

Sabbathless Christianity

ABRAM HERBERT LEWIS, D. D.

O long as the early church followed Christ's example, and kept the Sabbath as He left it to them, the spiritual life of the church remained at "full tide." After the time of the New Testament when pagan philosophy and prejudice against the Jews began to teach the falsehood that the Sabbath was only a "Jewish affair," and that it was not binding on Christians, the spiritual life and power of the church declined in swift and increasing ratio. This was especially true after Christianity became a religion of the Roman Empire, by civil law, and Sunday and other festivals appeared.

These influences culminated in the papal power and the long midnight of the dark ages. Other influences contributed to this decay, but first and foremost was the falsehood which pushed God, His law, His Sabbath, and hence communion and fellowship with Him, out of the hearts and lives of men. All that was given in return was the authority of the church, backed by the law of the state. The dark years of the wilderness life of Christianity between the middle of the fifth century and the time of the German Reformation, are crowded with lessons showing that a Sabbathless Christianity is correspondingly a godless Christianity, and one from which all the better elements of spiritual life are driven.— Sabbath Recorder.

THE HAND OF GOD IN HISTORY

By W. A. Spicer

In this age of research, history and the Bible should be found side by side on the table of every student of the times.

We are not only "making history," but discovering it. The translations made from tablets, rolls, and statues exhumed from mounds, tombs, and buried cities, corroborate and supplement the records found in the Holy Scriptures. In "The Hand of God in History" the discoveries of the archeologist are made to emphasize the statements of Holy Writ; history is shown to have fulfilled the predictions of the prophet; and the testimony of astronomy is given on the side of history and prophecy. Much historical information is given in connection with the description of the prophetic periods of the Scriptures; the development of Christianity by eras is outlined; and the advent message is described as the finale of earth's history, and the means of disseminating it as providential. The book has about 250 pages, and is bound in two styles.

GOOD FORM AND SOCIAL ETHICS

By Fannie Dickerson Chase

"Good manners are best conserved by every-day usage."

If you are preparing for a life of usefulness; if you are endeavoring to make your influence count for most in good society, then you should study the new book "Good Form and Social Ethics."

Whatever his educational advantages have been, the pastor will appreciate the chapter entitled "The Minister." To the one whose preliminary training has been limited, or whose early environment was unfavorable, "Good Form" is invaluable.

Over thirty pages of the book are devoted to a chapter to "The Gentleman," the contents of which are indicated by the subheads:—

Lord, Lead Us On

WORTHIE HARRIS HOLDEN Behold I send Jehovah's messenger To keep thee in the way, And leading on, to bring thee to the place

Prepared for thee for aye.

So Israel journeyed, by the pillar led. Through all the desert drear; By day or night, in cloud or mantle bright, The Christ was ever near.

Still lead us on. We cannot see our way.

No track lies in the sand; But yet we know that thou wilt be our guide E'en to the promised land.

When Israel within that place prepared Shall sing the triumph song, May we, as wondrous trophies of thy grace, Be found amid the throng. Portland, Oregon.

A Short Sermon How Divine Love Is Expressed

H. A. ST. JOHN

"As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent." Rev. 3:19.

DIVINE love is expressed and revealed to the lukewarm professor, first, by rebuke or reproof. If this is not effectual, then follows chastisement. Neither of these are agreeable at the first, but if we are rightly exercised by them they will be followed by the peaceable fruits of righteousness. How precious the love of our Lord, as manifested by rebukes, and even chastisement with misfortune, affliction, and suffering, in order to bring back his wayward children to the way of light and life, that leadeth to himself, and to glory.

Again his great love is revealed by the following words: "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me." Reader, do you hear the movements I quote from a French work Saviour's voice in this testimony? Are you doing everything as fast and as far as you know to open the long-closed door? If so, you may be hopeful and may exercise strong faith that in due time the door will be opened wide. And then what? - O! joy inexpressible, and full of glory. What a helpful and lovely guest will come in and abide with you, to sup with you, and you with him! Who can describe the blessedness, helpfulness, and sweetness of such association, fellowship, and communion? Then the receiver will become all light in the Lord. All around you will take knowledge of you, that you are constantly learning of Jesus. Your light will break forth as the morning; your spiritual and perhaps physical health will spring forth speedily, your righteousness will go before you, and very soon the glory of the Lord will gather you up. For soon the Lord will come personally, and in great glory, and his angels will gather all his saints together unto him, and so shall they ever be with the Lord.

Jesus is near, even at the door of the hearts of his remnant church, now. When fully received, they will very soon give the loud cry of the last gospel message to all the world, and that will open the door of the heavens, and Jesus will come personally and visibly to all the world, to make up his jewels.

Order and Organization

J. N. LOUGHBOROUGH

It has been very truthfully stated that "order is heaven's first law." This is manifest in the precise and orderly movement of the planets. Of this the prophet Isaiah said, "Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth." Isa. 40:26.

Concerning the accuracy of these entitled "God's Glorious Creation," written by Harmon Kline and Thorne, English translation: "In two thousand years the day has increased in length the eighty-third part of a second. Observations since 1850 [about fifty years] show that the earth has gained in its passage around the sun two seconds."—Vol. I,

Not only has the Lord established order in the movement of the heavenly bodies, but also in the church. When he brought Israel out of Egypt with Moses as a visible leader, it was not a promiscuous motley crowd, but they were "harnessed" ("five in a rank," margin). Ex. 13:18; Joshua 1:14. In all the arrangement of erecting and removing the tabernacle and in their encamping, the most perfect order was observed. In the days of David the commendation was for those who "could keep rank." Chron. 12:33.

In apostolic times they were troubled with men who, like Diotrephes, exalted themselves in their independent ways. 3 John 9, 10. To guard the church from heresy there was an examination and ordination of those who stood firm on the gospel message, thus preserving harmony in the work. I Tim. 3: 1-15; Titus 1:5-11. As the work advanced, it became more and more important to "set in order the things that were wanting.

When the work of the third angel's message was developing before 'there was any form of organization among us, there was nothing to guard the church from the encroachment of false teachers. As early as 1850 a testimony was given, found in "Early Writings," calling attention to the course pursued by the apostles when commending teachers who were known to be in full harmony with the work. Our people were told that it is just as essential now for us to pursue a similar course. This resulted in granting to an approved minister a card of recommendation, showing that he was approved by the leaders in the work. I shall quote the words of the one received in 1853, as a sample: -

"This is to certify that Brother J. N. Loughborough, of Rochester, N. Y., is one whom we recommend to the church to labor among them.

JAMES WHITE, "JOSEPH BATES, " (Signed) "Leading Ministers."

Such action cleared our ranks of those who had false theories to present. Then the public interest arose to hear the mes-The number of ministers insage. creased, and it became apparent that there should be a systematic distribution of labor. This led to the organization of State conferences, the first of which was the Michigan Conference, organized Oct. 6, 1861. As other State conferences were organized, it was evident that for the unity of action and systematic development of the work there must be concert of action among the State conferences. So to accomplish this the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists was organized in Battle Creek, Mich., May 21, 1863.

As we met at Washington, D. C., in this jubilee year of the General Conference, and heard the reports from all parts of the world, demonstrating what order has accomplished, with God's blessing, in the harmonious advancement of the message, we say this of itself is a proof that the Lord has led in the work. On this fiftieth anniversary year of the General Conference organization it is the unanimous sentiment of thousands of Seventh-day Adventists to push on the work under the same banner of systematic order.

"Prepare to Meet Thy God"

F. D. STARR

"I HAVE overthrown some of you, as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a firebrand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord. Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel." Amos 4: 11, 12. A preparation for the great day of God, so near at hand, is imperatively demanded. The impending judgments of God, like those that fell upon Sodom and Gomorrah, are cited as an incentive to cause men to make this preparation.

Those wicked cities of the plains are set forth in the Scriptures for an example of final punishment to all who should after live ungodly. 2 Peter 2:9; Jude 7. The cities of today are fast becoming like those ancient corrupt centers of population, and the judgments of God in various forms are being felt by earth's inhabitants. But the prophet declares that these judgments, falling heavily upon the land, have not aroused the guilty to repentance, nor caused them to return unto the Lord; therefore more and greater calamities must be visited upon the impenitent race. "And because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel."

For every special event a special preparation is necessary. To neglect this "That servant, preparation is fatal. which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes." It is necessary to do the Lord's will strictly, to obey his commandments fully, but this can be done by those only who have made the necessary preparation. At the time of our Saviour's first advent, a special work of preparation was demanded and was accomplished by the Truth as a system of belief must be reaching of John the Baptist. "The restored, and believers be established in voice of him that crieth in the wilder-make straight in the desert a highway for our God." Isa. 40: 3. See also Matt. 3:3; John 1:23.

But no more certainly was the way to be prepared before the work of Christ at his first coming than is the way to be prepared before his second appearing. "Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up a standard for the people. Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work ["recompense," margin] before him." "Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people." Isa. 62:10, 11; 57:14.

In preparing the way of the Lord. the way of his people will also be prepared. The conditions and signs of the times show this to be the day of his preparation (Nahum 2:3), just as the time while the ark was preparing was the day of preparation for the antediluvians. I Peter 3:20. '

"The good Lord pardon every one that prepareth his heart to seek God." 2 Chron. 30: 18, 19. This heart preparation is the all-important thing. "Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart." Ps. 15:1, 2. The one hundred forty-four thousand who are ready for translation have made the necessary preparation. "In their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God." Rev. 14:5.

Guile is deceit, the opposite of truth. In the last days truth will be to a great extent disregarded. "Truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter. Yea. truth faileth; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey." Isa. 59:

The conduct of the people is aptly described by the prophet thus: "They bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth, . . . And they will deceive every one his neighbor, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies." Jer. 9:3, 5. Jer. 9:3, 5. With the largest professedly Christian organization teaching that it is a religious privilege to tell a falsehood instead of the truth when circumstances demand it, what else can be expected but that lying will, by all who come under such influence, come to be regarded as a very light offense? Notice the following statement by Alfonso de Liguori: "It is permissible to swear to anything which is false by adding in an undertone a true condition, if that low utterance can in any way be perceived by the other party, though its sense is not understood." this same organization, the prophetic declaration is, "It cast dow the ground." Dan. 8:12. "It cast down the truth to the present truth. Not only must God's ness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, eternal truth be received instead of will be rooted out and overcome.

Satan's falsehoods, but we must so "hate and abhor lying" (Ps. 119: 163) that we shall not prevaricate in the least degree, nor deviate from strictly telling the truth in every matter. "These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbor; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates." Zech. 8: 16.

Not even the so-called white lies are iustifiable. "As a madman who casteth firebrands, arrows, and death, so is the man that deceiveth his neighbor, and saith, Am not I in sport?" Prov. 26: 18, 19. "He that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile." I Peter 3:10. Surrounded by the prevailing custom of deceiving practised among our fellow beings, we shall need to use the utmost diligence to speak the truth in our hearts and with our tongues, that in our mouths no guile may be found. Thus may we be prepared to meet our God with the righteous nation that keepeth the truth.

Growing Up Into Christ

W. REED

"THEN shall we know, if we follow on to know the Lord." Hosea 6:3. It is very plain to us from these words of Scripture that there is no standing still in the Christian life. It is a progressive life,—growing up into Christ day by day. "As thy days, so shall thy strength The most essential thing for us to have is a knowledge of Christ, of his holy and divine will; for how can we grow up into Christ without a knowledge of his will? The Lord says, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge." Hosea 4:6. In order to grow up into Christ and become strong Christians, we should apply wisdom with knowledge,- heavenly wisdom. dom is a knowledge of Christ put into practise, lived out in our lives day by day. If we have the wisdom from above, we shall have the fruits of the Spirit, which are love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance.

The Word tells us that if these things abound in us, we shall be found neither barren nor unfruitful. We may compare the Christian life to a seed sown in the ground. When it first springs up, it is very weak and tender. In order that it may grow, bud, and blossom, it should be placed in the care of a florist or gardener, to be cultivated and protected from the weeds. Then as the warm sunshine and rain from heaven descend upon it, it springs forth into full bloom and perfection, and scatters fragrance all around.

In order that we may grow up into strong Christians, we should enter the school of Christ in the bright morning of youth, and in prayer and study sit daily at the Saviour's feet, hold sweet communion with him, be obedient children, and learn the lessons that he would have us learn. Then the weeds, which are the temptations and snares of life.

Our Weaving

MRS. MARY H. WILLIAMS

Ho! toiler at the loom of life, What hast thou woven today-Woof of gladness, or gloom and sadness In threads of somber gray? The warp's bright sheen, like the tender green

Of promise, is fair to see, As in the loom hope's radiant bloom Is woven eternally; And each loving thought with grace is wrought, Like beautiful tapestry.

Of purple there's wealth, and the glow of health

Where the flying shuttle sped; There's a line of blue where the life was true,

And black where the heart has bled; But through and through runs the gleaming hue Of faith's bright golden thread.

What colors art thou weaving? As the shuttle runs to and fro Canst see in the length'ning fabric No beauteous pattern grow? Indulge not idle grieving, Toil on, for even so,

When finished at last each weaver's task, The Master's design will show. To him alone is the pattern known

Who each shade and blending can see; Wise is the plan that hides it from man In the mists of futurity.

Uses of Tomatoes

MRS, D. A. FITCH

WHILE from a digestive standpoint it is not well to combine at the same meal fruit and vegetables, yet there is one excellent article of food which combines well with either fruit or vegetables. Tomatoes are, botanically, a fruit, though commercially usually reckoned a vege-Perhaps there is no other one vegetable or fruit that may be utilized in so many palatable ways as can the tomato. Its agreeable acid adds piquancy and flavor to other foods, its beauty of color appeals to the appetite through the eye, while its inexpensiveness brings it within the reach of the poor, so that none need be deprived of this tempting

A common complaint against tomatoes is the difficulty of keeping them when canned. Personally, I have no more difficulty than in the preservation of other fruit. However, it is wise to keep all canned fruit in a dark, cool place.

Perhaps it is not generally known that string-beans, green peas, green corn, okra, cabbage, and some other vegetables, cooked in tomato, afford a pleasing variety on the bill of fare, and that they may be canned with an excellent degree of success, thus insuring them for use all the months of the year.

How to Can Vegetables

Cook the vegetable very thoroughly in the usual manner, but in as little water as practicable, the water being evaporated when the vegetable is very tender. Then pour over the vegetable enough strained tomato to well cover it. Add salt to taste, and cook for twenty minutes. Can as you would any fruit. If to be eaten at once, there may be added butter or any other seasoning desired.

Oleomargarin

H. P. BUZZELL

It was recently the writer's privilege to take a trip through Packington, as the section of Chicago exclusively devoted to the meat-packing industry is known. About one square mile of almost the exact center of the city is occupied by several of the largest packing concerns of the country, prominent among which are the Swifts and Armours. In this square mile 40,000 persons devote their entire time to the slaughtering of animals and the preparation of their flesh for human consumption. Some idea of the magnitude of this business may be gained from the fact that in the year 1912 there were slaughtered and shipped from Packington 8,000,000 hogs, 6,000,000 sheep, 2,650,000 cattle, and 500,ooo calves. It takes more than one million dollars a day to carry on this immense business. While it is true that each animal must be passed by a government inspector, when we saw the rapidity with which the work was done we must confess that our confidence in that inspection was not increased, neither did it increase our assurance that the animals were free from disease simply because they were impressed with the government stamp.

During the past few years the manufacture of oleomargarin has grown to be one of the most important branches of the meat-packing industry. During the first three months of 1913 there were manufactured in Chicago 25,280,713 pounds of this substitute for dairy butter, enough each day to fill eight freightcars of 40,000 pounds capacity.

Public sentiment is rapidly undergoing a change in regard to this compound, and it is now accepted largely on its own merits. This has been brought about by an extensive advertising campaign on the part of the manufacturers, and by the fact that it has been indorsed by some eminent authorities and also by the public health commissioners of several of our large cities. Then, too, it sells for about one third less than a good grade of butter, which is quite an item with the average consumer.

Although it is being rapidly accepted as a proper article of diet, comparatively little is known as to the ingredients entering into its composition. According to the guide who conducted us through the manufacturing plant, oleomargarin is composed of oleo-oil (from which it takes its name), neutral oil, vegetable oil, cream, ordinary butter, whole milk and salt, with a little coloring added. It sounds very innocent, does it not? Upon further investigation we found that the "oleo" was extracted from beef suet, and the "neutral" from leaf-lard. These two ingredients form the basis of the product, the other elements being added to give it bulk and weight, and to make it approach as nearly as possible to the accepted standard of dairy butter. The vegetable oil mentioned is a refined grade of peanut- or cottonseed-oil.

While from the standpoint of the world at large there is nothing objectionable that enters into the composition of this product, with our light upon the subject of health reform, the teaching of God's Word in regard to the use of animal fat, and the directions against the use of swine's flesh, it would seem that we who are striving to attain the highest standard of physical, mental, and spiritual attainment would better omit it from our dietary.

Being Happy

Just being happy is a fine thing to do; Looking at the bright side rather than the blue;

Sad or sunny musing Is largely in the choosing, And just being happy is brave work and true.

Just being happy helps other souls along; Their burdens may be heavy, and they not strong;

And your own sky will lighten If other skies you brighten By just being happy with a heart full of song.

Riprey D. Saunders.

We have need of patience with ourselves and with others; with those below and those above us and with our own equals; with those who love us and those who love us not; against sudden inroads of trouble, and under our daily burdens; in our own failure of duty, or others' failure toward us; in disappointment, bereavement, losses; in heaviness of the heart; or in sickness amid delayed hopes. In all these things patience is the grace of God, whereby we endure evil for the love of God.— E. B. Pusey.

large increase in the number of communicants, as well as institutions and facilities for carrying on the various lines of work now being conducted. Instead of a contributions per capita is stated in colhandful of believers, with few facilities, umn 3. From this it will be seen that there is now a body of believers num-bering 114,206, with many and varied ences in the United States for the year facilities for proclaiming the message. 1912 was $28.78. The total funds raised Among these are the excellent training in this field constituted 70.23 per cent of schools for the preparation of laborers, and it is gratifying to know that the work of these schools, so well supplemented by other denominational institu-tions, has been so effective that today there is one active evangelistic laborer for every twenty-two members in the denomination, and including the laborers in denominational institutions, there is one laborer for every twelve members. This shows a very high percentage of laborers in active service in some branch of this cause, and affords abundant reason to expect further rapid increase.

The extension of this work into so many countries has made necessary the preparation of literature to meet the requirements in all the lands entered. This work has been promptly undertaken, and today denominational literature is prepared and circulated in seventy-five languages. And there are sixteen other languages in use as the medium of communicating this truth orally, and in which the printed page will in due time appear.

Increase of Funds

While the increase in members and facilities, as indicated above, is very encouraging, it is of interest to note the increase in funds. The primary object in a work of this character is the bringing of souls into a right relation to God. The contribution of funds is a means to accomplish this object, and the manner in which a cause is supported is a true index of the place which that cause holds in the affections of those who profess its principles. The situation presented along financial lines is very gratifying indeed. The year 1912 realized the largest amount of funds ever raised by the denomination, as well as the highest amount per capita. The amount contributed for all purposes was $2,702,199.02,

This is the fiftieth annual statistical and the amount per capita was $23.66. The per capita contributions during the of work since this cause was organized 705.22 was raised in the United States, or 78.54 per cent, and $5,517,977.34 was amounted to $595,004.72, being a per capita of $5.21, and constituting 22.02 per cent of the entire amount raised during the year. For all lines of home mission work, there was contributed $161,-700.91, this amount being $1.42 per capita, and constituting 5.98 per cent of the grand total. For all lines of local church missionary work and enterprises, there was contributed during the year, $291,868.85, a per capita of $2.55, and constituting 10.80 per cent of the grand total. The total amount contributed in the United States of all funds was $1,-897,792.52, or 70.23 per cent; from all other countries, $804,406.50, or 29.77 per cent. The contributions for the United States therefore sustained a higher relation to the grand total contributions than the total communicants in that territory sustained to the grand total communicants, and this fact is shown by the higher per capita amount, namely, $27.78, as against $16.66 for each of the communicants outside this country. The statement further shows that the total funds raised by churches constituted 85.62 per cent of all the funds raised, and the amount raised by departments of the church was 14.38 per cent. The percentages are as follows: Tithe, 61.20; offerings, 24.42; Sabbath-school donations, 8.61; church-schools, 5.12; Missionary Volunteer societies, .65. The total contributions by churches was $2,313,377.80; contributed by departments of the church, $388,821.22, a grand total of $2,702,190.02. This constitutes the largest amount ever raised by this denomination in any year, the amount being greater than all the contributions for all purposes for the first twenty-nine years, from 1863 to 1892.

Summary 3

This summary gives information regarding the Educational Department. At the close of 1912 there were 573 primary schools, employing 674 teachers, and having an enrolment of 12,037. The value of the equipment of these schools is placed at $156,141.10, and annual maintenance, $138,320.22. At the close of 1912 there were ninety colleges, academies, and intermediate schools, employing 631 teachers, and having an enrolment of 8,205. The enrolment of certain schools conducted in mission fields (formerly included in the statistical report, but now reported separately in a report pertaining wholly to work in non-Christian and non-Protestant lands) should be added to the foregoing figures, to put this report on same basis as those for former years, thus making the total as stated in Summary 3; namely, enrolment of primary schools, 15,602; enrolment of colleges, academies, etc., 8,205; grand total enrolment, 23,807.

Summary 4

Summary 4 gives information pertaining to the Missionary Volunteer Department. The number of societies at the close of 1912 had increased to 685, with an enrolment of 14,028 members. This number is 12.28 per cent of the total number of communicants in the denomination. The contributions for all purposes amounted to $17,818.60, a per capita of $1.27; 60.88 per cent of this amount was contributed for foreign work.

(a) Since mission fields are not organized in the way conferences are, the dates in column 2 do not refer to the time of their organization, as in the case of conferences, but to the time when the field was entered or when information was first separately given in these reports. The distinction between conferences and mission fields is indicated by the names assigned each in the list.

total Sabbath-keepers, and not upon the membership of churches only.

(d) By total laborers in column 19 is meant the total number employed in the conference or mission field in evangelistic work, including not only the four classes named in the preceding columns, but all other persons not thus specified. The totals in column 19 are not always, therefore, the totals of the four preceding columns, but are frequently greater.

(e) Estimated. A fallure to receive returns from the Asiatic Division has made it necessary to estimate all the items for that field.

(f) Under General Conference are included those engaged in general labor, and not accounted for elsewhere. The amount shown in

Section 1

(a) The system of educational work outlined by the Educational Department of the General Conference in 1906, comprising sixteen grades, or years of study, is arranged as follows: Church-schools (information concerning which will be found listed under columns 28 to 32 in Table 1), grades 1-8; intermediate schools, grades 7-10; academies, grades 9-12; colleges, grades 13-16.

(h) In compiling the returns fractions of will be found listed under columns 2s to 32 in Table 1), grades 1-8; intermediate schools, grades 7-10; academies, grades 9-12; colleges, grades 13-16.

(b) In compiling the returns, fractions of acres were not included, thus omitting institutions located on small plots, such as city lots.

(c) The "capacity" of schools is the number of students that may be accommodated in classes, and does not refer to dormitory or boarding accommodations provided.

(d) The grades taught by each should indicate the kind of work undertaken, as outlined in note (a).

(e) Estimated.

(f) In the column indicating laboratory facilities the word "No" occurs where the schools have none; the word "Yes" is used in connection with schools having such facilities. These facilities cover lines of work in various schools as follows: Astronomy, chemistry, physics, histology, zoology.

Schools having facilities for manual training are indicated by "Yes" in corresponding column; those not having such facilities are listed with "No" opposite. These facilities range as follows: Carpentry, cooking, farming, dairying, nursing, printing, plumbing, horticulture, dressmaking, tent-making broom-making, brick-making, tent-making broom-making, brick-making, tent-making broom-making, brick-making is designated by foot-notes.

(h) Column 18 shows the number of students (not graduates alone) entering some department of denominational work during the preceding year.

(i) From tenth grade.

(j) Four were graduated from fourteenth grade, three from sixteenth.

(k) Two in thirteenth grade.

(l) From nurses' course.

(m) Including five from other grades, as music, business, elementary normal, and nurses.

(n) From fourteenth grade.

(o) Seven from fourteenth grade; one from thirteenth.

A Study of Figures

Nothing will prove more interesting than a study of the statistical reports published in this number of the REVIEW. As an aid to this study Brother H. E. Rogers has furnished us with the following list of questions, answers to which may be found in the statistical tables. The answers to these questions might be made a most interesting exercise in the family circle, the Sabbath-school, or the missionary service of the church. These reports are well worthy of a study which they do not receive on the part of our people generally. Hunt out the answers to the questions; doing so, you will glean much valuable information concerning our church work in its various departments:

- 1. How many local conferences have been organized?
- 2. How many organized mission fields are operated by the church?

- 3. How many Seventh-day Adventist evangelistic laborers are there in the world? What proportion is in the United States? and how many are outside this country?
- 4. How many organized churches do we - have? and what is their membership?
 5. What is the total number of communicants now belonging to this body?
 6. What has been the gain during the past
- eight years?
- 7. How much does the denomination now annually for all lines of evangelistic
- 8. How much per capita is this for each member?
- 9. Give the number of church-schools and advanced schools.

- 10. What has been the total investment in all denominational schools?
- 11. How many teachers are employed in educational work?
- 12. How many students were sent out from these schools during the past year to join the various ranks of laborers in the field?
- 13. How many laborers are employed in all our publishing houses?
- 14. What is the investment in publishing houses? what the amount of annual sales?
- 15. How many periodicals are now issued, and in how many languages?
- 16. In how many languages is this work conducted by oral instruction, as well as by the printed page?
- 17. How many sanitariums and treatmentrooms are now connected with the denomination? How many persons are employed therein?
- 18. When was the General Conference organized?
- 19. Is the tithe per capita now greater or less than at any other time in the history of this work?
- 20. What proportion of all funds raised from the beginning of this work has been tithe?
- 21. What proportion has been Sabbathschool offerings? foreign mission funds? home mission funds?
- 22. Give the per cent of funds raised in the United States; outside the United States.

 23. Since 1878, what has been the amount
- of Sabbath-school contributions? what amount has been donated to mission work?
- 24. What proportion is devoted to mission work at the present time?

- 25. Which is greater, the membership of Sabbath-schools or of churches?
- 26. What is the per capita amount of Sab-
- bath-school contributions annually?
 27. What proportion of the church-membership are members of young people's societies?
 28. In how many countries of the world is
- this work now being conducted? 29. Do you recognize the extension of this
- work as a fulfilment of prophecy?
- 30. Are you doing all you can to assist in extending to every nation, kindred, tongue, and people the principles of this message?

Something New for Sabbath-Schools

Are you interested in what the Sabbathschools are doing for mission lands? Do you want your school to have a beautiful reminder of the success of this feature of the Sabbath-school work? If so, you will be glad to learn that the Sabbath School Department has had made a number of charts showing the amount of the Sabbath-school gifts to missions during the last twenty-six years. The chart is 36 x 27 inches, lithographed on vellum drawing-cloth, and is striking and attractive in appearance. It should be hung permanently in every Sabbath-school. Even the children can appreciate the inspiration it gives and the lesson it teaches.

The price, post-paid, is fifty cents. Order without delay if you wish to be sure of getting one. Send money with the order, as we carry no accounts. Address the Sabbath School Department, Takoma Park, Washington, D. C.

THE STATISTICAL REPORT FOR 19126-2	22
MISCELLANEOUS22, 2	23

READ the series of articles beginning next week by Mrs. E. G. White. add much of interest to Old Testament history, and deduce many valuable lessons from the record that was written for our instruction.

THE camp-meeting season has now opened. By the time this paper reaches its readers, a number of meetings of this character will be in operation. Let all pray that these gatherings may be occasions of great spiritual blessing, and that such wise plans may be laid for the furtherance of the work, and such an infilling of the Spirit received for service, as will make the next twelve months the banner year in soul-saving service.

This number of the Review, occupied for the most part by the report of the statistical secretary of the General Conference, should be preserved for future reference. Let us give to this report more earnest study than we have to the reports of the past. It contains a large fund of information. Read over the list of questions found on page 22, and seek for their answers in the statistical report preceding them. This will give much valuable information.

Next week we shall be able to resume more fully our regular departments. A number of interesting reports from the field are already in type and awaiting publication. We have also some excellent contributions from our readers for our Home and Health and General Articles departments. Short, pointed articles on various features of Christian experience; brief, timely articles for the Home and Health department; and items of general missionary experience are al-ways acceptable. These we solicit from all our readers, especially our workers. Make your articles short, concise, and to the point. Short articles are always acceptable and are much more likely to be read than the long ones. Long articles are too often long and prosy, and for lack of space are frequently laid by for more convenient seasons.

THE North American Division and General Conference workers are scattering for the summer camp-meetings. Elder A. G. Daniells is attending the meeting in the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference. Elder W. A. Spicer left last week to attend the meetings in the Pacific and North Pacific Union Conferences. Elder C. S. Longacre will attend the meetings in east Canada.

THE populous little city occupying the Sanitarium and Seminary grounds has quite disappeared. The tents have all been removed, and shipped to the conferences which kindly furnished them for the General Conference. Only the camp-kitchen remains. This is now used as a storeroom by the Seminary. The lumber is being sorted and piled up, and the grounds gradually cleared. It will the grounds gradually cleared. be some time, however, before normal conditions prevail, and probably one or two seasons will pass before the Seminary lawn is restored to the freshness and beauty it possessed before the pitching of the camp.

General Conference Committee Actions

In meetings of the General Conference Committee since the General Conference, invitations to the mission fields, in addition to those already reported, have been extended as follows:-

Miss Grace Davis, of the Washington

Sanitarium, to Brazil.

W. R. Beatty and wife, of the North Pacific Union, to India.

Jas. I. Robison and wife, of Southern California, to India.

Miss Jessie Butler, of Virginia, to the Philippine Islands, as a nurse. E. L. Maxwell and wife, of Tennessee, to South America, Brother Maxwell to take the superintendency of the new Northwest Union Mission field, including Ecuador, Peru, and Bolivia.

A. N. Allen and wife, of Peru, to

O. H. Maxson and wife, of Peru, to Argentina.

Arthur Westphal and wife, of Argentina, to Peru.

B. E. Beddoe and wife, of Central California, to India.

H. F. Taylor and wife, of New York, to the Bermuda Islands.

Dr. H. G. Hankins and wife, now in postgraduate work in Edinburgh, to South Africa.

Jas. H. Smith and wife, of Virginia, to the Bahama Islands.

W. R. Hanson and wife, of Oklahoma, to Sumatra, East Indies.

Two nurses, not named, were voted to be secured for South America, one for Peru and one for Chile.

Two nurses, not yet selected, were voted for Porto Rico.

The Educational Department was asked to secure a teacher for the Pua (Chile) School.

Educational Department was asked to secure an assistant teacher for Claremont Union College, South Africa.

It seemed to the committee unreasonable to leave Prof. J. L. Shaw to continue the superintendency of the India Union Mission, inasmuch as four years ago his health was declared insufficient for service in the tropics. He had returned, however, at that time owing to the great need in the field. After earnest consideration of the matter, Prof. and Mrs. H. R. Salisbury were invited to go to India, Professor Salisbury to take the superintendency of the India Union Mission. This call has been accepted.

The committee appointed Prof. J. L. Shaw to the secretaryship of the General Conference Educational Department, made vacant by the appointment of Professor Salisbury to India.

It was voted to endeavor to secure a German minister for Australia.

In response to the request of the Australasian Union delegation, it was agreed that steps be taken to secure a worker for the Samoan Islands, speaking both German and English.

Elder J. B. Beckner, for many years in service in the West Indies, was recommended for service in America, on account of the heavy strain put upon his health by service in the tropics.

It was voted that the stenographic report of the farewell missionary service at the General Conference constitute the program for two Sabbaths in connection with the Midsummer Offering for missions. These programs are to appear in next week's Review, the first program for the Sabbath morning service, July 19; the second program for the Midsummer Offering service, July 26, when the offering is to be taken in all the churches.

The action of the Conference in session on the afternoon of the farewell service called upon our people to prepare to make that Midsummer Offering, July 26, the largest offering ever laid upon the altar on such an occasion.

Summing up the appointments, it is found that just over one hundred fifty persons have been called to the mission fields. This large extension of the work into the regions beyond calls for a general response in liberal gifts for missions.

The news that the recruits are coming will already have brought joy and gladness to the missionaries in the field, who have been praying for help to come. W. A. Spicer, Secretary.

WE present on this page further reports regarding the movements of work-The last few weeks, including the period of the General Conference and the committee meetings following, have witnessed a larger number of important changes than has ever taken place before in the history of this work in so short a time. To many it will bring heartaches and separation from home and friends, and new experiences in future fields, with joy in soul-saving serv-We believe, however, that the guiding hand of God is in his work, and that when those charged with the responsibility of selecting workers seek him for guidance, sanctified judgment is given in their selections, and that Heaven also impresses the hearts of the individual workers, laying upon them a burden for the work to which they are called. What a comfort to know that he who calls us to his work, whatever may be the place we are asked to fill, will give strength for the undertaking. The call carries with it power to perform. Let us always remember this, and rely not upon the puny arm of flesh but upon the Captain of the Lord's hosts for our strength and stay.
