed sown will germinate and sprout, ready to be gleaned in the next harvest season.

Our thanks to the Mittleider-Beaman-Harbeson team for the joy brought to the Grays Harbor area by the grace of God.

Lift Up the Trumpet

As my wife and I looked over the city, in the valley below, that was to be our place in the Lord's vineyard for unnumbered days to come, we felt an overwhelming loneliness—strangers in a foreign land. How different it seemed from the busy college life, with its loads of fellowship. All around was the sunbeaten, parched prairie. Here for the last four years drought had prevailed, with only a trace of snow, rain, or dew. Shade trees were not available for the lonely strangers. These people who followed after Baal truly needed the rain prayers of Elijah.

In this city of Shelby, population 4,025, someone had told us they thought two members of the remnant church lived. The nearest Seventh-day Adventist church was almost 100 miles away. What was it someone asked us?—How would you like to go to the mission field? Surely here before us lay a long overdue, neglected mission field in our own free land, in God's last hour.

Group of believers in Shelby, Montana, attending church services.

How should we begin? So much to do and the Word of God says so little time before Jesus comes. We found an old hall and started to preach the Word. People came—some just to find out what an Adventist looked like. "Those people who were preaching about a strange Sabbath—a seventh-day Sabbath, and from the Bible, too."

Now what would Satan do? The Good Book says in Revelation 12:17 that the devil is angry at the remnant seed of God. It was still November but cold wintry winds began to lash down from the North. Temperatures dropped down below zero and as important messages were presented, families huddled by their own fireplaces. As the last meetings came due—decision nights—the storm whipped itself into a fury. Temperatures dropped to 30 below zero and was accompanied by blowing snow. With much regret the hall door was locked and the meetings stopped.

But Satan had not won a complete victory for in a couple of weeks fruits of the labor were seen when the first group went down into the watery grave of baptism.

Now we had to search for a place to worship. It was not easy. Most of the churches turned us down. Finally the gracious Episcopal people let us share their church. But the devil was not through. One Sabbath afternoon as the service was about to begin the church caught fire because of a faulty heating system, but, thank the Lord, no one was hurt. Now we were without a church again and not able to obtain entrance into another church because "we were sheep stealers!" We tried meeting in our own home, but the children and some of the older people were not coming. We prayed not for rain but for a meeting place. An old classroom in an old building was found and we were given temporary permission to use it. As we looked out over the group that came to Sabbath School and church last week we could not help feeling great joy in the service of the Lord.

Eighteen months ago there were only two Seventh-day Adventists in Shelby but how wonderful to see 45 people gathered in the name of the Lord singing, "Lift up the trumpet, loud let it ring, Jesus is coming again." True most of them are not members of the remnant church yet. There were Baptists, Methodists, Lutherans, Assembly of God people, etc. But they are hearing the call to come out of Babylon: "Come out of her, my people." Rev. 18:4.

This next Sabbath, again, more are going forward in the rite of baptism, including the Baptist choir leader. Yes, the land around Shelby is still dry with drought and many of the people are poor, but many a soul is being watered with the water of Life.

Sabbath, April 13, Elder A. J. Gordon, the Montana Conference president, baptized 16 as a result of meetings just concluded at Conrad, Montana.

My brother, my sister, won't you join us in praying for a place of worship in Shelby?

favorably. At the close a call was made and 35 young people came forward who wanted to be baptized and dedicate their lives to the Lord. The younger children also stood to consecrate themselves to the service of their Master. A baptismal class was started and is conducted by the pastor.

Willard Santee, a senior from Pendleton, and Patrick Colvin, a sophomore from Astoria, conducted the services, alternating with the song service. The topics they chose were "Hands of Jesus," "Eyes of Jesus," "Heart of Jesus," "Feet of Jesus" and "Lips of Jesus."

Bernice Cornforth, senior from Coquille, acted as pianist. Special music during the week was furnished by the following from Columbia Academy: Virginia and Veronica Kegley from White Salmon; Linda Magsulit from Falls City; Dave Grams, Battle Ground.

The meetings were held in the church, and the experience of these two young men is a stepping stone in their education as they fulfill their ambition to be evangelists.

UPPER COLUMBIA

First Investiture Running Hundred Per Cent

Two schools of seven rooms were on the first week-end schedule of Investitures and all had one hundred per cent invested. This is a splendid achievement. Pasco school, under the principalship of Brother David Gouge, had 107 in all MV Classes. There were 50 in the preparatory classes and 56 in the JMV Classes and one Master Guide. Mrs. John B. Stuckey was invested as a Master Guide, making every teacher in this school a Master Guide. Mrs. Carol Thomsen and Mrs. David Gouge complete the teacher staff.

Advanced JMV Class bars were given to 13 Trail Friends, 12 Frontier Companions and 6 Pioneer Explorers of the Pathfinder Club with Mrs. Glen Axford, Director. Every member of the MV Classes wore neckerchiefs and made a colorful pageant of Christian youth.

Our second investiture was at Moses Lake where all three rooms were again one hundred per cent invested. Brother Albert Wiggins is the principal. The total of 51 invested represented the combined efforts of Mrs. Irene Franz, Miss Gwendolyn Willeford and the principal's rooms.

Our teachers enjoy seeing the advancing step in MV Classes taken yearly by their pupils. They give much joyous leadership beyond the regular school program to make leaders of our youth. We look forward this year to a hundred per cent participation in the MV Class program by Upper Columbia Conference schools.

Upper Columbia Academy

◆ Tuesday, May 7, is Academy Day. From the length and the breadth of the Conference students will be coming to visit the campus of Upper Columbia Academy. A special program is planned to acquaint new students with the physical plant and the educational program. This will be an important day. Specific plans can be made for entering school in September. Students will have the opportunity of reserving dormitory rooms, obtaining tentative work assignments, and registering for classes to be taken in the fall. We invite all the academy-age young people who are looking forward to attending school in September to be present May 7.

◆ Teachers' summer school plans include Mr. Davis, boys' dean, attending Eastern Washington State College and working towards his master's degree. William Greenley will attend the Spokane Trade School to broaden his experience in machine shop work. Mrs.

Lois Hall, instructor in piano and organ, will be at Walla Walla College for the summer session. Mr. Alonzo Lang, newly appointed band instructor, will work on his master's degree at the University of Oregon, Eugene. Mr. R. Ludeman will continue work toward his M.A. degree in Physics at Oregon State University under a National Science Foundation grant. Mrs. Edna McDonald will attend Eastern Washington State College, working in the area of both English and Library Science. Mr. Dale Wagner, registrar, will continue work in Guidance at Eastern Washington State College. Mr. Lynn Wickham, instructor in voice, will study music in Europe this summer. Three of the academy music students, Christina Ross, Nancy Smith, and Fred Schoepflin, will accompany Mr. Wickham.

◆ The new boys' dormitory addition and quarters for the dean are progressing very nicely. The additional 21 dormitory rooms will relieve the pressure of the three-man room situation and provide a more congenial atmosphere for doing good scholastic work.

Walls of the dormitory addition at UCA are going up.

The addition of a worship room will be a real asset in the boys' dormitory. The new dormitory rooms will be allocated to boys in residence on the basis of their good housekeeping record this past year.

A New Book On The Sanctuary

Since our Sabbath School lessons are on the subject of the Sanctuary, we at the Book and Bible House have had many asking for the book, The Sanctuary, by M. L. Andreasen. Sorry to say, this book is out of print along with The Messiah and the Sanctuary by F. C. Gilbert; however, we do have an excellent little book on the Sanctuary called, Symbols of Salvation, by Merwin R. Thurber. It contains eight chapters covering the very points that we are studying in our Sabbath School lessons, in a most interesting and informative way, beginning with the plan "before the foundation of the world" and carrying on to the time of Christ's crucifixion.

Write for your copy while it can still be of help in your lesson study this quarter. Price 25¢, plus 2¢ tax if you live in Washington, and 8¢ for postage.

Walla Walla College

Campus Readies For College Day

A "last call" for high school and academy seniors to attend College Day, Walla Walla College, April 29, is an invitation to an introduction to college life, an opportunity to widen horizons, and a challenge to accept the possibilities of a college education.

This invitation also includes a call for all seniors who play band instruments to bring them and to participate in the performance with the College Concert Band in Sunday night's program in Columbia Auditorium. Professor H. Lloyd Leno, conductor, announces a short rehearsal at 4:30 Sunday afternoon in the band room in the Music Annex.

Doctoral Degree To Be Conferred

Prof. Eugene Winter, chairman of the department of physical education since 1946, completed requirements for the Ph.D. degree in physical education at the University of Oregon, Eugene, April 15, when he defended his doctoral thesis.

Doctor Winter holds the B.A. degree from WWC and the M.S. degree from Washington State University, Pullman.

For his thesis: "The Validity and Reliability of the Leighton Workmeter as a Device for Evaluating Certain Factors of Physical Fitness," he did research at the University of Oregon and at WWC. He has organized a complete program of physical fitness testing for all WWC students.

The P.E. department under Doctor Winter's leadership has grown from a one-teacher department to the present three full-time teachers. Recent board action designated a nearly 20-acre tract for development into a physical education and recreational area. First construction project, says the department head, will be provision of a swimming pool.

Concert Band Will Perform

The Walla Walla College Concert Band under the direction of Prof. H. Lloyd Leno will climax Music Week with a concert Saturday evening, April 27, in Columbia Auditorium.

The smaller Wind Ensemble will be featured in a group of three selections, in one of which Karen Perry, Lodi, California, will appear as xylophone soloist.

Robert Kearbey, senior music major, will conduct the band in one number. Climax of the concert will be the performance of the "Finale from Symphony No. 1 in G Minor" by Kalinikov with antiphonal brass choirs. Joining the WWC group in this performance will be 12 Whitman College students whose director is Robert Zimmerman.

They are Mrs. Alma Trace and Mrs. Flossie Giebelhouse, both assistant professors of nursing, and Miss Teresa Holland, instructor in nursing.

Attending the regional meeting of the Western Business Education Association in Seattle, April 10-12, were the Misses Vicki Konnerth and Beulah Heidinger, instructors in Secretarial Science.

Mrs. William Lay, director of public relations, attended the regional meeting of the American College Public Relations Association in Spokane, April 7-9.

Urgent Call From Montana For SDA's of Integrity

In a recent letter from Brother and Sister Elwin N. Johnson, managers of the Will-O-Dell Sanitarium, of Missoula, Montana, they have informed me that several job opportunities are opening for our people in their area.

There are openings in the field of hospital management in a new hospital that is under construction at the present time. There is also need for managers for two or three nursing homes that will be under construction in June of this year. Besides managers, these institutions will need registered nurses, physical therapists, nurse aides, cooks, laundry and other workers.

All of these openings are in the western part of Montana where outdoor recreation is wonderful and unlimited. Brother and Sister Johnson are anxious to make contact with any of our people who have had some experience in these fields and who can furnish good character references from their home church and pastor. As they stated to me in their letter, "We are interested in good representative Seventh-day Adventists who will bear the correct witness and who know well their field of labor and will follow through with tact, kindness and representative service."

It seems to me that here is an opportunity for some of our dear people who wish to get out of the cities and into a more rural setting. These openings are in Deer Lodge, Helena, Missoula and Polson—all beautifully situated in picturesque, western Montana. If you are interested, please contact Elwin M. Johnson, Will-O-Dell Sanitarium, 121 South Grove Street, Missoula, Montana.
