Sabbath School Influence

Many years ago the servant of the Lord informed the believers of the remnant church that "the Sabbath school should be one of the greatest instrumentalities, and the most effectual, in bringing souls to Christ." Officers and workers engaged in Sabbath school activities need to be imbued with the Spirit of Christ. As they follow His example, progress and success will be realized. Christ came to save. He sacrificed His all to save and deliver sinners from ruin and destruction. He admonishes His followers to learn of Him in rendering efficient service. The Spirit of prophecy says, "The true workers should impress upon the minds of the children a beautiful, pure, Christ-like character, which will transfigure the countenance. If Christ is the abiding principle in the heart, you may read purity, refinement, peace, and love in the features."

The master missionary, Jesus, placed the world as a mission field before the church. He says, "Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest." And again He says, "The harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He would send forth laborers into His harvest." But how shall the laborers be sent when there is such a shortage of means? The Sabbath schools in the North American Division contribute more than fifty per cent of all mission offerings given for the support of our world-wide mission work. We regret very much, however, the low average per member in the Sabbath schools of the Northern Union. I have before me a report which shows that for the first five months of 1938 the Sabbath schools throughout the Northern Union averaged $.078 per capita. The financial goal placed before us through providential openings in the mission fields is 25 cents a week per member. The Lord is opening doors before us, and we must not disappoint Him through hesitancy and delay. As leader of the Sabbath school work in the Northern Union, I wish to appeal to the Sabbath school officers and teachers to promote all Sabbath school objectives by precept and example. Encourage and urge every member to increase his donations through—

1. The weekly Sabbath school offering.
2. The Thirteenth Sabbath Offering
3. The Birthday offering.
4. The Investment Fund.

The apostle Paul sets forth the divine principle of giving: "But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver." We appeal to you, dear brethren, throughout the Northern Union, to keep your eyes upon the mission fields. They are white already to harvest. Soon the Lord shall appear in the clouds of heaven to gather His saints, those that have made a covenant with Him by sacrifice. Let us prove faithful in our endeavors to help those still in darkness. The needs are great, and therefore the appeal is to every believer to do his very best in behalf of the mission fields.

Needs For Business Training

Sailing through the blackest night, the giant plane proceeds on its way. How does it keep its course? Ah, the pilot is guided by eyes other than his own—instruments that register all the information that he needs for the safe guidance of his ship.

Thrilling is the work of one whose duty it is to pilot these gigantic birds through the midnight watches, but just as fascinating is the business of those whose duty it is to regulate the wheels which determine the course of a nation or a business enterprise.

Without instruments and someone to interpret their readings, the plane would lose its course. Even so would the course of the economic, social, and cultural world be insecure were it not for those quiet, unrecognized, yet efficient individuals working in positions behind the scenes—the accountants and secretaries.

It is the work of the commercial department to prepare students for participation in the business world. With reference to the need of training for business in our own denominational work, the Spirit of prophecy has this to say:

"Especially are consecrated business men needed, men who will carry the principles of truth into every business transaction. . . Men of promise in business lines should develop and perfect their talents by most thorough study and training. They should be encouraged to place themselves where, as students, they can rapidly gain a knowledge of right business principles and methods. Not one business man now connected with the cause needs to be a novice. If men in any line of work ought to improve their opportunities to become wise and efficient, it is those who are using their ability in the work of building up the kingdom of God in our world."—Gospel Workers, p. 423.

In building its business curriculum, Union College recognizes that in preparation for service in business lines, a broad general education is necessary. Educational fundamentals must be mastered and a good background built up in Bible, history, English, and other general subjects. Special subjects in business lines included in the curriculum are economics, business law, typewriting, shorthand and secretarial practices, bookkeeping and accounting.

Torch Bearers

A few years ago the aged king of England, George V, performed an act which will long be remembered as a unique ceremony to demonstrate the absolute loyalty of the British subjects in every part of his vast empire.

At a given signal a vast torch was lighted near the royal palace in the presence of leading men of England. Then another one, following this, in Scotland, Wales, Newfoundland, all the capital cities of Canada, over into Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, India, and back to England and the palace again. I happened to be in Winnipeg, Manitoba, at the time,

We, too, are torch bearers. We have received it from the hands of our fathers at a great cost, and are duty bound to pass it on. Down through the ages God has always had His faithful sentinels who have kept the light burning on the altar of the church. The light has never where Baden-Powell, the Boy Scout chief of the world, was visiting. He performed the act there in the presence of some 3,000 Scouts and a large group of citizens. It was a beautiful sight not soon to be forgotten, to see the chief step out in the night, carry the torch to the giant candle under the old Union Jack and light it, while the great assembly of people sang lustily, "O Canada, we stand on guard for thee."

The hearts of the aged king and queen must have been moved as they followed the march of the torch around the world and heard over the radio the song of the multitude singing, "God save our King."

been out. We are the last ones to carry it, so should take it and gladly pass it on until the whole earth has been lighted with the glory of God as the waters cover the sea.

Ingathering time is candle-lighting time. During these seven weeks we demonstrate our loyalty to our King and the kingdom to come. Each conference is shown in the picture as holding high the torch of truth. The union conference will stand by and send the word to all other unions in the home division that we are standing by loyally even unto the end.

Our Student Colporteurs

Our student colporteurs have rolled up a wonderful record. We are proud of them. They have shown splendid courage. It is a joy to meet these colporteurs here and there in the state and hear them relate their experiences. When you listen to their stories it becomes evident that they have faithfully toiled through the weeks, putting in good time, and that they have spent much time in prayer. The experiences which these young people have gained, money could not buy. They have demonstrated once more that book evangelism can be made a real success if the colporteur first receives the right kind of training. We are glad to know that several young people have decided to continue with the colporteur work through the year. These are young people who have graduated from our academy.

We are convinced that other young people in North Dakota should join the army of colporteurs even if they have never sold a book in their lives. They have the same opportunity to receive thorough training for this work that the other young people have. If they will only consent to spend the necessary time, they will receive the kind of instruction that will help them to make a success of the colporteur work. Some of the colporteurs this summer have been surprised at their own success and what the Lord has helped them to accomplish. The right kind of train-

North Dakota Academy Prospects

We were made very happy the other day when Prof. R. W. Fowler informed us that prospects were very good for a larger enrollment at the academy this year than last year. That proves that our people in North Dakota believe in Christian education. How could it be otherwise when we think of all the splendid instruction God has given us on this vital point through the Spirit of prophecy. There is nothing that could be of more importance than the education of our own sons and daughters. Parents should shun no sacrifice when it comes to giving their children the advantage of a Christian education.

One of our workers has just written me a letter in which he speaks of a woman who has taken her stand for the truth, and who has decided to send her younger son to Harvey and the older one to Union College. The Lord's blessing certainly has rested upon our academy, from which this year we graduated a class of thirty and last year a class of thirty-four students. We appreciate the wonderful spirit of unity and harmony that exists in our academy. What a blessing to have our young people in such an institution, where they receive a Christian education that fits them not only for this life but for the life to come. I trust that in every Seventh-day Adventist home in North Dakota very careful consideration will be given to the question of sending the sons and daughters to our own school. In every home this should be made a subject of prayer, and every effort should be made to make it possible for our boys and girls to receive their training in our own academy.

The Effort at Belfield

The Northern Union Outlook readers are perhaps watching with great interest the results of the different evangelistic efforts. The Ukrainian effort at Belfield is something new in the conference. This is the first time that a real effort has been held among the Ukrainians of North Dakota. There are in this community about 250 families scattered among the plains and badlands north of Belfield. The great majority of them belong to a Greek Catholic church. A few of them belong to a Greek Orthodox church. In this community there are two Greek Catholic churches and one Greek Orthodox church.

We began our effort on July 10. The attendance has been small, but there are a number who are deeply interested. Our attendance has been gradually increasing up to the present time. Last week we had six meetings and each of them was well attended. This was our best week. This coming week on Friday, will be a holiday for them. As a rule we do not have any meetings on Friday, but they came to us and of their own accord requested us to have a meeting on that day. Therefore, we plan on seven meetings with them this week.

Last Sunday, August 14, the subject "Who Changed the Sabbath?" was presented. Practically all in the audience raised their hands when the question was presented to them whether they understood the subject and were willing to stand for the truth. We are sure that God has some people here who will accept the truth.

Sabbath, August 13, was a high day for the Killdeer church. On this day we had baptism and two young men were baptized. Then after baptism we had Sabbath school and communion service. About forty members took part in this service. We solicit the prayers of our people in behalf of our effort here at Belfield.

S. Demchuk and J. C. Michalenko.

North Dakota News Items

Elder D. N. Wall and Brother Rustad have spent about three weeks conducting an evangelistic effort near Bottineau. On Sabbath, August 6, they had a baptismal service in the Metigoshe Lake. Six people were baptized. Among them were two men and their wives. It is believed that there are others up in that section who will follow.

On Wednesday, August 10, Elder and Mrs. D. N. Wall, with the elder and several other members of the New Home church, spent the day in New Rockford doing Ingathering work. They met with a good response. They were not only made very happy because of the gifts for missions which they received, but they found several interested people. The members of the New Home church have worked New Rockford systematically with tracts. One family in particular in New Rockford is deeply interested in the truth, and we hope will take their stand for it.

Act Now

Just listen to this special offer! The YOUTH'S INSTRUCTOR is offered to come to your home for three months, every week for only 25 cents. These subscriptions must begin with the first issue of September.

If you already receive this wonderful paper, send 25 cents to the Book and Bible House with the name and address of some relative or friend, then pray that he may be attracted to Christ and accept Him as a personal Saviour.

This is an outstanding offer. Act now! You have only about two more weeks.

Married

On July 31 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bentz, Sr. of Harvey, North Dakota, a home wedding took place in which Luella Bentz and Henry Sepchenko of Wainfleet, Ontario, were united in holy wedlock by the writer.

These young people are both graduates of Sheyenne River Academy. Mrs. Henry Sepchenko is also a registered nurse graduated from Glendale Sanitarium. Mr. Sepchenko finished the pre-dental course and plans to continue with his dental course this fall.

After the wedding the young couple went east to Wainfleet, Ontario, for a few weeks, from there they will go west to San Francisco.

We wish them God's richest blessings.

The Junior Camp

The Minnesota Conference was blessed in being able to secure a most ideal place for their Junior Camp. It was located on a beautiful lake, hidden away in the woods about thirteen miles from Brainerd.

The camp had exclusive rights and there wasn't another soul about. The lake was clear and clean, with a beautiful sandy bottom. It was a perfect place for the children to swim and you can be sure that they enjoyed it.

Elder C. H. Lauda, our local conference Missionary Volunteer secretary, and Elder K. L. Gant, our union conference Missionary Volunteer secretary, conducted a well organized camp. They were assisted by several well trained Senior Counselors. Brother B. C. Marshall, our conference secretary-treasurer, and his family, were present during the entire time. He did the buying for the camp.

Time was given each day for the spiritual uplift of the boys and girls. The morning worship, or morning watch, was held each morning. Later in the forenoon an hour was given for a spiritual meeting. Each evening a story hour was conducted around a bonfire near the lake.

The children were much interested in the handicraft hour when a teacher lead them in wood carving, et cetera.

The writer, with his family, had the privilege of spending the weekend at the camp and led out in the Sabbath morning service. The preaching service followed a most interesting Sabbath school, which was conducted by the Juniors themselves, under the direction of their counselor.

I consider that the Junior Camp was a real success, and I am sure that the Juniors will not soon forget the splendid time that they had together.

Maplewood News Items

Mr. Kirk and his family are spending their vacation visiting relatives in Wyoming and Nebraska.

The bookbindery is finishing a successful season. All books are expected to be returned to the customers by September 1.

Only a few days and school will start. Every Minnesota young person of academy age should make an earnest effort to be at Maplewood, September 6.

The farm boys, under the direction of Mr. Ford, are working hard to finish before school starts, the new parking space at the east end of the administration building.

As a result of the fine weather conditions we have had this year, the lawn is green and beautiful. The shrubs which were set out this spring have done exceptionally well and add materially to the beauty of the campus.

Besides the many cultural activities at Maplewood, such as the dormitory clubs, the annual banquet, etc., many social events take place during the school year. Among these are socials in the dining hall, boys' and girls' open house, and the faculty reception.

Mr. Heim and Mr. VandeVere have recently spent some time in the field campaigning for students. They report a lively interest among the youth and expect to see a goodly number on hand at matriculation time, September 5.

The girls in the kitchen, under the leadership of Miss Bounds, have canned over 2,000 quarts of beans, corn, tomatoes, and other vegetables. They expect to fill every available jar before school opens. There should be an abundance of wholesome food on hand this year.

Among the many fine industries at Maplewood, where young people are able to receive training in useful occupations, we find the farm, dairy, craftshop, press, bookbindery, laundry, boarding hall, offices, and many lines of general work. Each student has his particular part to play in the important work program of the school.

Books Testify

"This little book that I am giving you as a present is one of the best books I have ever read." This statement was made by a prominent Lutheran minister as he handed Steps to Christ to a lady whom I contacted this week. 'Yes, I have the very same book you are selling. I have read it through a number of times, and the neighbors are constantly using it in every kind of church activity.' The book spoken of was Bible Readings for the Home Circle. It, also, had been given to her by a Lutheran minister. The cover was gone, the pages were loose; yet the precious contents were still being used. We need apologize to no one for the remarkable literature that has been entrusted to us as a people."

George Nielsen, a second year student colporteur, sent in this experience this week. The greater the circulation of our literature, the greater will be the demand.

There is a definite need for more colporteurs in Minnesota. Why don't you decide to be a "Lightbearer" of the printed page? I shall be happy to hear from you. Just address your letter to me at the conference office, 1854 Roblyn Avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Last Call to Camp Meeting

As this issue comes to you the Iowa Conference workers are busily engaged, getting things in readiness for the 1938 camp meeting. All indications point to the best attendance in years. Believers from Sidney, Shenendoah, Council Bluffs, and other sections of the southwestern portion of the State have informed us that they are coming to Riverview Park, Cedar Falls, for the camp meeting.

There is no substitute for camp meeting. We are happy to note a genuine revival of the camp meeting spirit throughout the conference. Everyone is working to make this the best camp meeting in years. A hearty welcome awaits you. Plan to come early so that you can be located and settled in good season before the Sabbath. Remember, too, that there will be no Sabbath meals served in the cafeteria.

INGATHERING CAMPAIGN

CHURCHES and COMPANIES

"We are laborers together with God!"

We are very happy to announce the "early birds", and are proud of the following churches which are the first ones to reach their goal, and thus head the Honor Roll:

Spring Valley	Aitkin
Anoka	Palisade
Brainerd	Wahkon
Mankato	Swatara
Willmar

The total Harvest Ingathering up to August 13 was $2,879.29.

J. C. Christensen.

The opening meeting begins Friday evening, August 26, at 7:30 P. M. Cordiality, sociability, and spiritual inspiration await you at the 1938 camp meeting. Whether you can stay but a few days or enjoy the spiritual feasts for the full time, August 26 to September 3, come and avail yourself of the wonderful opportunities the camp meeting affords.

There will be offered for sale at the 1938 camp meeting, a number of family tents at prices from $5.00 and up. There will be cot springs also that may be secured very reasonably. Come early on Friday so that you may select the tent you desire. Those bringing their own trailers or tents may park or pitch same at the cost of only $1.00 for the camp meeting period. DeWitt S. Osgood.

How to Reach Cedar Falls and Riverview Park

Cedar Falls is easily reached from all parts of Iowa and the Middle West. It is located on the Chicago-Omaha-Sioux City-Sioux Falls line of the Illinois Central Railroad, and the West Liberty-Minneapolis line of the Rock Island Railroad. There is also half hour interurban service and bus from Waterloo on the W. C. F. & N. Railroad, which would give good service from the Chicago Great Western depot at Waterloo.

For those driving to Cedar Falls by automobile, the city is located on federal highway No. 20, which in Iowa, runs from Dubuque to Sioux City; federal highway No. 218, which connects with the Lincoln Highway near Cedar Rapids and continues to Owatonna, Minnesota, and state highway No. 57, connecting with roads to Des Moines.

Riverview Park is located on highway No. 20 at the west limits of Cedar Falls, high above the beautiful Cedar River. Eugene Woerner.

Visit The Book Tent

The book tent on the camp ground will be a place of unusual attraction and interest. A full line of denominational literature (including many new books being shown for the first time) will be on display. Special camp meeting rates will be given on all publications. There will be a good supply of choice Bibles on which a special discount of 20 per cent will be given.

Iowa Book & Bible House.

Camp Meeting Sabbath School

Be sure to be on time for Sabbath school on the camp grounds. Sabbath school starts at 9:00 A. M. and you will not want to be late. We are expecting a fine program for this meeting and will be looking for you. B. A. Scherr.

Can You Play An Instrument?

Then do not fail to bring it with you to Cedar Falls on August 26 and plan to play in the orchestra. Don't wait to be hunted and drafted into service, but get in touch with the music director and tell him that you have your instrument with you. Do your part in helping to make the Iowa camp meeting music the best ever. Glenn Fillman.

Do You Sing?

Then you will want to take part in the inspirational singing at the Iowa camp meeting. Bring your song books and come all "tuned up" ready to join heartily in the camp music. With your cooperation we will have more and better singing than ever before. Glenn Fillman.

Harvest Ingathering

Elder B. A. Scherr, conference home missionary secretary, is a busy man these days, and is happy to report that the Harvest Ingathering work is already under way and going strong, with over $2,000 raised to date. The company of Sidney is the very first group to reach the supergoal this year, while there is a close race on between Hawkeye, Muscatine, and Hampton, and it is difficult to say at this writing which will be the first church in the conference to go over the top. From Elder C. H. Miller comes the good word that between Waterloo and Marshalltown over $300 has already been raised, while Davenport, under the leadership of Sisters Blanchard and LaGrille, also reports over $300 in hand. At Winterset, Sisters A. R. Jackson and Jessie Clark have already raised one-half the church goal. Elder Scherr has just returned from Hampton, where, in company with Brother Omie Huston, the sum of $101.25 was raised in one day.

Iowa News Items

With camp meeting only a few days ahead, this is an intensely interesting time for all connected with conference work. Busy plans are under way to make the 1938 camp meeting the best ever held in Iowa. Are you planning to be there?

Elder O. Madison, of Spirit Lake, one of our veteran workers, writes in as follows: "I have the Christian pleasure to send a $5.00 bill in to the office from a Methodist friend of mine." And then he adds this timely admonition, "Let us start to roll the Harvest Ingathering ball!"

The Hawkeye church has placed an order for "New Era" tracts for use in Harvest Ingathering follow-up, according to G. H. Boehrig, who met with that church Sabbath, August 13.

Dr. L. A. Bascom, who completed his interne work at the Mercy Hospital in Cedar Rapids a few weeks ago, passed through Nevada recently, en route to Nora Springs, Iowa, where he is establishing his medical practice. We wish Dr. Bascom every blessing and success as he enters upon his work.

As a result of the tabernacle effort that has been under way in Ottumwa during the past two months, Elder L. P. Knecht reports that approximately fifteen candidates were ready to go forward in baptism on Sabbath, August 20, and that many more are still in the valley of decision. In the last Sabbath meeting, the tabernacle was nearly filled to capacity.

Elder J. A. Nordstrom, of the Swedish department of the Bureau of Home Missions, has now arrived in Iowa and will locate at Ruthven. Elder Nordstrom has been connected with the Bureau for about twelve years, and has labored at Denver, Colorado, for the past five and one-half years. We pray that God will richly bless Brother and Sister Nordstrom during their sojourn in this Conference.

The Aberdeen District

After helping the Huron church in their Harvest Ingathering and finishing our work in Mitchell district, we moved to Aberdeen early in August, finding good and loyal brethren.

Elder A. V. Rhoads was kind enough to visit us and acquaint us with our district, also to open the Harvest Ingathering campaign. We have a good start and will soon be able to start a lively singing band. Mrs. Lauda and daughter have purchased a new Liberty Pipe-Tone folding organ, which will be an encouraging factor in making the singing band more helpful and interesting.

We pray that God will make this Harvest Ingathering work a spiritual uplift to all who take part. May we all have that individual victory that will admit us into the presence of God. And may we personally be very faithful in our tithes and offerings, sacrificing in order that God's cause may prosper in South Dakota and all the world.

Dear brethren, remember us in your prayers as we need God every moment.

Obituaries

Keene.—David H. Keene was born in Pennsylvania, July 5, 1853, and fell asleep in Jesus, July 23, 1938, aged 85 years, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. I. F. Hawkins, Oakland, California. The deceased had five brothers and three sisters, all but one of whom had preceded him in death. On New Year's eve, 1879, he was united in marriage to Miss Lillian V. Backus. They made their home first in South Bend, Indiana, but soon afterward removed to South Dakota. The past forty years he has resided in Mills County, Iowa. His life companion fell asleep March 9, 1936. Of the six children, one died in infancy. The others are: Mrs. Alma Howell and Leslie M. Keene, both of Glenwood, Iowa; Herman L. Keene, Lincoln, Nebraska; Mrs. Pearl Hawkins and Nora M. Keene, Oakland, California.

Brother Keene accepted the third angel's message in South Dakota and for fifty years has been faithful to the truth. He has always been glad to give of his small means to advance the work of God, and fell asleep resting in the Saviour's promise, "I will come again." Interment was made in the beautiful Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland, California, and Pastor R. C. Gibbs, of the Oakland S. D. A. church was in charge of the service. Nora M. Keene.

Hendrix.—Jess Hendrix, son of William and Rose Hendrix, was born at Hamilton, Iowa, November 18, 1889, and departed this life at the Miners Hospital, Albia, Iowa, July 25, 1938. While working in Nelson's mine, he was caught by a fall of slate, July 18, injury from which resulted in his death ten days later. In 1913 he was united in marriage with Juanita Shields, at Knoxville. To this union two children were born, a son Donald and a daughter Vione. Almost his entire life was lived in Marion County as a miner, beginning at the age of twelve. He is survived by his companion, two children, his mother, and two sisters. A. L. Miller.
