ATTENTION YOUNG MEN =

You saw the notice in last week's paper asking for young men to enlist in the service of getting our school ready for work next fall.

You've been thinking about it since.

DECIDED TO COME YET?

REMEMBER

Twenty young men and women paid their entire way through school last year.

More than a hundred others materially assisted themselves.

$16,553.29 earned by students last 10 months. You can help yourself.

Everybody's working now. You're no slacker.

Write at once and find out when you can come.

Army Service Work

To be Read in all Churches June 8th

June 8th has been appointed Army Service Day for all churches of the Southern Union Conference. On this date, after the reading of the following, and other matter sent direct to the church elder, a Liberty Gift is to be taken.

Approximately forty million men of the nations are now under As many more men and women are employed in the manufacture of arms and war supplies. In England one out of seven of the entire population is a soldier. The same no doubt is true in Germany and other countries. Even here in America nearly every family has one or more members, or a relative, The great war in the army. rapidly being brought home to our very hearts. The casualty list is growing as the days go by. Crape will soon be seen on many doors Many have seen their boys and said goodbye for the last time.

This is the great crisis of the ages with the nations, and also for the church of Jesus. Especially is this true of the remnant church. Conditions incident to war and army life call in loudest tones to the church to help maintain the standard of purity and devotion among the millions gathered for the service of their country. They are away from home and church influences, among strangers, surrounded by many who know not God. Temptations multiply under such conditions.

It is only as men are true to God that they can render the best service to their country. Sin and vice are disabling more in our armies every day than their enemy in open battle with all the instruments of death of modern warfare. Before leaving for the front thousands fall in the moral battle. The hospitals in many of the cantonments have been overcrowed with men who have been overcome by the enemy in the homeland.

The most patriotic service that we as a church can render our country today is to fight this great unseen foe among our boys who have been called to the colors. We must by every means possible hold up Christ and His standard before the men. The same Christian manhood must be maintained in the army as in civil life if we would have a strong army. Much is already being done for the boys by the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross. But much more remains to be done.

In a recent visit to Louisville. Ky., I was much pleased with the splendid work the church of this city is carrying on at Camp Taylor. A neat, inexpensive literature booth has been located just outside of the camp. Three afternoons and evenings each week, the days the soldiers are allowed out of camp, a few sisters, under the direction of Elder Davis, come there and distribute literature among the boys and talk to them about home, their churches, their present experience, and our future home in Heaven. Much carefully selected literature has been placed in the hands of the boys, and quite a good number of small books have been sold.

Every Sabbath our boys in Camp Taylor are granted passes to enter the city and attend church. Their testimony before the church of how they have been tried and finally gained the victory is an inspiration. Those who have been respectful and loyal, yet true to God, have been favored in the end with all consideration. When it is seen that our boys are not afraid to work and can be trusted anywhere, the officers are very kind to them. But the first weeks are always severe tests. I am sure we can be proud of our boys who are serving their country and maintain their purity and steadfastness toward God.

After the Sabbath services our boys are taken to the homes of our brethren in Louisville for the remainder of the day. This hospitality and change from army life is much appreciated by our young men, and I am sure the parents who have sons in Camp Taylor will appreciate this attention on the part of the Louisville Church.

Now the object of appointing an Army Service Day in all our churches, and calling for a large Liberty Gift, is to enable us to establish similar service booths at all of the five cantonments in this Union. So far Louisville is the only point in our Union where this work is carried on. Here alone are encamped upwards of forty thousand men. Because of scarcity of resources only a very small part has been done which could have peen accomplished had we only had the literature. Many hundreds of dollars of literature should be distributed at this camp alone as the soldiers come and go on to France.

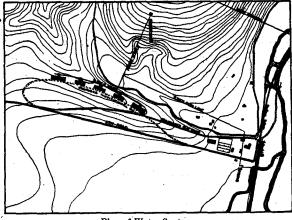

The Knights of Columbus have three large buildings in Camp Taylor from which they carry on their work. Shall we not arise and do our part too? Shall the children of this world be wiser than the children of light? Let us as a people arise and let our light shine.

Believing our people to be deeply interested in this work, we would call for a real sacrifice. • Let us make a large Liberty Gift for our boys who are in their country's service. Our services are only measured by your liberality. Your liberality is measured by what remains.

Plan of Water System

IT is with a great deal of pleasure that we announce the gift of $5,000 from the Southern Publishing Association to install an adequate water supply system in the Southern Junior College. This enables us to put in a good cement reservoir on the mountain to the west of the school, to run a six-inch main from there to the buildings, to put in a three-inch supply pipe to the spring some 2,600 feet away from the reservoir, to install proper fire protection in hydrants, and to equip our pumping station at the spring.

The Publishing Association has from the very start of the school shown a deep interest in its development, sacrificing that its employees might go there and train for more responsible positions, encouraging our young men to get into school through the scholarship plan, and in every way possible promoting the development of trained workers here in the Southland.

It has been an expensive proposition to furnish water to the buildings this past year. Most of the year it has been bailed into barrels and hauled up. We have had no fire protection for our fine new building, but now the water will be brought right to our doors under high pressure and our institution will have reasonable fire protection, in that four streams of water may be played on any one of the main buildings.

In this connection it might be well to speak of the splendid uncomplaining spirit manifested by the girls and workers who had to experience the inconvenience of the temporary water supply. Let us all rejoice with them that our new system will be soon in working order.

Southern Junior College Notes

The past week at the school has been a busy one, full of final examinations and closing exercises. Tuesday was an ideal day for the school picnic. A shady spot in the woods was chosen, an enjoyable program was rendered, and after dinner games and sports beguiled the time. This refreshing outing was a fitting introduction to the strenuous examination days that followed.

An earnest spirit was manifested at the closing vesper service at the beginning of the Sabbath, and many of the students pledged themselves to faithful service during the summer. Sabbath forenoon Prof. Leo Thiel delivered the baccalaureate sermon, choosing for his text Matt. 9:14-17. Prof. J. A. Tucker spoke to the students at the Y. P. M. V. meeting, and urged all to engage heartily in the great educational campaign to be carried on this summer. Just as the Sabbath was closing four of the students, baptized the previous Sabbath, were received into the Collegedale Church, the right hand of fellowship being given by Elder Field.

The graduating exercises were held Sunday evening. A large number of visitors helped to fill the chapel to its utmost capacity. A class of six finished the academic course. The class roll is as follows: Glenn Curtis. Masie White, Zoa Shreve, Lillian Emer-Eloise Hoskins, Clarence Field. Elder A. G. Daniells, President of the General Conference, gave the commencement address, and Prof. Thiel presented the diplomas. Thus closed another successful year in the history in the Southern Junior College.

The Board held their meeting here Sunday and were present for the closing exercises.

CONFERENCE

Elkwood and Woolly Springs

Sunday, April 28, M. L. Wilson begun meetings in a school-house at Woolly Springs, about 11 miles southwest of the Elkwood Church. On the following Friday the writer joined him and found a goodly number attending the services, all the seating room being taken, and other seats were improvised almost every night. The season being late, owing to much rain, the farmers worked early and late, but this did not keep them from the services. The second week of the meetings we dropped out two evenings, giving opportunity for rest, because of the busy season. During the day we visited among the people of the neighborhood, calling upon almost every family in the immediate vicinity. These visits were well received by the people, and we had many invitations to meals and to spend the night with them. more invitations than we could fl11.

The messages of present truth, clearly and pointedly given, were well received. Splendid order and the best of attention continued throughout the meeting. Many of the Elkwood Church attended, which was quite helpful in many ways.

On the two Sabbaths of our stay we met with the Elkwood Church, holding revival services with them. Both Sabbaths were occasions of spiritual refreshing and a drawing near to God. Everyone present took part in the revival and consecration service. and expressed a determination to live the victorious life. These were all day meetings, they brought their dinners, so both forenoon and afternoon services could be held. On the last Sabbath one united with the church

C. R. Cannada of Mississippi reports orders valued at $1,194.40 for April, while Virgil Smith has $739.50 and H. H. Johnson $438.95. Alabama has three colporteurs that averaged $418 each for the month. The field secretary and five colporteurs in Louisiana took orders to the value of $3,647.15 in 647 hours, or an average of $5.63 per hour. Jesse Miller of Kentucky succeeded in taking orders to the value of $612.40 during the month, while Lee Page sold $313.10 worth.

The Review will now have access to every home in the church; two homes are not taking it, but will have access to it. We hope this will soon be true of every home in the Conference.

At Woolly Springs four have decided to keep the Sabbath and be obedient to all the light given them. Sister Greentree will look after these who have decided to obey, visiting them, supplying them with literature, and holding readings with them. Sister Greentree and these souls should be remembered in prayer by us all. While praying, remember others.

Alabama News Notes

Brother Q. Tew, now located at Russellville, writes he is of good courage and having success in taking orders.

In a letter recently received from Brother Carl Holland, of the Southern Junior College, we quote the following: "Mr. Weed and I are planning on leaving here May 29 for our canvassing field. We expect to sell a lot of books this summer and we want you to have on hand the necessary colporteur supplies when we get there." Brother Holland is one of the boys who earned a scholarship in this Conference last year, and we are glad to have him back again with us this year. This is Brother Weed's first experience, and we expect he will accomplish great things also.

The Sabbath School Quarterlies for the third quarter have been received, and orders received for these will have prompt attention.

Mrs. C. T. Burroughs left Thursday, May 16, for Cincinnati, Ohio, her husband having preceded her a short time ago. They will spend several weeks in Cincinnati, returning to Pensacola, Fla., the latter part of June to connect with the tent effort at that place.

We are glad to learn that Richard Thompson of Oakwood will connect with the book work in this State. Brother Thompson, with Bro. C. A. Powers, will locate in the southern part of the State.

"Are you hearing and cherishing the voice of God's Word today, or are you drowning the convictions that come from it by plunging deeper and still deeper in the whirlpool of business and pleasure and sin that is so completely absorbing the energies of men and women today? These are times of solemn import. We should be wise in every step we take."

KENTUCKY CONFERENCE

Office Mail Bag

Sister M. Lucas, our Louisville Bible worker, writes as follows regarding her work: "My work is very encouraging. The dear Lord is blessing me. Three with whom I have been reading were baptized recently, and several are much interested. My earnest prayer is: More wisdom and a greater burden on my heartfor souls."

Are you distributing Present Truth? Others are. Notice some of the orders which were received by the Publishing House in one week: 39,500 assorted copies from Natal, South Africa; 17,000 copies from Bloemfontein, South Africa; 50,000 copies No. 29 from Central California, besides the usual flow of smaller orders.

Brother and Sister G. A. Davis have shipped their goods to Lexington, where they will locate for the present. They are spending a few days with relatives in Battle Creek. Bro. O. L. Denslow is moving to Louisville, where he will have charge of a tent effort this summer. Bro. B. E. Wagner has been left in charge of the work at Stanford.

I Am With You.

When the road seems full of pitfalls, And the rocks are sharp and high. When the orders come in slowly, And the people pass us by, Do not think you're left to wander In the country all alone. Just remember that beside you Walks the One who had no home. When the orders come more swiftly, And the people eager throng. When the road is smooth and easy As we pass the way along. We should still remember Jesus, For 'tis He gives good success. We should lift our hearts to thank Him, Tho the people throng and press. When in sunshine and in shadow, We shall trust our Saviour, Friend, We will find that sweetest comfort, In the joys that never end. Burton Castle.

THE WORK AT COVINGTON

The Lord is blessing us here in Covington, and the work is progressing. We were very glad to have Elder White with us Sabbath, the 11th. Eight united with us and were baptized in the Ohio river at Dayton Beach. One of the eight had united previously, subject to baptism, and other one was too ill to be present. He had been baptized. He passed away Wednesday, May 15th. He died a true believer in the third angel's message, and rejoiced in the hope of a soon coming Saviour. We are of good courage and expect to press the battle to the gates. Pray for us.

MRS. R. Y. HOWARD.

On my return from General Conference I spent a little time getting my work in the office in shape to leave again. I went first to Stanford to plan with the workers there about their work. A plan we are endeavoring to work out is to divide the conference into districts with some worker located in each one to look after and encourage the believers and develop the interests in the territory assigned to him. was decided that John Brownlie should go to Eastern Kentucky. and for the present L. E. Christman go with him and conduct a series of meetings in the neighborhood of East Point and Auxier. Later Brother Christman is to go to Metcalf County in company with Brother Walter Harper. who reports there is an excellent interest there developed by scattering of our literature.

Bro. Wagner is to remain at Stanford and do his best to look after the territory surrounding that place.

Our plans are for Bro. O. L. Denslow to go to Louisville to conduct an effort as soon as the work in Stanford has developed so that a church can be organized and the work left with Bro. Wagner.

Elder I. M. Martin expects to start his meeting in Lexington about the middle of June. Bro. G. A. Davis will be associated with him, and we expect during this meeting Bro. Davis can spend the Sabbaths with believers at Nicholasville, Winchester, Ford, places not far from where he is working.

Bro. W. H. White is now located at Bowling Green, and soon expects to have a motor cycle with which he can easily visit the believers for considerable distance around his home.

At Stanford I found an excellent Brother Denslow has interest. been conducting a series of meetings here, and Brother and Sister Wagner and Brother Christian have been associated with him as Brother and helpers. Sister Harry Jacobs, who live at this place, have made good impressions for the truth by their lives. and they have scattered literature, which has all helped to bring about the results we now see. We hope soon to be able to organize a church at this place. Please pray earnestly for the work here.

My next visit was to Bowling Green, where I spent about five days. During this time we held some meetings, baptzied Sister Hesley, elected the officers for this year, and attended to some other church matters. Five names were dropped from the church records.

Sand Hill was the next place I went to. I spent about the same amout of time with this church, but owing to the rainy weather we were able to hold only a few meetings. However, I was able to visit a number of the members, and I think the trip was some encouragement to them. We hope to hold a short series of meetings at this place at a more favorable season of the year.

Brother James Hickman and

Brother Ray, with their families, have moved to Junction City. This brought enough believers into that vicinity to organize a church, which they desired to do. So on Sabbath, May 18th, I met with them in Brother Hickman's home, and organized what is to be known as the Moreland church, with Brother Ethington as elder. Ten were present at the organization, but five more expect to unite with the church, four of whom will be new members. A number of believers from Stanford were present at this meeting, and at the close of the service Bro. O. L. Denslow took me to Stanford to speak in the afternoon to the gathering they had there. This was my first visit to Stanford. About 55 were out to service, of these about 35 were adults. All seemed real interested. We are looking forward to the time, we hope in the near future, when we can organize the believers there into the Stanford church.

On Sabbath, May 11th, eight were taken into the church at Covington, where Sister R. Y. Howard is doing such good work. Elder W. H. White performed the ceremony.

Four were recently baptized in Louisville. Three of these were part of a family with whom Sister Lucas has been holding Bible readings. Sister Lucas has not been doing this kind of work long, and this is some of the first fruits of her labor. Some others of her readers, I understand are now keeping the Sabbath.

The Bible Workers' Training Class is making fine progress. A number of the class are giving readings to interested people.

Our April report of the colporteur work was the largest, I understand, in the history of this conference. It shows twenty agents with $4,708.60 worth of orders, and $1.912.15 worth of books delivered. If we keep up this good record, we will considerably pass our goal.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE

The Colored Work at New Orleans

It gives me much pleasure to report the progress of the work in this great "Crescent City," the colored population of which is about one hundred thousand, among whom we are exerting both mental and physical efforts to spread the Third Angel's Message. I came to New Orleans Dec. 23, 1917, to take charge of the work. I found here many congenial believers and a nice church building as a result of Elder T. B. Buckner's faithful ministry here.

The church building is somewhat encumbered, but we are raising a stipulated sum every month to liquidate the indebtedness. The Lord greatly blessed the efforts put forth in my new field of labor, for which I feel very grateful. During the past three months: I am pleased to state, our number was increased by the addition of nine new members, and there are others who are now keeping the Sabbath who will in the near future be added to the church; to God be the glory and praise forever. We recognize His mighty hand guiding in our daily pursuit, and we realize the magnitude of the work yet to be done, and such a short time in which to do it. We pray that the Lord will send more workers into the vineyard. The dominant denomination of this city is Catholic, and they have a large colored constituency. We have systematized our work by dividing the members of the church into working bands, and to each band is given a specified locality in which to work. Prof. O. R. Staines paid us a short visit, and we were very thankful for the timely and wholesome instruction given relative to city work. We are now planning for a big tent effort this season, feeling assured that the Lord will give us many precious souls. Elder J. H. Laurence will be with us in our tent effort, and we are looking forward to a fruitful season. N. B. ·KING.

Willing Workers of the Jackson, Tenn., Church.

The four young ladies above, Eva Louise Meadows, Mabel Caradine, Ruby Howell and Virginia Holland, of the Jackson Church, have recently done some splendid work with reference to raising the Thirteenth Sabbath offering, which was taken March 30. These four children raised $18.20 selling back numbers of our periodicals at five and ten cents each. They have also succeeded in disposing of a number of other papers at various times, having unusual good success.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Lena Meadows, these young ladies are expecting to raise $25.00 for the Thirteenth Sabbath offering to be taken the last Sabbath in June, the money to be raised from the sale of our literature.

Important Notice

A collection for supplying good books to the soldiers in the cantonments is to be taken June 8 in all the churches. Every church member should take notice. This is not an ordinary collection, it demands of us not pennies and five-cent pieces, but our dollars. The good that can be done with this literature will be limited only by the amount of money we give.

The nation is in a great struggle. The world is today thrown into perplexity and the boys at the front need all the encouragement they can possibly get from Christian people. While we are helping in the Liberty Loan and the Red Cross work, we must not forget the great need of the soldier boys separated from home influences, under conditions such as they have never before known. They need more than our prayers, though every Christian will pray, yet with our prayers should go the gifts which will make the prayer effective.

Can anything be said strong enough to lead all to make a liberal donation Sabbath, June 8? Set everything else aside; let nothing come between you and the collection.

S. E. WIGHT.

Notes

Elder A. N. Allen, who was appointed at the time of the General Conference as Army Service Secretary for the Southern Union Conference, has been spending some time in Louisville, helping in the cantonment work at Camp Taylor. He reports a needy and ever-widening field of labor in this line. Sabbath, June 8, is the time when all will have opportunity to help.

Prof. Lynn H. Wood spent last Wednesday at the Southern Junior College.

Brother V. O. Cole, former Field Missionary Secretary of the Atlantic Union Conference, was elected at the time of General Conference to fill this position in the Southern Union Conference. Since coming to this field he has been assisting in the colporteurs' Institutes being held at the Southern Junior College at Ooltewah, Tenn., and the Oakwood Junior College at Huntsville. Ala.

After spending some days in Birmingham, Alabama, and Jackson, Mississippi, Brother Curtis spent last Sabbath at Memphis. He was much pleased with the new church, which is nearly completed. He went from here to the Hazel school to audit the books for the year. Returning from Hazel he stopped off only a few hours in Nashville before going on to Huntsville to attend the Board meeting of the Oakwood school.

Elder Wight left Nashville Wednesday morning for Huntsville to attend the meeting of the Oakwood Junior College Board.

The Summer School at the Southern Junior College will open May 29.

Every Student in Our Schools a Worker,

A Call to Action

This is the first call to every reader of the SOUTHERN UNION WORKER to pray for the success of our Educational Campaign and to join actively in carrying it on.

We are face-to-face with two solemn facts that inspire us to undertake the campaign:

- 1. The Mission Board is unable to respond to more than half the Macedonian calls for help in our undertaking to preach the gospel to every creature.
- 2. As yet only about one-half our Seventh-day Adventist boys and girls are attending our own schools.

The scope and goal of the campaign are indicated in the block heading used above. Will you not join us actively in this work? Your Union Educational Secretary and his associate educational officers are organizing the campaign in the Union and local Conferences and will keep you informed in this column of the WORKER.
