Help Wanted

Previous experience not necessary. Look the want ads over where you will to see if they are calling for the inexperienced. If there are opportunities for employment, preference is generally given to those of experience, but here is an opportunity for all who can get about from home to home to earn from $.50 to $1.50 an hour. Many have earned that much and more while introducing a most attractive and carefully-selected assortment of low-priced books suitable for Christmas gifts. We are living in serious times, and the books you will be selling contain a message which may determine the destiny of souls. If you have some spare time between now and Christmas, we can show you how to turn this time into money and possibly see many souls saved in the kingdom. Do not delay, but write your Book and Bible House secretary today for full information regarding territory.

Another Colporteur Experience

As music entered into the work of the reformers of old, so it plays its important part in the work of modern reformers, our colporteurs. The following experience from Trinidad, British West Indies, is illuminating:

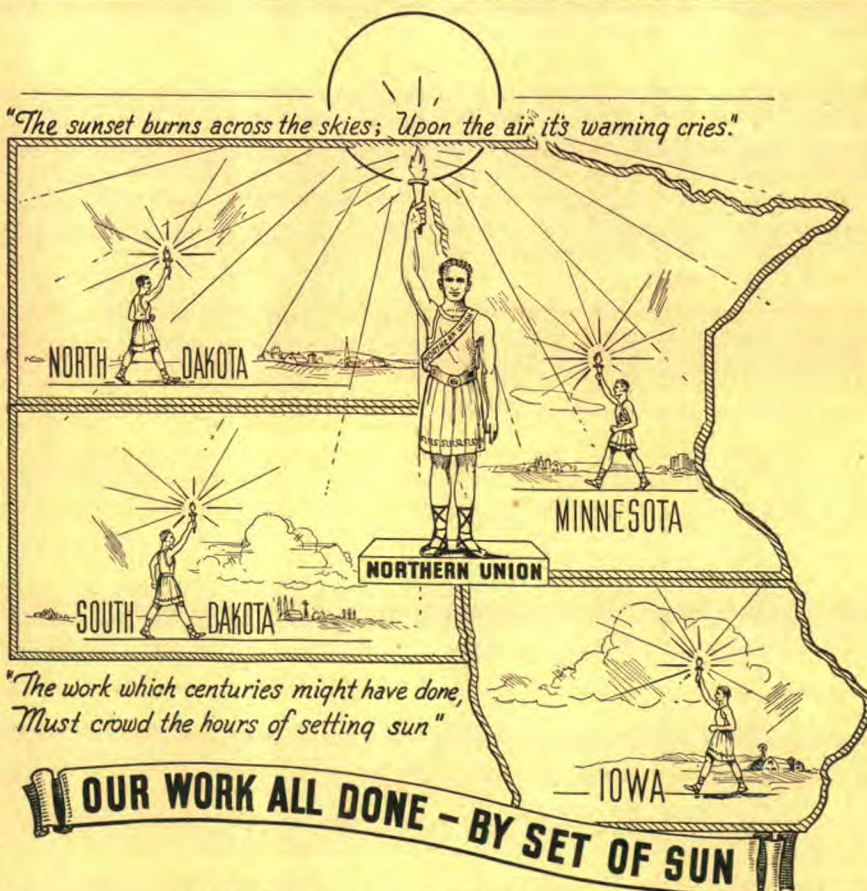

"As I approached a house to deliver a Home Physician to a man who had given me an order, I heard a woman from within the house exclaim three times in succession, 'My husband doesn't want your book!' I met the man and he arranged to have the book delivered at a future date. While we were making the arrangements, the woman sent in her grandson with instructions for the husband not to take the book. I left with the understanding that I should deliver the book at a specified date.

"At the appointed time, I called again and found both the man and the woman at home. While I managed to enter the house, I was given a cool reception. I started to pray silently, and while I was praying, she started to hum a song. I said, 'Evidently you are a singer. Do you mind if I join you in singing that song?' She did not reply but continued her singing.

"After she had finished, I started to sing, 'Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me'. She looked at me with amazement, but I continued singing. After I had finished she queried, 'To what religion do you belong?' I said, 'The religion of love,' and started to sing, 'It is Well With My Soul'. Both the husband and wife joined me in singing that song. By this time, the woman had become very much interested, and she continued, 'To what church do you belong?' I replied by singing, 'I Must Have the Saviour With Me.' She became still more interested, and turning to her husband, she asked him what agreement he had made about the book. He replied, 'I told him to call at a future date for the money.' She said to him, 'Don't allow this gentleman to make another trip with this book, unless you have the money with which to pay for it. You must con-

Minnesota's Goal

By the time you receive this Outlook, Minnesota will have reached its goal and will be on the way toward its super goal. The work is winding up rapidly and gloriously. Sixty-eight churches have reached their goal or super goal to date, and others are hastening on toward the mark. Only a few churches have not made their goal, and most of them are very near this attainment.

We welcome several new churches to the Honor Roll this week. They are: Middle River, Roseau, Blackberry, Dagett Brook, Austin, Maple Plain, Minneapolis First English and Minneapolis North. To the Super Honor Roll we welcome Duluth Scandinavian and St. Cloud.

Let us put forth our best efforts in every part of the field to reach our conference super goal, so that we can send a telegram to the Fall Council to that effect. Let every church strive to be on the super Honor Roll. I want to appeal to the conference church members to send in their Harvest Ingathering. Help us to have our full super goal in hand to send in by the end of this month.

What I Saw

We have greatly enjoyed meeting with the Minneapolis First English church the past two week-ends. Here is a group of loyal, devoted believers in the advent message, working hard to keep a well balanced program going for the interest of the cause in the homeland and in our world-wide mission work. We were impressed with their efforts for their children, carrying a ten-grade school with three teachers, and an enrollment of about sixty-five pupils. The teachers and children seemed happy and contented, and God is blessing their united efforts. Friday evenings we attended the M. V. meetings. This section of the church activity is surely well organized and the attendance and interest bear witness to the good work done by the leaders. One is impressed that these youth are Godly, earnest young people. Their subject matter, in study, was well arranged and given with clear, appealing effect. What a force is pent up in the children and youth of the advent band!

The Sabbath service was very largely attended. It seemed that every seat was taken and others were searching for a place. It is Harvest Ingathering time here as elsewhere. With no regular pastor for more than four months one was deeply impressed with the power of the Word to hold believers together under the leadership of strong local leaders in the various departments of church activity. By committee action Elders Peugh, the conference president, and Christenson, the conference home missionary secretary, were asked to join in the responsibility of assisting the church through the Harvest Ingathering. With his many field duties Elder Peugh has found it hard to do much but give his moral support. Elder Christenson has been a real general in this field task. The church was organized into twenty bands with a leader over each. Mrs. Christenson was captain of the singing bands. This department alone has raised more than eight hundred dollars. At our last Sabbath morning service Elder Christenson called for reports from the bands and one could not but be deeply stirred by the response. They came forward in groups and placed their gifts on the table while the congregation sang, "They Brought Their Gifts to Jesus". One can never forget that blessed sight.

With a goal of $2500, and a super goal of $2800, it was inspiring to see the mercury in the goal device move upward past the $500, $1000, $1500, and the $2000 mark to nearly $2400. The church has set October 15 as their Victory Day. Of course, they will reach their goal, and I would not be surprised to see them click in at $3000—which would be far ahead of anything in recent years. This, then, is the CHURCH AT WORK. While memory lingers we shall never forget what we saw in the Minneapolis church in the Harvest Ingathering.

Wedding

Miss Marjorie McPhail and Mr. Harlan Burr of Aitkin, Minnesota, were united in marriage at the home of Elder and Mrs. C. H. Lauda on Friday afternoon, October 7. They were attended by Miss Mildred Jacobsen and Mr. Vernon Burr.

May God bless this Christian couple, as they establish their new home, is the wish of their many friends and relatives.

Harvest Ingathering on the Wings of the Wind

As the writer and his wife had the privilege of attending the Theological Seminary at Washington, D. C. during the summer term, the Harvest Ingathering work was not started in district No. 1 until September 6. On the basis of previous experience this year's campaign was most carefully planned, so whether rain or shine, the territory would be worked without the loss of a day until the goal could be reached. This, of course, could only be accomplished by the unflinching and wholehearted cooperation of our faithful church members. It was decided to put the district over the top in one month.

The writer worked towns and cities and upon finishing the territory of one church, he would at night drive to another territory. Sometimes roaring forest and peat fires on both sides of the road, endangering the contents of the gas tank, would fill the air with smoke so dense that the only thing that could be seen in the glare of the headlights, by keeping the head out of the open window, was a few feet of the painted stripe in the center of the road. After a few hours of sound sleep the work in the new territory would begin. Faithful brethren and sisters favorably known in the community, were always on hand to accompany the writer in visiting the business and professional men of each city, and thus the work proceeded very rapidly. On Sundays the writer went into the country to solicit, and he is happy to report that some Sundays thus spent yielded a greater amount than a week-day's work in the business section of a city. The leaders and members of the various churches caught the spirit, and several days before our own fixed time limit had been reached, the district had gone over the top. May these gifts, with the blessing of God resting upon them, be the means of bringing many souls from the ends of the earth into the kingdom of Christ.

St. Paul Church Dedication and Home Coming

Final arrangements have been completed for the "Home Coming" and dedicatory services to be held October 28 and 29 in the St. Paul church, located at Ashland and Mackubin.

Plans are being laid to make this an outstanding occasion for the St.

Paul church. The first meeting will convene Friday night at 7:30 with Elder E. H. Oswald, President of the Northern Union Conference, as the speaker. Sabbath school begins at 9:45 A. M. and the dedicatory service will follow. The dedicatory sermon will be rendered by Elder M. N. Campbell, Vice-President of the North American Division, and Elder E. H. Oswald will offer the prayer. Elder V. E. Peugh, President of the Minnesota Conference, and others will also have part in the service.

In the afternoon a special "Home Coming" service will be in charge of the pastor. Various speakers will give short speeches. Those from out of the city and former members of the church will have opportunity to express themselves at this service. This will be an interesting meeting that no one will want to miss. It will begin at 3:15 P. M.

We are making this final announcement so that those who are near-by can plan to meet with us on this occasion. Bring your lunches and stay for the whole day.

Those of you who cannot come for this occasion are invited to send a word of greeting to the church which will be read at the "Home Coming" service. Write to the pastor, C. S. Wiest, 420 Marshall Ave., St. Paul. We invite you all.

Goal Conscious

Iowa is goal conscious. We believe in attaining objectives. We don't believe in shooting into the air. Ours is not a hit-and-miss program. We believe that goals should represent specific needs. They should not be set in order to make a record. Much prayerful, earnest study should be given before setting goals. The Lord does not require impossibilities. Iowa praises God that His blessing enabled the churches to reach the Signs of the Times goal. This goal, when set by the union, seemed a little high, but Iowa went "over the top". God is greatly blessing Iowa in the Harvest Ingathering campaign. We expect that by the time these lines are read, the conference will have reached its base goal. We must not relax our efforts or spend time now in rejoicing, but, cheered by this success, we must press forward with renewed determination toward the conference super goal.

I believe there is another goal that I must mention. Last spring we launched the Institutional Relief campaign. Iowa's great need prompted the committee and workers to set the $6,000 goal. This is vital. Financial difficulties bring discouragement, but when the conference is rolling back the reproach of indebtedness, the effect is electric. New life and vigor stimulate and encourage all.

One-third of the Institutional Relief goal has already been paid. Another third has been pledged and is to be fully paid before the end of the year. (Much of this is due.) A beginning has been made on the last third. Iowa must, during the months of November and December, address itself to the task in hand. Let no one assume a defeatist attitude. Say, "It can be done," and by God's help and with His blessings, combined with the liberality of His people, it can be done!

Bulletins will be sent to the churches, showing their standing, soon after the first of the month. Now is the time to pay pledges and to plan that your church may be among the leaders.

DeWitt S. Osgood.

Oak Park Academy

At the invitation of the Oak Park Academy faculty, I spent the first week in October with them in their usual fall Week of Prayer. It was a pleasure indeed to again meet with the young people of Iowa in this capacity, and to join the Oak Park faculty in this precious season. Two meetings were held each day, besides many private counsels throughout the day. The faculty joined heartily in this work, and the Lord rewarded our united effort with a very fine revival. At this time every person who had not previously been baptized, took his stand and joined the baptismal class. The total, I believe, in this class is nineteen. All the students seemed to sense the times in which we live and made a very definite consecration of their lives to God. The Week of Prayer ended with a separate meeting at the academy for the students, and the ordinances were observed, at which time practically every student took part and was richly blessed.

Elder DeWitt S. Osgood, our conference president, left Nevada, Thursday, October 13, for Battle Creek, to attend the Autumn Council. We solicit the prayers of God's people in behalf of this important meeting.

Sabbath, October 8, was a high day at Ruthven. Brethren Osgood and Woesner met with the brethren there on that day. Elder Osgood spoke at the morning service, and the message presented from God's word seemed to reach every heart. In the afternoon there was a baptismal service, four precious souls being buried with their Lord in baptism by Elder J. A. Nordstrom and received into the fellowship of the church. Another thing that brought rejoicing was the fact that the church had just exceeded the super goal in the Harvest Ingathering campaign. At the close of the Sabbath, the church met in the capacity of a business meeting and laid plans for a much-needed church school building.

H. J. Perkins, who has served the Iowa Sanitarium for the past two years in the capacity of business manager, having responded to an urgent call to connect with the South Dakota Conference as secretary-treasurer, left Nevada recently to take over his new responsibilities. Brother Perkins's smiling face and congenial nature will be missed by his many friends in Iowa.

On Sabbath, October 29, an offering will be taken in all our churches throughout Iowa, and the returns will be used to apply on the cost of sending out the Northern Union Outlook to the constituency of this conference. More will be said next week regarding this special offering, which we hope will be a liberal one.

E. T. Gackenhaimer has recently joined the field forces of the Iowa Conference. Brother Gackenhaimer, who has labored in South Dakota during recent months, is now located at Rockwell City and will assume the leadership of district No. 2. According to plans under way, he will conduct an evangelistic effort at Rockwell City this fall.

As is quite generally known, district No. 4 has been without a regular leader ever since Elder Howe was called into departmental work, about mid-year. We are glad to be able to announce that Brother and Sister Glenn Fillman are located at Davenport, and Brother Fillman will be in charge of that district.

Elder W. A. Howe, with Elder W. R. Arehbold, led out in an all-day Missionary Volunteer rally in district No. 1 at Ute, Iowa, Sabbath, October 8. Delegates from Sioux City, Onawa, Castana, and Smithland were present. The M. V. leader at Ute, Mrs. Downey, had arranged parts for the program from each church. Various young people's problems were the topics discussed. In the evening after the Sabbath, a social gathering was held in the local Odd Fellows' hall.

Are There Exceptions in Tithing?

According to information which comes to us, it would seem that there are those among us who do not pay tithe on certain money they receive. Some there are, it seems, who are of the opinion that they are under no obligation to pay tithe on money which they do not directly earn but receive as grants.

In a letter just received from a brother, I read that there are even some "who do not pay tithe on cream, milk and farm products." I feel sure that this is not general, and that it is true in exceptional cases only; but even so, we have a solemn responsibility resting upon us toward every believer, to faithfully instruct him in discharging his sacred obligation before God.

Tithing is a sacred principle and the Scriptures teach explicitly that we should "bring all the tithes into the storehouse that there may be meat in mine house." Malachi 3:10. Unfaithfulness will surely rob us of heaven's blessing. Everything we receive, from whatever source it may be, we receive from God whom we should recognize as the great and bountiful Giver of every gift, and in returning one-tenth we recognize Him as the Divine Giver.

Every penny that comes into our hands is partly His. He has reserved one-tenth of it. It is holy. It belongs to God for a special purpose. We should heed God's admonition to His people to bring all the tithe into His storehouse. That means that we will not withhold any part of it, from what ever source we may receive it, for in the last analysis God is the Giver and in tithing we recognize him as the owner.

It pains the heart of any true believer to hear of unfaithfulness in tithing and laxness in the matter of proper Sabbath observance. God's remnant people will be tested on every point. Let us be faithful in all things. God's rich blessing will rest upon those who are faithful. Tithing is an act of obedience on the part of God's children. It is an act of faith on the part of those who are faithful toward God.

Harvest Ingathering

Brother C. Lang came into the office for a few minutes with his face beaming. He said, "I have never enjoyed the Harvest Ingathering" as much as I did this fall." The Cleveland church, of which he is elder, he said, has gone over its super goal.

One day after supper he visited several families and received $2.75 from people who had never given before. He told of one family where they had but one chair in the house and that chair was broken. It had no back but the people gave him $1.00. They said they felt that they should really give him $2.00 instead of $1.00. The following Sabbath after they had given the dollar, the mother came to the Sabbath services with three children.

This Harvest Ingathering work brings us in contact with people who can be interested in the truth, and often results in leading people right into the message.

Brother Lang worked one whole township, going from home to home, and received $12.00. He had some most wonderful visits with the people. He also spoke of Brother Graff and Brother Harr who spent three days out in the country doing Ingathering work. He stated that they had received in the neighborhood of $16.00.

We want to thank God for the faithfulness of our believers in the Ingathering work.

In Golden Valley, evening after the Sabbath, we went out with the singing band. Elder and Mrs. I. C. Schmidt led in the singing. The young people from the Golden Valley church joined enthusiastically in the singing. Two little girls helped Mrs. Wall and the writer in soliciting funds. Each of the little girls carried a bowl in which gifts were received. Golden Valley is only a small place but in just a little while we had received $4.52. The young people and children greatly enjoyed this experience.

Ingathering Results

The most encouraging part of the Ingathering campaign so far this year is that we found some who are interested in the third angel's message, souls whom we might never have reached except in systematic calling from place to place.

The first such experience came to us a few days ago in Fingal. I was with Brother Herman Kurtz and we stepped into the telephone office where a change has recently been made in operators. Brother Kurtz did not know the new people, and we were wondering a bit if they would contribute as the former operator had done. But our uncertainty about the matter soon changed when the lady told us she was acquainted with our work; and then she invited us to sit down for a visit. Imagine our joy as she told us that both she and her husband were baptized members of the Seventh-day Adventist church, having recently come to North Dakota from King City, California. Our joy was overshadowed only by the fact that they are not at present faithful to the truth. But because she seemed so glad to meet us and so eager to have us come again, we believe that by God's grace we can help them find their way back again.

Likewise at Ederlin, where some of our Kathryn sisters work the residences while the business district is being solicited, Sister Kurtz came to a home where the lady was acquainted with the truth. Happiness was mutual between them when this woman learned that Sister Kurtz was an Adventist and when she asked if there were any Adventists in Ederlin. In her youth she had attended our church in the western part of the state. Now, having married out of the truth, she has strayed farther and farther away. Sister Kurtz made further appointments with her for visits and she believes that here is an opportunity to retrieve a soul for the cause. Theo R. Torkelson

News Items

The Lord has been blessing the labors of Elders S. Demchuk and J. C. Michalenko among the Ukrainians. A number of families have begun the observance of the Sabbath. There is much opposition on the part of the Catholics. We believe that there are many more souls among the Ukrainians who will take their stand for the truth. We should remember Elder Demchuk in our prayers as he continues to work among the Ukrainians of North Dakota.

On Monday, October 3, Elder I. C. Schmidt conducted a baptismal service at Hebron. Three souls were buried with their Saviour in baptism. We believe that others will follow in Hebron. The day of baptism was a happy day for our Hebron church when they witnessed the baptismal scene, after which three souls united with the church. One of these three is a trained nurse and she exerts a good influence for the truth in the circle of her friends.

The Harvest Ingathering work has moved forward encouragingly this year. We started early and soon the conference will go over the top. It has been a real joy to see the enthusiasm and courage with which conference workers and lay members threw themselves into the Harvest Ingathering campaign. Many encouraging letters have been received at the office from workers and believers who have found real joy in this campaign. For example, Elder Schmidt writes:

"Quite a number of our members who have never assisted in the Harvest Ingathering work heretofore, have gone out this year and have greatly enjoyed it. One brother in particular, who is above seventy years of age, went with me for an entire week, walking up and down the stairways of the business section in Minot, never complaining of weariness or too fast walking. He had just started building his own home, where his time and efforts were in demand, but he joyfully left his work and first assisted in the Ingathering campaign. It is just such sacrifices that heaven greatly appreciates."

Plainview Field Day

Tuesday, October 4, was a memorable occasion in the annals of P. V. A. Sixty students beside faculty members participated in a well-organized Harvest Ingathering field day. Twenty-four towns within a fifty-mile radius were solicited. Ten cars were in the field while Elder J. H. Roth and Professor A. L. Watt worked in Redfield. The highest receipts for outlying towns came from Miller, where Mr. Welch and his student group gathered over $45.00 in cash and produce. The receipts for the day, when the count was made late in the evening, totaled $400.00. Many enthusiastic and engaging reports were made by students in the chapel service on the morning following. Further solicitation, it is planned, will bring the receipts for Redfield to $600.00. Plainview teachers and students operate and cooperate on big projects—and like it.

Sabbath school—9:45 A. M.

We invite our scattered people to the meetings. The times demand our attendance at all our services while the door of privilege and liberty is open. May we see you soon?
