Coronary Disease Is Discussed at the St. Helena Health Center

Ability to examine minutely the detail, caliber, shape, and function of heart arteries was emphasized at the St. Helena Hospital and Health Center last week.

Making a study of coronary angiography were 100 physicians

Dr. Lester G. Rose, director of Preventive Services were 100 physicians and paramedical personnel at a symposium on exercise in the prevention, evaluation, and treatment of heart disease at St. Helena's Health Center. Dr. Melvin P. Judkins, chief of the department of radiology at the Loma Linda University Medical Center, detailed the latest procedures.

The most accurate method of examining arteries of the heart, coronary angiography utilizes a percutaneous entrance of a small tube into the femoral artery in the groin, which delivers the medication to the arteries. This measured quantity of "dye" flows through the coronary arteries as rapid sequence X-ray pictures taken at the rate of 60 per second reveal in detail blocked, narrowed or injured vessels. An ordinary X-ray shows only the size and shape of the heart, Dr. Judkins explained.

Following the lecture, Dr. W. B. Zimmerly, St. Helena Hospital's radiologist, unveiled the host hospital's new $150,000 unit currently being installed in the special procedures radiology room. One of the few facilities north of San Francisco—the only one in Napa and Santa Rosa counties—the new equipment is among the first such laboratory detection units in Seventh-day Adventist hospitals.

Such information is essential for current treatment as well as prevention of cardio-vascular diseases, which account for more than half the nation's deaths annually, Dr. Zimmerly says. St. Helena Hospital and Health Center now hopes to change this picture in northern California. With this new facility to study the anatomy and function of the vessels, the physician has available the knowledge he needs for treatment and prevention.

Medical personnel from nearly a dozen states coast to coast were in attendance to hear specialists in the fields of cardiology and exercise point up the role of exercise

Literature Evangelist Training School Will Be Held in October

Twenty-eight new recruits met at the Pacific Press during the summer for training to serve as literature evangelists.

God is calling men and women from various professions and occupations to be re-trained to serve God in new ways. Occupations left by this group of new workers include: psychiatric technical nurse, custodian, fork lift operator, U.S. Navy, registered nurse, bartender, medical technologist, secondary school teacher, secretary, cook, plumber, salesman, medical assistant, construction, janitorial service, sales representative, restaurant manager, production supervisor, draftsman, dairy farmer, and lab technician.

One literature evangelist said his "faith and courage at least doubled" while attending the Training School. Another said, "I have a lot more confidence." "Tremendously helpful," is the way one literature evangelist rated Training School.

Another Training School is planned for October. Perhaps you will qualify to attend. The servant of the Lord describes qualified recruits as: 1. "Those . . . who feel the burden of service, whose object is not to get gain, but to give light to the people." 2. Those who will "come, not expecting ease, but to be brave and of good courage under rebuffs and hardships." 3. Those "who can give a good report of our publications because they themselves appreciate their value." 4. Those who have made a success of something else, "who have good address, tact, keen foresight and ability." 5. Those "who will take hold of the work understandingly and systematically, and carry it forward with perservering energy." 6. Those who "are soundly converted."

Why not plan to be at the next Training School in October? Contact your publishing secretary today for information.

20 AOA MIFF KNOM...

Two youth gatherings have been held recently. One was a gathering of young people from our Regional churches at Wawona. Reports reaching us indicate that for a large group of youth and church leaders it was a rewarding experience to fellowship together in the beautiful setting at Wawona. C. E. Bradford, one of the associate secretaries of the General Conference, was present. He writes as follows: "It was both a privilege and a pleasure for me to attend the Regional Youth Camp at Wawona. Just to be in the impressive natural surroundings is, in itself, a blessing. The association with the young people of your Union was stimulating," We are grateful that arrangements can be made for this group to meet annually for a period of fellowship and spiritual refreshment.

The other youth meeting was a weekend camp for the Spanish-speaking young people in the Pacific Union. A large number of them gathered at the Southern California camp at Cedar Falls. Present from the General Conference were Elders Lauda and Ranzolin in addition to church leaders from throughout the Pacific Union. It was my pleasure to speak to this group on Sabbath morning through an interpreter.

Early this past week, I met with the workers of the Northern California Conference at the Elmshaven church. Special attention was given to "Mission '72." N. R. Dower, of the Ministerial Association of the General Conference, was present to lead, with John Osborn, our Union ministerial secretary, also in attendance. We are grateful for the enthusisam that is building up for "Mission '72," and believe great things are in store for us. It is good to see Elder Chase back in this position of leadership in Northern California after heavy surgery. He expressed his appreciation for the thoughts and prayers that have been offered in his behalf during recent weeks.

I met with the Pacific Press Board of Directors following the meeting at Elmsbaven. That institution continues to make a substantial contribution to the total work of the church. Sales for the first eight months of 1971 showed an increase of about half a million dollars over the same period a year ago.

Recently I visited with Dr. John Ford of San Diego, Some time ago he was appointed by Governor Reagan to a position on the California State Board of Education. At the present time, Dr. Ford serves as vice president of the Board of Education. This board has now asked him to serve as chairman of the legislative committee of the board. We are grateful that a man like Dr. Ford is filling an important position such as this at Sacramento. It keeps him extremely busy, since he also carries on an active medical practice in San Diego, where he is a surgeon doing most of his work at our Paradise Valley Hospital.

MISSION INSTITUTE

and son-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. Richard A. Nelson of Corona, California, have been living in Yellowknife, Northwest Territories, where Kettner has been a staff physician at the Tarangle Associate Clinic. He has accepted the same position at the Tsuen Wan Adventist Hospital, Chai Wan Kok, Hong Kong.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Perry have accepted a call to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where he will be principal of the Wollega Adventist Academy. He has held the same position at the Redlands, California, Junior Academy for the past two years.

The six-week institute, conducted by Dr. Myrl Manley, vice president for stu-dent affairs at Andrews, covered such topics as linguistics and learning a foreign language, nutrition and how to obtain and maintain an adequate diet overseas, the development of perspectives relevant to child-rearing problems in a non-Western environment, and the role of interaction within the family as a particular means of development and maintaining a viable Christian home.

Thanks Given to All Those Who Helped with the Camp Meetings

After receiving blessings from our camp meeting season, all too often we are in-clined to forget those who spent so many hours and gave so much of their time and energy to make these spiritual convocations a real blessing.

Christ first for everyone Hegstad speaking to the motto of the camp meeting season, "Christ First," taken from, Testimonies for the Church, Vol. 5, p. 409. This was the theme of all three camp meetings which were held simul-taneously in three locations: Fortuna, Philo and Paradise.

The entire conference constituency was invited to the meeting nearest. A schedule of speakers was arranged that would rotate among the three areas so that the entire constituency would have a fine roster of speakers and each area an opportunity to hear each individual speaker. The plan worked very successfully under the di-rection of Elder James E. Chase, confer-ence president, and Elder E. A. Schmidt, secretary-treasurer of the conference, who labored untiringly with the core of dedi-cated workers in Northern California to make these meetings a blessing to all those who attended.

We would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to those who came from the General Conference, the Union Conference, and those who assisted from the local conference-departmental secretaries, Bible workers, colporteurs, and pastors who labored long and hard.

May we also again say "thank you" for all those who contributed to the success of our camp meeting season. The echoes of the spiritual blessing still ring in our ears from the beautiful music that was brought to us by the dedicated musicians, and the spiritual food that was brought by the speakers who participated.

Our Conference Committee officially voted at its September meeting that our camp meeting dates for 1972 are July

Cooking School To Be Held in Tracy Church Gymnasium

Mrs. Kathy Boyd of Salt Lake City will hold a cooking school in the gymna-sium of the Tracy Church, 21st and Court streets, September 20-23.

The school, sponsored by Elder Dean Ruddle, pastor of the Tracy Church, will begin each evening at 6:30. Registration fee will be $5.00 per person or $7.50 per married couple.

The facility size will limit the number of students to 150, Contact Elder Dean Ruddle, 1401 W. Beverly Place, Tracy, CA 95376, for further information or reservations, or arrangements can be made the night of the opening session if room is still available.

Some of the topics to be covered in the school are Good Nutrition, The Best Things in Life Are Free, Cholesterol, Weight Control, Breads and Breakfast, and Proteins.

Mrs. Boyd holds a permanent certifi-cate from the General Conference and the North Pacific Union and has held numerous schools throughout the North Pacific area. Her husband, Elder John W. Boyd, will assist in the series' lectures.

We feel sure that many will want to avail themselves of the opportunity to attend this fine instruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Whitney Work in the Paradise Church

Marvin Whitney, who received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Pacific Union College last June, along with his wife, Coralee, have been working with the Paradise Church during the summer months.

Their efforts have largely concentrated on the youth. They have held weekly discussion sessions with the young people of the church. They also had charge of nature study and recreation at the Vacation Bible School during June.

Between July 16 and August 19, they operated a Day Camp as a follow-up to the Vacation Bible School. A group of young people from the church gave help in this project. In all, 52 children were enrolled, over half from non-Adventist homes. All Adventist children who came were requested to bring a non-Adventist

The camp was conducted three mornings a week-Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. The daily program consisted of a devotional exercise in which a memory verse was studied and a character-building story related, songs, games, crafts, and swimming lessons.

As a result of this missionary endeavor, thirteen of the children signed up for the Junior Voice of Prophecy Correspondence Course, and several of the non-Adventist parents said they were going to start bringing their children to church. The Whitneys visited all the homes of non-Adventist children attending and received a very warm welcome. It is the plan to start several Branch Sabbath Schools with these interested families as a nucleus.

The Paradise Church has greatly appreciated the dedicated, self-sacrificing work of Marvin and Coralee and wish them the Lord's richest blessing as they continue their studies at Andrews University this fall.

The Book and Bible House Announces Staff Changes

For the past two years the Book and Bible House has been fortunate to have had the able services of Mrs. Edna Bourbeau. She came trained for the job, having obtained her experience from the Northern California Adventist Book Center.

Prior to her responsibilities here, she worked first in the Sabbath school-lay activities departments of the Mission, then as

Why Not a Surprise Gift?

WHY NOT A SURPRISE GIFT SEPTEM-BER 25? Day after day, in a routine of love, members of a family give to each other. This is the way love works. It gives.

But from time to time, the giving takes the direction of a surprise. A special gift from a heart anxious to say "I really do love you and I mean it," and our joy is complete in the joy of the one to whom we have given.

Week after week in our Sabbath school family, because of our love for Christ and the other members of the "family," we give. This is the way love works. We give birthday offerings, thank offerings, and mission offerings. We give to members of the family in South America, the Orient, or Africa.

We're all the same family. But from time to time, there is a surprise gift on THIRTEENTH SABBATH—a special gift of love. Sabbath, September 25, is the time for that special gift to the family members in Rwanda, Burundi, and the African Congo. Won't they be surprised? And we will be happy—because they are happy.

secretary to the Mission treasurer. We have greatly appreciated her cordial and willing assistance and the rapport with which she has dealt with our customers. Her work has been very efficient as well. Edna is married to the newly elected principal of the Hawaiian Mission Academy, Mr. William Bourbeau. We wish her Godspeed as she assumes the challenge present at the Hawaiian Mission Elementary School where she will be the office

Replacing Mrs. Bourbeau is one who is familiar to many of our membership on Oahu. Mrs. Joyce Villegas, along with her husband, have been active members and leaders in the Aiea Church. She has had a number of years' experience in office work, though not with the denomination. For the past few years, due to her family obligations, she has only accepted part-time responsibilities. She has been very faithful and dependable in her substitute teaching work for our elementary school and the academy.

Mrs. Villegas is a dedicated person and we have confidence that she will contribute much to the work.

Her husband, William, is a member of our Mission Executive Committee. We welcome Joyce into our Mission office fam-

Bible Speaks Crusade to Open

The Bible Speaks Crusade will open in the Kaneohe Seventh-day Adventist church Sunday night, 7:30, September 26. The meetings will be conducted by John and Ellen Klim, Hawaiian Mission evangelistic team, with Pastor Oliver L. Stimpson serving as program coordinator.

The crusade will run four nights a week, Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday. The meetings will continue for eight weeks, ending Friday, November 19.

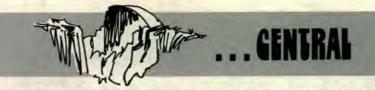

In the series, there will be a strong emphasis on the great prophetic truths from Daniel and Revelation, and a new unfolding of God as Creator, Ruler, and Redeemer.

Send all names of interest to Pastor Oliver Stimpson, 506 Ulumawao Street, Kailua, Hawaii 96734.

Evangelism Field School Attracts 17 Ministerial Interns

Seventeen Andrews University minis-terial interns participated in a Field School of Evangelism July 24 to August 13. This is the fifth school that has been held here in the Southeastern California Conference.

Under the direction of Evangelist Harmon Brownlow, evangelism coordinator for Southeastern, the students combined evangelistic theory with first-hand experience. They attended morning classes at La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda University, studying the different aspects of evangelism. In the afternoons, they visited with people, practicing the best ways of reaching people individually with the gospel.

A team of seminary students, joining with the pastor of the Colton Spanish Church, conducted meetings and baptized the people pictured above on October 28.

In the evenings, in connection with the field school, Elder Brownlow conducted evangelistic meetings for the Riverside area in the Arlington church. Pastor Calvin Osborn, Arlington, and Pastor E. H. Lehnhoff, Riverside, assisted. Featured at the meetings was a sacred concert each evening given by Elder Merrill Enright. Special programs kept the interest of the children, and for the adults, color motion pictures portraying the life of Christ were

PRACTICAL COURSE IN SABBATH SCHOOL INSTRUCTION IS SLATED

New Dimensions in Learning for Sabbath School Children is a practical course in Sabbath school presentations for young children. The course is sponsored by Loma Linda during the fall quarter.

The inspiration for developing this course came from Ellen G. White's Testimonies for the Church (vol. 6, p. 136): "It is also the Lord's design that our schools shall give young people a training which will prepare them to teach in any depart-ment of the Sabbath school." A wealth of ideas for this work of leading young souls to Christ will be introduced and discussed, ranging from what to look for in nature to the use of Ellen G. White in making your descriptions to the child more color-

The course teacher, Marie Douglass, has for 10 years been developing methods of teaching Sabbath school children of all ages by making delivery more spiritual and memorable. A number of conferences have sponsored her to conduct workshops for Sabbath school teachers in many states, including Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Arizona, and some of the California con-

According to Ellen G. White, "we should see a different state of affairs if a number of consecrated young persons would devote themselves to the Sabbath school work, taking pains to educate themselves and then to instruct others as to the best methods to be employed in lead-

After two weeks of classes and participation with Elder Brownlow, the students in teams of four began to hold their own meetings in the surrounding area churches of Hemet, Mira Loma, San Marcos, and the Colton Women's Club for the Spanish speaking people.

The members participating were, Harry Krueger, Daniel Flores, Lowell Rideout, Philip Lizzi, Ernest Castillo, Arturo Grayman, Eliseo Orozco, Harold Camacho, Dave Ferguson, James Wallace, Keith Seltzer, Dan Coffin, Leland Yialelis, Jerry Oster, Paul Penno, Bob Self, and Richard Cathell. At a report meeting held at the conference office at the close of the students' meetings, each team gave a report of its soul-winning experience. To date, as a result of the meetings held in connection with the field school, there have been approximately 110 baptisms.

The field school is not only a training program for the students, but also a real soul-winning program for Christ, showing the enthusiasm and desire of these students to reach souls.

VISION OF MISSION NEEDS SEEN BY ELDER D. HARDER

You'd think a retired missionary who left Africa 40 years ago would find mission needs growing dim in his memory, but not Elder D. P. Harder of La Sierra, Cali-

Elder and Mrs. Harder returned to the United States in 1932 after he served in Africa as MV and Educational secretary in the Angola and Zambezi unions. Knowing Africa's need for books of all kinds, he adopted a project worked out by a 90year-old layman, J. E. Whitchey, who went door-to-door collecting unused literature and redistributing it in impoverished southern states.

That was 18 years ago; and the plan has grown rapidly each year since. As word spread of his worthy project, books and papers began to accumulate by the hundreds of pounds. When his personal funds for postage ran out, church friends began making regular contributions for shipment of the material overseas.

Last year, Elder Harder packed for overseas one shipment of 1,840 pounds and another of 2,209 pounds. But his latest collection of thousands of new, but outdated, textbooks and the new paperback Great Controversy filled 18 large crates and weighed in at nearly 4,300 pounds!

Two retired pastors, Elder M. E. Hagen, and Elder A. C. Harder (Elder Harder's brother), provided the carpentry skill required to construct the crates and help pack up the shipment. Destination for this reading material is the Philippines, where even some of the mission teachers have no textbooks, Elder Harper reports.

Elder Harder is grateful for the con-tributions of useful books and periodicals he continues to receive, as well as for funds to forward his pet project. He is thankful that he can still enjoy having a vital part in our world-wide mission work.

After all, who believes in retirement, anyway!

F. W. EDWARDY, Secretary, Public Relations.

Ground Is Broken for Construction of La Sierra Spanish Church

After many years, a dream has become a reality. August 15 was a big day for the members of the La Sierra Spanish Church when they broke ground for the first phase of construction for their new church complex located at 5882 La Sierra Avenue in Riverside.

The first buildings to be erected will include a youth and evangelistic auditorium, with a seating capacity for 1,000 people, and eight Sabbath school and Dorcas rooms.

More than 200 people were present at the groundbreaking ceremony. Present with the church members and their friends were representatives from the Union conference, local conference, Loma Linda University, and the City of Riverside. After Elder Merardo Leon, church pastor, gave the welcome, Mr. S. A. Digatre, acting mayor; Elder Melvin Lukens, president of Southeastern; and Elder Jack Bogle, treasurer, officiated at the ceremony. Elder Manuel Nestares, the Spanish coordinator for the Conference, offered

Vista Church Receives 10 Members through Baptism

At the recent conclusion of a threeweek series of evangelistic meetings, 10 members were added to the Vista Seventhday Adventist Church by baptism.

Elder Bill Hoffman conducted the nightly meetings, assisted by Elder Conrad G. Finney. Mrs. Bill Hoffman painted beautiful black-light illustrations.

Those baptized were: Mrs. Alta Morgan, Brendon Finney, Danny Evans, Dor-othy and Betty Kose, Mrs. Sue Gullette, Mrs. Judy Hager, Faitala Alo, Laura Ho-henberger, and Biss McDougall.

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Matt. 5:16.

Mrs. Michelle Sorensen, baptized in October 1970, was letting her light shine when, as a colporteur, she sold a set of Bible Stories to Mrs. Judy Hager. She followed this with the "Go Tell" lessons, and Mrs. Hager made her decision for Christ during the recent meetings.

Mrs. Alta Morgan was introduced to the Advent message when her sister sent her name to the Voice of Prophecy for a Bible study course. The sister was not an Adventist, but Mrs. Morgan accepted the truths presented in the course, and after attending the meetings she also committed her life to Christ.

Elder Conrad G. Finney of the Vista Church continues to study with a number of interests in his weekly Bible study class.

Church Pastor Elder Stephan Paully cordially invites all readers to bring their rel-atives and friends to "Search for these Truth" meetings each Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evening at 7:15, and Saturday night at 6:00. Pastor Tucker will also be speaking at each Sabbath morning worship service, with the crusade coming to an end at 3, Sabbath afternoon, October 23.

Recently arriving in the Conference from Tennessee, Pastor Tucker was minister of the Chattanooga Church. There he conducted a weekly 20-minute televi-sion program called "Search" and a twice

LARGE OVERFLOW HOPED FOR IN 13TH SABBATH OFFERING

Once each quarter we have the oppor-tunity of giving a "Thirteenth Sabbath Offering." Sabbath School members give offerings each Sabbath to support the cause of "Missions," but on the 13th Sabbath we look for a large "overflow." Everything over a given amount is termed "overflow," and is channeled to specific projects.

This quarter on 13th Sabbath, September 25, the overflow will go to the Trans-Africa Division, It will be used for:

School started in Southeastern's 21 schools September 7. Now every student has found his room, his desk, and the excitement of new teachers and friends. Browsing through new, colorful textbooks is also over. Everyone is at work. Is your child there? Does he have the opportunity to learn to know Jesus as his personal Saviour? It is a serious question.

daily five-minute radio and TV program, "Call to Prayer."

Moving to Redlands makes it possible for Pastor L. E. Tucker to be more closely associated with his father, Pastor J. L. Tucker, in the radio ministry of The Quiet Hour.

Joining with his son at the San Diego "Search for Truth" crusade, Pastor J. L. Tucker will lead in four special Prayer Features including anointing services on September 29, October 6, 13, and 20.

Why not bring an interested relative or friend to Broadway and 24th in San Diego and search for truth with The Quiet Hour team each Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evening, September 22 through October 23?

118 Children and Parents Come to VBS Graduation

Calimesa's Vacation Bible School ended Thursday, August 26, with the 118 registered children and their parents present for the graduation exercises. Sixty-four per cent of the children registered were from non-Adventist homes, noted Mrs. Delbert Fandrich, registrar.

Every morning, the children quietly gathered in the sanctuary with many ready to begin the song service with Mrs. E. Lee Johnston, after which Mrs. J. O. Hanson took over her duties as director. Pastor L. L. Dinwiddie was present each morning to lead the children in their salutes and prayer.

The juniors studied Voice of Prophecy lessons and were urged to continue the studies after Vacation Bible School closed. Graduation night, slips were passed out to the parents for permission for their chil-dren to attend a Bible Club to be held each Wednesday afternoon for 13 weeks.

The last Thursday morning, one of the mothers was so appreciative that she brought a beautifully decorated cup cake for each child. The attitude of the parents was the warmest felt at any graduation program yet held by the Vacation Bible Schools, felt Mrs. Hanson.

Pastor at San Marcos Church Returns to AU for Classwork

The San Marcos Church said farewell recently to Pastor and Mrs. Dwight Lehnhoff as they returned to Andrews University where Pastor Lehnhoff will complete his studies for the degree of Master of Divinity.

The year of Pastor Lehnhoff's ministry has been a good one for the San Marcos Church with a noticeable increase in church membership and much being accomplished on a local level,

One of the high lights of the year was the hosting of the Brownlow Field School conducted by students of Andrews University. The evangelistic series was a great blessing to the church and 10 have made decisions for the Lord.

We are not only grateful to the Lord for what has already been accomplished in San Marcos, but look forward to continued days of growth for the church.

MRS. RUTH PLEITZ, PR Secy., San Marcos.

Six-hour Drug Education Workshop Held at Thunderbird

The staff of Thunderbird Academy, several teachers from the valley Adventist elementary schools, and a limited number of ministers from the Arizona Conference ministerial staff participated in a comprehensive six-hour drug education in-service workshop which was held on the Academy campus on September 15 and 16.

The workshop, an outgrowth of earlier programs which have been presented by the Drug Education Division of the Arizona State Department of Education to selected staff members of various schools around the state, was conducted by the staff of the Drug Education Division un-

Mr. & Mrs. Richard Duerksen Join Thunderbird Academy

Thunderbird Academy would like to introduce Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duerksen to the constituency of the Arizona Conference. No strangers to the conference, Mr. Duerksen recently completed his first year of ministerial internship in the Glendale, Arizona, Church prior to joining the staff at Thunderbird Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duerksen

Duerksen's position at Thunderbird is somewhat unique when compared to other positions in academies around the country. He has been employed as campus chaplain, a newly created position which the Academy board felt would strengthen the spiritual program of the Academy. In this position, Mr. Duerksen serves as the spiritual coordinator of all religious activities which originate at the Academy. He serves as chairman of the academy religious activities committee, sponsor of the religious activities committee of the student association, assistant pastor of the Academy Church, and instructor of the religion class, youth guidance.

Mr. Duerksen is a 1969 graduate of the College of Arts and Sciences at Loma Linda University where he majored in theology. He received his master's degree from Loma Linda University in 1971. His major field of emphasis was in the teaching of religion in secondary schools. During his tenure as a student at La Sierra, Mr. Duerksen served as a student missionary in Puerto Rico and as a resident assistant in the men's residence halls.

Mrs. Brenda Duerksen also joins the staff of Thunderbird Academy as registrar. Mrs. Duerksen is a 1970 graduate of the School of Nursing at Loma Linda University. She is the former Brenda Christensen, a native of Minnesota.

The students and staff of Thunderbird Academy sincerely welcome these two fine people to our campus.

der the direction of Mr. Paul Kelley. The state department staff was assisted by three members of the Academy staff who served as leaders of small discussion groups. The men were Bob Sutton, Dick Duerksen, and Larry Henderson.

As a part of the program, the group was administered a test which informed each of the participants the status of his knowledge in the field of drugs. A representa-tive of the State of Arizona Department of Public Safety brought a display of drugs in current use and explained the legal aspects of the drug abuse problem as it exists today.

The methods which were used in the workshop were group process, brainstorming, force-field analysis, and the establishment of priorities for building programs for the prevention of drug abuse.

The purpose of the workshop, as ex-plained by Mr. Kelley, is to work at the prevention angle and to leave the therapy and rehabilitation of drug-users to those who are qualified to take on such a task. It is the position of the State Department of Education that those involved in teaching young people are best fitted to work in the field of prevention especially as they work in teaching students how to value, rather than teaching values per se.

The workshop, which consisted of two three-hour sessions, was the first that the drug education personnel had held in a private parochial school in the state of Arizona. It was considered as a pilot program and will be carefully evaluated by the team from the State Department of Education.

L. A. HENDERSON, PR Director, Thunderbird Academy.

Arizona Is Second in Baptisms

While we can never be satisfied with the results we see in the progress of the gospel in the Arizona Conference, we can see how God has led us in the past and praise Him for His blessings.

At the mid-year point, the statistical report from our Union office shows Arizona second in baptisms and net growth in percentage increase. Hawaii is first with 3.61% to Arizona's 3.55% in baptisms and in net growth 2.90% over 2.82%. Compared to the Union averages of 2.67% in baptisms and 1.49% in net growth, these two smaller conferences have experienced good growth.

Financially, God has blessed this Union with a 9.0% increase in tithe for the first seven months, with the Arizona conference showing the highest (14%) increase over last year at this point. This has raised our conference per capita posi-tion to number five in the Union. For years our position has been seventh. Our Sabbath School giving shows an 8% rise, second in the Union whose average is 4.8%. We thank God for the fine stewardship on the part of our people.

Considering the nearness of the end of time, these accomplishments seem so insignificant. Why should they be mentioned? In the light of most denominations suffering net losses in membership and many of them also losing in their offerings, it is encouraging that, in these adverse times, spiritually and financially the church of God is still moving forward.

JOHN V. STEVENS, President.

The Vacation Bible School

Missionary Value Is Shown
The first Vacation Bible School conducted at the Burbank Church in more than ten years was proof of the missionary value of the Vacation Bible School as a community project.

Seventy-six boys and girls were enrolled of whom 42 were from non-Adventist homes. Under the leadership of Lucille Peyton and Sharon Wedin, 26 volunteer workers from the congregation led the Bible Story Hour and the craft projects.

Sabbath morning, August 14, a special program was held at the church and the parents of the non-Adventist children were invited to attend, more than 40 responded. The enthusiasm of the children and instructors made this one of the most inspiring services of the year.

Plans are being made for a follow-up program with the Neighborhood Bible Club to begin in October, and personal invitations to the parents to attend the church services.

J. C. Powers, Pastor, Burbank Church.

It Is Written Is Reactivated for Los Angeles Area Viewers

The way has opened providentially for the It Is Written telecast to start again in Los Angeles on Saturday, October 2. Elder George Vandeman will be seen every Saturday night at 11:00 over Channel 13, KCÓP.

This new telecast is an experience in faith which will call for liberal offerings from our believers to support the telecast. Many have requested that It Is Written be continued. Now that we have obtained time, let us send in sustaining gifts to the telecast or through your local church. Mark your envelope "It Is Written."

A number of new programs are being added and new books will be offered for the non-Adventist public. Start inviting your friends and neighbors to watch on October 2.

S. A. YAKUSH, Secretary, Radio-TV.

Valuable Sutures Donated to Monument Valley Mission

Mrs. Don Hiatt, a member of the Redondo Beach Church, looking for ways to further God's cause, noticed her neighbors, the Weidlers, were moving. She men-tioned to them that any clothing or any usable items that they might discard could be used by our Dorcas Society. The neighbor, Dana Weidler, supervisor of supply, processing, and delivery for the Torrance

Extension Courses Named

Loma Linda University Extension is pleased to give further information concerning Extension college courses available this fall quarter at Glendale Academy. Any person who has a secondary school diploma, or who is at least 18 years of age, or who is a high school or academy senior with grades of B or better, may enroll. Academy seniors who wish to enroll in Extension courses should consult with their guidance counselor.

The following courses may be taken for credit or certificate of completion (noncredit): American History and Institutions, Anatomy and Physiology, Clothing Construction, College English I, General Psychology I, Gift of Prophecy, Introduction to Data Processing, and Medical Terminol-

These evening courses begin during the first week in October. The fall quarter ends December 16. Bulletins giving more de-tailed information may be obtained from the addresses listed below.

According to the fall, 1971, announcement of the University of California extension system, credit earned through college courses offered in extension is now being accepted by the University of California on the same basis as credit transferred from another institution and is applicable on degree requirements. It is anticipated that other institutions of higher learning will find it possible to follow a similar policy. It is always well, however, to check for acceptability of credits with the institution to which credits are to be transferred, regardless of whether the courses are taken in an extension program or on a regular college campus.

For more information about these and other Extension courses, write or call:

Memorial Hospital, told Mrs. Hiatt he had, in his department, surgical sutures valued at more than $4,000 which would be donated to our medical missionary work. Mrs. Hiatt remembered Monument Valley Mission Hospital and the article she had recently read of the need there.

Mrs. Hiatt called Elder W. D. Walton, secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, and made arrangements for these valuable sutures to be taken to Monument Valley.

Elders W. D. Walter and Dave Olson of the Pacific Union Conference and Mrs. Hiatt went to Torrance Memorial Hospital to express their gratitude on behalf of Monument Valley Hospital for the donation of the sutures valued at $4,-058.91. They were given a tour of the new hospital by Marge Broadlick, secre-tary to the director of community re-

LLU EXTENSION COURSE TEACHES

CREATIVE EXPRESSION IN YOUTH Attention, Elementary School Teachers in church or public schools in the Los Angeles area: "Creative Expression in Children," a course geared to our changing times, is being offered at Glendale Academy during the fall quarter by Loma Linda University Extension. In this course, taught by teachers and for teachers, you'll learn creative ways to spark your classroom presentations and to meet the challenge of individual differences in the elementary setting.

Coordinating the workshop-type course will be Judy Fox, M.A., and Martha Paxton, M.A. Mrs. Fox has guest lectured for both the University of California and Loma Linda University; Mrs. Paxton is the author of a text concerning children's level of preparedness and developmental inadequacies.

These two highly qualified teachers have had outstanding success with the same course in the Inland Empire. Guest lecturers and workshop experiences that are scheduled will help you learn to tap the creative potential of each child in your classroom.

"Creative Expression in Children" offers three quarter units graduate education credit. First meeting will be 5-8 p.m., Sunday, September 26, at Glendale Academy. Extension tuition.

DR. VERNON KOENIG, Director, LLU Extension School.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Mrs. Helen Bassett or James C. Franklin, please notify Mrs. Harold Kroetz, Clerk, Canoga Park Seventh-day Adventist Church, 20550 Roscoe Blvd., Canoga Park, CA 91306.

Gift of Prophecy Studies Due

Loma Linda University Extension is pleased to give details concerning a class in the Gift of Prophecy to be taught this fall at Glendale Academy by Elder John J. Robertson.

The course, which is an investigation of the prophetic office evident in the life of Ellen G. White, will begin with study into contemporary views on inspiration and Scriptural evidence aniticipating a prophet in modern times. With this background, students will take up directed research in the books of Mrs. White. For this research, students should have access to the three-volume index, plus a substantial number of Spirit of Prophecy volumes.

Personal Benefits from the Course. Through knowledge of the Spirit of Prophecy, our own personal faith in God and understanding of His relationship with mankind can be greatly enhanced. Many of the problems and complexities of life can be sharply reduced by this understanding.

Besides these individual benefits, a better understanding of the Spirit of Prophecy can increase effectiveness in helping family members and children understand, appreciate, and accept it as the source of guidance in their lives. The Spirit of Prophecy, if well understood, can help in understanding the meaning of the times in which we are living.

Teacher of the Course. Elder John J. Robertson, pastor of the Vallejo Drive Church and teacher at Loma Linda University, is well-qualified in terms of information and as one who accepts the Spirit of Prophecy. In addition, he has done considerable study of modern philosophies that are sweeping the religious world and is particularly well qualified to lead considerations of the Spirit of Prophecy in relation to these philosophies.

Who Should Take the Course. The course in Gift of Prophecy will be valuable to elders, deacons, deaconesses—in fact, anyone who wishes to understand this subject better and who feels a sense of responsibility to be able to communicate more effectively concerning these inspired writings within his own family, with fellow church members, and with those not of our religious persuasion.

Further Information. Gift of Prophecy will begin Thursday, October 7, at 7 p.m. at Glendale Academy. The course will meet on Thursday evenings until December 16. Three quarter units of credit in religion are available at regular Extension tuition; or the course may be taken for a certificate of completion. For further details concerning this and other Extension courses, write or phone:

'Have You Opened the Prison Gates?'

Lee is a prisoner in a California prison. One day his cellmate was transferred.

"He left some things behind and among them were some Voice of Prophecy papers," writes Lee. "I gathered them together and began to study. "The first two answer sheets were missing, but, still, I was vastly rewarded by the studies. It is my regret that Freddie [his cellmate] loses his blessing, while I gain what was his. However, I will pray he tries again further down life's road. . . .

"I have a Bible, and consider my day lost if I don't have reading time.

"I hope you will place me on the special prayer list, And be assured my prayers will be for your progress in God's work." What about you? Have you opened the prison gates by introducing someone to Jesus, perhaps with a Voice of Prophecy Bible course enrollment card? The cards are available at your church, from your conference radio secretary, or directly from the Voice of Prophecy, Box 55, Los Angeles 95503.
