Joy in Service

We are told by the inspired writer that the reason why many are weak in the faith, tired, listless, and nerveless, is because they have not been working for others. Believing that the following will be a source of encouragement to all who read the OUTLOOK, I have asked an aged sister, whose steps are not firm any more, to tell briefly of her experience with literature during the summer:

"I have been asked to tell of my experience in the distribution of our literature this summer, not for my glory but for the glory of Him who said, 'Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.' I have done considerable fishing with our literature. One thing that has always grieved me was that as I came across some poor souls that needed help, there was no way for me to help them. I decided one day to visit a woman whom I had known years ago. Upon reaching the home I met the husband and in talking with him I found that he had a relative who was a Seventh-day Adventist preacher. He said he believed some of our doctrine. I spoke to him pretty frankly and he took it very graciously, and invited me into his home, where I met his wife and little children. I soon discovered that they were in great poverty but did not ask for help. I learned that the baby of five months had gained only one pound and a few ounces since its birth owing to their not being able to afford the brand of canned milk that agreed with him. I reported this to our Dorcas Society and two of the sisters went out to investigate. The outcome was a parcel of much-needed clothing for the family, and in response to a letter addressed to the Borden Milk Company, milk for six months was supplied gratis. Later the Dorcas Society procured free a heater for this family."

People surely understand this sort of Christianity, and after all, is this not a part of the work assigned to the church? At this season of the year wonderful opportunities are afforded Seventh-day Adventist believers to contact souls that are hungering for something better, and present to them literature which has been carefully selected for Christmas presents. Is it not true that millions of dollars will be spent for Christmas gifts this year, and that many people will buy our character-building books if given an opportunity? A liberal commission is allowed those placing these gift suggestions in the homes of their friends and neighbors. Write your Book and Bible House at once, and they will send you full information.

How is Your Speech?

Do you enjoy speaking both privately and publicly? And when you speak, do your family and friends seem to enjoy listening to you? Do you get so much interested in what you are saying and in communicating your ideas to your listeners that you forget entirely about yourself? Can you make yourself heard in a large room without straining your voice? Do you speak distinctly enough to be understood the first time? Do you speak so easily and naturally that those listening think only about what you are saying and never notice what you are doing with your head, hands, and feet? Do you have something to say whenever you speak?

If you can answer "yes" to all these questions, your tools are sharp, and you can spend time and strength on the larger purpose of your life. But if you have to say "no" to any or all of these questions, it is time for you to start on a program of self-improvement. You are the only one who can handle the job successfully. Others can help, but you have to be the main working force.

If it worries you to speak in public no matter how small the crowd, if you have difficulty getting and holding attention while you are speaking, if people complain of not being able to hear you, if your throat gets tired when you talk or read aloud, if the sound of your voice annoys you, if you have a hard time finding anything to talk about, if you stumble and stutter in primary-grade fashion when you attempt to read so much as a verse of scripture in public, or if you feel the need of shaping and polishing the talent for speaking which you possess, you will find the classes in speech at Union College designed to give you a working pattern for your self-improvement program.

The class in Public Speaking will give you a chance to develop self-confidence and poise on the platform; it will help you feel comfortable when you are talking to people; it will give you some idea of how to plan and organize what you have to say. The class in Interpretative Speech will help you to make your reading aloud more enjoyable to you, and certainly more enjoyable and understandable to others. If you are interested in making your voice something easy to listen to, and if you wish to develop a pronunciation that will annoy neither you nor anyone else, the class in Voice and Diction will start you on the path toward increasing your personal effectiveness. And if you are eager to discover how to make people believe what you believe and do as you wish them to do, the class in Persuasive Speaking will offer you further guidance.

Perhaps someone has told you that you speak with a brogue or that your voice is "breathy" or "raspy", or that you speak in an artificial manner which makes you sound insincere, or that you have any one of a number of rather disturbing habits of speech. Perhaps you have always wondered what your voice sounds like and whether you have a voice that is easy to listen to. You no longer have to wonder or trust anyone else's judgment. In the speech recording studio at Union College it is possible to record your voice and listen to yourself speaking back to you. After you do that, you'll know as well as anyone else what you want to do with your speech, and the speech classes and special instruction will start you on your way.

Improving your speech increases your personal worth and makes you more valuable to your particular mission in life and to the world in which you live.

dents came by to be introduced to them. It was certainly a pleasure to look into the faces of many of the old students and, also to note that many fine young people are attending the school this year for the first time.

The late rains have caused the farm to look very green and productive. The crops this year have been excellent, and we believe that the yield will be a good gain to the school. The campus, also looks very green and pretty. We feel that we are going to have another very profitable school year, and trust that the spirit of God may, indeed, lead in all that is done there. V. E. Peugh.

Organization of Church at Sunnybrook

The Sunnybrook company will be organized into a church on Sabbath, September 24. The meeting will be held at the Sanford school house, eight miles east and two miles south of Hinekley. Those going through Hinekley should go east on Dewey Avenue until they have gone one-half mile beyond the Kettle River bridge, then, turn south and follow the road to the school house. The Sabbath school will begin at 10:30 a. m. and the organization service will follow.

Harvest Ingathering Gains

The Harvest Ingathering is making gains on all fronts. The Honor Roll of churches is growing rapidly, and it has now reached thirty-one. The new churches that we welcome this week to the list of those that have made their goal are: Detroit Lakes, Duluth English, Moose Lake, Glenwood, Owatonna, Wells, Hinekley, and Sunnybrook. How happy we were to have such a fine list of new churches.

Elder Edwardson's district is already over its super goal and still

Baptism at Mora Sunnybrook

Elder Edwardson has reported that he baptized four persons at Mora on Sabbath, August 27. Eight candidates were baptized at Sunnybrook on Sabbath, September 10. We are very happy indeed, to learn of these new members who have taken their stand for the truth of God, and we pray that God's richest blessing may continue to rest upon them.

Maplewood Academy

The writer and Mrs. Peugh had the opportunity of spending the last week-end at Maplewood. We found about one hundred thirty students enrolled with others still coming in. Several came in on Sunday. We believe that when the list is finally made up, we shall have just about the same number as last year.

I was much pleased, indeed, with the excellent faculty that we have this year. Our new teachers seem to be taking hold of the work enthusiastically, and Professor Heim told me that he feels very well satisfied with the work each one is doing.

On Saturday evening the usual handshake service took place at the school. The faculty members were lined up in the hall, and all the stu-

INGATHERING CAMPAIGN

CHURCHES and COMPANIES

"We are laborers together with God!"

Churches having reached their super-goal:

Anoka, Mankato, Willmar, Sherburn, Chisholm, Richville, Winona, Owatonna, Hinckley, and Sunnybrook.

Churches having reached their goal:

Spring Valley, Brainerd, Aitkin, Palisade, Wahkon, Mahtowa, Swatara, Morgan, Fairmont, Drywood, Eagle Bend, Blackduck, Mpls. Nor-Dan., Beacon Light, Tamarack, Detroit Lakes, Glenwood, Duluth-English, Moose Lake, Bath and Wells.

Forest Lake hasn't reported. Elder Hutches lacks only two churches of having a perfect score, and Elder Smith follows only three short. All of our district men are busy helping their churches to make their goals at an early date. The total returns (Sept. 10) that were reported to the conference was $8353.79, which is more than half of our goal. With everyone working, we should finish on time.

The rapidly moving world events, with nations ready for the signal to spring at each others throats, again warn us that time is short. It is now time to awaken out of sleep. I am afraid, that those who do not take an active part in the Harvest Ingathering campaign this year to speed money into God's work, will be very sorry a little later on, when they see the work closing up and see what they might have done, but did not do.

Word has just come to us from Elder Olson in Europe, that already the work in Rumania is threatened with destruction; that fifty of our churches are already closed, and many of our members are in prison. Let us pray God that the angels may hold the winds of strife a little longer, until we have done all that we can. Do not fail to send in your full minute man goal to help meet this crisis.

J. C. Christenson.

Owatonna—Faribault

Sabbath, September 3, was truly a blessed day for these two churches. It is always a privilege to visit the believers here, both in public worship and in their homes. This day we had a "new preacher" at Owatonna. Brother Jessie Dittberner and his good wife, formerly Dorothy Fox, came over from Mankato. It had been arranged for him to bring to us the message for the day. God surely used him as he simply and clearly brought words of cheer, counsel and warning from the Book. The illustrations used appealed to all. God has a place for these consecrated young people in His great purpose. They plan to attend Union College this year.

Another thing at Owatonna was encouraging. These dear people reached their full Harvest Ingathering goal and the super goal was assured. It is marvelous what God can do when His children yield to His way in service.

The service in Faribault was very largely attended. Nearly all the believers from Owatonna came over. In this place are many young people, and children. They are well cared for by the church, both in the home the church school and in their public services. After the good Sabbath school the fifteen-minute missionary period was observed. During this time returns from Harvest Ingathering was received. The balance not yet raised was quickly subscribed by individual goals, and it was surely encouraging to see so large a percentage of the church take magazines and plan for a finished work on Sabbath, September 24. We have no fears about Faribault.

After a short talk on the meaning of baptism, the members went out to a lovely lake, about four miles from the church, where several candidates were baptized. The day was ideal, the location all one could wish, and God met with us in a signal way. After the baptismal service all returned to the waters edge under the lovely trees, where we sang a hymn, and after a few words by the writer, Brother R. F. Wolcott, elder of the church, with well chosen words extended the hand of welcome to those baptized.

This fruitage of the church is the result of home training, Sabbath school and church school instruction. It was inspiring to see Sisters Searle and Roush, former teachers of the church school, and Miss Martin, who teaches there this year. They were present, and rightly so, to see the results of their labor. All rejoiced together in the fruitage of the gospel. May God richly bless these dear believers.

J. W. Christian.

Have You . . . ?

Have you heard Elder Bietz over WTCN?

Have you invited your neighbors to listen?

Have you heard any favorable comments on the message given?

Have you made a monthly pledge toward the support of these programs?

Have you kept up the payments on this pledge?

Have you made up your mind to help support this radio program even though you may not have made a pledge?

Have you a desire to see these programs continued?

Our contract will soon expire, and we are anxious to know whether our people throughout the conference want us to renew it or not. Your financial response to this appeal will help us to determine whether it will be possible to renew the contact when it expires. Isolated members should send their donations direct to the conference office, while members of the churches should turn theirs in to the church treasurers, marked "Radio Fund".

Asks for Baptism

"I enjoy my Bible and the books and other literature you send me—I have many friends, but since I know the truth about these things, their ideas of religion are so weak. I've tried to explain what I know. Some would admit that the Sabbath came on Saturday and others would only laugh or say nothing. I hope I've done right, as I like to stand up for Jesus—My daughter and I want to be baptized very much." (Signed) J. J. D. Sanborn, Iowa.

This radio-interested lady has not had a visit with one of our ministers, but she is already telling about the message. She has even been sending us tithes and offerings.

All Over by October

"All over by October"—and why not? All of us at it can make it a reality—and why not? We should be busy about less important matters, but let us aggressively press the battle of truth to victory. Every church member should be a soldier in the Lord's army, and every one is now called to the Harvest Ingathering Colors. The order is to mobilize and advance. Time speeds. Keep the good reports coming. Let's be "all over by October!"

The workers in North Dakota are plowing ahead regardless of the signs that are put in many business places, "No solicitors allowed." It is hard in many places but if we pray while talking to these men, God changes their hearts.

Now, brethren, there is no time to lose. If you have not started as yet do it now. Soon the cold weather

Missionary Volunteer Rallies

For the benefit of the nearby churches we are giving this little program. We are planning to hold M. V. rallies at the following places:
Goodrich, September 24
Fargo, October 8
New Home, October 22

The purpose of these rallies is to study ways and means by which we may carry on missionary work during the winter months.

The Indian Work

Many of our people have asked me as to how the complaints against Brother Marley have affected his standing.

An inspector from the Indian department had been delegated to investigate the case. This inspector interviewed eighteen individuals and all but one gave testimony to the effect that Brother Marley is not proselyting.

Brother Marley also wrote a report, addressing it to the Superintendent of the Reservation; and the superintendent who had been appointed by the department to make investigation, in his own report to the department came forth strongly in defense of Brother Marley.

We believe that the prayers of our people have been heard and that no unpleasant results will follow this attempt of the enemy to hinder the cause of God.
J. H. Roth

Indian Camp Meeting

As had been previously arranged, a gathering of our Indian and white believers on the Cheyenne River Reservation held a weekend gathering at La Plant, September 2 to 4. A goodly number attended and the services were enjoyed by all. Elder Halswick of the Bureau of Home Missions of the General Conference, gave us timely and stirring instructions. Our Indian brethren drank in the truths presented and left for their homes very much refreshed to continue the battle for good.

On Sabbath, September 3, three Indian believers were baptized in the beautiful lake near La Plant. Brother John Gates and his wife were two of these candidates. Brother Gates related how thirty years ago the writer had met him while canvassing with "Great Controversy". Seeds of truth were sown in his heart from time to time, and now he has decided to cast his lot with God's people.

Church School Notes

Our Redfield school opened September 6, with Miss Lela Thompson resuming her work as teacher. She has been for the past summer in attendance at Union College. We are pleased to learn that two of our Indian children are attending our Redfield church school.

Mr. Robert Wagner is teaching at Sioux Falls. He opened his school a few days ago in the little schoolhouse back of the church. The members had redecorated the interior and we are sure it will be a cheery place for our Sioux Falls boys and girls during the school year.

At Aberdeen, Mrs. E. M. Hagele is temporarily employed as teacher. Twelve cheerful faces greeted her on the first morning of school. The room was newly redecorated and, under the enthusiastic leadership of Elder Lauda, funds were in hand for the first month of school before the opening day.

Other families throughout the state are appealing for church schools. It may be that we shall yet establish one or two home schools. Let us save, pray, and labor that more schools may be established for the saving of our children.

J. H. Rhoads

"Present Outlook Dark"

Yesterday I canvassed a man who has been until recently president of the Farmer's Union Association, and is now state director. I asked his opinion as to the future. He replied, "The present financial system of our country is ready to collapse at any time; I cannot see but that war will follow that. The present outlook to me is dark."

I was happy to be able to bear witness to this man of wide experience, that the darker the outlook, the brighter the uplook, for when we look up we see the gleams of the golden morning soon to dawn. It made me thankful too that I am in a work where not only the uplook it bright but the outlook also. I am very confident that God will yet accomplish greater things in the future through the literature ministry.

Just this week by the grace of God I received an order for BIBLE READINGS from a man who can hardly see well enough to walk about his yard. He will need a relative to read it to him. It reminded me of an experience I had last spring. I took an order for a BIG SIX from a lady who then could not see to read, but when I returned with the books she said that her sight had improved so that she could see to read them herself. God is doing marvelous things to give this message through his agency of colporteur evangelism.

News Items

Elders Oswald, Roth, and Hanhardt helped the Swan Lake church in the Harvest Ingathering last week. They report that in some places the offerings were smaller, and in others larger than last year. On the whole, the work was very satisfactory.

Elders Lauda and Roth, also Robert Brown, spent a most pleasant and profitable Sabbath with the group of believers from Hecla and Britton, in the Hecla church on September 10. Our people there, though small in number, are of good courage and are anxious to do their Harvest Ingathering work quickly.

The Aberdeen church is still busy at the Harvest Ingathering, and they assure us that their goal will be reached.

Elder J. H. Rhoads is leading the forces in the Watertown church in the Ingathering campaign.

Elder Hanhardt and E. T. Gaekeneimer will work with the Ash Grove, Madison, and Colman churches the latter half of this week.

A sister who for some months had not been faithful in her stewardship, writes that she has deprived the cause of title which belongs to it, and that she is now endeavoring to make arrangements for the payment of her back tithe. Somehow, the Christian's conscience does not let him rest at ease until he has squared up with God.

Someone lost a clarinet at our Huron camp meeting in June. If anyone has knowledge of the owner will he kindly report to the office here at Watertown?

Changed Attitudes

A Tender Heart Under a Rough Exterior.—Several years ago I visited the mayor of the small city where I resided, presenting to him the needs of the Ingathering work. But the man was very gruff and abrupt. He told me he did not believe in missions, neither did he believe in the Bible; and seemed proud to identify himself as an infidel. In an argumentative way, he put the question to me, "How can you prove the the Bible is true?" I replied by asking him if he had a Bible. Somewhat to my surprise, he turned over a Bible to me. With a prayer to God for guidance, I turned and read several texts of Scripture, and cited personal experience of faith and assurance in God's Word. When I had finished speaking, the mayor seemed to be in a somewhat different mood, and he said, "Well, I guess you are right. I will give you fifty cents." From that time I did not have opportunity to call on him for many months, but Present Truth was sent to him regularly, and when the opportunity came to have another talk with him, I found he had been thinking seriously, and his heart really seemed to be longing for something which he did not have. I shall never forget the earnest look on his face as he said to me, with sincere confidence, "I wish you would tell me how it is possible to have Jesus in the heart." This man had been a general in the army, but he was ignorant of the simple story of the gospel of Jesus Christ. It was a great pleasure to explain the love of God and how we may open the door of our heart and let Jesus come in and abide with us. This year, when I visited him in the interests of Harvest Ingathering, he gave me $5, and it was very evident that a change was taking place in his life.

Soft Answer Turns Away Wrath.—One year I visited a home where the housewife was very rude to me, and angrily slammed the door in my face. I was surprised to receive such a reception at such a home and from a person who had the appearance of a lady. As the door slammed, I stood on the porch for a moment, and silently asked the Lord what I ought to do. Then a voice seemed to whisper in my ear, "Say, Thank You." So, in a pleasant tone of voice I said "Thank You" loud enough so that I could be heard by the person inside the door. The next year, while soliciting in the same territory, I came in contact with the woman again. But this time her attitude had changed. As soon as she saw me she said, "You are the lady I was so rude to last year, when I slammed the door in your face. But you manifested true Christianity by saying 'Thank You' when I was not only rude but lacking ordinary courtesy. That 'Thank You' of yours has been ringing in my ears ever since, and I want to apologize to you. I certainly am glad to give you an offering this year."

"What Have You to Give me?"

"Friend, for the last five years I have given you $10 a year for your Harvest Ingathering campaign. What do you have to give me this morning?" The words came from a business man who had just handed a ten-dollar check to a student in one of our colleges. The young man was taken somewhat by surprise. "Is the man in earnest?" he asked himself. "Is he really seeking spiritual help?" In a moment he had decided in the affirmative, and with a silent prayer for divine help, he seated himself, and began in a quiet way to tell this business man how much Christ meant to him in a personal way, and how thankful he was to share with others the good news of joyous fellowship with the Master. The man listened attentively, and soon began to ask questions. The interview lasted nearly an hour. It closed with prayer. When the student took his departure, the business man grasped his hand warmly, and thanked him for the message of hope and trust he had borne. "You have indeed helped me, my young friend, he said, "Come again soon. And may God bless you and your school."

Marijuana Drives Young People Mad

Seventh-day Adventist youth, as well as all others, need protection against the murderous weed marijuana. Every one of them should have the information, warning and counsel, given by Dr. Arthur LaRoe in an article appearing in HEALTH for October. He is the President of the American Narcotic Defense Association.

Under the title "Marijuana, the Weed of Crime and Madness," he tells how this plant grows, how by the tons it is being prepared for smoking, how it is peddled among children and youth, and the terrible and tragic results when they become victims to it. "In this country alone there are hundreds of thousands of marijuana addicts," says Doctor LaRoe. "Tomorrow it may be your child who will unwittingly enter the ranks. Beyond cautioning anyone against marijuana there is little that can be done."

Send 15 cents to your Book and Bible House for this October Health. Or, send 75 cents for ten copies and put this story into nine other homes besides your own.

Obituaries

Nordling.—George O. Nordling was born December 31, 1886, in Dalerne, Sweden, and died of heart failure at his home in Minneapolis, Minnesota, July 26, 1938. He had been a resident of Minneapolis since 1906, with the exception of the time immediately following his marriage to Miss Kjerstine Hemmingson in 1912, when they lived in Chicago for a few years. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Arlene, and two sons, Robert and George Junior. He also leaves three brothers, one sister, and a large number of friends. At the time of his death he was filling the office of local church elder in the Swedish church, of which he and his dear companion have been faithful members since 1931. Brother Nordling was an earnest Christian, a kind husband and father. Why he should so suddenly be called to lay down his life we cannot now understand, but we know our heavenly Father doeth all things well and He knoweth what is for the best of all. Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Nordling and her dear children. She was unable to attend the funeral on account of serious illness, but God has given her strength and comfort in her great sorrow. We are assured that He will give her strength for the future and soon the glad day will come when His people shall be delivered from this sinful earth, when all sorrow will be in the past. The writer and Elder August Anderson conducted the services from the Norwegian-Danish church, and our brother was laid to rest at the Lakewood Cemetery. N. R. Nelson

Thompson.—Mrs. Gerda Strand Thompson was born in Sweden, February 3, 1873, and died August 3, 1938 in Minneapolis, Minnesota. She came to the United States at the age of twelve. Six years later, she was united in marriage to Andrew K. Thompson. Mrs. Thompson was the mother of five children: three daughters, Mrs. H. B. Peterson, Mrs. G. H. Fuzzey, and Mrs. I. W. Fuzzey, of Minneapolis; and two sons, Hugo, of Minneapolis, and Herbert, of San Francisco, who, with her husband, ten grandchildren, two brothers, and four sisters, are left to mourn a devoted wife, a beloved mother, grandmother, and a true sister. Mrs. Thompson, who was a wife of the local elder of the Swedish church of Minneapolis, embraced the truth in 1925, and joined our church, where she remained a faithful and highly esteemed member until she passed away. She will be missed by the entire church. Our sister is laid to rest until the call of the Lifegiver. We sorrow, but not as they who have no hope.

Aug. Anderson
